

Plymouth Boy In Puerto Rico

F. F. C. Richard Lowrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lowrey, arrived June 17th at his new address and station in Puerto Rico. He is at the Ramey air force base, and is located at a tip of the island and not far from San Juan.

He left Fort Dix, New Jersey on June 13 and had a fine cruise down the Atlantic to the island. He writes that his station is bounded by the sea on three sides and is in a beautiful tropical setting, palm trees and all. The houses and buildings are of concrete and even the homes are painted in bright colors. In place of the usual windows as we are used to them, the openings are hung with a venetian blind type of gadget. There are a few white people and many of Spanish, colored or mixed blood.

Richmond, who graduated from the Plymouth school in 1949, enlisted in the Army last summer and has had training with the weather squadrons. His complete address is P. F. C. Richard Lowrey AF 15281921

Step-Daughter Kills Father

Joseph Dolezal, 53, of Cleveland was instantly killed Tuesday by his step-daughter, Mrs. Virgil Sutton, 23, at the Sutton home in Peru, when she fired one shot which caught him behind the left ear, as he prowled about the dark house with a six-inch hunting knife.

Mrs. Dolezal, who had been drinking in Norwalk before going to the Sutton home and had probably been seeking revenge for his wife leaving home in Cleveland last Sunday.

Arriving outside the Sutton home he called out, and as Mrs. Sutton approached the door he fired two blasts from his 12 gauge shotgun. The second shot caught her in the back. A third charge was fired through a side window, but it went high.

Mrs. Dolezal who was in the living room, grabbed the Sutton's youngest child, aged three, and ran out the back door to a neighbor's home. Dolezal pursued her but was lost in the dark. He then returned to the Sutton home and sought to re-load his shotgun. However, he had been carrying the shells in a paper bag which had broken and spilled the shells on the ground.

He then went to find his wounded step-daughter who was searching for her husband's gun upstairs. As she walked around downstairs, she found him carrying the hunting knife. She fired one shot which instantly killed him.

Her husband, Virgil Sutton, a truck driver, was starting a run to Chicago from Norwalk at the time of the shooting. He returned home when police intercepted his truck several miles west of Norwalk. He was taken to his wife's bedside in Memorial hospital in Norwalk, where doctors described her condition as fair.

Mr. Sutton resided in Plymouth several years ago with his first wife and the family is well known here.

Heavy Rains Cause Damage

The deluge of water which hit Plymouth last Saturday did considerable damage when surface water entered the basement of the Brown & Miller hardware store causing an estimated loss of $1500.

It was while Robert Echeberry, store clerk, was in the basement, that he noticed water "backing up" from a downspout drain. He began moving what merchandise that appeared to be in immediate danger, thinking that the situation was not so serious. But as he moved a few pieces of merchandise, the water came in faster. Realizing that the basement was in danger of being covered with water he summoned Stacy Brown and E. B. Von of the James B. Smith Co.

Before the rain stopped, an average of 18 inches of water had entered the basement. Refrigerators, stoves and other appliances were removed to them and damage to the merchandise was lessened.

The floors in the basement which were saturated with water were cleaned by surface water which drained from Spring street. This street was improved last Fall, and evidently sufficient draining was lacking to take care of heavy rains. This is the second time the basement of the store has been flooded since the street improvement. Up until the time of the improvement the store's basement had never had water in it.

In the Willa-Root addition on the north side of Plymouth water weakened a portion of the foundation of the James B. Smith Co. which is under construction. An open ditch into the basement of the house became filled within minutes and surface water rushed into the basement. The water level of the 60-foot west wall to collapse. When the cement blocks gave away a water valve in the basement was torn loose and this aided in filling the basement with several thousand gallons of water. Pumps were used to draw off the water.

The heavy rain came just as the Ida Jackson public sale was in full progress at the home on Sandusky street. The sale was called off shortly after the downpour began.

The victim was a member of the high school had at least four inches of water rushing over to the west side of the street, which found its way through the driveway at Dr. James B. Smith's home, where it reported "water in the basement."

Fields in the vicinity were filled from the heavy downpour. The rainstorm seemed to have been centered in the immediate area as Shelby had only a sprinkle, and only a normal rainfall was reported in Willard and Greenwich.

PLACES AND EXPERIENCES REMEMBERED

Most of the parents of the 1950 Seniors felt that they would have liked to have gone along to the reunion, but they were not able to.

Perhaps the next best thing to do about it from the enthusiastic young people. A few of the Seniors have been willing to share their trip with others by making a little account of the experience.

It would be impossible to remember and report on all things that happened, but we think one account is worth mentioning.

The trip was a very busy one, but it was a very interesting one. We were in New York, got back at 5:30 a. m. and had spent only 30c.

Supt. Dennis thinks that perhaps the trip was the most interesting one tired in all their lives as when they arrived in Washington, as indicated by the rate at which they dropped asleep.

Death Takes John Daniels

Sudden death came Monday to one of Plymouth's better known citizens when John Daniels was stricken with a heart attack. Mr. Daniels, who has resided for a long number of years over Bob's Barber shop, had crossed the street to the men's rest rooms, shortly before 7:00 a. m. and was on his way back, when he became faint.

Mr. Berger, who noticed that there was something wrong, and he asked the assistance of Dan Holber of the Plymouth Cash market to get Mr. Daniels to a bench in front of the barber shop. The two men "walked" him down to Dr. Faust's office where he was given an examination, and was then rushed to the hospital in the McQuate ambulance.

Death came at 4:30 Monday afternoon at the age of 83 years, 10 months and 25 days.

John Daniels, better known to many of us as "Uncle Tom" (Story Line John), was born in Huron county and resided all of his life in this vicinity. For many years he was employed on the Lofland farm at the County Line road, where when he became too old to stand farm work, he moved into town.

After locating in Plymouth he continued doing part time farm work for the late John Barber, extending odd jobs in town for various families. On Saturdays of last week he mowed the lawn at the H. H. Fackler's property and seemed to suffer no ill effect at that time.

The years that he resided on the Square "County Line" became a familiar sight in the cool of the evening, when he would be seen sitting in front of the clothing store. He wasn't always idle. In the early morning, he'd take his broom and sweep the walks in front of the Barber shop, and Bob's Barber shop and The Advertiser.

And during the winter months he saw that the snow didn't lay very long. John Daniels knew a lot of people in the town, but few knew John, and his sudden death Monday, not only removes one of the better known characters in Plymouth, but his passing brought many sympathizing expressions from a man who found contentment with the little things in life.

Mr. Daniels lived alone, and his only visitor was a half-sister, Mrs. Lula Vetter of Norwalk. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the McQuate funeral home with Rev. F. C. Ick of the First Baptist, Norwalk, officiating. Interment was made in Greenlawn cemetery.

The respect in which Mr. Daniels was held by the community was shown in the beautiful flowers and attendance of his many friends, acquaintances and those for whom he formerly worked.

Seniors Tell Of Trip And Say "Thank You"

The guides and managers, but in all truth, must also report the trip. The trip was a very busy one, but it was a very interesting one. We were in New York, got back at 5:30 a. m. and had spent only 30c.

RIBBONS STORED away as souvenirs always bring back memories, sometimes it is weddings, birthdays or jubilee events, but in this case, it was music. Doing a little housecleaning among his souvenirs, Dr. J. T. Gaskill came across several badges this week, recalling to mind the 18th reunion of the Buckeye Band Association held in Plymouth on August 30, 1900 and another of the 21st reunion held on Aug. 6, 1903 at Lakeside. Dr. Gaskill states that 13 bands comprised the Association from all over northern Ohio and he played first tenor in the K. of B. Band which was quite outstanding.

Didn't know you gave a Hoop — I mean Toot about music. Dr. Gaskill remembered the sessions in Cleveland which say, but you might ask them about that 136 home run that Lucius Luke Easter sent into the upper decks. THEY MIGHT know something about it.

ED RAMSLEY, owner of the Plymouth Theatre, states he has some exceptionally good pictures coming up for Plymouth, in fact the "Cream of the Crop" scheduled for July 6-7-8, a double feature, "Boy From Indiana" and "Savage Splendor." On the 9-10th is the most talked about picture since "Gone With the Wind" it is "John Wayne" in "Sands of Iwo Jima." The following week the Story of G. I. Joe and the Jackie Robinson Story have been secured. Billing for the picture's show and next are listed in this week's paper and you are urged to hold same for references, inasmuch, as there will be no Advertising next week. Handbills will be mailed as usual next week.

MISS LOIS BERBERICK writes us from Phoenix, Arizona, that she has a change of address, and wishes the permission to follow her. She also states they are having superb weather now—104 degrees and even warmer the day of writing. Now that is what a call of super! A drop of 85 to 87 degrees this week gives us a wide range of weather, but possibly not the best we will make for which most of us are thankful for.

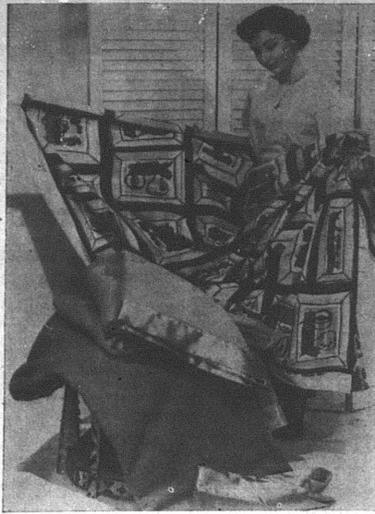

WERE happy to report that John A. Root is back home after a visit to the Shelby hospital where he underwent an operation. He is getting along nicely at his home, and within a few more weeks he should be back on the job soon. He is having all affairs at the Fate-ridge home, and has been advised to hear that Fred Grafmiller, who has been confined to his home for a number of years, has been removed to the hospital following a heart attack. Fred was at one time employed at the old Nimmicks & Nimmons hardware store, later doing work for the village. His health has been poor for a long time, but we hope he'll enjoy an early recovery.

IT'S NOT often that a small community can claim a visit from a famed radio script writer, but it is what Shiloh is doing for a few weeks. Emmet Doyle, with his wife and son, is enjoying a stay at the Shiloh Page home in Shiloh for a few weeks.

BEFORE the war Mr. Doyle was a truck driver, and he suffered from a heart ailment in service during World War II which relieved him of his stomach. He was in a hospital for two years, and during this time he "studied" writing.

IT REQUIRES imagination and ability to write radio scripts, but Mr. Emmett studied hard. Three years ago he sold his first script, and he has since had many successes. He has written scripts for the Skippy Hollywood Theatre and Grand Central Station. He has produced other material which has recently been accepted by the radio broadcasters. While visiting in Shiloh he will be busy on several stories which he hopes to have finished before going into New York where he will make many contacts and later visit his brother in New England.

NEW IDEAS IN DECORATION

NEW DECORATING FABRICS, and all furnishings for the home, are in the stores in inspiring displays. Plan your redecorating now. With wedding gift blankets, a pretty bedroom can be designed in colors which match the blankets or harmonize with them.

OR CHOOSE blanket colors to go with the new chintz you are using for draperies. Here is a "framed fruit" cotton, in soft greens; the blankets are medium-weight, 100 per cent wool, a St. Marys blanket called Minnette. The color is Chinese Red, a gay contrast with the green fabric; matched-and-mixed is another blanket in soft green to make the pair on the bed in this room. Walls are white, woodwork white; floor covered with deep green cotton rug; bedspread is plain chintz in deep green. The dressing table skirt and window draperies are of the Framed Fruit cotton, bound with Chinese Red.

BREAKFAST FOR TWO
With most recipes planned for four or six, cooking for two can become very difficult indeed. Leftovers seem to last forever and dividing a menu and making it up often leaves one wondering how to find half of three eggs.

Here are two easy breakfast menus planned with these problems in mind.

Menu Number One
1 Grapefruit Halves
French Toast-Syrup-Crisp Bacon
Coffee

Baked French Toast
1 egg
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 cup milk
4 slices stale bread

Beat egg slightly, add salt, sugar and milk. Pour mixture in well-greased shallow baking pan and bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 10 to 15 minutes on each side or until brown.

Place the strips of bacon across a wire rack in a shallow pan. Put the bacon in the oven when you turn the French toast to brown the second side. The fat drains off while the bacon cooks to a golden crispness. No turning is necessary and the bacon is ready to serve with the French toast.

Menu Number Two
Orange Juice
Scrambled Eggs
Corn Muffins-Honey Butter
Coffee

Corn Muffins
6 tablespoons yellow cornmeal
2 cups flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted fat

Sift the dry ingredients together into a small bowl. Add the beaten egg and milk, stir lightly to moisten. Fold in melted fat. Fill greased muffin tins two-thirds full and bake in a very hot oven (425° F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Yield: 4 to 6 muffins.
Faithfully,

Richland County Christian Endeavor Society Brings Home Seven Awards

About one hundred young people and adults from Richland county churches attended the sixty-fifth annual convention of the Ohio Christian Endeavor union at Wooster which ended on Sunday night after a three-day program over the week-end.

The Richland county delegation headed by Miss Hazel Mitchell of Shelby, outgoing county president, and Miss Mary Brooks of Ganges, president-elect, brought home seven awards for various participation.

For the first time in recent years, a county, Richland took all four awards for placing first at each check-out date for selling the most registrations to the state convention. Mr. and Mrs. John Gray of Shelby headed the sale of registrations in the county. The Richland county group received an honor award banner and three books for sweeping the field.

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor society of Plymouth took a plaque for being the society that sold the most registrations in the state to the convention. The runner-up was the Congregational Christian Endeavor society of Lexington, also in this county.

The best county plaque was awarded to Richland county for its leper work, county home projects and other activities.

Richland county also received a cup for having the most outstanding heirs programs. Esther Price of Shelby is heirs' superintendent for the county.

State officers were elected during the convention with many transfers in the county. The Richland county group from this county. The group includes Esther Price and Hazel Mitchell of Shelby, Geneva Craig, Emma Beck and John Morrison of Mansfield and Mrs. Emory Armstrong of Lexington.

Richland county had the largest delegation of any county at the convention and were noticeable through the chefs' hats which they were carrying the slogan: "We Are Cooking Satan's Goose in Richland County." Paper sandwiches were distributed to most of the other delegates by the Richland county delegation giving the ingredients used by Richland county in winning the best project award.

C. Parade
The county had a float in the C. E. parade Saturday night. It was decorated to represent the building of a home to carry out the convention theme of "Building With Christ." Rain spoiled the parade's looks but not the enthusiasm of the group who paraded through the rain on Wooster's downtown streets on the float and in cars.

Principal speakers included Rev. Clyde Meadows of Chambersburg, Pa., Rev. G. VanSoest of Cleveland, who was chosen as the 1950 outstanding C. E. pastor; Rev. Gene Stone of Columbus, international executive secretary; Mrs. George Wyker of Mt. Vernon, president of the Ohio Council of Church Women and Rev. Harvey Hahn of Cleveland.

Attending from Plymouth were: Robert Spensler, Richard Goldsmith, Shirley Goldenrich, Janet Miller, Johnny Fetters, Ronald Muma; Mary Alice Weller, James Cunningham, Mary and Virginia Bevier, Larry and Roger Hampton, Marie and Alice Muehle, David Sams and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Sams.

ENJOY NATURE
Approximately one hundred guests from Plymouth and vicinity attended the showing of slides and movies of the great North-west taken and shown by Mr. Maurice Davis of Eatonville, Wash., Friday evening at the Methodist church. The pictures were in color and told better than words the description of nature's beauties. Flowers, wild life, scenes along highways and old trails, pictures of the Eatonville May Day in their school, etc., were all very interesting, and enjoyed by all present.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank my friends for the cards, letters, flowers and gifts received during my stay at the hospital; also to Doctors Wiedemer, Butler and Hannum, my nurses, Miss Hoover and her staff of Shelby Memorial hospital for their service and many kindnesses, all of which is greatly appreciated.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW

by Rev. L. E. Smith
Culled from the news—The Edmonson Journal reports that Cecil "Tiger" Goldstick, 11356 102nd Ave., that city, former Canadian Navy Wrestling champion, while strolling on Jasper Ave., noticed a well dressed lady tripping along with heavy black smoke pouring from her handbag. He did the right thing, caught up with her, tapped her on the shoulder and said, "Pardon me, lady but you are on fire."

"Say, are you trying to get fresh," snorted the lady, "Tiger" have it fall in the face. Smirking but undaunted, he tried again. "If you don't watch out, young man, I'll beat the daylight out of you," but this time she looked before she struck. And sure enough, her hand bag was on fire. They quelled the flames, she claiming she didn't smoke and asserting that some careless smoker must have dropped the lighted cigarette into her open purse. She apologized to "Tiger" but he, brushing apologies aside declared, "Nice right you have there lady."

"Need I make the application? Every christian, minister or layman, who has been faithful to his obligation, on seeing some one following a course of life and action that will mean "Fire" for him, or her, sooner or later, and has warned him of the final outcome of his dangerous course of action has been met with the response, "Mind your own business," "I'll take care of myself." In spite of all rebuffs his clear duty is to warn the sinner of the error of his way. Get your Bible and read the prophet Ezekiel Chap. 3:17,21.

I FOUND Mr. Emmet Tuesday afternoon hidden away in a corner of the second floor at Page's Hatters, where he was busily engaged creating stories for a radio play. Script writing is so different than news material. You first create the plot, and then put it into conversation, keeping in mind the need for sound effects and timing which radio requires.

THE MOST outstanding thing I found about Mr. Emmet is that he is not only an outstanding writer, but he is very affable and congenial, and it was a real pleasure to spend a few short minutes with him. So when you listen to the air waves and you hear Emmet Doyle's name, you'll know that he has been in our midst.

ALABAMA BOUND! That's us! Ye Olde Ed. Mrs. Thoms and Sid expect to leave Friday morning for Georgia and Alabama. We will be gone a week, and in the meantime will be thinking of our readers — if they'll really miss the Advertiser next week. We hope you do! However, we feel that we need and have earned a vacation. We might have a story of our trip if we can dig up ambition enough, which reminds me of the mail man who always takes a long walk on his vacation.

Senior Trip

The rapid ride in the elevator to the top of the Empire state building, and to add to that feeling we were surrounded by a fog of clouds, looking down to the street below through the divided moving clouds, people were like a colony of insects from the height. It was a nice feeling to get down to earth again as one's imagination doesn't close, pleasant thoughts, and too, we were told the sway of the building and not too many years ago I remember reading of the airplane that crashed into the side of the building.

However, I liked the city a lot, homeward bound was nice to think about for many reasons! The Echelberry men in Pittsburgh and took us out for a nice treat and was much appreciated.

The two cathedrals which we toured through probably impressed me most. One was located in Washington and is best known by the name Washington Cathedral. The other completed it will be the highest building in Washington since it is sitting on a hill. It is 100 feet from the floor to the ceiling. The pipe organ in this cathedral is the 3rd largest in the United States, it being a 4 manual Skinner.

The Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, which is located in New York has ceilings 145 feet high. In that Cathedral are separate chapels for people of different nationalities. The architecture of this cathedral is part Gothic and part Roman. It is said that of all the buildings in New York this one will be the only one remaining 4000 years from now.

Zeke D. collecting bus tickets after Mr. Dennis had just gotten to sleep on the bus?
—who acquired the name of Zeke?
—where was the boss the first morning?
—after hearing Lois Bright laugh so hard on the bus, Mr. Dennis asks if anyone had a basket to gather the eggs.
—Charles Hannum getting his picture taken!
—Mrs. Kautz wondering why it took six boys to bring one pair of pants down to the girls room to be pressed.
—Zeke D. being invited to the party.
—Pat Moomaw pleased as punch when she saw her family in front of the bus as we were leaving Mansfield on the way home Saturday.

—Vale Reed and Larry Schreck es- timate the bus to Plymouth on the Shelby road and Gustly Ray rear guarding. The Seniors really appreciated this. Carol Teal, Jean Carnahan and Sandra T. meeting us down at the school in Teal's new car.

—And for the serious side of the Senior trip.
The Statue of Liberty impressed me most, even though we saw it through the fog and mist. It made me think of how the D. P. and immigrants felt when they saw the Statue while coming into port. Maybe it wasn't sunny, and the sky wasn't blue, but it was a symbol of a free land.

A small group of Seniors walked down the steps of Washington's monument and I think they realize now just what was put into the building of such a masterpiece. Stones from all the states and U. S. territories were used, and also some from foreign lands. Alan Ford helped us keep our chins up by telling us we only have 420, then 360 and 250 etc., to go yet. We got to the bottom finally, but every one was tired and found it difficult to step correctly for awhile.

—Alexandria, Va., we saw the G. Washington Masonic National Memorial which is almost complete except for elevators which will go to the top. Various antique implements and furnishings of Washington's home were at the Memorial. Most wonderful of all was a beautiful Persian rug which seemed to light up from within.

The Seniors really wish to thank all who helped them make this trip possible. It was a wonderful experience.

Gerold Schneider Reports—
I would take many pages to tell of all the interesting points of our 1950 Senior trip. I would like to mention just a few of them here. Getysburg with its historic battlefields and monuments was very interesting.

In Washington there were many points of interest such as the Capital Building, White House, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, Washington's monument, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Library of Congress, Supreme Court, and the F. B. I. Building.

The changing of guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington cemetery was a very impressive sight.

In Alexandria, Va., we saw Christ Church where Washington worshipped, the George Washington Masonic National Memorial, and many other sights.

In Philadelphia the Independence Hall with its Liberty Bell was interesting to see.

In New York most interesting points were the Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building, Radio City, China Town. The views of New York from the Empire State and the R. C. A. Buildings were wonderful.

In conclusion I would like to express my sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Davis and all others who helped in any way to make this wonderful trip possible.

I had a wonderful time on the Senior trip, as our sponsors had the whole thing planned very well. One of the most interesting things for me was when the group asked me to represent them on television. We were shown around the television studios in the R. C. A. building in New York and we happened to see the Jack Burch show rehearsing for the radio program.

We enjoyed the view from the Washington monument, as it was so very interesting, and you could see out across the country and water so far. Watching the clouds and fog from the Empire State building in New York was also very new and dandy experience.

The food was very good every where and there always was plenty of it. All in all, we had a swell time, but it would have been fun to stay in New York for awhile.

WASHINGTON REPORT
BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

TWO years ago Congress extended the Selective Service Act which had been in effect during the war with some modifications. It was urged at that time that, without this draft, it would not be possible to get the men needed for the Army, Navy and Air Corps. Enlistments had fallen off greatly, primarily because of the high wages and high employment available in civilian life. I voted for the Act at that time with considerable reluctance, largely because the Republican members on the Armed Forces Committee considered it essential. Under that Act it was not necessary to draft any men, except about 30,000 late in 1948. Unquestionably, however, the Act stimulated enlistments by men who feared they might be drafted, and the Army was built up thereby and by less favorable economic conditions from 542,000 to 711,000. Recently enlistments have fallen off, again, perhaps because employment has increased, and we were requested by the Administration to renew the Act for three years. The Senate Committee approved that request.

The House has passed a bill extending the Act for two years, but provided that no one could be drafted under it until Congress passes a concurrent resolution finding that a national emergency exists which requires an increase in the armed strength of the United States. I favored the House bill, because I do not like to give the President the power to draft men into the Army.

SELECTIVE Service is the greatest potential limitation of freedom today which exists in this country. There could be no more arbitrary limit on a man's personal liberty than to take him from his education, his occupation or his family and force him to serve as a soldier against his will.

In wartime it is necessary in order to preserve the ultimate freedom of the entire Nation. In peacetime it has been an American way in the past to call for volunteers, to make the conditions attractive to volunteers, and to keep them in the service by fair and generous treatment.

THE Senate Military Affairs Committee recommended an amendment under which any drafted or any person enlisting in the Armed Forces shall be afforded an opportunity to say that he would serve only in a unit where the enlisted personnel are of his own race.

The Army has been gradually eliminating segregation between races, and this amendment attempted to check this effort. I was never willing to vote to require the Army to eliminate all segregation, because I felt that in war the commanding officers might find it necessary for military purposes to continue it, but I certainly would not vote to prevent the steady efforts toward its elimination which I hope can ultimately bring that about.

The Senate voted to eliminate the amendment and, therefore, the steady work toward the elimination of segregation can continue.
