

THE PLYMOUTH STORY Remembers Plymouth By Its Five Mud Roads

Rewritten by Marguerite Boardman Pitzer from the Original Manuscript by Charlotte Wooster Boal.

If Charlotte Wooster Boal, who long ago wrote her memoirs of a long-ago Plymouth, were living today she would be 107 years of age. Her personality which comes to us through these following sheets of paper, is pleasing.

If we think that today we have a traffic problem in our very active town, we should think of the traffic problems of Plymouth, which were solved in 1847. There is speed and congestion. In 1847 there was probably just one big problem—mud. With one big problem, our imagination we can still find the picture. Try to think of the Square and all our streets without their pavings, curbs, etc. Then add to this seven days of nice Spring or Autumn rain. When there was no mud, and a lack of grass at times, there would always be plenty of dust. The streets had been many more trees around the Square at that time, although that is not to which I have yet found no certain answer.

To designate between Mrs. Boal's story and any added notes of explanation or direction, the words, phrases and sentences appearing within brackets in bold type are our notes. Mrs. Boal's explanations are in regular type.

"Plymouth Ohio 1846 to 1853"
"My memory of this village covers, as the above caption indicates, about nine or ten years. I must have been in 1846 or 1847, when I was five years old, that my father, Henry M. Wooster, moved with his family from Norwalk to this little town."

"Next—(when I say 'next' I do not mean the actual geographical 'next' but according to the plotting in my mind)—probably one of the stores was the home of Dr. Benschoter. (This location would be somewhere between Webber's Drug Store and the alleyway just east of the present residence and the Plymouth Library.)

"It was, like a good many homes in Plymouth, built to the street but walk from which started the front steps. The second story extended from the front porch, so that the front room up stairs was one large one in which dances could be held and probably were given."

"Dr. Benschoter's family consisted of his wife, five daughters, Sarah, Chris, Helen, Irene and Lois and one son Billy. Sarah was married to Mr. Robinson, who married a Mr. Wright, a Newark banker. I do not know what became of the other girls. Billy died young. I think he may have entered manhood. I saw a tomb by itself in the old graveyard with his name on it. At least I did not see the grave stones of any other of the family. My father wondered 'Why? Poor Billy! I remember there was a shaking of heads as over a wayward boy, on speaking of this to an old resident she said 'The boy was a little more sinned against than sinning!'"

"(I, for one, am going to investigate and see if Billy Benschoter's gravestone is still there in Pioneer's cemetery. I saw it there ever since I was a child. It is the only one of this very, very old pioneer cemetery? It's present condition is deplorable.)

"Next, on the south side of the square and in the corner of the same yard was the doctor's office. Associated with him was Dr. Roeloff Bevier. That they were good Alpaths was a constantly certified by the smell of drugs coming out of the office front door. For a little while they were the only doctors in Plymouth; indeed they were for a short period of the nine or ten years we lived there. I know of no others."

"During that short period, a Dr. Myers—a homeopathist—came from Pittsburg. Mother employed him. My children, Chris, were that Mother disliked the Alpaths because they used so much Calomel and she'd know of people to have been salivated, whatever that was."

"There was a lane next west of the doctor's office."

Make Plans For School Homecoming

Extensive plans are under way for Plymouth High's homecoming, which is set for Nov. 11th. On that date the last game of the football season will be played here when the home team meets Cardington.

The first appearance of the school band will be made at this game. The band is under direction of Mr. Guy Bishop.

The crowning of the queen will also be held, and this day will feature "Dad's Day." In the evening a dance will be given in the high school auditorium from 8 to 10.

Further details will be made later, but from reports coming out of the high school, it's going to be one big day in town!

SATURDAY MORNING REMINDER

Yes, just a reminder that there's delicious baked goods waiting for you at Fackler's Juvenile Shop at 10:00 a. m. on Saturday, Oct. 22. This bake sale is sponsored by Ladies Aid of the Episcopacy.

Mr. E. Moore Dies In Willard

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Moore, widow of the late Charles S. Moore, died at her home, 16, at 1 p. m. following a six weeks illness at the Willard Municipal hospital.

Mrs. Moore was born Oct. 29, 1872 in Sandusky and would have been 78 years of age this month had she lived. She was the daughter of James and Jane Wallace Brown.

Survivors include a niece, Mrs. Mildred Andrews of Grand Rapids, Ohio, who made her home with three sisters, Mrs. H. H. Moore, Mrs. N. H. Moore, Mrs. Sharpless, Greenwisch, Mrs. Jessie Hill, Plymouth and Mrs. Hugh Barber, Willard; two brothers, Mr. Brown, North Fairfield and F. W. Brown, Willard.

Mrs. Moore has made her home in Plymouth for many years, relying in the Sourwine apartments. Quiet, unassuming, she made many friends here who will greatly miss her.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the McQuate funeral home with interment in New Haven cemetery. Rev. H. A. Neff of the Willard Presbyterian church officiated.

BURIED IN PLYMOUTH

Funeral services for Cornelius DeWitt of Shelby were held Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the Dye funeral home with Rev. A. L. Myler of Willard officiating. Interment was in Greenlawn cemetery, Plymouth.

Mr. DeWitt, 79, retired, was found dead in the bathroom last Wednesday at his home in the Greenlawn apartments. A cerebral hemorrhage was due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was born June 7, 1870 in Plymouth and lived the last years of his life in Shelby, Ohio.

Surviving are his wife, Florence; three daughters, Mrs. Leo Bennett and Mrs. Robert Barber of Mansfield, and Myrtle of Marion; one son, Clarence, of Mansfield; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Milliron of Willard and Mrs. Nellie VanHorn of Shelby and five grandchildren.

Football Squad Attend College Game Saturday

Members of the Plymouth Football team and their Coach Richard McFullen received complimentary tickets to the Defiance-Ashtabula Football game Saturday at Ashtabula. The game ended in a 19-0 victory for Ashtabula in a Mid-Ohio League Parents' Day game.

Transportation was furnished by teachers and parents and the boys greatly enjoyed and appreciated the privilege of attending the game. AT Otterbein College.

The previous Saturday, Juniors and Seniors of the local school joined other groups from northern Ohio for High School Day at Otterbein College at Westerville.

Approximately 750 guests were conducted on a tour of the campus visiting such places as King Hall, the Alumna Gym, Barlow Dining Hall and the Student Union.

At 11:45 lunch for all guests were served in the cafeteria at the Ohio E. U. B. Church and received free tickets to the game with their dinner. Mr. Guy Bishop accompanied the boys on this trip.

POLO VICTIM NEEDS HELP

Won't you please help make it possible for a four year old Plymouth child to attend college? Judith Bowman, daughter of Vera Farnwall Bowman here in Plymouth has been selected as one of a group of children to be cared for and treated in the general Palsey Center located at Bowling Green University.

In order to give this little girl the opportunity to receive these treatments immediately, the Huron County Welfare Department had to guarantee the University $100.00 a week. However the funds for this year have been exhausted for more than six months.

As a result, the Plymouth Association of Commerce (formerly known as the Jay Gees) has taken upon itself the responsibility to raise funds so that Judith can take these treatments, thus some day going away with her leg braces which she now wears.

Some time during the next week containers for contributors will be placed in various business places in the community. All interested parties should be made to contact all other organizations for contributions, but in case any organization should be overlooked, the organization may send its contribution to Jimmy Davis, Albert Marvin of James Root, the committee. Also, any individual may contribute by sending or giving their money to one of the above men.

The citizens of this community have always contributed generously when asked to for a worthy cause, so we know they will not let little Judith down.

NEW HOUSEKEEPER

Mrs. Grace Lebold of Willard is the new housekeeper for Mr. Mahlon Nimmons of the Springmill Road. Mrs. Lebold formerly lived in Willard and is glad to be back in this area.

McGregor Rips SEC Fallacies; Plans Exposure

Congressman J. Harry McGregor told the Associated Press in Washington Wednesday he is going to "expose the fallacies" in the Federal Security agency's explanation of the handling of the Social Security trust fund for old age insurance in a series of 19 Ohio speeches.

McGregor said he plans a series of 19 speeches in Ohio "to wake up the people to the fact that the trust fund doesn't contain a dime that contains the government's IOU's."

"The government," McGregor said, "collects the Social Security taxes for old age insurance, spends the money for anything it pleases, puts a corresponding sum of federal securities into the old age insurance trust fund, and goes deeper and deeper into debt. That's not how the federal security agency explains it, but McGregor said his speeches will 'expose the fallacies in their argument.'"

'No Foolin' Curfew Will Ring Tonight

At 9:00 o'clock tonight the curfew will be "blown" instead of "rung," because the village has no bell, but the fire sirens will be sounded instead. Mayor Carroll Robinson decided Tuesday night to enforce the curfew law which is on the village's list of ordinance from now until Halloween is over.

This action was taken, said Mayor Robinson, because the youngsters are a bit early in playing Halloween pranks. Plymouth will not tolerate deliberate destruction of property and the aggravation of older residents, stated the Mayor.

In making his announcement of curfew, Mayor Robinson pointed out that youngsters up to 18 years of age will not be allowed on the streets after 9:00 at night and they will break up any group consisting of two or more. Already some property damage has been reported which includes the "scratching" of a large glass window at the McIntire Store. Removal of corporation signs in Plymouth and New Haven has also been brought to the attention of officials.

We don't intend to take any rough stuff from the youngsters who have a yen to go out and play havoc," said Mayor Robinson, and we expect to put into service six extra policemen at night from now until the big night is over."

Ford Davis, president of the Community Club, states that if the youngsters insist on going to extremes during the season that the club may call off its Halloween party which is planning to sponsor.

So as a kindly warning, to those who go "Halloweening," do the little stunts that are in reason, but don't destroy or mutilate property, or local officials are emphatic in making a definite stand against such pranks.

Elect Officers In County Council of Religious Educa'n

The annual election was held last week at the fall meeting of the North Richland County Council of Religious Education in the Ganges church.

The officers elected are: Rev. E. Edgar Eckert, president; Rev. F. B. Million, vice president; Mrs. Faye Jackson, secretary; and Mrs. James S. Clark, treasurer. Bible teaching has already started for this season with Mrs. Hettinger at Union and Shiloh schools and Mr. Mellick at Plymouth. Rev. J. Miller of the Ganges church was the retiring president and Mr. John Humbert was the retiring treasurer. Preliminary plans were made for holding a series of institutes in different regions of the district, as in former years.

Reports were heard from the retiring officers and from Mrs. Virginia Hettinger and Rev. Jack Mellick. Mrs. Hettinger explained the need for the mill levy to be voted upon in November for $18,000 to be used for furniture and equipment, light fixtures, school bus garage, shop room and repairs to the high school gym floor.

November 4th was set as the dedication day of the new grade school, a public inspection and open house on Nov. 5th and 6th. A pleasing snack of coffee and donuts was served at the close of the meeting.

IRA J. PAGE DIES AT 67

Ira J. Page, 67, retired structural steel worker in ship yards, died Monday at 1 a. m. at the Willard Municipal hospital after a 12-day week illness.

Mr. Page was born Feb. 2, 1882 at White City, Kansas, but had made his home in Plymouth approximately the past two years, with his brothers on West High Street. He was the son of Andrew J. and Elizabeth Willacker Page.

Survivors are three brothers, Harry and Roy of Plymouth and Charles of Marion, O. He was married to Mrs. Mary Page and took all but one boy. Really, this isn't made up as a joke. Robby tells it for the truth, but some of the members still think he is lying for membership in the Elks club.

THE SQUARE

WITH MILD autumn weather prevailing Tuesday, we became somewhat worried after reading the headlines of a big snow out in Montana. And with an empty coal bin there's room for worry. Oh, well... maybe the miners will be hungry before I'm cold.

THERE WAS a fair turnout Sunday night for the visual educational program at the Presbyterian church. Those who saw the feature film, made in the Alps, and the first installment on "The Life of Paul," proclaimed the program an excellent one. The next show is scheduled for October 30th.

THE IMPACT of the coal and steel strike haven't been felt in Plymouth as yet, but according to William Root, purchasing agent at the Fate-Root-Health Co., there is no assurance that it won't be. "At the present time the plant has a good inventory of heavy plate steel," says Mr. Root, Wednesday afternoon. However, those suppliers who furnish us component parts for the machines we make might not be able to continue delivery for any length of time. Mr. Root pointed out. The plant uses coal only for heating purposes, and a good supply is on hand.

THE PLYMOUTH Elevator reports no stock on hand, while Fred Schneider states that he has only 50 tons in his yard; Levi McDougal, another dealer is not receiving any car loadings, and his supply is limited. As long as mild weather prevails the coal strike won't be felt here. But should a cold wave come, it is likely that what coal is available will be rationed.

THE CROP of soy beans in this area is exceptional this year, according to John Galtner, manager of the Plymouth Elevator. To date the elevator has taken in over 35,000 bushels, and the quality is said to be excellent; the beans tested very good in the wagon, but it is corn will ripen very good and quality will be found in most of the corn in this vicinity.

THE COFFEE CLUB enjoyed a remarkable story Wednesday morning when Elton Robertson took the chair and related an experience with a "Halloweening" season. Robby told how, as a youngster in New London, he and a group of boys went out one night and came across a horse and wagon. They were very good in the wagon, pulled it to the top of a three-story building and reassembled it. They then went down, got a ladder and started the horse up the ladder. It took a while to get the horse to the top, and then they had to get it over a railing which went around the top of the building. The youngsters then went after the horse and wagon. Robby said that the horse literally climbed the ladder with a little help from the gang. Don Ford asked "How did they get him down?" Robby replied "They backed him down."

They didn't do this though until the following day, when the village "mush" appeared at the school and took all but one boy. Really, this isn't made up as a joke. Robby tells it for the truth, but some of the members still think he is lying for membership in the Elks club.

THINGS TO COME—An ingenious new store window display medium that "moves without display" by pressing out figures, designs, trademarks, etc. from plastic, disintegrates as the customer's eye slides as the viewing space. The resulting image "follows" window passersby with an eerie persistence. Note in hand catalogs; a faldaway, a "pleated" job that can be collapsed and tucked away out of sight under counters, truck seats, shelves, etc. when it's not in use. Latest entry in the trend on window displays is a finger manipulated checker which pushes intricate ink figures right in the fibers of a blank check. It's no larger than a standard checkbook, but Sheen for shingles claimed to be the first guaranteed weather and waterproof finish for asphalt shingles.

Bethany Class Entertained

Two guests, Mrs. Daisy Reynolds and Mrs. Marjorie Deppen were present Tuesday evening at the Bethany Class meeting held at the home of Mrs. Ira Rose on Route 98. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Wm. Wolfe and Mrs. Albert Parkin.

Mrs. Parkinson was in charge of the devotions and two Bible contests were presented by Mrs. Wolf. Mrs. Deppen also joined the class. The class agreed to remember Boys' Village at Smithville for their Christmas project and Mrs. Parkinson and Mrs. Glenn Frakes were appointed to this committee. Devotions for this project are to be completed before the November meeting, to allow sufficient time before Christmas.

Mrs. Robert Lewis, as president, also announced that pillow cases and luncheon cloths and napkins which the class have been embroidering are now ready for sale. Following a very nice lunch, the group adjourned to meet in November with Mrs. Robert Lewis. Mrs. Jacob Snyder and Mrs. Ralph Ream were appointed assisting hostesses.

Birthday Surprise

Children, grandchildren and great grandchildren gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur White and family of Shelby, Sunday, as a birthday surprise for Mrs. Jessie Ebenshade.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Aiden Willet, Joann, Phyllis and Ruth Willet, Mr. Bill Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Willet and daughter Judy Ann of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Willet and son Jerry of New Haven and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ebenshade and daughter Beverly of Ashland.

The Hatch Dress Shop has secured a full line of Myette and Marie Dressler dresses ranging in size from 12 1/2 to 52 1/2. Come in and see them.

Inspection At Plymouth

Deputy Master and Mrs. Tom Sheppard of Shelby will be the inspection officers Friday evening at the Plymouth Grange. All officers are asked to be present and following inspection there will be a pot luck lunch.

Dinner Guests

Guests entertained at dinner on Wednesday by Mrs. Martin McDoneworth of Plymouth rural included Mrs. John A. Root, Mrs. Joe Lusch, Mrs. Russell Grove, Mrs. Clarence Donnerworth and Mrs. John Ganzhorn and daughter Linda. Afternoon callers in the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Snyder.

Catherine Taylor Class Entertained

The October meeting of the Catherine Taylor class of the Presbyterian church was Tuesday evening with Mrs. Harry Vandervort. Mrs. Clarence Cramer conducted the devotions and Mrs. Margie Ehret reviewed an article on the condition of the churches in Russia.

Some time ago, the class sent a box of clothing to Japan to a family whose possessions had been wiped out by the Atom bomb in Hiroshima. A letter was recently received and read to the class expressing their thanks.

Following a social hour refreshments were served to the members and two guests, Mrs. E. B. Curpen and Mrs. C. A. Robinson.

The November meeting will be with Mrs. Lucius Simmons and devotions in charge of Mrs. Grace Miller.

Auxiliary Officers Installed

Ehret-Parsel Auxiliary Post 447 held installation of officers at their regular meeting Thursday, Oct. 6. Marie Russell, a past president, officiated at the ceremony, installing Glady Vandervort as president, Marie Russell and Grace Hoffman, vice president, Thelma Meiser, secretary, and Avis Robertson as treasurer.

Next meeting will be a social night at 8:00 p. m. Thursday, October 20th at the Legion Hall. Let's all turn out.

Friendship Class Meets

Twenty-seven members and guests of the Friendship class met Tuesday evening for their regular meeting, at the home of Mrs. Grete Kessler and Mrs. Clara Young assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Bernice Morrow led devotions, and the usual routine of business was transacted. The treasurer's report showed good progress toward the building fund. After discussion it was voted to have a pre-Christmas sale of the Chenille rugs on hand and to begin selling them at once at the reduced price of $5.95. The class will have on hand, also, at all times, woven rag rugs, as well as their usual line of Christmas and Every Day cards and wrappings, dish cloths and jello, all with the idea of exchanging sales for bricks for the new church addition.

In place of the usual entertainment an interesting plastic demonstration was given by Miss Mary Malcolm of Bucyrus. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Florence Brokaw.

Carey Wins Over Plymouth 33-0

The Carey Blue Devils subdued the Plymouth Pilgrims here last Friday afternoon 33 to 0. Plymouth held Carey scoreless in the first quarter, but Carey, a strong running and passing team scored twice in the second, once in the third, and twice in the fourth quarter.

The longest run for Plymouth was in the third quarter when Larry Schreck broke loose for 50 yards. A fumble on the next play eliminated any chance of scoring then. That was Plymouth's only real treat.

Plans are being made for a homecoming at the last home game with Cardington on November 11, at Mary Fate park. So all Plymouth's football fans plan to be there. It promises to be a gala affair.

This weeks game with Clyde will be on Friday night at Clyde. Game time 8:00 p. m.

Statistics: First Downs Plymouth 4, Carey 17; Yards gained rushing Plymouth 24, Carey 9; Penalties Plymouth 0, Carey 3; Yard lost by penalties Plymouth 0, Carey 35; complete passes Plymouth 2, Carey 5; Incomplete passes Plymouth 4, Carey 6; Yards gained passing Plymouth 11, Carey 122; Yards lost passing Plymouth 7, Carey 9; Interceptions passes none for either team; Fumbles Plymouth 4, Carey 4; Fumbles recovered Plymouth 0, Carey 2; Conversions Plymouth 0, Carey 1; Downs in back of the line of play; Touchdowns Plymouth 0, Carey 5; (Turnbull 2, Longacker 1; Pieracini 2.)

Hammans' To Hold Hog Sale Wednesday, Oct 26

The annual Spotted Poland China hog sale conducted by Lysle Hamman & Son, and Boyd Hamman of Shiloh, will be held Wednesday night, Oct. 26, at the Lysle Hamman home, northeast of Shiloh. The sale will start at 7:00 o'clock Wednesday night.

Lysle Hamman and son are the owners of Ohio Pilot, a Spotted Poland China Boar which took the grand championship at Columbus this year. They have about twenty-three boars and girls which will be offered at the sale that were sired by the grand champion, Ohio Pilot. More than 50 heavy hogs will be offered at the auction.

Auctioneers for the sale are John Slagel of Galloway, and Ray Johnson, Bucyrus, and Don Hamman. Lunch will be served by the Ladies' Aid.

Farmers in this section are invited to attend this sale, which usually draws buyers from over Ohio and neighboring states.

Recapture OSR Fugitives Who Robbed Family

Two inmates who escaped from the Mansfield Men's Reformatory early in the month and later tied up and robbed a farm family, were returned to the institution Monday.

R. C. Ohi, who is superintendent of the reformatory's cannery from which the pair escaped, saw them walking along a road near Winchester, Va. He apprehended and returned Julius Faulkenberg, 27 and Frederick Shaver, 23 both of Akron. Both were serving auto-theft sentences.

Reformatory officials said Faulkenberg and Shaver confessed they forced their way into the J. C. Holtenbaugh farm home on Route 178 on October 9, tied up the inhabitants and escaped in the Holtenbaugh auto with $14 and clothing.

Ralph Briley Dies Suddenly

Ralph Briley, 53, of Shelby, died suddenly at 11 a. m. Tuesday at his home of a heart attack. He was an employee of the 531st AF Specialized depot.

Surviving are his widow, the former Doris Tanner of North Fairfield, four sons, Robert, Ralph and Kenneth of Zania and Larry of Shelby; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Eisman of Japan, Jan and Martha at home.

Mrs. Briley is well known locally, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McCormick of Park Avenue, being their guests the night before his death, which services will be conducted by O'Brien Post No. 326 American Legion.

Mrs. Lena Signs Passes Away

Services for Mrs. Lena S. Signs, 84, who died Sunday at the Huron rest home in New London, were held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Keiser funeral home in North Fairfield. Rev. Frank Crofoot officiated and burial was made in the North Fairfield cemetery.

A native of Leeds, England, Mrs. Signs came to this country as a young girl, married and lived in this vicinity most of her adult life. Surviving are two stepsons, Walter, Martel, Tenn., and Earl, North Fairfield; a brother, Herbert Strutt also of North Fairfield, several grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Willard Man Hurt Fatally As Car Overtakes

Lewis, 23, was dead upon arrival at Willard Municipal hospital early Tuesday following an auto accident. He died of a skull fracture and other injuries.

George Laslee, 27, Willard, is in "fair" condition at the hospital while Marion Trushal, 23, also a Willard resident, was given first aid but not admitted to the hospital.

According to state patrolmen from Bellevue, Laslee was driving a convertible along the Perry Centered just north of Steubenville when the car got out of control at a curve. It rolled over after leaving the pavement.

Lewis, son of Mrs. Lois Lewis, 13 Washington-st., Willard, was a pharmacist mate in the navy for three years. Since being furloughed in May at the Mansfield Westinghouse plant, he had been working at the American Legion club rooms here. He was a member of the Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Eastern Star and other groups.

Surviving besides his mother are a brother, Edgar, Shelby, and two sisters, Mrs. Joyce Jacob, Willard and Donna at home. His father, Hall Lewis, died last December.

Military services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the Fink Funeral home, the Rev. G. C. Heffelfinger officiating. Burial is to be in the Willard cemetery.

Freshman Day

On Friday, October 14, there were strange goings on at the high school. The first things that caught one's eye was the fact that a certain group of youngsters were either carrying baskets or pails. Closer observation led to the discovery that these containers were used to carry school text books and supplies.

As one got a little closer to these strange containers and the people carrying them, there seemed to be something else amiss. The girls were dressed as men, and the boys as women.

Frequently during an intermission you would see groups of these strange people forming. In a short time you would hear the group burst into song or give a mighty cheer. Nearby, of course, would be an upper classman. This was Freshman Day.

All day long they were humbled for a reason. The boys would curtsy to the upper classmen, while the girls would tip their hats and bow. The Freshmen were demonstrating to their peers that they could and would fit into the school life at the high school. To further indicate their willingness to become a part of the high school they attended the football game during the afternoon.

The day was climaxed with a high school party given by the sophomore class. Each Freshman and new teacher was asked to do some humiliating task, which they did without exception. Mr. Dennis and Mr. Bishop put on a boxing demonstration with Mr. Samaha as referee in the ring. It really looked like a three-cornered fight with Mr. Samaha receiving more than his share of blows. After the ringside show Mr. Samaha was asked to sing a song while socking Mr. Dennis and Mr. Bishop.

Following the initiation the high school pupils and faculty enjoyed dancing.

Mrs. Southard, as sponsor of the sophomore class, was shouldered with the faculty responsibility pertaining to the day's activities. All stunts were received by the student council. Freshmen were asked to absent themselves from the reviewing meeting. Jim Shuit, as president of the student council, was behind the adults, making sure that all activities were in order. Daniel Eby was in charge of initiation ceremonies. Cider and doughnuts were served as refreshments.

So that the day could not be forgotten, Mr. Robert Schreck took pictures of the group.

Patrol On Lookout For Father And Daughter, Missing

Chief of Police Robert Meiser has notified the State Patrol to be on the lookout for Harry Smart and four year old daughter who disappeared Friday from Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Smart and two children had been residing at the apartment of Mrs. Eva Smith on West Broadway. A recent marital disagreement forced Mrs. Smart and children to return to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nichols, Ave. 10.

Friday Mr. Smart called at the Nease home stating he wished to bid his children goodbye. Permission was granted and Mr. Smart watched his four year old daughter, placed her in his auto and left. To date, no trace of his whereabouts is known. Mr. Smart gave Columbus as his home town.

Freshman Day

On Friday, October 14, there were strange goings on at the high school. The first things that caught one's eye was the fact that a certain group of youngsters were either carrying baskets or pails. Closer observation led to the discovery that these containers were used to carry school text books and supplies.

As one got a little closer to these strange containers and the people carrying them, there seemed to be something else amiss. The girls were dressed as men, and the boys as women.

Frequently during an intermission you would see groups of these strange people forming. In a short time you would hear the group burst into song or give a mighty cheer. Nearby, of course, would be an upper classman. This was Freshman Day.

All day long they were humbled for a reason. The boys would curtsy to the upper classmen, while the girls would tip their hats and bow. The Freshmen were demonstrating to their peers that they could and would fit into the school life at the high school. To further indicate their willingness to become a part of the high school they attended the football game during the afternoon.

The day was climaxed with a high school party given by the sophomore class. Each Freshman and new teacher was asked to do some humiliating task, which they did without exception. Mr. Dennis and Mr. Bishop put on a boxing demonstration with Mr. Samaha as referee in the ring. It really looked like a three-cornered fight with Mr. Samaha receiving more than his share of blows. After the ringside show Mr. Samaha was asked to sing a song while socking Mr. Dennis and Mr. Bishop.

Following the initiation the high school pupils and faculty enjoyed dancing.

Mrs. Southard, as sponsor of the sophomore class, was shouldered with the faculty responsibility pertaining to the day's activities. All stunts were received by the student council. Freshmen were asked to absent themselves from the reviewing meeting. Jim Shuit, as president of the student council, was behind the adults, making sure that all activities were in order. Daniel Eby was in charge of initiation ceremonies. Cider and doughnuts were served as refreshments.

So that the day could not be forgotten, Mr. Robert Schreck took pictures of the group.

Patrol On Lookout For Father And Daughter, Missing

Chief of Police Robert Meiser has notified the State Patrol to be on the lookout for Harry Smart and four year old daughter who disappeared Friday from Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Smart and two children had been residing at the apartment of Mrs. Eva Smith on West Broadway. A recent marital disagreement forced Mrs. Smart and children to return to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nichols, Ave. 10.

Friday Mr. Smart called at the Nease home stating he wished to bid his children goodbye. Permission was granted and Mr. Smart watched his four year old daughter, placed her in his auto and left. To date, no trace of his whereabouts is known. Mr. Smart gave Columbus as his home town.

Doings In Congress

By Congressman Wm. Lemko

While Congress is marking time, let us consider a subject of vital importance. We have heard a lot about the high cost of living. What about the high cost of education? Would you like a college education for less than one twentieth of the present cost to you and the taxpayer? In the near future you will be able to get it. Recently I went through the Zenith Radio factory. I knew before that Zenith's President, E. F. McDonald, Jr., was interested in something called Phonovision.

McDonald is one of those restless souls that is always in the forefront in anything connected with radio or television. Phonovision was discovered and developed by Zenith's scientists and others. It differs in that the television waves are screened through the telephone and the flickering is eliminated. It is a rather complicated process. Phonovision will, however, make it financially feasible for the producers to bring into your own home for a monthly or annual fee any current picture.

While at the factory I was shown a phonovision movie. Then I realized the value of phonovision to the movie industry. A few years ago I felt that sooner or later some kind of discovery or invention would make it possible for a student to get a college education over the radio in his home by paying a small fee. Here it was—Phonovision.

Now you can get your college education and also enjoy your favorite picture in your home. All you will have to do is to pay a monthly or annual fee to the telephone company. This fee will pay the producers for the motion picture and as well as for your education. Then you can call up your operator to give you such and such a college or such and such a play. You will see your Professor before you and hear him talk directly to you just the same as in a classroom. It will be better than in a classroom because there will be less distraction.

At the end of the year you can take your examination before the Principal of your high school, or some educator designated by your college in your locality. At the end of four years, if you are successful in the examination, the university or college that you have selected will mail you your diploma or degree.

I predict that every boy and girl in the near future who, really well by studying in their own home at a nominal expense. As a result we will have better informed citizens. Citizens who will know how to live and get the best there is in life.

As in past years, according to Knight, the show visitors will have ample opportunity to sample many of the new products that the major producers and packers of food products will be introducing at the Food Show. The exhibitors in the coming Food Show are from some thirty of the states from all corners of this nation.

New Director At New Washington Egg Auction

Mr. O. H. Siefker of Peru Township was elected to serve a three year term as a director of the New Washington Egg and Poultry Co-operative Association, at the poultry meeting in New Washington on October 11th.

Mr. Joe Lawler, retiring director for Huron, Erie and Lorain counties, congratulated Mr. Siefker and explained to the poultrymen present that any co-operative depends upon its members to enlarge the business so that all can benefit from the increase in prices. The director must keep in close contact with poultrymen in this area and to assist in conducting the affairs of the auction to suit the needs of the producers.

Mr. Leonard Melching, manager of the Co-operative, explained the procedure which was followed in handling the eggs after they were received at the plant and expressed his appreciation for the poultrymen taking an interest in the business.

Mr. M. C. Sweet, Extension Poultryman, discussed the various grades of eggs and what poultrymen were doing to cause these various grades. This proved to be the most interesting session for the men and women present.

Egg candling, cooling and feeding seemed to be the variable factors governing the quality of an egg. Mr. Melching invited all the members present to come to the auction any time to watch their eggs graded or to tour the plant during an average day.

EARLY CANALS AND ROADS

Daniel Boone and Simon Kenton knew and traveled the Mad River Country in west-central Ohio in the early days of the Indian wars. Both of these famed Indian fighters within the year 1778 were held captive at Old Chillicothe, the Shawnee "Old Town" four miles north of Xenia on present Route 68.

This important Indian village and the village of Old Piqua on Route 4 just west of Springfield, where Tecumseh was born, were bases from which many of the Indian raids on the Kentucky settlements originated. Gen. George Rogers Clark and his army destroyed these Indian towns in 1780 on an expedition from Fort Washington at Cincinnati.

Motorists will find many points of interest in this section of the state from the great Miami River Mound, one of the largest works of Ohio's earliest inhabitants, to the Altar of Peace and Fort Greenville park at Greenville on Route 49 northwest of Dayton. On the bank of the Great Miami River at Dayton is Newcomb Tavern, Dayton's first house, which was built in 1796. East of Dayton, on Route 4, is Wright Field and the beautiful monument erected to the Wright Brothers.

Below Dayton, the Miami and Erie Canal still supplies water for a number of paper mills and other industries as the canal parallels Route 25. In the earliest days, keel

Today it is difficult for the motorist to believe the statements of early historians, Gist, that in 1761 "the country abounded with turkey, deer, elk and particularly buffalo, thirty or forty of which frequently were seen feeding in one meadow." As an explorer for the Ohio Land Company, Gist was one of the first white men to visit the Mad River Country.

Excluding the Presidents who were assassinated, three U.S. Presidents have died in office.

In Memoriam

In Memory of Sister Mollie Keller who died September 20, 1949

Death has again entered our Chapter Hall, and called to the Eternal Home a dearly beloved sister who has completed her faithful labors here in ministry to the orphan, to the call of sorrow, and as a recompense has received the welcome plaudit "well done" from the Great Maker.

And, Whereas, the loving Father has called our beloved and respected sister home, and she having been a true and faithful member of our Mystic Order, therefore be it

RESOLVED, that Plymouth Chapter No. 231, Order Eastern Star of Plymouth, Ohio, in testimony of its loss, drapes its Chapter in mourning for thirty days and that we tender to the family of our deceased sister our sincere condolences in their deep affliction and a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

"Over the hills of time to the valley of endless years; Over the road of woe to the land that is free from tears; Up from the haunts of men to the place where angels are This is the road of mortality to the wonderful goal afar.

WE'RE NOT FOOLED... ARE YOU?

It's almost impossible to disguise a cow... but it's easy to disguise a substitute product!

The oleo corporations want to imitate real butter as nearly as possible. At the same time, they are trying to disguise the Ohio dairy cow as "the villain" . . . claiming that the dairy industry wants to discourage the use of oleo as a cheap spread for bread.

This is not the case, at all!

The dairy industry has no quarrel with oleo . . . if it is sold as oleo . . . easily recognized by its white color and low price.

Don't you be fooled either! If oleo goes yellow, it will cost more . . . right up to the price of real butter. Keep oleo WHITE . . . and CHEAP!

YOU BE THE JUDGE!

WON'T YOU VOTE "NO" ON YELLOW OLEO? (Nov. 8)

Ohioans To Vote On Proposal For New Type Election Ballot

Ohioans will probably vote this November on a proposal to institute the office-type ballot in the state.
Secretary of State Charles E. Sweeney said recently that it appears that sponsors of the so-called "Massachusetts-type" ballot have sufficient valid signatures to qualify their proposal.

Checked petitions are being returned to Sweeney's office by the county elections boards and there are fewer rejections than were expected, Sweeney said.
To place the proposal on the ballot 301,829 signatures are required. Sweeney had sent 368,470 signatures to boards in 60 of the counties for checking after throwing out some 38,000 for technical error.

Collect $3,814.61 In Cancer Drive

Noel Smith was elected president of the Shelby-Plymouth-Shiloh chapter of the American Cancer society when the executive board held a meeting recently at the Shelby Inn.
Thor Woodworth of Plymouth, was elected vice president; Clark Beal, re-elected treasurer and Harry Evans re-elected secretary. Morris Rusk is the retiring president.
This meeting ended the fiscal year and also the Cancer Fund drive which has been in progress since April. It was reported that $3,814.61 had been collected during the drive with $1,907.31 remaining in Shelby to be used for the continuation of the Cancer clinic at Memorial hospital. Dr. Harry Duncan of Millersburg will conduct two clinics each month.
The remaining $1,907.30 will be sent to the state and national fund to be used principally for the continuance of cancer research.

NAME BEST WHEAT VARIETIES FOR STATE OF OHIO

Butler, Thorne, Vigo, and Trumbull are the best winter wheat varieties to plant in Ohio, believes C. A. Lamb, agronomist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.
Lamb, released by the State in 1937, is the leading soft red winter wheat variety in the United States today. It is stiff-strawed, stands well after it is ripe, does not shatter, and makes a good combine wheat. Yield is high and the baking qualities of the flour are excellent. The weaknesses of the variety are inherent low weight per bushel and a very high susceptibility to injury from scab.

HOME GROWN FENCE POSTS CAN SUPPLY NEEDED FARM ITEM

Home grown fence posts can supply a much needed farm item and yield a crop from small non-productive areas, says James W. Metzer, of the Department of Forestry at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

Black locust, when planted in odd corners and out of the way places around the farm, is the best grower if the soil is not too poor and it yields a surprisingly large crop in a few years time, Metzer continues.

An example of high yields to be realized was encountered this spring by Station foresters. Working with Stanley S. Locke, Regional Forester of the Soil Conservation Service, they had occasion to cut a small patch of locust on the Soil Conservation Service Hydrologic Experiment Station at Coshocton, Ohio.

Planted in the spring of 1938 on a rather steep, eroded hillside that had been abandoned farmland, the planting yielded 264 seven foot posts per acre. At a market price of $0.35 each, these posts from one acre are worth $92.40 to the farm. In addition, 50 smaller seven foot posts were cut, at an average of 175 five foot posts suitable for electric fencing.

The foresters point out that the planting was cut at this rate only because posts were needed on the farm and for experimental purposes. The purpose of the experiment is to study the proper management and cutting practices for black locust.

ORDINANCE NO. 200

An Ordinance Determining That It is Necessary to Issue a Years Supply of Water Softener Salt for the Year 1950 and to Authorize the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs to purchase and to enter into contract therefor:
That the Village of Plymouth, State of Ohio:
SECTION 1. That it is deemed necessary to purchase the year's supply of water softener salt for the year 1950 for the use of the water softener at the water plant. That the entire cost of this purchase shall be paid out of the water fund. Said entire cost authorized by this ordinance shall not exceed $3,000.00.

SECTION 2. That the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs and the village council be and they are hereby directed to advertise for bids for the purchase of said salt, and that the village council be and they are hereby directed to open any and all bids received pursuant to said advertisement and to let the contract to the lowest bidder and best bidder, as provided by law, and that the contract be awarded by the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs and the village council.
SECTION 3. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.
Passed October 18, 1949.
CARROLL A. ROBINSON, President of Council.
D. G. Cunningham, Clerk.
October 20-76

shel. Its yield record is erratic but it averages about the same as Thorne in western Ohio; in the eastern part of the state it has been consistently low in yield. Being tall it lodges more readily than Thorne or Butler, and is much more apt to shatter if it must stand after ripening.
Trumbull is a good wheat, but lower in yield and weaker in straw than the other three. The acreage is decreasing, but a considerable amount is still grown in some sections of the state.
Hard red winter wheats such as Pawnee probably should not be grown. Any appreciable acreage would hurt the market for Ohio wheat and flour which is used exclusively for high class soft wheat products.

Schools Observing National Posture Week

for a good showing

It isn't smart to slump or sag because our health and marks. We learn from teacher, play and books. Good Posture helps our work and looks.

NBC Television stars Roberts Quinlan and "Howdy-Doody" review 1949 poster at Rockefeller Center, New York, which the schools of the nation will unveil to millions of children during the 11th annual National Posture Week, October 17 to 22. The event is sponsored by The Samuel Hillyb Camp Institute for Better Posture, New York, founded by the late S. H. Camp of Jackson, Michigan. Colleges, the "Y's", large industrial plants, government bodies, nursing organizations and physicians cooperate with programs during the week, using posters especially designed for adult groups. The children's jingle reads: "It isn't smart to slump or sag; Because our health and marks will lag. We learn from teacher, play and books; Good Posture helps our work and looks."

Uncle Sam Says

During the years America was growing up, Granddaddy had her savings in the old, cracked leatop, the tin canister, or even that old horse-hair mattress. This was the hard way to save and her denials of many things to build these savings sometimes came to naught. Thieves, fire or other hazards wiped out her savings in a jiffy. Today we have the finest and surest way ever invented to build security for the future—the U. S. Savings Bonds way. This means you can put aside, every day, part of what you earn by signing up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. Either way, you get back $4 for every $3 invested in just ten years.

LOSES CASE AGAINST RAILROAD IN APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT

The State Supreme court held that motorists must use greater caution than usual when approaching a grade crossing where the view is obstructed.

The court refused to hear an appeal by Ira Bowman of Mansfield against the decision of the Huron County Appellate court which had reversed the common pleas court and denied him damages from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The common pleas court had granted the damages on the ground that Bowman had exercised normal precaution before a B. and O. train sheared off the front end of his car Feb. 16, 1947.

VISITS SISTER

Dr. Harold U. Sykes of Lakewood has just returned from his vacation during which he spent several days with his sister, Mrs. H. C. MacLaughlin in Waupaca, Wisconsin.

The Sykes family are old residents of Plymouth and still retain contacts and old friendships here. Dr. Sykes found his sister much improved over his last visit and local friends will be glad to know this.

Improved over his last visit and local friends will be glad to know this.

Speaking of Oil Progress Week -
A new giant goes to work for you this week in Ohio

This week, at Lima, a new industrial giant springs to life, ready to bring Ohioans more gasoline and better gasoline. This week... 15 months from its beginning... Soho's great new fluid catalytic cracker goes "on stream". In an industry noted for the necessary vastness of its equipment, the Lima "cat cracker" is outwardly remarkable for size alone. It is the tallest industrial structure in Ohio. It requires a muffer the size of a street car to quiet its roar as a pleasant purr.

But Ohionut will judge it by the job it does for them... and that is an "inside" story...

- ...it is a story of oil molecules ripped apart by burricane blasts of white hot powder and rebaped into the finest automobile gasoline Soho has ever made...
- ...it is a story of assurance of added gasoline supply for Ohio car owners...
- ...it is a story of 30% more gasoline from every barrel of crude oil... another in the many steps for oil conservation...
- ...it is a story of new opportunity for improvement in familiar, favorite products.

Part of a $30,000,000 building program to double Soho's Lima refinery capacity and improve its output with the latest technological developments, the new "cat cracker" is typical of the progress going on all the time in the oil industry. Today, there are 34,000 different oil companies. Keen competition among them stimulates continuous advancements like this one at Lima. Such advancements have given Americans the best service... the lowest-priced, highest quality gasoline and oil... the widest, most useful array of petroleum products in the world.

As an Ohio company serving Ohio people, Soho is proud to make this latest addition to petroleum refining progress.

The progress of Petroleum is progress for all

Miss Treva McCormick And Ben Smith Exchange Vows Saturday Afternoon In Shelby

Miss Treva Jane McCormick, daughter of Mrs. Charlotte McCormick of Shelby and J. Ben Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Smith of Plymouth chose Saturday, October 15, at 2:30 p. m. for their open church wedding performed at the First Methodist church, in Shelby by Dr. J. A. Scott.

Two seven-branch candelabra and two bevy baskets filled with white chrysanthemums and white pompons were placed at the altar and made an attractive setting for the exchange of vows.

Nuptial Music
Mrs. Howard Williams played a program of organ music preceding the ceremony including, "Indian Love Call," "Always," "Because," "Ave Maria," "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly." During the ceremony, she played "Maybe It's Because." The traditional wedding marches were also used.

Bride's Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Gerald Cox, was lovely in an ice pink satin wedding gown, with the bodice made with little layback revers forming a split neckline in front. The long tight fitting sleeves were closed with numerous buttons while a wide cummerbund draped the low waistline and fell to the back in a wide sash. The full skirt just swept the floor in the back.

Matching her gown was a little headpiece holding the short circuit veil worn virgin style. The close fitting headpiece was made of satin pearls trimmed with pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet fashioned of delicate pink and white carnations and ivy centered with a white orchid.

Attendant
Her sister, Mrs. Eugene J. Gates, was her attendant and wore a gown of Chinese aqua swishing tulle. Her gown was made with a squared neckline trimmed with a soft ruff in front. The gown had cap sleeves and a full skirt which swept the floor in back. She added long gauntlets and a small poke bonnet trimmed with a deep pink ostrich tip.

Her cascading bouquet was of deep pink carnations that matched the ostrich tip on the bonnet and ivy.

Best man was James Root of Plymouth an usher was Eugene J. Gates, of Shelby, brother-in-law of the bride, William Hart of Canton, cousin of the bridegroom, Frederick Out of Shelby and Dr. John E. Dougherty of Canton.

The bride's mother, appeared at her daughter's wedding wearing a taupe colored dress with dark brown accessories and Mrs. Smith chose a light brown dress with dark brown accessories. Both added corsages of bronze and yellow pompons.

Reception
A reception for the immediate families was held in the church parlors following the ceremony with Mrs. Gerald Cox, of Shelby, sister of the bride and Miss Madeleine Smith of Plymouth, sister of the bridegroom, pouring. Mrs. B. H. Huston, aunt of the bride, presided at the three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the couple will live in Plymouth. For traveling, Mrs. Smith wore a navy blue faille suit with grey accessories and added the white orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. Smith graduated from Shelby high school and is employed in the office of the Miller-Shelby Products Co., while her husband graduated from Plymouth high school, attended Miami University and served in the Army Air Corps in the European theatre for three years. He is employed in the office of the Fate-Root-Heath Co., in Plymouth.

Out-of-town guests were present from Ganges, Plymouth and Canton and Lorain.

Friends Enjoy Day In Plymouth

Old neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Fidler of Sandusky street gathered Sunday at their home for a covered dish dinner and social day.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kissel and family, Miss Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dove of Olivesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Feasel and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Taus and daughter of Shiloh; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brunn and children of Fredericktown; Mr. and Mrs. Green Whattman and Mrs. Blanche Enzor, Greenwich; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Smith, Mrs. Millie Horner, Mansfield; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Corbin, Willard; Mrs. Vida Horner and children, Jack and Janice, Mr. Anthony Fidler and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Fidler and son Kenny of Plymouth.

Miss Rose Fazio Becomes Bride of Karl Lucas

Miss Rose Fazio and Mr. Karl Lucas were united in marriage on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at an open church wedding at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Fr. George Strak officiated using the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fazio were the attendants and the bride was given away by her brother Charles.

The new Mrs. Lucas chose a grey suit, grey accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of yellow carnations for her wedding. A reception was held at the home of the bride following the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rose Fazio, a graduate of the 1947 class of Plymouth High and has been employed at the Shelby Gum Company. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas of Plymouth Rural and is employed at the Shelby Cycle.

Hazel Grove Goes To Shenandoah

Hazel Grove Grange took the traveling program to the Shenandoah Grange Hall last Tuesday evening with 247 persons in attendance, the largest traveling program meeting held.

The theme of the program was "Music" with Mrs. George Stroup, lecturer, in charge. Readings, plays and music were presented during the evening.

The business meeting was conducted by the Hazel Grove officers. The next meeting will be held Oct. 25 at the Worthington grange hall at Butler with the Shenandoah hall in charge of the program.

To Observe Silver Wedding Anniversary

This evening at their home, Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford will observe their Silver Wedding Anniversary. The affair will also mark the 13th birthday of their daughter Shirley.

Two cakes, a birthday and an anniversary cake will center the table from which refreshments will be served buffet style. Guests will be members of the immediate families.

Birthday Group Entertained At Shelby

Mrs. Coletta Lopson of Shelby invited members of her Birthday Club to her guests at dinner on Thursday. Halloween decorations were used and a tempting three course dinner served.

The afternoon hours were devoted to Bingo with Mrs. Hulbert winning high prize and Mrs. E. J. Frome, low.

Members present were Mrs. E. A. McBride, Shiloh, Mrs. Clay Hulbert, Mrs. E. J. Frome, Mrs. J. B. Neely, Mrs. Leo Barnes, Miss Florence Mittenbuhler and the hostess.

Visitor From California

Mrs. Jack McGovern of Bakersfield, California is visiting her brother, Foster Keath and family for a few days.

Monday evening they visited Mr. and Mrs. Merton King of New London, and Mrs. Rose Keath and family of Greenwich. Another sister Mrs. Ray Cooper of Shelby accompanied them. Tuesday evening they called on friends in Ganges and Mr. and Mrs. John Keath and family of Mansfield.

Attend Niece's Wedding At Sulphur Springs

Mr. and Mrs. George Chesman attended the open church wedding of the former's niece, Miss Jean Chesman of Sulphur Springs to Mr. Richard Zahn of Bucyrus, Saturday evening.

The nuptials were performed at 7 p. m. in the Lutheran church at Sulphur Springs with a reception following.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Bucyrus where Mr. Zahn is employed at the Ohio Bureau and Mrs. Zahn at the Ohio Public Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Chesman are parents of the bride and well known locally, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zahn are the parents of the groom.

Good Youth Meeting

The why and how of Worship was the topic of a very devotional

MYF. meeting at the church Sunday at 7:00 p. m. with Mrs. Leonard Smith, Councillor, as leader.

Eighteen were present to enjoy the devotional service and the fellowship hour following. Plans were made for the collection of canned fruit, vegetables, cash, etc. for the Norwalk Dist. Booth Festival to be held Wednesday, Nov. 9th.

Birthday Dinner

Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Smith, son Leonard and daughter Janet attended a birthday dinner Friday evening in Doylestown, given for the twenty-second birthday of their daughter, Mrs. Ethel Maurine Pontius. The affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pontius, Sr. Besides the above mentioned, Miss Virginia Pontius, and Mr. Albert J. Pontius were guests.

Visitor Honored
Mrs. Walter Thrush entertained at tea Friday in honor of Mrs. Lotta Stock, the following guests, Mrs. Ina Vi Hanson of Glencio, Ill., Mrs. C. C. Pugh and Mrs. Lotta Stock.

CAKE FOR BREAKFAST

Pineapple coffee cake with steaming hot coffee for breakfast or dessert.

By BETTY NEWTON

With your ingredients measured, ready to put together, this coffee cake can be made and baked before breakfast. It will be piping hot and will "melt in your mouth."

Quick breads made in loaf shape make good snacks between meals or add appeal to your luncheon salads.

- Pineapple Coffee Cake
- 1 C sifted flour
 - 3 tsp baking powder
 - 1/2 tsp salt
 - 1 C sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 1/2 C milk
 - 1 C melted shortening
 - 1 No. 2 can pineapple tidbits, 1/2 med
 - 1 tsp cinnamon
 - 1 C brown sugar
 - 3 Tbsp butter or margarine

Sift the dry ingredients together. Beat egg, add milk and melted fat. Combine liquid and dry ingredients quickly. Spread in a greased 9-inch cake pan. Arrange drained pineapple tidbits over the dough. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar and dot with butter. Bake at 375 degrees about 30 minutes or until done.

Raisin Bran Bread

- 1 1/2 C ready-to-serve bran cereal
- 1/2 C molasses
- 1/2 C milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 C sifted all purpose flour
- 1/2 tsp salt
- 1 tsp baking soda
- 1 tsp baking powder
- 1/2 C granulated sugar
- 1 C coarsely chopped walnuts
- 1 C seedless raisins

Add bran to combined molasses and milk. Let soak 15 minutes; stir in egg. Sift together flour, salt, soda, baking powder, and sugar. To this, add nuts and raisins. Then add flour mixture to bran mixture, stirring until just tender, no longer. Turn into greased and floured 9x5x3-inch loaf pan, and bake at 375 degrees for 1 hour, or until done.
