HURON COUNTY TREASURER GIVES BREAK-DOWN ON DECEMBER RECEIPTS

Plymouthites will lose an hour's sleep between bedtime Saturday night and getting-up time Sunday morning, for the village will step up its time one hour, which will be known as Eastern War Time. This announcement was made by Mayor W. W. Wirth Wednesday morning, following Tuesday night's meeting of the village council which approved the date for the time change.

Plymouth will be in line with a majority of the surrounding towns and villages which are at present operating on the new fast time, or will make a change within the next few days. Shely and Mansfield change over on April 8th, and Willard has always been on "war-time" or railroad time.

The Fate Root Heat Co. will begin operating next Monday morning under the new time, and this extra hour of daylight in the late afternoon will enable employees and others to get a Victory garden, now the grass or other work around home.

The fact that we are enjoying a rather early Spring will make the "extra hour" do double duty in more ways than one.

Village And Township Contribute $1,804.95 To Red Cross Fund

Plymouth and Plymouth township's share to the Richland County Red Cross drive reached a total of $1,804.95 in Tuesday's report. Of this amount $138.45 was turned in by Mrs. Mabel McFadden, chairman for the village, and $424.50 by Mrs. Ira Ross, chairman for the township. This is the largest amount ever subscribed here for any Red Cross campaign.

Both the village and township oversubscribed their quotas.

Hearing Set On Baby Case

Hearing Set On Baby Case

Hearing on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, filed against Mrs. Mary Alice Laser, 20, Plymouth, who allegedly abandoned her 20-month-old daughter, Joyce Ann, in a Chicago restaurant more than a week ago, will be conducted by Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Kramer Friday, April 13.

Leonard Rickert, 17, and Tedude Skibinski, 20, Milwaukee youths, who are charged with delinquency and contributing to the delinquency of minors, respectively, in connection with the abandonment of the baby, denied the charges.

Mrs. Laser was named in a divorce action filed in Richland county common pleas court last November, accusing her of cruelty. She denied the accusation in an answer filed March 2. Her husband is serving overseas.

Mrs. Laser has been released under a $500 bond pending her trial on April 13.

The abandonment of the child came to light when Chicago police discovered the infant in a restaurant in that city.

Mrs. Laser was partially destroyed by fire some months ago, and it has not been occupied for some time.

Ira Snyder, who recently purchased the property, had intended to repair the home and put it in a livable condition. It is believed by Mr. Snyder that the fire was started by someone, as there is no electric wiring, gas, or other causes that could have started the blaze.

THE WEATHER

March, 1945 proved the old adage "one extreme follows another." After one of the coldest, snowiest winters on record, March tried to tone for it by ushering in Spring at least three weeks ahead of time.

Beginning March 16th there were eleven days when the thermometer hit 70 or above; the highest was 82 degrees on the 25th, the average for the month being 48.6 degrees or 10.4 degrees above normal. The lowest for the month was 16 degrees on the 8th.

March was also a wet month with total precipitation of 6.26 inches or 2.6 inches above normal. The greatest in 24 hours was 1.32 inches on the 6th and 7th. There was also another heavy rainfall of 2.72 inches on the 19th, 20th and 21st and 0.88 inch on the 1st. Snowfall amounted to only 1.1 inch, all on the 7th. There were two thunderstorms — on the 17th and 18th.

As a result of the unusually high temperatures and abundant rainfall, trees started to leaf out before the end of the month. When fields and pastures never looked greener or better, farmers were busy plowing and sowing their oats while optimistic gardeners spaded and planted their victory gardens. And sad to relate, even the snow shovel had been laid away the voice of the lawnmower was again heard in the lawn!

Now if Mother Nature will just hold off her frosts for the next six weeks we'll be happy and forgive her for the atrocious winter we had to endure.

Speaking seriously, though, we should be — and are — thankful for the remarkable Spring we are enjoying and for the promises it holds for a bountiful harvest so sorely needed in this year of 1945. — J.A.R.

McGregor Wants Use Motor Tax Taken Off

Under the present law a $5.00 Federal use tax is imposed upon all motor vehicles. Congressman J. Harry McGregor of the 17th District, in the opinion of this writer, is in error in this regard. It is not a tax based upon a value of the motor vehicle or the number of miles traveled by that vehicle. For example, Mr. A. may own an automobile worth $3,000 which has traveled 30,000 miles per year, and Mr. B. may own an automobile worth $100 which has traveled 1,000 per year — yet both are forced to pay the same tax, namely, $5.00.

This recent also proves this law has never been enforced. Only approximately 65 to 75 percent pay this tax. If we are going to have the tax, let us see that it is enforced and paid.

The Executive Board will meet at 4:00 p. m. in the Scout office. A banquet will be held at 6:30 p. m.

All Troops and Packs are asked to have representatives present for this meeting.

Seventh War Loan Drive

To Open May 14th With Goal of 14 Billion Dollars

The Treasury will open the 7th War Loan Drive on May 14, with a goal of 14 billion dollars, the Treasury Department announces.

One objective of this drive will be the sale of $7,000,000,000 worth of government securities to individuals. This is the largest quota ever set for individuals in a war loan drive.

As a part of the campaign to raise this amount, an intensive drive will be made on Series E Bonds in plants and factories will begin April 9. "It is clear," Secretary Morgenthau said, "that federal expenditures are going to remain at a high level for some time to come. It is also apparent that funds in the hands of bank investors will continue to increase sharply under present conditions. It is highly desirable to channel as much of these funds as possible into government security investment, and to put them to work in the prosecution of the war."

This recent also proves this law has never been enforced. Only approximately 65 to 75 percent pay this tax. If we are going to have the tax, let us see that it is enforced and paid.

Attack Fatal

Funeral services will be held Friday in Willard for James H. Fawcett, 46, Baltimore & Ohio employee, who died suddenly in his sleep on Monday afternoon.

Fawcett died in St. Francis Hospital, Columbus, shortly after he suffered a heart attack in a restroom at the State house. Just a few minutes before he was taken ill, he had attended a hearing before the Transportation and Commerce committee of the Ohio House of Representatives.

He is survived by his widow, Leona, and a son, James, Jr.

Fawcett was a veteran of World War I, and was a member of the American Legion, the Order of Railway Conductors, and Masonic Lodges.

10,000 AUTOMOBILES

In 1942, when all automobile manufacturers stopped making cars, there was a sizable stockpile of new cars still held by distributors and dealers. The sale of those cars was frozen—and since then they have been handed out with the greatest care, only going to people with exceptionally high priorities.

But in spite of the way they were guarded, there are only 10,000 of these cars left today. To make them last as long as possible, the requirements necessary to get one have been tightened even more. Until now there were 26 classifications of people able to buy them. But from now on, there will only be eight such classifications.

If you want a new (1942) car you must be: a government employee engaged in such an occupation as fire-fighting or crime detection; a physician; a public health nurse; a minister; a member of the armed services who needs a car for official business; a taxicab owner; owner of a car rental business engaged exclusively in renting cars for essential purposes.

And if you are a member of one of these groups, there are still many detailed requirements which you must meet to get a new car. However, you can still buy a 1942 used car if your ration board agrees that you need it for essential use—that is, you can buy one if you can find it.

DESTRUCTION

You often hear people say—"If there is another war it will destroy humanity."

But after analyzing the extent of destruction in Europe resulting from the present war, we wonder if those predictions are not overoptimistic. We wonder if a sizable proportion, at least, of humanity won't be considered utterly destroyed because of the present war. We do not refer only to the millions who have been killed, but to the scores of farm lands that have been made useless, the thousands of villages which have been wiped out, and the millions and millions of people who are being permanently disabled by starvation and disease.

It will take superhuman effort to restore these people and places to a life which resembles civilization as we know it. While this restoration is being attempted, it would seem quite possible that the inhabitants of many sections of Europe will become barbaric in their frantic search for adequate food, housing and other essentials.

We have great faith in the Allied nations being able to cope with the situation. But the world has never had to face such a dilemma before. Part of humanity has been destroyed already and it is going to take a miracle to put it back together again.

PARENTS SHOULD COOPERATE

A FEW years ago a high school girl clashed with her father, a conservative Southern gentleman who did not believe that a girl should "go out in the world." The girl's name was Frances Rose Shore.

The girl wanted to go to a singer, and she was always going around singing "Dinah." Now you've guessed her name. The family lived in Nashville, Tenn., where the father was in the merchandising business.

Dinah sang in a high school entertainment. When it was over the manager of a night club near Nashville, named "The Pines," came to her and asked her to sing at his club. Said he would give her ten dollars. She was delighted. But when she consulted her father he said "No." No daughter of his should sing in a night club.

But the opportunity meant so much to Dinah that she decided to sing anyway and arranged with the manager to appear on a certain night, when she could sing "Dinah" to her heart's content.

The moment came for her to walk out into the spotlight. What she saw nearly stopped her heart beat—her father was sitting in the second row. And his heart nearly stopped, too, when he saw his daughter flutter out with the spotlight on her.

The music struck up, and Dinah Shore going into her song, managed to get through the ordeal.

She hunted up the manager, collected her ten spot, went home and awaited her father's arrival. He came into the room, at last, without speaking and the two looked silently at each other. Then the father took a course that changed Dinah's life and put her (among other things) into the new movie, "Thank Your Lucky Stars."

He said, "I did not want you to do this, but I am going to oppose you. A child has some rights, after all. I will do all I can to help you. You'll never be happy until you try, so you can depend on me."

From now on there will be no need for subtlety."

Well, he found her when she went to New York and did all he could to help her. At last, she became a radio star, the most popular entertainer among the soldiers, and was going great guns in the movies.

How much more sensible her father's attitude was than if he had forbidden her to try, even though it did hurt his Southern pride to have her sing in a night club. Of course he had no idea she would ever rise to the heights she has.

FACTS OF PROGRESS

Less than 1 per cent of women attempt to commit suicide because of an unhappy love affair actually kill themselves. The rest are either poor shots or just fakers.

Young men of today average two-thirds of an inch taller than their fathers.

Boys 14 years old are 3½ inches taller than were boys 14 in 1882.

The death rate from pneumonia has been reduced by more than 80 per cent since 1900.

Over 500 children are killed each year by accidents with firearms.

The above tidbits of knowledge, culled from reports of the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, are just samples of the thousands of statistical facts which are collected together each year by men assigned to the job of keeping score.

There is something fascinating about these figures which bolt down all the statistics and our successes into digits. It makes you realize how little an individual masters in the general scheme of things. It creates a sense of insignificance. You realize that the death of anyone of us, to these statisticians, merely means a change in the nature of the numbers concerned. For "Deaths by Pneumonia, 1945" say, may simply be increased from 61,048 to 61,049.

MEDICINE . . . 1900

In these numerical pictures of life, as presented by the statisticians there are some rather startling chapters, as the following, indicating the progress which has been made in medicine during the 20th century. To anyone who gets sentimental for the past, it might be reassuring to know that so few die of that dreaded sickness these days.

The mortality from various ailments was at the same rate today as it was in 1900, the statistics show. That is, 2,281,621 would have died in 1942 from the leading causes of death. But actually, only 1,209,942 die from those causes in 1942.

For example: at the year 1900, 43,367 would have died from tuberculosis, while in 1942 only 1,000 medical knowledge and care only 41,306 die from that cause. Typhoid fever, which 1900 estimates indicate would have caused 37,274 deaths in 1942, actually caused the death of only 504. Cardinal diseases, which, according to 1900 expectations, would have caused the death of 75,363, actually occurred on 13,346 deaths.

The picture, in general, shows progress in overcoming serious sicknesses. But there are several black spots on the horizon.

For example: the figures show that the death rate from cancer, organic heart disease and diabetes has increased. That these diseases afflict men and women of continuing age, they were in 1900. There may be a lot of reasons for this increase, but whatever the reason, the rate of death from cancer in any medical profession has not yet found an adequate answer for dealing with them.

SUICIDE . . . reasons

With so many magazine stories and novels built around tragedies, where suicide is often depicted, it was interesting to me to read a statistical, unemotional record of the conditions under which death occurs.

According to the record, about 13,000 people in our country take their own lives each year. The chief reason would be mental illness, 40 per cent attempting to kill themselves, 37 per cent attempting it so far that reason.

Among women, however, domestic difficulties are the chief cause. 50 per cent of women who commit suicide do it because of intolerable home conditions.

As for unrequited love, which accounts for so many suicides for ages the primary reason for suicide, the figures prove that to be a comparatively minor reason. Only 12 per cent of women who commit suicide do it because of unrequited love.

According to the record, about 13,000 people in our country take their own lives each year. The chief reason would be mental illness, 40 per cent attempting to kill themselves, 37 per cent attempting it so far that reason.

And of those who do give that reason. And of those who do give that reason, practically all the women who commit suicide do it because of unrequited love.

Suicide often reveals, more than anything else, the struggle that life is for some people, but even suicide, when recorded in cold statistics, looks as tragic as ever.

CASH and CARRY —OR—

CHARGE and SHIP

Cash and Carry is a recognized method of retailing where the purchase is easily taken home. But in wholesaling or manufacturing, the usual method is Charge and Ship . . . because quantities are larger and merchandise often comes from great distances.

Thus as the units of business increase, a checking account becomes indispensable . . . and those known for strong bank balances usually get the "buys."

Dear Tommy: It has been a long time since I last wrote to you and I feel very guilty, but when we are in the Army and have to work every day we tend to let our correspondence get behind, but we'll use the same old excuse that everyone else does—"There's a war on."

You will please note that I have a new address and though the paper comes here very irregularly, I hope that some day they'll come in.

I am in France for the third time since last June and have been in Belgium twice, and Holland once, so I am seeing a good deal of this country via army channels, but still I would not trade any acre of the U.S.A. for all of Europe.

Hoping this finds you and all your family well, and with regards to everyone, I am,

Sincerely,
Alex (Bachrach)

Dear "June":

I've been wanting to write all the boys a line or two for some time, and I'm going to use my alibi—there's a war on! But, I really would like to have an hour or so to let all the boys know how things are over here.

I must tell you that we're having one of the earliest and neatest springs we have ever experienced for many years. The flowers are blooming, leaves are forming on the trees, and the birds are really singing! Ah, Spring in Plymouth—you can't beat it!

I see your mother quite often, and she's holding her own; ate breakfast with Dave this morning, and he's the same—we settle the war and economic problems before we begin the day's work.

Well, I am a day behind with my work, and the Advertiser has to come out, so I'm going to cut this letter here, with a continuation to follow at an early date.

It was a real pleasure hearing from you, and write again soon.

Sincerely, Tommy.

Mine Explosives

Staff Sergeant Howard Marrott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Marrott of Mansfield, and now here, writes his parents telling them of walking through a field in search of lumber to use as a floor in his tent when an undiscovered German mine exploded near him. So close was the mine that a telephone pole only three feet away from him was nearly sheared in two.

Sgt. Marrott wrote that he escaped with a piece of the mine in his left thumb. He is now in a C-47 transport plane.

His father believes that this incident took place in an area where no enemy troops have been for months.

Meets Willard Boys On Island

Theodore Viets, Sl-1c, of the Seabees, writes his mother, Mrs. Janet Viets of Willard, that he recently visited with Robert Shembury and Raymond Hickman, who are also on Iwo Jima, and the three had their pictures taken together.

In the letter he says some Japs are still around and giving trouble, but that they do not stop the work the Army is doing to transform the island.

Robert Shembury is a brother of Mrs. L. E. Brown of Plymouth.

Adventists Begin 6-Week Campaign

Seventh-day Adventists have opened their annual ingathering campaign, seeking to raise $100 in Plymouth as their part of the world-wide uplift and mission campaign.

The results of the world-wide campaign, which has grown to its present status in the last thirty years, are now seen in the saving of hundreds of American lives in the South Pacific and in help native Christians have also given our Allies forces on other battle fronts.

The money raised in this gathering effort will be used to further extend the world program of medical, educational, and evangelistic endeavor, and to help uplift work at home, the pastor said.

Last year they gave needed aid to nearly two million persons, sent tons of medical and other supplies to war-torn countries, and operated 100 societies and free medical clinics in 100 places.

It is estimated that it costs approximately $14.50 a minute to carry on this world-wide program.

According to Pastor H. G. Gauker, the Adventists are now working in four hundred countries and island groups, and using some 825 languages. They send out doctors, nurses and teachers who bring hope and health to millions of people.

He said that life-saving squads, organized in the Solomon Islands by the native Christian director of the Adventist mission there have rescued and saved from death more than seventy fallen airmen of the Allied forces.

In another area a group of native teachers rescued a whole regiment of Allied troops and carried them to safety.

A Native teacher, H. N. Gauker, was commended for his faithfulness and bravery in action when he led a party of officers and men, cut off by the Japanese, out of the almost impassable recesses of the Owen Stanley range of mountains.

SOHIO OFFERS NEW MAGNETIC OIL PLUG

One of the newest Sohio products, the Lisle Magnetic Plug, is now available to civilians, according to Jud Morrison, who operates Jud's Sohio Station on Sandusky street.

In giving a description of the new plug, Morrison said, "The Sohio Lisle Magnetic Plug, installed in place of the ordinary plug in crankcase and gear cases, traps and holds abrasive loose metal particles which are constantly ground off moving parts and mix with the oil."

"By keeping these emery-like metal particles from circulating through the motor and gears, the magnetic plug reduces wear, saves breakdowns and repairs, helps keep cars running better—longer! Won't wear out—the magnetic power lasts indefinitely."

"Sohio Magnetic Plugs are a great new war development now available for civilian use for the first time," said Mr. Morrison.

Morrison also pointed out that motorists should not confuse the magnetic plug with the ordinary type of "p" magnet. It contains a permanent magnet of 17 per cent Cobalt steel—a critical wartime material specially allocated by the U. S. government because of the plug's valuable and highly important protective function.

In order to introduce the value of this plug to motorists in this territory, the plugs are being offered for a short time at a special price of 33¢ each Sohio "All Spring Special," which includes Sohio motor clean-out, Spring-grade motor oil, and fresh gear oil.

Mr. Morrison has a plug used on display at the station which shows thousands of metal particles the magnet picked from the oil in the crankcase and differential.

Easter Sunday In The Presbyterian Church

The Easter services of the Presbyterian church were of unusual interest this year. They began with a Good Friday Communion service which was a very impressive service. John Lanlius was the soloist and as the emblems were passed, the choir sang "The Mystery of Intercession."

The Sunrise service at 6:15 A.M. found nearly 80 worshippers in the church. After 15 minutes of organ melody by Mrs. Geline Cole and the antiphonal was played by Lester Cole and this was the signal for the procession. The white-robed choir, led by Thomas Cunningham and Robert Sponsler, with open Bibles in their hands, marched down the aisles and to their places in the choir loft. The program was planned by Mrs. Helen Sams and consisted of hymns, prayers, Scripture, stories, special musical numbers. The offering at the altar was for the lepers and amounted to nearly $12.00.

Most of those present enjoyed the fellowship breakfast, which was planned and served by the Catherine Taylor Class.

The decorating of the auditorium was supervised by Miss Florence Danner. A large illuminated cross stood in the center of the stage; flowers and candles were elegantly arranged so as to give the best effect.

At the morning worship service the choir sang two selections—"Alleluiah" by Brander and "The Radiant Morn Has Passed Away" by Woodward. The high school trio sang, "Prayer Perfect and the Young People's Trio sang Day of Days by Van de Water. Mary-alice Weller and Helen Gowitzki were the soloists. The Easter Message of the pastor stressed "Christ is Let Loose" in the World Today."

Passed April 3, 1945.
