VOLUME LXXXIX

TO OPEN 8TH LOAN OCT. 29

The government will launch an $11,000,000,000 "Victory Loan" drive October 29.

Secretary of the Treasury Vinson, who made this announcement, asserted that the drive which will last through December 31, is necessary to cover the aftermath of war.

"A substantial army and navy must be maintained until order is restored throughout the world," Vinson said. "The cost of contract settlements, bringing our forces home, their mustering out pay, hospitalization, care and rehabilitation will be great and will require large sums for which we must plan now."

Vinson said that the major emphasis in the Victory Loan drive will be on sales to individuals. Four of the $11,000,000,000 goal is slated to come from the individual purchasers and the other seven billion from other non-bank investors.

A special $300 bond commencing the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt will be a feature of the drive. The Roosevelt bond, which will sell for $150, will be a Series E bond.

Plans for Plymouth County, J. E. Nimmons was in Willard Tuesday evening where he received instructions and supplies pertaining to the Victory Loan Drive in Huron County. The quota for Huron county is as follows:

E bonds only $429,000; other individual bonds $488,000; total individual bonds $917,000. All other bonds $1,375,000; grand total for Huron county, $2,292,000.00.

Plymouth's share under these subtotals listed above is $24,000; $27,000; $51,000; $42,000, making a grand total of $85,000 for the forthcoming Victory Loan campaign.

Halloween Party Is Being Planned

The Old Witch is going to be greatly surprised when she arrives here on Wednesday night, Oct. 31, to participate in the big Halloween party which is being staged by the Community Club in cooperation with the businessmen and schools of the village. The chairman of the party is to be the best dressed and most comically-dressed couples—school age and adults, and other cash prizes will be given those who put forth a special effort in their Halloween costumes. A detailed prize list will be published next week, but so far, at least $50 will be awarded in cash prizes.

Lusher Fetter, chairman of committee, reports that everyone is making a special effort to see that Plymouth has the biggest best Halloween party in history. It is being planned especially for the children, and the school's part in the parade, is under supervision of Supt. Van Brun.

Merchants of the town are asked to dress up their windows in keeping with the season. The Plymouth Garden Club is said to be planning a display of mums, and farmers in the community are invited to bring in their biggest pumpkin and squash, the best ear of corn, etc. Window space will be provided for its display, John Lantus is chairman of this division.

To your friends about Plymouth's big party, and keep it a date—Wednesday night, Oct. 31—come and have a goody, spook time with the witches—and owls—be seen' you!

MAN KILLED AS CAR CRASHES INTO TREE

An emergency trip to Norwalk Memorial hospital, Saturday evening, resulted in an automobile collision in which one person was fatally hurt and three others seriously injured.

John M. Hale of Lorain, died in Memorial hospital Sunday in Norwalk from head injuries suffered Saturday night in an automobile accident on West Main Street, Norwalk, when the car he was driving, sideswiped another auto, operated by Edward Rank of Route 2, Willard.

With Hale were his parents, Rome and Rebecca Hale of R. D. Shiloh, residing about four miles south of Greenwich, and his brother, Grover Hale, 19, who was being rushed to Memorial hospital for emergency pneumonia treatment.

Investigators have estimated the speed of the car at the time of the crash at 70 miles an hour. When the driver, lost control of the wheel near the curve in Main street, west of the scene of the wreck, the vehicle sideswiped a car driven westward by Ed Rank of R. D. 2, Willard. The Shiloh car still out of control, traveled 260 feet, entered the yard of the Fifner family at 235 W. Main street, and made a direct hit on a tree. The occupants of the car were taken to Memorial hospital. Grover Hale, the pneumonia patient, struck his head against a windshield and was injured.

The wreck was investigated by Police Chief Frank Kromer and patrolman Burdette DeWald, Willis Sattig and Henry Landoll. The department's radio equipment in the car were used to good advantage in carrying out details pertaining to the accident.

The front part of the car was caved in as the result of the collision and metal parts were driven into the tree.

The body of John Hale was taken to the Shiloh home. It is given out that Mr. Hale appears to be suffering from a severe concussion of the brain. His wife suffered a bad scalp wound that extends from her ear over the forehead. The son, Grover, who was injured not seriously in the head, appears to be comatose. The pneumonia affliction, Rang, driver of the other car, was not hurt, but the auto was considerably damaged.

When you "take stock" of our community and find that we are practically out of debt, there is little need to worry about going into debt for the village, and a sewage disposal plant.

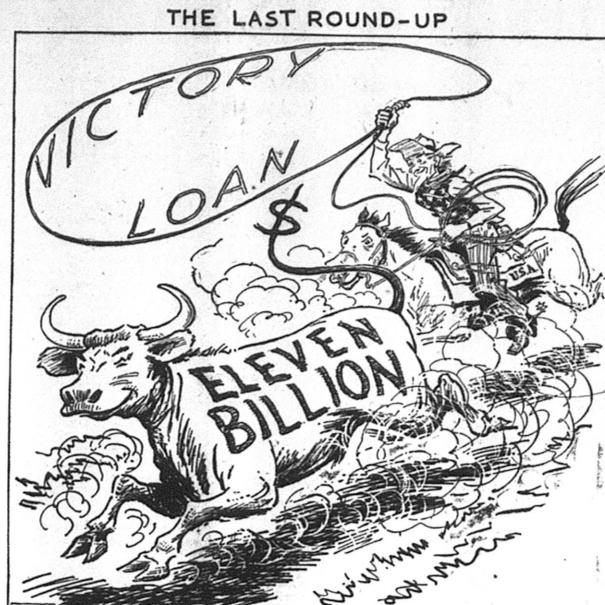

Lutherans To Observe 105th Anniversary

Sunday, Oct. 21st. First Evangelical Lutheran church will observe the 105th anniversary of its founding. Although during the past year the anniversary of this church has been observed annually, this should be no sign of decreasing interest, but, rather should stimulate an increased attendance and a loyalty to the church. The church is the spiritual home holding a prominent place in man's life. The church is an institution founded by the Master for the purpose to dispense the blessings which the Lord intended for all who are willing to come and receive them.

A letter has been mailed to all families and members of the church. An invitation is extended to all to make this anniversary a birthday celebration of the church.

PLYMOUTH'S FUTURE

Little time is left for you, as a citizen, to decide Plymouth's future. You may ask: "What decision do I have to make that is so vital to our community and our future?"

Yes, it's your decision on the school bond issue which will mean a great deal to Plymouth and its outgoing citizens. No doubt you have read the previous article printed in a recent issue of The Advertiser. It gave you an overall picture of the present circumstances of our school system. We are not going to repeat the "Whys and wherefores" of the present predicament, but we want you to seriously look at our school system ten years from now.

There is every reason to believe that we are sick and tired of taxes. Taxes of any kind are repulsive, especially those we pay for which we receive no direct return. But, to be an American, we should be glad to pay a tax. And, for what few pennies the forthcoming bond issue carries in its small levy, we should be happy to participate, for in return we are receiving a DIRECT benefit. And, while the cost per thousand dollars is only $1.90, it is believed that no good citizen will begrudge such a small amount which in turn will mean so much to our school children. Too, let's remember this. The present indebtedness on the high school will be liquidated in 1950—just four more years. With these bonds out of the way, the village will be in line for a lower tax rate.

When you "take stock" of our community and find that we are practically out of debt, there is little need to worry about going into debt for the village, and a sewage disposal plant.

GRAND JURY MEMBERS
The Huron county grand jury went into session with Prosecutor Herbert R. Freeman.

DAUGHTER DIES AT CRESTLINE
Mrs. Mildred R. Gadd, 50, died at her home in Crestline Friday, following a short illness.
She had been a resident of Crestline for six years. Born Dec. 27, 1894, in Shelby, she was the daughter of Bert and Georgia Longacre Marvin.
Mrs. Gadd is survived by her husband, Sanford Gadd; one son, Howard Robinson by a former marriage, now in the armed forces; two step-sons, Shelton Gadd of the U. S. Army and Edward Gadd of Shelby; her mother, Mrs. Bert Marvin, and three brothers, Paul, Albert, and Cleveland Marvin, all of Plymouth.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Robert Beck funeral home in Crestline with Rev. Alva B. Miller, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating and burial made in the Greenlawn cemetery in Plymouth.

total cost of both improvements should stay well within the limits of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and this spread out over a period of twenty years, isn't much of a debt in comparison to many municipalities of like size in the state.

No individual or organization is used high pressure; there has been no bully-ho, and there will not be any act to induce you to vote "yes." While there are a few staid citizens opposing the proposed issue that is their in-dividual right. There probably is room for argument, but in our opinion why burn tallow candles when electric lights are so cheap?

Your attention is called to the financial status of the village. We are financially sound in every way, and there should not be great stress on the fact that we are already greatly in debt. Compare our indebtedness to our tax valuation, and you'll get the proper answer.

We believe that the voters in Plymouth Village School District are broadminded enough to overlook the many handicaps and mistakes that have been made, and will offer their support at the coming election. We believe in Plymouth and its citizens to the extent that when action is needed for an improvement, that the right kind of decision will be made. It's going to take a 65 per cent majority to carry the bond issue, and if you, as a school patron and progressive citizen, sit on election day and "let George vote," your chance for a new school is very slim.

Think the matter over seriously, and act according to the way you feel. If you do this, we feel almost right in our prediction that the new school will become a reality.—PWT.

LOSE GAME TO MONROVILLE

The local high school nine lost a heartbreaking nine inning 1-0 ball game at Monroville last Friday afternoon.

Defensively Plymouth played better ball than it ever had, and with Bill Miller striking out 12 batters while having the other popping up all afternoon it looked like Plymouth would hold Monroville scores indefinitely. Further proof that Bill had everything under control is the fact that not one fly ball was hit to an outfielder for an out.

Monroville, however, did manage to push the only and winning run of the game across the plate in the last of the ninth when Miller apparently began tiring. The first boy up doubled over the left field fence. The next batter singled and then both runners advanced when a pitched ball got away from catcher Sourwine. Bill forced the next batter to pop up at third. The following batter laid down a perfect bunt, the runner on third came tearing in crossing the plate and that was that.

Plymouth really should have won the game in the regulation seven innings, for in the fourth Kennedy led off with a long single to left, but was out trying to stretch it into a double. Miller next up hit one far over the left field fence, ground rules holding it to a double. Sourwine then singled through short which would have scored Kennedy.

Miller did his best to win his own game slugging out a double and two singles, but his teammates, with the exception of Sourwine who also got two singles, were unable to solve the offerings of Eby. Monroville's pitcher.

Monroville seems to have a jinx on the local lads as they won two games this year by one run and a game last year by a run. Last week Plymouth met North Fairfield 6-6 in a game that had to be called because of darkness.

Village To Get Share of Fund

The state highway department has submitted to the state auditor a list of amounts to be given to each village in the 88 counties as its share of the $1,560,000 appropriation for street and road construction and repairs for 1945 and 1946. One half of the amount is to be distributed this year and the other half in July of next.

Plymouth had 279 automobiles registered in 1944 and will receive $942.70 this month and another like sum next July. Shiloh had 198 cars and will receive a total of $1,896.10 to be divided between the two years. Tiro had 124 autos and will get $749.07 for the two years.

Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittleseed)

THE VARIOUS clubs in Plymouth will no doubt be interested in knowing that the Shelby Rotary Club will have its speaker next Wednesday evening at the High school auditorium in Shelby, and the same speaker will be found extremely interesting. First let me say that Shelby Rotarians are sponsoring sort of a "Institute of International Understanding," and the speaker for next Wednesday evening is in position to tell you real facts. He is Albert Parry, Chicago, Ill., and his topic is "Maintaining World Trade and a High Standard of Living." Parry was born and reared in southern Russia on the border of Asia. Received his early education and traveled considerably in the Ukraine, Ukraine, and the Caucasus. After coming to the U. S. in 1921 he worked as a journalist in New York and Los Angeles. Received his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago in 1928. Published his fifth book entitled "Russia-Caucasus" in 1944. Considered an authority on international affairs. If you'd like to hear Parry, see Jim Root. I think the admission is only 25 cents.

DESPITE Indian Summer in all its glory, I have visions of snow and reindeer — thinking of the Yukon season next Wednesday! Well, there is some consolation that the miners are going back to work and our chances of freezing to death have been greatly reduced.

I AM told that Betty Brown, Sgt. Earl Cashman and two boys from Shelby had a real homecoming in some little French town. Of course, they knew each other, but was somewhere in the same old town, and at last they met. The quartet had a real visit together and several copies of The Advertiser made it seem more like home than ever.

THE BALTIMORE & OHIO R. R. The F-R-H Co. and the Village (if it participated) should be commended on the fine improvement made to the railroad crossing at the intersection of the fifth block entitled "Russian-Caucasus" in 1944. Considered an authority on international affairs. If you'd like to hear Parry, see Jim Root. I think the admission is only 25 cents.

BOB LOFLAND tells me that he has received "homogenized" machine, and that his customers now can get that kind of milk. It's a process where the milk and cream are "ground" together and more about this later.

SPACE AND time prohibit us from making a complete coverage of the Community Club meeting Tuesday night. Most of the boys were absent and they were greatly missed. The Nora Wyandt class (girls) really know how to serve a dinner — and did we ever appreciate it. Morris manages to hold the interest of some thirty-five members when he takes the chair, and we know that in due time the Club is going to be a real asset to the village. Why don't you join up?

ACCORDING to Jud Morrison at Morrison's Sohio Station, a lot of people are supposed to see Roadenville in October. Morrison points out that next Sunday is an ideal day for motorists to take a trip to the hill country, and right now the colors are at their best.

I'VE Heard a lot of fish stories in my time, but Leon Davis, and Charlie Sutton are trying to top each other with "Oyster" Davis tells one about his son, Maurice, who recently moved out to Washington. Leon says Maurice wrote him the other day that he had oysters for supper and one needed four for the family. After the meal there were enough left over for another feed. Now Charlie Sutton, who hails from that Tar Heed state of North Carolina, says they pull 'em out so big down off the coast, that when ONE oyster is landed, 5 holiday is declared for the entire town of 5,000 souls, and every oyster oyster for a week! I'm beginning to think things!

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kitchen of New Washington were Monday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Waller.

GOOD HENS AND GOOD FEED PAY OFF
CHECK These LARRO Benefits

Americans are eating lots of eggs... the annual rate today is 400 per person as against only 300 back in 1938. WHAT does this mean? A huge and growing market that is expected to go on increasing... money in the bank for the poultryman who adds good hens to good feed.

LARRO RESEARCH FARM is helping thousands of poultrymen all over America to get their share of this business. Check these LARRO benefits which you gain when you feed the LARRO WAY:

Egg Quality
LARRO EGG MASH is made of wholesome, high quality, egg-making ingredients. This is attained by General Mills Products Control in each of the eight plants where LARRO FEEDS are made.

Egg Production
LARRO EGG MASH produces eggs efficiently and economically as measured by the quantity of feed and its cost per dozen eggs. This means much to your final profit over feed cost.

SAVINGS
LARRO EGG MASH and the LARRO feeding program save you labor, save you time, save you money... bring you the benefit of 22 years of work by trained specialists at Larro Research Farm.

Year round DEPENDABILITY

WHEN you have dependable year-round electric service, you can flood your house, your yard and your barns with safe and necessary light at the flick of a switch. In this way, your work is done more easily and quickly. Furthermore, you automatically eliminate three dangers - fires caused by oil lamps and lanterns - personal injury from falls and finally you secure protection from crawlers who stay away from well lighted farms.

Good lighting is only one of the many applications of electricity that have helped our farmers carry on their tremendous war job. This partnership of farmers and business-managed electric companies has delivered food for manpower and electricity for machine power in the greatest quantities the world has ever seen.

This company is stepping up the farm electrification program that it pioneered years ago - extending dependable low-priced electric service to unswayed farms as fast as possible - working with farm groups and equipment manufacturers so that the farmer may profit by electric operation and living.

ALPHA GUILD HOLDS BIRTHDAY-HALLOWE'EN MEETING

An atmosphere of the "long ago" prevailed Tuesday evening when members of the Alpha Guild arrived at the Lutheran Annex in old-fashioned dresses of silk, velvets, calico, etc. It was hard to realize that these same frocks were the fashion of the day when compared to our modern dress.

Guests brought with them a childhood picture and Mrs. Lambertus was in charge of the Photo Display. Many comments were made on the "beautiful babies," but few were recognized.

The hostesses arranged the affair as a combination Birthday & Halloween party and invited the guests at the close of the business session to the dining room. Mrs. Mrs. F. B. Stewart presided at the piano and the group marched around the Washing Well where they dropped their Birthday money and made a wish. A goodly sum was realized from the gifts.

Thirty-two members and two guests were seated at one long table decorated with ovals, yellow and black streamers, suggestive of the Halloween season. Individual birthday cakes and a Halloween lunch was served by Lillian Joyce, Mrs. G. J. Searle, Mrs. Sourwine and Mrs. Lizzie Trauger.

The program, in charge of Mrs. Nellie Bevier, chairman, consisted of prayer by Mrs. Lambertus, a short talk by Mrs. Eva Smith, a poem by Miss Virgie Fenner; a reading by Mrs. Lambertus and group singing. "Till we meet again."

Announcement was made of the Nov. 6th meeting with Mrs. Stew art, Miss Page and Mrs. C. R. Beaver, hostesses.

Book Review

"PEOPLE ON OUR SIDE." This book is by Edgar Snow, and is very good post-war reading. I would like to change the title slightly, in writing of it, to "PEOPLE WE HOPE ARE ON OUR SIDE." It is not necessary to agree completely with an author and his book to enjoy and to be benefited by the reading. Both the subject of this book, and Mr. Snow's way of writing should make it cur reading for everyone who is curious about what is occurring in this world of ours.

India-Russia-China, and if any one thinks these nations are not big question marks, he has only to read what Mr. Snow has recorded on his news assignments and his periods of residence in these countries.

The book begins with comment on the situation when "the Japs returned to their homes with compounded interest in India."

Hawaii, a puzzle to a good many million other people besides myself, is dealt with quite vividly. The comparison of the handling of the political hodge-podge in India, by the British, and the handling of the same situation in the Philippines by our government was a new idea, but one wonders why someone in Parliament had not thought of it long ago. (Maybe they did!)

There is a chapter on marriage in Communist Russia, a subject that a lot of people wonder about and talk about, but know little about. You may be interested in why the Russian line held, and why Russia wants an outlet to the sea. Mr. Snow believes that our attitude toward Russia's society of today, is almost the same as the attitude of the English toward us in the period following the American Revolution: "It could not last."

Although Edgar Snow states he prefers to be an American and live in our society, he feels that Russia met the changes of a great social and political upheaval as best she could, and that her form of society and government is still changing.

As to China, Mr. Snow commends her highly on standing alone against the Empire of Japan from 1937, till the end of 1940.

Although the Japanese have been ousted as the military masters of the East, the Asiatic people have lost their awe of the white man because of his quick and complete defeat at the hands of the Oriental Japs; and native populations trained and armed with both guns and a new awareness of the world are not going to quietly submit to any European or American dictatorship.

The common man in Burma, Malaya, Java, Indo-China; yes, and even Hong Kong, may come to realize what the fighting was all about, and mark the beginning to the end of European imperialism.

That's what Mr. Snow thinks. Why not read a few books about Asia; and begin with "People On Our Side."

Doings in Congress
By CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM LEMKE

THE HOUSE passed the Reorganization Bill. It amended the bill considerably. It now provides that the president must cut the federal employees by at least twenty-five per cent. At present there are over three million federal employees. That means that every group of forty-six men, women and children have to take care of and pay the salary of one grown up federal employee. That salary ranges all the way from $2,000 to $17,500 a year.

SINCE HALF of our population consists of small children, school children and students, it means that one out of every twenty-three people that produce, or are capable of producing wealth, has to take care of and pay the salary of a federal employee. That does not include the teachers in your common high schools and colleges nor your state, county or city officials. It includes only federal employees. Just a few years ago there were 250,000 federal employees as against three million now.

NOW THE president is directed to cut that by one-fourth. This is a good start, but there is a lot more cutting to be done. I am satisfied that the three million can be cut down to 500,000 without injury to any department of government. In fact, I feel that if we were cut down to 500,000 there would be more efficiency and less confusion. There would be less meddling with people who do the nation's work and produce the nation's wealth. The trouble is that bureaucracy always begets more bureaucracy. The big bureaucrats always want to boss more little bureaucrats. Bureaucracy becomes an endless chain.

THERE ARE some objectionable features to this bill, but I feel that the good to be accomplished outweighs the questionable features. One provision of the bill says that unless Congress acts within sixty days after the president submits his reorganization plan to Congress, it shall become law. That is not a desirable way of handling the situation. Laws should not be made by negative but by affirmative action.

BUT WHEN the president makes his submission, we have sixty days, and Congress can rewrite it or cut it further, or amend it, or reject it. I am sure that President Truman will do a good job at cutting out useless bureaus and useless expenditures. If he does not, then Congress has sixty days in which to do it.

PERSONALLY, I feel that the best way of cutting out surplus federal employees is to wait until after the president gets through with his reorganization program. Then, I feel Congress should fix the ultimate limit of federal employees at 500,000. When a federal employee resigns, marries or dies, no new individual should be taken in to fill his place. But if he is an essential government employee, his place should be filled by switching one that is not so essential from one of the other departments. If this were done, it would be but a short time until we would not be upset and federal employees would not be dismissed and put on a pension or on the unemployment insurance list. The adjustment would be made without hardship to anyone.

First Rubber Shipment Arrives

The nation's first shipment of rubber from the Pacific since Pearl Harbor, produced under the very noses of the Japanese in the Philippines, recently arrived at San Francisco. Forty-two tons of the precious crude stock was shipped from the Palihidion plantation of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company in Mindanao.

SHILOH SCHOOL NEWS

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Freshman class welcomes back an old member of their class, Laura Jean Otto. Laura has come here from Plymouth. We all wish you a happy school year, Laura.

SENIOR CLASS

We have a very good selection of Christmas cards and also an assortment on the year around greeting cards. If you wish to buy any, see a member of the Shiloh Senior class.

We have started our annual, the type and size have been selected. We will except orders at any time from now until the close of school.

The entire high school of Shiloh school is selling magazines for the Crowell-Collier Publishing company. We are planning to get an electric score board. We will appreciate your help very much. The captain of the 7, 9 and 11 is Lavaughn Oswalt the captain of 8, 10 and 12 is Donna Garrett. Come on kids, do your stuff, so our school can be proud to entertain another school during the basketball season.

Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves went roller-skating Thursday night. Our business was held at the home of Mrs. Shannon. Refreshments of coke and peanuts were served. We then went to the Coliseum at North Lake Park. We thank Mrs. Shannon for the wonderful time.

Guess What! Dancing!

The Student council has voted to have dancing in the school auditorium on Tuesday and Thursday noons. Everyone thinks the idea is fine. We hope all of the kids turn out so we can put this thing over. If you don't know how to dance, get help, you don't want to be in a rut for the rest of your life. I understand there are a lot of good dancers who are eager to lend their talent and teach anyone who wants to learn.

Instrumental

Shiloh will soon have an orchestra, the string section is shaping up nicely. There has also been several new instruments and players added to the band.

Snooper!

Why does Ruth Winbigger build George up. To hear her talk he's a perfect specimen. Of course who am I to argue?

What's that we hear about Doug and Esther Nelson, brother that boy certainly does get around.

You may also note! He doesn't appreciate the Snooper.

What was Don and Chippy talking about-down in Mosers yard last Thursday night?

It seems as though Virginia Diibert and Halle had quite a conversation behind the study hall door. I guess they thought it was private. Big Joker!

It seems Betty Ann Kalor also was a big attraction in time. Will someone please tell the Snooper what irresistible charm he has?

When Jeanne and Jeanette were keeping score the other night we never found out who won. It seems as though Jeanne chalked up six kisses. And the man! Of course we aren't thinking of Leo. (IT SAYS HERE IN LARGE PRINT)

Who has Betty Stewart been going with from Plymouth???

Where was Virginia Prader and Bill Garrett last Saturday night. I guess it must be love.

I guess Jeanne Wisler was really excited Sunday when her Marine came home.

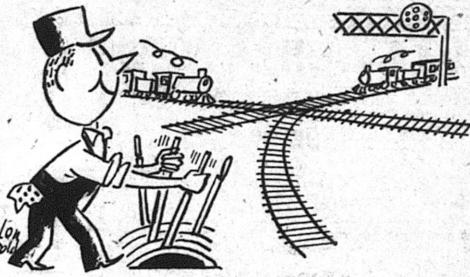

Eighth Grade

Bill Lookbaugh left our class Oct. 15th. He will start to the Ashland school soon.

Trains Don't Just Go Wandering Around

Trains don't just take off "on their own" and make their way willy-nilly from one town to another. No, indeed!

The location of every train that moves over Baltimore & Ohio's 11,000 miles of track is known exactly. Each train can be contacted and given orders in a matter of minutes.

The men whose special job it is to keep "tab" on the many passenger and freight trains moving over B&O's far-flung system are the train dispatchers. Skilled by long experience and aided by modern mechanical devices, they route and time B&O train movements with unerring accuracy. Like all B&O men and women, they can be counted on to bring you the things you like in modern train service... speed, safety and "on-time" dependability.

Letters From Our Service Men

USS Duluth, Sept. 18
Tokyo Bay

Hi Tommy:
I have been receiving The Advertiser when mail was possible, and have enjoyed reading them to hear the news of the Old Home Town. I especially enjoy your column of "Here and There in the Service"—to learn where the other boys are located and what they are doing.

Since this is the first anniversary of my ship I will write you about the "Duluth." She is a 10,000 ton light cruiser named in honor of the City of Duluth, Minnesota. She is the first ship in the U. S. Navy to bear this name authorized by Congress in June, 1940. The ship was launched by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., Jan. 13, 1944 and was commissioned Sept. 18, 1944. The sponsor was Mrs. Edward H. Hatch of Duluth, Minn.

This ship made her "shake-down" cruise to Trinidad and upon return she went to Newport, R. I. where we trained in boot camp for crews of other cruisers and carriers of this type. After four months of this training duty we returned to Norfolk Navy Yard for alterations and the topping off of supplies for our last stationed port.

On the 6th day of April, 1945 the ship got underway for Cuba enroute to Pearl Harbor. On the 16th day of April we steamed through the Panama Canal and docked on Balboa side of Canal for fuel and ammunition. I was fortunate enough to make liberty in that port — so much talk about port.

We arrived at Pearl Harbor on April 30th, the scene of Japan's first attack on U. S. I made liberty in Honolulu, the sailors' port of the Hawaiian Islands. This, we knew, would be our last liberty for some time. We left Pearl Harbor on May 9th for parts unknown without escort in enemy waters. On the night of the 12th we crossed 180 Meridian or International Date line on our way to Ulithia Island, which we found out three days after we left P. H.

We arrived at Ulithia without any trouble and here we refueled, took on supplies and received our orders to join the Third Fleet off Okinawa, of which we were to give fighter and bomber protection to troops, landing and help bring to close victory there. But shortly before complete victory we had the misfortune of being caught in a typhoon of 132 knots — a real howler. Here Japan announced the U. S. Third Fleet was sunk. Out of our fleet 20 ships were badly damaged, including ourselves. We limped back to Guam with our bow about to fall off at a speed of eight knots. Following us was the USS Pittsburgh, a heavy cruiser with 110 feet of her bow broken off by the typhoon. Either way we figured would have been a bad one for us, since after we left the fleet they had a five-hour air attack by Japanese Kamakaze planes—(Jap suicide) — no ships were lost in this attack.

We pulled into a large dry dock (floating) in Guam Harbor for repairs to our bow. Here we had plenty of liberty and saw what the U. S. Army and Navy have done to gain back this Island. After thirty day dry dock period we rejoined the Third Fleet off Japan. Here we sent bomber and fighter planes to attack the home island of Japan. Before the war came to a close we had struck Kobi, Kuri, Tokyo, Kyushu and Hak-Kaido. It was here we saw plenty of action against Japanese suicide planes, as you all have heard and read about.

On Victory Day Admiral Halsey gave us a speech by radio while we were at General Headquarters about 50 miles from Tokyo Bay. During his short Victory address the Third Fleet shot down five kamakaze planes in a friendly way. We had one ship take a kamakaze plane in its superstructure the day before V-J Day and received word of heavy casualties.

On the 18th day of September we steamed into Tokyo Bay where we are now, for rest and recreation after 55 days at sea. I have gone over to Yokohama on recreation and have seen what the army and navy have done to the cities of Japan. They sure used precision bombing to save planes in order that they might have more planes when troops landed. I have seen how Japanese people live, but I can't figure out how they lasted as long as they did. Food is very scarce and they will give you anything for cigarettes, gum, candy and soap. They bow or salute all service men and act very happy to have us rule them.

The best news I have Tommy, is that I am coming back to the good old U. S. A. We figure on being on the west coast for Navy Day. Here, I hope to get my discharge from the Navy under the point system. I have 44 1-2 points now, I hope to see Plymouth and all of you in the near future. Will close for now.

As ever,
Glenn W. Haas,

Speaks At Shelby

Famous Missionary and Author to Be Present In Shelby O.
On October 23th.

It will be the rare privilege of this city and all surrounding communities to hear Mrs. Julia Lake Kellersberger of New York City, author of "Congo Crosses" and "God's Ravens," at the Shelby United Brethren Church on October 29th at 7:30.

Mrs. Kellersberger, promotion secretary of the American Mission to Lepers, is the wife of Eugene R. Kellersberger, M. D., the Mission general secretary and authority in the field of leprosy and African Sleeping Sickness. He works for 24 years as medical missionary in the Congo, where Mrs. Kellersberger joined him as a bride in 1930. Together they founded the Bibanga Agricultural Leper Colony, and planted the first chalumogra trees to be cultivated in Africa; the oil of which fruit, though not a cure, is the best treatment now known for leprosy.

In the Belgian Congo, where they are planning soon to return, Dr. Kellersberger was known as "He Who Is Not Afraid to Touch Us" while Mrs. Kellersberger, a lively, laughing lady from Alabama, was known as "The Lady of Happiness." This speaks well for her personality, as all who have heard her, remark about her wholesome charm and her kind audiences, both old and young, spell-bound with her African experiences.

They will be accompanied by Rev. George Southwell, National secretary of the Young Peoples department of the American Mission to Lepers, and Mrs. Southwell, both of whom are also Regional secretaries and have visited at Carville, La., several times. They will give some introductory remarks about the work, and relate hitherto unknown facts about the spread of leprosy in America.

The Richland County Christian Endeavor is sponsoring this program and the public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.
