

XMAS SEAL SALE HITS ALL TIME HIGH OF $7,412.69

The board of directors of the Huron county T. B. and Health association met in the Norfolk chamber of commerce rooms in the Huron County Bank building on Thursday evening, Feb. 25.

Preceding the main speaker, Dr. Chas. H. Edel, Huron county health commissioner, reports of the Christmas Seal sale, the mass X-Ray survey, and the Oak Ridge Rehabilitation project were heard.

The 1953 Christmas Seal sale has reached an all time high of $7,412.69, it was announced. Of the 4477 people surveyed 39 non-tuberculous pathology, and 88 were reported as suspected tuberculous. The actual number of cases of tuberculosis found as a result of the X-ray has not yet been determined.

The date of the annual meeting of the association to be held in late April will be announced later. Mrs. Bessie E. May reported on the Oak Ridge Rehabilitation project, having attended a January 13 meeting of the organization, in which she saw patients to Oak Ridge at Green Springs.

Dr. Edel, in his talk, stressed the goal of the Ohio Department of Health and the splendid facilities of the State TB hospital in Columbus with its low cost of $7.25 per patient day, which is cheap in contrast to other illnesses.

The public, he said, should be educated as to what the Health Department can do for you and what it may or may not do.

The new food service law has brought about the licensing of 28 places serving food to the public and the work involved proceeding as rapidly as possible.

Dr. Edel believes that the spreading of TB can be greatly cut down by clean practices in serving food by eating establishments. A chest X-ray for every food handler should be mandatory.

Affording great interest to his listeners was his list to make one's own personal inspection of eating establishments.

Following the adjournment of the board, the various standing committees of the association, and the executive committee met.

Schools Close; Road Traffic Snarled As Blizzard Hits Area

With the mildest weather reported for February in 22 years the last day of the month brought a 12-inch snow which paralyzed traffic, closed schools in this vicinity and brought all business to a standstill.

Cleveland, with a reported 15 inches of snow, and the area west to Vermilion, were hardest hit by the downfall. However, all of north central Ohio felt the impact of the snow, which closed all of the roads in this section for several hours, with hundreds upon hundreds of trucks and cars stalled on the highways.

The snow began coming down Sunday night and continued all through the night. State Route 61, main highway in and out of Plymouth, was closed by the heavy snow around 10 o'clock Sunday night. Traffic became snarled as cars attempted to ascend Morse's Hill south of town, and jack-knifed trucks on State Route 61, north of Plymouth, cars that could have gone through.

Following the deluge of snowflakes Monday, roads that were partially opened during the day were again blocked Monday night when high winds drifted the snow. Hundreds of employees of the Air Depot in Shelby and other industrial plants were kept from work due to road conditions. It was late Tuesday afternoon before snow plows from the State and National Highway Departments cleared the roads to Shelby. It required from one and a half to two hours Monday night to travel between Plymouth and Shelby, and Tuesday, but resumed on Wednesday morning, only for a couple of hours on Wednesday night. Conditions threatened the area again with more snow and high winds. A lower temperature was predicted for Wednesday, but by the afternoon the outlook for forecasters were optimistic to the extent that the area will not suffer from any additional snow.

Virgil Cameron had his car extensively damaged early Monday morning when it became stalled on a normal road of snow. Cameron had time to leave the machine before it was struck by a freight train which was moving at a normal rate of speed.

At Plymouth, high winds after-noon began melting the snow, but it is fearful that with a light snow and wet roads, that an 'ice hazard' could arise if the temperature goes down to below zero.

No serious accidents were reported locally as a result of the heavy snow, but wreckers and all snow plows were kept busy Monday and Tuesday assisting those motorists whose cars and trucks became imbedded in drifts or skidded off the highway.

COMMUNITY UNITES FOR WORLD PRAYER

Plymouth as a community is asked to join the wide band of prayer which will encircle the world for the Festival of World Prayer will begin with the rising of the sun, and people will worship and pray together consecutively as the earth turns and until the sun sets. This world program grew from a consciousness that a concerted prayer for peace and world service was necessary. It is now sponsored by the National Council of Churches.

The united service this year in Plymouth will be at the Methodist church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The three Protestant churches of the town in turn serve as the host church. The church this year will be open to all people for those who wish to make their silent prayer at the World altar.

The World Day of Prayer was first begun in 1887 by Presbyterian women who designated a day for prayer in their church for Home Missions. The movement has grown in interest and scope until now it is one of the high observances of the church year for the National Council of Churches.

Each year the Council asks a woman or group from a different country to prepare the service used in all of the participating 113 countries. This year Mrs. Chakko, of Lucknow, India, wrote the program. She was a high caste Hindu, and was born in Tiruch, Cochín State, South India in 1905. She was a graduate of Queen Mary College, Madras, and the student of Isabella Thoburn College of Lucknow, India.

Since preparing this world service, "I Am Come That They Might Have Life," Miss Chakko was stricken with a heart attack, and died in Lucknow, India, on Feb. 1, 1954, after a short life of intense work and interest in the good of her people in India.

Ben was a member of the 1600 Year old Orthodox Syrian Church of Malabar. This is the oldest known Christian church in history. Her theme is also the motive of the service, "I Am Come That They Might Have Life," to strengthen usefulness to himself and society.

High School Chorus The Plymouth High School Music Club will furnish the music for the World Day of Prayer service, under the direction of Mr. Robert Dubbert. They will sing an ancient hymn, "I Am Come That They Might Have Life," composed by Will James. Committee leaders who will be among those taking part in the evening's program, are Mrs. Lincoln Stouffer, Mrs. Francis Miller, Mrs. Robert Haas, Mrs. James Root, Rev. C. R. McEeken, and the chairman, Mrs. L. E. Smith. A list of the other participating communities are taking part in the service also.

The committee members and the merchants around the Square are sponsoring the program. There will be a display of World Day of Prayer arrangements in the various store windows. The posters for the service, also have attracted much attention.

Offerings taken in the World Day of Prayer are used toward the literature expenses of the program. These offerings are sent to the National Council of Churches for Mission support around the globe, schools, hospitals, internominational health centers, migrant health projects, etc.

Wins Gasinator At Kroger Store

Mrs. Sally Dietrich, wife of Harold Dietrich, was the lucky winner of the Gasinator, Saturday evening, at the Kroger Store. The drawing took place at 8 o'clock and little Patty Hampton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hampton, was chosen to pull out the winning name.

The Gasinator was given away absolutely free after a three week period in which customers were invited to sign their names to a rotary blank. There was nothing to buy, write about, or any red tape, it was just a gesture of appreciation for patronage and a prize for the Kroger Store.

The Gasinator given away was completely automatic, with full two bushel capacity, very easy to install, completely fireproof with glass insulation. It is also very economical to operate and has a sealed flame and is approved by the American Gas Association. It takes care of garbage as well as rubbish by dehydrating.

Mrs. Dietrich was quite thrilled with the gift stating it was the first thing she ever won.

Mrs. Ethel Reed is manager of the local Kroger Store.

IN SANDUSKY HOSPITAL

Council To Consider Time Limit Parking

Mayor Glenn West and his councilmen had a heavy schedule Tuesday afternoon, but they met for the month of March. Various business was transacted, and matters of importance were discussed with much attention devoted to the parking problem which has been created here during the past year or so.

Councilman Royal Eckstein made a motion to establish a four hour parking limit in the business district, but agreed to withhold his motion for another two weeks to allow council to think about the matter, especially to determine the four hour parking limit in the business district, and to allow a couple of councilmen to lean toward parking meters as a means of solving the problem and to allow a couple of out-of-town motorists leaving their cars on the Square for long intervals, and was thought that this practice should be eliminated as well as out-of-towners who use the Square for parking.

Mayor West stated that there should be one time limit while Councilman Eckstein opposed a two-hour limit which was suggested by Councilman Smith. It was agreed that the problem will be given much thought and study, and that definite action will be taken at the next meeting.

The report from the State Bureau of Inspection has been received by council, and on the whole it was very favorable. There were a few findings against former members in the entering of fines and costs in the mayor's court, and incidental items in regard to the county and state department derived from fines.

On the whole," said Mayor West, "we think Plymouth came out top in the recent audit."

Mr. P. Cummins, state examiner, spent several months here the latter part of 1952 and into the first month of 1953, auditing the vital records office. He has been in a few years since the audit was made.

Fire Chief Dalton McDougal was present at the meeting and asked that the dump cart take a dump of refuse from burning rubbish and waste paper at the village dump when high winds are prevailing. A couple of fires in recent months have gotten out of control which made it necessary for the department to make a run.

This goes, too, for those who haul rubbish and the dump cart. Don't set a fire or rubbish pile at any time. The street committee brought up street improvements for the coming year, and it was agreed to have a meeting with Richard and Huron Counties and their representatives.

Round THE Square

By Phyllis Whitlouse

AS ALL OF YOU are aware, the March Lion roared in Monday and so did most of the people in Plymouth. Leonine qualities of the almanac beast were much in evidence on March 1, and folks were either snored in a block or out of town. The soft white snow was beautiful as it silently came down Sunday night, but by late Monday it just didn't look any more. Crossing the Square was almost as hazardous as Eliza crossing the Ohio River, on Monday, and by early Tuesday morning when the stuff was frozen, we felt like Mr. Everest climbers. Then around Tuesday noon Gusto Ray and the sunshine had cleared quite a bit of the accumulated snow away and you could see the shiry black roadway again.

THE ADVERTISER has made the airwaves again, and if you would like to hear a little more about it, listen in Saturday, March 6, at 12:45 p.m. to WKRF 880 on the dial, which is in Columbus, Ohio. This time it was on the news story "Our Postal Service."

WELL, I'm not complaining about the weather this week, for I'm looking ahead to July and August when we all will probably be eating it out under a hot sun. I have always contended that one keeps warmer more easily than staying cool, so I'm just happy with a little snow and ice.

WE ALL will agree that the countryside Monday morning looked like a veritable paradise. . . . Here gathered on trees and branches, the birds were in a manner that makes the most fantastic Christmas card look a little off color. And while most of us generally didn't go to work, yet we do take time to admire the beautiful scenes it makes. Of course, admiring the scenery is a little more of the romantic side of life, but we become more realistic when we have to handle the snow shovel.

CHIEF OF POLICE Bob Meiser has a very good memory. It was back when Joe Lash was mayor that two men entered Greenlawn cemetery and turned over several tombstones and did considerable damage. Harry Smart, a resident of Plymouth at that time, was apprehended and fined, but his companion, who was unrepentant, escaped. However, a warrant was made out for Jerry Nease, who was charged with participating in the offense. He resided here, too, but escaped at that time, making his way into Michigan.

IT WAS while Jerry's brother, Wick Nease, of Norfolk, was visiting in a local refreshment stand Tuesday night, apparently very late in the evening, that Chief Meiser recalled that the old warrant on in the mayor's office, and he dug it out, and went down to the Plymouth townships area, where he took Jerry into custody. A hearing was scheduled in Mayor West's court Wednesday afternoon.

QUITE A FEW of us in Plymouth feel that the highway department has done a very good job in Richland county down during the big snow storm. No blame is pointed toward anyone, but there was a long lapse of time in the snow being placed on the Plymouth-Shelby road, and especially for allowing snowdrifts to build up Monday night. Reports came to us that the highway department had placed its snow-removal equipment away for the season when the snow came. The Plymouth township trustees are to be commended for getting their roads open, and Street Supt. Meiser and Gusta Ray did a good job for Newburg on the highway. We have seen road crews work all night to keep roads clear, but I suppose things have changed a little since then. Money, after all, isn't everything!

CHRIS WEBER, who is journeying in Florida, sends me a check with a beautiful Cypress Gardens card on it, and the ain't swimming, either. . . . Hals Root, who has the habit of riding daily through the snow in the Plymouth-Shelby road, and especially for allowing snowdrifts to build up Monday night. Reports came to us that the highway department had placed its snow-removal equipment away for the season when the snow came. The Plymouth township trustees are to be commended for getting their roads open, and Street Supt. Meiser and Gusta Ray did a good job for Newburg on the highway. We have seen road crews work all night to keep roads clear, but I suppose things have changed a little since then. Money, after all, isn't everything!

Cub Scout Pack Is Growing Here

The monthly Cub Scout Pack meeting was held at the high school on Thursday February 25. With 75 in attendance the Pack session was opened by the Cub Master Donald Markley.

Den 2, under the direction of Doug McQuate, Den Chief, presented the colors and led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, by the entire Pack. This was followed by singing America, led by Bob Young.

This month being the "Blue and Gold" month of Scouting, there was no Den project. New Den

At this time, the Cub Master announced that Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hankamer had offered to serve as Den Father and Den Mother of a group of boys from New Haven. They felt at this time it would be almost impossible to start a Pack of their own, and had asked to join our Pack.

With permission having been secured from the Sandusky Scouting Area in which New Haven is located, they were applying for membership here. The Cub Master asked for the opinion of the Pack, in the light of this request and the information given of the situation.

Supt. Coon made the motion that they be accepted into the Pack and Jim Ross made the second. The Pack voted 100% for the motion, and the group was accepted and will be known as Den 4.

Comments should be given Mr. and Mrs. Hankamer for offering to help the boys in their community that they might be able to join such a worthy organization as the Cub Scouts. The Cub Master told them that they would be given all the assistance possible to help them get started.

At this time Bob Lewis was presented his Commitment card for 1954 and Dick Lewis was presented his membership card for 1954.

While preparations were being made for the advancement ceremony, a collection was taken up for the refreshments that were served at the close of the meeting.

In the ceremony that was held around the campfire the following "Bear Badges" were awarded: Gary Utis, Jim Markley and Dick Lewis. "Wolf Badges" went to Gail Aumend, Larry Dick, David Studer, Charles Bachrach, John Lasch and David Kuscinic; "Arrow Points", a golden arrow to Fete Christian, Silver arrows to Roger McQuone, Jimmy Fetters and David Roberts.

This was followed by a showing of pictures of the three Dens in both still and moving pictures, all of them being in color and were taken by Jim Root. He also showed a movie on the "Cole Brothers Circus" which afforded a lot of amusement for the Cubbers as well as the entire Pack.

The Cub Master asked Don Einsel for a few remarks. He spoke of the annual Finance drive, its purpose and how it would be used. Den has done a lot of work for Scouting in Plymouth for the past twenty years and deserves much credit for the important part he has played in its success.

The meeting was closed by Den No. 1, led by Jack Gage. They sang Happy Birthday to Don Markley, and also sang "Good Night Cubbers". With the retreat of colors, the meeting was brought to a close.

The next meeting will be held March 25 at the high school, the program being "An Adventure". Any person who cares to attend is welcome, whether they have children in the Cub Scouts or not. Especially those who have boys who will soon be old enough to join the Cub Scouts, are welcomed to these meetings.

DEN 1 — FEB. 24th

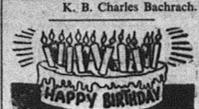

All members but one of Den 1 met with the Den mother, Mrs. Donald Markley. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance, and was followed by checking activities and achievements. James Fetters and Bobby Wechter were reported as the highest in the den for their accomplishments.

For recreation, the group played Black Man with Roger McQuone winning three times. John Bowman one and Everett Eckstein 1. They also played three games of "laughing".

The meeting closed with the living cookie and Mrs. Markley serving cookies for refreshments. James Fetters, K. B.

DEN 3 — FEB. 24

Den 3 met at Mrs. Dick's, February 24th. We played games. Mrs. Dick had us sing a song. We had a treat and closed with living circle.

KENNEDY KWARTETTE

Now it's a Quartette at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy. On last Wednesday, February 24, 1954, the fourth daughter arrived at the Shelby hospital for the Kennedy family, and weighed 6 pounds 7 oz. She has been named Maureen, and if she and her three little sisters, Susan, Bobbie Jo, and Rebecca, can sing as well as their mother, Lucy Briggs Kennedy, can, they have a future waiting for them on TV and the air waves. They can be known as the Kennedy Kwartette!

From My Mother's Scrapbook

by Rev. L. E. Smith
A GOOD SERMON

While the respected principal of one of the nonconformist colleges in Wales was taking a stroll along the college lawn before going in to the classes one of the junior students happened to cross his path.

"Good morning, Dr.!" he exclaimed.

"Good morning, good morning!" was the kind reply.

"Excuse me, doctor," said the student, "I am trying to compose a sermon on a certain text, and am not able to get on very well. What would you consider the 'characteristics' or the 'essentials' of a good sermon?"

"There are three," replied the good doctor, "and whenever composing a good sermon don't forget them. First, a sermon must be 'moving'; secondly, a sermon must be 'soothing'; lastly, a sermon must be 'satisfying.'"

"Thank you very much, Doctor; I will endeavor to compose along those lines."

The sermon was prepared and preached. Traveling in the same train on Monday morning soon after the doctor espied the young student and beckoned him to come into the same compartment.

"Well," he said, "how did you get along with the sermon?"

"Just as you told me, doctor," was the reply. "I preached it yesterday, and strictly adhered to your instructions. In the first place, it was a 'moving' sermon, because I saw several walking out; secondly, it was 'soothing,' because the deacons were nearly all asleep; and, lastly, there is no doubt of it being 'satisfying,' because they never asked me to come again."

"A Penny" For Your Thoughts, We Hope

Herb Ryan, of Norwalk, is in quite a dither as to how to cast his vote for the Kent State University ROTC Military Ball queen. He is chairman of the queen selection committee, and is shown in a picture received by the Advertiser and now placed on the bulletin board, surrounded by six beautiful finalists, one of whom will reign over the annual dance Friday night at Meyers Lake ballroom, Canton.

One of the group is Penny Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Christian of West Broadway, so may we suggest Herb, "A Penny for your thoughts?" Others included in the group are Donna Eager, Madison; Dorothy Harvey, Millersburg; Janet Shuman, Mayfield Heights; Estella Gage, Painesville; Donna Veon, Kent.

Lady Nods Wisely

CRANSTON, R. I.—A motorist from this city sheepishly swears this story true—but even if it is not, a newspaper would have to be pretty selfish not to pass it along as he tells it.

He was driving on the Merritt Parkway toward New York when his car stalled and he discovered the battery was dead.

He flagged down a passing driver, who was a woman, and she agreed to give him a push to get the car started.

Because his car has an automatic transmission the driver explained to the lady, "you'll have to get up to 30 to 35 miles an hour in order to get me started."

The lady nodded wisely and the stalled driver climbed into his car and waited for her to line up behind him.

He waited. And waited. Then he turned around to see where the woman was.

She was there all right—coming at him at 30 to 35 miles an hour.

The crash caused $300 damage to his car.

Red Clover Varieties Are Still the Best Bet

Kenland is still our best bet. There were a good many red clover failures last year and since some of these were Kenland some people have asked if Kenland was falling down. A check of information available indicates that it is not.

Kenland is resistant to southern anthracnose but not to northern anthracnose. However, in spite of this Kenland has been equal or superior to all other red clover varieties tested throughout the state. It is a good yielder, produces a better second growth and more plants live through into the second year hay.

Penncoet, a new variety developed in Pennsylvania, has in recent tests been showing up as well as Kenland in Northern Ohio. In Pennsylvania it is reported to be even superior to Kenland.

Kenland has also been a superior yielding variety in Indiana and Michigan.

Local strains of red clover which have been reproduced on the same farm or in the same community for many years have also frequently shown up well.

Order Goes Out To Clean Up All Highway Trash

COLUMBUS—Ohio's highway department has declared an all-out war on roadside trash. Highway Director, S. O. Linzell said thousands of dollars are spent each year by the "operations division" because of the untidy habits of some motorists and their passengers.

The highway officials reflected that trashy highways make a poor impression on tourists, and that natives of the state were likely to take more pride and interest in their highways if they were kept neat and clean.

As a result, the highway department will attempt to bring the problem before the Ohio public through a publicity campaign. Linzell concluded, "If this doesn't work, then the highway department will have to resort to stringent enforcement of the anti-trash law. Success in this program will not only clean up the highways, but will save the department some money."

ment will have to resort to stringent enforcement of the anti-trash law. Success in this program will not only clean up the highways, but will save the department some money."

Ohio Farm And Home Week To Feature Youth

Youth day, the last day of Ohio Farm and Home Week this year, features discussions of problems of young people, contests and recognition ceremonies. George Crane, assistant director of extension said today. Farm and Home water for non-drinking, household use.

Discussion topics include parent-teenager understanding, how to get started in farming and credit problems of young farmers. In special sections of the youth day program, fifteen F.F.A. district public speaking winners will vie for state honors; and 5, 10, 15, 20, and 25-year 4-H club advisors will receive recognition for their service to Ohio young people.

From My Mother's Scrapbook . . .

By Rev. L. E. Smith
Just 45 years ago, Harry McGunagle, then 17, sat in church at Birkenhead, England. He composed a rhyme and wrote it in the fly-leaf of a hymnal.

Then he forgot it, until this week when he saw his verse reprinted in the Press, with an answering verse written by the Rev. A. Cumings of London, England.

Here's Mr. McGunagle's:
"Some go to church just for a walk."

Some go there to laugh and talk;
Some go there to gain a lover.

Some go there their faults to cover;
Some go there for observation.

Some go there for speculation;
Some go there to see and nod."

Here's Rev. A. Cumings' reply:
"Some do not go to church for they have no desire at all to pray;
And some don't go because they fear."

Their friends will laugh, and scoff and jeer.
Others refrain because, oh no!
They're too superior to go!

But thousands still at church are found.
Who seek their God in duty bound."

McGunagle is head of the pattern ward department of the Winton Co., and lives at 7907 Wentworth Ave.

Company To Vie For Coffin Award

American Gas and Electric Company, parent company of The Ohio Power Company, is one of five electric utility companies in the United States which, because of outstanding achievements during 1953, have been invited to submit entries for the annual Charles A. Coffin Award, the most coveted honor in the electric industry. It was announced today by Walter H. Sammis, president of the Edison Electric Institute.

Companies singled out by a reviewing committee to participate in the competition are American Gas and Electric Co., The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., The Connecticut Light & Power Co.,

Texas Electric Service Co., and Wisconsin Electric Power Co. These companies were screened from a total of 33 previously cited for outstanding achievements by a nominating panel representing every section of the nation.

American Gas and Electric Company was cited by the reviewing committee for "pioneering advanced engineering concepts with resultant developments in equipment and operating efficiency, which in turn help electric utilities to maintain low prices for electricity while constantly improving service — this pioneering culminating in 1953 in the first transmission line in the U. S. to operate at 330,000 volts and the first generating equipment utilizing steam above its critical pressure."

Final decision as to the winning company will be determined by a committee of judges composed of Dr. James R. Killian, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; C. W. Kellogg, past president of the Edison Electric Institute, and Mr. Sammis.

The Coffin Award was established 32 years ago by the Charles A. Coffin Foundation, in the name of the first president of the General Electric Co., to be given annually "for distinguished contribution to the development of electric light and power."

Announcement of the winning company and presentation of the award will be made at special ceremonies during the Edison Electric Institute's annual convention to be held June 1-3 in Atlantic City.

She was greeted by many "Happy Birthdays", and given nice gifts to remind her of the anniversary. The school friends and playmates who came for the afternoon were entertained by games and contests and many prizes were won by the little folks.

The birthday luncheon of ice cream, decorated cakes and candy was a high spot of the afternoon, and each one received a favor, a little celluloid horn to assist in the noise-making.

Besides the children present, Sandra's grandmother, Mrs. Walter LeGore, from LeGore, Maryland, was able to be present for the celebration, and also Mr. Stanley Lovewitz, of Mansfield, Bob Muea and Emil Sarpa from Willard, and Shirley Bradford and Joan Postema of Plymouth, and members of Sandra's family.

A good time was had by all, including the adults.

Plymouthites Attend Concert

A group from Plymouth motored to Norwalk Tuesday of last week to hear the concert presented by the Columbia Concert Trio, the second in a series of three, sponsored by the Norwalk Community Concert Association.

The program featured numbers by Richard Gregor, pianist, Teresa Testa, violinist, and David Wells, cellist.

Of special interest to music lovers in this area was Miss Testa, who hails from Cleveland and at the age of nine began the study of violin and at 12 she won her first scholarship for the Cleveland Institute of Music. Her concert debut was a solo engagement with the Cleveland Summer Orchestra when she was only 15. After this she studied under full scholarship at the Cleveland Institute, where she entered as a conservatory student and from which she was graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Music. She has appeared extensively in and around Cleveland and also as soloist with the Institute Symphony and the Cleveland Orchestra.

The Norwalk Community will begin a drive for membership in this area at an early date. The next concert will be given March 17th in Gallon.

Attending from Plymouth were Mr. and Mrs. Royal Eckstein, Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. David Bachrach, daughter Dianne and son Charles, Janet Smith and Nelson Roberts.

BEGIN WORK ON RICHLAND-CO DIRECTORY

A crew of trained enumerators from Rural Directories, Inc., Toledo, Ohio started a house to house survey of Richland County last week.

All rural areas will be canvassed to gather information for a new County Farm and Business Directory.

To guarantee an accurate and complete survey, mail-cards will be left for those not contacted personally after one call back. Residents supplying the necessary information and returning the mail-cards immediately, help materially in completing the survey.

The Company makes routine checks, by mail, to be sure that the survey cards are free from error. If there is any question concerning the spelling, phone number, etc., a letter is sent to confirm or correct the information. Prompt replies to this correspondence greatly increases the accuracy of the book.

Enumerators will ask the following questions: Family name, first name of husband and wife, mailing address, name of road or street, phone exchange, acres owned or tenanted, side of road house is on, occupation or types of farming and names and ages of children.

1954 Fishing License Effective March 1st

COLUMBUS, O.—The 1953-54 Lake Erie ice fishing season, termed the best in years, has come to a close but right on its heels comes word that the fish in some of the southern Ohio lakes are beginning to bite.

Law enforcement officials of the Division of Wildlife today are recommending fishermen that the 1954 fishing license become effective on March 1. It is further pointed out that each license purchaser should get a digest of the fishing laws. If, at the time of purchase, the license buyer is not given a digest, Wildlife officials say one should be requested as each license issuing agency Ohio should be amply supplied with them.

The George Pickens family from Carey, Ohio, have renewed for another year, saying that despite the fact of so many new names in town they still enjoy getting the paper.

We are happy to pass on the news that "Pick" is feeling much better than at any time since he became ill! With all the vitamins and such that he gets now, he will probably soon be out again. Good luck, you former Plymouthite, and behave yourself so that you can get back and see us around the Square again.

The Willard Ross family no longer have Plymouth for a mailing address, as the sons have grown up, married, and have established homes of their own in other neighborhoods of the U. S. But we keep

Mrs. Edith Coleman of Dundee, Michigan, renewed her subscription this week, so the Advertiser will travel northward with the news. Dundee sounds like an Irish name, or maybe it's Scotch.

Another paper going to Michigan is that with Sam Nimmon's name on it. It was a birthday gift this time for Sam from P. H. Root. We think that was a dandy idea and hope Sam does too. The Sam Nimmons did not go to Florida this year, but if they have had as nice weather in Michigan as we have had, (up until this Monday that is) they probably are glad they stayed north. There are always quite a few of us robins that stay under the local eaves.

Better Eating
BY JEAN ALLEN

VEGETABLES WITH INTRIGUE

Pep up your winter meals! Add seasonings with a special twist to your favorite vegetables or try vegetables that are new to you.

The trick is in the sauce for whole boiled onions. The all-American yellow skinned onion is on the pleasant list right now.

Saucy Tricks

To one cup well-seasoned medium white sauce, add two tablespoons lemon juice, stir over boiled onions. Sprinkle lightly with paprika and serve at once.

Two tablespoons of peanut butter blended into one cup of white sauce gives a French touch to boiled onions. Pick out the smallest onions from the sack for this dish.

A savory cheese sauce is achieved by adding one-half cup grated American cheese and one-half teaspoon dry mustard to one cup white sauce. Stir over very low heat until cheese melts. Pour over hot cooked onions and sprinkle with buttered crumbs.

The Grand Touch

Fresh mushrooms are now commonly found most any time of the year in the colorful fresh vegetable display in your food store.

The jumbo caps are best for stuffing and baking. The sweet little buttons are ideal for sautéing whole in butter or margarine to serve on hamburgers or steak.

A Hint or Two

Fresh mushrooms should be stored in the refrigerator without washing until used. Then douse them in hot water, scrub with a very soft-bristled brush, trim off the tip of the stem and go on from there.

French Fried Mushrooms

Beat one egg with two tablespoons water. Dip washed whole mushrooms first in the beaten egg, then in fine dry crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat at 360° F. (a soft cube of bread will brown in one minute) for two to three minutes or until golden brown.

Yield: Four to six servings.

KEMPER FOOD FOUNDATION, CINCINNATI, OHIO

Mrs. Aiden Willet and Mrs. Mabel McFadden. They are to report at the next Quarterly meeting. Plans were begun for a Family night in April, with a film to be shown.

Mrs. L. E. Smith, assisted by Mrs. F. Pitzon, conducted the further study course of "Jeremiah" with review, maps and questions. The Fellowship Circle served refreshments at the close of the evening.

Tourists Meet In Spite Of Snow And Ice

The Tourist Club truly understood the meaning of the expression, "March coming in like a lion", when they met at Cornell's Monday night, as guests of Miss Pearl Elder. However a breath of spring greeted them as they enjoyed the centerpiece of yellow daffodils and delicate flowers from California, and a delicious meal which also carried out the color scheme. It repaid them for the difficult walking and driving.

The president, Mrs. Belle Bachrach, presided over the brief business meeting and also was in charge of the lesson. She had chosen an article from the National Geographic, entitled, "Life in the Land of the Basques." A portion of southwest France and north-central Spain has been inhabited by these people who probably date from Stone-age times. While their origin remains unknown and their language has no clear affinity with any other European tongue, it may be that they are remnants of a once widespread population. According to legend, they believe themselves descended from Tubal, grandson of Noah, who came to Europe before the Tower of Babel was built, thus they speak the language of Eden, the tongue in which Adam wooed Eve.

There are less than a million Basques in Europe, around 250,000 living in South America, and an estimated 50,000 in California, Nevada and Wyoming. The United States welcomes them as sheep herders.

Nine members responded to roll call and Mrs. J. A. Fenner of Cleveland was a guest. Mrs. Belle Bachrach will be hostess to the Club in two weeks with Mrs. Ruth Nimmans leading.

1954 winter wheat crop is estimated at 750 million bushels on basis of acreage planted and December 1 crop condition.

Mothers Club will Meet Next Tuesday

The Mothers Club meeting for March will be on next Tuesday afternoon, March 9, at the Elementary school, at 3:30 o'clock. This is one week later than scheduled, but due to the weather and closing of schools this week, the meeting could not be held on the regular date.

The business meeting will be followed by a Question Box, with a panel of teachers and parents to discuss the problems. This was of special interest last year and so it being repeated. Anyone having a question about school or studies, please see that your question is written and put in the container. It need not be signed.

Parents and friends, or family members, taking part or attending the meeting, will be counted in the attendance contest that day and the Grade room having the largest number of representatives at the Mothers Club, will receive an award of ice cream bars. For this reason your child will probably be most interested in getting you and Grandmother or Auntie to attend next Tuesday!

Flower Show Promises Spring At Cleveland

Old Man Winter has us kneedeep in snow and slush around the Square in Plymouth, but down in the auditorium in Cleveland there are blooming bushes and a breath of Spring. The reason is the 11th annual Home and Flower show, which opens Saturday for a nine day visit with all the beautiful blooms and exhibits. The theme is "Spring in the Berkshires", and the attendance is expected to top 219,000, the number counted for last year.

New Pastor At Assembly of God

Rev. Richard Meuge of Akron assumed his duties Sunday as pastor of the auditorium in Cleveland there are blooming bushes and a breath of Spring. The reason is the 11th annual Home and Flower show, which opens Saturday for a nine day visit with all the beautiful blooms and exhibits. The theme is "Spring in the Berkshires", and the attendance is expected to top 219,000, the number counted for last year.

February Weather

February, 1954 had the highest average temperature for the month of February ever recorded at this station in 22 years. The average for the month just closed was 37 degrees, or 9.2 degrees above normal. The highest for the month was 66 on the 15th. On only three nights did the mercury drop below 10 degrees (8 on the 7th and 3 on the 12th). Many of the days were like Spring, and considerable plowing was done.

Precipitation, while frequent, totaled only 1.53 inches — a deficit of .56 inch. Snowfall totaled only 2.8 inches.

However, on Sunday the 28th, beginning at 5:00 p. m. and continuing all night and the next day, we had the heaviest snowfall this winter, measuring 12.2 inches, with drifts many inches higher. (When melted, this 12.2 inches was equivalent to 1.17 inches of rainfall). All schools were closed, only about 5% of the men reported for work at the local plant, and business uptown was practically at a standstill.

But the sun came out bright and clear Tuesday morning, and with Spring just around the corner, we'll soon forget this unpleasantness and be watching for our first robin. J. A. R.

I wish to thank members of the Willard Hospital Staff, nurses and nurses aides, and Dr. Faust for their efficient services, relatives and friends for cards, gifts and visits. Everything was greatly appreciated. William Burns, Route 61, Nor. 4 pd
