

School Board Gives Detail of Delays In Building Program

In view of the fact that Plymouth School District voters will be asked to approve a $50,000 bond issue in the forthcoming November election, the Plymouth Board of Education has prepared a resume of the school building program, from its beginning up to the present time.

Voters are asked to read this explanation carefully, and to consider the need of the school district for a new building.

The following article, prepared by the Board, is self-explanatory concerning the school building program and a desire for additional money with which to complete the job:

Anticipating the fact that some of the people in this community may not have a clear understanding of the history of the situation in regard to the grade school building, the Board of Education wishes to present the following resume:

As the old grade building was in a deplorable condition and the third floor had been condemned by the state for some time, a careful survey was made in 1940 by two architects to ascertain whether or not the old building could be economically modernized. The estimated cost was between $25,000 and $35,000, which would only partly modernize this building, as both architects advise that nothing could be done in the way of changing the basement to public buildings.

These architects then estimated the cost of a new grade school building and a much needed high school shop annex at $77,500. An investigation was made regarding possible assistance from the National Youth Administration. The Administration made a proposition whereby they would furnish $20,000 in labor toward this construction. The remaining $47,500 would have to be raised by the issuance of bonds. However, this was in the Fall of 1940 and a regular election could not be held for another year. The board would become associated with them, a special election could be held early in the Spring of 1941.

The bond issue carried, the $30,000 in labor would be granted. It was understood, and we were assured, that NYA could furnish the necessary labor to construct the new grade school building. This would take the old building. Also to utilize all of the $30,000 grant and further save the money by not spending any money to dismantle the old structure except for supervising.

Because of this attractive proposition it was decided to proceed with the new building at once, before labor and materials would become critical.

Eighty-five percent of the voters signified their approval of this project at the election held in the Spring of 1941 by voting 'yes' for a $47,500 bond issue.

Immediately after the election, NYA started to tear down the old building, which took them all the summer and Fall. By the time the building was finally removed the Federal government stopped all NYA projects.

As a result of this the Board was forced to submit the remainder of the project to the community and in the meantime labor and material prices had begun advancing rapidly.

Bids were received and the lowest was above the $47,500 bond issue. So with NYA's $30,000 labor fund out of the picture, all bids naturally had to be rejected.

All grade students housed in the old building had to be moved to the high school building. In order to relieve the congested condition in this building it was decided to build the high school shop annex and partition the building into four rooms to take care of four grades. This, however, only partly relieved this over-crowded condition.

$31,481.52 has been in the bank drawing no interest. Under the state law the money could not be invested—not even to buy government war bonds.

There are now 400 children housed in the high school building, which was designed to accommodate 250. Certainly it was not the intention of the voters to crowd the pupils of two schools into one building which has been necessary thus far. The original intention of the program was to provide a better school system for the children of Plymouth and the entire school district, and they are still entitled to this.

The Board has investigated the possibility of any further Federal financial assistance but has received only unfavorable replies. Consequently, the only alternative is to appeal to the citizens of this community for their assistance.

The revised estimate of the new grade building, eliminating unnecessary luxuries, is between $75,000 and $80,000. The proposed bond issue of $50,000 added to the cash fund would total $31,481.52, would make a total of $81,481.52. In addition, as previously stated, materials already paid for totalling $3,018.48, are on hand.

The feature of the proposed bond issue, which makes it a wise choice at this time, is that during the actual construction the costs will be met by short term notes. During this time there will be no interest charged on the entire $50,000, as normally would be the case if all of the $50,000 bonds were sold before construction started.

Interest would only be paid on the short term notes as issued. When the building is completed, if the cost is less than $81,481.52, bonds would be sold to cover only those notes issued during the construction and the amount of taxes levied would be lowered proportionately.

The additional tax levy would amount to $1.90 per $1,000.00 valuation, which could be deducted from your income tax returns. A vote "for" this bond issue will eliminate many of the difficulties, disappointments and losses of opportunity expected by the children of Plymouth's children. Certainly, the children of this community are worth this small increase in yearly taxes.

JAP PRISONER RETURNS HERE

Ernest J. Davis Among Those Feted by San Francisco: Home Now.

Ernest J. Davis, Aviation Ordnance man, third class, USNR, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Davis of New Washington, formerly of Plymouth, home on 105-day furlough and was in town Saturday greeting former friends and relatives.

Junior has been a prisoner of war since July 20, 1945, when he was captured in the Philippines, on which he was a torpedo bomber, on which he was a gunner, was shot down. His torpedo squadron operated from the aircraft carrier USS Bismarck Sea, was rescued September 11, 1945.

He was one of eighty returning American Military prisoners—symbolic of the thousands who have been liberated from Japanese prison camps, who were said to be in San Francisco, Sept. 25th.

Arriving in three Army Air Transport Command planes from Pearl Harbor, the men, whose names are representative of every stry of the United States, were feted by city, state and church officials as well as high-ranking Army, Navy and Marine officers.

They, and in many cases, their families, had places of honor in a parade down San Francisco's Market street and attended a ceremony at the City Hall where official tribute was offered. They returned to medical centers for final physical check ups before returning to their homes.

While at Pearl Harbor, Junior had the chance of meeting several former townsmen including Junior Marvin and Bill Fetters.

THE WEATHER

September, 1945 was a warm, wet month. The average temperature was 67 degrees or 2.2 degrees above normal. The highest was 92 degrees on the 6th and 8th; the lowest 40 degrees on the 30th.

The drought which started in August was finally broken on September 9th. Thereafter it rained, more or less, nearly every day on thirteen days. The total rainfall for the month was 4.67 inches—an excess of 1.71 inches above normal. The greatest in 24 hours was 1.89 inches on the 25th. There were seven thunderstorms; 13 days were cloudy, 10 partly cloudy and only 7 were clear.

While crops and pastures were greatly benefited by the late rains a couple weeks of warm, dry weather in the average crop early beans out of danger from early frosts. The rains also delayed the sowing of wheat although some wheat is up and looking fine.—J. A. R.

John N. Beeman Honored By Bank And Community Club

In recognition of fifty years in local banking, circles John N. Beelman was honored guest at the Community Club dinner and meeting held Tuesday night at the Presbyterian church. The directors, officers and employees of The Peoples National Bank arranged the dinner and a short program as a tribute to Mr. Beelman, who was somewhat surprised by the special party given in his honor.

More than fifty were present for the affair including members of the Community Club and a number of special guests. At the ladies of the church sent out the call for dinner which was heartily enjoyed, after which the group assembled in the auditorium with the business meeting and program. James Root, president of the Club presided.

A half-hour musical program arranged by John Lanus was given, and a number of participating in this and the tribute included John C. Dick, Ross, Iden Jackson, and Dwight Wallon.

J. E. Nimmons, vice president of the Peoples National Bank, gave a sketch of Mr. Beelman's fifty years in banking which proved very interesting to the audience. He related how Mr. Beelman started his banking career with the first national bank located at that time on the present site of the telephone office. This was the first week in October, 1895, and W. B. Cuykendall was president, and A. M. Trego, cashier.

New Bank Formed
Late in 1903 Mr. Beelman received his position with the First National to assist in organizing a new bank, The Peoples National.

The opening date of the bank was January 2, 1904, and was located on the south side of the Square, where the post office is now operating. The official roster of the bank contains the names familiar to earlier Plymouth residents: H. J. Willmet, president; R. H. Nimmons, vice president; John I. Beelman, cashier. The directorate of the newly organized Peoples National Bank consisted of R. H. Nimmons, H. J. Willmet, R. F. Guthrie, Deposit taker was W. Kirkland, H. B. Silliman and Mose Billestein.

In 1908 the Peoples Bank absorbed the First National, and Plymouth's only banking institution was then created.

Through the many changes and years that followed, Mr. Beelman remained active with the bank he helped organize, and in 1919 was elected president of the bank. At the death of R. H. Nimmons, who had acted as president of the Peoples Bank for a long number of years, Mr. Beelman was chosen to succeed Mr. Nimmons. This occurred in 1934.

On the opening day of the Peoples National, January 2, 1904, the close of the first day in business found deposits totalling $25,000. Deposits today have reached the all time high of two and one-half million dollars. So there is every reason to believe that Mr. Beelman can feel justly proud of his bank, its directors, officers and employees. For all of them have seen the hard years of the depression, and the rich years of plenty, and few banks can show such a record.

It is fitting that the tribute given to Mr. Beelman should be through the work of the community club. Arrangements can be made with the Public Relations Office of the 831st AAF Specialized Depot for a long number of years, Mr. Beelman was chosen to succeed Mr. Nimmons. This occurred in 1934.

ert Warch, of Willard. Special guests for the event were J. and Frank Landefeld of Willard, Chris Weber, John Cok, Chris Sheely and Max Jupp.

Besides the many personal congratulations of friends, acquaintances and business associates, Mr. Beelman was the recipient of a beautiful basket of flowers, presented by the bank, and several boxes of cigars from his admirers.

As a "farmer-banker" John I. Beelman has come to the aid of many financially; he has been found trust-worthy and honest; his word is his bond, and he has given helpful advice to thousands. He has always participated in every civic movement, and there is no worthy cause that doesn't get his approval. And then, when decisions require "yes" or "no," he can say no as easily to his friends as to a stranger. He has always been capable of forming his own opinions in private matters as well as those of public interest, in farming as well as banking, and with very few exceptions, John Beelman has always been right.

And so it is but fitting that a man who enjoys the love and respect of a community for fifty years as a banker, who has reared a splendid family; and who has participated heartily in everything for the betterment of his community, receive not only the recognition of his grand accomplishments by his bank and fellow workers, but the citizens of the entire community—and so they—thousands of these residents—patrons of the bank join with The Advertiser in wishing John Beelman many more years of active work in the bank, and many more years of health and happiness!

Air Depot Now Open To Public

In accordance with wishes of the Commanding General, Air Technical Service Command, General Kner, the 831st AAF Specialized Depot, Shelby, will open its doors to civic and educational groups for conducted tours of the depot. The depot is located at S. H. Raymond, Commanding Officer, announced today.

The post-war plan of the Army Air Forces includes a program designed to take advantage of the general public in all walks of life with the mission and accomplishments of the Air Technical Service Command. The Shelby Depot, one of the largest supply units in the command, will sponsor conducted tours, open house and special exhibits demonstrating the mission of this depot. All civic and educational groups are invited to take advantage of this program. Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittlesed)

DAN CLARK of West Broadway in looking over his scrap book Sunday came across the following interesting item concerning our neighboring town of New Haven. While its present status doesn't come up to its 1843 history, it is still a good place to live. The item follows:

In 1843 there was more merchandise sold in New Haven than in any other town in Huron county. There were then three large dry goods stores, three hotels, a large foundry and machine shop, large boot and shoe factory, hat factory, two large tanneries, potash factory, harness and saddle factory, two blacksmith shops, cabinet shop, four physicians, two drug stores, a dressmaking establishment, two saloons, a wagon and carriage factories, two shoe maker shops, headquarters for three clock peddlers and a variety of other business carried on there.

GLENN MOORE of 15 Franklin Street, is displaying a freak sweet potato he got during this season. It looks more like a turnip, potato which purplish cast, and composed of seven potatoes grown together. It weighed four pounds and three ounces. The vines were more than twenty feet in length and would be probably longer and the potato bigger, but he had to dig it to keep the moles from having it for their dinner. He also states that he had a number of potatoes weighing from 2-1/2 to 3 pounds in the crop just harvested.

AROUND THE SQUARE
DR. AND MRS. J. T. Gaskill returned to Plymouth Wednesday after spending the summer in Three Rivers, Mich. Doc was too busy getting settled down to talk much about his fishing experiences, but we imagine he has a few years to tell, eh, Doc!

MISS ARLENE WALDHAM of Boughtonville was cited by the British government for being responsible for the saving of 500 lives on a torpedoed ship in the Mediterranean during the early part of the war. The announcement came over the Sobio news broadcast Monday at noon.

RUMORS in Plymouth Wednesday night were that Dr. Butner who has been in the European Theatre for many months, arrived at his home in Shiloh. We hope it's true, and we know Doc Root is mighty glad to be back with us.

IT TOOK a lot of nerve for the thief who thieved to go into the rear of the John Root house on West Broadway, where they removed the tire and rim from Mr. Root's Buick. The stealing occurred Friday night, and the tire was not missed until Mr. Root started to drive his car Saturday morning. The thief had jacked up the right rear end of the machine and placed a stone under it to support the rear end. The robbery has been reported to the proper officials, and we hope that the culprits get caught.

ACCORDING to a news story in Wednesday's edition of the Mansfield News-Journal, Plymouth is slated for a new post office if Congress approves legislation authorizing a vast government building program. The estimated cost of the building has been set at $85,000. The building was included in the eligible list of proposed Ohio projects, but W. E. Root was not missed until Mr. Root started to drive his car Saturday morning. The thief had jacked up the right rear end of the machine and placed a stone under it to support the rear end. The robbery has been reported to the proper officials, and we hope that the culprits get caught.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: A smile isn't any good 'till it is given away.

A POST CARD from Ray McCarty, mailed from way up in Canada, states that he and Doc Faust are getting along fine. They expect to fly into their home grounds, but zero weather and rapidly gaining favor.

PLEASE DON'T FORGET About My Eyes!

"I KNOW you older folks are busier than you ever before. But I've only got the one pair of eyes—and if you don't help me take care of them, you and I may both regret it some day."

It's a fact that many people are too busy—and too worried to take the simple precautions that help conserve precious eyesight. Here are three easy rules anyone can follow.

- 1 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Shadows strain eyes.
- 2 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.
- 3 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

TOIL CONSERVATION

• Toil conservation, saving time and effort, has reached its greatest importance to the farmer today. This is why so many farmers have come to regard telephone service as a necessity to their daily work. They know that they can get business done in a few seconds by telephone that would otherwise take them hours of time and effort. We know that the farmer will find postwar improved rural telephone service an even greater instrument of toil conservation.

Feeding Wormy Hens WON'T PAY

A lot of pullets have already been put into laying houses and many more will be shortly. Have they had every thing they need to give you that HIGH PRODUCTION you expect? A pullet should lay every other day during the winter months to make a 15 dozen producer. To get those eggs it will take 40 lbs. of good mash, 35 lbs. grain and 2 lbs of grit and shell.

Figure your feed costs. Now figure your eggs' at 3c each for the year and you will realize a nice profit. But keep this in mind, your hens can't make the production you expect if they are wormy. You can't feed worms and get eggs too. KEEP WORMS OUT. Some have already wormed their flocks — others never will but it's the smallest item of expense you have and one of your most valuable weapons against disease.

Wormy birds get sick because they have no reserve flesh to fight disease off. We have a worm capsule that gets both round and tape worms. Ask us about them!

Laying Pipe line In Japan
Pfc. Robert Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lynch of Plymouth Rural, is another local boy helping to do a good job over in Japan. A member of the 1383rd Engineer Petroleum Distribution company, he tells of the tremendous task accomplished in just 27 hours, by his company.

He writes:
"Five days after landing upon the shores of Japan, the Army corps of Engineers succeeded in doing what Japanese advancement had never been able to meet: build an oil line. The Nips have never had pipelines on their homeland. On Sept. 3, 1945, the 1383rd Engineer Petroleum Distribution company, numbering 217 men and officers, starting at 9 a. m., laid pipe continuously for 27 hours, and at 12 noon on the 4th of September they had completed a line twenty miles long, running from the Matsukata oil dump on the outskirts of Kokohama to the Atsugi airport. The Engineer boys came ashore on Friday, the 31st of August. They came on the first ship to enter Tokyo Harbor—a Liberty. They were the first troops to land by water. Their job was known to them. Aboard their Liberty were more than 200 miles of invasion pipeline. This is a light-weight, high-pressure petroleum pipe. Only one hour after the ship had pulled into the harbor in the oil dump area, waiting army trucks from Atsugi were being loaded with high octane aviation gas from a hurriedly constructed overhead pump station."

Major General Hugh J. Casey,

In the Philippines
Mrs. Dale Troxell of Shelby has recently received word that her husband, Pvt. Dale Troxell has landed safely on the Philippines. He wrote that he expects to be sent for occupational duty in Japan soon.
This is the first word she has heard since he left the west coast in August. He took his basic training in Camp Hood, Texas and after receiving his 17 weeks of basic, he spent a 12-day furlough with his wife and small daughter, Connie Marie. He was then transferred to Fort Riley, Kansas, and about a week later was sent to Fort Ord, Calif. He wrote his wife that since leaving Fort Riley, he has not been in one camp or place for over a week at a time.
Mrs. Troxell is the former Miss Helen Dick east of Plymouth.

Discharged
Pvt. Dean W. Wise has received a medical discharge from Billings General Hospital after 28 months in the service. Pvt. Freud From Prison Camp Jarold Shields, 27, has been freed from a Japanese prison camp and is awaiting the return home by American planes, he wrote in a letter dated Sept. 18 and sent to his mother, Mrs. Clyde Robinson of Willard.

Taken prisoner when the U. S. S. Tanager was sunk at Corregidor on May 6, 1942, Shields had been confined in a camp in northern Japan for 40 months. The day he was freed was a great day for Shields.

"On Sept. 13," he writes, "I was freed, received my own name again, given mans food and saw United States Navy ships."
During his confinement in camp Shields was known as No. 907. He ate rice three times a day, he writes and never wants to see it again. His condition, Shields says, is fair.

At the time of his capture Shields was a radioman 1/c with the United States Navy.
The last word Mrs. Robinson received of her son's whereabouts was last November when the Red Cross informed her that he was a prisoner.

He is a brother of Emerson Shields also home on furlough and whose wife has been residing in Plymouth during her husband's absence.

elephants, tigers, and other wild animals. He is billeted in a grass hut, under banana trees, and monkeys climb over the hut and are very tame. F/O Cramer is first pilot on a C-46 plane and is flying men to the seaports to be sent to the States.
This is the trip over he covered over half of the same trip as the "Globber," having flown through the same cities and countries, namely, Azores, Casablanca, Tripoli, Cairo, Abadan, Iran, Karachi and Calcutta. Before returning home he hopes to complete the "around the world circle." He will probably be stationed in India for several months.

Pvt. James D. Crockett, 35-852-956 701 1/2 Repl. Co., 2nd Platoon APO 72, c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif.

He's Here—He's Gone
S/Sgt. Edward Babcock arrived home Friday evening after serving the past 28 months in Italy and Africa. He was to have a 12-day furlough but was notified Sunday to report by the 2nd at Indiantown Gap, Pa., and left Monday evening by train. Lt. Commander Clifford Stevens has returned to his home in Long Beach, Calif., after serving two years in the Pacific. On Sept. 14, Lt. Commander Stevens completed his twenty-third year in Uncle Sam's Navy and is eligible for discharge. Although future plans are indefinite, it is probable he will accept land duty. He is a brother of Mrs. Jud Keller and a number of years ago his family resided here during his absence.

Another Dischargee.
Sgt. Kenneth M. Donnerwirth has received his discharge from the Indiantown Gap separation center. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Donnerwirth of Shelby Route and a brother of Mrs. John Ganzhorn and Clarence Donnerwirth.

Visiting Parents
Harold Prellip, S 1/c arrived Sept. 24th at St. Pedro, Calif., after serving in the Pacific area and is now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Prellip of Shiloh. He expects to receive his discharge soon.

Lt. Saas Discharged
1st Lt. Thomas Saas, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mills of New Haven, has just received his discharge from the Army. He served in the Army Air Forces for two and a half years, was attached to the 8th Air Force in the European theater where he flew bombing missions on a B-17 over Germany.

He has the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal, with Oak Leaf Cluster and three battle stars. Before going overseas, Lt. Saas was stationed at Biggs Field, Texas, where he served as instructor bombardier. His home is now at 3711 Wooster road, Rocky River.

FARM PRICES MAY BE HIGH

RIGHT now the price of farm land is more than 50% above normal.
Maybe farm prices will stay as high as they are now for some years to come. Probably they will go higher before the prices begin to fall. But anyone who buys a farm today, at the exorbitant prices which are being charged for some of them, is taking a gamble.
The story of farm prices has been about the same during this war as during the last war. In the last war prices went up and up and up—and then came the crash when many farmers lost their lands and their lives' savings.
At the present time, three-quarters of the farms which are being bought are mortgaged for at least 75% and two-fifths carry a debt load amounting to 50% or more. Thus, if prices dropped 52% to 1934-1939 levels, all of those farms would be mortgaged for more than their value.
We don't say not to buy farms. But we think buyers should take into consideration that, if they do buy a farm now, its value may someday drop to half or less of its present value. Financing should certainly be done with that possibility in mind.

SMALL BUSINESS IS BIG BUSINESS

THE biggest business in our country is small business. According to the department of commerce, 93% of business establishments of all kinds fall in the "small business" category.
During the war, when we have read about the great production record of industry and business, we have perhaps thought of it, more and more, in terms of million or billion dollar enterprises. Of course the 7% which are classified as "big business" do employ a large number of people and do produce much more than 7% of consumer goods. But from the standpoint of the welfare of our country they are not nearly as important as the almost 3,000,000 little business establishments which are the backbone of our economy.
When we read about strikes in Detroit, about delays in production, about government interference with some major industries, we may get the feeling that our economic machinery is going to fall to pieces. But actually, in a country where small business is so predominant, there isn't too much to worry about as long as those establishments are thriving.

CAN'T ALWAYS TELL BY APPEARANCES
W. S. CHASE, Alhambra, California, is a sales manager of the National Acme company.

I asked him to tell me about his first sale—or attempted sale. This is the story: In 1877 he got a job with a company in Cheburne, Texas, to sell riding cultivators. All he had to sell them with was a leaflet describing them. On top of this was the staggering price that the company was asking—$78. The walking cultivators were selling for $6. So he had something to worry about. And riding cultivators were new—work of the devil, people said. Man wasn't on this earth to walk when he plowed his fields. Wasn't to laze around on a contrivance and let horses pull him.

He climbed up on the hurricane deck of a horse and started out with his leaflets. How was he going to beat that $72 differential?

The farmers looked so poor that he said to himself, "No use wasting time on them; they haven't enough money to buy." Then rode on.
The dinner bells rang and rather hesitatingly a farmer asked Mr. Chase to have dinner with him, and Mr. Chase accepted.

At the dinner table the man's wife wanted to know what Mr. Chase was selling, and so he got out the leaflets just to satisfy her curiosity. "Why," she said, "that's a good idea—'ridin' instead of walkin'.' You go an' buy one of these here things, Pa."

And to Mr. Chase's astonishment, the farmer did—and paid cash. Mr. Chase then saw that a lot of the farmers he had passed up as not having enough money, really had plenty of money and could afford riding cultivators, so he went right back over the ground he'd passed up and sold riding cultivators where before he hadn't believed it was possible to make a sale.

Doings in Congress

By Cong. W.M. LEMKE

CONGRESS, ably assisted by the fathers, mothers and wives of the Servicemen, finally smokes out General Marshall. So in order to ease the pressure, Congress was invited to hear the General's explanation. He appeared with the new secretary of war, Mr. Patterson and General Henry.

THE GENERAL tried to excuse the delay in mobilization. He said that under the point system, the men in the South Pacific, who suffered the most hardships, were entitled to priority. He argued that because of this priority, and because of the lack of ships to immediately bring back the combat men, it would be improper to discharge the some two million still in the United States.

TO CONTINUE these two million in the armed forces, means an expense of $400,000,000 each month. We all agree that the combat men are entitled to priority, but since we cannot get them all back immediately, should we continue to plunge this nation a half a billion deeper in debt each month?

LET US GIVE priority to the combat serviceman. Let us get them back here at the earliest possible moment. Let us get back for the General's use the 600 ships that we loaned to Great Britain. But why keep the two million men waiting and idle—worse than idle, cutting wages with bayonets? Many of these men have families and work and obligations to fulfill back home.

GENERAL HENRY explained the difficulties of discharging a veteran. The truth is that he has wrapped himself up with red tape and more red tape. He told us about the record they gave to each veteran. Let us hope that it is a complete record, so that the government cannot euche the veteran out of his rights later. He then told us about the point system, how they asked the armed forces to give their preference as to the order of discharge. These preferences were numbered one, two, three and four.

HE TOLD US that they turned these preferences over to thirty-three statisticians. These, after working on it for a year or two, returned a system so complicated that even he could not understand it. So he called the thirty-three statisticians back, and told them to go and "statistician" some more. After more weeks or months, the mountain labored and produced the point system. Any bum, if he were sober, could have done the job in a couple of hours.

SUCH is the pencil pushing bureaucracy. Little wonder that ninety per cent of the people are getting tired of the delay in having the men discharged. Give the combat soldiers priority — but get them discharged — get that priority business over with. We cannot afford to plunge the nation a half a billion deeper into debt each month. We are glad that the points will be lowered to seventy on Oct. 1, to sixty on November 1, and thrown into the wastebasket after January 1.

Sponsor Show

Members of the Junior class of Plymouth high school are busy this week selling tickets for the picture "To Have and Have Not" for next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Oct. 9th and 10th.

Ordinarily the Plymouth theater is not open those nights, but Manager Ramsey consented to purchase a first-rate picture for the class and show it on a percentage basis, if members would get out and work, so the group voted to do so.

Every member of the class has been given tickets and every house in the village will be solicited. The picture is a good one featuring Humphrey Bogart, Walter Brennan, Lauren Bacall and others, so if you intend to see the picture, be sure and buy your ticket from a member of the class. Tickets purchased at the box office will not be credited to the class.
