

First, Down And 100 Yds To Go For Athletic Field

The Booster Club will start a 100 yard touchdown drive today — it is for a project which will be an asset both to the schools and community. Funds are to be raised for a lighted athletic field and cement block bleachers to be erected in Mary Faye Park this spring.

As athletic Boosters we certainly want to see football continued in our High School but on a self-supporting basis. To do this we must have a gridiron on which night games can be played.

Why? Because it takes a lot of money to keep a football team equipped. After completing the past two seasons of day time home games and paying all expenses from gate receipts the cash balance left is nil. During the past season the money for all new equipment purchased was donated. There are a lot of things the team should have before starting practice this fall. Night games in Plymouth, however, will bring enough income to keep the boys adequately equipped each year with game and practice uniforms and various other items such as tacking and blocking equipment.

Why will night games bring so much more cash? Because it is not possible for a lot of Plymouth people to attend day football games, who like to follow their own teams, are not able to come to Plymouth for day games. Therefore, with lights many more people will attend. As a result the gate receipts will double and triple the receipts of the past two years. This is why all other High Schools are playing night football and parents are anxious to attend and adequately finance a football organization.

Night football will also bring in time, enough cash to buy uniforms, band instruments and music. This would be a great benefit to students interested in music and would certainly add a lot of color to our games to have a well equipped marching band.

Will this lighted field be used exclusively for High School football? No. A football league can be organized by the merchants of the young men (and young girls) of Plymouth, and night football played all summer long. Games can also be scheduled with out-of-town teams playing night games.

Will this lighted field be used entirely for athletics? There is no reason why both Grade and High School athletics cannot use the field to hold pageants, either during the day or at night under the lights in the warm spring and fall months. For example, a May sale can be held on the field. The entire community could attend and each person have a comfortable seat in the bleachers to watch the festivities. In the summer months outdoor community church services and song festivals could be held in the bleachers. Can you think of a more beautiful place for Plymouth?

Death Calls Mrs. Ford

Last rites for Mrs. Edna Grace Ford, 50, wife of D. I. Ford were held Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Lutheran church, Rev. M. P. Paetzl, pastor of the Buecyer St. Paul Lutheran church, and a former pastor in Plymouth, returned for the services, reading the Scripture and offering prayer. Rev. Paul Mumford, local pastor, spoke briefly of her life and Mrs. Francis Guthrie softly played sacred music during the service. Interment was made in Greenlawn cemetery with arrangements in charge of the McQuate Funeral Home.

Friends, neighbors and relatives filled the church to overflowing and the floral tributes testified to the great esteem she and her family are held in the community.

A native of Richland county, she was born Dec. 22, 1899, the daughter of Mrs. Mary Ann and John H. Ford. She was a member of the Lutheran Church and the Twentieth Century Club.

Mrs. Ford has been in poor health for years, many trips to the hospital for relief being necessary to sustain life. Fully aware of her condition, she quietly performed and directed in her own way the last rites, accepting a home funeral running smoothly. Through her prolonged illness, she learned the vital lesson of tolerance toward others, a deeper sympathy and understanding, and a firm belief in the Beyond.

While it taxed her strength greatly, she made her daughter Norma Lou's bridal gown in February as well as the gown for her daughter Arline as attendant and assisted and enjoyed the activities that go with an open church wedding. Only on Palm Sunday she visited with Mrs. Low and her husband Edward Vanderbilt in their newly furnished home for the first time.

Thursday evening she attended the Lutheran church service and partook of the Holy Sacrament of Communion.

Friday, she was looking forward to have her son Elsworth and daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. E. Jones, here over Easter Sunday and after getting the family well ready for her husband Don to assist her, she lay down to rest.

After having completed all her earthly tasks, she passed away between two and three o'clock on Good Friday and was found by her husband when he returned home.

Surviving in addition to her husband, are a son, Elsworth of Washington, D. C.; two daughters, Mrs. Edward Vanderbilt of Plymouth and Mrs. Arline Ford, home; three brothers, George Eby of Plymouth, Neil Eby of Savannah and Harold Eby of Cleveland; and five sisters, Mrs. Clair Pitzer and Mrs. Karl Finley, both of Cleveland; Miss Wilma Eby of Savannah and Mrs. Merl Wolf of Adario; a half-brother, Ora Eby of Mansfield and a half-sister, Mrs. Trace Jeffers of Pittsburgh, Pa.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to visit the store during their anniversary sale, especially on Saturday... and ladies, those orchids are really beautiful.

Celebrating their 25th anniversary in business in Plymouth, Brown & Miller hardware will give a free orchid to all ladies over eighteen who visit the store on the first day of their anniversary sale, Saturday, April 15th.

Both owners, Stacy Brown and Beryl Miller, started their hardware career with the old A. S. Hunter Co. in Willard. The new owners came to Plymouth in April, 1925, to operate the hardware store.

Local authorities in Kentucky stated the Lofland car was one of eight that had been robbed on the same night with a loss of approximately $2000 and that a bank robbery had also been pulled.

800 MORE TREES This spring for Robert Spensler to set out and then he says he is going to quit. He received 250 White Oaks and 250 Osage Oranges this week to plant on his father's farm land.

P. H. ROOT has been real busy the past week catching up on the odds and ends at the Grinder Division of The Fate-Root-Health Co. You know how it is when Spring gets around and you start day dreaming about the things you'd like to do. Well, some how or other, P. H. took up fishing as a hobby, not so many seasons ago, and now he's looking for a place to trip next week that will take him into the trout streams of Pennsylvania. He and Mrs. Root are leaving today for Gettysburg, Pa., where they will be looking for a fishing party, and Mrs. Root will continue on to Elmira, N. Y. where she will visit her daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Baxter and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Wheadon. Well, Percy, take the camera along and get a picture to back up your stories.

NEXT TUESDAY, April 18th, C. B. Chambers, representing the Campbell Soap Co., will give a picture show at the school house in Celeryville at 8:00 o'clock. The show will disclose the making of vegetable juice, known as V-8, which is made by Campbell. Last season several of the Celeryville crowd were looking for a picture show, and Mr. Chambers will be ready to receive contracts for the coming season.

WHO STOLE THE LOCK ON THE HEN HOUSE DOOR? That's what Mrs. Burr Knauw was thinking last Thursday afternoon while she sat alone with the chicks for two hours. It was while Mrs. Knauw was getting all alone that her son Kent came up, closed the door and left, not knowing that his mother was inside. Kent went on about his work, and Mr. Knauw will be getting all alone again, expecting to have supper around 5:15, because he was going to a sale at Marysville. No one knew where "Ma" was, and the mystery was getting deeper all along. In fact, it was getting serious when Mr. Knauw suggested that they look in the chicken house. It was a good suggestion if it weren't for Mr. Knauw had been a lone prisoner for about two hours, from 4 to 6, with thoughts of her own. Burr didn't say so, but Ma was about as mad as the refreshment stand. If you like you may bring your own playing cards to use, or the committee will furnish them for you if you ask.

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

THE Senate has passed a bill to promote further the construction of middle-income housing. This is not a new field for the Federal Government, for under the Federal Housing Administration the Federal Government has long insured mortgages on such housing so that reasonably low interest rates could be obtained by middle-income families.

The bill passed extends Title I of the FHA law, which permits the insurance of loans for modernization and repair of homes and for the building of small homes on the outskirts of cities. It also increases the amount that can be used for housing under Section 608 of the emergency war provision to make it easy for contractors to build houses for sale. However, the increase of authorization ever, the increase of applications filed before February 1, 1950. Hereafter, contractors will have to use Section 207, which does not give them quite as large loans, so that they will have to put up some capital of their own. A new section also makes insurance somewhat more liberal for large-scale rental housing projects.

The Senate voted down by 43 to 38 the Administration's proposal to provide Government money direct to co-operatives. This proposal would have created a great Government corporation drawing its capital from the Treasury and authorized to make direct loans to co-operative housing associations. It has been represented that because this provision was beaten, the Senate turned down aid to middle-income families, but, of course, that is not the fact. The bill still provides at least 2 1/2 billion additional dollars of insurance for such families, and it is still a middle-income housing measure.

WHAT the Senate has done is to reject direct Government loans to co-operatives. I believe that direct Government lending has become just about as dangerous as Government spending and that it certainly should not be extended. The experience of the RFC with the Kaiser loans, the Tucker loan and the Lustron loan is a good argument for cutting down the authority which already exists. There is plenty of private capital available for loans today on fair terms, and there seems to be no reason why co-operatives, like other persons, should not pay the going rate of interest.

I feel friendly, however, to the general form of co-operative organization; and, if a number of people desire to save themselves money by buying real estate, carrying out a joint development and employing one architect and engineer for the project, I believe they should be encouraged. I voted, therefore, in favor of the substitute measure offered by Senators Ives and Tobey. This would merely have provided FHA insurance for loans to co-operatives especially adjusted to the needs of such co-operatives, but requiring that they pay the going rate of interest for private capital. This amendment was defeated, but it is still quite possible for the co-operatives to obtain insurance loans under the FHA law.

The moment the Federal Government gets into the business of making direct loans, it becomes involved in political considerations. Loans are made which should not be made.

The provision which the Senate turned down undertook to provide 3 per cent money for co-operatives, although any one of the members of the co-operatives who borrowed directly would have to pay 4 1/2 per cent. The co-operatives were also to be granted an extraordinarily long term beyond that considered sound by private lending.

IN TWO respects the bill passed by the Senate does not permit direct Government lending. It authorizes 4 1/2 per cent Government loans to veterans in areas where they cannot get private loans, and it permits 2 1/2 per cent loans to educational institutions for the construction of housing on campuses. I would have preferred to leave out both of these provisions, as a matter of principle. However, the loans to veterans is a kind of stand-by provision and is intended to be used only when no money is available directly from banks. It may be said that we have some obligation under the principles of the GI Bill of Rights to see that loans are made available to veterans if the banks don't provide them.

On the whole, I should say that no more should be done by any authority to make direct Government loans in the housing field.

On the whole, I should say that no more should be done by any authority to make direct Government loans in the housing field.

METHODIST CHILDREN HAVE EASTER SERVICE

At the beginning of the Sunday School hour, the children of the first three classes met in assembly and observed the celebration of Easter Sunday with a little service of their own.

A background of dark red silk has been made by Mrs. L. Smith, and in front of this has been placed an altar which Rev. Smith made for the younger classes. The white cross was flanked by white candlesticks and candles and two beautiful Easter lilies. Jack McQuate, Marty Hampton and Donald Grab collected from the parents and friends for the purchase of the Church Sanctuary altar during the Easter worship of the church hour. These were then given to friends of the church who were ill and unable to attend the Sunday service.

At the Sunday School service two of the little girls light the altar candles, while the group sings "Jesus Bids Us Shine." Two of the boys act as ushers and take up the collection; several read Easter Scripture verses and poems; there was an Easter prayer and a group song, and then awards for memory work were given to 12.

Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith To Observe Golden Wedding

Fifty years ago on April 15 was not only Easter Sunday but also the wedding day of Miss Dottie Olney of Shelby and Mr. George Griffith of North Fairfield. The nuptials were performed in the home of the groom with members of the immediate families present, the Rev. Lowe of the Church of Christ, North Fairfield, officiating.

This couple who now make their home on Pettit Street, Shiloh, will hold open house on Sunday, April 16 at their home between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m., and invite their friends, neighbors and relatives to help them celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Returning for the festivities will be five guests who attended the nuptials fifty years ago including Mr. Griffith's three sisters, Mrs. Abbie

MRS. MAUDE RUCKMAN

Correspondent

Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Southern Ohio. Later he took up farming but for the past fourteen years has led a retired life. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Helping with the arrangements for Sunday will be the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Phillips Moore of Plymouth, Mrs. Eldon Mowery of Toledo and Mrs. Russell Kruger of Obeloin. There are also six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren who will be present with their parents.

The best wishes of the entire community are extended this couple on this memorable occasion.

Civic Club To Discuss Grain Elevator

There will be a special meeting of the Shiloh Civic Club Monday night, April 17, for the express purpose of discussing the proposed elevator for Shiloh. All club members who possibly can attend are urged to be present at the night club rooms at 8 o'clock that night and a special invitation is being extended to all citizens of Shiloh and the surrounding community interested in acquiring an elevator for Shiloh to also be present.

Shiloh needs a grain elevator, has needed it ever since the old one burnt down. Farmers of the community need it because of the advantages that will accrue to them in the marketing of their grain, which now has to be hauled to Plymouth, Shelby or Greenview; businessmen of Shiloh need it because of the added customers that will be brought into town; and the community as a whole needs it as a boost to civic morale and a bolster to sagging property values.

So Civic Club members, citizens of Shiloh, farmers of the surrounding community — everyone interested in an elevator for Shiloh, be down at the council room at 8:00 o'clock Monday night, April 17. Let's get the old ball rolling!

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY FRIDAY

The Junior class play, "Boys About Bobbette," will be presented at the Shiloh High School auditorium Friday night at 8:00 o'clock. Members of the cast have been hard at work on practice, and predictions are that it will be one of the best class plays presented by Shiloh school students in years.

It is possible that new curtains will arrive in time to be used for Friday night's play. You can show your school spirit by giving your support to the Juniors Friday night — your attendance. Tickets are 35¢ for students and 50¢ for adults.

Birthday Celebrations

FOR OUR GAY NINETIES

Having discovered that there were eight people living in or near Plymouth, who were 90 years of age or thereabouts, we thought it would be a courteous gesture to have a birthday party for them, a Gay Nineties party, to celebrate their longevity. Since, at the age of 90, one doesn't do very much traveling about, our birthday party will have to be a make-believe social affair, but we'll guarantee that it would be a gay one if these oldsters really could get together.

We have borrowed the high school gymnasium, and since not one of these people are bedfast, or even gone a little beyond the goal of 90 years. It was held in the High School Auditorium as that was the only place large enough for such a major social event. It was on the 29th of February, 1950.

The center of attraction, next to the birthday people themselves, was the stupendously large birthday cake, tiers high, with 726 candles on it, representing the combined years of all the honored guests. If all those candles represented consecutive years they would go back into history to the year 1224. (In that year, remember, King Henry III of England was breaking the Magna Carta agreements and this bringing on the formation of the House of Commons; Genghis Khan, the Mongol chieftain, was conquering the Eastern world, and the Crusades were taking knights of France and England to Palestine.)

Everyone was dressed in their finest bib and tuckers. The gentlemen were all polished and brushed and carried their dusters just so on the crook of their elbow as they escorted the ladies around the room. Their suits, hats, and walrus mustaches indicated that they knew what the height of fashion was, and observed it. The ladies gowns were as beautiful, but there was only space for a word about the hats.

Mrs. Eva Smith's hat was green, in honor of the month of her birth, and it was adorned with long waving black plumes and very large and bright pink roses. It tied under the chin with a lovely ribbon or it couldn't possibly have stayed on.

Mrs. Perry had chosen to wear a lovely blue velvet hat that was lined, bonnet style, with old rose. Extremely large bows of rose colored ribbons were fastened to the front of the hat and an elegant hat pin of rhinestones held this about the hats.

Mrs. Hatch selected a black hat with a very wide brim and trimmed with a very wide wide-awake looking bird with beautiful outspread wings of red and curling tail feathers of green and yellow and black. (You see, hatmakers of those days really made creations that people could "Oh" and "Ah" about. Hats were definitely not circles of felt that stuck in some mysterious way to the top of the ladies' heads, or good sized strips of ribbon that go from ear to ear in the manner of a telephone operator's headpiece.) For the Gay Nineties, the hats were gay.

Mrs. Phillips, with her usual youthful attitude toward the affair, had made her choice with a spring-like creation of a large light colored straw, trimmed lavishly with yellow and white daisies and loops of beautiful green ribbon. The hatpin was a fascimile of a good sized honey-bee, apparently all ready to seek honey among the flowers. Several people with tendency to hay-fever began to sneeze as Mrs. Phillips moved energetically around the room greeting her friends.

Since there were four ladies and four gentlemen, the four couples, after receiving much applause, led a Grand March around the table holding the birthday cake, and then were seated at the front of the auditorium so that all present could hear as they exchanged their reminiscences, comments and wishes.

"Now," said the Mayor, "every one please step forward and introduce themselves and tell their age and birthday."

"Ladies' first" exclaimed Dr. George Searle, Sr., gallantly. "Besides," he added, "in an undertone to the Mayor, 'I want to see if they tell the truth. I KNOW most of their ages! Now in Florida everyone always tells the truth; that is, when they're in Florida.'"

Mrs. Eva Smith—"On March 9, 1950 I was 90 years old, and my name was Thrus before I married Charlie and became Mrs. Smith."

Mrs. Hattie Perry—"I am 91 years of age, my birthday being November 1, 1858. My parents were William and Lucy Snyder Hinkly of near North Fairfield."

Mrs. Lunetta Hatch—"I believe that I am the youngest of this group, as I was only 89 on March 11."

Mr. Frank Leddick—"On April 1 I will be 90, being born in 1860. I lived west of New Haven with my parents, Samuel and Rachel Decker until 1903. My father-in-law will be next. You notice he is only two years older than I am."

Mr. Lemuel Hale—"Now here I'll speak for myself. I was 92 on March 29, and I lived with my parents, Solomon and Elizabeth Hale near Plymouth or Shelby, when young. In 1875 we moved to south of town where Kinsell used to live on the Springmill rd."

Dr. Searle—"Well, I'm 90 now, and that is a long time since I was born in London, England in 1860."

Mr. William Hatch—"My birthday will be April 14, and I was born in 1858 on the Kimmel farm west of Shelby. My parents were Stephen and Zanette Hatch. When I came to Plymouth at the age of 6, I was the youngest son and of a family of 8 boys and 2 girls. We lived on the county line road west of town. There were all mud roads and we had to fill the holes with hay to drive over them. We drove horses and wagons, sometimes on, to come to town. I rode with my brother on a wagon at the age of 7 to haul gravel and sand to build the present city jail. Also, my brother hauled the sand to build most of the business blocks in Willard when it was built seventy-five years ago, and I rode with him."

Mrs. Amelia Phillips—"We were German people from Pennsylvania and was born Nov. 9, 1858 to John and Mary Bachman. About forty-seven years ago I moved to a farm near New Haven and I have always lived around Plymouth and New Haven since then."

Mrs. Hatch—"Mrs. Smith, I notice that your birthday and wedding date are in the same month. Since you were married on St. Patrick's Day, was your dress green?"

Mrs. Smith—"No, indeed! It was a blue taffeta silk and the most beautiful dress I have ever seen. We had a dressmaker from Shelby come to the farm, and it took her 3 weeks to make the dress."

Mrs. Perry—"That reminds me of a wedding anniversary Mr. Perry and I had. We were getting ready to move from our farm into North Fairfield and too busy to celebrate our 25th wedding day. We had even moved some of our things into town. It was New Year's Day, and some of the neighbors noticed that we were moving, so some of them and I had planned and confessed that they had planned a surprise for us on our Silver Wedding day. They had to do this so that we would be home when they all came. We managed to get ready for them and had supper, with their help, for about 75 friends. It was a real winter that year and we moved most of our things into town a sleigh."

Mrs. Hatch—"My surprise party didn't turn out as planned either."

and Mrs. Hatch told of how her husband had planned a nice birthday surprise for her but just from the way he said something that she walked into town and called at the home of Mrs. Frank Hatch, on W. Broadway, and happened to see her trying to hide a big birthday cake away. That confirmed her suspicions but they had the party anyway and no doubt everyone had a fine time.

Mrs. Hatch—"I wish that you wouldn't sing us to help celebrate. Mrs. Perry—"Oh, No! You see I haven't sung for a long time. Once, a long, long time ago I practiced very diligently for a whole week at a Music Institute in North Fairfield, with another young girl, Ida Snyder McDonald, and we had a beautiful duet to sing at the end of the week's lessons and study. Young people came from all around to the Institute and boarded and roomed at homes in North Fairfield and studied at the Institute. I wanted to sing so badly and try to hide a big birthday cake away. I wouldn't sing a duet by myself. I was 91 last November, but I haven't sung in a long time. I was so disappointed. The roads were so bad in those days that we didn't get around too much."

Mrs. Smith—"One of the first things I remember about Plymouth is how muddy and bad the roads were. It was so hard to get into town from the farm with the horses and buggies."

Mrs. Hatch—"When we came to Plymouth you see my parents, John and Amanda Riddle, lived on a big farm in Richmond township on the Bullhead road, and we always drove through New Haven. I remember that New Haven was much bigger and more active than Plymouth. I didn't live in Plymouth until the year we married and moved here with my husband."

Mrs. Perry—"I lived with Mrs. Nora Wyandt on Mills Ave. when I came to Plymouth in 1924 and I really enjoyed going to church with her on Sunday. Mrs. Jennie Crisswell welcomed me and asked if I was coming back. I replied that I would if they would have me. You see I was a young girl, and I was married and moved here with my husband."

Mrs. Jennie Crisswell welcomed me and asked if I was coming back. I replied that I would if they would have me. You see I was a young girl, and I was married and moved here with my husband."

Mrs. Smith—"This is a lovely day for the birthday party. You know, this is my FIRST birthday party! I used to be quite cautious about letting people know how old I was, but didn't say very much about my birthdays. Now I see I was too cautious and that I should have talked more about them. Here I am 90 years old and at my first birthday party."

Mrs. Hatch—"No, I never had a birthday party either, but I can tell you about the first things I remember about Plymouth. The old member about Plymouth. The old railroad bridge on the north side of where the present bridge is now. I used to come to town with my father to get grain to the elevator. I also remember the old fair grounds that extended along West Broadway and back north to the railroad. The business, but there were all frame, no brick; the Presbyterian church was situated on Plymouth street, in the front of the Old Cemetery; the old town water pump and water tower were in the middle of the Square; John Wilson's old fish market, I can remember, and there was an old saloon where Melvin's was located. There was the old Cuykendall burr mill and dam where I went with my father to get our grain ground for food."

Mrs. Phillips—"Can you remember when Sol Spear had a store in Plymouth? I remember he purchased some clothes there. We had lots of parties there. We were younger, and I remember a birthday party when Mrs. Strimple and Mrs. Hinkly were in New Haven. I surprised me. We always had cakes and candy on birthdays but not birthday gifts. Would you like to have me say 'Thank You' in German to this nice birthday party today? I can read and write and speak German as well as English, you know. After the first world war I corresponded with a family in Germany that one of my sons met when he was a soldier."

Dr. Searle—"When I first came to town the Square was almost impassable during the Spring War. I watched the paving of the Square and improved roads leading from it with much satisfaction, knowing what a benefit it would be to all the inhabitants of Plymouth and vicinity."

Mrs. Hale—"I remember the horse drays in Plymouth, and the old fashioned town pump. Say, and I can remember one cold day when a fellow had to cut the mud off the wagon. I remember the Garden Club and the friends I've found in the church associations."

Mrs. Smith—"I have enjoyed my reading. I average four books a week now. My son-in-law gets them for me at the Plymouth Library. The library is wonderful. It is a wonderful thing for everyone but especially for someone who can't get around much but who still likes to keep up with the world."

Mrs. Phillips—"We have lived together in peace and harmony in this country near Plymouth. That is what I have liked best about living here."

Mrs. Hale—"Can't think what I liked best about Plymouth. I just can't praise it high enough. I guess Mr. Hatch: "The many nice friends I have here both young and old, the kind hearts and gentle people that have lived in my home town, and it has always been home to me." (This comment shows that Uncle Billy watches and listens to the daily broadcasts on radio and television.)

people just moved to town recently. I have done a little carpenter work for them. What do you think we should tell them about moving into a community like Plymouth?"

Mrs. Hatch: "I remember what my mother used to say. An old friend woman friend said to her, 'If ye takes a good neighbor with ye, ye'll find a good neighbor there.' I have found that that's so."

Mrs. Perry: "The best way to get acquainted is to go to some church. You are bound to meet some good people there, and dependable friends."

Mrs. Smith: "I would tell them that Plymouth is as good as any place is. The churches are all first grade No. 1, and the school facilities are good. Things are much different than in 1873 when my parents, James and Amanda, first moved here from near Mansfield."

Dr. Searle: "The school system has been most beneficial to the children, and the churches are a great help to the community, so I'm proud of our little village. When I look back and see the progress Plymouth has made, I'm happy."

Mrs. Phillips: "Why, I would tell them that this is a wonderful country around here and with wonderful people for friends!"

Mrs. Hale: "They couldn't get a better place to live than here. Why, it's better than the Dakotas even."

Mrs. Hatch: "I would tell them it was a grand place to live, and to be proud of our little village, and build a house right here."

Mr. Leddick: "Yes, Plymouth is all right. Tell them to move here and I'll help them build a house."

Dr. Searle: "A lot of things have happened in Plymouth in the last 90 years, even if it isn't in Florida. What did you enjoy most during your life in Plymouth, Lunetta Hatch?"

Mrs. Hatch: "Friends, I guess. I have a lot of good friends here."

Mrs. Perry: "I have enjoyed the Garden Club and the friends I've found in the church associations."

Aged Greenwich Resident Dies

Mrs. Adelaide M. Dickey, 88, of Greenwich, widow of Samuel P. Dickey, died at her home Thursday after several weeks' illness. Mrs. Dickey was a charter member of Amity Chapter, Order of Eastern Star and the Methodist church. Survivors include a step-daughter, Mrs. Mary Lewis and a grandson, Hugh Lewis; a sister, Mrs. Maude Watts, four half brothers, Frank and Lincoln Hopkins, all of Greenwich, and Leonard Hopkins of Ganges and Carl Hopkins of Cleveland.

O. E. S. Vesper services were held Saturday evening and on Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Bender funeral home, last rites were held with Rev. A. R. Keiser, officiating. Burial was made in Edwards Grove cemetery in Ripley township.

Mrs. Dickey has often visited her nephew, Thior E. Woodworth and family and has many acquaintances in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth and Mrs. MacMichey attended the Vesper Services Saturday evening and on Sunday both families attended the rites.

SON ARRIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hampton are the parents of a new son, Michael Glenn, born on Wednesday last at the Shelby hospital. The young man weighed 6 lbs., 15 oz. Mrs. Hampton returned home Sunday, but the baby remained at the hospital for a few days until a satisfactory feeding formula could be found. They expect to bring Michael home the last of this week.

Mrs. Robert Croy of Perrysburg, Ohio, who recently underwent an operation at the Toledo hospital, is getting along nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Frakes motored to Toledo last Wednesday to call on her.

Tourist Club Guests

On Monday, April 10th, Mrs. Stacy Brown was hostess to eleven members of the Tourist Club and one guest, Mrs. Harry Snider, of Akron, Ohio.

At 6:30 all were invited to the dining room, where at a beautifully arranged table, which had as a centerpiece a crystal clear tree, the branches of which were heavily laden with brilliantly colored Easter eggs, a delectable three-course dinner was served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Snider.

Miss Elder, had chosen for her topic of the evening, "war-torn Greece Looks Ahead," taken from the December number of the Geographic Magazine. The writer of the article says "On the barren island of Makronisi, off the tip of Attica, I watched today the Army officers play the role of the good shepherd."

"It is a strange reversal of the Biblical story, in which the good shepherd goes into the hills to find one stray sheep while the other ninety and nine are safe in the fold. For in this instance the ninety and nine are out in the hills away, fighting for Hellas. The lost one, who persists in straying that way, enjoys here the shelter of the strangest fold I have ever seen."

"Makronisi, meaning Long Island, has been converted into a novel 'concentration camp' where thousands of Communist Sympathizers and former guerrilla fighters are being transformed into loyal, democratic citizens."

After a short business meeting the Club adjourned to meet in two weeks with Miss Elder, hostess, Mrs. Webber, leader.

First Down

month to hold such services than Mary Park?

How does the Booster Club propose to raise the funds for this project? By asking the citizens of Plymouth and vicinity to donate $25.

In return your school and town will have a modern lighted athletic field with bleachers and each donor will be given a reserve seat in the bleachers for all home football games which will be scheduled for the next five years. Your seat will be designated as a donor's seat and will bear your name on a small metal plate. (Incidentally, these name plates will be given to the Booster Club.)

Why does the Booster Club propose to raise funds in this manner? If a sufficient number of $25 donations for reserve seats are received there should be enough money to complete the whole project, based on today's quotations, and with the splendid assistance to be received from the Board of Public Affairs. Then, there will be no bonds or debts to retire in the succeeding years. The only thing that will be owing will be seats to the $25 donors for five years. This will still leave approximately 1000 unreserved seats to be sold at the gate for each game, which will bring enough income to adequately equip the team and band each year.

Charts of these $25 donor's seats will be exhibited at Don's Grill, Robby's Radio Store, American Legion Room, Cashman's Shoe Store, Bob Lewis' Barber Shop, Black & Gold Soda, Grill, Supt. Dennis at High School and Jud's Sohio Station. These seats will be on or very close to the 50-yard line, so it will not make any difference which one you select. You will be able to see the games just as well from any of them. You can reserve one or more at any of the above places. Each place having a chart will have a different section to reserve so that the same seat cannot be assigned to more than one person. You can also reserve a seat or seats to give to a friend or relative as a gift, but your own name will be put on the name plate attached to the seat as donor, if you so desire.

You will get a receipt bearing your seat number for all $25.00 donations, which will be given to Supt. Dennis, Treasurer, who will deposit the money in the bank. Checks should be made payable to G. N. Dennis, Treasurer.

At the beginning of each football season for the next five years a ticket will be sent to you for all home games scheduled during those years and, of course, you will have the same seat for those five years. Donors are assured that the school administration will keep the records carefully, and that tickets will be mailed well before the first game of each season.

If anyone should like to make a contribution toward this project without taking in a donor's or memorial seat it will be greatly appreciated. This would leave more reserve seats to sell at the gate before each game.

As soon as sufficient donations are made materials will be ordered. All labor will be donated and the Club would like to get started on the construction work as early as possible.

The materials needed for the bleachers will be furnished at substantial discounts. Thanks very much to Plymouth Block Company, Kapel Bros. Lumber, of Plymouth, and Hodges' Coal Company of Shelby. Also, to the local masons, electricians and all others who have indicated their willingness to donate their time and assistance on this project.

Remember—when you contribute $25.00 to this project—you will be giving your school and town a lighted athletic field with bleachers and to yourself a memorial reserve seat for all home High School football games for the next five years.

We'll be seeing you.
