Start Car Check Here

The Ohio State Highway Patrol and Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police traffic safety check program will get underway today, Thursday, June 1st and continue throughout the month, Colonel Mingle, superintendent of the Ohio State Patrol and Lester A. Roepert, president of the Ohio Police Chiefs' Association, announces.

Four hundred and three police departments will participate in the program this year and are asking the cooperation of the motoring public to have their cars inspected during the period. This is a voluntary check in which the state and municipal police officers along with the county sheriffs will establish control points as well as traffic lanes at which vehicles will be inspected.

Vehicles will be inspected with emphasis on horns, brakes, windshield wipers, headlights, tail-lights, stop-lights, tires, steering mechanism and rear vision mirrors. These are all safety items and if in faulty working order may be the direct cause of a motor vehicle accident.

If an inspection reveals needed repairs the owner is ordered to have the repairs made. After the repairs are completed he may return the correction ticket and receive his 1950 Traffic Safety sticker.

If the vehicle is found to be mechanically sound on the above mentioned items, an orange and black sticker bearing the official approval will be placed on the windshield.

Plymouth's Chief of Police Robert Meiser is participating with the State safety program.

P. O. Starts One Delivery Daily

Claude Sourwine, postmaster, announces that beginning on Friday, June 16th, Plymouth's residential section will have one delivery daily. This is in accordance with the nation-wide car-in-mail service and already city carriers have been making but one trip. In the business section, there will be two deliveries same as formerly.

Plymouth will retain its two carriers, Kenneth Myers and Donald Akers, and the office force will remain about the same as formerly but the compensation time will be made up by the carriers instead of a substitute carrier as is now in force.

A School Tale

By Jack McQuate
I'm going to tell you a tale about a small school.

Now, this little school was a very new one. But, it had no play ground equipment. Think of it! Nothing to play on!

Well, they raised some money, but it wasn't enough. So, the men that worked at this town's factory donated a day a week.

Problem No. 1 solved, but what about Problem No. 2? It was the installation problem.

They looked in Here, in There, and in Here again. Just as they were going to look Everywhere, some nice men came who did the equipment up. So they did.

Now the children are very happy.

Oh, in case you want to drive by this certain playground, it is located on the corner of Dix St. and New St.

Thanks to the men at the factory who donated their time and efforts, and to the men who donated their time to install it!

Around THE Square

By Phyllis Whitlouse

MRS. C. C. PUGH of East High Street recently found out just how far a quart of home-made bread and butter pickles go. They went so far, that it will be necessary to re-prepare the kitchen, to say nothing of adding a little perfume to the paste for de-odorizing. Expecting company for dinner, Mrs. Pugh placed a quart on the top of the stove, expecting to remove them as soon as the lid could be lifted. However, other household duties took them from her mind, and the next thing—bang, went the pickles over everything. Even the pictures had a nice smell, woodwork had to be washed as well as the table and chairs. Nope! No pickles for dinner.

CASHMAN'S WINDOW this past week has caused quite a few comments and reminders, where between the crosses row on row, stand the replicas of the wild poppies, most prominent among the graves of American soldiers dead in Flanders fields. A miniature of the field was set up for Saturday, proclaimed Poppy Day, as well as for Memorial Day.

MEMORIAL DAY was bright and sunny, not too warm for the many former Plymouthites who returned for the day not only for the Memorial services held at Greenlawn cemetery but also as a Homecoming for many who make it a practice to return on this day to greet their many friends and acquaintances.

SOME OF THOSE who have returned years after year and were again seen Tuesday include Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nimmons of Saginaw, Mich., Dr. Harold Sykes, Miss Edith and Mr. Arthur Jung, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McDonough, Mr. and Mrs. Norman McDonough and daughter all of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nimmons of Avon Lake, Mrs. Harold Duncan, Lorain, Mrs. Ruth Nimmons Twaddle, Norwalk, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Webber of Oberlin, and many others. Plymouth is glad to welcome them "home" and hope they may continue to do so for many years to come.

NOW THAT WE have the question of what to do with cats, the next complaint to come up before the "City Fathers" is what to do with the dogs. Gardens have been planted, grass sown, and flowers are just coming up. Report after report has been coming in that dogs are running rampant over them and owners ask the cooperation of the "hand of the law" to help them. A friendly warning is again given that dogs must be kept at home, tied or otherwise, but home they must stay and not on their neighbors' gardens, etc. It is pointed out that a village ordinance can be enforced if the practice of permitting dogs to run at large persists.

TWO MUSHROOMS were being shown around town last Thursday by J. E. (Katy) Arvoe and Joe Palmer of New Haven. The two mushrooms were of the sponge type. Each weighed one-half pound, and measured 12 inches in length, 8 inches in diameter, high. Mike Dick and Fred Nimmons turned a little green with envy when they saw them for these Plymouth men have been tramping the fields after this spring with no luck. Anyway, the two New Haven men didn't let out any secrets as to where they picked the luscious fungus.

TODAY'S WISH I wish I were a little rock A'setting on a hill, And doing nothing all day long, But just a'setting still.

I wouldn't eat, I wouldn't drink, I wouldn't even wash, But set and set a thousand years, And rest myself, by gosh!

CRIME DOESN'T PAY
John Christopher Heaps, 53, of Traylor City, Mansfield, indicted for armed robbery of the Paul Dick grocery of Shelby last February, was given a 10 to 25 year sentence in prison when he was arraigned last week before Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch. Heaps had pleaded guilty.

Controls Rule Lives of All Hollanders

Editor's Note: This is the second installment of Mr. Herman Berghuis' description of his trip to Holland as related to Marguerite Plizzen.

No Gasoline
Perhaps because of the financial situation and also because of the size of the country, the autos seen there are like the Austin, many of which are used there. All gasoline would have to be imported and that restricts its use. The autos that are run are operated by benzine, which costs about 34c a litre, making it about $1.36 a gal. in our money. Most of this is a tax.

Compulsory Housing
No matter what your financial situation might be, if you have extra rooms in your home or building which you are not using, the government bureau in charge of housing sends you rooms. There is no choice and you must keep them in order to relieve the housing shortage.

Even under such conditions, human situations arise, and of necessity Mr. Kruger's friend herself in a quandary. A man and wife, strangers to the landlady, had been sent to her for rooms. Of necessity she took them and after a short time the man suddenly died. The wife skipped town, because of reasons of her own no doubt, and the landlady was left with a dead corpse. Legally she was forced to stand the expenses of the funeral and also to entertain the relatives of the deceased before the burial.

There is much to be seen in homes and business because of the demolition of the war days. In some neighborhoods Berghuis noted that only skeletons of buildings were standing, but in other places looking skeletons. He inquired if they had been bombed or what had happened to them and was shocked to hear that they had been the property of the family. The unfortunate who had been taken by the Nazis to the gas death chambers. Every member of the race was killed in almost every city. Mr. Berghuis found that in each case one survivor had been spared because the supply of gas had run out, and before more was obtained the Nazis had surrendered. It could almost be said in truth that there are now no Jews in Holland, the nation that once was home to thousands of the race that helped to make it a prosperous country in world affairs.

The houses left by the Jews had been stripped in necessity, by their former neighbors for firewood in order to survive the bitter cold, as there was no other material for heating and cooking. The still stand, stark monuments to the cruel necessities of war.

The Dutch people still love to state and the friends of the world will always furnish a background to this almost national sport which is also sometimes a way of transportation. Windmills and skates are almost synonymous with the words "picturesque Holland."

There are many bicycles in Holland and the roadways are good. Most are made of cement.

While in Holland and enjoying the hospitality of friends and former neighbors, the excitement and extra exertion of the social activities caused Mr. Berghuis to be come ill and he was forced to enter a hospital in Enschede for cure. He found that the hospitals were well staffed and the attendants had received good training. The care given patients was excellent. The equipment, however, was poor, due to course to the conditions in a country which has survived a war.

Sympathizes With Europe
Much sympathy is expressed by the people of Holland with whom this visitor talked, for the other European countries suffering much destruction of life and property. The sympathy surprisingly is felt for Germany, and one native remarked that it was too bad that the American planes had caused so much destruction with their bombings in the German cities. When reminded that the Nazi had destroyed as much in their conquest of Holland, the remainder was brushed off with a "Yes, but it was because the American bombs caused so much damage even in Germany." It may be that the American feeling of heroics is appreciated less by the European people, which we thought we helped to liberate, than we would like to believe.

The Queen and the royal family is the figurehead of this little nation, but it is the ministers that actually rule. The Queen is very highly paid, and all the back pay for the war years, when she was out of the country and living in a safer climate, was given to her when she returned to Holland. She is necessary to the ministers and the bureaucratic government in that the people are very loyal to her and even in their dissatisfaction of conditions in Holland and denunciations of the taxes, etc., they still hold and revere the royal family.

Food
Food prices are extremely high, as are clothing costs. A man must work a month to earn the price of a suit of clothes. Food in the home is good, but limited. Very good meals may be secured in restaurants and the price is reasonable, however. The tips to the waiters are included in the price of the meal while the bill is presented.

The Dutch custom of morning coffee is restricted to the middle class common people, are unable to get enough coffee and the price is very high. This situation really causes discomfort among the people who were once so the price of 11 o'clock coffee. For about 6c, American money, one can get an excellent cup of coffee in a restaurant, with a little pastry served with it. One place in Groningen, Mr. Berghuis remembers for its fine food, the Shortenhuus, so tourists who plan to visit Holland may put that restaurant on their list.

Coffee is served in smaller cups than we use daily, and little silver coffee spoons are used. The cups are not as small, however, as the variable, but the price of the spoons are included in the drawing rooms of the United States. Mrs. James Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Ryan, a lovely set of these small silver coffee spoons, and also received a gift of a beautiful spoon from Mr. Berghuis when he returned from Holland.

Two good sized Dutch dolls were brought back from the island of Marken in the Zuider Zee, and are now in the private possession of Trudy and little Dorothy Ryan, little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ryan. Mr. Berghuis visited this little island and its villages where the people dress exactly as their ancestors did 500 years ago. The dolls are dressed in the costume of the island people, the fishermen, and the outfits are made of very heavy black cloth.

The women wear brightly colored aprons, fancy little white starched hats, the well-known wooden shoes, and each woman wears an ornament at her throat indicating her social status. If her family is well-to-do the ornaments are of gold. A lower class, especially, and financially, wear silver ornaments, something like large beads. This indicates there is less money in the family and prospective suitors can judge the condition of the girls they are interested in.

The doll dressed as a Marken boy boasts silver buttons on his suit, and the pantalooners are made very full, and the waist short. The girl doll wears a small string of blue beads with her gold ornament. The faces of the dolls are an indication of the different facial expression of the people and it is interesting to compare them with the dolls which manufacturers put on the markets here.

Martin Kruger was presented with a blue Delft pipe from Volendam, and Mrs. Kruger has several pieces of the famous Delft blue pottery which are very beautiful. This comparison between the old Delft and that which is made recently is interesting, the tone of the backgrounds indicating the age of the pottery.

Those who send bundles to the needy in other countries should take care to send them to special people and direct addresses. Bundles can be sent to churches or persons or directly to relatives and friends. Bundles sent through large organizations, or just to the needy in Holland, are sent to the government and SOLD to the people, so that gifts are not received as gifts, but as merchandise.

Hayloft Jamboree Tonight And Friday

Miss Grace Kerkhove has arrived in Shiloh to start work on "Uncle Ezzy's Hayloft Jamboree" which is being sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and which is to be staged on June 1 and 2 at the Shiloh High School auditorium.

ACT IMPERSONATING RADIO STARS

In "Uncle Ezzy's Hayloft Jamboree" stage show, the curtain rises on the square dancers called the Hayloft Hoofers, stepping off fancy figures as they swing their partners while the fiddles supply the good old time toe downs we all know and enjoy. The caller, Joe Moore, may call for an alternate left or perhaps he'll sing out, "Birds Fly in a Crow Fly Out," "Chase the Rabbit," "Chase the Squirrel," "Chase that pretty girl, 'round the world." But whatever the figure you may be assured that these fancy do-dos are just the beginning of dopsidos and promanades that mean things are off to a big start in the old hayloft.

The part of Joe Kelly, master of ceremonies of jamborees will be played by Dave Hughes. He comes out to welcome the crowd and is interrupted by Case Kinsell who has the role of Hiram Hicks a comedy character that combines all the droll wit of Pat Buttram, the comedy of Duke of Paducah and Rodney Bradstreet from Hohenwald, Tenn.

Uncle Ezzy, who is giving the hayloft party for the boys and girls will be portrayed by (guess who?) He arrives late, but as usual has a good time. One of the best loved characters on radio, the kindly wit, humor and philosophy of Uncle Ezzy, along with his pranks as the show progresses, makes him a character that will long be remembered.

Then there is that irrepressible Belle of the Barn Dance, Lulu Belle. She will be impersonated by Grace Wolfersberger. Many other favorites have come and gone on Barn dance programs, but Lulu Belle is still the undisputed queen and sweetheart of those who follow the rollicking broadcasts each week. Naturally before she does her How do You Do number, she parks her chewin' chavin' gum on the top of a gir-fiddle, and after she gets in gear, she gives her own fun provoking songs to the amusement of all.

One of the most surprising and entertaining features of Uncle Ezzy's Hayloft Jamboree is the introduction of the Quiz Kids. They are the guests of honor for the evening. Joe Kelly, who is impersonated, will interview the following youngsters who have been chosen from the fifth and sixth grades of the local schools.

Part of the cast is as follows: Quiz Kids: Larry Humbert, Patricia Million, Eleanor Rakestraw, Tommy Laser, Tomny Kranz, Kay Elliott, Glessie Vanderpool, Mary Katherine Daup.

Square Dancers: Keith Dawson, Margaret Dawson, Robert Moser, Marie Bushey, Joe Wittche, June Hughes, Kirby Nesbitt and Dorothy Nesbitt.

Those who play the music will be: Joe Kelly—Dave Hughes. Hiram—Casey Kinsell. Uncle Ezzy—Big Mystery, guess who? Lulu Belle—Grace Wolfersberger.

Square Dance Music by Mary Gorn Ferrell, Frank Alman, Charlie Guthrie.

Rural Youth To Sponsor Benefit Dance

The Huron County Rural Youth Study Club is sponsoring a benefit dance, Tuesday, June 6 at Forest Lake Park with Eberly's Orchestra furnishing the music. The proceeds of the dance will be used to purchase an oil heater for the 4-H club building in North Fairfield. The local 4-H Clubs of the County H-Club have been cleaning and painting the building. Since North Fairfield is in the center of the county, the 4-H Club building is an ideal place to hold the county-wide youth meetings. By having a heater in the building meetings can be held in winter which was impossible this past year. The committee in charge of this dance are Keith Huffman, Corrine Fries, Harlan Satcher, Harlan Jennings and Loraine Bauer. The public is invited to this dance.

The Study Club also held a weiner roast at Camp Conger on Monday evening, May 22nd. The group played baseball until dark and then played Two Deep and Snatch the Handkerchief until time of the weiner roast. The committee members in charge of the weiner roast were Janis Schild, Gladys Morrow, Leon Riley and Myron Schuster.

The next event of the Study Club will be the annual Clean-up Picnic which is to be held at Camp Conger, Sunday, June 11th. A picnic dinner will be held at 1:00 o'clock after which the group will clean up the grounds, rake up hay, repair broken equipment, etc. After the work is done a big ball game will be held. Any rural youth wishing to attend the activities of the Study Club may do so by contacting the Extension Office or any member of the group.

We Hear From Our Subscribers

"Dear Sir: I am enclosing a check for $2.50. This is the kind of thing we like to read, but of course we always enjoy reading the rest of the letter, too. This one was from Mr. W. Ulmer, of New Washington, Ohio, and who commented on how much he enjoyed the early history of Plymouth."

A letter from Rev. Wesley, from Luther Moffett, sends the news that he and his wife Marion, have three sons now. The yalso renewed their subscription to our weekly paper, so they must still enjoy reading about the friends they left behind in Plymouth. They can be assured that those friends have not forgotten them, and inquire about their health and whereabouts. Come back and visit us.

From Hebron, Ohio, we receive a note from Helen Williamson renewing her subscription. She says she enjoys the paper very much, and looks forward to getting it each week. The Williamson's lived above what is now Shurtz Grocery, when they lived in Plymouth.

Phil Nixon sends us from Cleveland, this nice comment "We continue to enjoy our home paper and especially the old timers reviews." As he renews his subscription he wishes all in and around Plymouth a prosperous year. Thank you, Phil, and the same to you.

Sort of a traveling letter is the Advertiser when it goes to Mrs. Beatrice Black, formerly of Shiloh, but now in Cleveland. After she reads it, it goes to a daughter in Wickliffe, Ohio, and from there to another daughter in Panama City, Fla. A Mayflower can't call it a kind of good will tour?

Hi, Thomases: I sure want to renew my Plymouth paper. I enjoy it very much, but you come to Milwaukee I hope you will find time to call on me. Donald Fox.

At North Fairfield
Alumni Banquet
Mrs. Helen Glenn Boorman and daughter Patricia, of Erie, Pa., were week-end guests of Mrs. Pearl Hodges. Mrs. Boorman and Mrs. Hodges attended the Alumni Banquet at North Fairfield on Saturday evening.

At a dinner concluding a long and boring convention, a parade of reluctant speakers had been tried from their chairs to "say a few words." As the 16th orator took his seat, a sigh of expectation filled the room. Deliverance was in sight. But not the chairman was on his feet again. "I'm sure this meeting does not want to break up without hearing from our good friend, Ken Roer." Mr. Roer stood up. "Gentleman," he said, "I am reminded of the story of the two skeletons. For days they had been imprisoned in the mustiest closet imaginable. Finally, one skeleton said to the other 'What are we doing here, anyhow?' Whereupon, the other skeleton replied, 'I'll be darned if I know' if we had any guts, we'd get the hell out of here."

CONG. LENKIE DIES AT 71

Congressman William Lenkie, of North Dakota, whose weekly news column from Washington, D. C. has been running in the Advertiser and who has frequently visited here died of a heart attack Tuesday night in a Fargo, N. D. hotel.

A friend of Henry Fackler, Congressman Lenkie attended farm picnics at the Mary Faye park several times and has also addressed farm protest meetings in Mansfield, while Fackler headed the State Marketing Quota Protest Association.

He was a fiery campaigner against the federal Triple-A farm program and other legislation which he considered attempts to regulate the farmer.

He served in every congress from the seventy-fourth to the eighty-first with the exception of the seventy-seventh. In 1926 Lenkie served as president of the candidate of the Union party but received very few electoral votes.

He and Sen. Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota sponsored the Frazier-Lenkie Farm Mortgage moratorium Bill which saved 250,000 farms for individual ownership. During his current term, Lenkie served as a member of the House public lands committee.

Doings In Congress

By Congressman Wm. Lemke

We hear a great deal about high prices, high rents and unreasonable profits—in other words, high cost of living. Let us find out just what brought about this condition. The truth is that the high cost of living is the result of high taxes and the depreciated dollar.

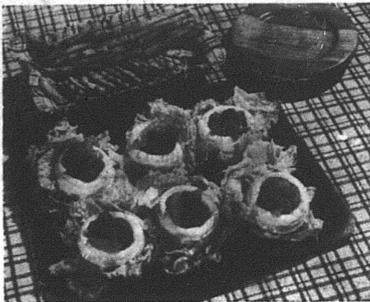

It is the high cost of government. Our Uncle Sam is the greatest profiteer, the greatest extortionist. He now takes 57 cents, on an average, directly or indirectly, out of every dollar that is earned and on which you pay federal income tax. You do the toiling and he does the taking. His appetite grows and grows. If you are a working person, he does not trust you. He is afraid you might speed too much so he has inaugurated the withholding tax by which he grabs part of your wages.

In 1932, the Federal Government took only 23c out of every dollar of the total taxes collected, while the states and political subdivisions took the balance—the other 77 cents. However, by 1948, the Federal government took over 74 cents, while the states and subdivisions took what was left—less than 26 cents—out of every dollar. In 1932, the total federal and state taxes amounted to $8,272,000,000. Of this, the Federal government took $1,891,000,000, and the states and subdivisions $6,381,000,000.

However, by 1948, the total tax was $54,517,000,000, out of which the Federal government took $40,104,000,000, and left the states and subdivisions only $14,413,000,000. In plain words, the Federal government is the hog that is fast crowding the little state pigs out of the taxation trough. If this policy is permitted to continue it will not be long before there will not be any state or municipal government worthy of the name.

With all of this increase in taxes, we are constantly urged over the radio, in the theatre, and by the press to buy more savings bonds. It is doubtful saving on your part. These bonds will have to be paid by you and your children with interest, via taxation. It is more spending on the part of the government. Every bond you buy puts the government deeper in debt. There is a limit to which the government can sell bonds—go in debt—and remain solvent. When you owe more than the value of your property you are insolvent—a bankrupt. What is true of you is true of your government.

Buy A Bond Today

Construction work starts today on the new bleachers. Trenches will be dug for the footers and concrete may be poured on Friday.

At the present time $1250.00 has been collected on seat reservations and donations. The bleachers will cost $2000.00 so it will be appreciated if those who have made reservations and not paid for them, would kindly send their payments to Mr. G. R. Dennis, treasurer, so that the rest of the materials needed for the bleachers can be delivered and paid for.

We would like to place an order for the lighting equipment so that it can be delivered about the first of July. Before this can be done we must have more seat reservations paid and more bonds sold.

There is now a balance of approximately $1900.00 to be raised to reach the $5000 goal. Before we can order any of the lighting equipment we should have at least another $1000.00 collected, so this much can be paid on the equipment when delivered.

Why not buy a $10.00 bond this week and help support this project financially? Bonds can be purchased from: Glen West, Bob Lewis, Harold Cashman, Elton Robertson, J. F. Root, Bob Martin, Roger Miller, Bill Miller, Eldon Burkett, Bob Schreck, Jud Morrison and Earl Cashman.

These bonds can be cashed on December 1, 1951 or each coupon can be exchanged for one reserve seat during the 1950 and 1951 football season.

You can still reserve a 5 year memorial seat or 2 reserve seats for 2 years for $25.00.

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

THIS week the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the constitutionality of one of the most important provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. That law requires that no labor union shall have access to the remedies provided through the National Labor Relations Board unless each officer files an affidavit "that he is not a member of the Communist party or affiliated with such party, and that he does not believe, and is not a member of or supports any organization that believes in or teaches, the overthrow of the United States Government by force or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods."

The Supreme Court's holding that the requirement of such an oath is no interference with freedom of speech or any of the other rights guaranteed by the Constitution. The Court said that Congress had reason to find that the Communism of the officers likely to bring about political strikes unrelated to the economic welfare of the men, and that officers who were Communists were then a Communist and to commit acts believed harmful to the national economy.

The so-called Communist oath provision of the Taft-Hartley law has proved itself an effective means of reducing the power of Communism in labor unions because they could not qualify under the Taft-Hartley law. In many other cases, Communist officers have been removed so that the union could take advantage of the law. Communist unions were finally so weakened that the CIO is able to expel them with the assistance of the Taft-Hartley law, replace them with Communist-free unions.

Nearly all the labor leaders have signed the oath, except John L. Lewis, whose power is so great that he hardly ever needs to avail himself of the law. This new problem has now arisen because many of the officers always regarded as Communists by other labor leaders have now signed the oath. Some 23 cases have been filed.

Farmer Combine Clinic To Be Held June 8th

Huron County farmers will be given an opportunity to have their combine problems answered at a county-wide meeting on Thursday, June 8, starting at 9:30 a. m., it was announced recently by John K. Wells, County Agricultural Agent. This clinic will be held at the Paul Metz Implement Company garage, one mile west of Norwalk on State Route 250.

Mr. S. G. Huber, Extension Agricultural Engineer at Ohio State University, will discuss the various combine adjustments to the several different makes of combines that will be on hand. It has been found that combines can have as much as 250 pounds of grain lost per acre with an improperly adjusted combine. This amount can be reduced to as low as 75 pounds per acre with the same combine and the same general field conditions. This and other problems relating to cylinder speed, ground speed, shoe and rack loss, as well as how to make the various adjustments will be the general theme of this combine meeting.

Mr. Huber will have charge of the morning session. Mechanics will be on hand in the afternoon to assist farmers with problems relating to their particular combines.

Orientation Day Is Successful

Beginning a new custom successfully for the Plymouth Schools, the teachers conducted the first "Orientation Day" last Friday. The first six grades moved up one year for one year. The first six grades classes which they will attend when school opens this Fall.

There were eighteen pre-school youngsters who reported to Mrs. Emma Port and her assistants for the day, Mrs. Tucker, who is the remedial teacher for the Grades. Because of the measles epidemic the attendance was considerably cut. The five and six year olds were supervised in lettering and coloring and were introduced to the recess period on the playground. Their school books were a really wonderful find!

Miss Joy Bethel, music teacher, had planned a short introduction

The Sixth grade students were taken to the High School building and were given the fundamentals of changing classes, the use of lockers, an orientation in the extra-curricular activities and the location of the room which will be their "home room" next September.

Although an orientation was held in Plymouth, Ohio, it has been used in other schools for some time, and are glad that Mrs. Muri L. Davis, Grade School Principal, who suggested the idea this year, and Supt. G. Dennis, who agreed to try it, carried the project through so successfully, with the assistance of all the teachers.

C. C. Schild, Huron-Co. Double Blue Club Winner

C. C. Schild, sheep producer of Route 1, Monroeville, was announced recently as the Huron County winner of the Double Blue Club at the Green-White Lamb Pool. In order to be eligible for this contest, sponsored by the Huron and Richland County Bankers Associations, Mr. Schild had to market the largest number of lambs in a double blue class. Winners were divided into three classes, those marketing 35 lambs and under, those marketing 36 to 55, and those marketing over 55. All lambs had to be marketed at the Pool during the Pool season in order for the producer to be eligible.

Other winners were Chas. Buckman, Route 2, Tiffin, and E. R. Eckert, Lexington. All three winners will receive a purebred ram at Ram Day which will be held at the Pool the early part of August.

John K. Wells, County Agricultural Agent, announces that sheep spraying service will again be given to sheep and lamb producers this year. Any farmer interested in having his flock sprayed on his own premises should contact the Agricultural Extension Office by June 2.
