

$15 Minimum Available For AAA Farmers

There's Chance To Earn More By Full Compliance, Triple A Office Announces

Richland county farmers who operate their farms under the federal AAA program can be sure of getting at least $15 each this year if they meet the minimum requirements and there's a chance to earn much more than that by full compliance with the program. It was pointed out at the county Triple A office.

Farmers may be able to figure their approximate payments by following this procedure:

Multiply by 50 cents all of the cropland acres on your farm which have been plowed at least once in the past five years.

Multiply the permanent pasture acreage by 20 cents and your commercial orchard acreage by one dollar. Orchards which provide fruit for home use only earn no payments.

If you grow vegetables for commercial use, multiply the number of total acres the acres devoted to growing potatoes and sweetcorn and peas for canning, and then multiply the remainder by 50 cents. Add these two results to find your probable 1945 allowance.

Should your farm allowances add up to less than $15, the farmer who cooperates with the special program will receive $15 anyway.

To this 15 minimum it may be possible to add another $15 which can be earned only by planting forest trees on your farm. Work on a planting of forest trees which were planted between July 1, 1940, and Jan. 1, 1945.

The AAA farm allowance must be used by the farmer for approved soil building and conserving practices such as contour farming, application of limestone, ditching fields, fertilizing pastures, building dams to conserve water for livestock, constructing and maintaining sodways, and plowing under green manure crops.

Mild Weather Aids Shortage

If the break in the weather which northern Ohio has enjoyed this past week continues, the fuel shortage locally will become greatly improved. Local coal dealers report several cars of coal arriving, but orders on hand will deplete them quickly. L. E. Brown of the Ohio Fuel commission states that while gas pressure had to be greatly reduced in some areas, the pressure in Plymouth is now normal and will continue so long as the weather remains mild.

Foundry Down Three Days

The recent cold wave and coal shortage forced many industrial plants in this area to close last week. Part of the foundry of the Fuel-Root-Hick Co. was shut down last Friday, and remain closed until Tuesday due to a lack of gas with which the core ovens are heated. The shutdown affected between 75 and 100 employees at the plant. Operations were resumed Tuesday morning.

As a result of Governor Lausche's plea that all business places in the state close for one day a week, excepting grocery and drug stores, Plymouth remains divided in its opinion as to closing. A discussion of closing the stores on a day a week was held during the Community Club meeting Tuesday night, but no resolution for or against closing was introduced. Some of the merchants around the Square favor closing on Monday; others on Thursdays, and there are those who felt that the closing of stores one day a week in Plymouth will in no way help with the shortage of fuel. So, until the governor issues an official order, stores in Plymouth will probably remain open as usual.

Plymouth public schools resumed classes Tuesday morning after being closed Monday at a request made by state officials to conserve coal.

Kenneth C. Ray, state superintendent of public education, had made the request for the closing of schools in connection with a request made by Governor Frank L. Lausche.

School officials said that a study of the local situation shows that the supply of coal on hand is adequate for the remainder of winter, and late Wednesday afternoon Supt. Van Brunt received word that the schools will be open Monday as usual. The splendid cooperation given throughout the state aided considerably, and unless unforeseen circumstances arise they will continue on the usual five-day schedule.

THE WEATHER

January, 1945, was a continuation of what is undoubtedly the coldest winter ever experienced by anyone now living in this community.

Beginning December 11th it has snowed more or less on 41 days up to February 1st. The snowfall for the month was 23.8 inches, and for January 21.4 inches, making a total of 45.2 inches, or nearly 4 feet. At the end of January it was still 12.3 inches above the level—in many places it drifted to several feet deep after each new snowfall, blocking the roads and forcing the schools to close. Many country roads are still impassable.

January was also a very cold month. While the thermometer dropped below zero only four times, there were 25 days in which it did not rise above freezing. The lowest for the month was 4 below zero on the 2nd, the highest 38 on the 12th, but it did not last long enough to start the proverbial "January thaw". The average for the month was 19.3 degrees or 8.5 degrees below normal.

As a result of the continuous cold and snow, slowing up production and traffic, coal was critical about the end of the month and many farmers were hauling water for livestock.

Despite the deep snow the ground is reported unfrozen. It also makes a fine blanket for wheat which is said to be doing fine. If the snow melts gradually it will soak in and be of great benefit for spring seeding and planting.

But since the ground has seen his shadow—even for only a few brief minutes—we of course must reconcile ourselves to six weeks more of the same thing!—J.A.R.

WE COMMEMORATE, GRUBBING, FAULT-FINDING, TRY-TO-HIDE PATRIOTS—

Shelby Soldier Is Home After Many Experiences In Balkans

A two-hour "movie-thriller" would seem dull in comparison to the experiences of Robert Burling, 31, of Shelby, who has flown forty missions, was captured by the Germans, later escaping to work with Greek guerrillas for weeks, and who had been reported "missing in action." Yes, Burling has seen the humorous and serious side of war, packed with experiences and thrills he'll reveal some of this week, which we know you'll find interesting.

Sgt. Robert Burling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burling of Shelby, and a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Walter White of Plymouth, gave his family and relatives a real surprise when he arrived in Shelby on Monday, Jan. 29, especially after he had been reported "missing in action," after one of his missions over enemy territory which resulted in his becoming a prisoner of war.

Burling entered the army on Oct. 24, 1942, and took his training at Smyrna, Tenn., and in various camps throughout the country, finishing his course as engine-gunner at Casper, Wyoming. He left for overseas in May, 1944 and was based in Italy with the 15th Air Force where he participated in forty missions over Munich, Vienna, the Ploesti oil fields, Budapest and much air activity during D-Day. He is a member of a B-24 Liberator crew that gained the presidential citation for meritorious service, and is holder of the air medal with two oak leaf clusters.

Shortly upon his arrival at his overseas base, Burling saw the beginning of real experiences for this American soldier. The air squad was briefed to bomb the marshalling yards at Salonika, where the enemy was using facilities to cause much confusion upon the weary-worn Nazis guards. Me and my buddies made our get-away into the hills and found refuge among the guerrilla bands. The night we escaped, I'm sure that if my feet had touched the ground I would have made a great speed record," Burling related.

Burling and his buddies were with the guerrilla groups for seventeen days. During this time they participated in raids which wrecked railroads, causing derailment of trains. On one night they blew up a bridge and a few marched them back through Salonika. Here the Americans had the satisfaction of witnessing the damage done by their bombs. Installations in the yards had been completely destroyed and much damage was done in this section of the city. For four days the Germans held the Americans in Salonika before they were loaded onto a train and started north for Budapest. Guerrilla opposition had practically halted all train movements in this section of the country, so that the American prisoners were forced to stay aboard the train for twenty-two days. Finally, the Germans decided to place the prisoners in a camp which harbored Russians, Italians, and other prisoners of war. Treatment was as good as could be expected, but the Germans were very cunning in trying to "pump" information from us, said Burling. "They would ask us every kind of question conceivable, trying to get information, but all that we were forced to give was our name, rank and serial number. "The Germans did not know it at the time, but while they were trying to get some "dope" on our movements, they gave us plenty about themselves in return," said Burling.

"After a few days at this camp the Germans put us under guard with twenty-four Nazis who started marching us on foot to positions farther north. The guards started out with nineteen prisoners, eleven Americans, five English and three Russians. Their supply wagons were drawn by horses, and we were assigned to help push the loads over the mountain trails. We hindered the traveling so much until the Germans were forced to pitch camp in the open on the second night out, and thus the stage was set for the escape of prisoners."

The exact circumstances of the escape cannot be made public, but the guerrilla band which were of much help in executing a plan whereby the entire group got free from the Nazis. "It all started when a hand grenade exploded which caused much confusion upon the weary-worn Nazis guards. Me and my buddies made our get-away into the hills and found refuge among the guerrilla bands. The night we escaped, I'm sure that if my feet had touched the ground I would have made a great speed record," Burling related.

M. N. LIPPUS DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER IN TOLEDO

Funeral services for M. N. Lippus, 76, of Berlin Heights, who died Thursday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Glenn Mowers, Toledo, were held Sunday afternoon at the Hinman funeral home at Berlin Heights and burial made in Riverside cemetery of that village. Rev. Joseph Dudley, pastor of the Congregational church officiated. The deceased had been ill for several months.

Surviving are five sons; Ralph of Cleveland; Lloyd, Raymond and Harry of Sandusky; Harold of Plymouth and a daughter, Mrs. Mowers. There are also eleven grandchildren and three great grandchildren. His wife preceded him in death on April 29, 1943. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lippus attended the rites.

Increase In Salary

Effective February 15, Clyde Crawford, village superintendent of light and water plants, will enjoy the benefits of a $300 increase in salary per year. The increase was approved by the Board of Public Affairs, during January, and the village council voted for the change in salary January 15th to become effective 30 days thereafter.

Crawford has been receiving an annual salary of $2400 per year. He has been without any help since Ernie Rooks went to the navy, and with the steadily increasing cost of living, the village officials felt that the increase was justifiable. Crawford takes care of all the equipment at the light and water plant, plus considerable outside work. The increase will make a total of $2700 per year for this position.

Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittlesseed)

THIRTY-EIGHT civic-minded citizens attended the Tuesday night meeting of the Community Club held at the Methodist Church. The session was presided over by President James Root, while Secretary Ramsey made a report of rules and regulations set up by the executive committee. The next meeting will be held Feb. 20 at the Methodist Church with dinner promptly at six o'clock. Incidentally, those who weren't at Tuesday night's meeting missed a "swell" feed!

MORE THAN 75 tons of ice and snow have been hauled from around the Square the past few days. The heavy snows of December and January caused snow banks to be piled several feet high around the curbs, and Street Commissioner Hulbert, Charlie Barr and "Buck" Colyer have really been getting some exercise. At an early hour when the snow comes, there won't be so much "slush" to walk through.

ON HIS way to Mansfield Saturday night Dewey Reynolds met a car in a "close" place in the road. The passing motorist slipped off the side and became stuck. Dewey stopped to help him out and while the two drivers were looking over the situation, a woman in the stuck car placed the engine in gear and spun the rear wheels, throwing the loose stones a piece of which struck Reynolds in the left eye. He's getting along very nicely, but it hurt like the dickens for a few hours.

WE SHOULD give recognition to our local coal dealers for the splendid way they have cooperated during the past few weeks when there was a real coal shortage here. It meant extra work on their part to haul coal in half-ton lots, and to check lists to see that everyone was being treated the same. These dealers, composed of Fred Schneider, Levi McDougal, Fred Blackford, Fred Noggle, and John Ganzhorn of the Plymouth Elevator, worked long hours for us. Let us know that the entire town appreciates their efforts. Especially should Fred Noggle be recognized for his hazardous trips over icy and snow-covered roads. Let us know when the railroads were tied up. At this writing things are easier and if the weather holds, the fuel situation will soon be a thing of the past.

ABOUT ALL the smokers in town know the schedule of dewey Reynolds' cigar smokes. Well, it's pretty nice to have a friend, and so far we've been fortunate in continuing our smoking habit. Well, at any rate we'll continue to enjoy the splendid radio programs the manufactory still give us!

LETTERS FROM OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

The following is a letter received by Joe Fox, from his brother Richard, who has been on active P-T boat duty with the invasion of the Philippines. He took part in three major battles and is at present enjoying a rest period.

Dear Joe: A few more lines coming your way to let you know I'm still think of you folks. I'm fine, all but for missing you kids. Sure do long for home some time. Don't know how I've ever stood it to far. Bet you would like to see me coming up the walk just about now. Don't mind the mistakes as my typewriter does a little jumping around on the boat.

Oh for the good old days we had before the war. But I'm glad I'm able to help bring it to an end by doing what little I have done so far. If you go to the movies keep looking for some P-Ts in the news reel. Look for my boat if you see any. They took some pictures of us while we were in action. Boy, you can't realize how it feels to see them coming your way. I had a little experience one night. I'd like to tell you about when another boy and I shot down a Jap plane by ourselves. They said I was the one who hit it. They try to play all kinds of tricks on us. Do they ever get surprised!

I have made a higher rating now to QM-3C. Waited a long time for it. To think that during the season is about over and I used my shells on these "little things" out here. I would rather be shooting skunks, and have shot a lot already. I'm glad to be grand to see Kenneth again.

How is Plymouth high doing in basketball this year? Have to close now. Your loving brother, Rich.

Leoland Predmore Thankful For Gifts
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Predmore of Plymouth Rural, have received the following letter from their nephew, Pfc. Leoland Predmore, who is in the Philippines:
Dear Aunt, Uncle and All:

Just a few lines to let you know I'm OK, and I hope these few "turkey tracks" find all of you folks the same.

I received your Christmas package and was very pleased. I wish to thank you for it and the thought behind it.

Please excuse the fact that I am writing V-mail. I have received eleven packages and sixteen Christmas cards the past few days and I am trying to catch up and will write you a longer letter later on.

I have had a pretty nice Christmas season considering the fact that I am so far from home. Well, I am about out of space so will sign off by saying thanks again. Love—Lee.

Natives of Philippines Make Good Citizens
S-Sgt. Robert MacMichael who is now stationed in the Philippines writes an interesting letter about the natives to his wife, Mrs. Mildred Woodworth MacMichael. Excerpts from his letters are as follows:

"These Filipinos are very nice people. Although most of them speak Spanish dialect, a very large number of them speak English and I mean good English. They are very polite and are a very happy people except in Jap occupied territories. They hate the Japs so fanatically that they never leave a Jap alive. Their money is in denominations the same as ours. They use Spanish names. For instance, centavos—pennies, and Pesos—dollars. Then the other denominations are the same—one, five, ten, twenty-five and fifty centavos. The same denomination is worth one-half of ours.

Their school system is the same as ours and they are a very clean and industrious people. They love their freedom and independence the same as we do and are really fighting for it. There are some 16,000,000 Filipinos here.

"I am enclosing two bills in Philippine money issued by the Japs. They make good souvenirs but are worthless now except in Jap occupied zones.

"The Filipinos have really had it rotten under the Japs and every time I think back on how much robbing I did about the army, I feel very much ashamed. The Japs confiscated every American and Australian made piece of clothing and equipment and destroyed it. Since that time all the clothing most of them have is made from all sorts of rags and cloth bags and the like. But they make clothes of them and do not just cut sleeve holes and neck holes. Their clothes are patterned after ours as they were before the war. They are very neat and very clean. "The women come around and ask for dirty laundry which they do for mattress covers, shirts, trousers for money, but they prefer clothes.

"The men and boys ask to work for houseboy and will be for the same as the women. Jack and I have a boy and his sister who does our laundry. So far it has cost but very little.

"It is about 23 hours difference in time. We heard direct a New Year's day football game on the 2nd of January here. So we are ahead of you almost a full day.

NEWS ABOUT OUR BOYS

Receives Commendation
The following is a commendation received by Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Fox, from their son, Pfc. Kenneth Fox of the 603 QMC, located in Belgium, who went in with an airborne division on D-Day.

To The Commanding Officer, 603 QMC (G.R.)
"A specially difficult operation involving as it did, a landing on hostile shore, the establishment of a bridgehead, the break thru of the enemy position guarding the area and the exploitation of that breakthrough on a broad front. These varied and widespread operations could not possibly have been completed successfully in the short period of three weeks if the Commander had not had the complete cooperation of all units involved. The speed and efficiency exercised by the 603 QM Co. is due to you and to each member of your command my deep appreciation for the fine work you have given me during the campaign. I have seen your crews working day and night under all conditions of weather. The importance of your duties cannot be over estimated and I want each man to know that as your Commander I am aware of the difficulties of your tasks."

This outstanding success is a tribute to your leadership and that of your subordinate officers and noncom officers as well as to the personal courage and faithfulness of every man in your company. I have great confidence that your company will continue to meet every demand put upon it in the operations that still lie ahead of us.

Only One Double Holiday In 1945

The work-a-day world will enjoy no double holidays this year except Labor Day, oh, Labor Day, which always comes on Monday, Decoration Day and the Fourth of July fall on Wednesday during 1945, making a nice break in the middle of the week.

Much controversy goes back and forth each year on the proper date for Thanksgiving. According to a resolution adopted Dec. 28, 1941, the fourth Thursday of November will be known as Thanksgiving Day. Therefore, this year Americans will celebrate on Nov. 22, which is not the last Thursday in the month.

April Fool's day, which is always that of month, gives way this year to one of the most sacred observances—a second only to Christmas, and that is Easter. Mother's day will be May 13, while poor father has his day, or shoddy, on June 17. Christmas and New Year's bow themselves in on Tuesday.

Holidays which never change their dates are Lincoln's birthday on Feb. 12, Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, Armistice Day, Nov. 11; St. Patrick's Day, March 17; Halloween will be on October 31. That settles the issue for 1945.

PLYMOUTH LOSES TO LEXINGTON

The local high school five definitely had an off night last Friday at Lexington. Unable to hit the basket with any degree of regularity, losing the ball frequently, and becoming careless on defense, Plymouth was never in the game after the first quarter.

Hampton, usually reliable on defense and offense went out on fouls in the second quarter. Plymouth seemed to have an epidemic of fouling as nineteen were called against them, and the Minute Men really made good use of their free throws as they dropped in fourteen.

During the first half it seemed that the local lads couldn't do anything right, and thus Lexington working smartly and taking advantage of the Pilgrims' mistakes, quickly went into the lead which they never relinquished. The only basket, aside from four foul shots Pilgrims made in the first quarter was a field goal by Scott. The second quarter was almost a repetition of the first so as the half ended the local five were on the short of the score 27-8.

In the second half Plymouth came to life for a while as they quickly made two field goals and a foul shot. Their game continued to improve, but it was too late to overcome the large lead piled up by the Minute Men in the first half. The final score was 39-19.

The Plymouth reserves lost a close one in the last minute, 15-13, after holding a three point lead at the half. The Pilgrims had control of the ball throughout most of their game, but had tough luck on the shot/as time and time again the ball started to go through the hoop only to come bouncing out. The reserves played an excellent defensive game.

Meet Butler Friday

Friday night Plymouth meets the sharp-shooting undefeated Butler Bulldogs on the local floor. Butler is not only leading the county league, but also is the big favorite to win the county tournament. It is reported the team averages six feet in height.

Next Tuesday night, Feb. 13th, Plymouth will play host to the strong Lucas Cubs. This game will be extremely important as Plymouth drew Lucas for the first game in the county tournament.

World Day of Prayer On Friday, Feb. 16th

For over half a century Christian people have been meeting on the first Friday of Lent for prayer. This World Day of Prayer originated in 1887 when Presbyterian women met to pray for national missions. It is now an interdenominational movement and includes 51 countries and last year 10,000 communities of which Miss Margaret Applegarth is chairman. The offering of the churches on this day is used to aid certain colleges; to meet emergencies in war-torn areas; to provide Christian literature. The chairman of the local committee is Mrs. Harry Dick and the service is scheduled for the Presbyterian church at 8 p. m., Friday, Feb. 16. Everyone is invited.

Ration Board News

The Huron county ration board is continuing its survey of prices in Huron county. The price panel will continue its survey of food prices for one more week in February. The balance of the month will be used to make a survey of prices in workers' clothing, fountain pens and pencils, rayon hose, and dry cleaning establishments.

All cigarette retailers are reminded to post their ceiling prices.

The purpose of price surveys is to protect the public. The general public wants price control and believes in the rationing of scarce commodities so that everyone can get a fair share. The public can make or break price control by either supporting or not supporting the price panels of their local ration board.

Cancer Can Be Cured

Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed as chairman of the American Cancer Society's newly created executive council. According to Miss Bell Greve, state commander, Mr. Johnston will also serve as national campaign chairman for the society's April fund drive.

In his first message to the field army Mr. Johnston declared: "I have every confidence that the American people will do all in their power to conquer cancer. Medical men believe that the cancer death rate (now 165,000 per year) can be cut one third to one half through widespread public education to use the medical facilities and knowledge we now have. With adequate funds for research, cancer might be made a minor cause of death."

$268,626 PAID

Collection of Richland county real estate taxes for the first half of 1944 Saturday totaled $268,626 as County Treasurer Charles C. Payne predicted that about $600,000 more on the entire charge of $1,520,241 would be paid by the Feb. 20 deadline.

Collectors have been relatively good to date, but taxpayers should make their payments as early as possible to avoid congestion in the office," he said.

After the Feb. 20 deadline, delinquents will begin paying penalties ranging to a maximum of ten per cent, he said. The total charge of $1,520,241 consists of $1,441,635 on the current list and $78,606 in delinquent accounts.

ACTIVE PARTICIPATION

The word "democracy" is used so often that to many people it has become almost meaningless. But it is not the definition of democracy that is significant.

So many people who complain of not knowing what is going on in Washington don't try to find out. They make a lukewarm effort to understand the various bills under consideration and then give up saying: "What I think wouldn't bear weight anyway."

No matter what one's conception of democracy may be, one thing is sure: it is based on the foundation that the individual is important and should have a right to express an opinion in matters of government.

DOG LICENSES

WE NEVER could quite see why a dog should be subject to capital punishment for not wearing a license. But in thousands of towns it is common practice to take an unlicensed dog to the pound and execute him if his owner doesn't inter.

Much better, we think, is a plan recently suggested for licensing dog owners rather than the dogs themselves. And, instead of merely making a license available to anyone who wants one, it might be humane to issue them only to those people who could prove that they could provide a comfortable home for a dog.

It is our opinion that many dogs are better citizens than their masters. We would like to see a turnabout of dog and man's legal relationship whereby the owner would be the responsible party and the dog's sole concern would be over wearing his master's license plate.

CONSERVATION OF ENERGY ESSENTIAL

IF YOU are one of those who put a job off till the last minute—well, then you are in good company. Homer Croy, writer, tells me that Will Rogers did that. As an example, he had to file his newspaper comment by two o'clock each day; but he always waited till the last possible moment to bang it off on his old portable.

He had an energy-saving secret that was invaluable to him. When he worked, he worked; when he rested, he rested all over. As when he was not working, he was resting. Right there is a most valuable secret. If you are driven to the full of your energies, then rest every possible moment. Relax fully, completely.

He could fall asleep anywhere, at almost any time. He would even fall asleep reading a newspaper—then wake up refreshed. This ability to doze off to sleep for five minutes, even one minute, was one of the secrets of his amazing energy.

Here is another example of men who have to do long and sustained jobs and must conserve their energy. During the First World War Eddie Rickenbacker was, for a while, chauffeur to General Pershing. Naturally General Pershing was working to the full of his powers. So when he was being driven from one place to another on the line, he would lean back in the car, in the rear seat, fold his arms and go to sleep. Winston Churchill conserves his energy by going to bed in the afternoon.

IMPROVES OFFICE

The business office at the Plymouth Elevator has been renovated, and additional facilities added that will be of benefit to the public as well as the management.

A partition has been built across the entire office, which affords an enclosure for desks, tables, files, etc., making it easier to handle the office.

Ed George Rogers of Mansfield, owner of the local elevator, has in town several days last week supervising the re-arrangement.

10,000 More Nurses Needed To Care for Stricken Veterans

By Maj. North Callahan

When men are in pain, they call upon women to help. It has been that way since the beginning of time. Today the world is in pain and, as always, women are being called upon to care for the men who are hurt in body and spirit.

The nurse is especially being appealed to, because she combines knowledge and skill with devotion and tenderness. Hers is a methodical mission of mercy. Never before has she been so needed as she is today by the U. S. Army.

It is true that our army is giving the best care. Out of every 100 wounded in our military hospitals, 97 recover. This is a remarkable record. No other war has ever experienced such results as this miracle of modern medicine. But every day in our newspaper you see the long lines of increasing battle casualties.

Over 32,000 last month. Does any intelligent person think for one minute that as many as two divisions of men can be casually added to the working load of our doctors and nurses every four weeks, and not evince a call for help?

Although registered nurses are the most urgently needed women for our army, other women can help. Not every nurse is eligible for military service. Some are past the age limit, and while they may conscientiously feel that they can do as much as young women, experience has shown the heads of military hospitals that the older nurses women below the age of 45 to withstand the rigors of combat duty are a mix of strange when it is considered that the men particularly desired by the army for constant duty are the young men of years of age. However, these older women can be of great help. They can help. Not every nurse is eligible for military service. SHILOH NEWS

SOLDIER NEWS

At the Sunday morning service at Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Rev. Henry E. Boehm read letters from Col. John P. Kaylor in the Philippines. It was written on Jan. 25 and reached the pastor Feb. 3.

Dear Friends: Your Xmas box arrived yesterday. I want to thank you for the very fine present, and all of the thought and care that went into its preparation. I think your selection of the contents was most appropriate.

Our Christmas has been a little late out here, as far as packages are concerned. A great many of them are beginning to arrive now. On Xmas eve the lightning bugs on the palm trees created some resemblance to an Xmas tree, at least we liked to think so. Thank you again for your remembrance. I hope and pray that before another Xmas this business will be cleaned up.

Sincerely,

John P. Kaylor
Col. Kaylor will be right at home in the Philippines, as he served his country there for two years, several years ago. He is with the Eighth Army on the staff of Gen. Eichelberger.

Cousins Meet On Island

Harold Russell's boat stopped near the shore of Leyte Island and the boys were given a few hours leave.

Harold was one of the first to reach the sand, and he thumbed a truck driver and climbed in a truck. Harold had a happy surprise for it was none other than Cpl. John B. Bash of this place. Harold knew his cousin, Dean Dawson was on the island, and of course he knew his battalion, and he wanted to see Dean. It was a strange coincidence, but John knew right where Dean was located, and drove two miles to let Harold out to greet Dean. Harold says Dean has the best lungs in that battalion. He knows by the shouts Dean emitted when he first saw Harold. The boys visited for two hours and then Harold had to hurry back to his boat as his time was limited.

John Bash and Dean are in the same battalion. Harold took Dean to Mansfield two years ago when Dean left for his first meeting with the two boys. Harold hopes to have a visit soon with Donald Dawson, Elsworth Daup and Joe Wittlich.

A New Butterfly Comes to Life

WICHITA, KANSAS — Airwise residents during the past few months have been startled at the sight of a queer-looking airplane with a tail that resembles the half-opened wings of a butterfly. It flies without either horizontal or vertical tail surfaces and has a V tail with only two elements and so was nicknamed "Butterfly" tail. The unique design originated at the Beech Aircraft Corporation and their purpose in building this experimental unit is to investigate the possibilities of simplified structure, elimination or reduction of compressibility effects at high speeds, simplified controls, and the effect on control, stability and handling case what may be offered by such a radical departure from conventional construction. The airplane is a modified AT-10 Beechcraft plywood transitional trainer, which has been converted to a flying test unit for various advanced ideas. Test pilots state that the "Butterfly" tail renders excellent control and stability characteristics at all speeds.

RATION FREE SHOE SALE IS COMING UP

Limited quantities of men's and women's shoes may be sold to consumers ration-free at specified price reductions during the two weeks period of February 19 through March 3, OPA announces. Two-fold purpose of the temporary ration holiday, OPA states, is to give consumers the benefit of extra shoe mileage that otherwise might remain unused on dealers' shelves, and to help dealers clear their stocks of the normal accumulation of odds & ends and broken sizes. Before rationing, such shoes were customarily disposed of in seasonal clearance sales. OPA estimates that about 4,500,000 pairs of shoes will be sold in this special ration-free sale.

SHELBY SOLDIER

hours later saw a German troop train plunge a thousand feet below into the bottom of a chasm. There is no joking about the nerve of the guerrilla bands, stated Burling. "The guerrillas are big, tall and strong. They wear long beards and mustaches. When we first contacted them, I was misled by one, and what a thrill. These men, who are very friendly, remind me of our early American bandits, as pictured by our historians of the gold rush days. . . rough, ready and able to do any job against the enemy. The families of the guerrillas reside in the hills, and seldom are they molested by the Germans, who have found it a very safe practice of staying close to the highways.

"One day when the Germans were on the march over the territory, we attended a dance put on by the natives to celebrate the occasion of the Germans leaving. It was the most colorful and happiest sight I have ever witnessed, and one I'll remember for a long, long time. All the people in Yugoslavia wear wooden-soled shoes and when they started to dance, it was perfect rhythm. A guitar and mouth organ supplied the music for the event. Gorgeous and colorful costumes, worn by the men and women, added to the atmosphere and spirit of the occasion. The guerrillas like their drink, "Mountain Rocky," which is an almost pure white concoction like water, but you've never tasted anything like it in your life. The men folk had to drink a toast to King Peter, then to Churchill, Roosevelt, Stalin, and to each of us — they like the Americans and, it seemed to me we were drinking toasts the entire day. The guerrillas are very religious and before each toast was drunk, they would cross themselves.

"After seventeen days with the guerrilla bands in Yugoslavia, our group reached Bulgaria, allies on Nov. 24. Here our boys received when we made our dash for freedom, were treated and later we were taken to Sofia.

"In this big and beautiful city of the Balkans we were to spend our Christmas, and through special arrangements, we were royally entertained with a special Christmas party at the Hotel Bavaria in Sofia. The plans for the party were supervised by our American Mission in that city. Ordinarily, the Bulgars celebrate their Christmas on January 7th, the real coming of St. Nicholas, but for our benefit they staged a real old-fashioned Christmas party for us, and one which we all enjoyed.

"On Christmas Day we boarded our plane that flew us back to our Italian base, where we were issued new uniforms and equipment. On January 16 we took a boat bound for the United States, arriving in New York, Jan. 25th. In the few short months I have been overseas and the situations encountered with our allies and the operations against the enemy, I can truthfully say that I'm really proud that I am an American."

Sgt. Burling was in Plymouth a few days visiting with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter White, and called on a number of friends while here. He has two brothers in the service. He will leave Feb. 18 for Miami, Fla.
