

20-YEAR EMPLOYEES AT LOCAL PLANT TO RECEIVE AWARDS

More than sixty employees of the Fate-Root-Heath Co., will be honored at a banquet on Tuesday evening, Oct. 3, at which time they will be presented with gold pins and a certificate signifying twenty years or more of continuous service. The banquet and program will be held in the Lutheran church.

Plans for the event have been in the making for the past several weeks. It was no small task to secure gold pins, and select a suitable occasion. James Root stated Wednesday that the program will be complete in every detail by the end of the week. Ladies of the church will serve the banquet which will be followed by short entertainment features and the presentation of the awards.

The banquet and awards will pay significant recognition to the men who have worked continuously for twenty or more years at Plymouth's only industrial plant. There are many unique facts and figures that can be told about the employees of the years they have been at the plant, the many incidents that have occurred, and of "how we used to do it."

The event will be one that should be remembered for many years—for its social aspect, the memoirs that will be recalled, and the fact that the officials are showing an appreciation of the skilled and continuous service rendered by the employees.

Besides the twenty-year members, the guest list will include wives of deceased former employees and retired employees, who have served twenty years, officers and directors of the company. Wives and sweethearts of the twenty-year members are also invited.

CLOCKS GO BACK

Plymouth, along with the rest of the state, will go back an hour Sunday morning. The village council at its meeting Tuesday night, passed an ordinance which calls for the setting of the clocks back one hour at 1:00 a. m. Sunday.

So when you retire Saturday night, better be sure of moving the long hand back one hour, or you might over sleep Sunday.

Monday morning the Fate-Root-Heath plant will begin work on the new time change, which is Eastern Standard Time instead of the present Eastern War Time.

SIMMONS PROPERTY ON THE NORTH STREET ROAD IS COMPLETE LOSS.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the seven room frame house on the North street road, belonging to L. R. Simmons, and tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dawson, Thursday morning about 5 o'clock.

Mr. Dawson, an employee of the B. & O. at Willard was at work and his wife was visiting in Wooster at the time. Mr. Frank Myers, a nearby neighbor, notified the flames and advised Mr. Simmons, but by that time, it had so developed that nothing could save it and the house and all household goods were totally destroyed.

The house was partially insured but can not be rebuilt for less than $4,000 while the household goods were a complete loss.

McQUATE BUYS MILLER STORE

A transaction involving one of the oldest business places in Ohio terminated this week when R. E. McQuate purchased the furniture and undertaking establishment of The Miller Furniture Store. The history of this firm dates back almost a hundred years.

It was in the early eighties that John Beelman (not our present bank president) began the manufacture of caskets and small pieces of furniture, such as tables and chairs. It was in those days that caskets were "made to order," and as the trend changed, stock caskets became available, and furniture was used more and more to beautify the home. The business gradually grew, but Beelman came to the point where he would like to retire so he sold out to Charlie Stewart. Stewart was assisted in operating the store by Mr. Kirtland, and in June, 1911, Charles Miller came to Plymouth and purchased the business. In all the years, from the time of its inception, the store has been located in the same spot.

At the death of Mr. Miller in 1931, Mrs. Louise Miller took over the management of the store and has since conducted the business. During the past four or five years, Earl McQuate has been associated with her, and the deal, which was closed Monday of this week, gives him the ownership of a well-known and well established business in this community.

While no immediate plans for improvements are in the making, Mr. McQuate announces that he will continue to operate the furniture and undertaking establishment as a joint business for a while. In taking over the store, Mr. McQuate states he has agreed to collect all accounts due and payable Mrs. Miller.

Mr. McQuate, while one of the youngest members of the business circle in Plymouth, is well-known for his ability in the merchandising furniture and also the capability of conducting funerals. He is a graduate of Shiloh high, the Cleveland College of Embalming and assisted his father, I. L. McQuate in Shiloh for some time before moving to Plymouth. The town can be well proud of his achievements and his interest in the future of Plymouth.

Mrs. Miller will continue to reside at her home on North street.

Barn And Contents Destroyed In Blaze And Loss Is Heavy

Loss estimated at $25,000 resulted when two large barns and their contents burned to the ground on the farm of H. D. Smith, former Huron county sheriff, on Route 61 about 10 miles north of Plymouth Monday night.

A passing truck driver noticed one of the barns burning at 10 p. m. and notified the Smith family but the flames had made too much headway to be checked. The fire spread to the other barn and also destroyed a shed and a silo, filled on Saturday.

The loss in addition to the buildings included a cow, a heifer, a bear, 1,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000 bushels of oats, a mowing machine, a spreader, a corn drill and other machinery and tools.

The house is some distance from the destroyed buildings and was not in danger. The Norwalk fire department went to the scene but arrived too late to save the barns.

Smith's farm is one of the biggest in Huron county and the barns were unusually large. His loss is partly covered by insurance.

BEGIN WORK ON BOY SCOUT HUT

Actual construction of the Boy Scout Hut began last evening when Jacob Schneider began the laying of the concrete blocks. He stated he would do the work evenings after 5:30 and hoped to have it done in record time. Father of two Scouts, he is giving his time and work free to the organization. Several of the Scouts will help him.

The hut is to be in the southwest corner of the Mary Fate Park and funds, amounting to $955.00 have been received, which insures starting the project.

Recent contributions are as follows:

Miss May Page $1; W. R. Page $1; Wilbur Koeler $5; Howard Hale $1; Unknown $2; Gerald Scott $1; Harold Teal $5; Plymouth Order of Mechanics $10; Mr. & Mrs. L. E. Keith $5; Mr. & Mrs. F. B. Stewart $5; Ed Ramsey $10; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brown $1; Charles Vanasdale $3; Clyde Smith $5; Plymouth Garden Club $5; H. H. Fackler $10; Mr. & Mrs. Ford Davis $10; O. H. Donahon $5; Margaret Cole $5; Mrs. Evan Coe $3; Robert Echeberry $5.

The goal for the hut is $1500. If you have not sent in a donation and would like to help this project become a reality for our local Boy Scout organization, you may send your contribution to D. W. Einsel, P. W. Thomas, D. J. Ford, Luther Brown or Ott Kinnel and E. E. Markley.

George Hershiser is treasurer of the fund and a complete list of donors will be published around the first of January. A financial statement will be rendered at this time, and it should be one of which Plymouth can be proud.

Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittlesed)

IF IT WERENT FOR THE large number of luxuries these days, folks could have a lot more necessities.

SALE of vehicle operators' licenses have been satisfactory, according to registrar, Mrs. Clarence Ervin. For the past two weeks she has been issuing them at her home on West Broadway, but they can now be obtained at her downtown office at the Hatch & West Wallpaper & Paint Store. The new licenses must be in use on and after October 1. Last year's driver's license will suffice to get a new one.

A NUMBER OF DEER HAVE been reported seen this year on the Marshall west of Plymouth, but the past week one was seen on the Shelly-Plymouth road. A doe coming from the east took the fence in one graceful jump, crossed the highway and skipped over the fence, and into the woods going west.

WE NEVER REALLY SAW this sign advertising a rummage sale, but it COULD be good chance to get rid of everything not worth keeping, but too good to throw away. Bring your husband.

JIMMY CAYWOOD, nine months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Caywood, has a $50 war bond as a "nest egg" because he was a lucky little sailor. His aunt, Mrs. Bud Crum, of Shelby, and a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce purchased a chance in his name on a bond they were selling and his was the lucky number. It took quite a bit of convincing on his mother's part, but it COULD be, not knowing of the transaction, and was quite sure she hadn't purchased it. And so-o Jimmie has a share in helping to win this war the same as his daddy, who is with the navy.

From A Chaplain's Wife

A letter from a former pastor's wife will be of special interest to our readers:

Clatskanie, Oregon Sept. 7, 1944
Dear Mrs. Cockburn:
As you see, we have moved again. When I last wrote we were living in Berkeley, Calif. Since then we have moved several times. First to Los Angeles, second to Mt. Diablo and now to Oregon.

Nevin was assigned to a ship in Los Angeles and plans were in the making for me to return to Ohio, when the ship would go out, and then, out of a clear sky, he was sent back to the section of the same base from which he had just moved.

This time he was placed with the Sea Bee's, and this is the unit he is working with now. He is the only chaplain with the whole group, so he is a busy man and he is enjoying his work very much.

At first I was afraid that he would be very much disappointed in not going out to sea, because he was so set on it, but he says he is not, and expresses his enjoyment in working with this group.

Oregon is quite a contrast to California. Here the mountains and hills are thickly covered with Evergreen and Aspin trees. Huge ferns are seen everywhere, towering way over our heads and the countryside is so beautiful and green.

California's hills are green only a short while after the winter rains. But I loved California. Nevin loves this country. It is supposed to be one of the richest lumber sections of the world, and an excellent fishing country. Indeed we have already seen plenty of proof of both industries. Lumber camps and mills are numerous and interesting. Peppermint is grown very extensively, and this town of Clatskanie in what is called the "dyke land". The farmers are now making forty to fifty thousand dollars apiece this year.

It is all sold to the government for war purposes.

Clatskanie was named from an Indian chief. It was once a thriving lumber town. It is about two and a half times the size of Shiloh.

There is no Lutheran church here, so I've been attending services at the Presbyterian and Methodist churches. However, I have been attending with my friends and myself drove forty miles to Astoria to attend a Lutheran church, because I became so homesick to hear that beautiful service.

There are times when tears stream down my face, when I think of how much I would appreciate it if I could only open the door of Mt. Hope church and go in there all alone and sit listening to Floy Rose play my favorite hymns and pieces on the organ. Often I recall those beautiful stained glass windows with the sunlight playing through them and emphasizing their magnificent beauty, and then it is, that I become homesick.

There are beautiful spots out here in the wide west, but Ohio is still home to me.

I am enclosing a check to be used in the missionary work. Please give my sincere regards to each and every member of the missionary group. I never shall forget the friendship and association with them.

I suppose the new pastor and his wife are nicely situated by now.

Our prayers and thoughts go out in the miles to all the work in the parish and to your pastor and his wife. May God bless the work in His service.

Sincerely,
Uretta Slover

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Yes, I'm afraid there's no denyin' it, Judge . . . Jeeps and trucks and other kinds of motor-equipment have taken the place of the good old horse in modern warfare."

"It's true of lots of things in this war, Eben. Every day we hear of new tactics and requirements and new uses of products. For instance, take the alcohol that is used for war purposes. In World War I, this vitally needed product was used mostly in making smokeless powder, chemical warfare materials and medical supplies. Today it must do far more . . . it must provide the base for such indispensable products as synthetic rubber, shatterproof glass, lacquers, plastics and many other of our requirements so essential to victory."

"As a result hundreds of millions of gallons are required every year . . . half of which is being produced by the beverage distilling industry. Bet you didn't know that, Eben."

"As a matter of fact, I didn't, Judge. That's a mighty important war contribution that had escaped me completely."

Once In A Million
We often think how nice it would be to see someone on the troop trains we know as they go through the various cities, but the thrill of a lifetime was experienced Friday by Mrs. Willard Ross.

Serving with other women from the Methodist church at the Crestline canteen, a troop train enroute to embarkation points in the East pulled in on the far side of the tracks and a few minutes later her son Pfc. Willard Ross stood in the door way of the canteen. "Willy" has been stationed at Camp Maxey, Texas, and his parents were notified that he had received an APO out of New York and so thought he had reached his destination and never dreamed of his going through Crestline.

Willy recognized several of the local women as the train pulled in, and got permission to visit his mother and the other ladies for a half hour. Troop trains are not permitted to be fed at the cantens along the road. "Tis said that his mother was so excited to get from behind the counter that she had to be helped to the rear and got stuck, but that could be an exaggeration.

DADS ENJOY ANNUAL HIKE

Forty-five fathers and sons attended the fourth annual Father and Son Hike held Sunday at Conger's Grove.

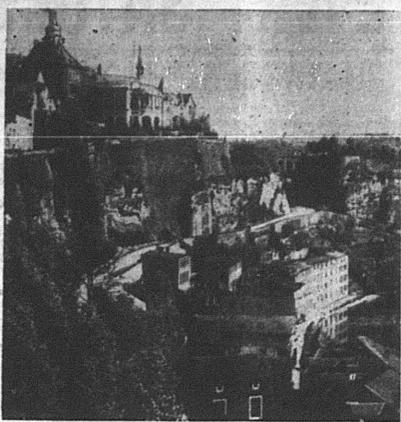

As has been custom, the annual indoor ball game held the main interest and the fathers came through with their third consecutive victory with a score of 22-21. This was a very closely contested game with many hits on both sides. Batteries for the fathers were Don Ford and Raymond Steele and for the sons, Gord Seasholts and Richard Ross. Field executive (sevensome) Al Fendrich, did the umpiring.

The refreshment committee, headed by Wayne Ross, served cones, soft drinks, coffee, doughnuts and ice cream.

Members of the Elk Patrol put on a very interesting First Aid demonstration under the able direction of Committeeman Luther Brown.

Following the First Aid demonstration all those present gathered in a large circle to witness one of Tenderfoot Investments. Bill Trauger and Alan Ford were sworn in as Tenderfoot Scouts during the ceremony. Through efforts of Don Ford, chairman of the hike, two Scouts from Jamaica were present at the meeting. One, a former Scoutmaster and still a registered member of Beldie-Friendship district in Jamaica, Mr. Everard Pickering presented a very interesting talk, "Pick," as he is known back home, has had some very interesting travels and gave many high lights to them. He was the first man to cross the Panama Canal on foot in a time of twelve hours. He also expressed his appreciation of Scout movement in his later life and praised the fact that it was an organization open to all men, regardless of race or creed. Scouting is very active in his native land. When questioned by Scouts he stated that our Tenderfoot Investiture, that he, just witnessed, was almost the same as the ones back home. With Mr. Pickering was Mr. Ralston Thomas, a Rover Scout of Hamden, Troop 1, of Jamaica. Mr. Thomas did not speak at the meeting but said that he did enjoy the opportunity to be with a group of Scouts again and it brought back memories that were so dear to him.

The plaque for the BEST ALL-ROUND patrol, during summer camp, was presented to members of the Pine Tree Patrol. Under the supervision of Junior leaders, Warren Wirtch and Eldon Sourwine, these boys set an enviable record of activities while at Camp Avery Hand Jr.

Certificates of Completion were given Ronald Trauger, Kenneth Echeberry, Donald Smith, Donald Cunningham and Kenneth Donathan for the courses given last Spring in the Elements of Patrol Leading.

"BREAKFAST AT SARDI'S" IS AN INTERESTING SPOT IN REAL LIFE

Many local radio fans have enjoyed the program reaching Plymouth in the morning hours, "Breakfast at Sardi's." John Watts, writing a special feature for the Hollywood Advertiser, a copy of which was sent to us by Mrs. May Lorch Penton, former Plymouth resident, who now resides in Hollywood, describes the morning program in such a manner that we believe it will be very interesting to our readers. The story as written by Watts, appears as follows:

"Look," says the boss, "suppose you come down late—about 6:30 or 7—and have a nice, leisurely breakfast—see a good show."

"But I don't like breakfast," I interrupt, "and who would go to a show at 6:30 in the morning?" The boss points a chewed-up pencil. "That's just what I want you to find out. Get a story on this Breakfast at Sardi's."

So I arrive at Sardi's before 7 the next morning. You can't miss it. It's the only Hollywood Blvd. restaurant filled with 400 people at sunrise. Also the only one with a waiting line.

The 400 breakfasters are munching their bacon and waiting for Tom Breneman to show up. The show doesn't go on the air until 8, but they have to get the foot out of the way first. This is the Eastern show. It is transcribed and broadcast locally at 9:30. The audience is mostly women, with a liberal sprinkling of service men and women. While waiting for the show to start I amass some data.

Nearly half a million persons have attended it. The show started over a local station in January, 1941. It proved such a success that the Blue Network purchased it in October of the same year.

A Little Secret
Invitations are sent out daily to 60 persons who have written in. The other 340 get their tickets as best they can (price, $1.00), and gets through his father, Ralph Ream, for not being able to attend the gathering. "Squirt" is a seaman in the U. S. Navy.

Remarks concerning the Scout Tent were given by Luther Brown. Following these Mr. Ford closed the meeting. Next year on the third Sunday in September we will meet again for a bigger and better Father and Son Hike.

GREEN BAR MEETS
Members of the Green Bar met at the home of the Scoutmaster Friday evening making plans for the coming three months. Hike and overnight camps have been set for every third week. Also planned were the Fall Round-up, Fall Inventory, Halloween Party, Winter Camp, and Court of Honor.

TROOP MEETING
At the first fall meeting Monday evening in the Methodist church there were 24 Scouts present. Patrols were reorganized to take care of new men coming in. Champ-nip for the square net was Alan Ford. A review of drill was conducted. In order to get into this meeting Scouts were required to tie the bowline knot, blindfolded.

I can let you in on a little secret that hasn't been broadcast. You can get them at the restaurant. They are always sold out about a week in advance.

Direct requests for invitations have been received from all over the United States and residents of every state in the Union have attended.

An attorney wrote in: "This program is interfering with orderly court procedure. Today a client called our office and requested that we secure a continuance of her case set for trial tomorrow, because she had just been able to obtain a ticket for breakfast at Sardi's."

Eldiest Guest Honored
More than 500 women about 90 years of age have attended. An orchid is given to the oldest woman. An orchid is also sent to the woman nominated as the good neighbor.

Funds have been raised through the show for periodic servicemen's parties, at which each serviceman is given $5 as well as entertainment. Some of the money so raised was used to build a pool for the service folk at Ann Lehr's Hollywood Guild Canteen.

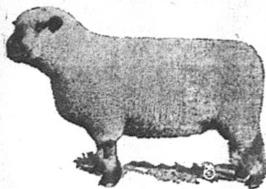

John Masterson, program manager, declares that the show is the first one to compete seriously with the soap operas.

Tom Breneman, the host, went on the air over a local station in 1927. His wife is the former Billie Dunn and they have two children, Tom, Jr., 11, and Gloria Anne, 16. The Brenemans live at Encino. Tom is an ardent golfer.

Show Without Script
He opens the show without script, going from table to table and interviewing the guests. Some times he gets some unexpected answers, such as one time when he asked a guest what her favorite morning fruit juice was. "Gin Rickey," she replied.

Tom frequently has movie stars and other celebrities on the program, and one time he had an ostrich, which he said was pinching for the stork.

PTZ PASTURE MIX

The effectiveness of the phenothiazine and salt combination for control of internal parasites of sheep has been clearly demonstrated by many research agencies and extensive experience in the field.

In response to insistent demands, we now offer PTZ Pasture Mix which is a combination of PTZ Powder, salt and minerals. Salt and phenothiazine are present in this product in the generally accepted ratio of 10 to 1. Calcium, phosphorus and iodine are also present at recognized levels to provide adequate supplies of these elements in areas where they are deficient.

PTZ Pasture-Mix is self-fed to sheep while on pasture and should be constantly kept before them. This will prevent the development of worm eggs within the animal's body. It also prevents worm contamination of the pasture and provides effective control.

PTZ Pasture-Mix is not meant to replace individual treatment of animals that are heavily infested. These should be treated with PTZ Pellets or PTZ owdor used as a drench. Individual treatment should precede putting sheep on pasture.

Sheep will consume, on the average, about 1/2 pound of PTZ Pasture-Mix per month.

PTZ Pasture-Mix is packed in 50 lb. bags and is available at your Dr. Hess dealer's.

PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND 125TH CELEBRATION OF LOCAL CHURCH

An invitation is extended to the people of Plymouth and vicinity to see the pagant setting forth some of the high lights in the history of the Presbyterian Church. The directors of the four episodes are: Miss Martha Bowman, Mrs. Gladys Vandervort, Mrs. Helen Sams, Mrs. H. L. Bethel. Assisting these with special scenes are: Mrs. Helen Miller, Mrs. William Teal, Mrs. Francis Miller. You will not want to miss the wedding in 1840 nor the meeting of the Ladies' Aid. You will be interested in "Uncle William," an old Dutchman who trusted his gun and loved his burtemilk pop.

The choir is furnishing music which scenes are being changed. The new organ will be played toward the close of the evening and dedicated to God and the church. While the costumes may be very different from those we are familiar with, the scenery may call for

PLYMOUTH 9 DROPS GAME

Although Plymouth dropped its first game Friday to its old rival, Shiloh, 6 to 5, the local boys showed plenty of fight and excellent prospects for a successful team before the season is over. Both teams scored in the first inning. Plymouth forced its run across after Bob Hampton, leading off, singled and then three bases on balls were issued to Ream, Miller and Berterick, forcing in Hampton.

Neither team scored in the second inning, but Plymouth came back with two runs in their half of the third when Miller, Berterick, and Ed Vanderbilt filled the bases on clean hits to the outfield. Sourwine then came through with another sharp single scoring Miller and leaving the bases still filled. Jim Moore drew a walk forcing in Berterick.

In the fourth inning Plymouth pushed another run across the plate on Miller's and Berberick's singles and Vanderbilt's double.

Plymouth score another run in the sixth and thus held a 5 to 1 lead at the start of the seventh and through to the last inning. At this point everything started to go against Plymouth. Miller, who had been pitching very steady ball, having allowed the visitors only four hits, began to tire. The good support Miller had been receiving suddenly collapsed, and before the local lads could get hold of themselves Shiloh had pushed four runs across the plate tying up the ball game.

Ed Vanderbilt came into pitch for Plymouth, and did a good job, but Shiloh managed to squeeze a run across, and although Plymouth tried desperately to score in their half of the extra inning considerable imagination; the characters are all amateurs who have taken time out of busy lives to rehearse and might just possibly make some error; the tone throughout is religious and a spirit of reverence should prevail throughout the evening. The Presbyterian church is glad to be host to any and all who attend. Remember the reception at the close of the pagant. It will help very much if all are in their places by 7:00 p. m., Sunday.

Their efforts fell short and the old ball game was over.

Players on both teams played well considering it was the first game of the season. Friday evening the local team journeys to North Fairfield, while the following Friday they will seek revenge at Shiloh. North Fairfield is unable to come to Plymouth next Tuesday as scheduled so this game will be played at a later date.

A COINCIDENCE

When the Yanks broke through the German frontier the other day and went into Germany, the first town of any size which they captured was Trier, which is just across the border from Luxembourg. Over in the lobby of The Peoples National Bank there is a picture of the 6th U. S. Infantry entering this same city of Trier on December 1, 1918, and if you will look closely you will see our fellow townsman "Chub" Nimmons, right behind the supply wagon. Chub says he was walking behind the wagon so that he could give the mules a little lift when they hit a rough spot.

Another interesting feature of this story is that Lieut. General Courtney H. Hodges, who led the Yanks across into Trier a few days ago, was a Lieutenant Colonel in the 6th Infantry in World War I, and with Colonel Henry J. Hunt, commander, led the 6th across the border when the above picture was taken. Chub says that he was personally acquainted with General Hodges, who was a special instructor in the use of the army rifles.

Pvt. and Mrs. LuVier Barber of Willard are the parents of a baby daughter, born at the Shelby hospital. They have now been released and are at their home in Willard. Pvt. Barber is overseas. They are former Plymouth residents.

A NEW DAUGHTER
Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Kaylor of Shiloh are the parents of a baby daughter, born Monday at Shelby hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Anderson of Trux Street, are the grandparents.

RELATIVE DIES

Mrs. Harold Shaver received word of the death of her sister-in-law Mrs. Mary O'Hara, 63, at the New London hospital Sunday evening after a brief illness. She is survived by her husband, postmaster of New London, one son, Tech. Sgt. Gerald in Australia, and two daughters, Mrs. Cecil Maret and Mrs. Ralph Green, New London; five grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Ezie Kelley and four brothers, Henry and John Andrews, of Elyria, William of Canton and Thomas of Amherst. The funeral was held Wednesday 10 at the Lady Lourdes church, and burial made in Holy Cross cemetery, New London.

Correction

The following sentence was omitted unintentionally from the article written for the Shiloh last week by Mrs. Harold Sams, about the purchasing of the Memorial Organ for the Presbyterian church: "A small debt has been assumed but we would be faithless indeed if we did not believe that the means soon will be provided to wipe that out."

RECEIVES FLOWERS

Mrs. Howard Ewing was greatly pleased Monday when she received a lovely box of red, white and pink carnations from her husband who is "somewhere" with the United States army.

TEACHING STAFF GIVEN WELCOME

Following the president of last year when the Inter-church Council of Plymouth gave a reception for the teaching staff of Plymouth schools, a cordial welcome was extended Sunday evening in the Lutheran church in a similar manner.

Although the attendance was not as large as expected, the welcome was no less sincere and both old and new teachers were assured of hearty cooperation of the churches, the board of education and parents, and assured them of their earnest effort to make them feel at home.

The program consisted of vocal selections by Lanny Gooding, Margaret Kemp, Luella Vandervort and Juanita Ruckman. Other numbers were remarks by the three pastors of the Lutheran, Presbyterian and Methodist churches. Father Clement Geppert of St. Joseph's Mission was invited but sent his regret for not being able to attend.

George Hershiser brought greetings from the school board, and Mrs. Helen Hoffman responded for the teachers. Mr. P. I. Van Brunt, our new superintendent, was introduced by Mr. Hershiser, who in turn introduced his corps of teachers. Concluding the program was the presentation by Mrs. Sams of expressions of good will from the community in the nature of small gifts.

A reception of the annex with light refreshments brought to a close another successful community affair. The various committees in charge wish to thank all those who took part and helped in any way, both in the program and on other committees.

HIJACKING THE HELP

Nina Wilcox Putnam writing in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Sept. 24) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, tells how the influx of domestic help into war industries has created a business of service snatching which has become a racket carried on in the streets of every large American city. Get The Detroit Sunday Times.

JOINS HUSBAND

Mrs. Lucille Echelbarger Ross left Sunday evening for Norfolk, Va., to join her husband, Blum Ross, for several weeks. Mr. Ross, who has been in the Navy for several years, is stationed at Norfolk.

During our meeting we decided our class colors to be blue and white, and our class flower is red and white carnations. A general plan was also made for our activities during the year.

Baseball News

Without a coach for baseball this year the team chose Bob Swartz to oversee them as they started their fall practice Sept. 7. We have four games booked so far, the first one being with Plymouth Sept. 15.

Shiloh Wing Game!

The boys were off to a good start this year by winning their opening game at Plymouth with a score of 6-5.

Both teams played a good game with Miller and Vanderbilt pitching for Plymouth and Swartz for Shiloh.

You played a grand game, Drummer! Boys that stay up the good team work and we will really get somewhere this year. We are sure proud of you, so good luck, boys.

Snooper!

Here is another school year. Let's make it a good one, kids. You still see Dick and his better half, Betty, together. Must be serious, eh? It looks like the man shortage is even hitting the school. The poor Junior class. All girls and where are the boys? We're going to see Denver Back. We thought maybe he would go to Lorain this year.

We see Dean Wolford is wearing a new kind of a ring these days. And a girl's ring at that! Gee, some of us girls wish we had lived in Shelby.

It looked like Shiloh was well represented at the Shelby-Norwalk game Friday night. If you see a few girls going around with a puzzled look on their faces you'll know they are taking Chemistry.

20TH CENTURY CIRCLE RESUMES MEETINGS FOR 4TH YEAR

The first meeting and annual picnic of the Twentieth Century Circle, after the summer vacation, was held at the home of Mrs. Beryl Miller, hostess, Monday evening, with twenty-two members and two honorary members, Mrs. G. J. Searle and Mrs. W. W. Trimmer, present.

Mrs. Miller was assisted by the picnic committee, Mrs. J. E. Nimmons, Mrs. H. L. Bethel, Mrs. H. Alberta Hoffman and Mrs. H. H. Fackler. A bountiful covered dish dinner was served in the dining room at small tables and throughout the rooms were vases filled with autumn flowers.

During the business session which was conducted by the new president, Mrs. E. Boylston, graciously praised Mrs. Kemp, the retiring president, for her efficient work, welcomed the members and commended the committee on the splendid program they had prepared for the coming year. The general topic being "Famous Women."

Miss May Fleming gave an interesting account of the history of the Twentieth Century Circle. That it would be forty-eight years this coming December that the Nineteenth Century Circle was organized in 1886, changing to the Twentieth at the beginning of the new century, with thirty members enrolled. Of this number, Mrs. Luella Wyandt Wilson, Mrs. Laura Wilson Gaskill and Mrs. Grace Trauger Dick are present members; Mrs. Clara Artz, an honorary member, nineteen are deceased, seven have moved from Plymouth and one resigned. Fifty-eight people have joined the organization from 1887 to 1944 and of this number twenty-two are members, Mrs. Bertha Fenner Searle, Mrs. Edna Ford and Mrs. Mary Trimmer, honorary members. After the first year the membership was limited to 25. Mrs. Ladowska Waite served as president for twenty-five years. Since 1922, we have elected a president for each year.

There has always been a splendid co-operation and fellowship in the Circle. Beside our regular literary work, which has included nearly all countries, miscellaneous topics and book reviews, we have assisted in civic affairs. The year 1907 the Circle adopted as her colors red, white and blue, which are very neatly carried out on the cover of our programs.

Beside entertaining husbands and guests at our annual parties, we have put on some very memorable theatrical affairs, and again will say that in all our meetings of the Twentieth Century Circle there has always been a most congenial co-operation and we hope the 20th Century Circle will be privileged to celebrate their Golden anniversary in 1946.

Summer events were the response to roll call, and the Circle adjourned to meet Monday evening, Oct. 2, at the home of Mrs. Helen Hoffman, Sandusky street. Contributed by May Fleming.

NEED ANY FOOD?

Can anybody use 42,000,000 dozen fresh eggs? Or 339,000,000 pounds of meat? Or 509,000,000 pounds of lard? Or 835,000,000 pounds of dried peas and beans? Or a billion or so pounds of other miscellaneous food items?

For in checking over his food supply, Uncle Sam finds that he has those quantities of food on hand in his warehouses—and doesn't know what to do with them. Some, of course, will go to liberated countries to keep people from starving while their own farms are getting back into production. Some may be sold to foreign countries even after the war ends. But as it looks now, millions of pounds will be left over without any apparent method of disposing of them.

Naturally the government can't suddenly release it for consumption in this country or it would become ruinous competition for farmers. No one seems to have the answer to what to do with it. Any suggestions?

TOP-HEAVY PLANNING

All-out production by the manufacturers of our nation is, of course, a vital part of holding on to prosperity after the war. But in all of the elaborate postwar planning which is now being carried on in foreign countries even after the war ends. But as it looks now, millions of pounds will be left over without any apparent method of disposing of them.

In the five-year period before the war, 24% of employed men and women were engaged in manufacturing, but 76% were in other enterprises. The number of people employed on farms was about equal to the number in manufacturing plants. In addition, 12% were in industries such as mining, public utilities, transportation and construction; 16% were in trade, distribution and finance; 15% were in service occupations; and 8% worked for the government.

All of these enterprises—particularly farming—must be given due consideration, along with manufacturing, if we hope to avoid a depression.

DO SOMETHING ABOUT IDEAS

Do you know what to do when you find your progress blocked by the man above you? Well, here is what one man did when that happened to him. He is Chris Steenstrup. Born in Denmark, he came to this country when he was 14, and got a job in Schenectady, N. Y., working for the General Electric company running a "punch press." These monster machines seized a sheet of steel, threw it into place and cut it into shape as easily as a dressmaker would run a pair of scissors through a yard of cloth.

One day a workman at one of the machines made a slight wobble, and had two fingers cut off. Chris was touched by what he saw, and began to figure out a way that a man's fingers could be protected from such machines. He had an idea and he proceeded to do something about it. That night, when the supper dishes were cleared away, he got out some paper and pencils and started to design a machine so that it would work efficiently and yet not mutilate its operator.

When he had the design completed he handed it to his foreman. In that day that was the only thing a person could do—go direct to his foreman. The foreman inspected the design, said it was an old idea and didn't amount to anything. Well, that knew he was the end of it—ordinarily.

But Chris knew he had a good idea and so he tried to get the foreman to see it from his point of view. The foreman became as stubborn as a Missouri mule and finally said the whole thing was a crackpot idea.

Chris Steenstrup didn't know what to do. He was determined to show the foreman the idea would work. The foreman was on a leave of absence for three days, so Chris made a device and put it on his machine. When the foreman came back he was mad and fired Chris then and there. Chris still would not give up, so he went to the plant manager, over the foreman's head, and showed him the device. The plant manager was impressed and put Chris to work in another department. The foreman who had fired Chris was on a leave of absence for three days, so Chris made a device and put it on his machine. When the foreman came back he was mad and fired Chris then and there.

Chris' idea was adopted—in fact it started the system of offering cash rewards to employees for ideas. During the first ten months of 1942, the company paid $115,000 to employees for ideas. What happened to Chris? Well, starting with this, he has 113 patents in his own name, and is still working for the company—his humble foreign-born workman who started something new in America.

So if you are bottle-necked by the man above you, do all you can to work with him and win him over. Be patient, considerate, but also be determined. If there is no other way, then go over his head. The important thing is the value of the idea, not how one man may feel.

THE MONKEY'S VIEW

The following comment on evolution and mankind, as taken from a monkey viewpoint, was read at a recent family reunion by Coy James of Liberty town ship.

Three monkeys sat in a cocoon nut tree, discussing things as they are said to be. Said one to the others, "Now listen, you two, there's a certain rumor that can't be true—that man descended from our noble race—the very idea is a disgrace.

"No monkey ever deserted his wife, starved her babies, and tried her life and left his babies with others to bank or passed them on from one to another till they scarcely know who is their mother. A monkey won't build a fence around a cocoon nut tree letting the coconuts go to waste, forbidding all others to taste. "Another thing a monkey won't do—go out at night and get on a stew and use an axe, a club, or knife to take some other monkey's life. Yes, man descended, the monkey cuss, but brother he didn't descend from us!"

The Maid from Northern Ireland—another in the captivating "Global Glamour" series of paintings by the well-known artist, Henry Clive, depicting typical beauties on all our war fronts. In full color on the front page of The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Isabel Townsend Pell, New York society woman, has been revealed as an almost legendary heroine of the French Resistance movement on the Riviera; she recently directed a rescue of a parachute unit surrounded by an overwhelming number of Nazis.

increased to over three million, and is still increasing. This undoubtedly for election purposes.

HOW MUCH LONGER CAN THE farmer, the laborer and the small businessman carry the load.

Little wonder that 20% is now held out of your pay checks for Federal taxes. These three million has nothing to do with the war effort. Most of them are employed by the 107 alphabetical set-ups that hound and pester the producer and the laborer in his war effort.

OUT OF EVERY SIX OF OUR population, one is on a federal or state pay roll. In other words rides on the backs of the other five. The time has come to wake up and scuttle about two million of these federal employees. I find no fault with these employees—most of them are honorable and patriotic and know that the thing can't last. A few want to destroy the nation. Many of them come to me and complain bitterly about the situation. But they feel that as long as these make believe jobs exist they may as well take them as somebody else.

THEY'LL NOT CONTROL THE election. I personally feel that if the federal employees in Washington were permitted to select the next president, that then there would be no fourth term. The truth is these federal employees are getting thoroughly disgusted with what they see in the 107 alphabetical set-ups. They think too much of their government and the future of their nation to continue an intolerable system. A system that must inevitably, if continued, wind up in disaster.

WHILE THIS ADMINISTRATION condemned the Hoover administration, and rightly so, for duplication in government agencies, yet the Hoover administration was a piker compared with this one. Do you know that there are 96 different agencies handling the real estate that Uncle Sam owns? Most of these agencies were created without authority of law and in violation of the constitution.

YOU MAY ASK WHY NOT have them declared void by the Supreme Court? This is easier said than done. The Supreme Court too is just an executive agency now. It has been packed so that it cannot read the plain English language. There is no constitution between the public and any executive agency as far as the Supreme Court is concerned. Let us hope that on November 7th this will be changed. That is judgment day. You, the people, will have an opportunity to render your verdict on that day.

New Crusoe of Guam

Chief Radioman George Jay Tweed, 42, a native of Portland, Ore., was rescued by the landing marines of Guam and sailed nearly 1,000 days of hiding in the jungled mountains of Guam following the Japanese occupation of that island December 10, 1941.

LOUIS ARTHUR CUNNINGHAM

"When you beckoned to me I hesitated only briefly; then I came to say hello and then good-bye."

to my room and rest for a while. No, I do not want anyone to come with me. I would be alone.

Madame went slowly up the stairs to her room. Her step was firm, it pained her breast so hard that she winced and looked out at the very moment she could tell that he was there; she could almost feel his eyes looking up at her out of the blackness. For only an instant she hesitated, then she lifted her hand and beckoned to him.

"I mean that he was going to pop me off with his Luger, so I popped him with mine. I had to get out of there any way and that poor devil seemed to be sent right from heaven. I cut off a bit of hair from his neck and whiskers, and with him and left the hat. And yes, I kissed it. I kissed it smiling. I even had the Iron Cross.

"The children looked in the hut and saw Bonhomme Fricot, as they thought, lying dead. These planes came over and the hut caught fire.

"And they went for Bonhomme Fricot. I had a job to do around St. Como—hence the masquerade in my time, ducesh—"

"I can believe it." The old lady's eyes were admiring. He was her boy, Michel. He was a great man, a brave man. He did work of the greatest importance. He was captain, no less. A British agent, Captain Michel Fabre. "What happened when you left St. Como, Michel? How did you land here?"

"It was all planned. I got my crew captured by the Japanese. My ship was shipped to England. My own chiefs had been praying for just such a chance. The Japanese engineers then—my knowledge of German, Heidelberg, even the sailor cut. So I was sent to St. Como. They put me next to Manfred Kehl. I stayed next to him all the way to St. Como. He was a good engineer. He helped me to escape. Philbert was the nearest place we could get a car. The only time I weakened was when I knew I had to come here. I hated that, Tante Mimmi. You will never know how much it cost me to see you all after so long, and to see the look on your faces—well, it was my job. My eyes were in the States Kehl took me to the people we were seeking. They are now in jail."

"You're a fine boy, Michel. A splendid boy. Now—the old lady's eyes were admiring. He was her boy, Michel. He was a great man, a brave man. He did work of the greatest importance. He was captain, no less. A British agent, Captain Michel Fabre. "What happened when you left St. Como, Michel? How did you land here?"

"How could you be Obierlutenant Faber and Bonhomme Fricot both, Michel? They saw you go into the old man's cottage, heard shots, saw you come out—and you were laughing. That was what they had."

"The devil! They were around the hut that day then! I have it now. You see, it was like this: The parachute they saw go into the hut was not the one they saw come out."

"You mean that you—"

"You're a fine boy, Michel. A splendid boy. Now—the old lady's eyes were admiring. He was her boy, Michel. He was a great man, a brave man. He did work of the greatest importance. He was captain, no less. A British agent, Captain Michel Fabre. "What happened when you left St. Como, Michel? How did you land here?"

Doings in Washington

By CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM LEMKE

OUTSIDE OF A SHORT RECESS Congress is again becoming independent from executive control. IN THE MEANTIME, MEMBERS of Congress have been sweating and observing the foreign and domestic battlefronts as they were being developed in the presidential campaign. Burdge, and Misses Dora Gullet, Mary E. Thomas, and Ruth Ford. Thanks also to the ones who worked on Friday.
