The scene of the tragic accident was about three miles west and north of Greenwich on the Milan-Greenwich town line road, near the Oney home.

Officers investigating the deaths of the two young people at first had difficulty in identifying them. It was Officer Bob Siddell, Greenwich policeman, who recognized the young Oneys.

CLAYTON WILLIAMS INJURED AT WORK

In a very freak accident last Friday afternoon, Clayton Williams was injured on his upper lip when a grinding wheel broke, striking him in the face.

Williams, who operates a surface grinder in the west machine room at the plant of the Fate-Rook-Health Co., was working on a piece of metal approximately five inches in diameter and six or seven inches high, ordinarily known as "spacers", when suddenly the piece of metal became loose, striking the grinding wheel. As the chunk of metal and wheel came together, the wheel broke, and it is presumed that Williams was struck by a piece of the grinding stone. The terrific impact caused by the high speed wheel which was traveling at 1800 revolutions per minute as it struck the block of iron broke the guard on the machine as well as other damage.

Williams miraculously escaped injury for the broken wheel could just as easily struck him in the upper lip. Lawrence Cornell was the injured man's first aid treatment and he was removed to the Willard hospital where several stitches were required to close the wound. Williams reported back to work on Monday of this week.

1200 PHEASANTS RELEASED IN COUNTY

With the release Monday of 208 banded pheasants on the state game reserve west of Plymouth sportsmen in this area are almost certain of having "good luck" when the pheasant season opens November 16. The first season will be Dec. 5th. Game Warden Orville F. Caldwell said that the pheasants were secured from the Wellington game farm, and that the birds are four months old.

The 208 birds that were released Monday on the Willard Marsh makes a total of over 1200 birds that will be throughout Huron county in the past few months. Warden Caldwell stated that 200 small birds were placed on the Willard Marsh last June, but those released Monday were almost full grown and are banded. He requested that sportsmen refrain from shooting them until the band is visible. He requested that sportsmen refrain from shooting them until the band is visible.

Warden Caldwell pointed out that the other 800 pheasants placed in the county were released on farms with proper habitat and feeding facilities where they were available to hunters. Mr. Caldwell stated that pheasant are more plentiful this year than ever, and that the birds are not in trouble in bagging their limit. However, he reported that some persons are taking advantage of the pheasants on Willard Marsh by shooting them as the birds come to the gravel road to feed on grit. The reserve is bounded on the south by the "basin line" or county line road, and is some three miles west of Plymouth. Warden Caldwell has had several reports on violations of shooting birds on the highways in this vicinity, and he warns that violators will receive little sympathy from his department if apprehended.

Lowest Wells In History

Supr. Lincoln Sproles, making his report to the Board Monday night, pointed out that the deep wells are at their lowest level in many years. He stated that the normal "static flow" or the flow of the wells the past week or so has been 20 feet, and when the Weather

September, 1953 started off with a high of 100 degrees on the 2nd and 3rd — the highest of any month this summer. Then followed three weeks of subnormal temperatures with a low of 36 on the 23rd and a killing frost on the 24th. The month ended with a high of 96 on the 29th — the highest on record for so late in September.

Rain totalled only 1.17 inches or 1.91 inches below normal. This was the next lowest in July of this year when only 1.10 inches — or 2.84 inches below normal.

Rainfall for the first nine months of 1953 totaled 24.88 inches — a deficiency of 4.06 inches. The same period a year ago it totalled 27.22 inches — a deficiency of 2.04 inches. With the extreme heat and scanty rainfall, it is any wonder that crops dried up and the crop shortage is becoming critical.

Since October 1st, .50 of an inch has fallen up to 8 a. m. October 7th, but it will require more before winter sets in to fill wells and cisterns. Here's hoping! A. A. R.

Elmer Tinkey who has been making his home with Mrs. Rose Weaver, left Friday for Mt. Vernon, Ohio, to reside. He lived in Mt. Vernon before coming to Plymouth.

Water Supply Still Remains Serious

A couple of light showers over the week end and the continued overcast skies Sunday and Monday failed to bring the rains that are needed to end a ten-week drought which has curtailed normal water supplies in this area.

Last week the Board of Public Affairs sent out a request to all residents to refrain from washing cars and sprinkling lawns. The cooperation has been wonderful and the result is being shown on the pumping plant at the water plant.

The situation remains very grave, and the Board of Public Affairs again reminds water patrons to be very conservative with water, even as sparingly in the household as possible.

In order to back up the Board of Public Affairs in its request to water patrons to refrain from washing cars, sprinkling lawns and watering lawns, the Village council issued a special notice at its meeting Tuesday night, requesting all citizens to cooperate in conserving the water supply.

Cites Fire Hazard

Supr. Lincoln Sproles also requests that all citizens refrain from burning leaves, papers and other rubbish on roadways, sidewalks or on private property. This request comes from the mayor because of the exceedingly dry weather, because a fire can be easily started from a leaf pile or burning grass. Every precaution is being taken to cut down the possibility of starting a fire of any kind, and complete cooperation is expected from every resident.

Water May Be Hard

If the situation continues it may be that softening of the valves will be cut out temporarily, at least from daily treatment.

Up until the first of August the water supply was being treated twice daily. However, with a shortage of treatment, Supt. Sproles cut the treatment down to once a day, and the Board Monday night approved a plan to even out the day. In this event the water will be harder than usual, but will save the supply by ten thousand gallons a day. This is the number of gallons required to clean the filters and flush the softening beds.

Exceptional cooperation by citizens was recorded Sunday at the water plant when chart indicated that only 60,000 gallons were used on that day. However, possibly due to family washings and Monday cleaning by households, the gallonage jumped to 115,000 gallons. Plymouth uses an average of 140,000 gallons daily. So it can readily be seen that every gallon of water saved by the 575 water users in Plymouth will mean much in this time. Saving water now may mean keeping local schools open.

Announce Special Services At Auburn Baptist Church

The American Baptist Convention has, since May 1952, given special emphasis throughout the denomination on a Nation-wide Revival. A program of simultaneous evangelism has been conducted within the Convention constituency, including the American Baptist churches in Ohio. Direction to this evangelistic effort in Ohio has been given by the Ohio State Convention.

The Auburn Baptist church is an affiliated member of both Conventions and also of the Mansfield Baptist Association. This Revival Crusade will end in December of this year. During the months of October, November and December American Baptist Churches will hold a spiritual-life mission to climax the Nation-wide Revival. Quoting from Missions—an International Baptist Magazine—"More and more they (Christian Leaders) are coming to see that the practical issues of daily life must be viewed in the light of the Christian gospel, and that the hope of men everywhere lies in their relationship to that gospel. The long-delayed religious revival in America will begin by re-awakening only a larger number of men who see that vision clearly—and act upon it."

The Auburn Baptist Church, Rev. M. J. Remick, pastor, is co-operated with the evangelism mission by conducting special services in the fall of 1952 and the spring of 1953. Another series of 17 meetings will be held this month, beginning Wednesday evening, October 14 and ending Sunday, October 25. The series includes two Sundays, morning and evening, October 18 and 25. Evening services will begin at 8:00.

The guest preacher will be the Rev. John Bussemma, pastor of the West Bloomfield Community Church of near Pontiac, Michigan. Mr. Bussemma has had several years of pastoral experience and has also conducted many special meetings from coast to coast. He is a graduate of the School of The

Miss Harriett Portner Celebrates 87th Birthday With Party; Friends Remember Her With Visits, Cards

The 87th birthday of Miss Harriett Portner was celebrated in the same home in which she was born last Friday, October 2nd. Mrs. Myrtle Ferris who cares for Miss Portner and Mrs. Mary Akers served as hostesses and invited a few long-time friends to spend the afternoon at the Portner residence.

The weather was ideal and the home was tastefully decorated with flowers for the occasion. After visiting and remembering "old times," Miss Portner made a wish and blew out the candles on her birthday cake. Cards and gifts from friends and neighbors made the day a happy occasion and Miss Portner wishes to thank each and every one of them.

A lunch was served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Natalie Motley, Mrs. George Scarles, Miss Jessie Cole and Miss Jessie Trauger.
Mr. and Mrs. George Becker of Darrowville, cousins of Miss Portner, stopped in Monday for a belated birthday greeting.
Letter Brought From Old Neighbor
Miss Portner received a letter on her birthday from an old neighbor which she prized very highly and which brought to mind many events which are now past history but no doubt will be read with interest.
The letter was headed with a pencil drawing of a house, tree, walk and a young boy at the pump and commenced thusly:
"45 years ago I carried well water from your well to our house which was two doors this way (arrow). (Picture — me and my dog Dick) Dick was a yellow dog with a pretzel tail. About this time of our lives you had a sweet apple tree in your back yard. We boys would always try to load up with apples on our way to the swimming hole, that is if you didn't see us coming. We would fill our shirts full like this (picture).
We always wore bloomer pants — they could be useful too. You were the best person in town because you always had the circus in your fields. I would help you put up the tent, wash dishes and march in their parades to earn a 50c ticket. Do you remember the time the seats fell down?
My dad made them spread bales of straw around so the people could sit on them. You see it had rained the day before and they put the seats up on the side of a hill, so when the people loaded them up the seats fell down like dominoes. The circus tent was right behind our house (now owned by Chas. Pugh) and barn. Do you remember the nice barn dad built? It was later made into a house.
I used to play with Royal Trauger and Harry Sauer. We were always playing down along the creek which flowed through your fields.
I suppose you know who I am by now. There was quite a tribe of us Nixons. Most of us are living in Cleveland. I have a sister, Aila in California. Lucille is living in Cuyahoga Falls. Adelaide, Ruby, Bob and myself are all in Cleveland. Phillip passed away two years ago and Vic passed on eighteen years ago.
I often read the Plymouth paper. I don't seem to know very many people who live there any more.
My wife and I send you best wishes for a very happy birthday."

with the United States, dealing mostly with native trees of Ohio, and the effects they have upon our every day life. Some of these trees have a span of from 350 to 500 years and that there are 14 different kinds of oak trees found in Ohio. An article by Faith Baldwin entitled "Tree" was read by Mrs. Miller and she concluded her talk with a quiz. Twenty-five different species of leaves found on the Miller farm were mounted and passed around for identification. Mrs. Grace Dick recognized 12 out of the 25 and was presented with a bowl of walnuts.
Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis brought to our attention the effect that flowers have on our lives. Bulbs and seeds are a business of their own and at one time in Holland, tulip bulbs were so much in demand they were worth their weight in gold, one bulb once bringing $3000.

After roll call a very delicious lunch was served and then adjournment to meet on Oct. 19, 1953 at the home of Mrs. Margaret Kessler with Miss Jessie Trauger as hostess.

GRASS FIRE CALLS OUT FIRE DEPT.

Due to the extreme drought of the past several weeks, grass fires have been responsible for the fire department's being called out a number of times the past couple weeks. A week or so ago sparks from a passing train, apparently, ignited grass near the railroad, the right of way resulting in a call for help, and last Saturday afternoon a grass fire on the Clyde Kissell farm between Rome and Shennadoh on State Route 603 resulted in a call.

Fire Chief Benedict reports a cow was reported destroyed, but otherwise little damage resulted.

Deer Are Getting Tame

Deer in this vicinity, apparently, are losing their fear of man. According to an item in the "Up and Down the Street" column in last Thursday's "Mansfield News-Journal", one is making himself at home with the cow herd of County Commissioner Fred Dawson, who lives on the Fackler road south of here. The item further stated:

"A six point buck deer, braced as a bull, made himself at home in County Commissioner Fred Dawson's cow herd yesterday and refused to be frightened away even when Dawson threw three sticks at it. The buck, Dawson reported, grazed with the cattle and then accompanied them back to the barn before jumping a fence and bounding off."

Facts About Fire Losses

This week, Oct. 4 to 10, is being nationally publicized as Fire Prevention week, but the Shiloh - Cass - Bloominggrove Townships Fire Association appeals to the community not to confine its activities of fire prevention to just one week in the year, but to practice it 52 weeks in the year.

Facts and statistics released by the Fire Underwriters show that 1953 bids to be the most disastrous fire loss year in history. Grass and brush fires show a 40% increase. Farm fires total $133-,000,000 loss and 3,000 deaths. Home fires are up, statistics show 1300 children under five years of age died last year in fires. 70,000 business places were destroyed.

We urge the public to use every possible precaution in the prevention of this great loss. Help make the home fire safe. Co-operate in fire prevention.
