

Plymouth Lost Tourney Tilt

It was a good game, but not quite good enough to let us play when Plymouth met Belleville in the first game of the Richmond County Tournament played in Mansfield.

In the last game of the season, the Pilgrims defeated Union on Plymouth's floor last Friday evening, 40 to 30.

Starting slowly, it looked as if the Pilgrims were reserving their strength for the last half of the game and beginning in the third quarter they "let loose," and in the final quarter piled up fourteen points, with Union unable to match their speed or to keep them from scoring.

It was the first time this year where the precedent was broken—in that the Reserver lost their game and the Varsity won.

A novelty attraction between halves was a game played by the girls. Girls basketball has for a long time been a thing of the past, and watching these teams play Friday night with fire and enthusiasm makes it seem a "downright shame" that girls are denied participation in such an enjoyable and worthwhile sport.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NWS) —Despite the fact that a number of major strikes have been settled recently, there is a general feeling here that all striking settlements will be of a temporary nature until the government establishes a real labor policy which will govern labor-management relations in the future.

The nearest thing to such a policy is the labor disputes bill recently introduced into the house by Rep. Francis Case, Republican of North Dakota. This bill, which is vehemently opposed by labor union leaders and will therefore meet with a great deal of opposition, asks for a lot more control over labor than does the Norton fact-finding bill favored by President Truman.

Among the most important provisions of the Case measure are: to outlaw boycott and sympathy strikes; to prevent workers in one plant from striking to help another union get demands; to restore the power of the courts to issue injunctions in labor disputes; to make violence or threats in labor disputes punishable by the courts; to exclude any non-union employees from the protection of the Wagner act; to provide for a cooling off period before a strike threat can be carried out; to set up a mediation board patterned after the War Labor Board to make it unlawful for pickets to block out of work any workers from entering their place of employment.

Labor Leaders, who naturally fight all measures which put them under new controls, will undoubtedly carry on a major campaign to prevent passage of the bill out of Congress. It is just the type measure for which the public has been asking. It is doubtful, however, that it will be considerably amended and many of the needs taken out of it as it actually comes up for vote.

Although the number of men still out on strike is well over a million, the Federal labor strike threats at the present time, Edgar L. Warren, chief of the U. S. Civilian Control Service, recently predicted that they are about to enter a period of industrial peace.

John L. Lewis' recent agreement to join forces with the American Federation of Labor and Congress Industrial Organizations, recently predicted that any particular surprise here, but many of the more conservative members of congress hope that it will not happen. They fear that the fight between AFL and the CIO will now become more bitter. They feel that any legislation is passed to prevent strikes over union representation, we may be in for a lot of new labor troubles.

So far, the hearings on the bill recently introduced by Rep. June 30 when the OPA act expires, indicate that the act will be extended. In fact, plenty of the supporting legislation to show that without OPA controls, disastrous inflation would follow almost immediately.

Willard Veterans Honor Gold Star Families

The Veterans of foreign wars' Willard Honor guests for dinner thirty-four persons representing twenty-one gold star families from Willard, Plymouth and New Haven, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Eagles Hall where the Eagles Auxiliary served 200 chicken dinners to the persons that were the guests of honor.

Doings In Congress

By CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM LEMKE

We have seen the price we paid in casualties and in dollars for the privilege of participating in World War II. Within a generation we became embroiled in World War. We entered World War I "to end all wars" and "make the world safe for democracy." We entered World War II under the high ideals of the Atlantic Charter — the Four Freedoms.

These were the slogans — the bait — to get us to accept these wars as our own. When we look behind these slogans, we find that the truth is that we entered World War I and II to save the British Empire. The Pearl Harbor affair, with its loss of world importance, is history. Now comes F. D. R. has departed. The Churchill articles in 'Life' tell us how we were unappreciated into the war.

Living in a world of foreign deception, how can we prevent World War III? The remedy is for all to become just pro-American and pro-nothing else. Let us reestablish the America of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln. Let us take the false slogans and make them a reality. Let us liquidation of other nations and other people must stop. Let him proceed to all the world that he is over, and that further bloodshed of the vanquished, by those who bear an equal responsibility for World War II, must cease.

If he will do this all the United Nations, except Great Britain and Russia, will join him, and these will be forced to join by universal public opinion. The time has come for our President to quit appeasing Great Britain and Russia. He must stop turning over for liquidation political prisoners. That is contrary to all American history. It is inconducive to a just and lasting peace.

We have seen that our foreign policy is a fraud, that we have approved liquidation, brutality and atrocity in Europe, Indonesia and other places. It is a policy of weak-kneed surrender of our ideals. We repeat it is based upon liquor—with Uncle Sam the bartender. The Atlantic Charter has been forgotten. However, the policy is not the policy of our people. They will rectify it in 1948.

We find our nation depleted of all kinds of necessary goods. We find that through the bungling of the OPA and other bureaucracies, the returning GI cannot get or build a home. There is no lumber or other building material. He cannot get farm implements or equipment, not even tools. Our Government has been too busy supplying other nations.

We wasted or gave away, via lend-lease, a large part of the $342,000,000 we are still owing. We will do the same with the $342,000,000 of obligations we have yet to meet. This means $470 for every man, woman and child. That is the blanketed mortgage upon the baby when it is born. It will be collected by taxation.

We are busy making out our income tax returns. Many of us will have to borrow the money to pay it. Yet we are asked to buy more bonds to make gifts, not loans, to foreign nations. We are asked to cancel billions that other nations owe us, while our farmers are compelled to pay the old feed and seed loans. Still worse, the returning veterans will soon start paying taxes to take care of the board bill, via subsidies, of the "stay at homers."

Congress is flooded with propaganda—with foreign idealogues. Members are asked to give their blindly vote for this or that for foreigners. They are flooded with letters demanding that they take care of the board bill, via subsidies, of the "stay at homers."

The authors forget that if we are to continue as a free people, then government by bureaucracy must be abolished. You have no right to ask Members to violate their oath of office or the Constitution — to vote blindly. Before you write your Member to do this or that, you yourself should get the facts, and not base your request on false propaganda.

We must be on guard lest we become a vehicle through which this propaganda is disseminated. We must not accept high sounding slogans in which is concealed the poison that will destroy us. Before you write Members to vote a certain way, be sure you know why.

INTERNATIONAL BAD MANNERS

THE American public has had trouble following the accounts of the UNO meeting with comprehension. However, one thing stands out—there is some angry name calling going on at this meeting on the other side of the ocean.

Some of the language of the representatives has been strong—"I give the lie to that accusation" has resounded through the meeting hall. Frictions such as those of Iran, Greece and Indonesia could hardly fail to excite temper when thrown open for discussion. But the most important point is—they are being discussed openly instead of being whispered about darkly behind closed doors, which is a healthy sign.

The peoples of the world can still be optimistic about the UNO—even while frowning at the display of bad manners in some quarters. But while being optimistic, some will continue to keep their fingers crossed.

'TAX' FOR WAGE INCREASES

HIGHER prices appear to be the formula for settling strikes. If manufacturers are permitted to get more for their goods, they will naturally be in a position to pay higher wages. Perhaps it is the only way out.

But what such a settlement means is this: the wage increases which labor has demanded are going to be paid by the people. When you pay more for a new car than the price named in the original selling, you will be paying that extra amount in order to help meet the wage increases demanded by the automobile workers. All along the line, no matter what you buy, a "tax" will be added for wage increases.

The people who will suffer most from this limited inflation will be those who didn't strike, who don't belong to unions, and who will have to pay higher prices without getting any increases in income.

Thillbeck in WAS, 'T' GOO

WASHINGTON, D. C. (WVNS)—For the first time in years, the house of representatives has passed, by a large vote, a bill known as the "Thillbeck" bill, sponsored by organized labor. This bill is expected to serve as a warning to union leaders that their strike actions in the past few months have stirred up public resentment and that they will lose out in the long run unless they show more consideration for the public.

Whether the Case bill, which provides drastic curbs on the operations of labor unions, ever see light of day in the senate is very questionable. If left up to the senate labor committee, which has almost a unanimous pro-labor membership, there is little chance that it will ever be brought to the floor. It is quite probable that the measure will be brought out by some other committee, as it was in the house, and may then be voted upon.

The Case bill, however, is not expected to be of much use in settling present labor-management controversies which are seriously delaying reconversion. These will be settled, by the government, on a comparative small scale on practically everything. When assured of being able to charge higher prices which partly cover wage increases, management will then probably agree to boost wages to a point satisfactory to labor.

Office of Price Administration officials, who have been battling to hold prices in line, see this move as a highly inflationary one, but some of them agree that it is better to permit limited inflation than to have production delayed indefinitely.

President Truman's sudden "tighten your belt" order, and his announcement that rationing may come back in order to aid the critical food situation in Europe, came as a big surprise, even to the leaders of the food industry.

Whether we will have to get out our ration books again will be uncertain, according to the President it will depend on how far we go voluntarily. There will continue to be plenty to eat in our country, since we will only be called upon to sacrifice a comparatively small proportion of our production of a few vital products, particularly wheat. And a large quantity of the wheat we will be asked to sacrifice will be made available by reducing the amount used for alcoholic beverages.

Few Americans will object to this small sacrifice when they are reminded of the plight of people in the rest of the world, but it is to be hoped that, from now on, our government will keep us out of the rest of the world. Not long ago the department of agriculture informed us that we could, in 1946, export 200 million bushels of wheat, and still expect 15 pounds per capita more than we had in 1943. Evidently the estimate was very faulty, or else the true facts were being held back from the American people.

Dale Carnegie Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE" DRAMATIZING PRODUCT PAID WASHINGTON FRAZIER is a man who believes in dramatizing the article that is to be sold. He was given the job of bringing his company's new automobile model to the attention of dealers and salesmen in the New England district. A special meeting was to be held in Hartford, Conn., where the new car was to be unveiled. He found that the ballroom where the sales convention was to be held was on the twelfth floor of the hotel. To have the car on display in the lobby doing nothing would not be dramatic, since the men he wanted to reach were on the twelfth floor. So he decided to take advantage of what obviously was a real disadvantage and put that car before them in a way that had never been done in automobile history. The people of Hartford were astonished one day when they saw a 3,300-pound car being hoisted into the air—up and up—on the outside of the hotel. When the car got to the twelfth floor, it faced a big ballroom window. But Mr. Frazier has taken care of this; he had found there was a clearance of one inch. A track had been laid on the ballroom floor and a driver was engaged for the car. The car came through the window, the driver got in, the car purred around the ballroom. Six hundred dealers and salesmen looked on astonished. Never had they seen anything so dramatic, for that car and its dramatized method of presentation had their absolute attention.

LOCAL SCOUTERS OBSERVE CHARTER RITE

Fifty-one Scouts, Scouters and their friends gathered in the Methodist Church last Thursday evening to observe Troop One's Ninth Annual Charter Rite. Registration cards for twenty-eight Scouters were given out by Lay Leader, E. E. Markley representing the Methodist Laymen, Sponsors of the Troop. The Charter was presented to the Sponsor by L. E. Brown, recently appointed Neighborhood Scout Commissioner for Johnny Applesseed Area Council. Registration cards for thirty-three Scouts were given by Scoutmaster, Don Einsel, Jr.

Patrol demonstrations were given by three of the Patrols. Members of the Pine Tree Patrol giving one on First Aid, Eagle Patrol giving an example of the correct usage of the American flag and the Wolf Patrol sending signals with Semaphore flags.

Gordon B. Seabolt, S2/c, home on leave from the U. S. Navy, and an Eagle Scout in Troop One awarded Eisenhower medals to Gerald Schneider, Chas. Hannum, Jr. and James Durrer. One year stars were awarded Wayne Mathews, Chas. Hannum, Jr., Robert Hale, Alan Ford, James Durrer, Gene Hale, Kenneth Donathan and Donald Smith. Attendance bars were given James Shutt, Wayne Mathews and Gerald Schneider of the American flag and the Wolf Patrol.

A Tenderfoot Investiture Ceremony was conducted by members of the Troop, swearing in Eugene Koser as a member of Troop One and the Eagle Patrol.

Highlights of the evening came when John A. Root awarded the Root Trophy to the best "All-around" Scout. The three Scouts were very close in this contest and Mr. Root expressed his regrets that he could not award a trophy to each of the winners of them. The trophy for the year 1945 was awarded to James Shutt, Patrol Leader of the Wolf Patrol and a Second Class Scout.

Scouters Overnight Camp

Eight Scouters and three servicemen of Troop One enjoyed the past week end at an overnight camp at the Area Camp, Avey Hand, Jr.

Scrap Pick Up

Approximately five tons of paper has been picked up by Scouts of Troop One during the past five weeks. Paper collections during this time have been unprecedented, a little different than in the past. For the present, scouts will call at homes to collect the paper, take it to some central point and from that spot have truck pick-up. No definite dates are set but you will be contacted by some scout in the next six weeks period. Plans are at present to have a handbill passed out a few days before the pick up, but the paper can be tied and ready for the Scouts. This not only speeds up the collections but gives the boys more money for their paper, if done in this way. For many thanks for your splendid cooperation in all past drives.

Swimming

Scouts will be able to pass 1st Class Swimming Merit Badges at the Mansfield H. pool on the evenings of Feb. 26th and March 5th. They will start at 7:30 p. m. and you are required to read thoroughly the requirements. Transportation will not be furnished.

A NEW DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Norman VonSeggern, D. I. Willard are the parents of a baby girl, born last Tuesday evening at the Shelby Hospital. Mr. VonSeggern is known to many locally.

SHILOH SCHOOL NEWS

Seniors

On Monday morning the Seniors were very glad to have Mr. Miley of the Ashland College give them a very interesting talk on the facts of college life.

My, don't you think the Seniors have sold a lot of magazines.

Juniors

We are sponsoring the "Hoosier Cornhuskers" here at the Shiloh Auditorium on March 1st. They are from the radio show that comes over the station WFTN at Findlay. Reserved seats are 60c and 50c admission for adults, and 30c for children. Come out, come all and enjoy it for an hour and one half of musical entertainment. It starts at 8:00 p. m.

Freshman

You should see the cute little romance we have blooming in our grade. Too deep!!!

Say Team! Yea Team!

Madison motored here last Friday night to take the Reserve game 47-20, and the Varsity game 23-18. The boys really played a good game. We'll be cheering you at the tournament on Wednesday.

The boys have been invited to attend the County Basketball Banquet on February 25th at the Leland Hotel. Oh, you lucky guy!

F. F. A.

Six members of the F. F. A. took an educational trip to Farmer's Week with their advisor, Mr. Ridmore. The program was held at Ohio State University in Columbus on February 6. The boys making the trip were Kenneth Adams, Robert Heipner, Dale Laser, Kenneth Humbert, Joe Ireland and Arthur Hamman.

After returning the boys gave an account of their trip to the remainder. One of the points of interest was the new types of machinery available. There were lectures on the feeding of live stock and on crop production. Some new helpful hints on maintenance of the farm tractor were given in one lecture. The boys to go were chosen by giving an examination.

The regular meeting on Feb. 14 was held at the home of Mr. Ridmore the advisor. After the business meeting a slide film showing the activities of the State F. F. A. summer camp on the Washington River was shown. Refreshments were then served and a short social program followed.

Snooper

It seems as tho a lot of Seniors have the college bug, if as many went as guys talking we sure would be well educated.

Our good friend Choppie is a little under the weather we hear, well Choppie hurry up and get well like to see you around. That goes for all the kids in high school. That includes the Snooper!

We wonder if Ruthe will sit and mope if Bob goes to the Army? !

Betty Jean thinks she knows where the best looking blonde is but Merilyn has different ideas. Gimme sure is the person to giggle over the phone and when he wasted all that money just to talk to her too!

It isn't every day you get a cable-gram is it Dottie? What a thrill!

Benedict's phone rings at the funniest times, maybe ten minutes late, that is unusual for a sailor! !

Have you seen Mardy swooning over those new pictures she got of Joe? Doesn't he look like a man now? ? ?

Does Jean Forquer prefer to sit in the picture show and do her musing with someone named 'Fee-Wee'? Funny name isn't it.

I think that Pat would make a good girl for a farmer, why yes in more ways than one. Console yourself Pat he'll be home soon! ! !

Jeanette sure does dance well with Jim Ryan, but Jeanette what about Chuck?

Mr. Ratcliff's voice sounded a little muffled on the loud speaker Monday. Couldn't be someone threw a coat over the speaker. Cf course none of the Seniors would do a thing like that. Oh, NO.

Faces in Places

Merilyn's disappointed face in the literature in her mail, oh, heck she thought it was gonna be in more ways than one. Joan sitting on a davenport thinking of the fun if the sea bag hadn't been at the dance.

Jim sprucing up on his posture so that he will pass his exam!

All of the High School kids looking at the poster in the hall to see the prices for tournament tickets.

Ruth Wimbler gazing adoringly at the silver identification bracelet on her arm. Oh, Ronnie, you cute kid you!

Leslie sniffling around over the week-end thinking of hubby, and of how quick he could cure this cold.

Ozle with his lap full at the dance last Thursday. Those Mock girls sure are heavy, even just one of them.

All of those hard working students in English class when Mrs. Roe's back is turned, but oh, what they're working at!

Betty's face wringed in a glow when she talks about her trip to Boston to see Dickie Eoy!

Happy Birthday Dottie, though you only three and a half!

Kirkendall looking dignified as a study hall teacher, and thinking of that good looking dark haired guy from Bucyrus.

Miss Mildred Phillips and Jay Arnold Are Married At First Church of Christ

Miss Mildred Jean Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Phillips of 283 W. Main Street, Shelby, was given by her father in marriage to A. Jay Arnold, Chief Petty Officer, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Darley Arnold, Thursday at 8 p. m. The open church ceremony was held at First Church of Christ, Shelby with Rev. E. C. Waterworth officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was attractively banked with ferns, white gladioli and was illuminated by two seven branch candelabra for the occasion.

Nuptial music preceding the ceremony was played by Mrs. Ewald Emerson, church organist. The numbers included "Symphony," Chopin's "Polonaise," "Oh, Promise Me," and "You Are My True Love." During the ceremony "I Love You Truly" was softly played. Miss Virginia Davis of Mansfield was the soloist and "The Cause," "Through the Years," and "Always." She wore a formal gown of blue and a pink carnation corsage. The traditional wedding marches were also played.

Miss Phillips chose her sister, Mrs. Lowell Johnson for her matron of honor and little "Bea," Anne Black and Rosalie Black, cousins of the bride were the flower girls. Mr. Duane Arnold, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Mr. Lowell Johnson and Mr. Frederick Fackler were the ushers.

The brides gown had a tight fitting bodice of white slipper satin and buttoned all the way down the back with tiny covered buttons. The yoke was net and trimmed with small white satin bows. A wide row of lace formed a peplum and the long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The net skirt and little train and the fingertip veil of tulle was worn virgin style and attached to clusters of lilies-of-the-valley. The bride carried an arm bouquet of gardenias, centered with an orchid and her only jewelry was a gold lavaliere set with tiny pearls and a ruby watch.

The bride's sister and her sister were with her wedding.

Mrs. Johnson was gowned in a dress of soft rose-colored faille made with sweet peas. The bracelet-length sleeves ended in points. The skirt was all and velvet bows of a deeper shade of rose were down the

Six-Inch Sermon

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Lesson for February 17: Deuteronomy 1: 1-5

Memory Selection: Psalm 114: 1-4

The book of Deuteronomy might be regarded as a collection of Moses' farewell addresses, in which the Great Lawgiver and Emancipator orally reviewed to the people much of their great past. In the first verse of our present lesson is the exhortation that the people harken unto the statutes and ordinances given them.

In calling upon the Israelites to harken unto God's law, Moses recalls as a wonderful thing the manner of God's dealing with his people in delivering them from Egyptian bondage. Not since the world began had another people heard God speaking to them "out of the midst of the fire," or had been taken out of the midst of another nation to be made a nation unto God.

God had not dealt so wondrously with his people just because he desired to instruct them. Because he loved their fathers, he chose to bring them out with his presence from the land of Egypt and to drive out nations greater and mightier than they, to take their lands for an inheritance.

The lesson is a great appeal to God's people to be true to their faith. "The Alps are just as high as their highest peak." What you have reached in the past, you can reach again. Be true to the best you have known. We should also see in the lesson, from our vantage of two centuries of Christianity, that only through Christ can we reach the true fulfillment.

a friend in need

There are times when the ring of a telephone bell seems as vital as a heartbeat. A sick child... fire on the farm... an accident... sick livestock... Emergencies such as these make the telephone, with its lightning-like ability to speed help, a true friend in need to the farmer. That is why telephone service remains a "must" for so many farmers of all times.

IT'S TRUE

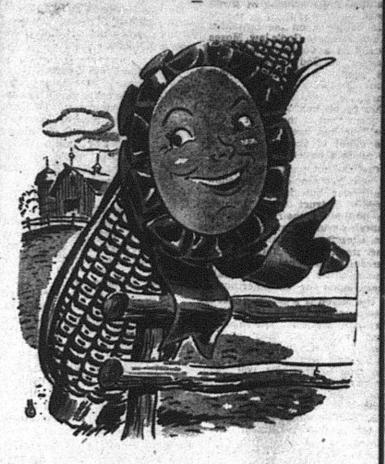

By Theodore Maltch

Two-headed makes are fairly common. A 16th century Earl of Oxford was said to have 200 marks, or $30,000, for too lavishly entertaining his king, Henry VIII of England. Ancient Babylonian businessmen of 2,000 years ago occasionally organized holding companies. "Cracking" will convert as much as 50 per cent of heavy oil into gasoline. The natural "chickens" in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes in the course of a year will yield 1,250,000 tons of hydrochloric acid and 200,000 tons of hydrofluoric acid.

One pound of the element astatine No. 215 has a power output equal to 5,000,000 tons of coal or 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline. Coffee sold for 25 cents a pound in New England in 1780. The first atom bomb was demonstrated in 1945. Scientists were discovered in 1950, one so heavy that it weighs 9,000 tons for each cubic inch.

HYBRID SEED CORN and FERTILIZER

WIDE BELTS SLIM WAISTLINES—Wide belts that make slim waists look even slimmer are sweeping the country and here's one in light pigskin that can be worn both backwards and forwards. Susan Douglas, of NBC's "Teenagers Club," shows it with the straight part in front, nice for blouses or sweaters and skirts. The other side curves up in what is called the contour belt and it goes in front when you wear that one-piece wool costume, on more dressy occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Robertson and daughters were in Ashland Sunday visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson had just returned from Florida where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur DeWitt at Lutz, former Plymouth residents.
