Death Takes Lewis Gebert Following Short Illness

Last rites were held Saturday afternoon at the McQuate funeral home for Lewis Gebert, who passed away Wednesday, July 19, at the home of his son, Neal Gebert, in Barberton, Ohio. Services were conducted by Rev. Paul Mumford, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, Plymouth, and interment was made in Greenlawn cemetery. At the time of his death Mr. Gebert was 79 years, eight months and six days.

The deceased was born and raised in Plymouth, having spent his entire life in the community. In 1889 he graduated from Plymouth High School, and on the fiftieth anniversary of his graduation, he attended the Lutherian convocation, accompanied by his four children, also graduates of Plymouth High School.

For more than twenty-five years Mr. Gebert operated a grocery store in Plymouth, being located in a store room next to the Peoples National Bank. He retired around 1916 from active business and for a long number of years was employed at the Fate-Rook-Health Co. During his lifetime Mr. Gebert made a host of warm friends and acquaintances, and news of his death was received with much regret.

Mr. Gebert was civic-minded and was always interested in affairs of the community. He was active in the Lutheran church when a young man; was a member of the Masonic lodge in Plymouth and also the Knights of Pythias. Mr. Gebert had also served on the Plymouth Board of Education as clerk of the board.

During the years Mr. Gebert conducted his grocery store, he was never made public; his quiet and unassuming manner brought him many life-long customers, and his philosophy of life was one that brought to his acquaintances stores around the Square, and his acquaintances proved enjoyable and inspirational. "Louie" Gebert was never a pessimist, but rather an optimist. He had the capabilities of getting the most out of the simple things in life, and his influence as a citizen, husband and father will be greatly missed.

Mr. Gebert was survived by his wife, Carrie, in January, 1947, Mr. Gebert continued to keep up the home in a way of which any woman could be proud. He prepared his own meals and reformed his household until this year when his son Wayne and wife came to make their home with him. Seven weeks ago he went to Barberton to spend some time with his son Neal and family. It was here that he was taken ill, and death followed.

Surviving are two sisters, Misses Wilhelmina and Katherine, Gables of Plymouth; three sons, Clifford, at home; Wayne of Plymouth, and Neal of Barberton, also one daughter, Mrs. Charles Krister of Wilmington, Delaware, and three grandchildren.

The passing of Lewis Gebert removes from our midst one who re-following many important highlights in Plymouth's history, and who was an outstanding historian for the village. His absence will be missed for a long time to come, and his memory as a pioneer and person will be cherished by those who knew him best.

Jay Lasser Seriously Injured

An accident which almost cost the life of Jay Lasser, occurred on Wednesday last week, when a hay rigging pulley tore loose, striking Lasser on the forehead about an inch from the right temple. The mishap occurred at 2:30 in the afternoon. Dr. Hannum rendered medical attention. At 7:50 Wednesday night Mr. Lasser, accompanied by Dr. Butner, and his son Harold Lasser, was removed in a cloudburst, where a specialist treated the injured man. In Norwalk the ambulance ran into a cloudburst, and it was rough going almost all the way into Cleveland.

Mr. Lasser, assisted by his two sons, Dale 18, and Nyle 12, were hauling up hay into the mow when the accident happened. Dale was in the hay mow. Nyle was operating the tractor, and Mr. Lasser was on the wagon. Two or three loads had been pulled up into the mow, and the forks were loaded with an estimated 700 pounds of hay, when the eyebolt of the pulley gave great force to the pulley as it struck a distance of four feet driving Mr. Lasser on the forehead. It is believed that the pin which holds the wheel, and which Mr. Lasser, and the impact from the entire pulley drove the end of the pin into his head, as though it were a chisel, and then the impact from the pulley, acting as a sledge caused the skull to crack for an approximate three-quarters distance around the skull. The blow knocked the injured man unconscious for a short time, and it all happened so fast that it was hard for Mr. Lasser to believe he had been struck by the flying hay pulley.

Condition Improved Although he is still confined to the hospital in Cleveland, Mr. Lasser's condition Monday was reported as being very favorable. It is expected that he will be removed to his home this week-end. Mrs. Lasser is in Cleveland with her husband, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lasser are staying at the home of his parents, assisting in the house and farm work.

The Lasser's reside about three and one-half miles east of Shiloh on the Noble road.

Young People Conduct Services At Church

The Methodist young people who recently attended the Youth Fellowship Institute at Lakeside, gave their verbal reports to the Church at the Sunday morning before service. The reports were well prepared and given by five of the six MYF members who spent the week at the Lake. Constance, Hannum, Marilyn Chessman, Emily, and Leonard Smith and Charles Hannum, Jr. Marilyn Chessman and Barbara Fox sang a very pleasing duet, and it was fitting that on this Sunday, Mr. McQuate and Deryl Ream joined the Methodist church and were welcomed into the local membership. Rev. Smith also conducted the baptismal rites for Bonnie Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brooks.

Mrs. Earl Sheely fell down the basement stairs Monday, and is now confined to her room.

Big Attendance At Children's Circus

PLAY-MATE CLUB PLAN AND PRODUCE CIRCUS FOR FOLIO FUNDS.

There ARE some good people still around in this tired old World and it does our morale good to be able to send this story on to you who so kindly follow the news of Plymouth through these columns. "Did you know there was a Circus in town?" The title followed. The "Play-Mate Club made $9.05 on a circus held at 25 Bell St. on Saturday, July 22."

(The circus was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hutzwick and the children of the Club worked very hard to prepare for this event which was well advertised by the club members and by the little paper "News Interest For Children," published by Jack McQuate.)

"All members were present except Marjorie, Doreen, Willard and Jack Webber. The games played were "Crab Racers," "Spinner" and they had a "Fish Pond." The cats were cookies, Kool-Aid cut paper puppets and there were also auto rides, a "fun house" and a "side show." There were thirty or more people who attended the circus."

(This is an important part, friends—take note!) "All proceeds will be used to help children who have 'Polio.' (Isn't that a recent letter to another mother Jack wrote? 'I haven't been able to visit you until now since we left Camp Hokota. I suppose you know we are in Korea, but I can't tell you where. I can't tear our guns firing at the enemy. They have been firing pretty steadily the last three days and nights. We had only one week of rest. I have been a two-year enlistee who was due out next January. Lt. Kenneth Troxell also is believed in Korea. He is a World War II veteran and has served 18 months of his two-year enlistment. Others from Shelby are Pvt. Leo Allen Palmer, 19, Pvt. Barton Smith, 17, Gerald Bendle and Sgt. Stanton Jones.

Policeman Bob Meiser Wrecks Car

Chief of Police Meiser narrowly escaped serious injury a little after midnight Tuesday when his Chevrolet Coupe turned over on the Plymouth East Road and pinned him between the seat and the steering wheel and knocking him unconscious. Both the front and rear wheels of the car were damaged and Mr. Meiser received a torn cartilage and severe bruises and bumps.

The accident occurred when Meiser was chasing a Buick car for speeding 65 miles an hour down Sandusky Street and not paying the toll. Meiser did not report the car for a sudden end and skidded 175 feet turning the car completely over. By the time Meiser got himself free from the car, the Buick had disappeared. He is now being assisted by Lawrence Silliman home for assistance. Mr. Silliman helped him right the car but it wasn't until Wednesday morning Mr. Meiser discovered that the Buick was driver of the car he was chasing. He and his companion Max Fidler were ordered to appear on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for hearing before Mayor Briggs. Admitting that he knew he was being chased by Meiser, the charges were excessive speeding and resisting an officer.

The young man had been over at Don's Grill and was heard to make the remark that they intended to "highball" it out of town. Meiser was on the square ready to go home when the young man turned at the dummy at excessive speed and he immediately took after them.

Meiser car was taken to Willard by the Gutrie Wrecker for repairs Wednesday morning. ANOTHER CHASE Returning to town after the accident Meiser saw a red light and was advised by Mansfield police to be on the look-out for a Buick car that was wanted since last Wednesday evening in an attempt to operate the car. Willard youth and two Shelby 17 year old girls.

The Willard youths were reported taking the car to the Shelby police and back to the teen. One of the girl's mother advised Shelby police and with the cooperation of the Willard police and Chief of Police Meiser saw the red light and the shack but the boys and girls had gone. The car was later found in Ganges and the girls had returned to their home, however, the boys were never apprehended.

When Meiser was advised to be on the look-out for the Buick, he reported he had already tangled with the car that evening and came out "second best," but it wasn't the one the Mansfield police were looking for.

"I can't tear our guns firing at the enemy. They have been firing pretty steadily the last three days and nights. We had only one week of rest. I have been a two-year enlistee who was due out next January. Lt. Kenneth Troxell also is believed in Korea. He is a World War II veteran and has served 18 months of his two-year enlistment. ### Spino Put On 5-Year Probation

Judgment of the case of Michael Spino of Cleveland, charged with second degree manslaughter in the traffic death of Walter Lehman of Shelby on July 6, 1949, was entered on the Common Pleas court journal last week.

Spino was put on five years probation and denied the right to drive for three years last Oct. 12 when he appeared before Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch. Judge Kalbfleisch said the journal entry represented settlement of common law and personal damages which Spino agreed to pay.

Spino was probated to Ralph Hughes of the Common Pleas Court and to the Cleveland probation department.

Lehman, a Franklin township farmer, was killed and seven others injured on July 6 last year when Lehman's truck was struck by the Spino car at the Plymouth-Springmill and Updike roads, two miles south of Plymouth. Witnesses to the accident said Spino failed to stop for a stop sign at the intersection. Spino and all six of the children riding with him were injured.

Judge Kalbfleisch said settlement of claims by Lehman heirs, in addition to funeral expenses and property damages was made by a journal entry as made. Spino agreed to pay all expenses and claims.

AROUND THE SQUARE

By Phineas Whittlessee

TWO NEW smiling faces appeared in two different business establishments here last week. Mrs. Nor Lou (Ford) VanderBill began as a clerk in the Suttles Super Market, and Mrs. Wm. (Lois Suttles) Lawrence, took over the room full of people, and she will drive a car, and she will satisfy with their new jobs, and wish them the best of luck!

BOB MARTIN and Albert (Junior) Marvin took off Saturday night for a two-weeks trip to the South. They'll hit Florida and expect to pay a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rule, former Plymouth residents. I'm inclined to believe that Junior will be amazed at the beautiful herds of beef cattle — not saying anything about the watermelons, citrus fruit nor those southern belles. Bob just loves to drive a car, and that will no doubt be his main enjoyment. We'll wait and hear their story, though.

TOM DEWITT and Don Fetters have been giving us some real entertainment this summer. There is always an interested audience, and for those who attend we take this opportunity to say "thank you" for them.

WHEN we observed 'Doc' Hannum's office all lighted up last Thursday night at 11 o'clock, with their appetites. An investigation certain that there had been a terrible accident. However, it turned out that Johnny Gilger was just placing new linoleum on the office floor.

PLYMOUTH people who enjoy good food will have a couple of opportunities this week to really satisfy their appetites. An ice cream social will be held at Delphi Friday night, and the Methodist church at Shiloh is staging one on Saturday night. We're planning on attending both of them, that is if we don't overeat Friday night. Both events are for good causes and the folks will appreciate your presence.

WITH RUNS being made on sugar, and footdusts, Agriculture Department officials are smiling widely over the following rumor that has been circulating because of this explanation for buying two large orders of sugar: "I'm just trying to get some before the hoarders buy it all."

BRITISH NEWSPAPERS told their readers this week that the four-page papers of World War II are, and will be, because of a newspaper shortage. They now publish six and eight page editions on alternate days. With the price of newspaper high again, they'll be able to be able to buy four pages for papers.

THE 564 QUESTION this week is asked by Harold Dietrich, who operates Lofland's Dairy. Mr. Dietrich would like to know what becomes of all the milk bottles. Of course the dairy doesn't like to allow you make any more bottles, as they cost so much money. There are so many people who find so many uses for bottles, that it has caused a shortage at the dairy, and Mr. Dietrich would appreciate it very much if housewives would cultivate the habit of placing them out each delivery morning.

THERE ISN'T GOING TO be any mud going in or coming out of the Methodist church anymore. For years there has been mud on the edge of the roadway and the sidewalk which has made it difficult to get over without taking on a supply of dirt, especially in the spring and fall when it rains. So a group of youngsters and oldsters were at work Tuesday afternoon doing a little excavating, smoothing up the sidewalk and then putting several inches of crushed stone over the dirt area. It's needless to say that there are some who felt the exercise awkward, but we'll let you guess what they are. The men of the church who donated their time and ran a risk of receiving sore muscles included Roger Ross, Ottis Downend, B. R.

PERHAPS YOU can figure it a little different, but off-hand I'd say it's one out of a million who's father and son hit the jackpot at the same event. Anyway, Don Markley was a very lucky young man at the ox roast last Sunday staged by the Plymouth Firemen and Police. Young Markley was right on the ball when his name was called for the $100 pot, and a few minutes later his father, Elmer Markley, was called as the winner of the $50 cash prize. Don's $100 comes at the opportune time for his young son has been in the hospital for an operation. Elmer says he's about even with the ox roast affairs. At the Shiloh ox roast staged a few years ago, he had his pockets picked and he was the loser. The cash award given him Sunday about makes up for his loss.

Editor Overeats, Oversleeps During Visit In Atlanta

We left Cave City about noon Saturday and headed the old Ford to Murfreesboro, Tenn. This town had the reputation in the south at this time for being the most center, but we didn't see any of the "critters." I think they're all out in Missouri now, with a possible exception of a few scattered species. At Murfreesboro we found ourselves exactly 105 miles from Chattanooga, Tenn. We checked our time and scheduled our arrival in Chattanooga around 7:30 Sunday morning. However, due to such a stretch of exceptionally fine road, we came into Chattanooga at 7:15. The ride from Murfreesboro was a grand one. To our left we enjoyed the beauty of the Cumberland foothills and to our right we looked across miles of grazing lands. On the way down from Murfreesboro to Chattanooga, a continuous stream of traffic heading north into the mountain regions, and truckload after truckload of watermelons were on their way to northern markets. We had to cross only one mountain before coming into Chattanooga, and as our car had been on the road for a few hours and the intense heat from the sun, the motor heated a trill. We stopped at the top of the "hill" and cooled off for a few minutes.

As we started down the mountain, the cool air from Chattanooga could be felt. The distance, including the location of Rock City. I remarked to Mrs. Thomas that it always seems we arrive in Chattanooga too late to take a convenient Sunday afternoon, so we passed up the opportunity of going atop and looking up the Myers family, although we thought of them.

It's strange how hunger attacks one's stomach while on vacation, and especially after riding several hours. Even the vacant spot in front of my mouth caused by the absence of one of our teeth seemed to be peeling out in anguished hunger pains. So we began search for a place to eat, winding up in a cafeteria which proved to be a very nice one. Now don't you all laugh, for on the menu I found "turnip greens" and "butter beans," and as Phil Harris says, "That's what I like about the South." Mrs. Thomas and Sid stuck to the conventional food, but I really never tasted such wonderful turnip greens. Of course I didn't make an entire meal of them, but I had fish, corn bread, tomatoes, etc. But I still like my greens.

It was 8:30 when we finished dinner, and we had a hundred miles to go before reaching Atlanta. We decided to drive a while, so that if we wanted to sleep in a little late Sunday morning, we wouldn't be crowded for time. Taking U. S. 41 out of Chattanooga we again found the flow of traffic continuous. Sid marvelled at the number of hamburger joints, melon stands, cabins, etc. It was simply a midway from Chattanooga on down to Jones Courts. Last year we looked for the same place, but being fearful that it had changed hands, we stopped at another place. The next morning we discovered the courts about two miles down the road. So Saturday night we kept going until we came to them. On our first visit, we became acquainted with the elder Jones and he told us of his plans for completing the courts. They are very modern in every way. The garage is attached to the room, and each room has shower, lavatory and toilet facilities, and the best bed you ever slept in.

When we pulled up Saturday night about 10:00 o'clock, we were greeted by Mr. Jones. We were very lucky in securing two private rooms together, with all facilities. We inquired of the elder Jones, and we were told that he celebrated his 88th birthday last Thursday and that he had just arrived home by bus from Jacksonville, Fla.

If any of our readers, who contemplate going to Florida this Fall or after Christmas, and wish an exceptional place to stay, it might be well to take the address down for future reference: Jones Court, R. F. D. 4, Cartersville, Ga. The courts are located six miles north of Cartersville on U. S. 41 (the Dixie Highway). If you forget to write for reservations, you may call a few hours before checking in, and your room will be reserved. We paid $3.00 per couple. Four people for six dollars. The courts are surrounded by all kinds of natural flowers, shrubs and lilies. They're well kept, and we know you'll enjoy stopping.

It's a little difficult to describe the welcome we received Sunday morning when we arrived at my sister's home. After a few embraces and "glad to see you" I made my way to the kitchen. The time was a little after 10 in the morning. I checked my appetite as I found "Minnie," my sister's faithful cook and housemaid, standing over a frying pan full of chicken, testing the rice, and mixing the biscuits. It wasn't but seconds before I spied a basket of peaches, and I knew that there was danger of ruining a perfectly wonderful appetite. But I couldn't resist the eye appeal and the aroma of tree-ripened Georgia peaches and I consumed one of the large luscious fruit before I realized that it was only minutes before dinner was to be served. It's very foolish for me to say that I didn't overeat, but I came out very comfortably. After eating I excused myself and took a two hour nap. Isn't that what you'd call vacationing?

My nephew, who travels as a bank examiner over the South, was home for the week-end, and he was delighted to have the opportunity to spend some time with Sid. They are about the same age. After they had been all Sunday afternoon, they came home about 5:30 with two "Georgia peaches" and an ice cold watermelon. A convenient table was in the backyard, and we performed some work on the melon. Mrs. Thomas had to admit this was a REAL GOOD Georgia melon, for it was sugar coated and juicy. We acted ideal for using a knife. The girls, or should I say Georgians, do not use utensils of any kind. We had lots of fun, and to prove the story, I made a couple of pictures. The melon cutting almost wound up our Sunday entertainment, but for the fact my nephew had to report for work in Birmingham at 8:30 Monday morning.

We Visit the Airport
About the only way he could gain a few hours to spend with us was to cancel his auto trip with his co-worker Sunday afternoon and take a plane instead. His flight was due out of Atlanta at 3:30 a. m. Sunday arriving in Birmingham forty minutes later. We slept an hour, and then found ourselves on the way to the airport, which is located across town. At 3:15 A. M. Monday there was about as much air travel going on as any week-day train travel at the Union Station in Cleveland. It was really an experience to see the planes coming in an taking off for various ports in the country at that hour of the morning. Of course, the holiday had something to do with the increase in air traffic, and I don't know but what at this time air travel was much safer than the auto. We came back home and stole a few hours sleep. Monday found Sid seeing the town, and ing as "Gone With the Wind". Incidentally, last night I stopped at the fatal spot where Margaret Mitchell was killed by an auto last year.

Henry King is directing the picture, which will be released under 20th Century Fox banner. It will have its premier showing here in Atlanta at the Fox theater on Thanksgiving Day. For the past three months movie stars and caravans of equipment from Hollywood have been in these Georgia hills filming scenes in their natural habitat, which includes the emerald foliage of trees and shrubs, with a background of real red Georgia clay and dust, and as the film is in technicolor, you'll admire the contrasting effect. Hollywood celebrities who are working on the picture include Susan Hayward, Bill Lundigan, Gene Lockhart, Frank Tweddell and Lynn Bari. "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain" will no doubt be a strong contender as an Academy Award winner. Cost of the film will run well over a million dollars, and from what we hear, it's going to pack theaters all over the country. I'd like to tell you a little more about the story, but we'll let you enjoy it this Fall by keeping away all themes and plots.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of our vacation trip. The third will appear next week.

Philip Sporn Power Plant Dedicated Today

The Philip Sporn steam-electric generating plant at Graham, W. Va., shown in the aerial photo above, was dedicated to public service today in a ceremony attended by more than 500 guests.

Okey L. Patteson, governor of West Virginia, and Philip Sporn, president of the American Gas & Electric Co., for whom the plant is named, were to deliver addresses. Officials of government, civic and educational groups and industry attended from Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

On Saturday and Sunday, The Ohio Power Co. will hold "open house" when it invites its customers and employees to visit the plant. On these days, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 4 p. m., the plant will be open for public inspection. Guides will conduct visitors through the plant.

At present the plant has 300,000 kilowatts in operation. Two additional units that will add another 300,000 kilowatts are under operation. The plant is designed for an ultimate capacity of close to a million kilowatts, which will make it one of the world's largest steam-electric generating stations.

Approximately 40 mothers and friends of the Girl Scouts attended Open House at the Girl Scout Little House at Seltzer park, Shelby, Friday afternoon, closing Camp Zorayda for 1950.

The swimming badges were presented to those girls who met the necessary requirements.

The camp was impressively closed by lowering the flag, folding it up properly and putting it away in the Little House.

WHEAT DISEASE IN HURON COUNTY

John Wells, County Agricultural Agent, reported today that several wheat fields are infested with glume blotch. This disease can be identified by the dark patches of wheat and the shriveled grain in the heads. The straw is usually a darker color than normal, healthy grain.

B. F. Jansen, Extension Plant Pathologist at Ohio State University, stated that wheat infested with glume blotch should be treated before using for seed. The shriveled kernels should be cleaned out before treating. This disease is typical just in the northern part of Ohio this year.

Some traces of scab have also been found in field infested with glume blotch. Scab in most fields, however, took over after the infestation of glume blotch.
