ARE THE SQUARE

By Phineas Whittlesloe
WE HAD A nice letter this week from L. Z. Davis, who used to see us "around the Square", but who now lives out in Washington (ita with his son) family.

REMEMBER

REMEMBER someone ago—it was during the winter months—we quoted Joe Bevier as writing from California about all their nice sunshine and commiserating with us on all our bad weather? Well, now we have a rebuttal, thanks to A. F. Fisher, who sends a letter of just one line—"Dear Sir: Don't let Joe line you. (Signed) Respectfully yours—" Along with it came a picture of a resident of Donner Summit, Calif., who lives in the 3200 inches of snow piled up against his house. Yea, boy, that's correct, 3200 inches, and it isn't artificial snow, either. It was well up to the third floor of the house. In all honesty, though, we have to acknowledge that Donner Summit is pretty high up in the mountains and not down where Joe is located.

REMEMBER

NOW We know that Spring is here for sure. Driving along one of those back roads over the muckland on Sunday afternoon we happened to look westward and there was the sea of white paper beginning to take over the hills. The newly planted rows of celery at Celeryville. Brother, that was a wonderful sight. Gives you a feeling that in spite of Korea and high fuel prices, the Spring are still with us and we're going right ahead the best we can. It just happened that at the time we were out on the mucklands the sun was shining in the west (one of the two times it did show its face on Easter) but the southern and eastern sky was filled with a grey-blue clouds. The rays of the sun were shining "they" used to tell me, were centered over the little community of Celeryville, and over the tall church spire, and then they started down towards north and south, like a benediction. It was like an "Amen" at the end of the Easter Sunday.

THIS IS AN

THIS IS AN after-Easter thought. But I don't know the Leonard Smith and the group of young singers in the Methodist choir, are doing an exceptional job of giving fine music to the singing services? Mrs. Willard Ross is organist for the choir group. Those who have heard them have been surprised by the sound of their choice of another and the excellent work they are sung and directed Leonard is a senior in Plymouth high this year and holds down another part-time job, besides his work as choir director, so let's give him commendation for his ambition and talent. The good Lord willing, this young man will make a name for himself someday in the music world, as he is an organist of ability.

For it hurt me, actually,

In the summertime at night,
We play hide and seek,
Sometimes we hide behind the trees
Where we can easily peep.

If we peck too often,
Sometimes we are caught,
Then we take our turns at "it,"

SENIOR NAMED 90 YEARS AGO

Mr. L. D. Wolfersberger, whose hobby is collecting envelopes mailed before or during the Civil War, has in his possession a letter written by a Major Steels to his (the Major's) father, and we are indebted to Mr. Wolfersberger in being privileged to see and read the letter, and will quote a few sentences.

Headed, "Field of Shiloh, Tenn." the letter is dated April 14th, 1862, and reads in part: "Was in the thickest of the fight last Monday but was not injured to any extent. Was in command of the largest Company, 54 men; of these four are dead, 14 wounded; this in a space of 25 minutes. Halleck is here. Buell was this field. Grant is a poor institution—reckless of life so that his own ambition is gratified. He was whipped last Sunday, worst kind, and so the people will understand it ere long."

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Baker and family of Mansfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Brumbaugh and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McQuate visited at the Joe McQuate home in Lexington Sunday afternoon.

F. N. Richard A. Reynolds came home Friday night, and returned early Sunday morning to the Naval Air station at Memphis, Tenn., where he is stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Forquer & family of Chicago, Ill., spent the Easter holidays at the William Forquer and C. L. Bloom homes, and with other relatives in this vicinity, returning to Chicago on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Fair of Mansfield, and Mrs. Arthur Kayser and son Dean of Vermilion spent Easter Day with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kester.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Baker and family of Mansfield spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Wesley Baker.

Miss Mamie Piotts attended the wedding of Miss Bernice Louise Henry to Mr. John J. Thomas, which was solemnized last Thursday evening at the home of Lee Henry, Sr., in Oliveburg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Firestone and family visited relatives in Cleveland over the weekend. Mrs. Firestone's niece, Beth Warden, returned home with them to visit for several days.

Janet Baker spent Friday night and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Baker in Tiro.

HERE IS HISTORY WRITTEN BY ONE WHO HELPED MAKE IT

Now a little of the history of Shiloh and how it came to be named. From "The Shiloh Review" dated April 20, 1906, we read:

The Shiloh postoffice was moved here from Richland (Planktown) about 1852. It retained the name of Richland postoffice about ten years, until the name of the town was changed from Salem to Shiloh, since which time it has been called Shiloh Postoffice.

Mr. Wolfersberger has in his collection an envelope showing Shiloh's postmark and cancellation of 1862, the first year of its use. Since there were several towns in Ohio named Salem, as our village was first called, our first citizens held a meeting to take action on renaming the town. About this time news was received of the Union Army's great victory, and it was for this battle on the Field of Shiloh, Tenn., that Shiloh, Ohio was named, just 90 years ago.

SPORT VIEWS
The Plymouth Hi baseball team dropped their second game of the season to Lexington 12-6. Tom Meiser started for the Pilgrims, but could not find the plate. Larry Root followed Meiser and he was followed by Tom Rhine. Joe "Mose" has rounded into a very good outfielder and a good hitter. Either Rhine or Root will be on the mound for the game with Tiro Friday at Tiro.

The Plymouth Athletic Banquet is scheduled for the 17th of this month. The guest speaker will be Harold Anderson, basketball coach at Bowling Green State university.

The High School baseball team seems to lack the spirit of a good team. If the chatter in the field would continue it would give the players more self confidence and would insure a better team.

LIQUID AIR PROGRAM
Thursday morning, Mr. James Elliot of Bowling Green, Ky., showed the students of Plymouth many uses of liquid air. The program began with an explanation of liquid air. Following his explanation, he showed how a number of things are done with the air and showed how the pressure from the liquid air would blow the top off of a closed container. He made a model airplane fly by putting liquid air in the motor of the plane.

The program was very interesting and was enjoyed by all the students.

We also had a movie this week which was on Tuesday. The movie "Garage of the Sun" was a film on the field of California.

You can always see her leading our team in basketball and football for she has been a cheerleader for the past two years. Can you guess who she is? Write: Mystery Reporter.

CHRYSLER EXHIBIT REVEALS MODERN CAR ACHIEVEMENTS

A living behind-the-scenes story of the fascinating engineering developments of the modern automobile will be presented by the Chrysler Corporation April 23 through May 11 at the Cleveland Sports Arena.

The announcement of the show was made by James C. Zeder, vice president and director of engineering and research. More than 3,500,000 persons have inspected Chrysler Corporation's "New Worlds in Engineering" show in New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, Dallas, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Kansas City and Detroit in the ten months that the exhibition has toured the country. During that time it has been visited by numerous engineering technical school and college and university groups, in addition to motorists who want to know what makes their cars tick.

In addition to more than 70 moving models and demonstrations, the show will demonstrate what has made Chrysler Corporation vehicles safer, more dependable and more comfortable. Mr. Zeder said, "Highlights of the 'New Worlds in Engineering' show will be Maxine Reean, a member of the Chrysler Styling Studio who will present a glimpse into the styling of cars as she sketches models of the future. Close to her will be a study of fabrics and possible chrome substitutes which must be considered for a future car.

As a special feature saluting Cleveland's Parade of Progress, the Chrysler Corporation will present the latest in experimental dream cars.

Getting into the engineering which is being done in the auto industry today, there is a model showing how engine experimental work starts with a single cylinder machine. Visitors will actually be able to see how combustion heat, for instance, is measured.

They also will see a cut-away model of the most advanced automobile engine now being offered in the United States. Delivering 180 horsepower and with a type of combustion chamber never before offered on volume produced American passenger cars, it is setting new standards of performance and efficiency.

An operating cut-away model of the world's only completely electric window lift which has opened and closed over half-a-million times without failure will be seen. Also shown is a demonstration in which water is splashed over the modern engine without any noticeable effect on its operation.

Power-steering—the new miracle way to steer—is available for inspection and the visitors can not only see actual cut-away models and demonstrations of what power steering is, but can operate the device and feel how the heaviest car can be turned even at a standstill with only the slight pressure of one finger.

Departing a little from the regular automotive field, there is also a demonstration of the very latest development in railroad and truck riding ease. This is achieved through the design of new types of springing and balancing worked out by Chrysler engineers.

To fire the imagination of the visitor there is a panel demonstration of the design of a microprojector which can produce magnifications up to 100,000 to one. By use of this device, the actual structure of many kinds of material can be studied in minute detail. For instance, the diameter of the head of an ordinary pin under this microscope, if all of it could be seen at one time, would be eleven yards longer than a regulation football field.

The show is open to the public from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily except Mondays, through May 11 at no admission charge.

Variety Show at Rural Life Center in Mansfield

The second Annual Variety Show of the Richland Rural Life Center will be presented April 18th at 8 p. m. in the Mansfield Senior High School Auditorium.

The show is being sponsored by The Ways and Means Committee to raise funds for the current year and improving the Life Center. The show has a great line-up of talent—instrumental numbers, singing, dancing, magician and comedies.

Tickets are available at the Richland Trust Bank, the Extension office at the Mansfield Court House, all Farm Bureau Co-Op branches and from the director of each township.

Minor Accident
A minor accident occurred last Monday on Trux Street when a 1951 DeSoto car, driven by Dwight Ertzler, R.D. 7, Belleville was struck from the rear by Mrs. Helen Myers of R.F.D. 1, North Fairfield driving a 1951 Kaiser. Scout Hut Broken Into "Funny Books" were the downfall of three local youths when they broke into the addition to the Scout Hut at the Mary Fate Park sometime over the weekend.

Girl Scout leaders reported Monday when they went to the Hut for a meeting that the addition was broken into and papers that had been stored there since the last paper collection strewn knee deep over the floor.

The youths were apprehended on Monday who stated they were members of "Funny Books" and after being lectured by Police Chief Mesner were ordered to pick up the papers and the items into bundles. This order wasn't in the funny books.
