

26 Cattle Die In Barn Blaze

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the large bank barn on the Arthur McBride farm, just north of Shiloh, Sunday afternoon. Twenty-six head of cattle, including thirteen milking cows, perished in the blaze; two horses also died in the flames.

The barn, a 36 by 80 foot structure, was an old landmark, being built in 1872 by the present owner's father, and had been kept in good repair throughout the years. An adjoining 40-foot shed and silo were also destroyed as the flames ravaged the barn.

Livestock, buildings and contents, consisting of several pieces of farm machinery were a total loss with the loss estimated at around $10,000, covered partially by insurance.

The blaze broke out suddenly shortly after noon Sunday, and although smoke was observed by several neighbors who hastened to aid, nothing could be done as the interior of the whole structure was a roaring furnace. The Shiloh fire department responded promptly to aid in combating the blaze, and was instrumental in keeping the flames from spreading to other nearby buildings. The McBride home is located across the road from the barn.

The blaze was discovered soon after Mr. and Mrs. McBride had left their home to visit their granddaughter, south of Ganges, where they had been called on account of the illness of their own grand-children. It was while they received the news of the misfortune which had befallen them.

Hundreds of people visited the scene Sunday evening.

Mrs. McBride is one of the conscientious farmers in our community who works hard and takes especially good care of all his stock, and the people in general regret that such a loss should come to him.

TAKES OWN LIFE

SHELBY DEPOT WORKER FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Ira E. Myers, 51, employe of the Parcel Air Supply depot, was found dead in bed Friday, and Coroner L. B. McCullough reported he had taken his own life by slashing his throat, with a razor blade.

Ralph Houpt, superintendent of maintenance at the depot, found Myers at 4:30 p. m. Friday in his room at the Parcel lodge. Houpt said he at first thought Myers was sleeping.

Fellow employes at the depot were unable to give any reason for the act.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Wisenberger of Norwalk, Mrs. J. O. Wise of Columbus, Mrs. Glenn Cook of Boston, Mass., and one son, John of Columbus; also five sisters; Mrs. Marietta Tilton, New Haven; Mrs. Ida Dallas, Plymouth; Mrs. Walter Turley, Willard; Mrs. Compton Carpenter, Willard; Mrs. John Sheely of Anacondo, Mont.; four brothers, Milo of Claire, Mich.; Earl of Owasso, Mich.; Frank of Harrison, Mich. and Delbert of Bucyrus.

Shelby Store Under New Ownership

Announcement has been made that the Sutter Furniture Co., of Shelby has leased its store building to the Bing-Shelby Co., which will be associated with the Bing Furniture Co., of Cleveland.

For approximately 100 years the name of Sutter has been synonymous with good home furnishings, with three generations serving the community. The present owner of the business, Julius Sutter, has decided to retire from active participation on account of ill health and will take a much needed rest. Mrs. Sutter will be in charge of the store for the present.

MOVING SOON
Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lofland and family who now reside on Maple street will move soon to their newly purchased farm east of Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Briggs, Jr. and family will move into the property vacated.

Red Cross Quota To Be Reached

With better than a week remaining for the Red Cross drive, Plymouth's goal of $900.00 is expected to be over-subscribed. On Tuesday, Mrs. Mabel McFadden, local chairman, reported a total of $692.84 turned in to that date with a number of solicitors yet to be heard from.

The response has been especially good during this drive, and in many instances individuals are increasing their gifts voluntarily. Boys in service who are overseas, constantly remind the home folks that the benefits received from the Red Cross cannot be measured, and to give generously.

Prisoners of War are especially thankful for the Red Cross boxes which supplement their meager rations in concentration camps. All these things are made possible through your gifts, so if you have not yet contributed, or you have been overlooked by the solicitors, turn in your donation, either to the solicitor on your street or to Mrs. McFadden, chairman.

Heavy, Heavy Hangs Over Your Head

IT'S TIME TO FIX THE FOUNDATION Date Set For 7th War Loan Drive

Temporary props have been used in recent years to increase state support to meet the increased costs of education. Ohio's school foundation provisions have not been changed since their original enactment. The foundation provisions remain at $45 for elementary and $67.50 for high school pupils in average daily attendance, but per pupil costs have increased 38 per cent. The Legislature is now considering a bill by Senators Daniels and Cramer to increase the school foundation to $67.50 elementary and $91 high school. The cost for the biennium is estimated at not more than $111,400,000, only $1,000,000 more than would be received by the schools if the 1944 disbursements of $55,170,000 for foundation and temporary measures were to be continued.

The Program in Plymouth
If you want your school improved, the teaching staff kept at the highest level, it will be necessary to pay out the money to do it. Schools cannot compete with industry to obtain excellent teachers when these people can earn more money in industry, when skilled and semi-skilled labor draw salaries of $200 to $400 per month, our teachers' salaries of $120-$150 per month seem rather small.

The governor's present recommendation of $160,000 for the next two-year period will actually lower the available amount of money from that used in the 1944-1945 school year of $55,000,000 for the present year.

Dates Set For 4-H Group
The annual junior fair, Richland county's compromise for the sake of teen-age youngsters who want to display their farming products and 4-H club projects, will be a two-day affair: August 31 and Sept. 1, George B. Gardner, Richland county agricultural extension agent, disclosed.

The annual 4-H club camping trip will be a four-day event of August 26-29, at Camp Pittenger, south of Tiffin in Seneca county, where camping activities were held last year.

DISMISSED
Mrs. Charles Fox of Plymouth has been released from the Shelby hospital.

PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS
Leo Barnes has purchased the 121-acre farm belonging to the Andrew Myers estate at the foot of Trust street, and also known as the old Tyson farm. Bill Myers, an heir, purchased the other two properties joining on the east.

The next war bond drive will commence Monday, April 2, it has been announced by the Cleveland office of the war finance committee.

The drive will differ in several respects from previous drives. Also there will be but one other drive this year, probably in October.

April will be given over to securing subscriptions from workers in factories and from schools. The schools are to be organized all over the country, and it is expected they will produce real money, much more than has been secured from the schools in any previous drive.

May is to be given over to personal solicitation, and in June there will be sales to corporations and a general cleanup of the entire campaign. In this month sales of bonds of large amounts will be made.

The total goal of the next bond drive will be 14 billion dollars, same as the last one. But the goal for individual bond purchases will be seven billion dollars—half the entire amount to be raised. That's two billion more than in the six war loan.

The goal for "E" bonds—small denomination bonds found to ward and salary earners—will be four billion dollars this time compared with two and a half billion last time.

THERE'S SOME talk down in Washington about changing the name of those pretty little Japanese cherry trees that are blossoming so beautifully at present. Even at that we hope it's a long time before we see that little line, "Made in Japan" on many of the novelties to be found on the store counters after the war.

DESPITE HIGHER prices for the frills, Milady is going to have her Easter outfit, even tho it be a sarong. According to latest figures available Easter buying is breaking all records. About the only satisfaction, one can have is that "it cost a lot," for the appearance and quality will be far below that of Easter outfits of former years.

WITH SO many farmers leaving the acres and farm boys being drafted into service, it's going to be a gala year for the old line AAA members, if the House approves the farm aid program calling for an expenditure of three hundred million dollars for the next two years to be used in payment of subsidies. Seems to me the boys are really going to make farming a pleasure after all.

Service Honoring Lt. Mary Ferrell Well Attended

Mary I. Ferrell day, March 18, was history making in Shiloh. All nature seemed to be supporting the event, as the day was one of the loveliest we have had this spring.

Mary's name was on many lips, and people were anxiously looking forward to the evening when they could pay homage to their distinguished townsman.

The ties of friendship was manifested by the large crowd assembled for the evening program. Mary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferrell and their immediate relatives were seated in the center pews which had been reserved for them.

On the south side of the church was the American Legion, and throughout the audience were former Shiloh people and friends from North Fairfield, Plymouth, Shelby, Ashland and Mansfield.

The choir was composed of members from both churches. Miss E. Floy Rose presided at the organ. A duet "Whispering Hope," was given by Mrs. C. O. Butler and Mrs. L. D. Wolfenberger, and a solo, "Angels of Mercy," by Mrs. Butler. Miss Janet Marie Black presented the poem, "Army Nurses Prayer."

Rev. E. R. Haines of the Methodist church and Rev. Henry E. Boehm of the Lutheran church conducted the devotions. J. A. O'Konalsrud, superintendent of the Mansfield General hospital paid a fine tribute to "our Mary," as she is affectionately called at the hospital, where she finished her training, and was one of the nurses there until she was accepted in the U. S. Army, July, 1943.

Dr. O'Konalsrud also gave some excellent argument in favor of a permanent compensatory nurses' fund.

The flag was presented by the American Legion and the pledge given.

A plaque, belonging to the Red Cross in Mansfield, contained a splendid picture of Mary with her citation from the government, which had been borrowed for the occasion by Mayor E. J. Stevenson. It was presented by Richard Garrett and Thomas Miller, both Boy Scouts. The Boy Scouts, acting as ushers, made a good impression on the audience.

Mayor Stevenson and committee deserve a great credit for making the community service for Lt. Ferrell a success.

Well, if it takes a part of our luxuries to win the war, you can bet we're all willing to make the sacrifice. But, before the war, the Black & Gold Soda Grill, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Cornell, enjoyed a wide patronage in the community . . . consistent advertising built up a volume of business for a store of this size . . . and coupled along with advertising were the fundamentals for establishing a sound business . . . quality products, plus courteous service.

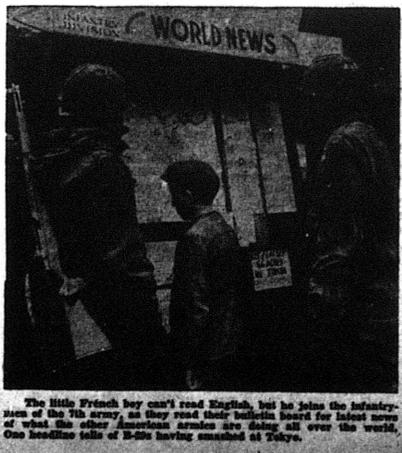

Despite the inroads of war demands, the Black & Gold has kept up a good stock of almost everything in its line — books, magazines, ice cream, candy, and a varied menu for their noon day lunches. It's a store the town can well be proud of and one that deserves a big boost for the service it renders.

Modern booths, soft lights and music, plus a wonderful fountain service make a happy combination for an evening's stop with friends. So when you're wanting something good in sandwiches or at the fountain — drop in at the Black & Gold for your refreshments.

Infantry To Get Young

Inducement For Three Months
The Army's growing need for young infantrymen to replace combat losses will take practically all inductees under 21 for the next three months.

Beginning March 15th, the army and navy announced, the only exception to army assignments for men drafted in that age bracket, will be the comparative few who qualify for such specialized naval programs as radio technicians and combat aircrewmen.

Routine manpower needs of the navy will be met from the 21-to-38 age brackets during the three-month period of the agreement. Thursday night's announcement made no mention of, and presumably does not affect, the navy's policy of enlisting 17-year-olds. About 60,000 youths reach their 18th birthdays monthly.

Now In France
Elton Robertson of Roby's radio service received the following letter this week from S-Sgt. Merrill J. Swigart. S-Sgt. Swigart will be remembered as Mr. Robertson's partner when they first came to Plymouth and no doubt many will still remember him.

How is the radio business these days? If you were here I could put you to work. I bet you are a little surprised to hear from me from over here. It looked for a while as if I would spend the duration in the states. Now I am here, I am glad of it. I want to get busy and end up the whole thing so I can get back to good old U.S.A. By the war news, things are going good. I only hope it keeps up. It is hard to believe that I am on my 4th year, now. The ocean voyage was OK but soon got tired of close quarters and so much water. I didn't get sea sick but a lot of the fellows did.

I have seen a lot of interesting things, but can't write much.

I am trying to learn how to speak French, but am having a little trouble. I am getting used to French money now and had a little trouble at first. All the money is paper and is made in all sizes. I don't get much so haven't much to worry about. How is Elouise and the kids? I bet the kids are growing.

Well Bub, take care of yourself. Write a few lines when you find time. Your old pal, Swigart

New Discoveries Boost U. S. Oil Reserves

PETROLEUM POOLS INCREASE DESPITE HIGH WAR OUTPUT

By AL JEDLIKA

Oil—the "black gold" that powers and lubricates 20th century machinery and makes possible the engineering marvels of the age—continues to be found at a rate exceeding production in the U. S.

Vital to the world's most mechanized economy, 2,067,000,000 barrels of oil were found in this country last year, offsetting the record-breaking production of 1,878,421,000 barrels not only for military and industrial purposes but also for the manufacture of synthetic rubber to keep Allied wheels spinning.

Showing a net gain of 388,000,000 barrels for 1944, total U. S. reserves increased to 30,453,321,000 barrels, making the country by far the most highly developed petroleum area in the world.

How much oil actually is available in the U. S. is not known since the American Petroleum Institute, in computing reserves, only includes accurate recoverable discoveries and does not speculate upon untested resources.

As a result, the institute does not include oil under the unproved portions of partly developed fields; oil in untested prospects; oil that may be present in unknown prospects in regions believed to be generally favorable; oil that may exist in moderately low pressure fields; oil that may become available by secondary recovery methods from fields where such techniques have not yet been applied; oil that may become available through chemical processing of natural gas, and oil that can be made from coal or other substitutes.

In making its estimates, the institute covers extensions of old wells and development of newly said, "because the flow of oil through the pores of the oil-bearing rocks is definitely controlled by physical factors of the reservoir."

During 1944, it was revealed, Alabama, as the 22nd state, was added to the roster of U. S. oil producers, with output estimated at 43,000 barrels and reserves at 317,000.

Meanwhile, the neighboring states of Louisiana and Mississippi led all other oil producers in the discovery of new reserves, with the former adding 219,000,000 barrels to its surprising total of 186,000,000. During the year, new strikes attracted swarms of oil men to Louisiana, and, it was reported, several poor people were greatly enriched by contracting for their holdings.

With discoveries of new reserves of approximately 800,000,000 barrels, however, Texas remained the No. 1 petroleum center of the U. S., with total supplies of 11,375,400,000 barrels, 55.6 per cent of the nation's pool.

Following Texas, California ranked second in new discoveries, with 318,000,000 barrels and total reserves of 3,344,522,000 barrels. Large discoveries in Oklahoma, Kansas and Illinois added to their substantial existing pools.

During record-breaking operations for 1944, states produced in accordance with the size of their reserves, with Texas leading the field with 547,790,000 barrels. Next in line were California with 311,771,000 barrels; Louisiana, 129,556,000; Oklahoma, 124,727,000; Kansas, 92,000,000; Illinois, 82,296,000; New Mexico, 39,556,000; Wyoming, 32,569,000; Arkansas, 29,441,000; Michigan, 18,529,000; Mississippi, 16,387,000; Indiana, 14,185,000; Kentucky, 9,677,000; Montana, 6,928,000; Nebraska, 5,990,000; New York, 4,694,000; West Virginia, 3,084,000; Ohio, 2,944,000; Colorado, 2,900,000; Nevada, 419,000; Wyoming, 81,000; and Alabama, 43,000.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Adding another War Bond to your collection, eh, Judge?"
"Yes, Josh, I've always looked upon buying Bonds as one of the best ways older folks like me here at home can help our fighting men overseas. For the past couple of years I've put every extra cent I had into them during the War Bond drives... but on a regular basis. Of course, when there's a drive on I always try to buy an extra one or two."

"We've done the same in our family, too. Judge, we figure there's more we can do, better we equip our men... the quicker they'll finish their big job and come marching home again."
"That's the spirit, Josh. And let's be sure of one more thing. Let's be sure that they come back to the same kind of place they left. While they're away and can't express their opinions, let's not make any decisions on things that are going to concern them in years to come."

Huron Ration Board Gives Out Report

At the regular monthly meeting of the entire Huron county ration board the following panel reports were given:

The Commodity panel reports that there are a number of applications for shoe stamps which are not correctly filled in. Extra shoe stamps are issued only when all of the stamps in the books of all members of the family have been used. The books of all members of the family must accompany the application. In addition the person needing the shoes must have less than two pairs of wearable or repairable shoes. This regulation does not apply to safety shoes. Boots are issued on the basis of actual occupation and needs of the user. Therefore the application must clearly state both of these facts.

Oil and gas heating and cooking stoves are still rationed. The panel has a definite quota for each month, therefore any applications made should be completely filled in and need clearly stated.

The price panel reported that they are checking work clothes, stockings, restaurants and food prices. There is a great need for price panel assistants, who will volunteer to aid the panel in checking prices.

The mileage panel repeated the request that anyone applying for gasoline, for occupational use, should do so about two weeks before their previous ration is used up. This is necessary because all gasoline coupons are mailed from a central office. The method of application is the same and applications are still to be sent to the county rationing board where they are processed.

The non-highway gasoline panel is now issuing the first allotment of the gasoline for which application has been made. Other allotments will be made as needed during the year.

The information panel has available speakers to attend club or other group meetings in order to inform members about price control and rationing. Any group desiring this type of speaker may make arrangements at the board office.

Scrap Paper Collection

Local Boy Scouts will again join with other Scouts throughout the United States in an effort to meet a goal of 150,000 tons of waste paper during March and April. Troop One has set 42,000 pounds for its goal. This will be the second collection in this period and will be held Saturday, March 31st.

Inasmuch as waste paper continues to remain one of the nation's critical war shortages, this campaign has been sponsored by General Dwight D. Eisenhower, because he knows personally the great need for waste paper in the war effort.

A General Eisenhower-Boy Scout waste paper campaign medal will be given to each Scout who collects 1,000 pounds of paper during this two-month period. The medal, suspended from a red and white ribbon, bears a likeness of General Eisenhower with the inscription "War Service 1945" and "Boy Scout-General Eisenhower Waste Paper Campaign."

On the reverse of the medal is the inscription, "Awarded for extraordinary patriotic achievement in the Boy Scout-General Eisenhower campaign, March-April, 1945. 10,310 pounds of paper was picked up on the collection held March 3rd and already twelve local scouts have half of the necessary poundage.

A genuine shell case that carried a 75mm. shell or larger and that has been returned from a European battlefield after use will be awarded to the troop if it collects 1,000 pounds for each boy, this number includes those also in the service. Each case will bear a printed citation by General Eisenhower. As the paper in metal containers has been specially processed it cannot be used again.

Members of Troop One want to thank all who helped on the last collection and your continued support will be greatly appreciated, not only by them, but by many local men and women serving on the many war fronts.

EDITORIAL

NEXT WINTER'S FOOD SUPPLY

ARE you ready to plant that Victory garden yet? It's important. We've talked about it before—but the more we hear about Victory gardens the more aware we become that next winter's eating may depend in a big way on having at least as many Victory gardens as last year.

According to government figures, 40% of the vegetables we've been eating since last summer are the produce of Victory gardens. At least, because of these gardens, 40% less of the output of truck farms was needed by civilians. If that 40%, or even part of it, was eliminated, our vegetable supply would be spread very thin next winter.

Even if the war in Germany should end soon—and we're not making any predictions—there will still be just as many mouths to feed in all parts of the world. Our nation is under obligation to feed a large number of them. If the war is still going on we'll need plenty of food to help win it.

38,000 AVAILABLE NURSES

THERE are said to be about 38,000 young women, eligible to be army nurses, who could be spared from our civilian hospitals. But in spite of large scale pleading for volunteers, only about 5,000 agreed to join the armed forces last year.

We can't blame these women for not relishing the idea of being sent to such places as Iwo Jima, the Philippines or the Chinese coast. But if it's going to mean a matter of life or death to thousands of young men who may have had no relish for war either, it seems to us that an available nurse will have a lot of conscience trouble in later years if she doesn't join up now.

The idea of drifting women is distasteful to all of us, but if that is the only way to give our wounded boys the attention they must have we cannot see that there is any choice of action. There may be some very good reason why the volunteer plan has failed, but we haven't time to analyze that now. The important thing is to get nurses to the wounded in the shortest possible time.

• SIMPLE SOLUTIONS OFTEN FOUND

SIXTY-THREE miles southeast of Tucson, Arizona, is a small town named St. David. When it is going full blast it has 39 families. The people are poor, hard-working. The residents of the town became alarmed because they were losing their teeth. A check-up was made and it was found that half of the people over the age of 26 had false teeth. Sometimes people in their 'teens had false teeth.

The people asked the authorities of the University of Arizona if they would do anything to cause the trouble. The authorities selected Dr. Margaret Cammack Smith who was a nutrition chemist at the university. So she got in her car and rolled away to St. David.

She found that the people were suffering from "mottled teeth," a scourge that attacked and destroyed the teeth. Her first thought was that it was something that the people were eating. So she started work with 19 children, examining everything they ate—and found they were eating as nearly right as people can. This was a stumper, for here she thought she had discovered the secret.

Next she decided to give the children supplemental feedings to make up for the deficiency. So she brought in cod liver oil, milk and viosterol and fatty stuffed it down them. The teeth of St. David were still mottled. The dentist was still the busiest person in town.

She decided she would reproduce the mottled teeth in rats in the laboratory, so she fed the rats a diet deficiency in this or that. The rats continued to have perfect teeth.

Arizona is a copper state, so she decided the trouble must have something to do with copper. She fed the rats small quantities of copper in their food, then examined their teeth. Their teeth were perfect. She tried every imaginable thing known to science to find out what was causing the trouble. Nothing that she experimented with got results. She tried involved methods, methods highly complex and scientific. Failed.

One day the thought came to her: "Usually the solution to a problem is something simple. Sometimes it is so simple that it is overlooked. I am going to work on that theory."

She thought of going water, for that was simple and that had been overlooked. She examined the water and found fluorine in it; this is an element of the chlorine family. She gave this water to the rats. Their teeth went to pieces under it. At last she had discovered the trouble, in a way that was so simple and evident that she had, until then, completely overlooked it. The she worked out a way to purify the water of St. David—and now the 39 families are drinking the water and the dental conditions of the community are so vastly improved as to be astounding.

And Dr. Smith did this by trying something simple and evident which she had not thought of before. And this will hold true in many, many problems in life. The simple thing will be the solution.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

If there is a strange spectacle anywhere in the world today, it is the spectacle of the Government of the United States solemnly preparing to poll the coal miners, under its official auspices, on the question whether they want to cripple the American Army and the American Navy with a wartime coal shortage.

Here is a coal shortage so acute that allotments have just been cut again, even on bituminous supplies. Here is an American industrial organization dependent on coal as the primary source of power for war production. Here are American armies and navies in every part of the world, fighting the greatest battles in the history of the American people, battles which cannot be won without an interrupted flow of weapons and supplies from American factories. And here is the Government of the United States, moving with all its majestic array of some 400,000 men, to ask the coal miners whether they would or would not like to wreck the whole war effort in the event they are dissatisfied with the action on their wage demands. Even Lewis Carroll's high-soaring imagination could not have supplied the final ironic touch which provides that the general public, the fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters of the young men now on the battlelines in the Army and the Navy, shall be asked $300,000 in order to meet the cost of the pool which is to be taken for the purpose of determining whether Mr. Lewis' union wants to strike in wartime.

This fantastic situation is all in strict accordance with the Smith-Connelly Act, the so-called "anti-strike law" which was adopted in June, 1943, by the majority votes of both parties in both branches of Congress. Under this law the Government itself must take an official poll of the workers involved. The Government itself thus sanctions a strike vote, and is in effect made a party to a wartime strike that could have the most disastrous consequences.

This is the result of one of the stupidest pieces of legislation ever passed by Congress. Its sponsors have been too stubborn, too concerned with saving face, to attempt to amend it. And Mr. Lewis himself, with characteristic political shrewdness, merely denounces the very law under which it is possible for him to force the Government agencies to conspire with him to give their sanction to his action.

And so we are treated to the spectacle of the same august Government passing out rations on Iwo Jima with one hand and strike votes with the other.—The New York Times.

LET US BEAUTIFY THE PARK

Just at the outbreak of the war, Plymouth's only civic enterprise—the Mary Fate Memorial Park, was coming into its own as a place for outdoor events, picnics and a spot for the children. The Park, before gas rationing, drew thousands of visitors into town each season, and for a couple of years after the war, it proved about the most popular place around here—due to gas rationing.

The Plymouth Garden Club has a very definite program and plans for beautifying the park with shrubbery, flowers, hedges, etc. However, the war effort came first, and the program has been somewhat delayed. Now, with the war well in sight, and in the next year or so, the Garden Club would like very much to re-visit its program for the Park.

Due to the necessary money it will take for the purchase of flowers and trees, this part of the program, could and should be sponsored by the Plymouth Community Club. A committee should be appointed to work with the Garden Club with the raising of money as its main purpose. Through a tag sale, bake sale, and a house-to-house canvass, sufficient funds should be forthcoming for this worthwhile project.

In fairness to the park commission, it might be added that while the trustees receive an annual sum of $1,000 for park maintenance, it requires at least $700 for the caretaker, and with other incidentals that have to be taken care of during the season, the Board has, for the past year, broke even on its operating expenses.

This Week in WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The "sit-all-over-but-the-shooting" outlook toward the European war is back with us again. Washington is alive with rumors about the war's end. To hear some talk, the Germans are likely to give up before this column appears in print. But the big difference between the optimism of today and the optimism of last fall is this—the 1944 optimism was based on predictions of army, navy and government officials, while today's optimism has sprung from the people. The news has been so good that the people can't conceive of the war lasting much longer. But in official circles there is a strange silence, and when officials do talk, they urge action which would indicate the European war is far from won.

Best examples of this are the urgent demands of war leaders for enactment of a war-time work-or-fight law and for the drafting of nurses. The official attitude is: we must act and plan for a long war until victory is assured. They're not taking any chances.

Congress, however, is not entirely in accord with this attitude. The unwillingness of the senate to approve a work-or-fight bill with any teeth in it makes it clear that congress doesn't intend to disrupt our civilian economy any more than necessary—and the senate apparently isn't sure that it is necessary to draft labor at this late date. When the senate approved a substitute bill, which wouldn't in any way achieve the purpose of the labor draft measure, Senator O'Mahoney, coauthor of the substitute measure, expressed the attitude of many senators when he said: "I want to congratulate the senate for using, as it did, reason over emotional appeal."

Led Raids on Jap Invaders

Capt. Fred W. Varney, 3rd, and Maj. Cecil E. Walker, who were leaders of a band that terrorized the Japs in the Philippines for nearly three years, are shown aboard a navy flying boat which brought them back to an American base. Their band, known as the "Buccellars," made night attacks on the Japs, then disappeared into the jungle.

Col. Whitney Returns

From Tour of Pacific
Colonel Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, husband of Eleanor Searle Whitney, one of Plymouth's own girls, has recently returned to his home in Washington after a tour of the Pacific. Colonel Whitney of the Air Corps is with Strategic Plans under General Arnold and has been stationed in Washington since his return from overseas duty.

On this recent trip he accompanied Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal on visits to all of the island battle fronts. He was with the first assault ships in the Iwo Jima attack and went ashore soon after the invasion was made. He was on the island when the American flag was raised on Mt. Surabachi. The photograph that was made of the Marines raising the flag is one of the most moving and publicized photographs to come out of the war to date. Col. Whitney also went to Manila where they lunched with General Douglas MacArthur and also visited the bases on Leyte, Saipan and Guam. He was with General Howland Smith of the Marines and Admiral Spruance of the Navy.

Since returning to Washington Colonel Whitney has made several reports and analyses on his observations of the combined navy and air attacks in the Pacific.

Announces Exams

Supt. P. I. Van Brunt announced today that the nationwide qualifying test to select students for the army specialized training reserve program will be given Thursday, April 12, 1945, at Plymouth high school.

Any young man is eligible to take the test if his seventeenth birthday falls between October 1, 1944 and August 31, 1945, inclusive, and if he will be not older than 17 years and 9 months on the first day of the month following the date of his graduation from high school or completion of a college term.

Supt. Van Brunt said, "young men who pass the army college qualifying test will be eligible upon application for a free scholarship affording from 2 to 4 terms, each 12 weeks long, of college training under the army specialize training reserve program.

ASTRP training is conducted in outstanding universities and colleges. ASTRP students are members of the enlisted reserve corps of the army, and are furnished complete uniforms, tuition, books, lodging and meals. In most cases applicants from Plymouth are assigned to a college or university located in the fifth service command."

After being under discussion for several weeks, the village council gave its final approval Tuesday night to a garbage collecting ordinance that, for the first time, will provide a regular weekly collection of garbage in Plymouth.

The ordinance sets forth rules and regulations for the placing of containers and general collection of garbage and rubbish, and stipulates that the village shall enter into a contract with a collector who shall serve the town at fixed monthly rates.
