R. I. A. L. Campaign Opens in Plymouth

The Religion In America Life campaign was opened in Plymouth with a proclamation by Mayor Glenn West calling on local residents to observe November as a month for deepening the religious life of the community with every attending worship services.

Many community business firms are sponsoring the program in a community-wide program of activities throughout the month to encourage attendance and interest for local churches.

The campaign is being conducted by a committee headed by Francis Miller, Royal Eckstein, and Ben Smith representing the three Protestant churches.

All campaign efforts will be directed towards encouraging parents to share with their children the regular attendance at the worship services of their choice. This goal is stressed in the campaign theme: "Fit Their Lives To Worship This Week."

It's The Unusual

Effective Monday, November 2nd, the Plymouth Drive-in Theatre will operate only week ends, Friday, Saturday and Sunday until further announcement. They will be open seven days a week for the past 17 years, and considering the late start they got and having to begin from "scratch" with building operations, it's unduly in what's known as the "unusual."

Up in Wharton's Plumbing Shop window, there are two nice displays. One is a clump of peanut butter, and the other is a box of Merton Kessler. Some of our younger generation might think you pick them off the vines instead of digging them up, so here's the "real McCoy" for those who may wish to see them — it's unusual.

The other display in the same window was four nice long ears of corn, grown by Kenneth Harg, of Shelby Route, and are flanked by several nice pumpkins which will be the window that Halloween "look."

Over in Hatch's window, Plymouth's Homecoming and Crowning of the Queen is the place tonight (Thursday), is portrayed. There's the High School colors, red and white, the megaphone with ribbon, the red and white gowned attendants, the football and trophies in one window while in the opposite window the queen herself. A magnificent gowned manikin in gold metallic brocade with her tiara of brilliant and scepter in hand, the year book with golden edges, more trophies and a miniature football. This is a nice compliment to this year's Queen, Miss Shirley Bradford and her attendants — it's unusual.

In Robby's window, a miniature Football Queen holds court, centered between the gaily bedecked football posts and a miniature football on the line — at Don's Grill, their window tells the world that Halloween is just around the corner. It's a nice compliment to this year's Queen, Miss Shirley Bradford and her attendants — it's unusual.

Other windows in town have messages of various kinds, mostly good news and a miniature football, but to be truthful, we didn't read a mean or vicious message — that's unusual and we hope they keep it so.

PLYMOUTH BAND RECEIVES BONUS

Fine Work and Music Brings Results For School Band This Year

Congratulations to the Plymouth School Band and its instructor, Mr. Dubbert! That extra practice, work and interest that the students and instructor have been giving to the band has been paying dividends, and the public joins the press in commending them.

A letter has been received by Mr. Dubbert and the school from the Huron County Fair Board very highly commending the School Band for its performance at the Fair this year. They stated that they were very much impressed with the band music and also with the theme which they used, "A Visit To The County Fair." Further, it was evident that much thought and time had been given to the preparation for the appearance at the Fair.

The local school band was given a hearty invitation to appear again for the 1954 County Fair.

Band Received

The Fair Board expressed their appreciation with more than just words this time. A nice bonus check was sent to the Band, over what they were to receive for the appearance before the grandstand, and it was much appreciated and welcome. So you see, effort and work does pay off!

FOOTBALL SEASON

The Band this year has made every football game, at home and away, and has featured a half-time show at every game. The show and music at the half-time periods of the games have brought the band a big hand every time, have spontaneously told them how good they were.

Patriotic Theme

If you missed the last home football game, you really missed a fine band show at the half. They had the Patriotic theme for both music and formations, "A Letter To The American Public." The Band was led on the field by the school musicians dressed in authentic costumes (complete with mercurochrome blood) of the good old Spirit of '76. Better than most versions of the old Spirit, they one really played as well as marched.

The first formation was the Liberty Bell, which the galls to arms cracked, but which still rings more loudly around the world than any other bell ever cast.

The Anchor was next, in honor of the sailors, and the military display was "The American Sailor."

The high spot of the show form was the new formation given with the help of the Scouts who after the field was darkened, were spotlighted as they appeared as the Liberty Bell, which the galls to arms cracked, but which still rings more loudly around the world than any other bell ever cast.

Will Crown Queen Tonight

Plans for a grand homecoming are being completed by the variety club, cheerleaders, and sponsors. Mr. and Mrs. Kreuzfeld. The Queen and her attendants will be escorted to the football field prior to the kick-off, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Queen, Shirley Bradford, will be crowned at half-time ceremonies. The attendants, Marsha McGregor, Carol Evans, Pearl Lucas, and Harriet Ray will assist in the festive ceremonies.

Following the game, the homecoming dance will be held in the gaily decorated auditorium. Lanny Gooding's orchestra will provide the music and the Queen, the attendants and the cheer leaders will be introduced.

A program will be presented in honor of the Queen Admission for the program and dance is 50c.

WE'RE DOWN — BUT NOT OUT

The Advertiser comes to you this week through the courtesy of the physical strength of the publisher of The New London Record, "Betsy Loud," that's our OLD press way down in the basement, finally gave up the ghost. Just when we were ready to print this week's edition, and so we had to take our type down to the New London Record and get them printed on paper.

It's been a lot of work this week to get the sheet to you on Thursday, and we won't make any promises for next week's paper as to being on time. However, we HOPE, through the courtesy of the management at the Fate - Root - Heath Co., and the employees, we will have a special sprocket wheel that will once more make Betty Lou go round and round.

There has been quite a race here at the Advertiser for the past few years, between the physical strength of the publisher and durability of iron and steel, and this week we think we won the race. At least we're still going.

Mrs. Martha Schrock Alfrey has accepted a position at the Shelby Mutual Casualty Company and will begin on her new duties Monday. At present she is clerking at Hight's Dress Shop and will continue on Wednesday nights and Saturdays.

Voters To Select Village Officials Next Tuesday

With an election coming up next Tuesday, Nov. 3, Plymouth voters will have several important decisions to make. First on the list will be the choice of mayor for which there are three candidates, Dallas Reed, Harry Vandervort, and the present incumbent, Glenn West.

Officials there is only one candidate for council and the name Omar Burkett will be the only one appearing on the ballot. This means that there will have to be five "write-ins" for the five vacancies on council. There is every reason to believe that each candidate for mayor will have in circulation a suggested list of candidates for council to be written in on election day. Those councilmen who are retiring from office on January 1 include J. Ben Smith, Lawrence Cornell, Thomas Root, Royal Eckstein and Jerry Cayton. Burkett is the present member of council and is up for re-election.

Francis Burrer and Don Levering are the two candidates for the Board of Public Affairs, and this leaves one vacancy to be written in. Burrer, Earl McQuate and P. W. Thomas are present board members.

There are three members to be elected to the Plymouth school board. The present board is made up of Cashman, president; John F. Root, Paul Stookey, Elmer Cheesman and John Heibig. Heibig and Cheesman remain on the board while Cashman, Root and Stookey go off. Only Cashman is running for re-election.

There are four candidates out for this office with three to be chosen. They are: Harold Cashman, David E. Cook, D. G. Cunningham, and Judson A. Morrison. All candidates are well-known to Plymouth voters.

In the line-up for New Haven township trustees, Wm. Link is a candidate for this office, but there are two to be elected, and so there must be a write-in at next Tuesday's election.

In Plymouth township there are two to be elected and candidates for this office are: Virgil C. Baird and Floyd E. Steele. Sam Cashman, present incumbent, carries over, as well as Raymond Brook, who is clerk.

Candidates for the Richland County Board of Education are: Emery C. Culler, Lester G. Lantz, and Helen Wilson. Three are to be elected to the board.

About the most important item to be voted on at next Tuesday's election will be the one mill levy. While this appears on the ballot as indicating its use to be for general operating purpose, Mayor Glenn West points out that in reality the one mill levy is for the maintenance and operation of Greenlawn cemetery.

An extra levy has been necessary for the past 10 or 12 years to maintain Greenlawn, and has expired last year. Continued high prices for material and equipment plus increased labor charges, it is estimated, will require an extra levy to be increased revenue to maintain Greenlawn in its present condition. There is little doubt but what the extra levy will be needed in the past years, it means that Plymouth can well be proud of its beautiful cemetery.

ABOUT THE SQUARE

By Phineas Whitlcock

COOPERATION IS a wonderful thing, especially when there's a water shortage. Supt. Lincoln Sprowles tells me that before the trouble with the village was using around 160,000 gallons daily. With an appeal from the Board of Public Affairs to conserve water, the town is now consuming an average of 60,000 gallons daily. The wells are still holding, but the light rains have had no effect on them. So everyone is asked to continue on water rations.

SHOOTING LIGHT bulbs might be fun for the pranksters, but it's costly to the village. Reports came in Wednesday that several street lights were shot out. Chief Bob Meiser is on the trail, and if the culprit are caught, it's going to be too bad.

LOOKS LIKE we're going to have to go to church Sunday, if we believe in advertising, and which we do. At any rate, the business firms in Plymouth are to be commended for their cooperation in sponsoring the "Go-to-Church" campaign in this issue. The campaign will continue through November, and it is possible that you may like church better than you are. I'm talking to those fellows who don't go any more often than I do. I read the ad, and why don't you — sounds pretty good.

PERHAPS Roscoe Hutchinson should have gone to church last Sunday with the Hutchinsons, instead he rolled out of an old 1936 model car out of the barn which he has been wanting to make into a roadster. He was driving the car over, lit the welding torch and started to work, but instead flames enveloped the car. He managed to get away from nearby buildings, and called the local fire department. It is presumed that the fire started from gasoline which leaked out of the gas tank.

ADDITIONAL LOCK boxes have been installed at the local post office. Postmaster Claude Sourin says that the boxes are available now, and those wishing lock boxes may make application to the post office. Don Eitel and Jim Cunningham showed the new section of boxes into place Monday, and with a little finishing touch the new section will be ready for use this week.

CAMERA FANS in Plymouth and vicinity will be interested to hear that Messrs. Theby and ten photographic Christmas Cards for only 50c. This special offer is made available through Belle Wagoner, of Greenlawn, and has expired last year. We Hear From Our Subscribers

Returns to Shelby
Mrs. Ida Fenner who spent a pleasant summer at High Point, N. C., has returned to her home in Shelby. Mrs. Fenner states the Advertiser came regularly on Saturday morning and she thoroughly enjoyed it.

It's Dry Out West
Too, Says Ed
We think it's dry in Plymouth, but it's just plain dust out West, according to a note from Ed Phillips who is spending sometime at Wilcox, Arizona.

Ed says reading the Advertiser is like a letter from home, and writes "I am sorry to hear the water is getting low, but expected it before this as the supply is like a giant big bowl and had dropped 9 1/2 feet before I left the job 12 years ago."

"I am feeling fine, keep on the go most all the time. You think you have dry weather there. There has not been any rain here since the first part of July and we never have any dew at any time."

"Our water comes out from under the Rockies and most of it is way down. I went to Safford last Sunday and up to the Indian Reservation, then came back by the Graham mountains; quite some scenery up there. I have seen wild turkeys in these, but none Sunday. I came over some mountain coming here. If anyone wants to see them, I will be glad to tell you how to get there, but I will not go along unless by motor car."

"I may go down to the Chiricahua mountains to work for a carpenter. They are southeast of the wonderland of rock which is one of the most scenic places in the State."

"Guess that is all for this time, give my best to the folks at home."
Down Florida Way
Going from Arizona to Florida, a card from Mrs. Anna Belle Knight Johnstone, former Plymouthite tells us "The rocking chair is sure gathering dust. Am sitting on the green benches and feeding the sea gulls." The card is from St. Petersburg, Florida. It's getting around that time of the year when the annual tree south begins and as usual Plymouth will have her representatives in the Sunny South.

Hunting Tips
A card from Dr. C. W. Siddall of Fairborn, Ohio, brother of Mrs. P. W. Thomas, gives a tip on hunting. Doc says "Spent two weeks in Michigan, playing hide and seek with the deer. They are scarcer and wiser after last year's slaughter by the gun hunters. We did not get any but an arrow (he's a bow and arrow hunter) doesn't reach as far as a bullet."

"We camped in a tent the first week. Burned charcoal in a tin and it kept the tent comfortable. Am in South Dakota now after pheasant hunting. He's a amiable chap if he can't get a deer, he'll take a pheasant. The only thing I ever got with a bow and arrow, was a black and blue shoulder, and forearm, and the side of a barn wasn't large enough for a strike."

Going?
Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lofland and son Paul are on their way, but we'll have to let you know where later. Their Advertiser is being held up until they locate.

Gene
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruckman left last week for Lake Wales, Florida, to spend the winter at their home in that city. Enroute, they stopped off in Hamilton, Ohio, to visit their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Odsen.

New Subscribers
The Advertiser has added a number of new subscribers to their ever growing list, not only those for the boys in service, but newcomers to Plymouth. We hope they will find news of interest to them in the hometown paper and that our subscribers will continue to call or send in their items. We are entirely dependent upon the good-will and cooperation of our subscribers. News is our business — send it in.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
Several weeks ago the Plymouth Advertiser came out with the glad tidings that the Council was passing an ordinance which would cover speeding trucks and noisy exhausts, and we all heaved a sigh of relief.

Now, after several weeks have passed, we are all wondering when this enforcement is going to start, as the trucks, with exhausts popping, roar in and out of Plymouth at 60 miles per hour, shaking buildings and rattling dishes in the cupboards.

We cannot have enforcement while the Police sit for hours at a time at the Public Square watching the traffic light turn from red to green and visa versa. They must follow these trucks, and if they can keep up with them, they will find that 90 out of 100 are breaking the ordinance.

At night when the Police are off duty, the streets of Plymouth are a free-for-all speedway. The Inate Citizens of Plymouth who live on Truck Route 61.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank the staff at Shelby Hospital and Dr. Hannum and Reed for their efficient services. Also all my friends for the many cards, flowers, calls and all other courtesies. Everything was greatly appreciated.
29 pd. Mrs. Jacob Schneider.

Official records show that about 600,000 Ohio cars failed to start last winter. On this basis, one out of four drivers can expect trouble this winter. But the major cause of this trouble—as revealed by the records—can be anticipated and prevented with Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection, at no extra cost!

Here's how Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection helps you avoid these four major causes of car-starting failure!

BATTERY:
One of the biggest causes of starting failure is the battery! Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection includes a unique battery-check plan. A Sohio check-up tag attached near your battery assures regular inspection and good condition. There is no charge for this service.

LUBRICANTS:
Gear oil that is too heavy or motor oil that doesn't flow drags your battery down. Guaranteed Starting includes the right weight lubricants in transmission and differential, and free-flowing, sludge-resistant winter grade motor oil in the crankcase.

FROZEN FUEL LINES:
Water condenses out of the air in the gas tank, freezes in gas lines, stops the engine. Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection includes one free 6oz bottle of Sohio Super Hi-C, a test fuel line anti-freeze that gives you positive protection against this major cause of trouble.

GASOLINE:
Gasoline with improper starting and warm-up characteristics can cause the engine to fail to start, or start but stop again. Sohio X-tane and Sohio Supreme gasolines have exactly the right starting and warm-up qualities for Ohio driving!

This protection costs no more than you'd spend anyway — and it's so dependable we back it with this guarantee!

With Sohio's winter protection, you get a written guarantee that your car will start all winter long. If it doesn't, you just call any garage for starting service, mail the receipted bill to Sohio, and Sohio reimburses you for the starting service. It's your assurance of the most thoroughgoing winter starting protection on the market.

English Librarian Guest Speaker Here Tuesday

Mrs. Frank Brinson, president of the Mothers Club, announces that Mr. Maxfield Broome, who became affiliated with the Mansfield and Richland county library this summer, has been secured as guest speaker for their meeting on Tuesday, November 3rd. As is customary the meeting will be held at the elementary school at 3:45 and mothers who have pre-school children to take care of may bring them to the meeting where several high school baby sitters will look after them.

Mr. Broome and his wife who is on the Mansfield Library staff as a regular substitute wherever needed, came to America from Yorkshire, England, under the exchange program of the State department and will be in the country for a year. Mr. Broome took over the duties of Mr. Robert Erickson, former county librarian, who is now on a tour of Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Broome are from the Riding County Library, Hebban Bridge, Yorkshire, England, and while no definite subject for his address has been announced, it is possible he will compare the Children's Books in use in our country to those in use in England. The couple is here to study American library methods through actual experience, and members and guests who wish to come, are assured of a profitable and interesting meeting.

Light their life with FAITH

Bring them to worship this week

"Ever stood next to your youngster in church? If you have, then surely you've felt that surge of warm feeling spread over you... as I have. As we attend church each week with Lance, we see his heart grow bigger with the qualities of love, friendship and tolerance." Rosalind Russell

"Faith is a priceless gift that everyone can possess... a source of love, comfort and strength which is sorely needed in these troubled times. Only you and I, as parents, can give this gift of Faith to our children." Herbert H. Lehman

"My mother used to tell me, 'If you plant a crop and don't cultivate it, nothing grows. That's the way with religion... it dries up if you don't tend it.' Going to church has become a habit in our home." Jackie Robinson

"Our family has always done most things together. And as often as possible, that's the way we went to church." Norman Rockwell

"There are no words to describe a parent's peace of mind, when he knows, that no matter what happens, the children will always be 'at home' in the one place time does not change." Bing Crosby

"Without Faith, life is meaningless. With it, life is rich and full. Each generation must pass on to the next this fundamental truth—and our children are the richer for learning this truth from their parents." Sam Goldwyn

"When together parents and children come to know the beauty and healing of scripture and hymn... then parents communicate their belief in God to their children. And help them find a deep abiding faith of their own." Clara Savage Littledale

LOCAL WOMEN ENJOY TRIP THROUGH THE EAST

Mrs. Belle Bachrach, Miss Pearl Elder and Mrs. Percy Root returned last Friday night from an eight day motor trip of 1200 miles thru Pennsylvania and New York. Their first overnight stop en route to Elmira, N. Y. was River-side Inn, at Cambridge Springs, Pa. This is a delightful hotel, operated on the American Plan and offers an informal "homey" atmosphere and fine cuisine.

On arriving in Elmira Saturday afternoon, where they visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Baxter and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wheldon, they learned of the sudden and unexpected death of Rex's mother, which had occurred a few hours earlier.

Leaving Elmira on Monday afternoon their first stop was Moravia, N. Y. where Mrs. Bachrach had lived as a child. Although nearly fifty years had passed since leaving, she was able to contact two childhood friends and had very enjoyable visits with them.

After looking around the town and old land marks familiar to Mrs. Bachrach, the next overnight stop was Skaneateles, where dinner was enjoyed at Krebs, nationally famous and probably tops the list for fine foods.

From Skaneateles the trip through the Adirondacks to quaint

Coastalville, another overnight stop, was beautiful beyond description. The Parquet Inn offered an atmosphere of the 1850 period. The mansion home of the original Coastable family, now a museum, was an interesting interlude.

The next stop was Alexandria Bay, N. Y. in the heart of the 1000 Islands area. There a three hour launch trip was made. Many of these beautiful island homes have burned down. That night was spent near Watertown, N. Y.

On Thursday, the 22nd, the trail lead through Oswego, N. Y., Mrs. Bachrach's birthplace; then on to East Aurora, where dinner was enjoyed in the old Rycrofters Inn, a hostelry steeped in the Elbert Hubbard tradition.

After an overnight stay, the party left for home. Perfect weather, excellent food, hospitality, splendid roads, a minimum amount of traffic and wonderfully clean and comfortable motel service, all contributed to a fine trip.

Misses Florence Danner, Helen Akers and Joy Bethel, all from Plymouthites but who now reside in Shelby, invited members of the

Each member participated in the devotional period with prayer or scripture with the lesson topic presented by Mrs. Gladys Fetters. She chose a partial review of the book "The Greatest Faith" by Fulton Oursler. For roll call each member presented her favorite character.

During the business session presided over by the president, Mrs. Anna Young, the nominating and program committees were appointed for next year. The group also voted to contribute to the United Appeal and the Religious Education in schools.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening and a short social time enjoyed.

Messenger, Joe and Virginia Mock of Shiloh attended the open church wedding Sunday afternoon at 2:30 the Methodist Church, Kansas, Ohio, which united Miss Shirley McElhaney to Cpl. Martin Flagg. The bride is a niece of Mrs. Berberick. A reception was held in the K. of P. Hall following the ceremony.

Birth Day Wishes - Come Via Train
A choo-choo train birthday cake carrying a load of birthday candles and wishes for Earl Hanline was shared by members of the forenoon Fackler Kindergarten class Thursday.

The cake was the art work of his mother, Mrs. Charles Hanline and was complete even to candy wheels. "Happy Birthday" ice cream squares, locomotive whistles, balloons and candy were also presented to the little ones who sang the birthday song for Earl and he was permitted to choose the songs and games.

Band Mothers Hold Meeting

Tourist Club Entertained Monday At Cornell's
Mrs. Lura Webber invited members of the Tourist Club to be her guests Monday evening at Cornell's for a three course dinner. The table was attractively appointed with Halloween suggestions and a most tempting meal served.

The group then went to the Webber home for their meeting and Mrs. Stacy Brown was leader for the evening. She took her article from the August 1953 National Geographic Magazine entitled "Safari through changing Africa." This was an exceptional, by good article and dealt primarily with sleeping sickness, and its cause, the Tsepsie fly, and how modern science is controlling it. Roll call was responded to with current events.

In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. C. L. Hannum will be the leader.

Halloween Party For Juvenile Grange
The Plymouth Juvenile Grange will hold a Halloween party at the Grange Hall on Friday, October 30th with subordinate members as guests. Come masked or pay a fine. Prizes will be awarded to the best dressed, the most comical and the last to be identified.

Birth Day Party For Alpha Guild Members
The Alpha Guild of the Lutheran Church which has been organized for forty-three years will hold a birthday party on Tuesday.

Nov. 3rd when Mrs. Lillian Vossard has invited members to be her guests.

The evening's project will be bringing in the birthday money, a penny for each year of a member's life. So the older you are, the better the committee will like it. A program and refreshments are on the evening's program.
