

You've Got To 'Love The Business' To Plant 7 Acres of Strawberries

Most of us are looking forward to Spring. Farmers are beginning to think of planting oats, getting the fields ready for the corn, and checking over the tractor and other equipment ready for the annual "spring drive".

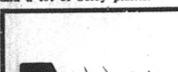

Paul Strood, who resides three and one-half miles south of Plymouth, is also thinking of Spring. Paul has 15 acres of land which means a lot of work for him during the Spring and summer months. For on this 15 acres of ground he has built, and is building a nursery stock of trees and plants that find a ready market each year.

One of his big Spring projects this year is getting out 7 acres of berries—mostly strawberries. And he's coming along in the nursery early with choice home-grown tomatoes. Does sound like "Spring talk", when it comes to discussing these items, doesn't it?

Mr. Strood recalls when as a youngster his dad, who operated a farm, had "an awful time" getting me to do any real farm work. For I found more fun in family picnics than in watching trees and began my work in a serious manner around his nursery business. Four years ago he purchased the 15-acre tract of land on Route 98, and today he has turned his "hobby" into a real business.

On this small tract of land there are twenty thousand evergreens and a variety of trees and shrubs. And in season the ground is speckled with rich, red luscious strawberries and tomatoes. Mr. Strood has developed numerous scientific methods of handling trees and plants. He has installed a "sprinkler" system over the entire farm. The source of water comes from a nearby pond, and he has found his irrigation system pays off many times during the season when the plants need a drink.

Last season Mr. Strood had five acres of strawberries under cultivation, and the quality of his berries soon spread over the entire vicinity. On week-ends he had customers, from near and far, waiting for him to be served. And so far distant as Dayton came to buy his berries, as well as those from Shelby, Willard, Greenwich, Norwalk, and other neighboring towns. This season he expects to put out seven acres in strawberries, and those who have handled only a couple of hundred plants will realize that this is a big job and a lot of berry plants.

Don't get the idea that strawberries are a specialty of Paul's. Paul's just as adept in the art of landscaping as he is in planting plants. Mr. Strood has "natural ability and taste" when it comes to beautifying a spot around a home. He seems to know just where to suggest the planting of evergreens for the "most effect beauty", and such skill can be found in the yards of scores of homes in this section. He knows just what type of evergreen will grow best in any kind of soil. And if he puts them in the ground, you're safe in making a wager that they will grow.

During the holiday season, hundreds of customers come to the nursery to select a Christmas tree. The past Christmas season more trees left the nursery than ever before. After serving as a decoration in the home the tree inevitably finds a place in the yard where it continues to grow. All the trees, shrubs, we might add, are state inspected.

The nursery business requires more knowledge than you may suspect. Almost anyone can dig a hole in the ground and plant a shrub tree. But a real nurseryman has to know about insects, funguses, fertilizer and various plant foods; he has to be at a glace when trees and shrubs are diseased and just what to apply to overcome it. We didn't inquire of Mr. Strood if he "goes by the moon" in his planting, but we suspect he can tell you the best and proper time for planting.

For the past several weeks Mr. Strood has been planning his activities for Spring. He states his Spring Sales will begin around April 1st, and the first session he offers a full line of fruit trees, plants and shrubs. "Our prices are somewhat lower this year than last, but each item is of the highest quality," said Mr. Strood.

With the opening of his fourth season, Paul Strood expects to show an increase in sales which indicate a healthy growth in his business, and at the same time expresses the confidence of those who buy from him.

The Strood Nursery is a good example of what any man can do who loves his work. And it would be just a little unfair to give Paul all the praise for his success. For there is Mrs. Strood, who keeps finding house and assisting in the nursery, almost a full time job, especially when she has to look after two small children.

However, the Stroods are doing all right, and the entire family is having a lot of enjoyment through watching their plants and shrubs and trees grow which make for them a livelihood, and bring beauty and food to those who buy them.

OFF TO KOREA

Miss Ruth Maerki of Chicago advised her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Maerki of North Fairfield that she was leaving the city Sunday evening for San Francisco. There she boarded a ship bound for Korea where she will be working for the next year in the employment of the United States Government. Miss Maerki served in the Air Force of the Army for two years, one of these was spent in the E.T.O. On her discharge from the army she attended college in Logan, Utah, and has been employed in Chicago for the past five months. Miss Maerki is known to many locally.

Legion Ready To Aid Vets In Filing

Garrett-Riest Post 503, American Legion in Shiloh is ready to help all veterans in filing out their applications as well as all other veterans in making out their bonus applications for the forthcoming State Bonus.

Commander Alvin Garrett and Adjutant Jay Moser have attended a school in Mansfield on this matter and are now ready to assist all veterans in filling out their applications. Commander Garrett states that the Legion will have plenty of application blanks on hand for all veterans and that two nights have been set up for the filling out of applications.

The Legion will receive blanks on Monday, March 1, and the place call for Wednesday, March 3, and Thursday, March 4, beginning at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. The American Legion Home will be open to ALL veterans wishing to apply for their State Bonus.

The Legion will have besides the two officials, a battery of three clerks made up of the Ladies Auxiliary in helping with the work.

It is Commander Garrett's wish that all veterans wishing this service to come on these two nights as there are so many veterans in this vicinity that will need help. Too, all the help offered through the Legion is pure volunteer; and it is this which gets the job done as quickly as possible.

Anyway, the payments will be made on a "first come" basis, so the sooner you make out your application the sooner you will get your check.

Resigns After 24 Years of Service

We were very sad to lose the services of Grace Barnard as janitress.

For twenty-four years she has served as our janitress. No task was too great, or no night too cold for her to journey across the street to be sure the church fire was going properly for the morning services. To say: "Well done" to a good servant is all we can do. She presented her with a beautiful wrist watch at our services last Sunday morning.

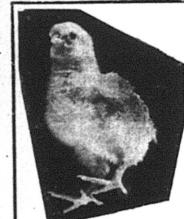

Our good wishes go out to Mr. and Mrs. Harley Kendig, who are taking over the work.

The Carrick family are former residents of Plymouth.

306 Personal Tax Returns Filed During 1st Week

In the first week of personal tax filing at the County Auditor's office 306 returns were made. Most of the returns made thus far have been on classified property; tax on intangibles, stocks, bonds, notes and mortgages.

There has been some question on the prices on the farm insert. Prices were obtained from best available sources and correspond with the state wide prices, effective on January 1st. Since listing day, January 1st, some of these prices have gone down on live stock and grain, but of course the listing day price must prevail. Normally these prices rise after January 1st rather than decline; last year there was a wide margin between January 1st, and personal tax filing period.

There also has been some question about schedule four applying to furniture, fixtures and machinery. This schedule applies to business returns and not to farm returns. Household furniture has not been taxable since 1932, but this does apply to office and store furniture and fixtures; from beauty parlor, driers, to typewriters and adding machines in other types of business.

Pocketbooks, all colors, $4.55-$5.55 values, closing out at $2.00. Hatch Dress Shop.

Thursday:

10 a. m. Choir Preparation of Easter Music.

11 a. m. Church School.
11 a. m. Church Worship. Subject: "Victory Through Separation from the World."

Note: Some evangelists observe Lent by giving up certain things during the period. It is not a matter of giving up certain things, but giving up certain sins. The Word of God is the best thing from among them, and be ye separated and touch not the unclean thing." 2 Cor. 6:17. Christianity is Christ-like.

CAKE WALK SATURDAY AT PLYMOUTH GRANGE

Here's your chance to spend a social evening with our rural folks and walk a cake if you're lucky.

The Plymouth Grange announces a cakewalk for Saturday evening, Feb. 28th at their hall with tickets selling at 5c a walk. Sandwiches will also be for sale.

All you have to do is come, buy a ticket, and when the music stops and if you are the lucky one win the cake. Members are giving winners — it might be the third one back of you, or it could be the tenth, and yet it could be YOU! The general public is welcome to attend the cakewalk. Proceeds will go toward paying off the debt on the new addition which has recently been built at the grange hall.

Free Ride For You—on the Freedom Train!

We had a real thrill in our Town just the other day—when the Freedom Train stopped!

You've heard about it, of course—an actual train that's touring the country to remind us again what true Democracy means. It carries such Americans as the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and other immortal documents that guarantee every citizen his liberty.

A great idea! And from where I sit, we're all riding along with that Freedom Train—right now—by train.

ing in a country that protects our individual liberties—whether they apply to our right to vote, to choose our church, to speak our minds, or enjoy a glass of beer with friends.

Only thing is—we've got to prove ourselves worthy of the ride... by guarding zealously against whatever forces of intolerance encroach upon our American concepts of live-and-let-live, a free and strong Democracy!

NEWS NOTES OF OUR SCHOOL

MAGAZINE CAMPAIGN

Monday, the Seniors started their magazine sale to help raise money for their trip. They have some very fine magazines at reasonable prices and they hope to make a success of the campaign. Vandal McIntyre and Cornelius Vandal were chosen as captain and master Baker as general manager.

SUBSTITUTE TEACHER

Mrs. Lindsey was substitute teacher last Friday for Mrs. Gump, who was ill with the flu, and Mrs. Van Brunt substituted Monday for Mrs. Roe, and Rev. Bethel for Miss Bethel.

STILL HAVE SCARFS

The Senior Class still have some of the "Pilgrims" scarfs. Even though basketball season, and winter, for that matter, is just over, doesn't keep you from wearing a scarf. Why not help the Seniors? They're counting on you.

THIRD GRADE

We will finish our Head Read soon and will then be ready for geography. Our teacher thinks it will be easier for us now.

We have had some free hand paper cutting in art this month and we cut silhouettes of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

A new boy came to our grade from Central School, Shelby. His name is Robert Wilhelmi. We hope he likes our school.

Mrs. Major read Mary Poppins to us. It had amusing chapters.

FOURTH GRADE

The fourth grade has been studying about Norway, Lapland and the North Pole in Geography and has made some pictures.

The latest thing in arithmetic is multiplying by three numbers.

We have enjoyed the books — The Adventures of Tom Sawyer, and Micky Sees the U. S. A..

Mrs. Jesse Ruth, Mrs. Jim Cline and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Day spent Saturday at Nor-and to make reports.

Providing information about the retirement and survivors benefits.

The receiving, developing, and adjudication of all types of claims for benefits. No benefits may be paid until the qualified person files his application.

Issuance of new security account numbers to people who have never had a card.

Issuance of duplicate cards to people who lost their cards, or to women who have changed their names because of marriage.

Assisting wage and salary earners in commerce and industry in checking their social security accounts to make sure they are accurate.

The field office of the Social Security Administration is located at 405 Madison Street, Bldg. Mansfield, Ohio. It serves the counties of Ashland, Crawford, Knox, Morrow and Richland.

There are two times for social security action to prevent loss of benefits according to Mr. Blons-ton.

When a worker reaches 65, whether or not he intends to continue working, he should ask his local social security office about his rights.

When a worker dies, a member of his family should inquire promptly at the Social Security office about the possibility of benefits.

No matter where you work or live, you are probably not very far from a Social Security Administration field office or a part time service point.

Mr. Edward P. Blons-ton, Manager of the Mansfield office of the Administration points out that in the United States there are almost 500 full-time field offices of the Social Security Administration and upwards of 2,000 information stations or part-time Service points. The local offices serve the communities by making available to employers and employees the following services:

Providing information to employers as to their responsibilities under the Social Security Contributions Act. All employers of one or more persons in commerce or industry are required to register.

Half of Urbana Junior College students will be featured in a statewide radio broadcast over station WHKC (810) at Columbus on Saturday, Feb. 28, at 10:00 a.m. in a program highlighted by choral music and a round-table discussion by four sociology students.

SHELBY COUPLE TO OBSERVE 65TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Dick, Shelby's oldest married couple, marked their sixty-five wedding anniversary on Wednesday. Married in Cardington, Morrow county, the Dicks have lived in Shelby by their entire married life.

Mr. Dick, who is 92, retired about 15 years ago as a carpenter and farmer. His wife is 83. Both are in fairly good health. "Lots of hard work and raise a large family," is the Dicks' formula for a long happy married life. "You have to work together if married life is to be a success," the Dicks say.
