

WOUNDED TWICE, SGT. ELWOOD KUHN KILLED IN ACTION FEB. 2

With a heavy heart Plymouth once more made its contribution to the war when announcement was received here Saturday evening of the death of Technical Sergeant Elwood Kuhn, who was killed in action in Germany on February 2nd. News of Sergeant Kuhn's death was sent by the War Department to his sister, Mrs. Marie DeFler of Gallon, who brought the message to the family here early Saturday night.

Sgt. Kuhn had twice been wounded, once while fighting in France on June 9, 1944, and the second time in Holland on October 2, 1944. After both injuries he was hospitalized in England, and while receiving treatment there he wrote many bright and cheerful letters to his family and friends in Plymouth. Only Saturday morning, his mother, Mrs. Ida Kuhn, had received a letter from her son, dated January 11. In a man and soldier, and the deepest of sympathy is extended to the bereaved members of the immediate family.

Surviving Sgt. Kuhn are his mother, Mrs. Ida Kuhn, who resides at 29 Bell Street; three brothers, Sgt. Charles W. Kuhn, a marine, serving in the South Pacific; Paul Kuhn of Akron; Virgil at home; and three sisters, Ruth at home; Mrs. E. D. Stull of Lexington, O., and Mrs. Marie DeFler of Gallon.

PLAN MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR OUR DEAD

COMMUNITY CLUB SPONSORS PROGRAM HONORING OUR FALLEN HEROES.

There was much enthusiasm at the Community Club meeting which was held at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening and with this, the third session of the newly-organized civic group, the outlook is very good for a growth in membership and to assume an active part in the town's activities.

Promptly at 6:30 the ladies of the church began serving a well-planned dinner. After all were seated the count showed 38 present, with a few men sending in membership fees, who were unable to attend. After dinner an intermission was enjoyed, which was followed by group singing under direction of John Lanlus, with John A. Root, first at the piano, and later at the organ. These few minutes brought much pleasure to the men, and the song fest was thoroughly enjoyed.

Presiding for the business session, Chairman James Root announced the appointment of various committee members, and asked reports from the Civic Improvement committee of which Marshall Burns is chairman. He reported that members of the American Legion had been contacted in regard to improvement and the decorating and lighting of the Service Men's Honor Roll. His report on this subject was very gratifying and within a short time the Honor Roll should be completed in a most fitting manner.

Plan Memorial Service
A resolution was approved setting May 30 as the date, and the school auditorium as the place for a community memorial program which will be designed to pay homage to our fallen heroes of past wars and to pay tribute to those who have made the supreme sacrifice during the present conflict. Rev. H. L. Blythe, pastor of the Presbyterian church, is chairman of the memorial service committee, and all details will be worked out and planned by this group.

The meeting, after an hour and forty-five minutes in session, adjourned by everyone singing America.

Judging from the fellowship enjoyed and contacts made at these meetings, and the interest shown so far, it seems that this organization will far outdo any previous group ever organized in Plymouth.

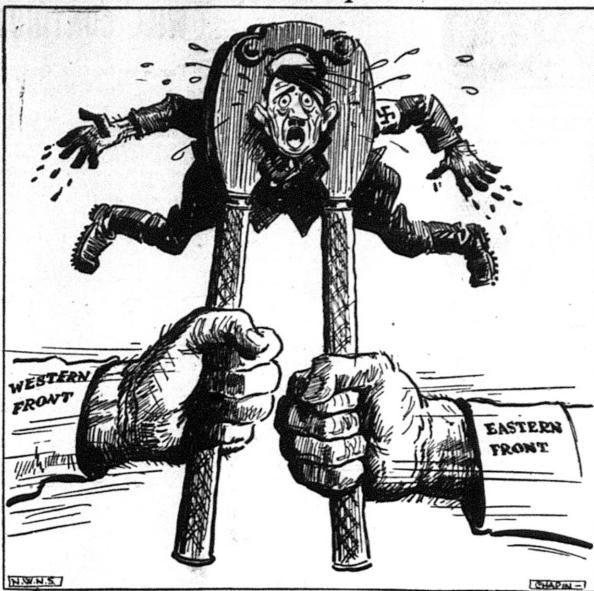

The men who have pledged membership include those from every walk of life, and represent those who are keenly interested in the community. They plan, as citizens of Plymouth, to be alert and aggressive, and to help in the improvement of the village from every angle.

An invitation is extended to all civic-minded citizens to join the Community Club, where community affairs, big and little, are to be discussed and acted upon every two weeks. The membership fee is $6.00 per quarter, and this includes the price of meals. If you are interested contact any member of the organization who will be glad to tell you about the aim and purpose of the Plymouth Community Club.

The Final Squeeze

Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittleseed)

THE MYSTERY of the lost alarm clock in the Apt. Marvin home has been solved. Mrs. Marvin remembered she brought it downstairs one morning but for two days was unable to remember where she put it. Guess where she found it—in the refrigerator. This business of war makes a fellow do funny things.

MRS. WM. E. ROOT, 28 Mulberry street, received the $1.00 prize for the day's best household suggestion in the Cleveland News this week. It was "black marks on floors made by heels can be easily and quickly removed by rubbing with a little dry cleaner on a cloth." With synthetic rubber heels it's a suggestion we all can use.

ONE of Perry Preston's chickens evidently intended to get firsthand information on the "care of the flock," because when he arrived at the Plymouth Grange meeting Friday evening where Joe Page of Shiloh spoke on this subject, he found one of his chickens riding on the front of his car. Of course, it could have come just for the ride.

WINTER PASSES

By Clyde B. Caldwell
It's been a long cold winter with Much ice and wind and snow. And all but just a few of us Will cheer to see it go; But there are just a few of us Who work around the square Methinks will shed a bitter tear To see no winter there.

For what will Otto Kinsel do When his blizzard snows recall? And what will Marshall Hulbert do Without some snow to haul? And Crawford, too, will miss the ice That knocks his wires down And sends him like a frightened deer A-scootin' through the town.

So when we cheer the passin' of The ice and wind and snow, Let's pause to shed a tear with them Who hate to see it go.

THE MIDNIGHT band on all night clubs, sports arenas, theaters, dance halls, etc., will not effect the midnight show at the local theatre. Mr. Ramsey already closes his theatre two evenings a week, Tuesday and Wednesday, and with the request for conservation of coal and light and will be permitted to hold the midnight show as usual.

MISS NEVA A. CHAPPELL of Sacramento, Calif., sends greetings to all old friends in Plymouth when she renewed her subscription this week. Miss ChapPELL states: "It is Spring here! Our windows are open. The air is balmy. Early bulbs and shrubs are in bloom. We have but three seasons in Sacramento: Spring, Summer and Fall. I think it is an ideal climate. The parks are particularly beautiful at all times of the year." And here we are slipping and sliding over the ice—knowing for sure that Spring is just around the corner—and also asking which corner?

WHETHER it's admiration for Washington or a weakness for cherries, Don Ford, Red Fogleston and Bill Fortney certainly cleaned the dish of cherry jam Tuesday night at the Com Din.

GIRL SCOUTS TO SPONSOR SHOW

Next Thursday and Friday the Girl Scouts are sponsoring the show "Clued" at the local theatre. Tickets will be on sale this week end and a canvass of the town made by the girls. The show is highly rated and the prices remain the same as usual, so if you are figuring on going to the show, give the Scouts a lift and purchase your ticket from them. They'll appreciate it. The funds so raised will be used for a possible camping week.

TECH. SGT. ELWOOD KUHN

this he told of how he was getting along, and of the fine treatment being accorded him by civilians, and his interest in learning to speak French. He also spoke of receiving a gift box from Clarence Daring and of how he and his buddies enjoyed it.

The interim of six weeks caused some anxiety in the family for Sgt. Kuhn had always written regularly, and the latter Saturday, which bolstered the spirit of his mother and members of the family, was destined to be overcast with sorrow and heartaches within a few short hours after its arrival.

As a member of the 82nd Airborne Division, Glider Infantry, young Kuhn entered the service three years ago this March and took his basic training at Camp Claiborne, La., and at Ft. Bragg, N. C. Two years ago he went overseas and participated in the early campaigns of North Africa, Sicily and Italy. In recent months he served his country on the battlefronts of France, Normandy, Holland, Belgium and in Germany, where he was killed in action.

Sgt. Kuhn, who would have been 34 on March 9, was born near Shiloh on March 9, 1911. He attended Shiloh schools where he took an important role in athletics, mostly baseball. The family moved to Plymouth where he grew into young manhood, and while he made his home here he won for himself many warm and close friends. He was employed in numerous stores in Plymouth, and it was during this period he made countless acquaintances.

Prior to entering the service he had been employed for some time at the Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co.

As a clerk in various local stores, "Kuhn" gained admiration of hundreds for his neatness in appearance, his personality, and the ability to smile at all times. He was accommodating to his many customers, and a willing worker. The community knew and liked Elwood Kuhn as

PURCHASES FARM

The 158-acre farm located near Boughtonville and belonging to the E. A. Stotts estate has been sold to Harry DeBois of Willard R. D.

TRAGIC DEATH OF 4 YEAR OLD

Shiloh, Ohio — (Special Correspondent) — We hear the expression so often, "There is no brotherhood of man" any more. But every day in every community that statement is refuted by actual facts. Some are small and others are great, but many are not printed.

On Saturday evening when the call came for men from Shiloh to aid a father and mother who were suffering agonies, about 50 were ready in a few minutes and rushed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bondy, with lanterns and flashlights to hunt for their little son about four years old. Other men from Shenandoah, Rome and Ganges joined the group.

Like an answer for the helplessness of a little child—it was Daddy who found and raised his little son from the frozen ground and carried him into their home.

LeRoy had often walked to the home of a very near neighbor, Clark Hammett, where he was heartily welcomed, and would remain until his father stopped in the afternoon on his way home.

PILOT MISSING IN YUGOSLAVIA

An official war department message was received last Thursday by Mrs. Wilbur Shields, sister of Lt. Nelson McQuown, bomber pilot, stating that Lt. McQuown and his entire crew had been missing over Yugoslavia since Jan. 31. The missing pilot is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McQuown of Maple street, and has been in the service for four years, enlisting on October 15, 1940, before Pearl Harbor.

No details other than the telegram have been received. Lt. McQuown left the States for overseas service Sept. 4th, 1944, and was stationed at an airbase in Italy. Besides his parents and sister, he has three brothers in the service: Pvt. Kenneth McQuown, who is with an anti-aircraft unit in the Aleutian Islands; Second Class Seaman Noel McQuown of the U. S. Navy, now in a hospital in Corona, Calif.; and Staff Sergeant Norman McQuown stationed at Muroc Airfield, Cal.

Lt. McQuown is the second local boy to be reported missing within the past few weeks. Wm. Ross, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ross, was reported missing the middle of December. Ross was in the Infantry and stationed in Belgium.

If Lt. McQuown and his crew made a safe landing it is possible that they will turn up, as the Yugoslav guerrillas are very active in this country, as has been reported by Sgt. Burling, who had much experience when he was forced down in this territory.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Chas. Fox of Porter St., was taken in the McQuate car on Tuesday morning to the Shelby hospital.

EDITORIAL ATTACK ON VITAMINS

WHEN we think about all the people in our town, and every other town, who have been buying quantities of vitamin tablets and tonics in order to handle the battle with life more easily, it is rather shocking to realize that much of our vitamin diet may have been pure waste.

The report points out that vitamins are of the utmost importance to those who are deficient in them, but questions whether there is any justification in the sale of vitamins to those who do not have a deficiency.

Although the report may be a little disturbing, we recommend taking it with a grain of salt. For there is no indication that vitamin treatments hurt us—and there is always the possibility that we may have a deficiency which can be helped.

A HEALTHY NATIONALISM

AMERICANS are fully aware of their importance as a nation. We realize our responsibility as a world power. Moreover, we have a strong national pride in our country as the land of opportunity and freedom.

However, there is a great difference between our nationalism and the kind of nationalism which has been looming its ugly head for centuries in Europe. We have a healthy pride in what the United States is planning and doing for the people. In Europe the nationalism is based on fear and belligerent pride.

We may be grateful for our geographical location that keeps us apart from this petty nationalism. There is no other nation that is so well practiced in the art of mixing warring races and creeds and making it work successfully.

COOPERATION, NOT CRITICISM, WON ARE you having trouble getting along with your boss? Well, here's what one man did when he bumped into that situation. He is George Roback.

Mr. Roback was the regular civil service substitute carrier in a post office, and was in good standing. All was going well until one day the postmaster took on a temporary substitute who was a friend of his.

Things began to change. The work went to the postmaster's friend. Mr. Roback didn't like this, and thought the situation would be temporary. But it continued and Mr. Roback's pay was getting frostbitten.

Then Mr. Roback did what almost anyone in the world would do—he went to the postmaster and told him a few things.

And of course the postmaster also did what virtually anyone in the world would do—he told Mr. Roback a few things. They crashed head on like two bulls in a blue grass pasture.

More and more work went to the temporary substitute. One day Mr. Roback got an idea. He said, "Well, I can't really blame the postmaster for liking his friend. That is just human nature—to have favorites. And I certainly couldn't expect to be a favorite of his since I have never made any but disagreeable remarks to him. Now, since I am not getting any work, I might as well change my methods. I'll change—see what I can find in the postmaster that I like, and treat him accordingly."

So he stopped criticizing the postmaster; spoke pleasantly to him and even went out of the way to help him in small routine matters. He found a surprising number of things to praise in the postmaster—and he praised them.

The postmaster didn't know what to make of this sudden change at first. But he liked Mr. Roback's new attitude.

Soon the two men found they had respect for each other; then liking. Mr. Roback found that his boss had troubles just as everybody has and that these sometimes made him cross. As if by magic things began to change. Instead of fighting Mr. Roback, the postmaster began to help him. In exactly six weeks after Mr. Roback started his new course of conduct, he was making more money than he had ever made before on that job. He had accomplished more in six weeks than he had in three years of fault-finding and criticism.

HIGHWAY WILDLIFE TOLL

An astonishing number of wild animals and birds are killed on the highways of Ohio annually, the division of conservation and natural resources field men report. An example of this is offered by Herman F. Davis, supervisor of district 1, in the county of Adams, where all kinds of wild and domestic dead animals from Portsmouth, Beaver, O., by Birch Bluff, Star route main hunt those in that time.

Congress in Congress

By Cong. WM. LEMKE

Last week congress passed the George Bill. This bill had no business in the House. Either Wallace is fit or he is unfit to be secretary of commerce. His rejection or confirmation should not have made the occasion of juggling with legislation. The senate should wash its own linen.

Most farmers are against Wallace. They know that he is trading the home market to foreign horse traders—to bribe good neighbors. Farmers now cannot get working clothes. They have been given to UNRRA. Wallace will complete the job. We give billions to foreign countries, while federal agents hunt widows and orphans to collect old feed and seed loans.

In coming up the illegal induction of essential, irreplaceable farmers and farm workers, I introduced House Concurrent Resolution 77, which reads: "Resolved, That in order to insure that there be no further misinterpretation of the will and desire of the congress in enacting subsection K, commonly known as the Tydings amendment, to the selective service act, congress reaffirms the necessity to our war effort of said subsection K and again expresses its will and desire that the local selective service board, in classifying the registrant, observe subsection K, and concern itself solely with the registrant's essentiality to an agricultural occupation or endeavor, and to the question of whether or not a satisfactory replacement can be found."

That a joint congressional committee of six be appointed, to determine who is responsible for the wholesale induction of essential farmers and farm workers where no replacements are available, in violation of the Tydings amendment, and to determine the effect of such induction on agricultural production and upon the war effort. Senator Tydings introduced the same resolution in the Senate.

General Hersey tries to put the blame upon the local draft boards, and the state directors. Most of us know that General Hersey is playing a double game. Congress has discovered that he talks out of one side of his mouth when he talks to the public, and on the other side of his mouth when he talks to the state directors and the local draft board. Some of us are beginning to wonder whether Browder is behind the scene, whether the object is to bring about collective farming, with Browder in charge, and hereafter operating our farms with German and Italian prisoners.

I feel that by the time this is published, the house will have passed the above resolution. It will inform the local draft boards that they need not violate a law enacted at the request of General Hersey or some retired Major. Remember the Tydings amendment is not intended to protect slackers but to protect agriculture. If you are not essential or irreplaceable, ask to have your case reopened. Do this in writing. If you are not essential or irreplaceable, then do not ask. Remember the army needs no draftees, but the army, and the nation also need food.

New Chemical Weeder

A chemical spray which kills weeds without harming the grass has been developed by the Department of Agriculture. The compound is called 2-4-D, for short.

Water sprays containing only 1-20th of 1 per cent of this compound have killed heavy stands of dandelion and other weeds, without injuring grass. Other weeds readily killed by 2-4-D include chickweed, pigweed, wood-sorrel, knotweed, broadleaf plantain and many others.

The department thinks 2-4-D will also destroy troublesome weeds in grain fields. (The Pathfinder)

more, automobiles would head for the scrap heap more quickly than now if gasoline were to be rationed liberally.

Less than one-fourth of the motor trucks estimated as needed to meet the military training requirements during 1945 will be produced and distributed to military operators. Another civilian program amounts to 181,792 light, medium-light heavy and heavy trucks or 21.4 per cent of the ODT's stated requirement of 773,933 vehicles.

Farmers to Get Quarter Of Truck Needs. With 1,500,000 passenger cars breaking down with little or no chance for replacement and the spare parts situation tight; with gasoline and tire supplies remaining critically short, and with the serious shortage of lead necessitating the greater conservation of batteries, vehicle operators will face the hardest period of the war in 1945, the Office of War Information reported.

With the cloudy prospects for the year, car owners will be wise to make the most judicious use of their funds and to attend to the smallest trouble, and, where possible, share in driving, it was said.

Every new car to be manufactured through 1945, and the pool of second-hand cars, by scrapping of private passenger automobiles continues at a high rate and at such a rate that the hands of essential drivers is getting dangerously low. ODT, making its study from sources other than registrations, estimates that the national total of passenger cars in January 1945 is 25,900,000. This figure dwindled to 24,400,000 as of January 1, 1945. It is estimated that 650,000 are actually in use and that 650,000 are in the process of being replaced and repair parts become scarce, this number may increase. Furthermost members of the armed forces have no taxable income, in which case their exemptions can be claimed by their wives. "Income of minors: The new law provides that the earnings of children shall be considered to belong to the children, and not to their parents, for purposes of the Federal income tax. As a result, minors who had $500 or more income last year will be required to file income tax returns, but frequently will find it advisable to file in the name of a single parent who has less than $500 income from which tax is withheld, the filing of a return will bring a refund of the tax which was withheld. In the case of a married person who had no taxable income, whether or not any tax was withheld from it, the person should file a joint or combined return with her husband (or his wife) so as get the full benefit of their exemption.

Even though the certified production of oil and petroleum liquids for February, 1945, is at an all-time peak and the current production of gasoline is also at a record-breaking total, the problem of gasoline supplies for civilian requirements is a serious one. Military requirements are currently on the increase. This presents a problem for the transportation facilities. At the present moment, transportation is tighter than ever before. The Army's tanker and pipeline is being used to capacity; the military requirement for military supplies during the last six months making the movement of civilian supplies more difficult.

Gasoline allocations for passenger cars are based upon an ODT estimate of the essential transportation work of each automobile can be performed with an average annual mileage of between 5,000 and 5,500 miles a year. The average annual mileage before the war was 4,000 to 4,500 miles, which was for social and recreational driving.

EXEMPTIONS EXPLAINED

In response to numerous inquiries arising from provisions of the individual income tax law relating to exemptions for husbands and wives, and the income of minors, Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., Commissioner of Internal Revenue, made the following statement today: "Husband and wife exemptions—The new law requires that if a husband is exempt from income tax, his wife, if she has no other taxable income, must take his own exemption on his or her own return. Both exemptions can be claimed on the same return only if the husband is not exempt. If one of them had no taxable income and was not the dependent of another taxpayer. In applying this rule to wives of men in the armed forces, the law is in mind that the tax laws exempt and disregard the first $1,500 of active service pay received each year by a member of the armed forces. CALL TO ARMS

Your government needs and asks its citizens in this 168th week of the war to:

1. Answer the emergency call for 8,000 medic WACS. Women from 20 to 50 are needed immediately for non-professional medical work in U. S. Army hospitals.

2. Help to relieve the doctor and nurse shortage by taking Red Cross Nursing Courses to learn how to care for your own family.

3. Remember — 1944 income tax return forms do not provide for the new rates on the new portion of your 1942 tax due on March 15. Separate statements are being mailed.

4. Write your servicemen cheerfully and frequently. Use V-Mail when you write overseas.

5. Beware of complacency. When the war news is good, re-double your efforts on the home front. Get a complete example your boy can be proud of.

In the dining room the table had been tastefully arranged by Mrs. Constance Geisinger, and the appointments were all in keeping with St. Valentine's day. Betty Joan Mellick and Shirley Bloom served, and Jean Hall Hamman poured.

Letters From Service Boys

Pacific, Feb. 8, 1945
Dear Rev. and Mrs. Boehm:
I wish to thank you folks for the card of Christmas cheer of which I have just received, and also the Thanksgiving bulletin. I also want to thank Mrs. Rudy Boehm for the messages she included in the Thanksgiving bulletin.

I want to thank you folks and all the church members for sending all of us boys in the service such a nice Christmas package this year. I just received mine today. It was in perfect shape in spite of the long distance it had to travel. Although I have never met you folks, I am certainly looking forward to it, and to attend many of your services after peace is declared.

Respectfully yours,
Francis H. Guthrie,
Reno, Feb. 5, 1945

Dear Rev. Boehm:

Words cannot sufficiently express the satisfaction I experienced when I read the notice of a Boy Scout meeting in a deluge copy of the Plymouth Advertiser. I had not known of a Boy Scout organization in Shiloh until then. That particular item seemed to capture my attention and reveal my thoughts to days gone by when the world was readjusting itself from the "War to end wars."

In the present crisis the world is undergoing many changes—all of which the boy of today must face as a man of tomorrow. If the leaders of all countries and powers of yesterday had been so trained as youths in the code of the Boy Scouts and such other organizations which teach fair play and clean thoughts, I am convinced such a crisis would not have occurred. If the boy of today learns to live as a man with men of tomorrow, there will be no more wars.

May I wish you every success in the mission you are performing, and may every boy in the community want to be a Scout, have sent through the Army Finance department, a small sum which I hope will be a help in maintaining the Boy Scouts of America in the community as a permanent organization.

Sincerely,
C. O. Butler, Capt. M. C.

Prisoner of War

Have you noticed Dean Wolford is wearing a girl's ring?

What has happened between Chad and Jean anyhow?

Did you know Swartz had Mary Benedict after the Union game?

Wasn't Marilyn happy when Joe came back?

Naomi won't tell who her heart throbs is, so maybe there's too many.

Did Juanita intend to go to the game at Madison with someone else but ended up going with Cuppy?

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Twenty members of the Twentieth Century Club and three guests, Mrs. Lanius, Mrs. Cashman, Mrs. Finforth, met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ruth Nimmons for the regular meeting of the Club. In her paper on Martha Washington, Mrs. Derringer stressed the congeniality, the gracious hospitality of the Washingtons and gave a very interesting account of the customs of the day. She also showed how Martha was a true partner of Washington through all his long years of leadership, first as general and later as the first President. Mrs. Helen Hoffman traced the training and experience of Judge Florence Allen. It is interesting to note that Miss Allen attended an academy at New Lima, Ashtabula County, Ohio, and before studying law was a musician of some note. In the sphere of politics, she has been a participant in being the first woman to sit as judge in a murder trial; first on the Supreme Court. Judge Allen is very simple in her manners and very calm in the midst of her many duties.

As an unusual treat for the evening Mrs. Cashman showed several war trophies sent to her by her husband. It is interesting to note a small event that GIs can take with them to the front lines; a German helmet so heavy that it would seem a sufficient load in itself, and many other items of interest.

The officers elected were: President, Mrs. Helen Miller; First Vice President, Eleta Fackler; Second Vice President, Mrs. Alvina Pickens; Secretary, Mrs. Agnes McFadden, and Treasurer, Miss Joy Bethel.

It is not the custom to serve refreshments at the meeting of the Club, but due to this meeting falling on the birthdays of the hostess and Mrs. Trimmer, dainty refreshments were served.

SHILOH POULTRYMAN SPEAKS AT THE PLYMOUTH GRANGE

Members were asked to take a part in the program and questions were asked and answered, and most of the most interesting meetings for some time was enjoyed. The group voted to meet once a month, the third Friday of the month, and to have it a pot luck supper. This action was taken in compliance with the government order to conserve coal, gas and tires.

Mrs. Franklin McCormick substituted for Mrs. C. C. Pugh, chaplain and had his devotions on The Day of Prayer.

SOLDIER NEWS

See Him Again, Bub He St. Petersburg, Fla.—Rev. Dr. James A. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, recently told of an interesting incident that happened in a southern grocery.

Several men were engaged in general conversation in the store. One of them said: "I have made more money in the last year, than I ever made in any three years before. It would suit me if the war would last another year."

He had hardly finished his sentence when a fat crashed into his face and he was knocked flat on the floor. The man who had hit him said:

"When this war started I had four sons. I am a farmer in a northern state, and my sons went into the service. Three of them are dead. So I have only one son now instead of four and when I hear a man say that he hopes the war will last a year longer so he can make money, I simply cannot control my right arm."

The man who was knocked down was assisted to his feet by the owner of the store and walked away with his jaw. He said nothing. But man who had heard what was said and who had witnessed the striking of the blow said to the farmer:

"If he has you arrested for assault and battery, I want to pay any fine that may be assessed against you."—The Independent.

SERVICE NOTES OF OUR BOYS

Receive Purple Heart For Son
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Franklin, North Fairfield rt. 1, have received the Purple Heart awarded posthumously to their son Pfc. Arthur G. Franklin, 21, who was killed instantly by enemy artillery shell fragments in northern Italy, Sept. 16, 1944.

A letter from Paul Tarcy, regimental chaplain of the 337th division tells of Arthur being an "excellent soldier, capable and strong on the battlefield and a man whom they were proud to number among them." He says his remains are now resting in an American cemetery in Northern Italy, having been laid out with full military honors and with a chaplain presiding at the funeral.

Pfc. Franklin entered service Sept. 18, 1943, and had been overseas since March 11, 1944. He is a nephew of Dan Franklin of Plymouth.

Sees Much Fighting

George Schlottner who is with the 3rd infantry division sends an article, released Dec. 23, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schlottner of Willard which tells much of the activities of the division. They are called "gypsy troops" of the Mediterranean theatre—the only American soldiers who participated in the four campaigns of Africa, Sicily, Italy and France.

Since they fought ashore in French Morocco Nov. 8, 1942, they have been in the line over 300 days. They fought 38 straight days in Sicily, 58 days in Southern Italy, 65 days at Anzio and more than 130 days in the long pursuit of Germans through southern France and the Volges mountains.

He is a brother of Mrs. Leland Briggs of New Haven.

Dear Tommy:

I'm somewhere in England in a hospital and today I received the home town paper. Sure was glad it reached me; it makes a guy feel better, and how! It was my first paper since I came overseas. The news was old but good news to me. Some of the boys here are from Ohio and they also read the paper. They say it's good to even see a paper from the old state, even if it's not from their home town.

Well, Tommy, it looks like I shall have to close soon, so thanks a lot for the paper. I'm sure the rest of the Buckeyes enjoyed it too.

REV. MILLER WRITES INTERESTING LETTER OF PENNEY FARMS, CAMP

Rev. J. W. Miller, pastor of the Plymouth Presbyterian church a number of years ago, writes so interestingly of the church and life at Penney Farms, Florida and of Camp Blanding, that we are sure his friends in Plymouth will be glad to share our letter:

Dear Friends: I cannot express my feelings, therefore I am sending them by mail. Enclosed check is for 1945 Advertiser subscription. This is the twenty-third year, since I first began reading the Advertiser. It continues to bring to us interesting news from all over the world—especially at present from the young Plymouth boy friends now in Service.

Many are the changes that have taken place in Plymouth and elsewhere all over our fair land. Because of wartime conditions, Penney Farms, Florida, is now in a military area. When we came to Florida a few years ago, Camp Blanding, near Penney Farms, was the play ground of such wilderness denizens as snakes, egrets, wildcats and the most assorted group of alligators on this side of the Congo.

Camp Blanding mushroomed from an entirely undeveloped wasteland into a tremendous military reservation spanning 125,000 acres, has the finest beach facilities for the teaching of swimming and for off-shore recreation of any army post. Here at the Infantry Replacement Camp, young civilians are trained into rugged, tough and alert soldiers.

Many are the interesting changes Florida has experienced from the retirement of the Indians into the fastnesses of the Everglades many years ago, to the wild era of development so recent, that the subject still comes up in the course of conversation. Quite efficiently the past few years have seen Florida become a veritable arsenal. The skies are filled with scurrying planes; the highways are streaked with long moving caravans of army and navy vehicles. Many square miles of flatlands are now air fields, crossbarred with runways; swank hotels, robbed of some of their glamor, are crowded with uniformed men sleeping bunk over bunk; great clusters of low, dull, green buildings mark encampments for thousands of trainees, and occasional miniature spires remind us that the people of Florida have not forgotten God. At Camp Blanding there are twenty-eight chapels for religious services for all soldiers.

Of the ninety-six apartments at Penney Farms, formerly reserved for retired ministers and their wives, twenty of these apartments are now occupied by young army officers with their wives and babies. Two army officers with their wives and infants occupy apartments in the same building in which our apartment is located. At every Sunday morning service at the Memorial Home Community Chapel, there are a number of uniformed men present with their wives. Occasionally army babies are brought to the Sunday service for baptism. However, army babies are usually baptised

Of course, there is a scarcity of certain garments, but all in all, this well-known men's clothing store has about everything that a man needs to wear. Advertising has played a big part in the growth of this store. Starting twenty years ago with only a few suits and a shirt, the founder, N. B. Rule, was an ardent believer in advertising. He told his message every week through The Advertiser, and like magic his business began to grow and grow.

And today, under the ownership of Max Jump, and the management of Harold Lippus, this store always has a message for those who want the best in men's clothing. So, when you read their advertisement, you can be certain that there is a sufficient stock of the particular item advertised, and that the prices are always the lowest.

UNITED WORKERS SERVE 1031 BOYS AT CRESTLINE SUNDAY

Using the balance of $130 left over from a former solicitation for the Crestline Canteen, members of the United Workers of the local Presbyterian church added to their funds to serve Sunday. More than 1031 boys in service passed through the canteen and the boys were especially grateful. One troop train of Sea-Bees, enroute to Galveston, went thru, and because they were so well behaved their commanding officer permitted them to leave the train and take advantage of the lunch.

There were 252 boys on this train and after serving them the ladies found their ready supply of lunch completely gone. Workers assisting at the canteen included Mr. and Mrs. Van Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vandervort, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wechter, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lookbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. John Lankau, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Steele, Mrs. Jud Keller, Sally Steele, Donald Smith, Maryalice Weller and Mrs. Moody Spensler.

TRAGIC DEATH

The mother dressed her little boy in his warm play suit, and saw him start for the Hammett home in the late forenoon and supposed he was at that place. Mrs. Hammett was not at home that afternoon and Mr. Hammett was working near the barn. It is supposed that the child was bewildered from the cold, as his little tracks were followed in a nearby cornfield, by the searchers.

It was by following these tracks that led to a stream of water that helped the searchers. The ice had broken in one place, but he had climbed out and was on a bank of snow about five feet from where he had fallen in the water. His clothes were wet and he shivered as high as his neck, and had to be cut from his body. The youngster was wrapped in warm blankets and after being carried through the snow quite a distance the road, they were taken to Shiloh by Clarence Bly of Ganges. Mr. Bly had heard about the call for help and had responded. He had just stopped along the road to aid in the search.

Finding that the child had just been discovered he gave help hand in that way. They met Dr. C. L. Hannum of Plymouth who had been asked to meet them in Shiloh, and who said that death resulted from exposure.

The child had been out about ten hours before he was found. The father went to the Hammett home, and learned that the child had not been there called some neighbors to help.

C. E. Beatty called C. H. McQuate's grocery store and asked Mr. McQuate to loan the alarm. Mr. and Mrs. Roney purchased the 160-acre farm (familiarily known as the Fair farm) one year ago this spring. It was the second tragedy in the family since their residence in this community. Their only other child, Carol Ann, 2 years old, died in September after several month's illness.

The entire community was saddened by the tragic death of the child. The body was taken to the McQuate funeral home. Services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the burial church in Mansfield and the girl was in the Mansfield cemetery.

PRAYER DAY IS OBSERVED

PLYMOUTH CHURCHES JOIN OBSERVANCE OF WORLD WIDE MOVEMENT.

World Day of Prayer, an internationally - planned observance, was sponsored by the three local Protestant churches Friday evening and held at the Presbyterian church. There was a good attendance and women of all churches took part in the program.

The program carried out the theme "That We Should Show Forth the Praise of Him Who Hath Called You Out of Darkness Into His Marvellous Light." Call to Prayer was directed by Mrs. Harry Dick; Worship, Miss Jessie Cole; Thanksgiving, Mrs. S. C. Brown; Confession, Mrs. H. L. Bethel; Intercession, by the Church by Mrs. Harold Sams who varied the program a little by using a five-branched candelabra and after lighting each taper, prayed first for our national leaders; then followed a prayer for our men and women in service; for the Red Cross, doctors and various agencies of mercy; civilians in occupied and war-torn areas, and lastly for our enemies and eventual peace.

Mrs. Knight concluded the program with her explanation of where and how the offering taken would go to four different agencies of interdenominational Christian service. These four projects were presented by Mrs. Haines on the Missions and Sharecroppers; Mrs. Doris Rhodes, Government Indian Schools; Christian Literature, Mrs. Helen Hoffman of Union Christian Colleges, by Mrs. J. PLYMOUTH WINS ITS LAST GAME last Friday night at Union. Handicapped by the small floor and losing Jake Berberich in the third quarter because of a knee injury, the local boys had to battle every minute of the game.

Playing its last scheduled basketball game before the county tournament, Plymouth came thru with a well-earned victory, 28-26

Both teams started out as if they were going to run up some high scores as they dropped in shots from almost every angle on the floor. Soon cooling off, however, they settled down with both teams playing good defensive basketball.

The lead sea-sawed back and forth throughout the game, but Plymouth held a one point lead at the half. With two minutes to go Union pulled into the lead 25-25, but a foul shot by Hampton and a field goal by Seabolt shot the local lads into the lead which they managed to hold until the final whistle.

The local Reserves started their game as if they were really going to swamp their opponents when Fenner dropped in three baskets in about as many minutes. After that, however, there was a lid on the basket as far as Plymouth was concerned for they only made one more point during the first half and one foul shot and a basket during the entire last half. The final score was 16-10 was in favor of Union.
