BIG MUCK FARM NOW DWINDLING

The former 5,000 acre "company" farm on the muck is rapidly dwindling.

Ed Wiers and Sons, and Gerald Van Loo have purchased 130 acres east of the big ditch and west of the Celeryville road. The section includes a small tract which extends out to the road and on which one house and some buildings are located.

Frank Lillo, manager of the big farm, announces that 40 acres at the southwest corner where the New Washington road ends at the Huron-Crawford county line road has been bought by Carl Berger of Plymouth, Rt. 1. This land includes a thicket and woods that have not been under cultivation for several years. A Catholic church at one time stood on the corner.

The land bought by Wiers and Van Loo will be put out to onions and carrots. Fires were set to burn off the weeds, recently.

The Pittsburgh Company spent a large sum of money buying up what was once individual farms and sections of the rich muck soil years ago until they had accumulated more than 5,000 acres. The Indianapolis men who bought it from the state insurance department a few years ago, sold 600 acres to J. F. Stambaugh, 1,400 acres to the state for a game reserve, and other smaller tracts have been disposed of. Between 2,000 and 2,500 acres are all that is left of the big tract, and according to reports, the owners are anxious to sell more of the land.

PURCHASE PROPERTY

The Maple City Ice Co., of Norwalk has purchased the property of the Firelands Oil Co., on Benedict Ave., in that city. Included in the property are the Firelands Oil Filling station and the large brick garage building. The property was purchased from the estate of the late Frank A. Adelman.

ANOTHER SPRING

The long-awaited spring of 1944—the season which many have predicted would be the beginning of the end of the war in Europe—has finally arrived. As we wait impatiently but fearfully for news from those battles which will be the turning point of the war, we feel the sharp contrast between this glorious season and the work of destruction which occupies most of the world.

The earth is full again with promise; the rains and sun gently contribute to her bearing season. And the awe we human beings feel at this rebirth is in now lessened by its repetition or by circumstances. Each year is like a separate life to all of us, embodying the periods of a real life-time, and in the experience of the current one we forget the intensity of the years that have gone before, so that each new season is experienced as if for the first time.

Even in this world of war and destruction we cannot help the feeling of joy which comes over us at this new spring season, and we should not. For it is a positive experience, a renewing of the life forces, and it should be lived to the full. Spring will still come when the pain and sadness of this time in our lives have long faded into the past. It gives strength to us to know that spring will always come to erase the hardships of winter from the earth and from our hearts.

DEATH—BY MISTAKE

Although the purpose of the home medicine chest is to keep on hand emergency preparations for the protection of life, every day it proves to be the source of death in some American family.

Accident statistics show that hundreds of children as well as hundreds of adults continue to die each year by using the wrong medicine bottle, by mistaking sweet-coated strychnine pills for candy or by taking overdoses of remedies which are harmless when administered in accordance with directions.

Although there has been no increase in such accidental deaths since the war, a number of these deaths are attributed to wartime. There have been several cases where people have taken a poison by mistake during a blackout as well as a number of instances where insecticides, because they now come in paper bags instead of metal containers, have been mistaken for sugar.

We don't recommend getting rid of the medicine chest—perhaps is more important now than at any time in history because of the shortage of doctors—but we do think it is important to warn our readers, once again, that such accidents still take place in some homes every day, and that precautions should be taken continually to see to it that they don't happen in yours.

Washington, D. C. (AP)—A bill to increase the national debt limit from 210 to 250 billion dollars, approved by the house ways and means committee, will probably be passed with little fanfare, since there seems to be nothing else to do. In the first place, the bill does not increase the debt but merely makes it possible for the debt to be increased. In the second place, if the President's request for a $9 billion appropriation for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is approved, as it probably will be, the debt would go over the present 210 billion limit.

When the debt limit was raised to 125 billion a couple of years ago, and was increased to 210 billion last March, there was considerable discussion here about how high the debt could go without endangering the financial soundness of our government. But now there seems to be little of this type of discussion, the attitude of more and more experts is that we have to pay for the war anyway, so there is nothing to do but close our eyes to the mounting debt until the No. 1 job is taken care of. They point out that 95 of the 99 bills requested by the President is for war purposes and probably cannot be cut. The only ways left to slow up the speed with which our national debt is increasing, therefore, is by taxation and by paring down non-war government expenses. And congress has made it fairly clear that it doesn't intend to add new taxes before election.

The manpower problem—that of meeting the quotas for the armed forces and at the same time keeping enough skilled help in war factories to assure maximum production—seems to have become more acute than ever. Due largely to public pressure against sending fathers to war while non-fathers and single men were excused from the draft because of their work in war factories, a plan was worked out to have abused our patience ever since. They have suppressed the truth and falsified the facts. They placed unnecessary hardships on the farmer, the laborer and the small businessman. They have destroyed manpower and reduced efficiency with red tape and confusion. They have Triple A'd, CP'd, Party'd, WPA'd, subsidized and rationed the farmer almost out of business. They gave him a New Deal—a double de-stacked with cards, loaded dice and points.

They compelled him to wear out his old tires looking for new ones and use up his gasoline chasing Triple A agents to get permits for this and that. They gas and they ration him until he is no longer rational. Then when he gets the permit he can not find the thing he was permitted to have. Finally he discovers that the tractor or the drill, the cream separator or the egg beater, the hoe or the pitchfork he was supposed to get is somewhere in India, Asia or Africa—given to forgers who do not even know how to use them and if they do they will use them for an hour or so a day and then take a siesta—a nap.

NOT SATISFIED with that, they are now drafting what little farm help there is left. The farmer's wife and daughters are told that if they are not able to do the work, then they will be supplied by three million Jamaicans. This country is now overrun with 600,000 "One World" sojourning foreigners. Why import more? These are all subjects of our Allies. Why are they not in their country's uniforms? Why not use some of them for the invasion.

MEANWHILE many Federal employees here in Washington are getting tired of waiting on foreign dukes, counts, kingslets, queenslets, generals and whatnots. They wish to serve their nation and the war effort. If Congress has the courage to make a thorough investigation, these Federal employees, if assured they will not lose their jobs, will give the nation an eye opener.

IS THIS A FORERUNNER of the "One World" to come? If we are ever foolish enough to surrender our sovereignty to other nations—to substitute a mongrel flag for the Stars and Stripes—then we will need a new song. In place of "God Bless America," it will be "God Have Mercy On America." Yes, I see a star of hope. I see a sign that bureaucracy is on its way OUT! Time: November 7, 1944!

By CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM LEMKE

THE WAR is not over. We are winning, but the main struggle is still ahead — the European invasion. Except Russia, who is just now behaving worse than "Peck's Bad Boy" toward the smaller nations, we are asked to make the principal sacrifice—to furnish 75 per cent of the invading forces. We are easy. We agreed to furnish 67 per cent of the cash for an International WPA while the other forty-four nations together agreed to furnish 33 per cent. Because we get through we will lend-lease it one hundred per cent. We are willing to sacrifice. We are willing to do more than our share.

SCOUT NEWS

The Panther Patrol are the winners of the Inter-patrol contest. This entitles them to first preference on the Spring camp, to be held at Avery Hand, Jr., April 29-30. Scouts and Scouters will attend this camp.

The second issue of the Troop News was issued this week. Paul Scott, Wayne Rose and Gordon Sealts are in charge of this issue. The paper has five pages. It is sent to all parents and all members of the Victory Patrol.

Wayne Rose and Paul Scott have been issued warrants as Junior Assistant Scoutmasters by the troop committee. This gives Troop 1 four Junior assistants. These three Scouts are in charge of the meetings in the absence of our Scoutmaster.

Patrol Leaders and other members of the troop who are taking the training course will meet with George Herzauer next Sunday at 7:00 at 2 o'clock. The place of the meeting will be posted on the bulletin board.

Scouters met in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. Because of church services on Monday nights, Troop meetings have been held out doors for the last two weeks. It is hoped that parents will bear with us in this matter until circumstances better themselves.

An evening's entertainment was had by Scoutmaster Don Emsel and Scouts Sid Thomas and Quentin Reem, last Tuesday evening, as guests of the Senior Scouts of the troop. The group enjoyed a supper at the Evergreens, a show and roller skating afterwards. Our thanks to Luther Moffet and Otis Downend for transportation.

Troop One is in second place for the Hillier Trophy this year.

With two months to go we will have to overcome a lead of 1200 points to repeat last year's performance of winning. The Troop is in third place for the President's cup. The leaders are ahead of us by 100 points.

WILL REVIEW REAPPRAISAL TAX PROTESTS

The Huron County Board of Revision has started upon the gigantic task of sifting the claims of the approximately 1000 owners of real estate or buildings on which the valuation in the recent appraisal completed a few months ago was set too high.

Each one of the protests filed after the reappraisal had been completed will be considered separately. Those involving a considerable sum of money or wide discrepancy in the valuation placed by the appraisers over that held by the owner, will necessitate personal inspection of the property by members of the Board of Revision composed of Treasurer Harold Collier, Auditor Kent Woodward, and Commissioner O. K. Austin.

Where the protest is of a more or less trivial nature, the property owner may be asked to appear before the board, to save time. The approximately 1000 protests concern property in all sections of the county, and many weeks will be required to complete the revision work. Many reported inequalities in the valuations placed during the reappraisal must be cancelled or entirely disapproved.

AAA NOW TAKES APPLICATIONS FOR LIME

PRICES RANGE FROM $2.5 TO $3.25 PER TON DELIVERED TO COUNTY FARMERS.

The Richland county Triple-A office is taking orders from cooperating AAA farmers for lime to be spread on their land at prices ranging from $2.25 to $3.20 per ton, delivered to the farm, according to an official announcement. A small additional cost pays for spreading the lime on fields. The county AAA committee has contracted with the National Lime and Stone Co., Findlay, and George Yeager of Greenwich, for 7000 tons of lime and plans to increase the amount as a greater supply becomes available. Yeager, who is scheduled to provide 1,000 tons of lime, will deliver only to Bloominggrove and Butler township farmers.

Under the 1944 program, cooperating farms whose AAA allowance is $40 or less, can have their total allowance in limestone if they request it. In any event, cost of the lime is taken out of the farmer's government check, but the amount of lime the farmers receive can't cost no more than the amount of his check for soil-building and conserving practices. George A. Munster, trustee A. A. A. committeeman in charge of the lime program, pointed out that the use of lime on "sour" land is one of the easiest ways to increase the county's food crop this year.

Cost of lime delivered to county farms varies according to the distance it must be trucked. Costs announced by the AAA committee for:

Bloominggrove township, $2.80;
Gass township, $2.70, Plymouth township, $2.45, per ton.

ASKS RULING ON FRONT AUTO TAGS

An effort is being made to get a ruling on the legality of persons permitting front 1943 license tags to remain on the front of cars. Under the new traffic law, only 1944 rear plate is required. Police officers say that the lack of front license plates greatly complicate the enforcement of traffic laws and will render it difficult to arrest persons riding in cars who are wanted by the authorities.

IMPROVING
Postmaster Claude Sourwine is gradually improving at the home of his sister, Mrs. Gertrude Crowe. Mr. Sourwine suffered a heart attack a few weeks ago, and will be confined to his room for several more weeks.
