The organization meeting of the Plymouth school board was held at the high school Tuesday night with William Root being elected president and Harold Cashman, vice president.

The board chose the second Tuesday of each month as its official meeting night, but due to a ball game which comes on this date, the regular January meeting will be held on the second Monday of this month, January 9th.

Mr. Root has served as president of the company for more than twenty years and his judgment of market demands, company policies and his personal interest in the entire organization, have been a big factor in the Fate-Root-Heath company a leader in many of its products.

The coming year is a comparatively bright one for the firm with many new features being added to its locomotive division, and new claying machinery which is in development.

Letter From Plymouth, England, Invites Student Correspondence

The local school is reminded of the message of the Christmas greeting card from the seventh grade of the Plymouth Center school at Plymouth Connecticut, and by a letter from a group of boys and girls in Plymouth school in England.

The Christmas card and letter remind us that in the early days of the west, the southern lands were a group of log houses erected by the Huron River Abraham Trux erected his cabin and became the first settler.

Too Much Sulphur For Plymouth Pilgrims

The Plymouth Pilgrims got off on the wrong foot in their first game in 1950 as the Sulphur Springs Yellow Jackets came to town and took home a 53-39 victory.

The Sulphur five after allowing Plymouth the first point of the game ran up 8 straight before the local five could count again.

From there on in it was Sulphur all the way and the Pilgrims seemingly could do nothing about it.

Sulphur had things pretty much their own way throughout the game. Their superior height and sharp ball handling were the main factors in their favor.

With the exception of New London, the Pilgrims probably will not again face so tough a team, or at least not as tall a one during regular season play as they did Tuesday night.

Straight From Washington

BY STEPHEN M. YOUNG

(Representative to Congress, At Large — From Ohio)

WASHINGTON—Here is where we came in! Some military planners are claiming that Germans should be armed. They argue that Russia is out to get Germany short of war and that in order to maintain a defense we need a German army, and that we should permit the creation of such an army. There should be NO revival of a German army. A rebuilt German military force has been suggested to form a segment of a European Legion, not as an independent army. It all adds to up the same thing. If the Germans are given a nationalized police force the next thing to come up will be a German army and then when this army starts to march, World III will be in the offing. "Experience keeps a dear school but fools learn no other way." To say the least, we should be guided by the lamp of experience.

VICTIMIZED—

Representative J. Percy Priest, (D) Tennessee, is a key man in Congress as the Democratic Whip in the House of Representatives. He, more than any other Congressman, is in position to know the sentiment of the Democratic members. His is the important task of sounding out sentiment on Administration measures and to see to it that Democratic members of the House are on hand to be counted on important roll calls. Therefore, when he says, "A compulsory health program hasn't a chance to pass in the House of Representatives," he speaks with a voice of authority. Majority Whip Priest does not consider that a compulsory health insurance program will even be favorably acted upon in Committee during the coming session.

The American Medical Association, instead of "black-jacking" each doctor for twenty-five dollars to fight a non-existent threat, would have really rendered a public service had it advocated scholarships in medical schools for poor and deserving students. This association has never been progressive. It has never tried to clean house. A great need in this country is for more medical doctors, osteopaths, dentists, nurses, optometrists and public health specialists. In addition, it would be an excellent idea to create a National Science Foundation to develop fundamental research to keep America up to the minute on the latest scientific trends. A few smart operators in the A. M. A. are victimizing members. "Socialized Medicine" are scare words they like to use. There is no chance of Congress acting to make doctors employees of our government.

OHIO VOTE PERSUASIVE

Early last year the House of Representatives voted to repeal federal taxes on colored margarine. A coalition prevented this repeal from coming to a vote in the Senate although President Truman and House Democratic leaders urged passage of this colored oleo tax repeal. Housewives generally favor repeal and now that Ohio citizens have overwhelmingly voted in favor of the proposal to legalize the manufacture and sale of colored oleo renewed efforts will be made this month to push this tax repealer through the Senate. The powerful dairy lobby with the help of some Republican Senators have to date blocked a vote. This bill will pass by a substantial margin if permitted to come to a vote in the Senate.

TRUTHFUL STATEMENT

Senator Francis D. Myers, (D), Pennsylvania, the other day said, "Once the peace is won there will be a reduction in military and foreign aid spending which not only will balance the budget but provide a sizeable surplus."
SHE HAS SOMETHING THERE

A constituent writes, "Are your pants pocket a luxury?" She purchased a leather handbag and was compelled to pay the exorbitant tax. One cannot blame this lady for being angry. Handbags are essential items for women's wear. That they are taxed as luxuries is due to an Act of Congress in 1946, renewing wartime excise taxes. The writer was just becoming a civilian at that time and was not in Congress, but this lady is so mad over this unjust tax she is blaming all and sundry in Washington.

This atrocious tax should be repealed. Women are paying forty-eight million dollars yearly in taxes and the leather pocketbook industry has suffered terrific losses. Seven thousand employees have been thrown out of employment. Our government has lost the pay-roll taxes they would have paid as industrial workers.

A WORTHY CANDIDATE

Harold B. Collier, Republican candidate for State Treasurer, is a resident of Norwalk. He is married and the father of two sons and two daughters.

To this candidate, the field of politics and the office to which he aspires are not new. A staunch Republican worker, Collier is now serving his third term as treasurer of Huron County, consistently receiving top vote of all contested candidates on the ticket.

Every Huron county voter should feel it a privilege and pleasure to support Mr. Collier in any way possible. His conduct in the office of Huron County Treasurer is something on the same level as State Treasurer, Don Ebright, who is seeking the nomination for governor of Ohio on the Republican ticket. Ebright has held his office of state treasurer for the past sixteen years for one reason, and one reason only—he has conducted the affairs of the office in an honest and satisfactory manner. . . . he has served the people well. During his long tenure of office it is but natural that Mr. Ebright should be well familiar with the financial workings of our state. His knowledge of state government and his ability to organize and command respect of fellow workers entitles him to the full support — not of the Republican or Democratic parties — but of every citizen in the state of Ohio.

We know that Huron county will well support Mr. Collier as a candidate for his office, and we are confident that Don Ebright will wear the laurels at the coming election in November.

Miss Patricia Ann Bettac United In Marriage to Martin J. Elmlinger

The wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Bettac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bettac, 203 Trux street, Plymouth, and Mr. Martin Joseph Elmlinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elmlinger of Havana, Ohio, was solemnized Saturday, December 31, in St. Joseph's Catholic church. Rev. George P. Strak, M. S. C., performed the double ring ceremony at 9:30 a. m. with a nuptial high mass. Messrs. Ted and Joseph Bettac, brothers of the bride, were mass servers.

Mrs. Harold Schoedorf of Willard, sister of the bridegroom, was organist and gave a program of nuptial music, with choir of the church furnishing the musical selections, "O Lord I Am Not Worthy," "On This Day," and Schubert's "Ave Maria." White chrysantheums and gladioli with greenery, decorated the church and altar. The setting was illuminated with two seven-branch candelabra.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful wedding gown of ivory satin with a sweetheart neck line with the yoke trimmed in seeded pearls. The tight fitting bodice buttoned down the back. Satin covered buttons and attached to a full hoop skirt with bustle effect with a long train. The sleeves were tight fitting coming to a point over the hands.

The lovely finger tip illusion veil was attached to a Juliet cap of white satin trimmed in seeded pearls and orange blossoms. Her wedding bouquet of white carnations was tied with white satin ribbons and she carried a sterling silver rosary, the gift of the groom.

Miss Dolores Bettac, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a rose colored faille gown, with a full hoop skirt fitted to a tight fitting bodice, with a draped collar. Her bouquet was of rose carnations with rose streamers.

Both wore matching mitts and velvet donbunnet head pieces. Miss Jeannette's bouquet was yellow carnations tied with yellow streamers.

The best man was Robert Elmlinger, brother of the groom, and ushers, Joseph Elmlinger of Havana, and Eugene Bettac, brothers of the bride and groom.

Francine Janotta of Monroeville, niece of the groom, wore a flower girl, and she wore a blue crepe dress with a ruffled skirt attached to a fitted waist and she carried a colonial type bouquet of pink carnations.

Mrs. Bettac, mother of the bride, was dressed in a brown flowered crepe with rose and brown accessories. Mrs. Elmlinger, mother of the groom, wore a black crepe with white accessories and both wore corsages of red roses.

The wedding breakfast was held at the Garden of Eatin' for the bridal party. Pope-Entler Nuptials Held Xmas Eve

A pretty home wedding took place at 8 o'clock Christmas Eve at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Eichenlaub in Greenwich when their daughter, Miss Patricia Clarice Pope was united in marriage to Mr. Phillip M. Entler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iven H. Entler of Plymouth Route.

Decorations throughout the house were in the Christmas motif. Red and white candles in crystal holders and colored tree lights provided the illumination for the wedding scene.

A program of pre-nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Vida Smith at the piano, followed by the Lob-engrin "Bridal Chorus," while the wedding party took their place before a large Xmas tree flanked by evergreen and baskets of red roses.

Vows of the double ring ceremony were made with Rev. A. R. Keiser of the United Methodist church officiating. During the ceremony, Miss Smith played "Ave Maria" by Schubert.

The bride's only attendant was her matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Gregg of Greenwich, while Mrs. Russell Entler of Mansfield, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Both young ladies were dressed in identical gowns of rose shaded satin and wore shoulder corsages of pink and white carnations. The bride wore a two-strand necklace of pearls and matching earrings a gift of the groom. Mrs. Gregg's necklace and earrings were gold. Broomsticks of white carnations and fern were worn by the men.

Preceding the wedding a Christmas dinner was served to sixteen guests which included members of the immediate families and close friends. Following the ceremony all joined in a gay Christmas party which included the opening of the gift packages piled high around the foot of the tree.

Later in the evening the bride and groom cut a beautiful wedding cake, decorated in pink and white, which was served with ice cream to the guests. Favors were dainty plastic baskets-filled with nuts and mints.

Mr. and Mrs. Entler will make their home with the bride's parents. The groom since his graduation from Greenwich High school in 1947, has been employed by Westinghouse in Mansfield.

Comments Received On Plymouth Story

Thinking you for your interest in the story of Plymouth of Yesterday as remembered by Charlotte Wooster Beak, we are pleased to say we have had several calls on the published installments and information that is pertinent to the people and buildings in the story.

Mrs. Otis Downend confirms our idea that the little old brick building that once stood on Plymouth street at the curve of the road at the top of the hill, and which was at one time occupied by Elias Helfer and family, was one of the first schools in Plymouth. It was not a public school, however.

A note from Shiloh sends us the information that Mrs. Lucy Downend has an old letter written by Mac Webber to a Billy Besenchoe. And the Misses Hanicks inform us that Dr. Besenchoer's old office which once stood on the Square, was moved and is now the small home of Mr. Clarence Yockey across the street from the Hanick residence.

Letter Written to Plymouth Besenchoe, Son of Dr. Besenchoe Sacramento, April 21st, 1861 William: I thought you friend to write to these: so that you may know that thy servant has come safely to his abiding place, even the great city of Sacramento wherein dwells the High Princes, Judges and Chief rulers of the land.

The waters in the river Sacramento hath become angered by reasons of the melting of the snow on the great mountains called the Sierranavides, and the people of the city are sore afraid lest they would be girt about and swallowed up with the mighty flood than of even as they were in fifty two.

William, thy friend, is cast among a barbarous people and the land is full of wickedness. The wine biber, the profane swearer and the Sabbath breaker all dwell here. Yes, William, and there is a great deal of Balsam Co. peppermint sold here, too: but as thy friend has been taught differently he will keep the cover tasure of his garden as he did when he dwelt in the far off land of Ohio.

Now, William, I have told thee about my safe arrival, and what manner of people I dwell amongst and now I must ask you about yourself and the friends that still dwell in the land of Plymouth. In the first place how does the players do, those that were want to amuse the people. Is the troupp well, if so I rejoice therat and does the maidens them that teach the youths of Plymouth still live with you and are they as clever, comly and fair to look upon as ever and the one that is called Roxie that thy friend loved I would wish to be kindly remembered to her, but William make no report of this to I have imparted to thee in confidence lest the should hearing thereof come to hate me.

And Hattie, she of the dimples and smiles may God bless her, and Jennie who hath the aburn curls, you must make good report of thy friend to her and I will love thee. And now William of thyself I make inquiry: Hast thou been under the influence of that drowsy God called wine since thy friend left thee; if thou hast not then thy servant will rejoice in thy strength and be exceeding glad, but if thou hast been overcome then I must sorrow for not hate thee, for with all thy faults I know thou hast a noble heart and I will love thee still.

Now it is the desire of thy friend that you should write to him and soon, giving him all the late tidings in and about his native town and after requesting you to remember him kindly to all the friends and associates of his youthful days he would subscribe himself.

Your friend Mac Webber

Will you leave these to your children? Men have died to leave you these 4 symbols of freedom: A door key—your right to lock your door against illegal government force and prying. A Holy Bible—symbol of your right to worship as you wish. A pencil—freedom to speak or write what you think, whether you agree with the government or not. And a free ballot—your right to choose the kind of government you want—your protection against government tyranny.

THESE SYMBOLS have no meaning in countries where government controls everything—for there the individual man or woman has no freedoms. But there are people who are trying to give the U. S. government more and more control over American life. Let the government start, they say, by taking over certain industries and services—the doctors, the railroads, the electric light and power companies.

Most of these people—like most Americans—don't want a socialistic U. S. A. They have other reasons for government control. But when government, moving step by step, controls enough things, you have a socialist government, whether you want it or not. You'll be controlled, too. Then what freedoms will you be able to pass on to your children?

Bot 213 Sacramento, Calif. P. S.—I have just returned from a ride in the country and I wish I could describe the country but I will not attempt it but will tell you to read the play of the Lady of Lyons and take Claud Melnots description of his residence for my description of some of the gardens I have just visited, for all I can say is that it is beautiful.

"Notes on Aunt Rhoda" It was most interesting to receive a nice letter from Mrs. S. F. Fackler, of Shelby Route, concerning the song "Go Tell Aunt Rhoda" and the early Plymouth resident Rhoda Moore Marshall who lived in a small house on the north-west corner of the Square.

"Aunt Rhoda was my grandfather's sister," writes Mrs. Fackler, "she was born in Ireland—birthdate unknown; came to America early in 1800. Maiden name was Rhoda Moore. She was married three times, McLaughlin, Robt. McNally and Robt. Marshall. There were no children."

Mrs. Fackler's mother and uncle inherited the land on the Square from their father, John Moore, and sold it to Frank Smith around 1895. It is believed that the Mercantile building and the former place of business of Curpen's jewelry store were built on this lot.

Edith Jump writes the following concerning some of the places and people mentioned in the story: "The Day home in the Plymouth story was located at the corner of Porter street and the Square. A. O. Jump bought it from the Day and when he was elected Treasurer of Huron County, he sold it to his brother-in-law, T. A. Curpen, who used it for a residence and a store. The Day boy, who joined the Navy, became an Admiral."

Data on Plymouth Schools Taken From Old Papers

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY "I wish here to mention a crying need, the idle evenings, idle Saturdays, idle vacations are having a very bad effect on our boys and girls, in this, that these idle hours, much to be contrasted the effect of earnest, honest work in school in the formation of habits of work. The country boy on the contrary comes to us with a "liberal education" in the habits of work. Our town boy loaf, rides his bicycle, plays base ball, engages in low talk with his associates, etc. Moreover, our boys and girls are let loose on the streets, "the wide gate" and "the broad way."

Here they go, tramp, tramp, tramp and over at night, "the witching time of night when children go a-yawning and hellei itself breaks in contagion on the world." The boy who stays at home at night is safe. (By the way, we just thought we had better tell you the facts of the year 1886, in a school report. It sounds rather familiar, doesn't it? Anyway, it is still TRUE, "that the Devil finds work for idle hands to do."

FIRST REPORT CARDS In 1884 there was first prepared a Pupil Report Blank, by means of which a complete exhibit of the pupil's recitation and examination standings, department, attendance, tardiness, and truancy, can be placed into the hands of the parents. It also served as a promotion card.

IMPROVEMENTS TO THE "NEW" SCHOOL IN THE YEAR 1886 "Three years ago (which would make it 1883) the inside of the school building was overhauled, the ceilings and walls were neatly calcimined, the furniture was varnished, and the heating apparatus was put in shape. Two years ago (1884) a new fence was placed around and in front of the building. The work should be completed at the earliest possible convenience. One year ago a beautiful iron fence was placed at the sides and in front of the building. This summer the fence at the back part of the lot was replaced with a neat new fence. The outside of the woodwork outside of the building is being painted and sanded.

This is just as it should be: Such an edifice, built at so great an expense, should be kept in the best condition, and to make the improvements which ought to be made, year after year, at least, should be given to the matter. James L. Lasley, Superintendent.

New Service Station Opens In New Haven

A new Shell gas station, 44 by 34, opened in New Haven. The new station, leased by former Willard residents, Glenn Palmer, Jr. and Clifford J. Fink, was begun in September. A grand opening is planned for the near future.

The station features 24-hour service showers for truck drivers, a truck parking lot, and all new equipment including a double post air-flow lift. Mr. Palmer is an ex-GI and a former B. & O. switchman. Mr. Fink formerly ran the Marathon station in Willard.

This is another addition to the several business places built in New Haven village during the past two or three years.

County Farm Agent Recalls Biggest Year

MANSFIELD — This year has been one of the biggest years in the county extension office's 15-year history in Richland county, County Agent C. N. McGrew announced.

In submitting his annual report to the state extension office in Columbus, McGrew said the 4-H club enrollment was the largest it has been in years and that the office performed services to hundreds of farm men and women.

Nearly 1,000 4-H members participated in 1,238 projects in 1949. There were 555 girls enrolled in 806 projects while 363 boys carried 432 projects. There were 1,050 4-H projects exhibited at the junior fair in August.

The youngsters produced 65 acres of corn, 10 acres of soybeans, nine acres of potatoes, 16 acres of home gardens and raised 875 chickens, 69 dairy calves, 26 beef animals, 50 head of sheep, 163 head of swine, 80 rabbits and 12 acres of forest.

Under the direction of Home Demonstration Agent Mabel Spray women's projects emphasized arrangement of furniture, garment finishing, hints on home-made Christmas gifts and hospitality in the home.

Almost 500 women attended the home-made Christmas series of meetings, the greatest number for any series of home demonstration meetings held in Richland county, McGrew said.

stand pipe is 100 feet to railing. One of these trees is 364 feet high. The tree house has a floor space of 21 ft. x 27 ft, one is 101 feet around it. There are lots of for-ests and you drive with lights on going down through them. Well, we stayed four nights in the Long Coast State leaving over the Golden Gate Bridge at San Francisco by way of Bakersfield to Needles and on to Phoenix, Arizona to visit the Steels where there is never a dull moment. We stayed here about two weeks looking over this beautiful city of 200,000 people. The sun shines every day here and I parked the Steels's lawn on the seventh day of December. I marked my car in the shade as it is that hot in the day and cool at night. All the tales that Doc Seales and Johnnie Hough tell about Florida is true about Phoenix. We saw a lemon about four times larger than the ones we get here. The palms are large and beautiful. . . lots of them. The markets are wonderful. There is horse racing three nights a week, live stock sales every day of the week. The Lost Dutchman Mountain to the east has its tales too, as of yet they have not found him.

The Steeles drove us to about everything of importance including the large feed lots of Gordia A. Packing Co., where they feed thousands of cattle. I might add that George W. Cole of Plymouth, Ohio, worked for this Packing Company for twenty-one years without losing a pay.

Leaving Phoenix we drove down to Tucson to see Doc Babcock, spending about two hours with them. Next we stopped to see Ed Phillips at Wilcox, Arizona, but he had left the day before and got home one day ahead of us.

We came home on Route 66 most of the way. We were gone fifty days and drove 7,118 miles—had a good time, weather fine. We left one day ahead of that storm in Coeur D'Alene, Idaho that did so much damage.

We will leave some pictures in the window at Tommy's of the big trees after this week.

Silver Wedding Anniversary On New Years Day

On January 1, 1925, Miss Muriel Black became the bride of Samuel E. Grove, the Rev. Mr. Ellington of the Auburn Baptist church officiating. On January 1, 1950 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Grove honored the couple on their Silver Wedding anniversary with beautiful flowers, gifts and cards.

Open House was observed at the Grove home, near route 98, in Plymouth Township, New Years day. The luncheon buffet was lovely with pink carnations, silver candlesticks, and silver coffee service. Mrs. Frank Cole poured.

Attendants at the wedding of the twenty-five years ago were the bride's sister, now Mrs. Thelma Shell, and Mr. Earl Price. In honor of the anniversary festivities, Mrs. Grove wore a beautiful corsage of pink carnations.

Freshman News

On Dec. 1, eight members of the ninth grade gave a play "The Christmas Rose" for our assembly. The cast was as follows:

Grandma Usher - Shirley Wallace
Roberta Usher - Beverly Dent
Harry Livingston - Robert Sutter
Glady's Hamilton - Wilma Millon
Gresham Stone - Edward Ballich
Hans Johnson - Foster Leaply

Spirit of Xmas - Willard Clagg

There was group singing led by Martha Steel and accompanied by Donna Jacobs on the accordion.

Some of the freshmen helped in leading the singing, while the remainder of the class served as carolers back stage.

There will be another play given in the near future; the time is not definite. We had this play ready for the holiday, but due to the change of the P. T. A. meeting it was necessary to postpone it.

The cast for "The Tree" is as follows:
Mrs. (Maude) Davies—Jane Blackford
Mr. (James) Davies—Eugene White
Kay Davies—Helen McQuate
Virginia Davies—Lila Dinger
Dick Davies—Bob Ruckert
Buddy Davies—Butter Roberts
Ned Davies—Norman Wolf
Molly Pendleton—Donna Jacobs

We'll do our best, so come on out and see the play.

When the bell rang at noon on December 22nd, grades seven thru twelve went to the gym, where carols were sung. After the singing, the seventh and eighth grades returned upstairs, while grades nine through twelve stayed in the auditorium for the gift exchange.

About one-thirty, we were dismissed for our Xmas vacation. The characters in "The Tree" held play practice until three-thirty of the same day.

Merchants Drop Two Games

The Shiloh Merchants dropped two games out of three on Wednesday evening and Friday the 23rd of December. In the first game Shiloh slumped before the Merchants 41-28. North Fairfield never faltered and controlled the game except in the third quarter when the Merchants managed to pour 17 points through the hoop only to falter in the last quarter with 5 points. In the second game Shiloh edged Union in a rough and tumble driving game that had fight in it all the way 36-33 when Swartz and Smith scored in the final minutes to put Shiloh into the clear.

Now edged the Merchants 30-29 in the final game despite Young and Smith dumping in 10 points in the final quarter. The next games are on Jan. 4, Wednesday evening vs. Leeville and Savanah, doubleheader. Two teams will be played for Shiloh an A and B team. So far this season Shiloh has won 8 out of 11 ball games and has scored 347 points to 222. Leading scorers for the Merchants are Young leading the race with 98 points. VanWagner second with 65, Gilbert Smith third after a roaring start with 52 and Swartz who has played only three full games with 41 and the best average of 14 points a game. Young is second with 12 points average.

Plymouth Library In National Magazine

In the December 1, 1949 issue of the Library Journal, a magazine used nationally by libraries, a story and picture of the Plymouth Library is of interest to many, and a source of pride to the local Library Board and the assisting county libraries in Mansfield and Willard. We quote:—

"The people of Plymouth, Ohio may well be proud of their library, writes Lois G. Pennel, Richard County librarian, Mansfield; 'but the proudest of all are women, who twenty-six years ago, as members of the Pine Tree Troop of Girl Scouts, planned and carried through a library program for themselves. It was then suggested that the books be made available to the public on certain nights and with space and shelving provided, the library began.

"Plymouth, a self-reliant midwestern town; has 1600 inhabitants, mainly busy with manufacturing locomotives and tractors. And they want their town to be a good place to live in. In 1926 a library board was organized, and in 1937 the board met with representatives of the Mansfield Public and Willard Memorial libraries. The Plymouth library emerged as a branch of Mansfield. Jessie Trauger was employed as librarian.

"In the spring of 1948, it learned of a big old house that was to be made into apartments. The Plymouth women persuaded the owner to make three ground-floor rooms into a library instead. Funds were raised for asphalt tile, Venetian blinds, etc., and on Nov. 19, 1948, the new quarters were opened.

"Miss Trauger is retiring, after witnessing her dream come true, and Mrs. Harold Shaffer succeeds her. 'Mrs. S. B. Bachrach provides over activities of the local board,' concludes Mrs. Pennel, 27th.

Around the Square Schodorf Dairy Sold

(Continued from Page One) communist or is it the way people are looking at the government... we've admitted all winter the pretty potted plants Lowell Keith keeps in his barbershop... If January and February go as fast as November and December, guess I'd better get out the lawnmower... Well, so long, folks until next week.

RETURNS TO BOWLING GREEN

Judith Ann Bowman who attends a special school at Bowling Green for Spastic children has returned after spending the holidays with her mother and other relatives.
