BOB HUNTER WINDS UP 36 MONTHS IN AMPHIBIOUS ENGINEERS, WHO MADE HISTORY IN EUROPEAN WAR

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hunter of Plymouth, Ohio, have received notification that their son, Robert, has recently been awarded Africa, November 8, 1942, the Robert entered United States Army in April, 1942. He was assigned for duty to the newly activated First Amphibious Brigade, a volunteer unit at the time, and the Army unit to pioneer and later to serve as a model for amphibious operations.

Robert embarked for overseas duty with his regiment later in the same year, whence he landed with assault force near Oran in Africa, November 8, 1942, the day which saw the United Nations abandon defensive action and swing into the offense for the first time in Europe. Since that time the first amphibious brigade has spearheaded every major offensive in the E. T. O., by wading ashore and establishing beachheads so that the hard-driving hordes to follow could deploy and lash out at the enemy.

PLEADS GUILTY OF TAKING GAS

Taking 10 gallons of gas and two cans from the tank at the George Mills home, near Ganges, proved costly to Paul Sourwine, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of taking the gas, filed with local officials by Mr. Mills. Appearing in Mayor Witt court Tuesday evening, shortly after being arrested Marshal Hulbert, on a warrant sworn out by Mr. Mills, a fine of $30 and costs of $7.50, was handed to the 18-year-old youth with 24 hours to pay up.

In relating how the youth was apprehended, Mr. Mills stated he and his wife left their home at 10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and drove into Shelby, where he came at 7 p. m. When Mills attempted to start up his tractor to drive it into a storage place, the gas tank was empty. The discovery of the gas theft was noticed when he went to his pump and found very little gas in it, as well as two cans missing.

The fact that Sourwine had approached Mills on several instances for extra gas, Mills had his suspicion, and took to drawing of the tire treads in the driveway. Coming to Plymouth, he checked at the home of the youth, and there, after a heavy shower Tuesday afternoon, the prints of the tread could be plainly seen. After questioning the youth, he finally admitted taking the gas and two cans, but this failed to bring Mills from swearing out a warrant for Sourwine's arrest.

Mrs. Pennington Heads Crestline Music Dept.

Mrs. Lucille Morrow Pennington has been hired by the board of education as music supervisor in the Crestline public schools. She succeeds Maurice O. Davis who recently resigned to accept a similar position with the public schools of Eatonville, Wash. She has had 16 years of teaching experience, most of which was in the Syracuse schools. She recently submitted her resignation to accept the Crestline offer.

Admitted to Hospital. Clair Tanner, of the County Jail, was taken to the Willard Municipal hospital for observation.

battles was fought and won. Now can be added their contribution to the breach of Hitler's vaunted "Atlantic Wall." Teamed with assault infantry, amphibians land with the initial waves on enemy beaches. Together with the infantry, they "de-louse" the beach area of hostile troops, blast pillboxes and road-blocks with portable charges, clear areas through minefields and begin organization work on dumps while the bulldozers dig out the roads and paths so necessary in bringing up armaments and equipment. During this phase of the operation, the enemy inevitably concentrates his artillery and air attacks on the amphibious engineers, who together with the Seabees then form the communications link between advancing infantry, and their seaborne supplies.

The shoulder patch of the amphibious engineers is more readily recognized in the British Isles than the United States. It is the insignia of the famous British "Commandos" or combined operations. The golden eagle, tommy gun, and anchor of the American insignia are emblazoned on a field of blue whereas the British patch superimposes the red figures on a field of black.

Robert is a member of his regimental band, several times publicized in syndicated dispatches as the "Invasion Band." This was the first U. S. Army band to play in North Africa and Sicily. At Salerno, however, the regimental sector was much too pre-occupied with other matters to permit continuation of the record. When engaged in amphibious operations, the bandmen have served in courier, medical, and mine-lifting work. Members of this band have also been called upon to man machine-gun outposts, guard prisoners of war and assist in Normandy operations, to serve as ship's anti-aircraft gunners. As one of the bandmen puts it, "Our instruments may not have been played as much" as they would be Glenn Millers, but they've certainly made more coast-to-coast jumps. To which the rest of the musicians add a hearty "Amen, brother!"

With 36 months of excitement and wading onto foreign shores behind them, Robert and the boys are looking forward to a gangplank landing for a change, and they're hoping it will be Staten Island, Doorway to Heaven.

26 PLANES AT WILARD MEET

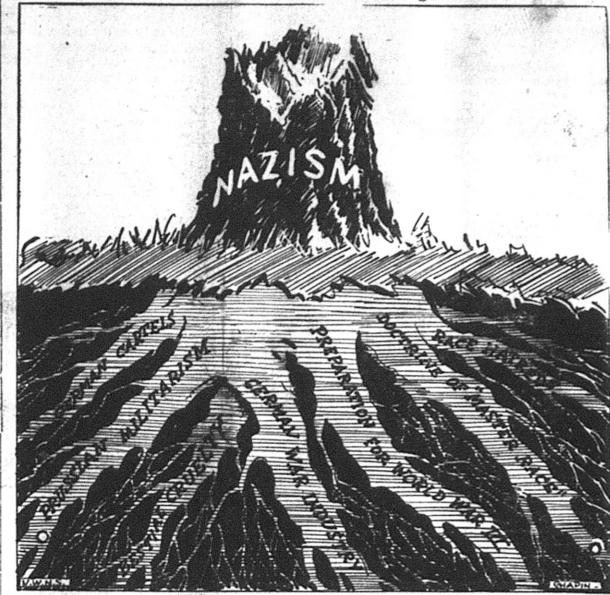

26 airplanes and over one hundred pilots were on hand last Sunday for the air meet held at the Willard Airport. The meet, sponsored by the newly formed Willard Flying Club, was quite successful and was well attended by many Plymouthites. Francis Guthrie was up at dawn and rode his bicycle over. Breakfast was served to all the visiting pilots and their passengers and two contests wound up the festivities. The planes which attended represented airports at Marion, Bucyrus, Mansfield, Norwalk, Sandusky, Tiffin, Elyria, and Ashland.

Perfect weather prevailed throughout the morning and the contests proved quite interesting to the many non-flying spectators who attended. The bomb-dropping contest proved to be much more different than it looked, the nearest hit was 50 feet away and the target and many of the bombs fell in surrounding fields. Plans and details of the meet were worked out by Mrs. Ann Heister of Centeron and Tom Root of Plymouth.

To Locate At Bucyrus

Dr. S. M. Simon, former Willard physician, expected to open an office for practice in Bucyrus last week. Dr. Simon practiced medicine in Willard before he was called into Army duty last January and upon his release from military service had intended to return to Willard. However, it is reported that some of his Bucyrus patients persuaded him to locate in their city.

The Terrific Job of Grubbing Out Roots

SCHOOL OPENS TUESDAY, SEPT 4; ALL TEACHING VACANCIES FILLED

The "good old summertime" failed to live up to its reputation somehow this year and most of us are still wondering if it slipped past without our knowing it or would it finally "break forth" just about the time that children return to school. Of course there have been some warm days, but spring was late in arriving, crops were slow, and the days passed so quickly that it is hard to realize that only a few more short weeks remain of summer vacation.

Most of the students of the upper grades in school have been working at war time jobs or joining in others and many will come to realize that perhaps after all, school time is vacation time, and the best part of their life.

Supt. P. I. Van Brunt announces that school will open on Tuesday, Sept. 4th, the Tuesday following Labor Day, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the preceding week will be for registrations and more complete details regarding this in next week's issue.

The staff for this year is as follows: Mr. P. I. Van Brunt, superintendent; Mrs. Mabel Lanus, H. S. principal and commercial; Mrs.

PROPOSE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION; MEETING IS CALLED FOR SUNDAY

With the opening of school for the 1945-46 year only a few weeks away, several people have shown a desire for the formation of a high school athletic association to further the cause of the athletic program in the Plymouth school. Several plans have been proposed. A regular set of officers would be elected and take over the duties commonly associated with those positions. Another alternative would be to select an executive committee with a chairman. In either event, students, parents, or any interested parties might take on the responsibility. The coach and the superintendent would of necessity take an active part in functioning of such a body.

A meeting of all those interested has been called for the 12th of August, at 3 p. m., in the high school auditorium. Everyone who is interested in the athletic program of the school, whether or not they are members of the school, is invited to attend. With the association formed, a controlling body may be selected, by-laws written, and plans formulated for the future activity. Some of the duties of such an association would be to add their enthusiasm at games, Margarithe Anderson, science and commercial; Miss Martha Bowman, history and social science; Miss Eula Lecher, English and French; Miss Elizabeth Mohr, home economics; Miss Fay Jeffrey, mathematics; Miss Joy Bethel, language and music; Mrs. Muri Davis, grade school principal and 6th grade.

Mrs. Birdena Ervin, 5th grade; Mrs. Harriet Farrar, 4th grade; Mrs. Helen Hoffman, 3rd grade; Mrs. Agnes McFadden, 2nd grade; Mrs. Margaret Harry, 1st grade.

Mr. Howard Beck will again be joining aided by Eldon Sourwine. William Van Loo and Ben Blanchard will be bus drivers. Mr. James Root will act as boys coach. Two teachers are new this year.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL AT DELPHI CHURCH

There will be an ice cream social Friday night, August 17th at the Delphi church. The affair is announced for 7:30, and in addition to ice cream, there will be cake, pie, coffee and chicken sandwiches offered the public. Residents of Plymouth are invited to attend.

BUY'S PROPERTY

Mr. and Mrs. William Van Loo have purchased the Baker property on West Broadway, now tenanted by Mrs. B. S. Ford. They expect to take possession by the first of the year.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued in probate court, Bucyrus, Thursday to John Timothy McKown, 23, soldier, Plymouth, now of Santa Ana, Calif., son of John and Agnes McKown, and Norma Ellen Smith, 19, Crestline, daughter of Davis and Mary Smith.

MISSING IN PACIFIC

A telegram was received on Wednesday morning by Mr. Ernest Davis at the Fate-Root-Heath Co., informing him that his son, Ernest, Jr., was missing in the Pacific. Mr. Davis left for his home in New Washington and no further details were available.

The Davis family formerly resided in Plymouth and have had unusually hard luck. Their son, Omar, was wounded in France and recently received a discharge; another son, Donald, is still overseas; and a son-in-law, Sgt. Elden Lynch, is back from overseas and now a patient in a Louisville, Ky., hospital. A small grandson of Shiloh, lost his life a few months ago when he was accidentally shut in a discarded ice box while playing. Friends and former school mates are hoping for better news at an early date.

COUNCIL PASSES MANY PROJECTS

Many important transactions came up before council at its meeting Tuesday night, which gave this group of village officials one of its busiest sessions in months. Outstanding action of the meeting was the approval of street markers for the streets of the village. Councilmen Kinsel and Nimmons are scheduled to make a survey of the village and give a report as to the number of street signs and posts required. The street marking program calls for iron posts to be set in concrete, with side arms bearing the street name. The cost of this improvement will total approximately $300.00. It is the hope of the committee in charge of the street marking program to have this work completed at a very early date.

To Ask One-half Mill Levy. Expiring last fall, the one mill levy which has supplied operating funds for the upkeep of Plymouth's cemeteries for the past five years, the village council passed a resolution Tuesday night, asking for a one-half mill levy. This new levy will be on the ballots for the voters of the village to pass upon in the forthcoming November election. It is estimated that the revenue derived from the one-half mill levy will total around $920 per year.

In checking over the upkeep of the local cemeteries, it was revealed by Clerk Rhine that the total income last year was $2400, and expenditures amounted to $2,300. This does not leave sufficient funds with which additional improvements could be carried out. It was pointed out by Mayor Wirth and the councilmen that while a one-half mill levy might receive the approval of the voters, (Continued on Page 8)

Around the Square (By Phineas Whittleseed)

BRIGHTER side of life about that new "atomic bomb." But I've come to the conclusion it would take more than that to jar some people in Plymouth. Maybe some of my fair-weather friends would like to see one land on top of the office. Sometimes, I think the same way!

WELL, LET'S talk about the brighter side of life! Wednesday was a gorgeous day, wasn't it? Just idea for farmers to work in the fields, and they are really bringing in the wheat and making hay.

BURR KNAUS told me the other day he had a 90-acre field that average 39 bushels of wheat to the acre. We'd say that is an exceptionally good yield.

CANDIDATES for local offices suddenly appeared, and the latest gossip we've heard is that Joe Lasch and Carrol Robinson are competing for mayor. There are others who will be on the ballot for various offices, so let's wait until next week, when we hope to print the list of those who filed.

AFTER RECEIVING a shipment of children's shoes this week, Harold Cashman of the Plymouth Shoe store was all smiles the other day when news from Washington stated, when shoe rationing might be lifted the first of the year.

THERE IS no doubt but what this is a busy season for John Ganzhorn at the Plymouth Garage. Ganzhorn worked the other morning until two o'clock to take care of incoming wheel!

FOR THREE consecutive weeks the Black and Gold sold out their complete stock of Advertisers. Couldn't help but wonder if our talents hadn't at last been recognized, when lo and behold our "stock" in the Advertiser hit a new low when Weldon Cornell let out the secret. Attendants at the free outdoor movie in Plymouth had been buying them to sit on. Oh, well, it is consoling to know that at least the Advertiser is the "seat" of education!

Our girls today like grandma's clothes. Her styles they often use; But grandma never wore, we know. The things our girls call shoes.

WHAT THRILLS! A can of pineapple or of ketchup left over from the days before the point price soared. A stalk of bananas hanging in a grocery window. Enough groceries to buy a car. Carry a baby through his first year. A "for rent" advertisement that doesn't specify "no children" or "permanent civilian couple."

A V-mail letter. They say the post-war world is going to offer us a lot. It will have to if it is going to give us as much of a thrill as the simple things we have learned to appreciate since the war started.

A PROMISE-A pretty young nurse was selling poppies. "Hot Stuff" told her that he would give her a $5 bill for a poppy provided she would nurse him if he ever went to her hospital. She promptly agreed. "By the way," H. S. asked, "where is your hospital?" "It's at the Maternity hospital," meekly replied the nurse as she stuffed the bill into the box.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK-It is easy in the world to wait after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude-Ernerson.

CORRECTION, PLEASE! In an advertisement of Harry's Market last week, it was stated: "All our meats federal inspected." This should have read: "All our meats are federal graded." The error occurred when our advertising department mistook the ad, and in no way Harry's Market to be blamed for the misprint. The Editor.

Out-Backs Point to Reconversion Need

COMPANIES POSSESS FUNDS FOR PEACETIME OUTPUT

By Al Jedlicka

Already cut 9 per cent under peak March levels, war production is scheduled for a further 23 per cent reduction during the remainder of 1945, pointing up reconversion problems facing the nation following the defeat of Germany.

Totalling 16.3 billion dollars, outbacks during the first six months of 1945 have affected 2,500 plants, but whereas many workers remained untouched because much of the reduction was in future contracts rather than in actual work, the situation will tend to reverse itself during the last two quarters of the year when present programs get under way.

Indicative of the trend, 31 per cent of the contracts cut back in April were for scheduled future production, with the total for May 14 per cent. In June, however, the figure was only 5 per cent, with the remainder consisting of working contracts.

When the senate was asked to act on liberalization of unemployment legislation to absorb reconversion distress, and there were rumblings that the whole reconversion program was moving too slowly, OPA took steps to facilitate manufacturers' switch over to civilian output and the Securities and Exchange commission revealed that American corporations and Exchange companies possessed 63 per cent more working capital than in 1939.

In seeking to speed up manufacturers' reconversion, OPA formulated price policies designed to guarantee the producer an adequate profit margin while at the same time keeping costs within reasonable levels to avert the danger of inflation.

Under the OPA plan, manufacturers having an annual business of $300,000 or more will be permitted to add wage and material cost increases over prewar prices, and then include half of the industry-wide profit margin for 1936 to 1939.

It is estimated that the total assets of all companies was estimated at $45,500,000,000. In reviewing the financial condition of the 1,200 corporations, the SEC reported that the net working capital of 25 aircraft and related equipment companies jumped from $9,000,000 in 1939 to $470,000,000 in 1944, while the liquid assets of 94 railroads soared from $47,000,000 to $1,548,000,000.

U. S. Can Land When and Where Desired on Japanese Coast

Shortly after Vice Adm. Daniel Barbey had told radio listeners that the U. S. could land forces in Japan "just where needed" and that major landing could be made within 90 days, new dispatches from Pacific base indicated of important developments. The first large-sized group of American soldiers deployed directly from Europe arrived in Manila (P.I.), where shipping activity is said to be geared to the task. Another group was recorded when the Pacific fleet steamed to the very doorstep of Tokyo and shelled the Ili-Shan (P.I.). Establishment of Ili-Shan to the capital is indicated on the inset. Also, Chinese sources reported new progress in clearing the Chinese coast near Shanghai (C.I.).

Miss Bessie Kellerhals To Be Married On Friday Evening

Before the altar in the Methodist church Friday evening at 7:30, Miss Bessie Elinora Kellerhals will be united in marriage to David Turvey in the presence of the immediate family and a few friends.

Rev. E. R. Haines, pastor, will officiate, using the single ring ceremony. Miss Kellerhals has chosen for her marriage a street length dress of white and will carry an arm bouquet of flowers. She will have as her bride's maid Miss Helen Ewing of Tiro, who will also be gowned in white. Mr. Turvey will be attended by Dale Kellerhals, brother of the bride-elect.

Miss Kellerhals is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olivene Kellerhals, a graduate of Plymouth high school, class of 1945 and has been employed at the Parsel Air Supply Depot.

Mr. Turvey, gunner's mate 3-c, is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Turvey of Eugene, Ore., and has been in the navy for four years, three years in the Pacific, just returning to the states from Okinawa. He is the holder of seven battle stars and the Purple Heart. After undergoing an operation for an injured hand, he hopes to resume his education at Ohio State university in the medical department.

The young couple expects to leave Sunday for Eugene, Ore., Sunday to visit Mr. Turvey's parents.

MIDNITE SHOW EVERY WEDNESDAY PLYMOUTH THEATRE 11:30 P. M.

MARCH OF TIME DEPICTS NEW FRONTIER

The current issue of the March of Time to be shown at Plymouth theater at the midnight show Saturday and Sunday and Monday shows, deals adequately with an important and vital post-war problem, the problem of the Pacific islands. "The New U. S. Frontier" is presented in excellent pictures with a terse and convincing commentary. The film clearly shows that by the war's end the frontier of the United States will have crossed the full breadth of the Pacific. The film expresses the idea that the defeat of Japan will find the United States with new commitments as a Pacific power and with additional responsibilities. The editors of the March of Time have selected Guam as an example of a fortified island. The accomplishments of military and naval engineers are shown by roads, harbors and airfields. The modern methods our troops have brought to the island are shown in contrast to colorful island life. "The New U. S. Frontier" is a better than average March of Time. It is an important subject that is well prepared and because of its timeliness it will have wide spread appeal.

Wins Leniency

Mrs. Rosaline Eckels, 25, Shiloh R. D. 2, was given a 60-day jail sentence in juvenile court on a charge of neglecting her six children between the ages of five months and nine years. Judge Stuart Cramer suspended the sentence on condition that she provide proper care for her family. Her husband, Harrison Eckels, 56, charged on a similar count, heard his case dismissed attendant upon his promise to pay for costs of the action.

Yank Magazine Carries Story of Invasion

In the July 8 issue of the continental edition of the "Yank" the Army weekly, an article entitled "The Payoff" gives a vivid description of the final phases of the war—the sweep across the Roer and the Rhine, fanning out deep into Germany in all directions until one day the war was over. The article was written by Sgt. Ralph G. Martin, Yank Staff Correspondent, and covers the complete history.

Pfc. Sid Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Thomas, was a member of the first squadron of the first platoon of the 334th Inf., 84th Division that was the first to cross the Roer River in the first wave. The article goes on to tell about the successive cities as they fell and at one time the 84th was the nearest to Berlin. However, it was halted to let the Russians take the city.

Pfc. Thomas is now near Heidelberg, Germany, on occupational duty but began July 30th on an intensive eight weeks jungle training course.

On Furlough

Flight Officer Dayton Cramer, recently of St. Joseph, Mo., and a C-46 first pilot is spending a furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Cramer on North St. His wife, the former Dawn Saxton of Newark, N. J., is also visiting in the home. F/O Cramer will report at Nashville, Tenn., for reassignment and Mrs. Cramer will remain for a time with his parents.

Completes Training

Pvt. James E. Rhine has completed his basic training at Camp Crowder, Mo., and has been transferred to radio operator's school for an 11-week course. He began his classes on Monday.

New Address

Pvt. James E. Rhine 35999916 Co. C, 31st Sig. Tn. Bn., 7th Regt. Army, Ft. Belvoir, Camp Crowder, Mo.

Home From The Pacific

Sgt. Henry Vander-Bill, member of Ohio's famous 37th division, has returned home and is now enjoying a 30-day furlough with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vander-Bill. He had been overseas 38 months.

He was met at Camp Atterbury, Ind. by his parents, his wife of Mansfield and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leo and son of Plymouth. The entire group then returned to Plymouth.

While there, they also visited another son Cpl. Bernard Vander-Bill and wife at Franklin, Ind. Cpl. Vander-Bill is stationed at Atterbury, but his wife resides in Franklin.

LIBRARY NOTES

All members of the Plymouth Library Board were present for their annual picnic August 2nd at the Mary Park Park. Later, the group adjourned to the home of Mrs. Sam Bachrach for their business meeting. The next meeting is announced for August 30, with Miss Fenner.

New Encyclopedia.
 For years the Library has been in need of a good up-to-date encyclopedia and while several have been furnished, none has been complete enough to fill the needs of patrons. Recently, Miss Jessie Trauger purchased a World Book Encyclopedia that includes the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt and the biography and picture of President Truman taking the office of president. This book has been made possible by money given to the Library by Mrs. Eleanor Searle Whitney. High School students will find it especially valuable for this year's work.

Other New Books.
 Other new books available to the public are:
 Robinson Crusoe, USN, Clark; Wayfarers, Wickardon; Dragon Harvest, Sinclair; Lay That Pistol Down, Powell; Captain Hornblower, Forester; The Red Haired Lady, Corbett; A Lion Is In The Streets, Langley; The Townsman, Sedges.

OFFICIATES AT FUNERAL
 Rev. J. J. Adams, retired Methodist minister of the Shelby road, officiated Saturday at the funeral services for Frank Jones, 78, of Galion. Burial was made in the Ibera cemetery.

SOCIETY

Miss Jacoba Postema, of Willard, Weds Sgt. H. Bosscher

Miss Jacoba Postema, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Postema, of New Haven, and Staff Sgt. Harold Bosscher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rhyne Bosscher, of Grand Rapids, Mich., were united in marriage at the home of her brother, Harris Postema, at Plymouth, Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. J. C. Scholten of the Christian Reformed church at Celeryville, read the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families of the young couple.

EDITORIAL

SUGAR SUBSTITUTES

AFTER reading 25 tips on how to get along without sugar, we experienced a terrific ache in the sweet tooth. The very subject matter started us dreaming about delicious things to eat. As we pictured a thick, heavily frosted chocolate cake, we read about a sugarless corn-starch pudding.

It was our intention to write an editorial passing on to our readers a few of the best-sounding suggestions for making a pound of sugar do double duty. But we came to the conclusion that the only honest answer is to pull out your sweet tooth and store it away until the shortage is over.

We can all get along with less sugar all right. But we think in general it might be easier to just grin and bear it than to experiment with the concoctions which are going to be dreamed up as "happy substitutes."

PRESIDENTIAL LINE-UP

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S request for a change in the line of ascendancy to the Presidency is one which will be widely debated before any action is taken.

The President's argument is that men elected by the people, rather than those appointed by him, should succeed to the Presidency in the case of his death. He has suggested that the first in line be the speaker of the house and the second, the president of the senate.

But although these two men are elected by some of the people—the people of their district or state—on many occasions they might not be considered at all satisfactory to the people as a whole.

If a change is to be made, it seems to us that we would get a man who met with greater public favor if the house was given authority to elect a new President from its own group. In that event the local representative of each of us would have a vote and would each vote for a man who he thought would have the approval of his constituents.

Dale Carnegie
Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

MAKING EMPLOYEES IMPORTANT

THE subject of this story is president of a wine and spirits shop in the downtown section of New York City, where price cutting was rampant.

Seven years ago he found he had so much competition that he was about to be pushed into the East river. He tried to think of some way to beat this competition, but a lot of brains were thinking on the other side. Thinking how they could keep money out of his cash drawer.

He decided he would cut the price of liquor still more. Then the idea came to him that maybe a good place to go to work was in his own organization, instead of trying further price cutting.

He decided to show more appreciation for his staff, and to let each one feel important. He started in with his cashier, as an experiment: She had worked for him for years, but he'd hardly ever complimented her on her work.

He complimented her for her patience and began calling her his head cashier. He had only one cashier, so naturally she was the head cashier. But she liked this little attention. When people came into his office he introduced her and called her his head cashier. She liked it and instead of being colorless and inconspicuous, when visitors were about, she talked to them, full of pride in her work.

He had only one salesman, but instead of referring to him over the telephone and in his presence, when others were there, as merely a salesman, he referred to him as "manager in charge of sales." The man liked it. It appealed to his sense of importance.

He had only one shipping clerk. Instead of referring to him as the shipping clerk, he began calling him "our traffic manager." The shipping man liked it.

Immediately the morale of the organization went up. The staff came earlier and worked with a better will, simple as were the things Mr. Le Petri had done.

Ninety per cent of the retail liquor stores in New York do less than $50,000 business a year. By increasing his office morale, Mr. Le Petri has raised his sales volume to nearly $300,000 a year.

Advantages Offered Through Cooperation In Conservation Plan

The proposed soil conservation district for Huron county will include all land outside incorporated towns and villages. Anyone owning farm land in Huron county will be given the opportunity to vote for or against the proposed soil conservation district.

The establishment of a soil conservation district in any county according to house bill No. 616, inclusive, enables farmers within the district to work together on special problems relative to drainage, supplements farm water supply, and land use problems. For example, the board of supervisors elected by farmers in the county may request technical assistance from the soil conservation service. Conservation technicians may be requested to assist farmers in planning farm ponds to supplement their water supply and with information on rotations that will maintain a proper productivity balance on their farms.

The soil conservation district law is an enabling act. This act is a tool with which a group of farmers may work in bringing together various types of assistance that should aid them in carrying out their conservation program. It is not a bureau, or a new department, but merely a democratic organization whereby farmers work together in an attempt to solve land use problems.

Huron county has been granted the privilege of holding a referendum in August to determine whether or not a district shall be established for the county.

PRIZES OFFERED ON NEW DEVICES

The Huron-co fair board has added a new department to their fair this year, which they hope will be of benefit to many people.

This new department consists of labor saving devices with prizes of $15, $10 $6 and $3 for farm motive power articles which includes tractor, etc. and other farm equipment which includes elevators, etc.

Prizes of $7, $5, $3 and $2 will be offered for garden and lawn power or equipment and $10 and $5 offered for any novelty display which will include model airplanes.

All articles must be strictly home made and no patented devices will be considered. They may include manure loaders, tractor, cultivators, elevators and several other articles. Devices will be judged by the amount of labor saved, novelty, usefulness, simplicity, workmanship and safety.

Competition is open to anyone and articles can be brought in Wednesday morning, Aug. 29th. The committee in charge is Harry D. Smith, Chas. Ryerson, H. S. Dalton and Gus Johnson. Entries can be mailed to Mrs. Elfreda Crayton, secy, court house, Norwalk. Details are printed on page 113 of the fair premium book.

DECKHANDS ARE BADLY NEEDED

Young men of not less than 16 years and 10 months and not more than 17 years and 2 months of age are needed immediately to work as deckhands on continental ports on the harbor scale of pay, the chief of transportation, army service forces headquarters, Washington, announced today.

A serious shortage of veterans and trained deckhands is impeding the flow of war material at ports of embarkation, the chief of transportation revealed.

Men of eighteen years of age and over are urged to apply provided that they have a selective service status which gives reasonable assurance of their not being inducted. Discharged veterans are eligible for immediate acceptance in the recruiting program.

Successful applicants will be appointed to a six-weeks' training course at the transportation corps center marine barracks, Parris Island, Port of Embarkation, La.

Upon completion of training, deckhands will be assigned to one of the ports of embarkation and will receive the preference of qualified deckhands to conform with the prevailing wage rates of that locality.

Young men in Ohio, Kentucky, West Va. and Indiana may apply for appointment to the fifth zone transportation office, 52 South Starling street, Columbus 8, O.

This Week in WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. (INNS)—Although the London Convention of Winston Churchill's Conservative party in England came as a severe shock to government leaders here, it was not unexpected that the British Labor party will alter Great Britain's international policies. For domestic as well as international purposes, the domestic goals of the different parties in England, all are believed to be in agreement on foreign policy. Consequently there is little danger of any relaxation on the part of the English government in applying the war against Japan or in agreeing to the terms of the Charter written in San Francisco.

Although the Charter has met with little opposition in our senate, it is feared that there may be many battles over it when the time comes to carry out its purposes. For, although most senators think there is no question but that it commits our country to have troops and planes on call for international police duty, the group of isolationist senators led by Senator Wheeler will not admit that we are committed without passing separate legislation. They also will not admit that the approval of the Charter gives the President power to use troops without approval by congress.

Each week sees the relaxation of more government control, which brings us closer, step by step, to normal civilian life. The War Production board says that reconversion plans are progressing rapidly in many leading industries and that more and more products will return to the market as materials become available. The fact that war production orders were reduced by an overall total of about $3,500,000,000 in June gives some indication of the amount of supplies and services, formerly used for war purposes, which are now available for civilian use.

Among the products on which the WPS says reconversion progress is particularly outstanding are auto-

GUERNSEY SETS A HIGH RECORD

Peterborough, N. H.—A four-year-old registered Guernsey cow, Green Meads Queen Wistaria, owned by Roger A. Black, of Mansfield, O., has completed a creditable Advance Register record of 4443 pounds of milk, and 639.5 pounds of butterfat and besides this record, this cow produced a healthy calf for her owner.

Queen Wistaria is the thirty-fourth daughter of the famous Guernsey sire, Lancaster King of the Meads, that has sixty-four sons and daughters in the Performance Register of The American Guernsey Cattle Club.

This record was supervised by the Ohio State University and reported to the American Guernsey Cattle Club for approval and publication.

MORE CANNED FOOD WILL GO TO CIVILIANS

More canned vegetables will be available to civilians of Richland county than early estimates provided as the result of a recently announced War Food Administration plan. On the basis of military requirements.

According to the new order a total of 103,200,000 cases of vegetables will be released from the 1945 pack for civilian consumption this year. On the basis of 24 cans, No. 2 size, to a case, the share of civilians in this county would be about 1,514,000 cases, according to W. C. Stolk, vice president of the American Can Co.

Percentage-wise, the largest reductions in Army requirements are for snap and lima beans, car-

HUNTING LAWS REMAIN SAME

Hunting regulations tentatively announced this year by the Ohio Conservation Commission were confirmed at the July meeting in Columbus with only one minor change.

The season on pheasants, rabbits, partridges and grouse will open at 11 a. m. Official Ohio Time, on Friday, November 16. The season on these game birds will close December 1, but rabbits will remain legal quarry until January 12. All opening and closing dates are included in the open season.

The season on inland trapping and night hunting for fur-bearing animals will open at 6 p. m. November 16 and will close January 19. The season on trapping in the Lake Erie District will close March 15.

The quail season in the southern zone of the state will open September 15 and in the northern zone September 22. The season in both zones will close October 1.

INSURANCE FOR CROPS CAN BE HAD TO SEPT

Federal crop insurance affording protection for the farmer against loss of his 1946 wheat crop from adverse weather conditions, will be available to farmers until Sept. 15, it was announced today at the county Triple-A office.

The insurance, set up under a program enacted recently by congress, is offered to all persons who have an interest in the production of wheat, including landowners, tenants, and sharecroppers. Applications for insurance must be filed before the crop is seeded this fall and no later than Sept. 15.

Coverage of 50 or 75 percent of the average farm yield is available to farmers. The program is under the direction of the A.A.A. which will name agents in each of the county's townships to handle applications.

State Highway Director.

IN MEMORIAM
Just one year ago Aug. 7 Our dear Dad passed away; Such and sudden was the call of one so dear and loved by all. In our hearts your memory lingers, Always tender, fond and true, There's not a day, dear Dad, We do not think of you. We did not know the pain you felt, Or hear your final sigh, We only know you went away Without a last goodbye.

it was deemed advisable to ask only for sufficient funds with which to keep the cemeteries in their present state; and anticipating any drastic improvements until after the end of the war.

Street Improvements.
In its report to council, the street committee recommended that the secondary streets in their present state; and anticipating any drastic improvements until after the end of the war.

In view of the fact that State Route 61 north of Plymouth, is to be resurfaced and probably widened, Plymouth may have a main thoroughfare. Plymouth and Sandusky streets, resurfaced at the same time. For the past three years this main highway through town has been subjected to exceedingly heavy war-laden trucks, and as a result the highway has become one of "bumps and gutters."

Mayor Wirth and the village council have been working on this project for the past two years trying to get the state highway department to participate in the program, and from reports at hand it is very likely that the work may be started this fall.

Disposal Plant is Seen
As a part of its postwar program, Plymouth officials are hopeful of constructing a sewage disposal plant within the village. Two years ago an engineer was called in, and since that time, he has started ground work for the project. Several officials are planning on going to Willard within a few days to view the plant in operation there. In the mean time, within the next few months, additional engineering services will be engaged, and definite plans for the construction of the plant will no doubt be ready for presenting to council around the first of the year.

Financial Balances.
Current bills were read and passed upon for payment, and Clerk Rhine read the following report:
General Fund $ 5,460.45
Water Fund 6,235.64
Light Fund $25,719.23
Cemetery Fund $ 2,827.52
Auto License Fund $ 1,515.69
Gas Tax Fund $ 1,428.52

The three Brinkerhoff Funds, including Poor, Fuel and Trust funds, totalled $1,569.00.

After the two-hour session the councilmen present, felt that they had done a good night's job, and adjourned until their next meeting on August 21, 1945.

Included Willard Wirth, president of the council, Joe Lash, Ott Kinsel, Harold Ruckman, Raymond Beck, Marion Wimmer, and Luther Fetters, with James Rhine presiding as clerk.

NEW SCHOOL IS REAL PROBLEM

It will take more than a handful of tricks if Plymouth is to get a new school building within the next two years. After listening to George Hershiser's report, including the board of education's proposal which began some three years ago to secure a new grade school building for Plymouth, Community Club members got a first-hand review of the many obstacles that have faced the board since plans were begun for the new structure.

It is very apparent that the citizenry of Plymouth is indifferent toward the position of the board and its problems; as not one citizen outside of the Community Club was present for the report, as announced last week. However, a good attendance of Community Club members was on hand for the meeting, and a better understanding was secured through Mr. Hershiser's talk.

The original plans for the grade school building provided for an estimated cost of $40,000, with an additional $7,000 to be used in the construction of a work shop at the local high school. With bonds approved and sold the board's opinion that no hitch in construction would be met. The agreement with NYA officials fell behind, and much trouble was experienced in going ahead with the building program.

To make a long story short, the NYA program fell through; Europe at war, and then Pearl Harbor. In the meantime, the old school building was razed; money in the bank from sale of bonds drawing interest; and a very overcrowded condition at the high school building where grade school pupils had been jammed. In order to relieve this situation, four rooms were added at the high school, and this somewhat alleviated congestion.

Today, the board has $30,000 in cash and in building, nor even good aspects of a building. There are two alternatives: an additional bond issue can be floated, and if turned down, the Board will have to revise its plans, according to the amount of money it has on hand, and then once again ask the voters to approve the change in architecture and structure, and that the money from the bonds they have already been sold, can be used for the new building.

In any event, the outlook for a grade building is a very dark one, and has started a fine element of two years, even with the war ending tomorrow.

To Sponsor Show
In an effort to help the Boy Scout organization in its work of publishing a monthly newsletter for the boys overseas and at home, Edward Ramsey of the Plymouth Theater, announced that he would donate the entire proceeds of his theater, the funds from which to be used in this work. A committee, composed of J. E. Nimmons, chairman, E. L. Ernest and D. J. Ford, will contact Mr. Ramsey, set the date, and announce the show. More details will be given later.

Other than a brief discussion on building sites and the routine of business, the meeting came to a close. The session, held at the Methodist church, with dinner being served by the ladies of the church, proved to be one of the most interesting of the year.

SCHOOL OPENS

Miss Jeffrey and Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Harry has served before in Plymouth school but left for a year because of ill health.

Over $1,000 worth of new text books has been purchased for this year to replace the worn out books in many classes. Text books may be expected to last at least five years with normal care. Since this represents a rather heavy outlay for the books the board insists that for this care be given. If at the end of the year the book is unduly worn or damaged the student will be expected to pay 4-5 cents of the cost of the book and he will then keep the book. In succeeding years the value of the book will lessen and the amount charged will decrease.

The following children are on the rolls as starting the first grade this year. The parents of any children not in this list should call the school as soon as possible. Provision has been made for the following children:

Gene Allan Briggs, Lee Allen Bixley, Thomas Brown, Roberta Bachrach, Jean Ann Cornish, Franklin Eckstein, James Jacobs, Monnie Jackson, Alice McDougall, Bill Bachrach, Donald Barnett, Tony Farmer, James Howard Fidler, James Leroy Hunt.
Joseph Harrod, Florence Myers, David Dorion, Sally Barbour, Marjorie Ann Curran, Jo Denis Donnenwirth, Richard J. Hunter, Glenn Elden Pedmore, Joan Postema, Nida Marie Stroup, Josie

Laferty, Shirley Jean Myers, Robert Onoy, Ronnie Sherman Vanderpool.

SUES FOR DIVORCE
Through her attorneys, Carpenter and Freeman, Hazel Marshall R. D. Greenwich, has sued Wiley Marshall of Greenwiche for divorce.

Mrs. H. L. Roe of west Road, Plymouth, has been employed to teach home economics in the Shiloh High School.
