

VANDERBILT NEW CUSTODIAN AT GRADE SCHOOL

At the school board meeting on Tuesday night, Henry Vanderbilt was appointed custodian of the grade school building to succeed Kenneth Hurst, who resigned that position a few weeks ago. Since the resignation of Mr. Hurst, Mr. Carl Carnahan has been acting in that position as well as driving a school bus. However, on January 15, Mr. Carnahan expects to resume farming when both positions will be filled by Mr. Vanderbilt. To install Hot Water

The board received a bid and accepted it from C. O. Cramer, local plumber, for the installation of a hot water heater. The new unit will have ample capacity to supply hot water for both the home department and shower rooms. Given Report

Supt. Dennis, who has made a survey of classroom conditions in Richland county, disclosed to the board that the conditions prevailing elsewhere other than in Plymouth. Particularly in Butler and Bellevue. Supt. Dennis stated that the class room was much larger than here, and that in one instance some sixty pupils were in one class.

Cook, a local school patron, appeared before the board in the interest of more class rooms and more teachers for the lower grades.

The peak of crowded conditions here will be reached possibly in 1953, according to the school board. Mr. Dennis said the board will no doubt have to make plans to take care of this oncoming situation.

Mr. Dennis also gave a report of the financial condition of the stadium and the basketball schedule, both of which are published in the next week's issue of The Advertiser.

The clerk of the board, Earl Clark, announced that receipts for 1950 exceed the amount authorized by the budget commission. This is the first time in many years that the local school has operated within its budget.

Mr. Dennis also gave a report of the financial condition of the stadium and the basketball schedule, both of which are published in the next week's issue of The Advertiser.

RITES HELD FOR CARL H. MAYER

Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon at 1:30 for Carl H. Mayer, 51, who passed away on Tuesday afternoon at the Willard hospital. Death came to Mr. Mayer, following a long illness, which he suffered while in a Willard bank on Monday. Mr. Mayer was removed to his home Monday immediately after the attack, and was taken to the Willard hospital Tuesday about noon, where death followed a few minutes later.

Mr. Mayer resided on Maple Street. He was employed by the B. & O. Railroad in Willard as a laborer. He was a member of the P. E. Willard, and Golden Rule lodge. He was born in Sandusky, Nov. 24, 1898.

Pirates Sink Pilgrim's Ship in a Finale 46-0

By Jim Shutt After an 0-0 hard fought first quarter the Cardington Pirates shifted into high gear and exploded for 46 points in the remaining three quarters as they sank the Pilgrim ship by a 46-0 score. The Pirates wrote fine plays to the 1950 campaign for both teams as the Pirates finished the season with a clean 9-0 slate while the Pilgrim finished with one salvage but one of nine games.

The game was the main song for six Pilgrim grid-dogs, who donned red and white grid jerseys for the final time. They were Larry Schreck, Louie Root, Vale Reed, Jim Donnemuir, Art Jacobs and Bob Kennedy. Bud DeFeny and Don Ray played their final games earlier in the season, due to injuries were unable to return to the Plymouth line.

Led by Don Kelley who scored three touchdowns; passed for two others and scored an extra point, the Cardington Pirates had everything their own way after the first half.

Held to a 0-0 first quarter, Kelley led his team to a 13-0 lead in the second quarter, swept around left end for 10 yards and his initial touchdown of the evening. Henthorne stepped back to the first of his three conversions of the evening. "Muscles" Irons broke through the middle of the line for 7 yards and a 6 point lead. He was followed by the Pirates a 13-0 halftime lead.

After Larry Schreck and Neil Kennedy were forced to leave the field, the Pirates scored almost all throughout the remainder of the game. Kelley swept the ends for two more touchdowns. Coomer also hit paydirt driving off tackle. Henthorne converted on two of these five attempts and passed to Keeley for the 46th point.

Ends—Bettac, Wilson, L. Hampton. Tackles—Eby, Reed, Donnemuir, Keston, Kennedy, R. Hampton.

Centers—N. Kennedy, Dorian. Backs—Rhine, Fleiser, Louie and Vale Root, Schreck, Jacobs. Cardington Ends—Massey, Curston, Landon.

Guard—Alexander, Heinalch. Guards—Davis, Clinger. Tackle—Clark, Harris, Iron, Coomer, Keston, Kennedy, R. Hampton, Clinger; pass, Davis, pass, Coomer, plunger.

Extra points: Henthorne 3 (replacements); Kelley (pass).

CONTESTED DIVORCE

Another "Oldster" Football Game On Tuesday, Nov. 21st

Weather permitting, there will be hot home in the old town, next Tuesday evening, November 21st. At least the boys on the football team of the Policemen will be out trying to defend their honors gained in previous game, when they tangled with the Light & Water Department team. The game will be played at 8 o'clock with admissions of 50c for adults and 25c for children. Proceeds will be equally divided between the Athletic department and the Band fund of the high school.

Those who missed the first game are looking forward to this game as a rumor that members of both teams have sufficiently recovered from the effects of the first game, to stage another outstanding performance.

The lineup of both teams is as follows: Red Jerseys—POLICE 10 Guy Cunningham 11 Jim Cunningham 12 Bob Kennedy 13 Bob Meyer 14 Jim Shutt 15 Jim Shutt 16 Don Levering 17 Louie Lillo 18 Guy Cunningham 19 Carl Ehret 20 Bill Miller 21 Lacey Hampton 22 Bill Fraugher 23 Bob Hampton 24 Joe Burrer 25 White Jerseys—WATERLIGHT DEPT. 10 Dan McDougal 11 David Sams 12 Dean Morse 13 Jim McDougal 14 Dan McDougal 15 Bib Williams 16 Wayne Gebert 17 Harvey Wilson 18 Bill Fraugher 19 Wayne Mathews 20 Kenneth Vanderbilt 21 Cornely Echelberry 22 Bill Fraugher 23 Dean Graubough 24

RITES HELD FOR SHOOTING VICTIM

WILLARD—Private services for Mrs. Emma Martneck, 66, who died Saturday night in Municipal hospital, were held at 6 p. m. on Tuesday in the Fink Funeral Home, 1224 G. Heffelfinger, officiating. Burial was made in Willard cemetery. Mrs. Martneck was shot in the back of the head Thursday afternoon, 22, with a .38 caliber pistol by Vernon A. Albaugh, also 55, who then took his own life.

The double shooting took place in the Martneck home, 408 Myrtle Ave., where Albaugh and his wife Lillian, 53, had been residing for a number of months. The shooting incident several hours of argument and threats by the railroad. Mrs. Albaugh managed to escape the scene and gave alarm to the police. They found the man dead, Mrs. Martneck in critical condition.

Officials Attend Mansfield Meeting

Mayor Whitney Briggs, Councilman Ben Cramer, Chief of Police Robert Meiser were in Mansfield Monday evening where they attended a meeting of the Richland County Red Cross directors, to which they had been invited representatives of city and county government, representatives of industry and military and civilian defense. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co.

Dr. Max Brown, Mansfield physician, was speaker and preceding his talk on a preparedness program for Richland county, a film was shown to the group of approximately 100. The film, an Army Air Force release, revealed the medical aspects of an atomic bomb war. It was directed by the blasts at Hiroshima and Nagasaki as illustrations.

Total mobilization is essential in order to cut estimated casualties," Brown explained. He said 50 per cent of the people in the Japanese area hit by the A bomb would be casualties. "If we are fully prepared for the emergency," he said, "we should be able to cut casualties to 25 per cent."

Brown stated that in the event of disaster, 30,000 pints of blood would be needed in Mansfield alone. He explained the desperate need for blood by saying that "in radiation victims' white blood cells are completely destroyed. Immediate transfusions must be given."

Dr. Hannum has been named as medical director locally, and Mayor Briggs has a complete defense program outline which will be released when completed.

MRS. B. S. FORD DIES FOLLOWING SHORT ILLNESS

Death claimed Mrs. Sarah K. Ford Wednesday morning at 3:30 in the Shelby hospital, where she was admitted eight days ago following a stroke of apoplexy. Since entering the hospital for treatment her condition was considered critical, and death came quietly, thus ending a life that had enriched her family with many womanly traits that will be long remembered.

The deceased was the daughter of George and Clara Phelps Kirkland and was born Nov. 28, 1874, at Otter Atkinson, Wis. Had Mrs. Ford survived to the 76th of this month, she would have observed her 76th birthday.

She died on Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the McQuate funeral home with Rev. L. E. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be made in the Adario cemetery.

Moving to Plymouth from Adario in 1930, Mrs. Ford soon returned to the carload classes for cattle and friends and acquaintances who regret to learn of her passing. She became affiliated with the Methodist church, where she was active in church work, especially did the devoted work of her time to the Friendship class and the W. S. C. S. As a result of her efforts a large body of friends and acquaintances who regret to learn of her passing. STATION HAS Narrow Squeak. Thursday when the engineers turned on WOSU's 14,000 watt transmitter all they produced was a squeak. The Ohio State University radio station was kept off the air for an hour by a mouse. The mouse had crawled into the wiring and a short-circuit occurred. The squeak? That came when the poor mouse was electrocuted.

The second largest fish caught this season at the Dam was a 7 1/2 lb. bass.

ALVIN PAUL KOSER is grieving over the disappearance of his black Persian cat last week. With the exception of a white star at its throat, the cat was entirely black, very playful and a wonderful pet. A tag was tied around its neck which indicated that it belonged to Alvin Paul, but could very easily have slipped off. Alvin Paul doesn't walk and would be very happy if anyone seeing it, would call the bakery and report.

ONE OF THE most attractive windows we've seen in a long time is the hunting scene depicted in Brown & Miller's hardware store. A hunter sitting on a log watching a group of ducks, pheasants, squirrel and rabbits. It is really a hunter's dream, which is why it is so attractive. Autumn leaves and colors enhance the scene with a realistic effect. The window has other items, such as a turkey in hand, is surrounded by ducks, pheasants, squirrel and rabbits. ## Club Members Hear Interesting Articles On Child Activities

The beautiful home of Mrs. E. B. Miller was opened for the semi-monthly meeting of the Twentieth Century Circle, Monday evening, with the president, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, presiding.

Mrs. Verda Trauger Weller was welcomed into the circle, succeeded by Mrs. Harriett Robinson, who because of poor health is unable to attend, but who will be retained on the roll as an honorary member.

Disposing of routine business, Mrs. Anderson turned the meeting over to the leaders of the evening which included Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Marian Cashman and Mrs. Fackler who spoke on Children's Music, Children's Literature and Children's Art.

Mrs. Armstrong, teacher of music in our schools, discussed Children's music and made the startling statement that it wasn't too early to begin a child's musical education at the age of two days—in fact, by gently patting the baby in rhythmic motion, you could so speak, pound music into the child. As the child grows, folk songs, family songs, and even the popular cowboy songs, all have a place in their musical education.

Mrs. Armstrong interspersed her talk with recordings and as "Little Sambo" and his adventures were heard, those who were present had a feeling of being carried backward into childhood days. With Mrs. Armstrong's interpretation of classical music and children's stories, you could hear the lumbering elephant, the leaping kangaroo and the swish, swish of the tortoise. It was a delightful diversion and greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Marian Cashman, mother of twin sons brought with her considerable material on literature and books her boys enjoyed. She told of the story books, both past and present, their history and which ones her children enjoyed. There was a good selection of books from the Mansfield Library, some autographed, which showed the progress children make with the morals they teach. Mrs. Fackler who conducts Kindergarten, spoke on children's art, which in a small child, is more or less controlled muscles. She divided the subject into three parts, giving illustrations, and displaying some unusually good pictures which she teaches the child to study closely and tell what they see.

Roll call was responded with childhood sayings and announcements which were humorous and announced with Mrs. Bachrach. A very tempting lunch, with thanksgiving motif, was served to the twenty-three members present.

HOMEMADE BREADS

What could be more tempting than the aroma of freshly baked bread? Crusty hard rolls or French bread are delicious with any meal.

French Bread

1 cake yeast
2 1/2 c. lukewarm water
4 tsp. sugar
1/2 c. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. melted shortening
1/2 c. milk
1/2 c. corn meal
1/2 c. water

Break yeast into a bowl. Add sugar, salt, melted shortening and water. Stir until yeast is dissolved. Add 1 cup flour and beat well. Fold in 2 egg whites which have been stiffly beaten. Add rest of flour and stir until well mixed. Turn onto a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny (about 5 minutes). Place in a well-greased bowl. Cover with a cloth and let rise again. Cover bowl with a damp cloth. To shape divide into 4 parts. Pull and roll each piece (85 to 90 degrees) about 1 1/2 hours or until doubled in bulk. Shape into 16 oval rolls with tapering ends. Sprinkle baking sheets with cornmeal. Arrange rolls about 1/2 inches apart on a sheet. Score top of each with a sharp knife. Brush lightly with the other egg white and slightly beaten with tablespoon of water. Cover lightly and set aside to rise until light and about double. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 15 minutes. Slice diagonally when cold.

BIKES TO BE SCOTCH-LITED SATURDAY MORNING

Saturday, November 18, 1950, 10:00 a. m. the Plymouth Association of Commerce will start putting scotch-lite on the bicycles of anyone who wants it.

Scotch-lite is strips of tape one inch wide that glow from the reflection of lights from automobile headlights and various other sources of light.

At the Industrial Arts room Saturday morning a few interested men of the Community will make a year-old dream come into reality when they start applying the new safety-tape on all the bicycles in town.

The purpose of this special tape is to give a bigger angle of reflection and quicker recognition at night which a regular reflector doesn't seem to do. It has been proven in other cities and towns to be very successful.

The committee which the Plymouth Association of Commerce had appointed last year were Mr. G. Bishop Jr. and Mr. E. Samaha, teachers in the local school system and Don Elmsel. When Mr. Bishop was called to the Armed Forces, Pastor Mumford was appointed to replace him on this worthy project. Although the cost of these rolls of tape is very high the P. A. C. considered that if only one injury is prevented the cost is entirely justified.

So, kids if you want something worthwhile, free, be down at the High School Building at 10:00 a. m. Saturday morning.

Varsity Club Meets

The second meeting of the year for the Varsity Club was held last Tuesday evening, November 7th at the home of Louis Root.

The business meeting was followed by a televised show of the Southern Methodist University vs. Texas football game. Mrs. Root then served a light lunch which was enjoyed by all in attendance after the group retired to the basement for a few games of ping-pong.

Those in attendance were: Mr. Frail, Mr. Merzer, Larry Schneck, Dale Reed, Don Ray, Larry Hampton, Duane Wilson, Joe Lee and Neil Kennedy, Dan Eby and the host for the evening Louis Root.

FEATURE PICTURES

A literary movie was shown to the High School on Tuesday, November 7th.

This movie was the starting of a series of six, one of which will be shown each month until all six have been shown. The movie shown on November 7th was taken from a book written by J. R. Wynn named "The Swiss Family Robinson."

Juniors Sponsor Movies

"All the Kings Men," which will be shown at the Plymouth Theater next Saturday night, Sunday, and Monday, will be sponsored by the Junior Class of P. H. S. This movie won the award as being the best movie star of the year for 1949 and its star, Broderick Crawford, won the Academy Award.

If you are planning to see this movie, be sure to buy your ticket from a junior.

Junior Red Cross

The Red Cross is an organization that collects money and necessities of all kinds to help any people in distress. The president of this organization is George C. Marshall. There are 19,283,438 pupils enrolled in the American Junior Red Cross. Plymouth High School is enrolled in this organization and a collection was given from each class with a seal being issued to the classes that had donated 100%. The junior class was first to receive their seal with the sophomore class ranking second. Red Cross buttons and membership cards were given to all students that participated in this worthy cause.

F. H. A. NEWS

On Friday morning, Nov. 10, the F. F. A. girls (the Future Homemakers of America) held a meeting to discuss the following problems: the first was should the club have a club mother and who should it be; the second was should the business meetings be held at night and if so, on what night.

After these problems were discussed a committee was chosen by the president to write out the F. H. A. plan book for this year. Those on the committee were: Margary Ricker, Molly Burrer, Janet Donnerwirth, Leanna Shields and Cecile Hanemann. The meeting was then dismissed by the president Elaine Rooks.

The next meeting to be held is at noon on Wednesday, November 15th.

LOST—ONE GAME

The P. H. S. Junior High team played a return game with New London on Wednesday, November 15, 1950 and lost with a score of 19-0.

The line-up for the scrimmage was:

Right End—Tom Brown
Right Tackle—Miles Wilson
Right Halfback—Gene Bilton
Fullback—Marty Hampton
Quarterback—Bud Garrett
Center—Tom Marvin

The players were taken from the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. These boys have been improving steadily and will be finding greatly in this in the future (as you know the score for the last game was 29-7).

One of the players, Don Grubach, was unable to play because of pneumonia.

During the last minute of play Gene Bilton was off for a touch-down with a clear field ahead of him, but, unfortunately, (and entirely by accident) was tackled by one of his own men.

Most of the boys on the Junior High team are light weight where as New London had a slight edge on us by having a higher weight average on their team.

SOPHOMORE DANCE

The Sophomore Class of P. H. S. will sponsor a dance next Wednesday evening at the High School Auditorium. The music will be furnished by "The Sentimentalists." The name of the dance is "The Mayflower Dance" and the hours are from 8:00 to 11:00. Cakes will be sold in the usual manner.

So if you are in the mood to go dancing next Wednesday evening come down to the High School. There will be plenty of good music and refreshments will be sold by the Sophomores.

A History of Education

The education in America during the colonial period was of four types. These were apprenticeship training, elementary schooling, secondary and higher institutions, and pre-vocational schools.

There wasn't much schooling in the colonies because of social conditions. The population was scattered and the roads and transportation was poor. However, as soon as the war was over, schooling began to increase and the four types of education were put into effect.

It was figured out the only way to teach children was to have public schools and pass laws requiring children to attend. Mass. passed the first compulsory law in 1862. Other states followed their movement soon afterwards.

Now that there was a law that children must attend school, the problem arose how to support the schools. This was settled by taxing all the people who owned property.

The first public high school was opened in Boston in 1821. This school offered only one course but 17 years later Philadelphia opened one that offered three courses. To day the United States has more than twenty-five thousand high schools with an annual attendance of about six million students. About two out of three of these students go to college.

Now let's take up a different phase of school life, the country-schools. We can't say these schools were incapable because they were not. Many poets, statesmen, writers, and scientists have come out of them.

Country schools were all right when there weren't so many children, but they couldn't possibly take care of all the children today. Even though the school might have a earnest and capable teacher, a good school board, and a good schoolhouse, it still had two main defects. The defects were—the school had from six to eight grades with four recitations a day. This was too much for an teacher to do and this system provided no opportunity for further education.

If a parent wanted his child to have a more advanced education, he would have to send him to a city school. This way he would have to support two schools.

If it were necessary the whole family could move to a bigger town so the children could get a better education.

So the country school system was a failure. There must be either a several-teachers or graded system. This graded system would make it possible for the country children to have the privileges that the town children have. The thing country schools needed most was a change of system, or consolidation.

There are four types of consolidation. They are: 1. Consolidating all the schools in a township. 2. Consolidating all the schools in part of a township. 3. Consolidating schools in a town. 4. Consolidating all the schools in open country.

A very good example of consolidation is the John Swaney School in Putnam County, Illinois. This school shows the possibilities of consolidation.

Ohio has paid particular attention to the centralization of schools. The movement began in 1893. Since then about 350 consolidated schools have been established. Though this progress has been rapid, Indiana has made the most remarkable progress.

The advantages of consolidation are: 1. It's the only way known of providing country schools with good teachers. 2. It's the only way known of having an enrollment large enough to provide social contacts necessary for the best development of the child. 3. It's the only way of securing and holding good teachers.

We Hear From The Iden Jackson Family,

When Mr. and Mrs. Iden Jackson and family left Plymouth for points west in the early summer, they promised to let us know a little about their experiences en route and where they finally were to locate their new home.

They are located now at 2601 Fletcher Drive, Los Angeles, California, and Iden is working in Hollywood. As Mrs. Jackson is employed too, we are very appreciative of the time they took to write their letter recently telling of their trek westward and their interesting visits to places and with people.

ROY ROGERS
In the following letter the children of Plymouth vicinity will be delighted with the account of the visit with Roy Rogers at the Republic studios. The Jacksons also saw a splendid picture of this famous movie star, the three children, and Iden.

CALIFORNIA
Dear Thomas:
Our trip to the west coast proved to be a very interesting one and will try to give you some highlights on it.

We left Ohio July 6th and started for Iowa. We stopped off several days with relatives there in Tama, Toledo and Marshalltown. Our next stop was at a little town, Nebraska. This is a boys town, but by itself with the boys taking charge. Their group are beautiful and very well kept.

NEBRASKA IS DIFFERENT
We found Nebraska to be interesting, though very different from Ohio. We drove for miles and miles and wouldn't see a house, and then when we finally did see one it was back a dirt lane a mile or two. All side roads were not graded like Ohio's.

As a rule there were no barns in Nebraska, just a small house and maybe a shed. Their small towns are not usually located on the highway but perhaps down the side road a mile.

COLORADO
Colorado was our next stop. We visited and had a lovely chicken dinner at the home of Walter Scott, a relative, in Denver, Colo. We visited Colorado Springs in the home of another relative and also a former Plymouth resident (Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Wynn).

While here, Mrs. Wynn went with us on a sight-seeing trip. We saw Pikes Peak, Garden of the Gods, Broadmoor Hotel, Trail Ridge, Will Rogers Shrine, this can be seen from two Wynn's dining room windows. We also saw Red Rocks Amphitheater, where the Eastern-Sunshine services are held.

We crossed Berthoud into our way to Salt Lake City, Utah. It is over 11,000 ft. high and it seemed a little like May we were there. The view here from the Continental Divide is very picturesque. MORMONS

At Salt Lake City, we visited Temple Square and went on a tour of the grounds. We attended the Organ recital at the Mormon Tabernacle. These grounds are very pretty, surrounded with flowers of all kinds.

Also at Salt Lake we saw the famous monument, "Here is The Place," which is a 44-story building where they might worship according to the dictates of conscience, the Latter Day Saints made their power plant in the world's worst.

We drove thru part of Arizona with its cactus and sandy soil, and on in to California; thru the beautiful orange and lemon groves. Orange packing houses were very interesting to see and go thru.

CALIFORNIA AT LAST
At San Fernando we went thru the San Fernando Mission founded in 1797 and dedicated to Fernando III King of Spain. The church and convento, a picturesque abode of brick tile are in good condition still.

The Convento is the part of the mission that contained the padres' living rooms and guest chambers. The old gardens contain flowers and shrubs from all other missions.

At Long Beach we enjoyed "The Pike"—L. B. amusement zone occupies a mile stretch along the ocean front. In addition to the amusement features there is a million-dollar salt water plunge. Surrounding the Municipal auditorium is a 32 acre still-water lagoon and the 3,800 ft. Rainbow Pier.

In down town Los Angeles we have visited one of the oldest streets in the city; Olvera St., now closed to traffic and preserved as a replica of a Mexican street of a century ago.

Sidewalk shops and booths selling Mexican handicrafts, native restaurants, artists' booths and Mexican festivals are held here.

CHRISTMAS SEALS GO ON SALE NOVEMBER 18
The Board of Directors of the Huron Tuberculosis and Health Association met for their semi-annual meeting recently in the Common Pleas Court room of the Court House, Norwalk.

Mr. Wayne Alleshouse, president, announced that 8,000 Christmas Seal letters go into the mail on Nov. 18 and that the letters have been prepared for mailing by the members of the Exemplar Chapter and the Ritual of Jewels Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, women's national sorority, at Miss Janet Miller is local president.

The mass X-ray survey in Huron County begins November 15th and continues through Nov. 21st. Mr. Wayne Alleshouse, director in Ohio in 1949 were in persons 45 years and over, and because of the recommendations of the head of the Division of TB in Columbus, only High School seniors among students, will be X-rayed. Employees of the B. & O. R. R., the Nickel Plate R. R., the C. E. Ward Co. and the Pioneer Rubber Co. will have their own special sets-up of the X-ray unit.

Mr. Alleshouse stated that the time provided for the general public to visit the unit also. A complete schedule will be published later.

Mr. Wm W Lewis of the Ohio TB & Health Association was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Where Do We Go From Here?" Mr. Lewis remarked on the complacency with which people view TB today. He stated that the disease is far from licked. Huron County, with eight patients in Sanatoria at present, and with five TB deaths in 1949, still is counted as having a comparatively low TB death rate: 13.2 per 100,000 population.

A brief Executive Committee meeting followed the adjournment of the Board meeting.

Mrs. Mary Holtz Dies in Willard

Mrs. Mary Holtz, 90, died Thursday in Willard Municipal Hospital, where she had been a patient since Sept 17 when she suffered a broken hip in a fall at her home, 532 Clark-st. She was born Oct. 6, 1860 in Richmond-tp and lived in this vicinity all her life, being a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Lee Duffy, Mrs. J. T. Arrington, Mrs. Bessie Frye and Mrs. Nellie Holtz, Marion; 17 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren. Her husband, Wesley, preceded her in death in 1931.

Services were held at the First Funeral Home Saturday, the Rev. C. D. Wright, officiating. Burial made in Union Bethel Cemetery near here.

GRANTED DIVORCES
Judge Luther VanHorn at Norwalk granted a divorce this past week to Beatrice Buckingham, Norwalk, from Loyal Willard. They were married in 1941 and have one child whose custody went to the mother. A property settlement between the parties was approved by the court.

Charley Franklin, Willard, from Leonard, same village. They were married at Willard in 1942 and have no children.

Sometimes it pays to be fired! In The American Weekly, the great color magazine distributed with Sunday's CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN, read "You Fired" the absorbing story of how many men went on to greater success after losing their jobs—Ray Bolger and Arthur Godfrey are two examples of thankful job-loser.

More harm has been done by the christian faith as being optimistic it is also trust, a relaxation of mind and heart, an end of trying to carry the load alone. Commit thy way unto the Lord; he will bring it to pass.

"How did you like your airplane ride?" was asked of a nervous man who had just taken his first flight. "Very well" he replied, "but I never did put down my whole weight." Which reminds us that the burden being given a ride in a wagon and continuing to hold the burden on her shoulders, as she said, "to make it easier for me."

Perhaps one of the most corroding things of modern life is the tendency to fret and worry about things which in most cases never happen. Our mental institutions are being filled to overflowing because we believe of the load of fears, anxieties and apprehensions which people carry, and which brings about its end in spiritual defeat and frustration.

It is God's purpose that we be tranquil and physically alert and yet spiritually relaxed. The secret is in casting all your care upon him for He careth for you. The nervous man in the airplane would certainly have enjoyed his air ride much more if he had put his whole weight down.

We try too hard to do in our own strength what God wants to do for us if we will only allow him to carry us and our load. Inner conflicts, home life tensions, trying employment and business life contacts can be ameliorated and often eliminated by simply committing our way unto the Lord and trusting in Him; we can be relaxed in spirit because we go through life harassed and hurried as Kenneth Fearing puts it—

And who he died as now he lived. Going whop to the office, and blooze home to sleep and bit get married in him had child and pot got fired. Zowie did he live and zowie did he die.

What a contrast to Isaiah 26:3 "Thou wilt sleep in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee: because he trusteth in Thee."

Mrs. Mary Colyer Gets Her Feel Wet In Atlantic Ocean

Mrs. Mary Colyer returned home Sunday evening after spending three delightful weeks with her daughter, Mrs. W. D. Himes and husband at Levittown, Long Island, N. Y.

Thinking back over her vacation, there were several items of unusual interest to her. She visited the Statue of Liberty and walked along the beach watching the waves of the Atlantic come in. So fascinated was she, she forgot to move when the waves got higher, and before she knew it, one big wave caught her waist high, so she got her feet wet at the Atlantic.

Mrs. Colyer at 75 years, thought it was quite an experience but found the water "just as wet" as in Plymouth.

Capt. Himes and wife brought her as far as Millfintown, Pa., where her son Norman and wife of Akron met them. The latter three then stayed overnight at Yeagers, Pa., with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Readdy. Their next stop was at Walnut, Pa., where Mrs. Colyer visited her sister, Mrs. W. R. Frankhouse and husband. Mrs. Colyer and Mrs. Frankhouse are the only two living children out of a family of twelve. They arrived in Akron Sunday and another son, Charles of Mansfield, picked up his mother and returned home that evening.

Mrs. Van Liew Dies In Mansfield

Mrs. Emma Clarissa Van Liew, 88, widow of William O. Van Liew, died Tuesday night at People's hospital Mansfield where she had been confined for two weeks.

Mrs. Van Liew made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Otis B. Grafmiller, 73 Wood St., Mansfield.

She was born Sept. 3, 1862, in Huron county, near Willard, and attended school there. She moved to Plymouth 32 years ago and lived there until moving to Mansfield in 1946.

Mrs. Van Liew was a member of the Methodist church at Plymouth. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Grafmiller and Mrs. S. P. Hershiser, of Willard; two sisters, Mrs. F. A. Richards, of Willard, and Mrs. M. M. Day, of Tiffin; three grandchildren; and two great grandchildren.

Rev. J. A. McInturf, pastor of Central Methodist church, will conduct services at the Woodford funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Plymouth cemetery.

A THANK YOU
That you friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown me while a patient at the hospital and to my family during my absence. Everything was greatly appreciated; I also wish to thank Dr. Butler, and the Willard hospital staff for their efficient service.

The stranger who had just arrived in a Kansas town was wandering around rather aimlessly so an estate agent stepped out of his office to snare the fly.

"Good afternoon, sir," greeted him, "are you looking for a home?"

"Yes," replied the man eagerly, "did it blow this way?"

Round The Square
afternoon. The much land west of Plymouth still seems to be a favored spot for hunters, but large portion of the land is barred from hunters. We'll probably be hearing some tall stories before the week-end is over.

IT'S GOING to be good news to a lot of Plymouth people to know that Bill's Restaurant, formerly Conger's, will be open on Thanksgiving Day. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lawrence, Jr., are operating this well-known eating place, and they will feature a Thanksgiving Dinner next Thursday. The new owners state they will also keep open on mothers, serving dinners at noon.

PAINT WORKS wonders. If you don't believe it, take a look inside at McIntire's Plymouth Dry Goods Store. The interior, walls and ceiling have been done over, and all the counters and some of the woodwork have been revarnished. The store really has had its face lifted, and the "new look" comes just in time for Christmas shopping. There's no doubt but what Robert (Bob) McIntire has been putting in some long hours, but all efforts are reflected in the neat arrangements of merchandise and the complete stock which is always on display. Plymouth can be well proud of this shopping center.

CASE SETTLED
The $15,000 damage suit of Linus Phillips, rural Plymouth, vs. Paul Risner, rural Willard, which was to have gone on trial Monday afternoon, was settled by the litigants after the jury had been impaneled. The settlement was approved by the court.
