Don Smith Gives Talk At Club; Topics Discussed

With thirty-seven members of the Community Club attending Tuesday night's meeting, many important topics were discussed at one of the liveliest sessions held in months. Following a splendid dinner served by the ladies of the Methodist church, J. E. Nimmons, president, revealed a few of the activities the Club is sponsoring. Under its leadership, the churches this year will hold a Union memorial service, in connection with the American Legion churches and other civic organizations participating. This service will be held on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day at the Methodist church. Rev. M. P. Paetznick, pastor of the Lutheran church, will be the speaker.

meeting by users of which declare that the service is far below par, and that there must be some way to improve local phone conditions. A motion was made and carried requesting the village council to furnish additional parking benches around the Square. It has long been tradition whereby people could come into our town, visit on the spacious walks of the Square, and in recent years, could enjoy the comforts of a large park bench. However, the old benches have seen their best days and new ones are in dire need as well as a greater number. It is hoped that more benches will be available for the summer season.

Water Service Service Pins Awarded By A. C. & Y. To Employees Being Checked

A rigid program of checking the water service in Plymouth begins this month with the arrival of 24 new water meters which will be installed on the lines of "flat rate" customers. In addition to installing meters at all outlets, a routine program of checking all meters will be made throughout the village, "within the next six months. Inasmuch as the efficiency of a meter can deteriorate after a few year's operation, Supt. Rods pointed out that it is not only fair to the consumer as well, but to the meters are working properly.

In a ceremony most befitting the occasion, employees of the A. C. & Y. Railroad received recognition for long years of service with the railroad at a special program held Sunday at the Mayflower Hotel in Akron, when more than three hundred and twenty railroaders gathered for the event. Of the seven hundred employees five hundred and thirty-six of them have five years or more service with the railroad and at the Akron meeting Sunday they received a service pin.

F-R-H Workers Get Pay Boost

After two months of negotiations between the Plymouth Order of Mechanics and The Fate-Root-Heath Co., officials announced Wednesday that an 18 1/2 cents per hour increase has been granted employees of all production departments. The new wage agreement is now before the Wage Stabilization Board for approval.

The wage increase follows the general pattern which is now prevailing throughout the iron and steel processing industries, and will affect some four hundred employees at the local plant.

All negotiations were carried out in the usual peaceful manner that has prevailed at the local plant between employees and management. Plymouth is to be congratulated on having citizens who recognize the other fellows' problem, and then sit down in a discussion to settle differences in a "give and take" spirit, so that everyone concerned is satisfied in every respect.

Under the new wage agreement the local plant will go on an 8-hour shift.

IF THEY WON'T EAT it one way, they can eat it another, Mrs. Mark Caywood thinks. Because her canaries were extravagant over in Shelby according to the cage, she decided they didn't like, she had the idea of planting the discarded seeds. They grew up and her canaries really enjoy their greens.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK—A smile costs nothing but gives much. It enriches those who receive it, without making poorer those who give. It takes only a moment but the memory of it lasts forever. None of us is so rich or mighty, that we can get along without it. And none of us is so poor but that he can be made rich by it.

SHILOH SCHOOL NEWS

Looking back to the year of 1942-43 you find a group of ambitious young girls and boys seated in a very large plane, guns loaded, bombs in place, with their navigator, Mr. Nesbitt, shouting, "All aboard that's going aboard!"

We all were going on a long and strenuous journey, we knew, so we elected a good pilot from among us, whom we knew would not let us down. Our pilot was Mary Benedict. Dorothy Guthrie was chosen as co-pilot, and Howard Clark as a helper.

We took as many boys and girls along as were fortunate enough to go, and they were: Virginia Kirkendall, Bill Halliwell, Darrell Hudson, Jeanne Wialer, Mary Benedict, Donald Smith, Laurley Boggs, Armin

Near the end of the first year of our flight, several members of our crew, decided to continue the flight elsewhere. They were: Laurley Boggs, John Amund, Paul Heifner, Donald Smith, Armin Oney, and Lester Oney.

Only too soon our annual three months summer vacation was gone, and one by one we checked in to continue our flight as the sophomores of 1943-44. We found that we had a few new passengers who were: Betty Ernst, Marilyn Brun, and Robert Miller. After everyone was reacquainted, we started out with a boom, choosing Mr. Pittenger as our navigator, Jerlean Lykins as the pilot and Robert Miller as co-pilot. Dorothy Guthrie was their helper. This year went very well for us. We gathered scrap paper, which gave us a profit of approximately $80.00. Near the end of this prosperous flight some of our crew left us, and they were: Irene Frontz, Helen Frontz, and Martha Miller.

Our Junior year was quite a busy one. We had only two new members and they were: Ruth Bell and Rosemary Reber. Miss Foster was chosen as our navigator, Howard Clark as our pilot, Bill Halliwell as co-pilot, and Naomi Wolford as the helper. We have gradually bailed out until there are only a few of us remaining to complete the flight, and here we are:

CLASS PROPHECY

While gazing restlessly out over the rooftops of my New York apartment my mind started to wander sub-consciously back to my childhood chums at good old Shiloh High School. The more I turned the evening memories over in my mind, the more I longed to see my dear old friends once more. Since my husband was still in the Merchant Marine Corp on Lake Erie, I packed my bags and started for the rolling Hog Back Hills once more.

As I boarded the train at Grand Central Station, I heard above the noise and din of voices a sweet familiar tenor note, and looking around, I saw my old time friend BILL HALLIWELL, selling green apples and worny peanuts: Ah, yes, that boy was always a salesman at heart!

As I seated myself and gazed admiringly at the country-side, I saw a flaming streak pass the train at a speed of about one hundred mile an hour. I became curious as to what this was, and to my surprise, at the next crossing, MERILYN VAN WAGNER waved a hello. She was now with her husband, EXPAN, and promising baseball games on the White House lawn!

As the train continued whistling on its way, a small purple man with horn-rimmed spectacles and a butterfly net under his arm sat down beside me. Turning my head I recognized DARRELL HUDSON. He informed me that he was now Assistant Professor of "Rangalones By profreathed Angelisems" at the "Harvard University." I noticed that PROFESSOR HUDSON had taken on a pronounced English accent.

When I reached Chicago, I stepped from the train to rest my legs, and who did I see but my school-day chum, BETTY ROSE, decked in furs from Kobackers and diamonds from "Woolworths." She was hanging on the Arm of George Adams, who was now a Rear Admiral of the U. S. S. Rowboat.

At long last after many pleasant surprises I arrived at the Willard railroad station. I decided that since I had not been in Willard for years, I would stroll up to the city square, and upon arriving, who did I see but NAO-MI WOLFORD, cruising down Main Street on a motorcycle, blowing a whistle. I finally hailed her and found to my amazement that she was the first woman traffic cop in Ohio.

After doing some aimless window shopping, I entered a fashionable dress shoppe, and who did I find modeling gowns from Vogue but DORIS GARRETT. She said that she had to go to work, as her handsome husband from Amherst, Ohio wasn't the industrious type, and spent all his time playing pool and spending her money.

I had fully decided I had better start for Shiloh if I intended to, so I hired a taxi and was soon on the road. On the edge of Willard a bright red coaster wagon glided past. I thought the face was familiar, so I ordered the driver to stop. There with six crates of eggs sat DOROTHY GUTHRIE, coasting into Willard to sell her eggs. She is now married to Lyle Dawson, who she said was home minding Hester, Chester, Lester, and Salvester, the little Dawsons.

SNOOPER ! !

Isn't it nice to have your beau come out and see you and then to go with him. Dot Brooks I wouldn't treat Lester that way.

What's all this business about "Horse" going around. Lottie Bell wouldn't know would she?

We wonder what the big attraction for Alice is in History Class. She hates all other subjects, may be she can tell us, how about it Alice?

Deep sure is doing some betting these days but it sure isn't on the Ky. Derby either.

What was the big attraction in Joans car Friday night? Could it be that the light comes on when you open the door?

Does Jean Forquer like to ride around in Ditches? Sort of dangerous, No? Is Bonnie knee any better? You'll know enough not to try a pile up next time. Did you hear Mary is going to get company from Willard some night. That sailors back again.

Ooh la la. Did anyone notice that cigarette Betty Jean was sporting for Senior Day. It really like the real McCoy. Seems as though Mr. Chatlain really enjoyed reading the Compositions four typing students wrote for him last Friday. Of course it was non-fiction. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Markley were in Bucyrus Sunday calling on Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Markley.

Plymouth Loses In County Champ

Last Thursday, May 2nd at Ontario Coach Bob Lindsey's Plymouth Pilgrim baseball nine lost the playoff for the Richland County Championship to Lexington 5-4.

After a shaky start in which the Plymouth lads played rugged defending ball allowing three unearned runs to cross the plate in the first inning, they settled down and outplayed the victors the remainder of the game.

Plymouth outbit Lexington 9 to 7, but the story of the defeat is explained in the left-on-base column, Plymouth had 8 men stranded on bases, whereas Lexington left 1 man stranded on base.

By virtue of their loss to Lexington the Pilgrims become runners-up for the county championship, which is an honor in itself. This is a tribute to the men for the improved brand of ball they have been playing.

Big man at the plate for Plymouth was Bill Miller, who pitched superb ball in the clutches, with 3 singles in four trips to the plate. Bigler, with a single and a triple in 3 trips to the plate, and Shaffer with a home run in 3 trips to the plate, were the heavy hitters for Lexington. Plymouth played at Tiro Wednesday, May 8th at home against New Haven Thursday, May 9, and closes its season with a game at Willard Thursday, May 10.

Recorder Fees

Hit Total $1,313

The Richland county recorder's office had one of its busiest months in April when fees totaling $1,313, the highest amount in any month of the five years tenure in office of D. D. Orewiler, were collected.

The recorder said 1,276 deeds, mortgages and other instruments and 514 chattel mortgages were recorded last month. These figures compared with 1,304 documents (including 398 military discharges for which no fee is collected) and 475 chattel mortgages recorded in March.

The revenue of $1,313 was in excess of the $1,155 received in fees during March, Orewiler reported.

Tax Collection To Open June 1
$762,742 IN REAL PROPERTY LIEQUES DUE PERIOD ENDING JULY 20.
Richland County commissioners this week granted County Treasurer C. C. Payne an extension of thirty days for the collection of real estate taxes for the last half of 1945.
Payne said the collection—totaling $762,742 for the last half of last year—usually ends June 20, but that an extension is usually requested from the commissioners. Last day for payment of the taxes, without penalty, will therefore be July 20.
Included in the $762,742 charge is $25,538 in delinquent taxes, some $15,332 less than the delinquent charge when collections for the first half of 1945 were begun early in March. First half collections totaled $748,137.
Payne said statements to taxpayers would be in the mail well before June 1 when the collection opens.

White Flower for MOTHER

It was a large cemetery and we had come to it late in the afternoon to place the flowers on our mother's grave. We had come together that day from distant cities to attend the funeral of our brother who had died. He had been buried in the little campus cemetery where he taught and we had driven over here to the big city later. It was the first time that we had been together in twenty-five years and we went hand in hand through the lengthening shadows hunting her grave. The brother who had been buried that day was the only one of us who had known just where to find the little marker bearing her name and the word "Mother." Darkness closed in on us as we wandered on and on trying to read the names on the endless stones. When we knew it was too late, that one brother must take a plane for the West, the other said "I must drive back to my job. I must lay the white flowers on a lonely neglected grave of another "Mother."

She had died in 1918 while the three boys were overseas in the last war. She never knew their fate. I was too young to really know her and it was only from her diary, her letters and her pictures that I knew her. She had reared us without help from anyone. We had been poor but she had seen that we had food and clothes and a home. She had vitality to burn and she burned it, not only for us but for everyone whose life touched hers. Once she started a fund to build a church in our community by contributing a dollar. She followed up the dollar with work and the church needed music and she bought an old square piano for five dollars and the church had music until they could have an organ and then she gave the square piano to the Historical Society where it became a prized relic. The last words in her diary are: "There is so much yet to do... so many who need."

The disease from which my mother died was cancer. There were no Cancer Control drives in those days to help save lives. Had there been she would have put in her dollar and then followed it up with all she could do to urge others to do the same.

"WHAT IS COMING" Part V

In the days of the seven kingdoms left of western Europe what did the God of heaven say will happen? The next verse says: "In the days of these kings shall the God of Heaven set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed... but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever." Dan. 2:44. The last item in the dream of the great metallic image of Daniel the second chapter was the stone smiting the image on the feet, and dash- ing it all to atoms, represents how the kingdom of God will "break in pieces and consume all the existing worldly kingdoms of men and how this divine kingdom will in turn completely fill the entire earth. This proves that the kingdom of God will not be established by any gradual conversion of the nations to the Gospel, or by the gradual extension of Christianity over this present earth. Dan. 2:44 plainly shows that the kingdom of God will be established in the earth by the sudden, personal interposition of God to bring an abrupt end to this present world order through the destruction of sin and sinners. The stone which represents the eternal kingdom of glory is cut out of the mountain without hands (Dan. 2:34). This indicates that the kingdom of God is established only by God's divine power, and not through any political or social schemes of men.

Part VI will show God's position on the coming Kingdom.

Council Holds COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

The Jaycees met on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. May 7th at Peters Radio Electric. Discussions at the meeting were of great importance to the organization and the community in general.

A sports committee was appointed consisting of Junior Leahy, Peter Cornell and Whitney Briggs. The following were appointed as the finance committee: Harold Cashman, Roger Miller, William Fetters and Miles Christian.

The Personnel Committee: Vincent Taylor, Earl McQuate and Iden Jackson. The Public Relations Committee: Charles Dick, Robert Hoffman, Thomas Root.

The Charter Presentation Banquet which will officially affiliate the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce with the national organization will be held on Monday, June 10th, at 6:30 p. m. at the Peters Radio Electric.

Service Pins

A pin for his faithful service to the railroad, and one 4-year award was made to A. M. Craemer of North Auburn, retired agent. The number of employees eligible for recognition and time of service are as follows: 150 of the men have been with the road for five years; 57 employees have ten years' service, and 90 employees have been with the company for fifteen years. One of the outstanding features of the program occurred when it was learned that out of the 700 employees of the A. C. & Y. one hundred and thirty have been with the road for twenty years; 87 employees have a 25-year service record with the company, and 16 of the railroad group have been with the same railroad for thirty years.

From such a list of figures it is not surprising that employees of the A. C. & Y. become attached to their work and remain on the job almost permanently.

The oldest active employee of the railroad, Louis Kollsetti, began work in June 1913; and the second oldest, R. S. Cobbly, started on the job in November, 1913. Mr. Cobb is now assistant treasurer of the railroad.

Some of the "thirty year" men known locally include Vern Kazad, John Kearney, Roy Higgins, Jim (Red) Hill, "Boss" Engdorn, and conductors Benny Trutt and C. L. Fox. In the 25-year group are: Engineers Ed and A. J. John Kennedy and Harry Snyder.

The meeting at Akron Sunday was for employees of the railroad who reside in Plymouth, and east. Another meeting will be held this coming Sunday at the Legion Hall in Delphos for those employees residing west of Plymouth. It is expected that around one hundred and fifty will attend the session at Delphos Sunday.

During World War II, the A. C. & Y. railroad and its employees made an enviable record for transportation of war materials, and there has always existed among employees and management a friendly relation which is seldom found in any organization. Officials of the railroad are to be commended for recognizing the valued service rendered by employees throughout the years.

Don Smith Gives

& crack train, the Capitol Limited, to the Willard to New Castle, told of the many experiences incurred as an engineer. Mr. Smith who pulled the throttle on the old steam, was one of the few chosen to operate the new Diesels, which came to the B. & O. not so many years ago. He gave a brief outline of the difference between the two types of engine power, and he admitted that the operation of the Diesel trains were much simpler and easier than those of the steam type.

Few passengers recognize the care and skill required to operate a passenger train, and especially on wintry nights in fog and snowstorms. Smith recalled the old days when the safety of a train was dependent entirely upon its crew. But today, with modern signaling devices, safety is assured in every instance. . . . even in dense fog where vision of the signal is impossible for with automatic devices on the engine the train is automatically stopped if a wrong signal is passed. Speed recordings are carefully checked, as well as train "shock." Smith related how a few years ago at the end of one of his runs, he arrived home and a few minutes later his phone rang. He was called into the office, and asked "why he had stopped his train with such unusual shock?" Engineer Smith told officials that it was impossible for him to have done so, and the recordings of the instrument used for such tests, as the records would show he had not stopped his train at that particular point. It was revealed later that a member of the train crew had picked up the recording instrument to look it over, and had dropped it to the floor, thereby giving Smith a "black-eye." During his discourse Mr. Smith went into railroading which proved highly interesting to his audience, and his talk was enjoyed by everyone.

Joe Hodges, a member of the program committee, did a mighty fine job in introducing the speaker.
