

Annual Observance of Thanksgiving Starts with Union Service Bank to Distribute

Xmas Funds Friday

Plymouth trading area observes the 33rd American Thanksgiving tomorrow. A traditional homecoming event in most small towns, homecomers started to trickle into the village today to be on hand to observe a Thanksgiving that for the first time in five years sees no American soldier in combat anywhere.

The Inter-church council will sponsor a united Thanksgiving service in the Methodist church today at 7:30 p.m. The pastor, the Rev. T. M. Sheeley, will preach the sermon, "God's Cure for the World's Headache."

The service has a special feature this year. By cooperation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, under instructions of the Congress, churches are permitted to draw upon surplus food stocks on a beneficial 20-to-1 ratio for each $1 contributed by churches, $20 in food will be released for overseas distribution by the federal government.

An offering, whether of cash or produce, will be received by the Inter-church council tonight.

The Rev. Mr. Sheeley announces the program as follows: Organ prelude, . . . Mrs. Willard Ross, organist. Processional hymn . . . "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come." Call to Worship. Invocation. The Lord's Prayer. The Responsive Reading. The Gloria Patri. Scripture reading: Psalm 103:1-22; St. Luke 17:11-19. Prayer. Hymn . . . "For the Beauty of the Earth." Offering. The Doxology. Anthem . . . by the choir, directed by Sept. M. J. Coon. Sermon . . . "God's Cure for the World's Headache." Hymn . . . "America, the Beautiful." Benediction.

The service will last one hour. Residents of Plymouth trading area could look forward to a cheaper Thanksgiving dinner this year than for many years previous, owing chiefly to the drop in poultry prices, attributed by industry sources to be caused by an over-production of chickens and heavier fowl.

Although local industry was still observing a four-day week, area industry showed signs of revival. A month-long strike at Shelby which had immobilized several heads of Plymouth families had been settled in time to put wage money in the housewife's pocket for Thanksgiving.

The public schools will be closed all day Thursday and Friday. Local stores will remain open to 9 p.m. today (groceries until 10 p.m.) to accommodate late shoppers. All local stores will close tomorrow in observance of the holiday. Citizens were asked by Mayor Glenn West to display the American flag prominently in observance of the national holiday decreed by the state of Ohio.

There were signs elsewhere, as well, that times were less hard than many had forecast. It was announced in Mansfield that 100 fewer persons were drawing Richland county relief funds at the end of October than what had been the case at the beginning.

Only 288 families - 634 persons - were receiving relief funds. None of these lives in Plymouth.

Despite poor weather during May and June, which hampered sowing of some grain crops, a good harvest was reported throughout Huron and Richland counties, notably in corn. Farm prices tended to steady at the end of November and although there was some fluctuation in soy bean prices, it was largely of a sporadic nature and for quality beads of low moisture content the price level remained relatively firm.

Winter wheat crops, while smaller than last year because of acreage restrictions, had been sown well ahead of prospects were good.

Blame Mr. Summerfield and the United States postal authorities if your newspaper is late today.

The Advertiser was made up and ready to go at 6 p.m. Tuesday, except—

Except that a special delivery, first class parcel posted in Chardon Monday at 3 p.m. arrived. Normally, parcels mailed special delivery in Chardon on Mondays are received in Plymouth Tuesdays. Not so this week.

The publisher expresses his thanks to Postmaster Claude E. Sourwine for his cooperation in opening the mail sacks at Chardon and help get the newspaper out on time.

Checks amounting to $29,290 will be sent Friday by Peoples National Bank to about 300 participants in its Christmas club savings program. President J. Eldon Nimmons announces.

At the same time, the bank will open accounts for participants in a 50-week savings program which will mature at the end of November, 1955. Participants may pay 25c, 50c, $2, $4, $5 or $10 a week, Mr. Nimmons said.

The bank is a good and convenient way to save," the veteran banker said, "and the fact that it is popular is shown by the rise of about 10 per cent in the number of participants this year by comparison with last year."

The accounts do not bear interest, Mr. Nimmons said. He added that this year's checks will average about $100 per participant, which funds he believes will be spent largely in retail purchases for the Christmas season.

Roscoe D. Swartz, 59, Dies of Complications Of Two Auto Mishaps

A second automobile accident four years after a serious one which had caused him to give up his job as Richland county deputy sheriff led to the death, Sunday, of Roscoe D. Swartz, 59-year-old Cass township farmer.

Mr. Swartz was injured the second time Nov. 15, the first day of hunting season, when a sedan in which he was driving swerved off London East road shortly before noon and ran into a ditch. He was removed to Shelby Memorial hospital, where his injuries were tentatively diagnosed as fractures of the ribs, and his condition was regarded as "satisfactory."

It deteriorated steadily, however, and he never was able to quit the hospital. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, by the Rev. R. E. Lubold, with interment in Mt. Hope cemetery, Graveside military services were conducted by O'Brien Post No. 326, Shelby, and Garret-Riest Post, Shiloh, American Legion.

Mr. Swartz was born in Pennsylvania Jan. 14, 1895. He had farmed in Cass township for many years and was well-known as a professional appraiser and auctioneer.

In 1950, on duty as a deputy sheriff, he was critically injured in an automobile accident in South 13 north of Bellevue, when the official sedan operated by the late Harold Axton, collided head-on with another automobile.

Hospitalized for a considerable period of time, he was unable to resume his official duties. Complications which ensued from this accident contributed to his death, hospital attendants said.

Mr. Swartz was a member of Shiloh Community Grange No. 2605, of the Fraternal Order of Police and the Buckeye Sheriff's association. He was a Democrat and took an active part in political campaigning, although he often worked for Republicans.

His wife, Lola, a daughter, Mrs. John Irvine, Gallion, a son, James Robert, Plymouth, sister, Mrs. Martha Foose, Carlisle, Pa., and four brothers, Harvey, Shelby, Edward, Harrisburg, Pa., Clyde, Carlisle, Pa., and Clarence, Gettysburg, Pa., survive, as do three grandchildren.

Scouts to Assist As Bellringers Christmas Morn

Scoutmaster Robert Mac Michael said yesterday that Plymouth Boy Scouts will be "delighted to cooperate in the Christmas bell-ringing program, and-uniformed Scouts will be available early Christmas morning to ring those bells whose caretakers are unable to do so."

Transportation for the Scouts has been donated. "The Scouts will be at the churches half an hour before ringing time, so they can take any instruction that may be needed or assist in any way to complete the program," Mr. Mac Michael said.

Meanwhile, participation of about half of the churches asked to cooperate with the program has been assured. Pastors of 11 churches have indicated a willingness to have their bells rung from 7:15 to 8 a.m. Christmas morning as a means of heralding the first peaceful Christmas in America in six years.

Comics Book Review Given to Local P-TA

Moral disarmament derives from the reading of comic books by juveniles, according to Dr. Frederick Wertham, author of "Seduction of the Innocent," which was reviewed for the Parent-Teachers' association Thursday by Robert Liston, Mansfield newspaperman and Dr. Wertham maintains.

Mr. Liston said that the reading of comic books helps the child to rid himself of his inhibitions rather than his aggressions, and thus he thinks of doing things which he would not otherwise dream of doing. When the child sees in front of him, according to the reviewer, an act in color and print which is glorified - or at least appears to be harmful - he is tempted to do it himself, for it appears to be easy.

Some communities are engaged in efforts to eradicate the evil, Dr. Wertham writes. Mr. Liston said, and others have suggested legislation. Only local action has so far been applied to the problem.

The volume is available at Plymouth library as a gift of the Rev. T. M. Sheeley.

Mr. Liston urged all parents to read the book.

To Collect Toys

F. H. A. members will collect toys, games, and puzzles as their Christmas project. They will be given to the Children's home at Norwalk. Toys should be new or used and in good condition suitable for children between the ages of 6 and 18.

Collecting will take place Monday between 6 and 8 p.m.

Frances M. Seaman Dies in Shiloh at 70

Five months after she had observed her golden wedding anniversary, Mrs. Frances Miller Seaman died of a heart attack at her home in Shiloh Monday morning. She was 69.

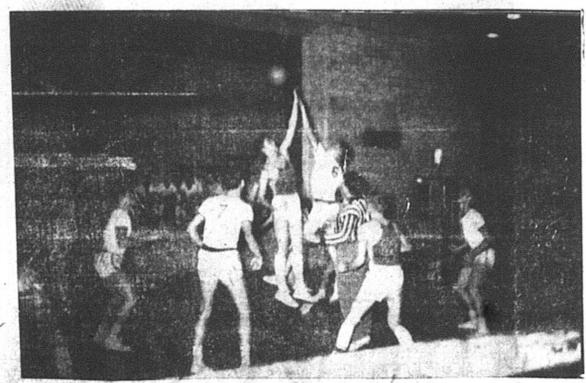

Mrs. Seaman is survived by her husband, Charles; four sons, Del, Willard rural; Neal, Mansfield, and Albert and Harry, both of Shiloh; eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Born Jan. 31, 1884, Mrs. Seaman was the daughter of the late William and Clara Miller of Ripley township. She had lived all her life in the Plymouth trading area.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. with the Rev. T. M. Sheeley, pastor of Plymouth-Shiloh Methodist church, of which Mrs. Seaman was a member, in charge. Interment will be in Mt. Hope cemetery, Shiloh.

Mrs. Seaman was a member of Shiloh Community Grange No. 2608 and of Mansfield chapter, Daughters of American Revolution.

With her husband, Mrs. Seaman celebrated her golden wedding anniversary June 5.

First tip-off of the season in the North Fairfield gymnasium Saturday, as the Pilgrims dropped their turkey, 88 to 38.

Yellow Jackets Win Third Straight, 55-47

New Haven's Yellow Jackets opened their 1954-55 Huron-Erie county league play at Berlin Heights Friday night with a convincing second half surge for a 55 to 47 victory, running their streak to three straight. Wayne Robinson and Lykins led the Yellow Jackets with 23 and 17 points, respectively, while Newmyer added 11. Hoffman and Cravel got 15 and 13, respectively, for Berlin Heights.

Bears Claw Pilgrims, 62 to 32

Plymouth's Pilgrims were clawed by inthopitable Bears from Castalia's Margaretta High school Tuesday night, 62 to 32, in a contest marked by the inability of the Pilgrims to cope with a taller opposition.

Near-range Pilgrim was able to break into double figures and Bud Garrett and John Fox led the Red and White with eight points apiece. Bauman and Ferrone were the big guns for the Green and White, with 14 points each, and Nye was right behind with 13.

For the first eight minutes, the Pilgrims did well enough, holding the Bears to a four-point bulge at 16 to 12. The Pilgrims were unable to make any progress in the second period, netting but three markers while Margaretta was garnering 11. The Bears really went to town in the third stanza, getting 25 to seven for the home five.

The Pilgrims plainly showed the loss of Howard Compton, sidelined for two weeks on account of illness. Bud Garrett did capably, but he was not enough for the taller, more experienced Bears.

Band to Get Drums As Mothers' Gift

Another step in the improvement of Plymouth High school band was taken Monday night when the Band Mothers' club voted to purchase a set of Ludwig pedal tympani.

The tympani, or kettle drums, have been in use during a two-week trial period, and will enable the band to broaden its repertoire, add to the depth and color of the basic instrumentation.

Because the necessary instruction period is too short, the Christmas concert will not be played with the tympani. They will, however, be in use during the spring concert and thereafter.

Miss Major's Brother Dies in Gallion at 84

Brother of Miss Ethel Major, 84-year-old Howard Major died Nov. 15 of a heart attack while walking from a shopping tour in Gallion.

Stricken in the street, he was taken to Gallion City hospital, but was found to be dead on arrival. Funeral services were conducted Thursday by the Rev. Rutherford Ernest, pastor of First Presbyterian church, Gallion, with interment in Greenlawn cemetery here.

Mr. Major, a retired farmer, was born in Lexington Oct. 5, 1870. The day after he was 25, he married Miss Dora Ann Bowman, who preceded him in death on Nov. 11, 1953. He moved to Gallion from Crestline 24 years ago in addition to his sister, a daughter, Ruth, at home, and another sister, Mrs. Scott Raynolds, Crestline, survive.

Mrs. Newland Dies; Native of Celeryville

Mother of Mrs. Margaret Moore Hunter, Plymouth, Mrs. Martha Blanche Moore Newland, 69-year-old native of the Celeryville area, died at her Washburn road home near Willard Saturday.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at the Willard Evangelical United Brethren church by the Rev. C. D. Wright, with burial in Willard cemetery.

Mrs. Newland lived all her life in Plymouth trading area and was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren church, as well as of the Ladies Auxiliary, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and of the Daughters of Union Veterans.

In addition to her daughter, her husband, William, and two sons, James, Willard, and Paul, Columbus, and another daughter, Mrs. Georgia Crooks of Warren, survive. There are also four brothers, Fred, Clayton and George Moore, all of Willard; and Joseph Moore, Milwaukee, Wis., and two sisters, Mrs. Elsie Brown living in California, and Miss Margaret Moore, Shelby.

Rita Keith Wins Singing Contest

Miss Rita Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Keith, won first place in her classification in the N. T. A. pre-Thanksgiving contest held at Cliffside High school Saturday. Miss Keith sang the popular song "Bless This House."

Miss Keith was presented with an Ohio Talent Review trophy and a N. T. A. blue ribbon. She now qualified for the final state contest, which is planned for next year.

Sgt. Johnson Due Home from Japan

Sgt. Myles W. Johnson, 25, son of Mrs. Leona B. Heuberger, Plymouth route 1, is scheduled to return from Japan in January for part to the United States.

Sergeant Johnson, overseas since March, 1952, is a wire chief in the Telephone and Teletypewriter Company of the 50th Signal Battalion.

The former New York Central railroad employee wears the Good Conduct Medal and the UN and Korean service ribbons.

His wife, Hideo, lives in Japan.

Henry Chapman, Route 61 farmer, apparently specializes in oddities. First he found a Siamese parrot in France, above, the wild bird here has built a honey comb in an elm tree. It's constructed of seven tiers, all symmetrically placed.

Poet Caldwell's Back ---and We've Got 'im

Next week, the Shiloh news letter will be prepared by Clyde Caldwell, whose previous efforts were so well received by Shilohans.

Mr. Caldwell lives in the east side of Delaware street. His telephone number is Shiloh 3143.

It is The Advertiser's desire to give to Shiloh activities a full and accurate coverage, and the cooperation of individuals, groups, and public and private organizations will be welcomed.

Thirty-four members of Shiloh High school's senior class visited the First National bank in Mansfield Nov. 17, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pittenger. A luncheon at a Mansfield cafeteria at the bank's guests followed.

Shiloh Donald Barnes presided Thursday night when Wooster Grange and Pomona Grange met in combined meeting at the former's hall. Mr. Barnes is worthy master of Pomona Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oberlin of Greenwich, deputies, delivered reports on the state grange, as did John Hartz and Lora Kenner, delegates to the state grange.

A county-wide booster night is planned for Dec. 10 at Union Grange hall. Harry Cook, overseer of the state grange, will speak.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Yarger of Ganages Grange and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shrock of Madison Grange were named to the annual banquet committee, together with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ramey of Worthington Grange.

The next meeting will be Jan. 20 at Shiloh Grange hall. The Lutheran church aides will have a bazaar and bake sale in the township room Dec. 4.

The Mothers Study club met at the home of Mrs. Florence Hamman with Ava Arnold as co-hostess Thursday evening. Mary Jane Hamman was made a new member of the group, and the group made a motion to sponsor a sale of Bibles at the school.

The program was given by Doris Hamley who talked on "How Can We Decorate Christmas?" and Mary Dawson demonstrated Christmas wrappings.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Spino of Cleveland spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Edna Gieseman. The Spino's guest, Jody Howell, who has been visiting with them for the past two weeks, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Dawson are the parents of a daughter, Martha Jean, born Saturday at the Shelby Memorial hospital.

A daughter was born to Mrs. Philip Holmes at Shelby Memorial hospital Friday. Mrs. Holmes is the former Jean Moser.

Mrs. Hazel Lofland will spend Thanksgiving in Plymouth with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Clark, and family. The other guests of the Clarks will be Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Henry and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bell and son, Charles, and Mrs. Emma Lutz are spending Thanksgiving day with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hench of Crestline.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Page and their granddaughter, Diane Sharp, will spend the weekend in Chicago with Mrs. Page's sister, Mrs. Joseph Newman, and family. The Page's plan to arrive there Thursday evening, so they will have their Thanksgiving on Friday.

Stanley Huston, Dave Rish, and Dale Owens spent two days in Columbus recently attending a showing of the 1955 Oliver farm machinery.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McQuate will be guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Adams, at Thanksgiving day dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Myers will drive to Harrisburg for the holiday weekend to visit with relatives.

The W. W. Pittinger home will be the scene of a family dinner Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Huston will have a family dinner at their home Thursday. The guests will be their sons and families.

The Golden Rule class of the Methodist church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huston Sunday evening.

Milton Wales led the devotions, and the business meeting was given over to the election of officers.

Mrs. Wayne Hunter will be the president for the coming year. Denny Seymour was elected vice-president, Mary Lou Brook is the new secretary, and Malcolm Brook is in charge of publicity.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. Edgar Barnett, Plymouth, was admitted to Willard Municipal hospital Nov. 11. She was released Nov. 13.

Susan Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Henry, New Haven, underwent a tonsillectomy at the same hospital Nov. 16.

Mrs. Emma Hostler, who was treated there for a reduction of a hip fracture, was released to her home at Sandusky and North streets, Plymouth, Nov. 12.

Mrs. J. Benjamin Smith, 109 Plymouth street, has been released from Shelby Memorial hospital after undergoing surgery.

Mrs. Carl Fenner was admitted to the same hospital Nov. 16. Albert Griffith, Plymouth's only living Spanish-American war veteran, was admitted for observation to Willard Municipal hospital Thursday.

Think You Work Hard?

Think you work hard today? Take a look at what it like back in the horse and buggy days. E. B. Miller, Main street hardware merchant, received this week a copy of the store records of Carson, Pirie Scott & Co., Chicago department store, which applied then.

"The store must be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. the year 'round. Store must be swept; counters, base shelves and showcases dusted; lamps trimmed; filled and chimneys cleaned; pens made; doors and windows opened; a pail of water, also a bucket of coal brought in before breakfast (if there is time to do so) and attend to customers who call.

"Stores must not be opened on the Sabbath unless necessary, and then only for a few minutes.

"The employee who is in the habit of smoking Spanish cigars, being shaved at the barber's, going to dances and other places of amusement will surely give his employer reasons to be suspicious of his integrity and honesty.

"Each employee must not pay less than $5 per year to the church and must attend Sunday school regularly.

"Men employees are given one evening a week for courting, and two if they go to prayer meeting.

"After 14 hours of work in the store, the leisure hours should be spent mostly in reading."

To which Mr. Miller adds that he marvels that after 14 hours of that regimen anybody could keep his eyes open long enough to read!

Cattle to Be Given Tuberculin Tests

All breeding cattle in Huron county are tested every three years for tuberculosis. John Wells, county agricultural agent, reports.

The test for 1955 began in some townships Nov. 1. Local veterinarians will begin testing in other townships soon.

This service is furnished by Huron county commissioners with the assistance of the state division of animal industry.

Feeder cattle do not have to be tested under the present laws. The farmer is asked to have all cattle to be tested in the barn or available when the veterinarian arrives.

Veterinarians' helpers are responsible for notifying each farmer when his cattle are to be tested.

GI Takes Leave

Sgt. Joe M. Teclovic, 21, son of Mrs. Anna Teclovic, New Haven, recently spent a seven-day rest and recreation leave from his unit in Korea at Camp Hakata, on Japan's southernmost island of Kyushu.

Sight-seeing and extensive entertainment facilities at the camp provided him with a welcome break in the task of maintaining security on the Korean peninsula.

Sergeant Teclovic, a member of the 7th Infantry Division's 31st Regiment, entered the Army in February, 1953, and arrived overseas the following October.

A Day of Thanksgiving

Tonight is community Thanksgiving night, when our churches unite in a service to commemorate that first Thanksgiving.

We urge all our friends and neighbors to attend, and to say a silent word of thanks to God tomorrow before partaking of a bounteous Thanksgiving which Almighty God in His wisdom has seen fit to provide us.

That you and yours shall find in Thanksgiving, November, 1954, a special feeling of gratitude to Almighty God for His blessings is the special wish of

The presence of growth of juvenile delinquency are not disputed by anybody any more. Like sin, sex and taxes, it is here, and here to stay, apparently.

The problem is how do we control it? One of the factors contributing to the rise of juvenile delinquency has been the publication of sensational news relating to crime, which tends in some warped little minds to glorify crime, ostensibly because to have one's name in the paper is something special. A crime is news particularly if it is a heinous and bloody affair such as that which captivates the Cleveland dailies. Such news of crimes should be reported, and we frankly do not think any of the Cleveland newspapers has stepped out of line in connection with the present one. Nevertheless, a newspaper should be careful that its coverage of a crime does not stimulate others to do the same thing.

If a person wants his name in the paper, there are other - and better - ways of doing it. He can be active in the kind of thing that gets - and deserves - publicity of a desirable character. He can let the paper know what he does and where he goes, and when and how. It is up to the newspaper, if it indeed is a newspaper, to decide whether that stuff should be printed. Invariably, the answer is yes. Subject, of course, to time and space considerations.

What should be the policy of small town newspapers with regard to the publication of names of juvenile delinquents? Some say the names should be left out; don't crucify a lad for one misstep. Others say the names should be printed; shine the light of unfavorable publicity upon the offenders, so they won't do it again.

We honestly do not know, in our hearts, which is right. So we follow this practice: if the matter is one of public record, whether in a police dossier or on a court docket, we will print it, without fear or favor, even if it is our own son. If the matter is not of public record even though everybody knows who is involved, we will not print it. It seems to us that this is the best guide, and we propose to follow it.

The resignation of Mr. Smith as president of the village council was accepted promptly by that body not because it wanted to see him leave the job, but rather because it sympathized with his family and business obligations. We are certain Mr. Eckstein will perform capably in the post.

It will not be long before nominating petitions for village offices will need to be circulated again. Fifteen years ago, 16 candidates for council were in the running. That is a healthy sign, and we hope it occurs again.

Some of the present councilmen do not desire to run for reelection. They have good reasons for so choosing, we suppose, and while we regret that six who have done such a good job are not returning, we respect their decision and will not tamper with it.

Nevertheless, we must get some suitable candidates for the village offices in the coming elections. We hope that for the first time in history a woman will run for a policy-making office of the village (we have had women in administrative posts, but never in policy-making jobs).

We also hope that some vigorous and interested people will throw their hats into the ring so that we can begin to develop the kind of officeholder who will govern us and our children a generation hence. It is in the village council hall that government management begins. Lessons learned there are vital lessons, and they carry to the highest office of them all.

It is the duty of our fraternal, patriotic and religious organizations to encourage their membership to seek public office. It is about time that service on the village council stops being regarded as a chore and starts being considered as an honor, one to be fought for, worth having, and worthy of its hire.

Around the Square

— By Phineas Whittleseed —

A newspaper friend of ours writes, "After our plane left Cleveland and began to gain altitude, I sat back in my seat and watched with more interest than becomes my age a pretty blonde across the aisle from me. I watched her off and on (mostly) on for some time and began to notice her, her, her, was expanding. Apparently the stewardess noticed the same thing, because she came to this lassie and whispered a sweet something in her ear. The girl rose and fled toward the back of the plane. Doesn't it beat all what air pressure will do to the thimblebombers women will wear in their Maidenforms these days?"

"If it's beer," says a medical man in whom Phin reposes considerable confidence, "it's fattening. I don't care what you read in the papers or see on television. The truth is that there isn't enough difference in calories between one brand and another to light the tailfeather of a firefly." So there!

Joke Dept.: A bored tabby and an interested feline were watching a tennis match. "You seem particularly interested in tennis," said the bored one. "It's not that," replied No. 2, "but my old man's in the racket."

Our elder popped in the other afternoon and asked for a dime. Just like that. We can remember when a dime was a lot of money. My, how dimes have changed. (Now, look, Henry, it's a pun, so put that axe down.)

Way back in 1816, before The Advertiser was a going thing, there was an occurrence that had all the papers in America awfully. It was just after the War of 1812 with the British had ended, and trade and industry was trying to revive. Farmers planted crops as usual in the spring, but most of the seeds failed to germinate. Fruit didn't ripen, birds froze in their nests during the frosty nights, and mink spots appeared on the sun. Religious leaders said it was punishment visited by the Lord for the surly of the party. Politicians (the outs, that is) blamed it on the party in power - the government of James Madison. And speaking of Madison, one of the bright nips the other day who was called upon to recite in a history class about the sacking of the White House by the nasty British in the same scrap? Telling about Dolly Madison, he said, "... and the British came and burned the White House and Mrs. Madison hadda flea." Haw.

It's getting about time for the annual almanacs, which forecast the weather. Guess the weather is as reliable as the smart jokers who predict the isobars and isotherms on tee-vee, but so reliable as our J. A. R., whose excellent piece we were pleased to welcome back to our pages last week. Please note, our cover of October and the first two weeks of November, of necessity, for J. A. R. has been ill. He's better now, and we hope to present his weather stuff regularly.

Phin was remarking the other day about how interjections (that's what they're called, grammatically) have changed over the years. Grandma used to say "my stars." Paw was wont to remark, "Holy Hannah." Consider what we have today. Joe Burrer will, on occasion, say "Jumppin' jackrabbits." Mrs. Phin says "Eeps" or "Jeesie Peezzy." Isn't a pity so many folks have to use (do they really have to?) blasphemous remarks? Including us, on occasion.

Some of the young peckerwoods at the high school don't believe that James Whitcomb Riley wrote a celebrated poem about that vanishing office of every household - the outhouse. Sure enough, he did. It's called "Ode to a Backhouse," and you'll find it in any anthology.

Parson Sheesley was telling us he has hunted night on to 30 years and has never heard of a hunting ground as he worked north of Rome on opening day. Never saw so few birds or bunnies, either. He got 'what the little boy shot at."

The energetic activity of our New Haven neighbors in remodeling their church deserves the credit of all of us. Maybe the remodeling of that particular church isn't going to save the world, by itself, but collectively the churches of the county are going a long way toward it.

Correction: Robert Lewis, the clip joint operator, is correctly styled "worshipful master," not worthy master. Bob says the old timer used to say "worthy master," and besides, everybody knows what is meant.

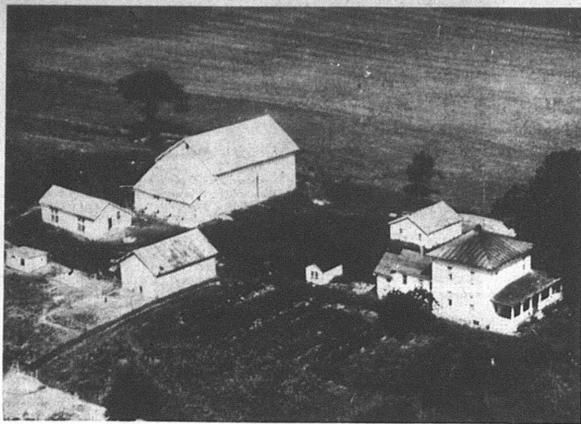

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving. What is there to be thankful for? Joe Laska's good humor; Earl McBook's loyalty to the Indians (they need somebody); Bob Bachrach's high-falutin' "soo boss" when he herds calves out of a railroad car; Peyton Thomas "you pollicker, you"; Harold Mack's springy walk, even after a hard day at the store; Parson Sheesley's, "Hello, Mister," in that hard-to-hear voice; Ed Phillips being out of the hospital; Dalton McDougal's loyalty to his religion, when it costs him money; Glenn West's fairness to everybody; Jud Morrison's bland composure; Gene Henry's bawling out; J. E. Nimmons' continued good health; John A. Root's return to his desk; Mrs. Newmyer's report that Our Chip's work is improving; Carl Ellis' miserable stog-caw; Bill Moore's using our good Borsalino for an ash tray; Beryl Miller's curbstone philosophy; Dickie Lewis' polite greeting from his bike, which he always halts, and then dismounts, before saying "Hello"; Pat Haas' good humor over her special cup of coffee; the kids pouring out of the schoolhouse at thirty-three because school's out, not because the place has been hit by an A-bomb; the statement of one of our teachers that "whatever else you say about this town, you can't say the town hasn't treated its teachers fair, money wise." Makes us feel good all over.

Ben Blanchard took a good look at our two medics carving the turkeys at the Nov. 11 dinner and remarked that he was glad the turkeys were being carved - not him.

Moody Sponsler allows as how this November is unique: the first nine days were sunny, something that hasn't happened often in his memory.

The morning class of the Fackler kindergarten helped Marjorie McDougal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McDougal, celebrate her fifth birthday Nov. 5. Miss McDougal brought candy faves, cupcakes, and ice cream to the party while her classmates a lusty Harry Birthday to her.

Mrs. McDougal and Marjorie's sister, Marcie, were guests at the party also.

Honest, Mr. Cornell, We Tried

The mystery farm is still a mystery. It is still a mystery in spite of a well-organized search and the cooperation of about 100 of some of Plymouth's most eagle-eyed detectives.

Here's how it started. With a mystery, naturally.

Weldon Cornell, in whose advertising space the mystery farm appears every week, remarked that he thought a mistake had been made. (Heavens, not three weeks running, Mr. Cornell!) He allowed as how last week's farm stayed where it was and next week's farm had been moved to the feature spot. A quick check showed his fears were groundless.

The reporter wished to go to Columbus for the football game. He left an assistant in the office to receive callers to identify the farm. Meanwhile, he used his usual sources to get a line on the identity of the farm.

Departure time Saturday morning: no luck. "That house looks familiar, but I just can't place it," was the usual response from half a dozen observers.

Young Ted Ross, who helps out in The Advertiser's hell room, reported, "Pop says it's on the second road off 61 south, to the left."

Come Sunday morning, when the reporter normally writes the farm feature, the red demon tracked back and forth not only on the second road south, but on the first and third, fourth and fifth roads. Nothing doing.

Return to Plymouth. Visit to Bachrach's office, where Bob Bachrach, Rich Myers, Henry Chapman, and some of the sidewalk superintendents all have a look at the photograph. One or two leads, no luck.

Visit to Willard, where F. L. Buckingham is given a look at the picture. Sorry, can't place it.

Trip out 59E, across to 298, thence to farm of Robert Karl. Over glass of cider, Mr. Karl says "It's not in my neck of the woods."

Return to Plymouth. Trip to Greenwich via back roads. Deduction shows farm house is situated on north side of road.

How is this determined? Ansatoh of old GI aerial photo reading instruction returns: this is north of the equator, the time the photograph was taken was August. Shadows to left of buildings show picture was taken in afternoon. Therefore, buildings are on north side of a road running east and west.

Visit to Shiloh. Request of Clyde Caldwell to identify farm. Thinks it may be Miller farm in County Line road, but not sure. Check this with service station operator. "Looks like a place in Willett road, try that." Check both places, no luck.

Bright idea. "Maybe," says reporter's wife, "the photographer made a mistake." Sheepish look on face, then long distance telephone call.

"Our records show that picture was taken in demarcated zone generally within radius of five miles of Plymouth," says photographing firm.

Bum steer, big telephone bill. Last minute call to Donald Ford, Plymouth rural mail carrier. "Sorry, fellow, doesn't look like anything on my route, which is 56 miles." We know, Don, we've just put nearly that on the red demon trying to track it down.

Bright (well, not so bright, but an idea, anyway) idea. Offer a bigger prize for the winner. Accordingly, the editor will part with the best meal money can buy at Mr. Cornell's restaurant for the person who identifies this mystery farm.

And now that Ed Ramsey has closed his drive-in, there will be two tickets to Temple theatre, Willard, plus the usual two quarts of ice cream to the winner.

C'mon, friends, identify the farm.

Aside to Mr. Cornell: Honest, Butch, we tried!

HOW TO MAKE MULTI-COLORED LOGS

Yule logs that burn with a beautiful, multi-colored flame add a novel touch to holiday gatherings around the fireplace. The logs are made by soaking tightly rolled newspapers in a strong solution of salt blue vitriol (copper sulphate) and water. After the rolls have soaked for a week in a wooden barrel or large earthenware crock and dried thoroughly, they will burn for a long time with flames of various colors. CAUTION: The solution is poisonous.

L. R. Schell Married To Miss Echelberry

At a solemn High nuptial mass Saturday in Most Heart of Mary church at Shelby, Miss Wilma Jane Echelberry became the bride of Lawrence Raymond Schell of Shelby route 2.

Miss Echelberry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Echelberry, Sr., 365 Plymouth street, was given in marriage by her father before an altar decorated with two baskets of white chrysanthemums. Music by the children's choir preceded the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a floor length gown of imported rose point lace and nylon tulle, featuring an oval portrait neckline of scalloped lace, a tight-fitting lace bodice, and long sleeves that ended in points over the wrists. Three full skirts, two of nylon tulle and one of lace, completed her costume. She wore a bonnet-type cap of the same lace trimmed with pearls. There was a waltz-length veil which fell from the cap. Miss Echelberry's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book and lilies of the valley, from which fell white streamers.

husband of Shelby schools. She is employed by Shelby Salesbook Co. and he at Wilkins Air Force depot. They will live at 79 1/2 East Whitley avenue, Shelby.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Five candles lighted the birthday cake for Kathie Willett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Willett, Nov. 6. Kathie's birthday was really Nov. 4, but a Saturday party was really better for everyone. Terry and Victoria Glass came from Mansfield to help Kathie celebrate along with her brothers, Gerald and Timothy, Judith Ann and Dolores Willett, Carol and James Roberts, and Richard Van Wagner completed the guests list.

Another Saturday birthday party was held at the Joseph Burrer home Nov. 13. It was a surprise party for their daughter, Judy. That cake gleamed with six candles. The guests who were Judy's playmates had a gay time pinning the tail on the donkey, watching Judy open her gifts, and eating cake and ice cream.

Want a Cat?

The auctioneer's gavel banged down on a good bit of farm and household equipment at the Foster Smith farm in Fenner road Monday, but there were some things missed.

The Smiths have a platoon of cats - 10 of 'em, at last count - that they want to dispose of. Reason: their new place in New Haven isn't big enough for such an encampment.

Want a cat? See Mrs. Smith, either at the farm or at her new home in New Haven, the former Garrett residence.
