

PURPLE HEART RECEIVED BY FORD FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman R. Ford have awarded the Purple Heart, received their son, Ray, posthumously, whose supreme sacrifice for his country was made last October.

Letters received from his battery commander and chaplain are a source of comfort to the family in knowing the facts. Quoting from his friendly commander's letter, he states: "I wish to offer my condolences, and those of all the men in the battery. He will be missed by all of us as he was a good friend, a willing worker, and above all, a good soldier."

"Ray's wounds came from Japanese mortar fire which hit our ship as we were unloading equipment on the beach near Dugout the second day of the Philippine invasion, Oct. 21, 1944. He received shrapnel from a burst and was rendered unconscious immediately. He suffered no pain. His remains are buried in the U. S. cemetery No. 1 on the island of Leyte, P. I.

"I realize the sorrow that the loss of your son has brought to you. It is of some comfort to know that his death was for a cause for which we are all fighting, to free the world of the persons responsible," the Japanese.

In the chaplain's letter, he speaks highly of Ray and writes: "Thurman Ray was not only a true soldier of the Army of the United States but also a true follower of the cross. His presence at religious services was an inspiration to me, and I trust a blessing to him. Christ said the greatest thing in life was love, and that greater love hath no man than a man who giveth his life for his friends."

The sacrifice that Thurman Ray made was truly a payment on the security of peace on earth and good will toward men. The full military honors with which he was to be treated with his comrades, is the government's respect for their brave."

DIES AT 76 YEARS

FORMER RESIDENT DIES AT ROME, SERVICES ARE INCOMPLETE

Johan Olaf Greenburg, 76, passed away Monday morning at the Ochs-Krause home in Rome following lingering illness.

The deceased was a native of Norway, and a retired sea captain. He came to Plymouth from Florida about five years ago and was now residing in the home of Mrs. Gertrude Schaffer Kirkpatrick. About a year ago he went to Rome to make his home. Funeral rites are incomplete but will be in charge of the R. E. McQuate funeral home.

JACK WINE DIES

JACK WINE PASSES AWAY AT WILLARD; BURIAL TO BE AT PLYMOUTH

Ulyses S. Wine, better known in Plymouth as Jack Wine, passed away Tuesday evening at 10:45 at the Willard Municipal hospital. Mr. Wine suffered a fractured hip when he accidentally fell on January 25th and never recovered from the effects. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wine and was born Jan. 29, 1869 in Crawford county on the former Henry Bland farm, now occupied by the Lewis Lynch family.

His boyhood days were spent in this vicinity and later moved to Willard where he was employed as a brakeman on the B. & O., from which he was soon promoted to conductor.

He has no immediate family; one brother, Boyd Wine, and a son, Lawrence Crynes Wine, both preceding him in death. Local co-survivors are Frank Davis, of Garrett and Mrs. Mary J. Sisinger.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon at the funeral home in Willard. Interment will be made in Greenlawn cemetery, Plymouth.

DRIVE FOR RED CROSS NOW ON

Keep your Red Cross at his side! Never so more important than today. Long after swords have been beaten into plow shares the Red Cross will have much to do.

Even after the last gun has been fired a month will pass before all our fighting men are home. Some will be confined in hospitals for long periods of recovery. Traditional Red Cross service for these men who have sacrificed so much must continue unabated. It is a sacred obligation delegated to your Red Cross.

No less sacred is the obligation to stand by with all necessary aid to veterans of this war, now being returned to civil life, adjust themselves to new conditions, prepare to take their rightful places in field and factory.

The welfare of the families of our men in uniform, their wives and children, their aged parents, must be guarded to see they do not suffer want in these trying times.

The refugees and waifs of war need help—help such as only the Red Cross is prepared to give in a war-scarred world.

These essential and humanitarian services which at home have characterized the Red Cross through the years must be continued: disaster relief, home nursing instruction, nurses' aide training, the many volunteer services, and other activities.

Though the roar of guns may cease, human needs remain. The Red Cross can meet these only with your continued generous support. The Plymouth designated March as Red Cross Month, the period in which the 1945 Red Cross War Fund will be raised. Red Cross activities are financed solely from voluntary contributions and gifts. We all must do our part. It begins today—Do your part.

GRADE CARDS HANDED OUT

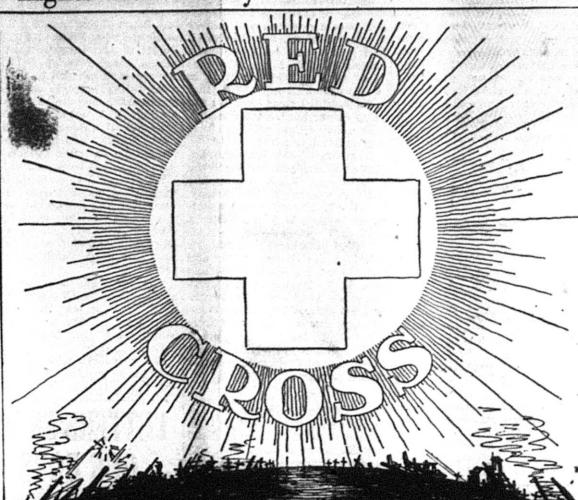

Grade cards were distributed yesterday, the 28th, at the local schools for the first time in nine weeks. Ordinarily cards cover a six-weeks' period but weather conditions were such that it was impossible to get grades on the irregular attendance at the time they were due.

Friday, failure notices to parents were mailed out. Parents were notified if their child or children failed to pass in any subject.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTICE

Memorial services will be held at the Lutheran Church, Sunday, March 4, at 11:00 o'clock for Sgt. Elwood Kuhn. All Legionnaires, ex-service men, and service men home on furloughs are cordially invited to attend this service. C. B. Caldwell, Commander.

PARENTS-SCHOOL FACULTY TO HOLD OPEN DISCUSSIONS HERE

On Friday, March 9th at 8:00 p. m., there will be a meeting in the high school auditorium for all patrons and parents of the children of Plymouth schools. There will be no program, and no entertainment is scheduled.

The purpose of this meeting is to acquaint the community with the various activities and events of the year and to welcome any suggestions or criticisms anyone cares to offer. All members of the faculty and school board will be present to take part in this discussion which may arise. This meeting is for parents and patrons only.

AUTO LICENSES NOW ON SALE

DAVID BACHRACH APPOINTED DEPUTY REGISTRAR FOR PLYMOUTH

The 1945 automobile license tags go on sale today, Thursday, March 1, and can be obtained at the Bachrach Seed Co., from Deputy Registrar David Bachrach. Mr. Bachrach succeeded Clarence Ervin with the change in administration.

Supplies have been received and Mr. Bachrach will serve the entire town, both Richland and Huron county sides. He will be assisted by his sister, Mrs. Jane Hughes and hours will be daily from 1 to 5 p. m. with the exception of the last two weeks when the office will be open every evening for convenience. Applicants must bring with them their Certificate of Title or Bill of Sale. The Registered Certificate will not be necessary unless a transfer is being made.

Those desiring to purchase tags for men in service should consult Mr. Bachrach personally and all data can be obtained regarding a transaction of this nature.

Over-the-counter service for No. 1 trailer plates up to and including those weighing 1049 lbs. can be obtained upon application. This is a new service here, applicants formerly obtaining them in Mansfield. Applications for trucks and larger trailers will be sent direct to Columbus.

The 1945 plates must be on vehicles by midnight of March 31 if owners expect to operate them. There will be no extension of time.

TO ABOLISH FEE

The 25-cent fee now charged by county recorders for recording the discharges of soldiers would be abolished under legislation proposed in the Ohio legislature.

PLYMOUTH FIVE LOSE TO LUCAS AT TOURNEY

For three quarters last Wednesday night, Plymouth could probably have beaten any team in the tournament. Their passing was excellent, they were making baskets by working the ball very smoothly through their opponent's defenses, they were getting most of the rebounds off the backboard, and their strong defense made Lucas take nothing but long shots. In fact, Plymouth couldn't seem to do anything wrong.

The last quarter, however, is another story, for Plymouth could not seem to do anything right. Fumbling the ball repeatedly, scoring only three points, failing to get the rebounds time after time, and above all their defense fell completely apart. As a result Lucas had everything their own way, scoring 23 points and walking away with the game.

There was no question about it that Plymouth was so completely tired out in the last quarter that they couldn't begin to stop their opponents. It was very evident that several of the boys were not in condition to go four hard and fast quarters on a large floor.

Taking no credit away from Lucas, however, they did have a fast breaking and smooth-working team. They were in fact one of the favorites to win the tournament, but lost to Butler in the semi-finals.

Although the varsity basketball season has closed, as far as Plymouth is concerned, an inter-class tournament among the four upper grades has started. Instead of an elimination this is a round-robin tournament with each class playing the other at least once. If a tie results in the games won and lost at the end of the tournament a play-off will be held.

Last Tuesday afternoon the Juniors, mainly due to their experience and height, had little trouble in disposing the Freshmen 44-18.

The Sophomore-Senior game was entirely different. The Seniors led throughout most of the game, but when Sophomore Aljen Kirkpatrick found the bucket for three field goals in the last half they proved to be the difference between victory and defeat. The Sophomore 21-17 victory was even more surprising due to the fact that the Seniors had three varsity men on their team as compared to only Hampton for the Sophomores.

Today the Freshmen play the Seniors while the Sophomores tackle the Juniors.

TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY, MAR. 11

Rev. James Laupmanis

The Methodists and Presbyterians are uniting in service Sunday evening, March 11 in the Presbyterian church. We are fortunate in securing as speaker of the evening a man who was born in Latvia, spent four years as a Communist Youth Leader, and is now a Christian minister.

Rev. James Laupmanis has traveled widely, spoken in many large churches and comes highly recommended. The only expense is a free will offering. The public is invited to attend this service and listen to a man who knows the situation in Soviet Russia.

PROPERTIES CHANGE HANDS

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Blackford have purchased the H. F. Root property on Birtfield avenue and will take possession at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Steele have purchased the Blackford property on Birtfield avenue. They now reside in the Price residence on Plymouth street.

RESIDES HERE

Mr. Allen Norris, Jr., of Norwalk, has taken furnished room at the Tourist Inn and is now employed at the Shelby Salesbook Company.

OFF FROM DUTY

E. J. Walters, postman, was off duty the first of the week, and Dan Franklin substituted for him as carrier.

(By Phineas Whittlesed)

MEMORIAL SERVICES will be held Sunday morning at the Lutheran church for Sgt. Elwood Kuhn, who died in battle on Feb. 2. The local American Legion Post will participate in the services with their presence, and friends are invited.

THE THREE SISTERS should be a happy combination in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Waltz of LeRoy. The third baby girl was born Tuesday, Feb. 20 at Medina hospital and has been named Nancy Rae. Mrs. Waltz will be remembered as Mary Louise Miller.

LEAVING Plymouth January 28, Jake Myers returned home on last Thursday evening with a real tan. Jake went out to Tucson, Ariz., to spend two weeks with Mrs. Myers, who had been there for her health, but the weather was so nice and the people so good until Arthur stayed an LITTLE did he know that when he began inquiry of a relative that he was going to discover Harold Smith, well-known band leader, and former Willard boy, playing at the swankiest hotel in Tucson. Well, Harold was mighty glad to see Arthur, and it was a real thrill to have Harold spend his time between intermission at the Myers' table.

JAKE visited the city market in Mexico, and he hasn't words to describe such a dirty place. He also saw 26 pairs of nylon hose come into this country... a tree make a grapefruit, orange and lemon bearing on the same tree. Well, after hearing Jake tell of his trip it makes me want to go west, but I've a newspaper and Jake has a leather shop!

WHILE in Tucson he reported spending some time with Harry Donovan, a former Plymouth resident who was here last year. The Donovan's were royal hosts, and Mr. Donovan is getting along as well as can be expected. Jake saw a lot of country and lived in the sunshine for three full weeks.

AN OLE APPENDIX proved so tough for Doria Dean Gullet that she was forced to remain from school and her work at the Hitching Post for over a week. She's back on the class roll now, but she was feeling very badly for a while.

BRIEF DETAILS OF LT. McQUOWN

In a letter to Mrs. Nelson McQuown of Willard, Lt. Nelson McQuown's commanding officer of the 15th air force, revealed that Lt. McQuown had flown a mission over Austria and in returning, he had radioed his flight leader that he was having trouble with his plane and was going to drop out of formation and try to make a landing on the Italian mainland.

Lt. McQuown's flight leader sent him a message trying to make a landing on an Allied field which was nearby, as the formation at that time was over Yugoslavia. McQuown replied that he would follow his first intentions of trying to land on the Italian mainland, but this was impossible. When McQuown's plane was last seen it was flying normally.

The commanding officer stated in his letter that the entire crew was still missing at the time he wrote the letter. However, there is a feeling that the men landed safely and that it will be some time before reports come in on them.

Lt. McQuown was reported as missing on January 31, and word was received by his wife two weeks ago.

Mrs. McQuown, with her four-month-old son, resides in Willard.

44th Infantry Receives Citation
Pfc. Halton Cheeman, member of the Headquarters 44th Infantry Division, Seventh Army, received the following citation for the individual and collective gallantry of their division from the office of the commanding general of the sixth army group.

"Since the night of 31 December, 1944, the 44th Infantry Division has achieved new successes. Receiving the initial impetus of the main enemy attack on the evening of January 2, you maintained the integrity of your defense in the face of continued and repeated attacks by the German 17th SS Panzer Grenadier Division, supported by strong elements of two Infantry Divisions.

The stubborn resistance of your Infantry elements, supported by artillery action, the devastating power and accuracy of which was unsurpassed, is outstanding. You repulsed, with exceedingly heavy losses to the enemy, several strong attacks on January 1, and numerous other attacks and continuous aggressive action since that date. The collective gallantry and superb fighting qualities of the 44th Division compelled the enemy to shift his main forces to another area. I congratulate every member of the Division and its supporting units for these courageous and successful actions."

All With Pneumonia

Major J. H. Parsell, better known as Kinky Parsell in Plymouth, has been being a pretty bad attack of pneumonia at a hospital in Paris, France. Mr. Ben Parsell of the Bucyrus road received word Monday in which she states "I am still in the hospital sitting propped up in bed and making my first attempt at writing. I am not making a very good job of it because I get too tired to write. I realize pneumonia could take so much out of you, it leaves you as weak as a kitten."

Referring to her rank as Major, she also states the best present she all could get would be for this whole horrible mess to be over, so we could all go home. War is a dreadful thing and I have seen things I will never forget.

"We have had so much snow and ice here which makes it awfully hard on our boys in the front lines. I feel sorry for the people here too, because they have no heat."

Major Parsell's address can be obtained at the Advertiser if anyone wishes to drop her a line.

LETTERS FROM OUR BOYS

Pfc. Edw. A. Brown, "somewhere in France" writes his mother, Mrs. E. A. Brown, who with her husband make their home with Mrs. Mabel McFadden, who the average G. I. boy wants to return to after the war.

He is especially interested in the work of the Blue Star Mothers and as Mrs. Brown was instrumental in organizing the local branch, the letter pertaining to data which will be valuable to members and prospective members.

The letter follows:

Dear Mom:
You and the other soldiers' mothers back home, I'd like to write a letter to them, you can read it to them or tell them verbally. It is just an idea of what I as one G. I. would like the Blue Star Mothers to do, while we are doing our job here.

We are just a bit busy around here now, so you will have to pinch hit at home for us, but we will run the bases.

Here is the score, first of all we must see there is legislation in our country to provide for a decent, permanent peace for the whole world. We are going to have to police up Europe after the war, there will have to be a permanent army of occupation to see that no country can arm, surreptitiously, and invade or start another war.

That doesn't mean the men at present in Europe should remain there, but the U. S. will have to help maintain the peace of Europe. The second point of consideration is the disposition of the returning soldier, we don't expect miracles or super-human efforts, but we expect a chance to become useful citizens in a progressive society, given such chance we will make our own way, and pull our share of the load.

It is up to you people at home to see that we are given that chance.

Thirdly, we don't want or expect honor or acclaim for the job we are doing, if recognition comes let it be in some concrete form such as a chance for education etc, monuments and medals are O. K. for some, but the average serviceman wants to be able to return to a fine country and live and love and laugh in a manner of his own choosing. According to army rumor we of the E.T.C. are (deleted) (the deleted) when we finish here, it isn't pleasant thought but war isn't pleasant. We'd do our share there as well as we've done it here.

The whole mess will be over soon and Johnny will come home. If we've got a big job but I know you can handle it and will.

We boys have depended on mothers time and time again and we were never disappointed and we know we can count on you again.

Well now, there is my plea in a nutshell, do with it as you please.

You know I can't tell you where I am or what I'm doing, but I'll see you, I'll see you in France and expect to see Germany.

I wouldn't recommend this trip for anyone with a weak heart. So, K. 1st Reg.

There isn't anything to fret about, I'm in God's hands, if He decides to carry me through safely, all the bullets in the world can't harm me, if it is to be the other way then it shall be, I went to church today and asked Him for guidance and protection, I'm not a fatalist but what is to be will be.

So Mrs. B. when the war is over I'll be home. Keep the coffee pot filled and the jelly ready.

Love as ever,
Bud

Hops It's A Mistake

Edward Crox, writing from "somewhere in France" to Richard Lowry, his cousin, states he is "sitting in one of the bedrooms of what used to be a very beautiful chateau. We have a fireplace in the room which we use to keep the room warm and to do our cooking on."

"I had a very nice ride except for the second day out when my stomach started to do flip-flops. It didn't take long to get over it and I really enjoyed myself for the rest of the trip. We pulled into a port that had been bombed flat. If there were any people in the town at the time, I don't see how anyone could have gotten out with a whole skin. I'm certainly glad that none of that is happening in the good old U.S.A."

"I was certainly sorry to hear about Willard Ross being missing in action. I was looking forward to looking him up if I ever got the chance. I sure hope someone has made a mistake."

"We have several swell villages around here and they are very interesting towns. I can't understand French yet, but I'm studying very hard to try to learn it. Someday I hope to understand them. That's about all for this time.

Edward

Edward is also the grandson of Ben Parsell of the Bucyrus road.

Will I Get Telephone Service the Day After V-Day?

We'd like to say yes, but time will be needed to recover plants to civilian production. Only a limited amount of telephone equipment has been manufactured for civilian use during the last three years; and very little suitable for home use can be turned back by the Armed Forces.

We know how important your telephone is to you... and we will do everything humanly possible to quickly serve you in your proper turn.

BOOK REVIEW

For those who enjoy Inglis Fletcher's novels of the North Carolina coast, "Lusty Wind from Carolina" offers a colorful plot, complete with pirates, and accurate details of that colonial period. A drama of the fight for freedom both on the high seas and the coast of the New World. Against this brilliant background the fascinating characters spring to tumultuous life — bold Captain Woodes Rogers, seductively beautiful Anne Bonney, proud Gborile Fountaine. Here again we find a rich, full-bodied story that moves with the rush of a ship, its sails filled with a fresh, full wind.

MOVE INTO NEW STORE ON SAT.

A new store opens in Plymouth on Saturday, March 3, when Hatch & West move into their new location next to the telephone building. This firm, operated by Roy Hatch and Glenn West, has been located in the building owned by Ed Curpen, on the southside of the Square.

The new building, purchased three years ago from Chancy Hamilton, has been redecorated inside with ceilings and walls in ivory, trimmed in blue. In the rear of the building a "house effect" has been added and attractively painted. A new front has been constructed of cream face brick, and two well designed show windows with a built-in entrance add much to the exterior of the building. New shelving and wallpaper displays have also been installed.

Hatch & West carry a full line of Sherwin-Williams products, and they also feature Kemtone and Texolite wall paints, varnish and a wide variety of sun-proof wallpapers.

The public is invited to attend the opening of this store Saturday and see the many kinds of paints and papers offered for the Spring season. Mrs. Ed Phillips will be present to assist in selecting the proper color and types of paints and papers.

With the opening of the new Hatch & West store, Plymouth can well be proud of taking another step forward in the march of progress by adding another firm which is looking into the future.

PERMANENT PEACE

IF WE ever hope to achieve permanent peace in this battered world, it's going to take more than world courts, world planning, world conferences, and a world wide police force. All of those things will be a help, but none of them will ever settle the problem unless we can also change the way people think. We must learn, once and for all, that war doesn't settle anything.

If we get angry at the Russians, or the English, or the Germans, or the Chinese, or the Japanese, we mustn't consider the possibility of war as a means of settlement. Similarly, if the people of other nations dislike things we do as a nation, they must avoid sword-rattling. It is only by erasing the thought of war from the minds of mankind that we can be assured of permanent peace.

Nations, in a way, are very much like individuals. But they must learn to act in a more civilized way than do the people within their borders. It's not going to cause any great tragedy if, when a schoolboy becomes angry at another boy, he threatens to give him "a poke in the nose." But as nations we cannot afford to make such threats. Rather than consider doing any physical harm to another nation, the statesmen and people of all countries must think of a world court as their last resort for justice or revenge.

EYESORES

WITH spring lurking around the corner, we think it is a good time to call attention to one of spring's eyesores—the billboards which dot the countryside and attempt to compete with the beauty along our highways.

We believe in all of the beautiful communities of our state should fight to give their roads from the invasion of commercialism. Not only do these signs spoil many a splendid view, but they often prove dangerous to motorists. The few dollars which someone may earn by permitting the erection of a billboard on his property should be willingly sacrificed for the benefit of the state as a whole.

Our large cities are a mass of neon lights and billboards. Let us insist on preserving the beauty and naturalness of the country.

HOW TO GAIN SELF-CONFIDENCE
DR. H. W. CHARTERS, who is connected with Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., has worked out a way by which the girls of that school can gain self-confidence. His method will work not only for college girls, but for anyone who wishes to apply.

First, he says more people are held back by lack of self-confidence than by lack of ability. And that usually lack of self-confidence comes from some youthful failure in something the person has been eager to make a success of.

- 1. The fear of what people will think of you.
2. Fear of what the future holds for you.
3. Fear that if you start something new you will not make a success of it.

One reason you haven't self-confidence is that you may be a perfectionist. That is, you want to have everything done in the very best possible way; when you realize things have not come up to your expectation, then your self-esteem slips.

Dr. Charters also says that people who are lacking in self-confidence are the most apt to succeed—once they have overcome this lack. So remember this, if you do lack self-confidence and are willing to pay the price to overcome it.

Rule 1. Compare yourself to other people. But also realize that they are also probably comparing themselves to those they consider more successful than themselves.
Rule 2. Take the man you admire most, and who seems most superior to you, and draw up a list of things which you do better than he does. You will see that, after all, he is not such a whiz.

Rule 3. Draw up a list of the things you've undertaken in the past and succeeded in doing well. You'll be surprised how many you've undertaken in the past and succeeded in doing well.

Rule 4. When you feel discouraged, and are at your lowest ebb, then look over this list and think of the things you've done well. Make that list a reminder of what you have the possibilities of accomplishing in the future.

Rule 5. Remember that self-confidence comes and goes. That it is not a steady and unflinching mental reaction. In other words you may lack self-confidence today, but tomorrow you may carry your head high and your chin out. Also remember you are more apt to find self-confidence lacking when you are tired—especially at night. The world will not seem so against you in the morning as when you hit the hay at night.

Rule 6. Remember that each time you accomplish a thing you are just that much stronger; that each accomplishment is a step up the ladder.

Rule 7. Remember that most of the worthwhile things in this world have been accomplished by persons who at some time or other have lacked self-confidence.
Follow these seven rules and you'll find your self-confidence mounting, and you'll accomplish things that once seemed impossible.

ON PARK BOARD

Mayor W. W. Wirth has responded Donald Fox to succeed him as a member of the Mary Fark park board. Other members are Ott Kinsell, Floyd Anderson and P. W. Thomas, chosen as chairman at the last meeting of the board.

The board has under advisement several projects for this year, one of which includes the rebuilding of a fence. The board also voted $50 to the Garden club to be used in beautifying the park-ways.

K-RAY EXAMINATION

Mrs. Lucille Trauger entered the Shelby Memorial hospital Friday for an x-ray examination, and released the same day.

Things in Congress

By Cong. W.M. LEMKE

WE LIVE in a land of confusion. The "One Worlders" get a wider shock. Congressman Gallagher, Democrat from Minnesota, made his maiden speech for universal unity—"One World"—one evening, and the next morning took up his Democratic colleague's speech, punched at each other's nose. "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

AS LONG as that fighting instinct is in the human blood, there will be no "One World" of brotherly love. As long as there are "Commies" on one side and the capitalists on the other, there will be no permanent or just peace. Let us take this human family for what it is worth. Let us not again waste our natural resources, and the lives of young men to get out the fires that other nations start.

WE MUST NOT again permit a nation that we've given billions in lend-lease, to give us back $10,000 worth of goods, and chalk us up on their books with $178,000. We will have a lot more to say on this and other truths when this war is over. Just now we will close our eyes to a lot of these things. Let us make every sacrifice, buy more bonds, economize on clothing, food, and fuel, but let us not submit to dictatorship.

IN THE MEANTIME, the big tri-umphant St. Paul Church of the Resurrection—met somewhere in Joe's realms on the Black Sea. Joe is the big boy in the triumphant. He makes the others come to see him. He never goes to see them.

THE WORD "BLACK" may be very appropriate for future historians. There is someone on the Black Sea, nations were dismembered. Our President is said to have prepared the document which gave one-half of Poland, one-third of Finland, and all of the Balkan States to Uncle Joe. Maybe that is all the President could do because Joe had already devoured the Balkan States, and had put one-half of Poland into his pocket, and one-third of Finland into the other.

THEN, sick of the whole deal, Franklin travelled into darkest Africa where he was met by De Gaulle to meet him, but De Gaulle declined. He just did not have time to fool around with one of the triumphant—it was all three with him or none. Anyhow, we are not in good grace with the liberated French or Italians. Santa did not bring them enough presents.

DISGUSTED WITH the whole thing the President journeyed into Egypt, the land of the Pharaohs. There he met with kings, shah and metnols. Some of these had cloths of gold spread before them. They paraded before Franklin D. much like a peacock struts before his lady friend and attempts to overawe her. The shah wisely left his harem of a hundred wives behind. If he had brought them to the conference, there might have been disunity the same as there was in the House the other day.

WHO KNOWS when our traveling President will meet some other unknown tribe—somewhere in darkest Africa—and pledge all our wealth and the lives of all our sons that we will bring to them the defunct "Atlantic Charter" with all its trimmings. These tribes may not be even as civilized related to us, or even as closely related as the shah with his 100 wives. Inarticulate. They paraded before us. We are traveling a dangerous road—not to greatness but to dissemination.

RATION NEWS

Huron county war price and rationing board advise that all gasoline rationations for Huron county are now being issued through a central mailing center. All applications for gasoline rationations will be made by person or mail at the local board. It is advisable that all applicants send their applications to the local board from a recent date, ten days prior to their earliest renewal date.

Application forms for canning sugar will not be available until the 15th of April at which time they will be sent to the public at grocery stores, and the local board office.

Applicants should not rush to the board now, since no fruit is available until the 15th of April. Applications will be issued until a later date.

PLUCKS COCOANUTS & BANANAS IN FLORIDA'S SUN

Editor's Note: We all remember Pat Chappell, don't we? Well, Pat's been hiding out down in Florida, and he had such a good talk on his so-called "education" can't help but reproduce his letter in full. When the state secretary of the Florida Chamber of Commerce reads this letter, no wonder but what Pat will get a place on the payroll. As at any rate you'll find the letter interesting.

Lake Worth, Fla. Feb. 7, 1945
Dear Tommy:
Ole Boy I think of you and a great many other Plymouth citizens often. But thinking is also all I ever get done. You see, Tom, I never had high school, and lack of education keeps me from writing. Proving the ignorance which most Plymouth folk know I possess in abundance.

This brings to my mind on incident which occurred here Monday morning at chapel services at good old P. H. S. I had been sent home about twice that past week for wasting my time drawing pictures. There was a high school prophecy read that Monday which stated that Pat Chappell and his art would some day bring him to a "bad end." That lack of education plus silly art would place Mr. Chappell in the gutter. That was about the words used and everyone got a great kick out of it but a few friends of mine and myself. The odd thing is that I've never mentioned it much but have thought it and haven't forgotten what my end would be. All I can say at present is that I'm glad I kept right on drawing and being sent to the principal's office. The principal has made me a few nickles. I'm still drawing and painting signs, cards and what have you. I'm not the best but a lot better than the average of the other boys in good old P.H.S. Moral—(To teacher and students) Never criticize a fellow for the work he is doing. He may get good at it some day and you'll be glad to help him to keep the wolf from the door. (I moved south to keep that wolf farther from the door.)

To date this sounds more like a lecture than a letter. So will try and tell you some other things now. The first thing I know of is chest. Florida is a great place if you like it. Anyplace is a great place if you like it. People are not so bad as they are in home and say it's a terrible place to be found dead in. They don't and never would like it. This is a very long state, some 400 or 500 miles long. Now then, that is all right as far as from New York to New York City. Yep it's true. Well, if you landed someplace in the mountains among the coal mines of Pennsylvania and you didn't like it. That's what happens when people come to Florida. They stop at Jacksonville, Daytona, Fort Myers, Tampa, St. Pete, or some other northern or western town in the state and they stay there. It's either too hot or too cold or they just don't like it. There are many, many parts of this state I don't like. I wouldn't like it where the rest of the state is at all. Here's the dope Tom. Florida is one Florida starting some ten miles north of West Palm Beach and running to the Keys. This strip is only about three miles wide and it's not very deep. It doesn't include all of Miami. Miami is quite large and can boast two temperatures if they want to at the same hour. The one in East Miami is in the West. East Miami is warm in winter and cooler in the summer than just three miles west. Sounds screwy but it's true. Where Ida is it may freeze but it's not like that at Lake Worth, the bathers will be in the ever warm ocean. No one has ever been to Florida that hasn't been in this district. The rest of the state is just some in southern Georgia so far as mate is concerned. Yes, it snows in Jacksonville sometimes and the cocoonnut palms you find (if you mate them) in any other part of Florida does not bear fruit (I mean cocoonnut). However, you ask Jake Myers or the Lofandis if there are cocoonnuts on the trees here.

Then, too, you have to meet and know people before you can feel at home. No one who is lonesome or don't know their way around. Lot of people don't know that they're more cattle than they do in the winter when the weather is so contrary; it's an old rule that the cattle is no good, new laws and attention to breeding has brought Florida cattle to a high standard.

comes from Florida. We have some very large gardens too. I have seen just west of Lake Worth, more celery in one patch than in the whole state of Plymouth. Yes, and it's good too. It's not a bad place after all if you are acquainted. Ask Brit (known around here as Fuller). He has a lot more to say and would be glad to greet him here in Lake Worth than he has in Plymouth. They miss him and are always asking if I've heard from him. I think Brit likes it here and maybe his wife does, too.

Now then as far as me I still paint signs. Took care of the five theatres in West Palm this summer while their regular art man was on vacation. I designed and painted the signs for the theatres in Lake Worth. There are more names on this board than there are people in Plymouth. I did all the art work for news cuts for the Palm Beach Kennel club for two years but quit that because I didn't care for their new publicity man. Oh yes, he asked me to continue but I liked my old boss too well to quit. Have made several art folders for the theatres that are sent all over the country. I have a water color of General MacArthur hanging in our First National bank that they bought from me. I have a portrait of "Sandy" Ninningger that hangs in the high school library at Fort Lauderdale, bought by the "Key Club" and given to the school. It takes me about two and a half months to make an oil portrait. I can't work on them all of the time or they'd drive me nuts. I just keep on working and I don't have to rush coal or shove it into her, so have some time left. If we don't have food for the table, Donald, now ten, can go down to the lake or over to the ocean, about a mile and catch a fish and make another knock a cocoonnut of one of our own trees and food is served. I've just got to stay here because I never heard of anyone getting fat on snow balls.

It doesn't seem possible that Sid can be so tough in the armed forces. We must be getting old, Tom. Even though we are, we do have something to remember and that is the ride we took to Norway when the plane passed the ocean on the bridge doing 65 miles per hour. I'll never forget that and you had one eye banded too. Boy, oh boy what a ride!

I write so few letters that I don't know what to say or how to say it. You will have to excuse me if I have told you what you aren't interested in. To sum it up, I am alive, working for myself—not much money, family okay, not hungry (with all the cocoonnuts and fish), lazy as heck but not cold. Tires are still on the car but not much gas. Miss the races, but am happy about the whole thing.

Sometimes when you aren't any busier than I am, drop me a line or better still drop in for some cocoonnuts (home-grown) and fish.
Sincerely, your friend,
F. B. (Pat) Chappell

Shiloh School News

Senior News
The Seniors have been planning their commencement which will be held May 18th and also the class trip, but no date has been set for it yet.

Junior News
The date of our class play, "Saved By The Belle," has been set for March 23. Monday night was our first rehearsal. The class has made a big profit on the cake raffles, sandwiches and pop at the basketball games. We want to thank everyone who made this possible.

Basketball News
Last Thursday night Shiloh played Ontario at Mansfield in the Richland county basketball tournament and lost with a score of 43-37.

The Drummer Boys played their best and in the first three quarters gave Ontario a hard game to win. This was the last game for the Senior boys, who are Joe McQuate, Dick Pittenger, Bob Swartz, Wade Kinsel and Bill Nabo. Likewise it was the last game for one of our cheerleaders, Ted Ernst.

Snoope!!!!
Has Bill Nobe been up to see Betty Lee since Sunday night? Isn't Mary the lucky one to have Dick and Howdie both make love to her—in the play of course. It seems like Bill Halliwell is getting in a little earlier at night for some reason.

Isn't that a sharp-looking ring Martha is wearing and isn't Casey mad? Did anyone get a chance to read a letter addressed to Bob Swartz from a certain girl in Columbus? When Joe Whalen comes to Shiloh again will he come to see a Junior or Senior girl? It only takes one guess to know why Betty Jean went to Great Lakes over the week end. Is Virginia on Howdie's flirting list now?

When is Lorna going to break down and be sweet to Ted again? Where does Marshall stand in Frances life? Or does he? Have you noticed Denver hasn't got his ring or pin, but of course we know where they're at. Did you know Naomi went to the city last Wednesday night with Ted?

NEW TENANTS
Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Mitchell of Route 224 will take over the farm of Mrs. J. W. McIntire on the Spring Mill road when the present tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fellows have their public sale.

This Week in WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. (WNWS)—An attempt to bring about an amendment to the Constitution to put a 25 per cent ceiling on federal income taxes has been quietly dropped on during the last two years. Not much attention has been given to it because the action is being taken in the states, rather than in Washington, but it is possible that it may be revived in the near future. This year when practically all of the state legislatures are in session.

There is a provision in the Constitution which has never been used, which requires that a convention be called for the purpose of amending the Constitution if two-thirds of the states request it through their legislatures. So far, no state has ever called for such a convention, but Arkansas, one of the states so petitioned, recently voted to do so.

Although there has been much talk about this proposed amendment, some tax authorities believe it would be unworkable. It is being pushed through. They point out that the state governments favor it because it would limit the amount of funds which could be collected by the federal government and would make it possible for state governments to enact higher taxes. By this action, many of the powers now controlled by the federal government would be forced back to the states.

or should go back to the state and city governments. The state legislatures which already have petitioned for such a constitutional convention are Alabama, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Although the senate military affairs committee has been giving a great deal of attention to whether such a convention is desirable, it is evident now that the members of that group are not satisfied with the present method of such legislation. In spite of the urging of the President and heads of the committee, the members have a favorable attitude of the public toward this measure, some of the committee members have been convinced. They evidently feel that the manpower situation might be solved by voluntary means, without necessitating a labor draft. Or else their reports on the favorable possibility of such a convention will be made to the President.

Although congress is eager to know more about what went on at the Berlin conference, and is particularly interested in whether any agreements were made that it would not sanction, it is felt in general that the members of the conference are not so much interested in the progress of the war and cessation of hostilities as they are in the "peace" of the conference as a real guarantee that our three great nations can have a peace which will last.

HOG AUCTION DRAWS CROWD

One of the industries in this community that attracts wide-spread interest, not only in the state, but bordering states, is the sale of pure bred hogs by Boyd Hamman.

We give Mr. Hamman the credit because he began this particular work 30 years ago on Jan. 28. This year the honors are shared with his son, Lysle and grandson, Robert. The sale was held last week at the large barn belonging to the son, Lysle. Mr. Hamman is not only interested from a lucrative viewpoint, but it is his patriotic service to place the best stock on the market, for a continued increase of the best in pork. Mr. Hamman knows his farming and he knows good hogs, too.

Forty-eight registered Spotted Poland China hogs were sold for $4,787.50, and they went to various sections in Ohio, Michigan & Pennsylvania. John Baker of Urbana, an auctioneer for pure bred Spotted Poland, was assisted by Don Hamman, our local auctioneer, and is also a son of Mr. Boyd Hamman.

His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jane Hamman, the efficient clerk, had helped in this work at previous sales.

Many buyers were present from a long distance, which proves there is a greater desire for specializing on the farm and for registered stock. Mr. Hamman and son are to be congratulated for raising the community standard higher.

MRS. KOHL BEDFAST

In answer to inquiries from many friends as to the health of Mrs. Mary Kohl, who lived here so many years, we would like to state that she has been bedfast since Christmas.

It will make her happy to hear from friends and happier to greet them at her home, 50 South St., Shelby.

Her friends will be pleased to hear when she can sit in a chair and visit again. Mrs. Kohl will be 94 years next Sept.

CHAIRMAN OF RED CROSS

Mrs. Fern Reynolds has been appointed Red Cross chairman for Shiloh. She will have her committee ready to begin work the first of March and everyone is to be prepared for this annual drive.

ATTEND INSPECTION

Mrs. E. J. Stevenson, Mrs. E. C. Geisinger and Mrs. Harman Roethlisberger attended the inspection of the White Shrine at Mansfield, Monday evening.

Dinner was served at the Evangelical church on Park Avenue, East. The supreme worthy high priestess was present.

SHILOH GRANGE NEWS

A full corps of new officers presided for the first meeting Wednesday evening, Feb. 21. The special feature was a patriotic program and quiz, directed by Mrs. Max Forsythe.

The next meeting will be held March 7th. A pot luck supper has been announced for 7:30 o'clock at which time the birthdays of all members occurring in the first three months of the year will be observed. The supper will be in charge of Mrs. Dora Kester, Mrs. Stella Arnold and Mrs. Constance Geisinger.

The program is being arranged by Mrs. Bessie Miller, Mrs. Queen Page and Mrs. Fern Reynolds.

All members are requested to bring their white elephants in paper bags for the parade. The proceeds of the parade will be given to the Boy Scouts.

BIRTH OF DAUGHTER

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Willet, Tuesday, Feb. 20, a daughter, Linda Sue, at the Willard hospital.

FARMERS MUST SHOW MILK SLIPS IF AAA PAYMENTS ARE RECEIVED

"Farmers, save your evidence for January, February and March dairy production and sales for these three months of 1945," says Robert E. Finlay, chairman of the Huron County AAA Committee. "Evidence for this period should be submitted with a single application for dairy feed payment within 60 days after that period ends."

Chairman Finlay explained that 1945 goals call for increased dairy production, and that farmers will need all the help they can get to meet dairy requirements. "The Dairy Feed Payment program is designed to help farmers produce more milk by giving them a more favorable feed ration," said Finlay.

The dairy feed payment rates for Huron county for the January, February and March period are 70 cents per hundredweight of whole milk, and 11 cents per lb. of butterfat. The county AAA office will accept applications and evidence for dairy production and sales during the three-month period beginning April 1, 1945. The final date for submitting applications for this period is May 31.

"February 28, 1945 was the final date on which the county AAA office accepted applications and evidence and make dairy feed payments for the November-December, 1944 period," Mr. Finlay added. He asked farmers to make sure that evidence and applications for November-December production and sales had been submitted before the closing date for this period.

STRANGER LIFTS TWO SUIT CASES

Jeff Brown of Portsmouth, O., reported to Mayor Wirth and Marshal Hulbert Monday evening the loss of two suit cases which contained his personal belongings and papers.

Brown, who was accompanied by another man from Portsmouth on his way to Sandusky to accept a job at the ordnance plant there. A couple of miles out of Chillicothe, Brown picked up a hitch-hiker, dressed in an army uniform, but who wore no hat. The trio stopped in Columbus for dinner Monday noon, where Brown claimed he paid for the stranger's meal.

Arriving in Plymouth shortly after five o'clock Monday evening, three men went into a local restaurant for supper. The stranger finished earlier than Brown and his companion, and left the eating house. When Brown came out to his car to continue his trip to Sandusky he discovered his two suit cases missing, and two bags, belonging to his friend, had been ripped.

Hearing Brown's side of the story, Marshal Hulbert put a description of the man on the air through the state highway patrol. Mayor Wirth, who appeared at his office later in the evening, was told the story by Brown, who failed to put up the cost of swearing out a warrant, stating that he didn't have the necessary cash.

Brown disclosed in his conversation with the "stranger" that he had been in a Texas army camp, but had been discharged due to a heart ailment. Brown intimated that the hitch-hiker, could have either been a soldier AWOL or an escaped Nazi prisoner. In any event, Brown was somewhat dismayed over the loss of his belongings, and held little hope of recovering them.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In memory of Brother W. O. Ritter, who died February 18, 1945.
 "Leaves have their time to fall; And flowers wither at the north wind's cold blast; But thou, oh Death! Hath all seasons for thine own." Once again a Brother Mason, having completed the designs written for him on life's board, has passed through the portals of Eternity and entered the Grand Lodge of the New Jerusalem, and hath received, as his reward, the white stone with the new name written thereon.

And whereas, the all-wise and merciful Master of the universe has called from labor to refreshment our beloved and respected brother, he having been a true and faithful member of our beloved Order, therefore be it resolved, that Richland Lodge, No. 201, F. & A. M. of Plymouth, Ohio in testimony of his loss, drape its Charter in mourning for thirty days, and that we tender to the family of our deceased brother our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

PAPER DRIVE ON SATURDAY

Scouts of Troop One will call for your scrap paper next Saturday morning. Members of each patrol will call at homes sometime during this week so that every possible pound of paper in the Village of Plymouth can be saved and collected. Every endeavor will be made to meet the 42,000 pound quota for Plymouth. Collections are also planned for March 31st and April 28th.

TROOP NEWS

Inter-Patrol Contest
 The newly reorganized Pine Tree Patrol took the lead in the inter-patrol contest with a score of 132. The Elks have 112 and the Flaming Arrow 65. The winner will get first choice of camping spots for spring camp, scheduled for April.

Disappointed Patrol
 Due to the large number of scouts in the Pine Tree Patrol, some members have formed a new patrol, The Flaming Arrow. Donald Cunningham has been elected patrol leader. Kenneth Donahue remains as patrol leader of the Pine Tree Patrol.

Troop Paper
 Our thanks to the many donors this month and approximately 800 copies will be mailed to servicemen this week. Kenneth Donahue and Donald Cunningham are mimeograph operators.

Troop Meeting
 The greater part of last week's meeting was spent in the testing out of new games for out-of-door meetings. Approximately 80% of all troop meetings this winter have been out-of-doors. Plans were made by the members of the Green Bar for Mothers Night, May 10th.

Board of Review
 Troop One will hold a board of review in the Methodist church executive office at 7:30 p. m., on March 12th.

Parade Squadron
 Parade Squadron received this week a navy instrument panel instruction board from Regional Executive Percie Whitehead of Cincinnati. Plans are being made to attend a regional air meet this coming summer.
