ROBT MEISER IS TOWN'S NEW MARSHAL

WILL TAKE OVER NEW DUTIES THE FIRST OF OCTOBER; WATTS IS DEPUTY

Robert Meiser, one of the five applicants for street commissioner and village marshal, was appointed Tuesday night by Mayor Carrol Robinson to take over the new job. Mayor Robinson's appointment was confirmed unanimously by the six councilmen present: Robert Fogleson, Harry Trauger, Marshall Burns, Omar Burkett, Glen West and Whitney Briggs.

Messrs. Meiser and Watts have been acting as special policemen, and will continue to do so until the first of October, when the offices of Village Marshal and Street Commissioner will be combined. The salary will be around $300 per month. The Police and Street committees will meet at an early date to work out a schedule for the new officer. It is proposed to give quite a bit of police protection during the night and into the early morning hours. The committees will purchase necessary equipment for Meiser's car, including signs, siren, lights, etc., that conform to state laws.

Estel Watts was re-appointed deputy marshal, and he will assume his new duties on the first of October. At present he will continue to serve as a special officer.

Meiser, who resides in Plymouth on Plymouth Street, has been a resident here for six years. He has been employed at the Seamless Tube Co., Shelby, for the past thirteen years, and for the past seven years has been a projectionist at the Plymouth Theater.

Council also instructed Solicitor Joseph Dush to negotiate with Freeman & Freeman, Norwalk attorneys, in securing a settlement with the Gottfried family for real estate which is needed as a site for the proposed sewage disposal plant.

Votes Increase

Facing a shortage of help due to a low wage scale, the village council approved an ordinance Tuesday night setting the wages for skilled labor at $1.50 per hour; semi-skilled labor at $1.00, and wages for unskilled labor at 85c an hour. The ordinance becomes effective September 16th. The new wage scale covers only those employed by the city on the street department, cemetery and park. It does not affect those employed by the Board of Public Affairs.

Board Meets Friday Night

Members of the Board of Public Affairs will hold their regular monthly meeting Friday night. A representative of a Fremont firm is expected to be on hand to discuss the condition of the pipe which leads to the supply tank. The pipe is in bad condition, and will need repairs before winter sets in. It is expected that the old pipe will be replaced next Spring with a new one. The meeting is open to the public, and anyone who desires is invited to attend.

OUT OF DANGER

Ronnie Lofland, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Aiden Lofland who has been waging an uphill battle for his life after being accidentally shot in the heart, is now getting along nicely, at the Willard hospital.

He was taken out of the oxygen tent for the first time in two weeks Thursday and had a "rough" time that day, but this week reports state he has been up in a wheel chair and hospital attaches feel confident he will completely recover.

P. A. Fackler, senior justice of the peace of New Haven township, has appointed Ross Van Buskirk, Plymouth, a member of the New Haven-tp. Board of Trustees to succeed J. E. Hodges who died recently.

Mr. VanBuskirk is a former Ripley-tp. trustee and is a brother of Harry VanBuskirk, well known Huron-co. auctioneer and county commissioner. He is a carpenter and formerly was a farmer. He is now employed by the Cummings contracting concern.

FINE SPEECHES AT FARM PICNIC

A series of short speeches by prominent men holding the interest of approximatey 500 men and women at Mary Fate Park Sunday afternoon when they gathered for the annual Farmers' Picnic, headed by Ohio Independent Farmers of which H. H. Fackler is chairman. Mr. Fackler introduced the speakers that took the platform following a bounteous dinner at noon.

Among those present for the event were Robert Bingham, assistant State Welfare Director of Columbus; Arthur Booth, state chairman of the Union Farmers of Illinois; Congressman J. Harry McGregor of the 17th Ohio District, and Congressman Lemke of North Dakota.

Congressman McGregor gave a splendid report of what is going on in Washington, and some of the bills who he opposed and favored. McGregor expressed opposition to certain Federal controls of medicine, education, hospitals and farm production.

Congressman Lemke told some revealing facts on the cost of government and of some of the bills which were introduced and favored by President Truman. He stressed more than ever, the necessity of voting at the coming election, and he told the farmers present that they must vote and vote wisely if they are to hold their representation in government. Lemke pointed out that a few years ago there were thirty-three million farmers in 1910 and with open for business, Friday, Sept. 10th. nineteen million today, which he says makes a dark picture for farm representation.

Cong. Lemke also brought out the fact that natural resources of the country have been depleted 11½ percent to 8¾ per cent within the past few years. Natural resources of the country were set at 27 per cent in 1938.

Cong. Lemke urged farmers to unite in their effort to secure cost of production, and to watch the candidates for whom they vote in the coming election. Mr. Lemke spoke interestingly on the affairs of our nation as it stands today, and his speech was well received.

The picnic was a success in every way, and it drew numerous farmers from a distance.

MAKE SPLENDID DONATIONS TO LOCAL SQUAD

AMERICAN LEGION DONATES $250; JAYCEES CONTRIBUTE $200 TO FOOTBALL FUND.

Two good-sized contributions were made this week toward the fund of the Plymouth Athletic Association which is sponsoring football in Plymouth for the first time in many years.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce recently voted to contribute $200 toward the Athletic Fund, which was raised through sponsoring a stag party, and through co-sponsorship of the carnival.

This splendid organization was formed a couple of years ago by young men of the town, and they have promoted several worthwhile projects. When it came to the question of football for Plymouth the entire membership fell in line and supported the cause practically one hundred percent.

The second contribution came in Tuesday night when members of the Ehret-Parsel Post American Legion voted to donate $250 toward the Athletic Association's Fund. The Legion also participated in sponsoring the recent carnival and they raised sufficient funds to help out the football movement. Members of the Local Legion Post are also aggressive in securing things that help make Plymouth a better place to live, and their efforts are very worthwhile and appreciative.

The Plymouth Athletic Association gratefully acknowledges these two worthwhile contributions, and wish to assure the two organizations that the money is going to a worthwhile project, and is greatly appreciated.

If any individual or group wishes to donate cash to the athletic fund, contributions may be made to Harold Caskman, Robert Lewis, Elton Robertson or Rev. Paetznick. Money is still needed to meet payment on football equipment, and your help is still needed.

HURON YOUTHS TO HAVE A NEW FAIR BUILDING

In 1946 a new Junior Fair Building was erected by the Huron County Agricultural Society with the cooperation of the County Supt. of Schools and Agricultural Extension Service which completed the series of three buildings that are available for use of the rural young people of Huron County.

An advisory committee, composed of the Extension Staff and representatives of Vocational Agriculture, Vocational Home Economics, Juvenile Grange, Boy Scouts, and County Agricultural Society, met to set up the first complete Junior Fair for Huron County. The object of this group was to promote the welfare of Huron County boys and girls through their exhibits and activities at the Huron County Fair. Wherever possible activities of the Junior exhibitors would be coordinated for the benefit of all the young people exhibiting at the Fair.

Any boy or girl living in Huron County and/or belonging to an organization within Huron Huron County that participates in the Junior Fair would be considered a member of the Huron County Junior Fair.

Officers were elected from these various representative groups to carry on their fair activities similar to the adult Fair and give the young people of Huron County additional responsibilities in conducting their own Fair. The officers elected for the 1948 Junior Fair were Chas. Moore, President; Alan Todd, Vice President; Ann Stackhouse, Secretary-Treasurer; Beatrice Best, Jim Meyers and William Erf, Executive Committee. The duties of these officers will be to check entries from other young people coming in to the Secretary of the Junior Fair and supervise the general care and feeding of livestock, cleanliness and orderliness of Junior Fair buildings and over-all Junior Fair judging.

Regulations for livestock entries to the Junior Fair are the same that have been common to the junior part of the Huron County Fair in previous years.

Around THE Square

By Phineas Whittlescod

IT TAKES just as much work to plant poor seed as it does good ones, at least that's the way Cyrus Tucker of Shelby Route 3 thinks. And to prove it Mr. Tucker brot home three ribbons which were awarded him at the Ohio State Fair in the certified seed division. No wonder the crops look good out on the Tucker farm.

SEE BY the papers where Harl Smith, well-known orchestra leader in the midwest, intends opening up a car sales agency at Sun Valley, Idaho. Well, Brother Smith, if you're like the dealers in this section, it's going to take a lot of horn-tootin' to get new cars. Incidentally, Mr. Smith is a former Willard boy, and is well known in this community.

STEVIE, two and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Biglin of Mills Avenue went "adventuring" Sunday. His parents busy with his baby sister and packing the car, failed to notice that Stevie just started out for Shelby himself. It took the entire neighborhood, his parents, grandparents and a few friends to chase him down. Two hours later he was found near Greenlawn cemetery. He promised to wait hereafter for his parents when he goes on trips. In the meantime, his parents are grateful for the help of friends and neighbors in locating him.

THESE MODERN Younguns . . . Jimmy, aged 8, was assigned by his teacher to write a piece about his origin. Seeking information, he questioned his mother. "Mom, where did Grandma come from?" "The storck brought her, darling." "Well, where did you come from?" "The stork brought me too." "And me?" "The stork brought you, too, dear." Resignedly the young man wrote the lead for his composition: "There hasn't been a normal birth in our family for three generations."

WORD WAS RECEIVED WEDNESDAY that Governor Thomas Herbert will attend the Huron County Fair next Thursday afternoon, Sept. 16th. He will attend an informal reception first at the Avalon Hotel and later speak to the crowd.

TOM ROOT who attended the Air Races on Labor Day in Cleveland not only enjoyed the races but came away with one of the prizes presented. About ready to leave the grounds, he heard his name over the loud speaker announcing he had won a portable washing machine. That's a timely gift, huh, Tom? Tom is taking a bride one of these days soon.

MRS. CHRISTINE JOHNSON who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. O. M. Lamoreaux, and husband, on Mills Avenue will observe her eighty-sixth birthday on September 17th. Sunday afternoon while at Cedar Point, she got a real thrill riding the Merry-go-round and took in the various entertainments of the park and enjoyed them thoroughly. Friends and neighbors might wish to shower her with cards on the seventeenth.

KIMBERLY ANN, new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Caywood already cost her dad an extra buck. Jerry paid off to E. B. Curpen when she turned out to be a "she" instead of a "he." Jerry has two other children, both boys, "Butch" and Jimmy.

IT'S GOOD news that Plymouth is to have a veterinarian. Since Dr. C. W. Babcock left last Fall to make his home in the West, the community has been without a vet. Dr. F. W. Douglass and family moved into their home here this week, and we extend to them a warm welcome. They're from Salina, Kan., but Dr. Douglass is a native Ohioan, being born in Utica. Well, Doc, just be prepared to answer the phone day and night, and to go out in all kinds of weather . . . and good luck to you all!

Patricia Ford Repeats Vows in Shelby

At 4:30 p. m. Sunday in the First Methodist church in Shelby, Miss Patricia Mae Ford exchanged wedding vows with Raymond Edgar Downs. The Rev. George C. Beebe officiated for the double ring ceremony and Dr. James A. Scott assisted with the service.

The nuptials were spoken before an altar decorated with beauty baskets of white gladioli, palms and ferns. The scene was illuminated by two seven branch candelabra.

Miss Ford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kennth Ford, 126 West Main Street, Shelby, and Mr. Downs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Downs, R. F. D. 3, Mansfield.

Miss Eloise Walker, a close friend of the couple, presided at the organ and Carl Paine, uncle of the bride, and Vaughn Rinehart were the soloists for the wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely pure white slipper satin gown. It was made with a squared neckline, in front, with a band of satin round the neckline. The bodice was tight with long tight sleeves that were made with the very new padded shoulder. The skirt was cut extremely circular, falling in deep folds and it extended into a wide sweeping train.

The little Mary of Scott cap which held the silk English illusion veil was of hand made Princess lace.

Miss Ford carried an arm bouquet with a white orchid surrounded by snowwhite rosebuds.

The maid of honor, Miss Juanita Downs, sister of the bridegroom, wore a coral stiff taffeta gown. It had square neckline both in front and back, with a band of taffeta outlining the sheer marquisette yoke. The sleeves were quite short with a little cuff and gauntlets that extended just a little below the elbow. The gauntlets were also edged in a matching cuff. The bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Ford, Nankin, Ohio, Miss Arline Ford, Plymouth, Ohio, and Mrs. James Griffeth, Shelby, Ohio, are all cousins of the bride. They wore gowns fashioned like the maid of honor's, only in dove grey. All the attendants were wearing headbands of coral ostrich feathers.

The maid of honor carried an arm spray of mixed flowers with a grey ribbon. Arm sprays of coral flowers with coral ribbons were carried by the bridesmaids.

Ray F. Downs, father of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Warren Ford, brother of the bride; Lawrence Paine, cousin of the bride; and Robert Hart, close friend of the bridegroom, escorted the guests to their pews.

Immediately following the ceremony, in the church parlors, a reception was held for one hundred and fifty people. The room was decorated with beauty baskets of gladioli. Miss Ruth Waddington cut the cake for the guests. Miss Lois Walker and Miss Alice McKinney presided at the serving table. Miss Naomi Downs was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Downs graduated from the Shelby high school and is a member of Nu Phi Mu sorority. She is employed as a dental assistant at Dr. Lewis Coover's office, Shelby. Mr. Downs, a graduate of Springfield township high school, is employed at Ideal Electric, Mansfield.

The new Mrs. Downs is a granddaughter of Mrs. B. S. Ford of Nankin, formerly of Plymouth.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

One Great American Trait

I always think it does a newspaper editor good to get out from behind his desk and see how folks in other parts of America look, and think, and act.

And that's what I've been doing these past weeks, touring the country from Michigan to Texas, California to Maine. It's a mighty encouraging experience. Not only because of the different points of view you run into—but because of the tolerance which reconciles those different points of view.

I mean the tolerance of a Pennsylvania farmer for the habits of his city cousin; the tolerance of folks who vote one way towards those who vote another; the tolerance of those who prefer spring water towards those who enjoy a moderate beverage like beer.

From where I sit, it's that great American trait of tolerance—respect for individual tastes and liberties—that makes this country strong. Let's never lose it!

A Letter To A Reader

Mr. Park Moser
Leesburg, Fla.
Dear Park:

Every once in a while I think of the readers of The Advertiser in distant places, and I'd like to have the time to write each one of them. I don't know why I'm "picking" on you, except that you're down in Florida, and I've been reading the headlines of an impending hurricane. To the natives down there I don't suppose they think much of it unless it really plays havoc, but a forty mile wind around Plymouth would really throw a scare into us.

It was a beautiful day here on Sunday. The weather was one of those ideal "Fall" days, not too hot nor too cold, but the wind had the sound of winter in it. I noticed a large flock of birds flying south, and along with many other indications, the Old Man isn't so far away. I drove around town and enjoyed the beautiful fall flowers I found in many yards here. It seems that all members of the Garden Club really make their gardens show up in late summer. Mrs. B. R. Scott has a lovely variety, but the one I enjoy most, possibly because I pass more frequently, is the yard at the John A. Root home. Mrs. Root seems to know just where to plant each bed of flowers to harmonize with the others, and while I can't tell a daffodil from a pansy, I do know they're pretty. I wish Plymouth could have a real place to show off its flowers, even placing them in the various store windows is better than nothing. Anyway, flowers make a town, and I think Plymouth has more yards with flowers than any other town its size in the state.

Dropped down to the Mary Fate Park this afternoon to listen in on the speakers at the Farmers' Picnic. You really wouldn't know the park now, for so many improvements have been made. The new shelter house has been completed. It's located just east of the old one, and it was badly needed. We still need some new tables and benches, but I think the Park Board has plans to get them. There were between four hundred and five hundred people present, and we listened to some mighty good speeches. I won't go into detail here, but Congressmen McGregor and Lemke told some mighty raw facts about the "Dying New Dealers" in Washington.

Had a rather nice chat with Rev. J. C. Campbell, our former Methodist pastor. He's over in Akron now at a church with about three hundred members. He hasn't changed a bit since he left here six years ago, and he says that he still likes Plymouth better than any place he's ever lived. Rev. Campbell came down to officiate at the services held Saturday for Ray Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Ford, who was killed in the invasion of Leyte. Ray's birth announcement was the first job we printed on taking over The Advertiser. We saw him grow up, and we marvelled at his mental ability to recite pieces in Sunday School. When I look back over the war years, and with around three hundred boys from this vicinity in service, it is remarkable that we didn't suffer more fatalities than we did. War is a horrible and useless thing, and when it takes youngsters like Ray Ford, Gene Cornell and Woodrow Kuhn, and other fine fellows who gave up their lives for their country, it makes me boil when our politicians throw out a "War Cry." If we're bound to have a War No. 3, then our state department and government should pull in their horns and stop supplying war material now to those nations who think they're able to fight. Sure, we have to have WORLD TRADE, but if having world trade is going to develop into fighting, we'd better try and get along without it.

Well, Park, it's getting late on a Sunday night, and I'd better et a little food and be ready for work on Labor Day. Give regards to Mrs. Mosier, and anyone else you see from this community. We'll be expecting a long letter from you soon, but NOT when it's ten below here, and you're enjoying that Florida sunshine. Well, yes, write anytime you wish an tell us some of the things around Leesburg that are of interest to us. Well, so long, YOU ALL.

Best Regards,
Tommy Thomas, Ye Ed.

Doings In Congress

By Congressman Wm. Lemke

The campaign is on. The Presidential candidates are getting into action. One is running into rotten eggs and overripe tomatoes. This is to be regretted, but apparently the people resent a candidate, who, they believe, prefers the USSR to the USA, and who gives aid and comfort to a nation with whom we are at sword's point if not in actual conflict.

In some states the electors will have a choice between Truman, Dewey, Thurmond, Wallace and Thomas. The real choice and probability will be between Truman and Dewey, and in case the election goes to the House of Representatives, Thurmond. Under the Constitution, if no candidate gets a majority of the electoral vote, the election goes to the House of Representatives, and each state has but one vote. In that case, Thurmond would be a real possibility.

Tuesday, November 2nd, is election day. On that day the people are the supreme rulers. On that day, it is not only our privilege, but our duty to vote. As citizens still interested in the best government in the world, save none, it is our duty to see that the members of our families and our neighbors and their families vote. The vote of every member of our family is just as important as our own.

It is also our duty to vote intelligently—to acquaint ourselves with all the important issues—and then vote for the candidate whom we feel will best serve our state and Nation. There are far-reaching and vital state, national and international issues involved in this election—issues that directly affect our own form of government—directly affect our own lives and the lives of those who are near and dear to us. Under these conditions, we must not and cannot afford to fail to vote, and to vote thinkingly and objectively.

There are those who say politics are dirty. May I suggest that politics are no dirtier than we permit them to be. If we tolerate dishonesty and insincerity in government officials, we have no one to blame but ourselves. If we permit dishonest, clever, gushing politicians to slap us on the back, and then betray us, we ourselves are to blame.

In a Republic like ours, everyone is personally responsible for his own vote. He must not blindly follow false leaders. He must not permit others to do his thinking or his voting for him. Each individual must discharge that duty in the voting booth in accordance with his own best judgment and conscience. He must not be a voting machine for some puny would be dictator. Whenever the people of our Nation permit others to dictate their vote, then self-government has become a thing of the past.

This Week IN SPORTS

BY JIM SHUTT

The Plymouth Merchants Baseball team dropped a heart-breaking, 10 inning, 1-0 decision to the Norwalk V. F. W. Juniors last Thursday night at Norwalk under the lights. Jake Beberick pitched 1 hit ball for the Plymouth team for nine innings but after two were out in the last half of the tenth inning, the next man doubled and the following batter singled him home. Beberick struck one 14 men and issued only one base on balls.

Well the Shelby Blues semi-pro football team was forced to go all out Sunday afternoon as they fought the. Sandusky Maroons to a 0-0 tie. The Maroons made a real bid for the game in the last quarter as they drove to the Blues 5 yard line but failed to score from there as 4 straight passes fell incomplete. The Blues were handicapped by fumbles most of the afternoon. The Blues will play Bucyrus this Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. at the Shelby High School Field.

Well the Pilgrim leather luggers will break loose next Friday afternoon when the whistle sounds for the opening kick-off of the local season at 3:30 p. m. Norwalk St. Paul will be the visiting team and the game promises to be filled with thrills and spills. Let's everybody turn out and give the local footballers plenty of support this season and I'm sure the ywill try like mad to bring home a flock of victories.

Say, don't forget to get your season tickets early as they will be on sale soon. The prices are reasonable and you will see a lot of football.

Well, bowling fans, the bowling season is just arouhd the corner and this year the Fate-Root-Heath shop league is going to Shelby with eight teams instead of to Willard as they did last year. Weekly scores and team standing will be published in this paper as soon as the league seasons opens September 17th.

HERE AND THERE . . . . with Eddie Stanky again ready for active duty after a 60 day lay-off due to a broken ankle the Boston Braves look more than ever as the team to beat for the N. L. pennant . . . . the Mansfield Tygers football team may turn out to be the team to beat in Ohio . . . when 17,092 fans paid their way into Sportsman's Park last Saturday evening to see Satchel Page pitch for the Cleveland Indians against the Brownies, it was the largest crowd to witness a Browns game there this season . . . . Vic Raschi, all pitcher of the N. Y. Yankees, started as a catcher but finds he is much happier on the pitchers side of the plate.

Well that about winds up the sports for this week, except for this parting thought . . . . about the boy who flunked out of college, he fumbled a pass in the end zone.

HESSIAN FLY FREE DATE SET

The Hessian fly menace to the wheat growers has been increasing in the past few years and is expected to reach its peak in damage to wheat in approximately 1950. Approximately 35 per cent wheat infestation was realized at our last peak of infestation with the fly in 1932. This means just one thing to wheat growers. A strict observance to a safe-sowing fly-free date should be observed by all conscientious wheat growers. That fly-free date, or safe-sowing date for Huron County is September 25th. It remains permanent year after year.

Holmes, Tuscarawas and Stark Counties have had the highest infestation of Ohio fields this year. That infestation has reached as high as 50% of the straws. These counties are all very close to Huron County when it comes to possible wheat infestation. Any farmer who does not consider himself a good neighbor will be the one who will sow his wheat before this fly-free date has passed.

Some farmers in Huron County are planning to sow a new variety of wheat this fall called Butler. Butler wheat was developed primarily for southwestern Ohio but has yielded satisfactorily in other sections of the state.

E. P. Reed, Extension Agronomist, feels that Butler wheat compares with other wheat varieties very favorably in this section. Stooling ability of Butler wheat seems to be slightly better than other varieties, but not enough to cut down on the rate of seeding per acre. The usual seeding rate in Ohio for all varieties of wheat is from seven to nine pecks per acre. This rate should also be sown for Butler wheat. Fertilizer requirements for Butler wheat will be the same as for any other variety. Approximately 500 pounds of a complete fertilizer per acre is recommended where a meadow crop is being seeded in the wheat the following spring. Lime should be applied in quantities necessary to neutralize the soil. Farmers should have their soil tested in order to determine this lime sowing rate. Further information may be secured from the Agricultural Extension Service, Court House, Norwalk.

FIFTEEN COSTLY MISTAKES IN FARMING

When net cash farm incomes range from more than $50,000 to only a few dollars or a loss in some cases, you must admit something is wrong. Successful Farming magazine has just completed an interesting research project on this subject. Here are fifteen costly mistakes that have been uncovered. They can be a check list to boost farm income.

(1) Farmers are prone to follow a year-to-year program instead of thinking out a long-time operation.

(2) Highest efficiency is not obtained because of farming on too small a scale. Volume of business should be large enough to make the fullest possible use of equipment, machinery, and your available labor.

(3) A poor cropping program and misuse of soil make up another common mistake. Free, expert advice makes it both foolish and unnecessary for you to guess about fertilizer, rotation, crops that feed the soil at a profit to you.

(4) Soil conservation is merely a phrase to too many farmers. Your top soil is your stock in trade and now is the time to do something about terracing, contouring, grass waterways, and adjusting crops to soil capacity.

(5) Poor livestock programs are evident on low-income farms. You must consider the choice and amount of livestock and above all your own ability to care for livestock and poultry.

(6) Far too many farmers are making little or no effort to follow sanitary methods in hog and poultry enterprises.

(7) You can't guess at cost and income and operate your farm efficiently. Records point directly to your strong as well as weak points.

(8) Many farmers still are careless in their choice of sires. It's wise to pay more for a good sire and maintain the quality of your herd.

(9) Too much investment in high-priced machinery is another fault that leads to low income. Compare the cost of custom work before you buy, and think too about joint ownership with your neighbors.

(10) Many farm buildings are not suited to enterprises on the farm. Don't spend money repairing this kind of building and don't build new buildings from plans that were designed for farming twenty-five years ago.

(11) About 75% of our farms have a weed problem. You should prevent weeds from going to seed—clipping of pastures is important.

(12) Farm layouts and arrangements around the buildings waste many man hours. A little planning and reorganization of fields, and ways of doing the chores, will go a long way in saving time, steps, and money.

(13) Lack of operating capital frequently is a real handicap to farmers. Farming is a business and it's no disgrace for you to borrow money to make your business succeed.

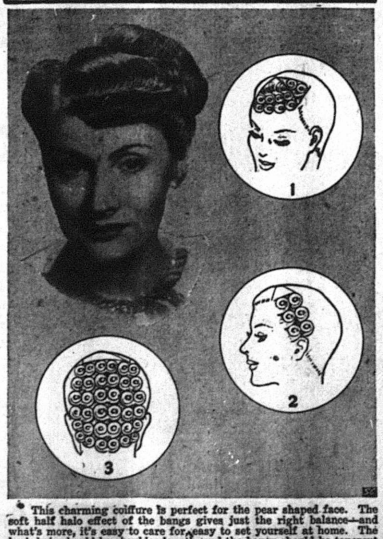
(14) A common tendency is for farmers to follow the crowd. Buy when others are buying and sell when others are selling. There is a seasonal time to buy and sell everything, and at those times prices are highest.

(15) Many farmers hesitate to make changes and to take advantage of new practices proved by other farmers and experiment stations.

Any one of the practices we have listed here may lose you more money than you're actually making. It's different to realize what a big difference good farm management can make until you try it.

Present indications, according to Successful Farming, are that corn price support in your county will be 5 to 8 cents higher than on last year's crop. Also, before December, the market price will be down to support level.

Hair beauty secrets... by toni



This charming coiffure is perfect for the pear shaped face. The soft half halo effect of the bangs gives just the right balance—and what's more, it's easy to care for, easy to set yourself at home. The back hair should be shoulder length, and the bangs should be tapercut to about 6 inches. To dress: top pin curls are waved into bangs (1) and the two identical side sections are brushed into rolls (2). Back curls are in 6 vertical rows, alternate left and right, and when brushed out, they are swirled up the back and anchored with combs. (3) Of course, a good natural looking permanent is a necessity to keep this hair-do attractive.

HOLD RITES

Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Brown and son David of Chicago attended the funeral of R. P. Sharick of Willard Friday. Mr. Sharick died unexpectedly of a heart attack last Wednesday evening at his home. He was a prominent business man having established the R. P. Sharick jewelry store fifty-five years ago when he came from Ashland. Although he sold his interest in the store a year ago to Glen W. McElfish who had been his partner since 1920, Mr. Sharick continued active at the store.

Surviving are his widow, Ethel and a number of nieces and nephews.

Rev. H. A. Neff officiated at the funeral rites and burial was made in the New Haven cemetery.

IN CLEVELAND CLINIC

Mrs. Richard Fox of Willard Route will leave Friday for Cleveland where she will undergo an operation at the Cleveland Clinic.

Mr. Fox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Fox of Plymouth and both have many friends here who wish her a speedy recovery.

BACK ON THE JOB

Mrs. Lena Becker who has been off duty at the Black and Gold Soda Grill has returned to her duties. Mrs. Becker had a bad fall down the steps but is now feeling better.

LIST INVENTORY

Estate of John C. Gibson, Willard, was inventoried and appraised at $44,477, with the bulk consisting of stocks and securities.

THE FARMER SPEAKS

More than 50% of the American farmers are dissatisfied with the progress the United Nations has made to date, according to a recent survey conducted for successful Farming Magazine.

Only 1 per cent of all farmers showed the isolationist attitude with disapproval of the basic idea of U. N.

The change the greatest number of farmers wanted to see made is to give the United Nations more strength, political force. One Kansas man would like to see "Any change that conferred more authority than merely advisory." A woman from Virginia commented, "I would like to see it rearranged so that one power couldn't interfere with wishes of the whole."

Others dissatisfied with the U. N. would like to: Change the Russian status; Change or abandon the veto; and make the U. N. more democratic. These farmers had sound reasons for their objections to the U. N. operations thus far. "They have done nothing but torn down one house and built another," said a man from North Carolina, while a man from Mississippi summed up his reasons in one short ominous statement, "We are near war."

The 18% who are satisfied with the progress the U. N. has made take a more optimistic view of the situation. A man from Kentucky spoke for most of the 18% when he said, "You have to crawl before you walk—it takes time to work out the present problems."

INFORMATION ON SALES TAX

Governor Herbert has signed the recently-enacted amendment removing the sales tax from all cales under 41 cents. The new law became effective on August 1, 1948.

Last week I issued a statement setting forth the revised sales tax rates and emphasizing that there is no change whatever in any brackets involving taxable retail sales of 41 cents and more. I wish to repeat that the new law does not permit deduction of the first 40 cents of each retail sale. It exempts only sales of 40 cents or less. The tax on each taxable sale over 40 cents is computed in the same manner as in the past.

The new law also provides that no vendor shall be required to maintain records of individual retail sales under 41 cents, and that no assessment shall be made against any vendor for retail sales of less than 41 cents solely because the vendor has no records, or has inadequate records, of sales less than 41 cents.

The new law makes no change whatever regarding the necessity for keeping records of retail sales over 40 cents. Each vendor still is required by law to keep complete and accurate records of sales of tayable property, and this includes records of sales over 40 cents. The amendment provides that when the vendor does not have adequate records of receipts from retail sales in excess of 40 cents, the Tax Commissioner may refuse to accept the vendor's return. In that event, the Tax Commissioner is authorized to make test checks of the vendor's business for a representative period and to determine the percentage of taxable retail sales on the basis of such test checks and other information relating to the sales made by the vendor.

Many vendors will find it both practical and prudent to keep records of sales under 41 cents as well as those over 40 cents. Where such records can be kept they will provide the vendor with complete protection against erroneous assessments. Actual records are always better than percentage estimates, no matter how scientifically such estimates may be computed.

Moreover, it should be remembered that the burden of proof still is upon the vendor whether records are kept or not. In this connection I call attention to the case of Jones V. Glander, 150 Ohio St., 192, decided by the Supreme Court of Ohio just last week, on July 28. In this case the court held as follows:

"A vendor, who has not kept records of tax-exempt sales of personal property, may, in a sales-tax-assessment proceeding, introduce parol evidence as to the amount of such sales, and, where the amount of gross sales is known, the burden is upon the vendor to show what part, if any, of such sales are tax-exempt. (Paragraph three of the syllabus of Obert v. Evatt, Tax Commr., 144 Ohio St., 492, approved and followed.)"

The principle of law announced in this case still applies notwithstanding the recent amendment.

In order that vendors may have some guide by which to check their operations from time to time, the Department of Taxation has been asked to confer with the several classes of vendors for the purpose of developing percentages representing income from sales of less than 41 cents. The Department is willing to participate in such conferences upon the condition and with the understanding that any such percentages shall be regarded as entirely unofficial. No general percentages can be legally binding with respect to any individual vendor. Each individual case must be decided on its own facts and not in terms of the average for the particular type of business.

In relieving Ohio consumers from the tax on sales under 41 cents it was not the intention of the Governor or the General Assembly to impose such tax on vendors. This will not be done. As Tax Commissioner, I intend to apply the new requirements of the law in good faith. At the same time I shall expect each vendor to comply fully with all requirements of the law. Vendors who wilfully fail to give stamps to customers will continue to be subject to prosecution and also to suspension or revocation of their licenses. Vendors who faithfully give stamps to customers and otherwise comply fully with the law will have no cause for worry.

C. Emory Glander,
Tax Commissioner

THRILLS APLENTY AT THE RAILROAD FAIR—Pageantry and thrilling beauty keynote Chicago's Railroad Fair, mammoth outdoor exposition showing on Chicago's lakefront through September. Expected to draw more than 2,000,000 visitors, the exhibit stretches for 50 acres as shown in the picture at right.

Largest public attraction of its kind ever sponsored by a single group of industries, the spectacle demonstrates to all industries how to get on better terms with the traveling and shipping public.

Telling the story of the railroads' contribution to America's history and economic growth, the Fair commemorates the 100th anniversary of the first run of a steam railroad locomotive out of Chicago, then a muddy frontier outpost.

In the "Wheels A'Rolling" pageant, the history of transport is told with ox-carts, horses, and 19 famous old-time trains. At the finale, pictured above, Grand Trunk Western's two-unit 3,000 horsepower Diesel locomotive rolls out slowly to crown the pageant with a glimpse of future railroad planning.

Among the exhibits of the 38 participating railroads is the Grand Trunk Western's snow-melter. This unique mechanical monster is the latest development in snow removing equipment. Adding a touch of beauty to the snow-eating giant, Marty Collins and Renee Kaye, Patricia Stevens models, pose playfully before the exhibit.

HOW TO BE SURE YOUR CHILD IS READY FOR HIS FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

When the school bus drives away, taking your Susie to school for the first time, you'll probably be full of fears and misgivings. But, if you've prepared yourself and little Susie for this big venture, there will be no real basis for your misgivings, says Successful Farming magazine.

Every little problem that is sure to face Susie can't be predicted by you, but you should anticipate as many of them as possible. For example, in every school, at one time or another, a teacher will say: "You left your pencil at home? What I would you think of a carpenter who left his tools behind when he went to work?" So help Susie avoid habits of unpreparedness with proper training. Help her get everything together the night before that she will need at school the next day. Susie will then enter the classroom confidently.

Listen attentively and interestedly to Susie's tales of the day's events. That's where you can help the most. By letting Susie know that you are interested, you can learn how she gets along with the other children, her teacher, and how much she likes or dislikes school. Only by knowing what is wrong can you help correct the fault. Help your Susie to realize that the small disappointments and mistakes aren't important. It is important that she feels what really counts is the work she does and what she is learning.

The role of the teacher and school is your responsibility, too. Parents who are faced with any very difficult school problems can find assistance and encouragement by becoming members of the school's parent-teacher organization. Coming in contact with parents whose problems are similar to their own will lead more quickly to the proper solution.

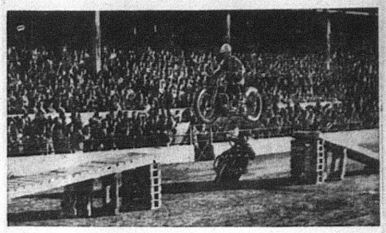
Death Defying Daredevils To Stage Sensational Show

28 Big Thrillers Will Be Presented When Ward Beam's World Champion Daredevils Perform at the Huron County Fair, Norwalk, Saturday Afternoon and Night, September 18



This is the aerial criss cross or aerial leap frog with motorcycle. It's one of the most thrilling of all thrill show events and is but one of the twenty-eight events on the program. Smokey Stone will jump an automobile completely over a huge bus; Johnny Fillpeck will roll a car end over end and side over side; there will be the dive bomber crash, the tunnel of fire, the slide for life, the T-bone crash and eight other events on the action-packed program.

Here is Dick Rogers, famous Hollywood stunt man, with Ward Beam's Auto Daredevils attempting to set a new World's Record, jumping an automobile over a huge bus.

WARNING!

THIS IS NOT TO BE CONFUSED WITH AN ORDINARY THRILL SHOW . . . it is composed of 20 World's Champions direct from the race tracks of America . . . from Hollywood movie lots, IN PERSON HERE. See Rogers attempt to make a new record leaping a car up and over a transcontinental bus and seven parked cars . . . making a longer leap than the one that killed the late Lucky Teter, or the one that killed Jack Perry, a Ward Beam stunt man.
