Estel Waits, 68, Dies Of Heart Disease; Retired Policeman

Estel N. Waits, 68, 20 Mills avenue, a retired policeman who had been employed as night watchman at Fate-Root-Heath Company died at Willard Municipal hospital early Thursday morning of a heart condition.

He had been ailing for some time, and was discharged from the hospital Aug. 20 after treatment for heart trouble. He was readmitted late Wednesday and succumbed at 6:30 a. m. Thursday.

Mr. Waits retired from the Plymouth police force early this year. Although his heart condition was severe, he was able to perform his duties.

He was born in New Haven township July 25, 1886, attended rural schools there, and moved to Plymouth to open a restaurant on the south side of Main street after he had farmed near New Haven for a number of years.

Mr. Waits joined the Plymouth police force in 1944 and served 10 years before his retirement for reasons of age Mar. 1, 1954. He was appointed assistant chief of police in 1948 and served in that capacity until his retirement.

Mr. Waits is survived by his wife, Violet, two sons, Woodrow of Willard and Henry of St. Petersburg, Fla., and a daughter, Mrs. Leo Schodorf, Willard. A brother, Thurman Waits, Steubenville, also survives.

A special funeral rite was conducted at the McQuate Funeral home Friday at 9:30 p. m. by the Praterian Order of Policemen, Mansfield of which the deceased was a member.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the McQuate Funeral home, by the Rev. Thomas M. Sheehy, pastor of the Methodist church, and interment was in the New Haven cemetery. An honor guard of policemen and state highway patrolmen escorted the casket.

Public reception of the new grove site was so satisfactory, officials said, that it will be made into a permanent site for future use. Electricity has been installed and lavatory facilities provided.

W. L. May, 92, Dies; Don Willett's Uncle

One of the oldest natives of Plymouth township died in Clearview sanitarium, Ashland, Sunday, and was buried here Tuesday.

He was Willard Levi May, uncle of Don Willett, a 92-year-old retired school teacher who had lived for a number of years in Shelby.

Mr. May attended Ohio North-western university at Ada, Valparaiso Normal school, Valparaiso, Ind., and the Spencerian School of Business, Cleveland. When he was not teaching school, he was engaged as a building contractor.

Two sons, Harry W. May or Shelby and Roscoe L. May of Xenia, and a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Rogge Willett, are immediate survivors. There are five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Dye Funeral home, Shelby, by the Rev. Darwin Haynes.

Piecemeal Sewers Soution Rejected

In a special meeting called for the purpose, Plymouth village council voted unanimously Monday night to proceed with the entire program for a sewage disposal system, rather than undertake the work piecemeal.

This means the voters will be called upon to approve expenditure of about $375,000 on Nov. 3, and approval of the $125,000 bond issue will enable the council to contract for the entire program of new sanitary sewers and a sewage disposal plant, probably of the activated sludge type.

On Tuesday, in accordance with the council's instructions, Mayor Glenn West and Councilman Elmer Markley assembled additional data relating to portions of the sewage disposal system not included in the 1948 plans of Alden E. Stilson & Associates, Ltd., which Mayor West will submit to the Stilson firm at Columbus.

From these, it is expected that Stilson will be able to prepare an estimate that will be accurate, within 10 per cent.

These figures, the council will go before the people to explain its program. A community dinner will be staged Sept. 30 in the new cafeteria of the elementary school, after which a representative of the State Health Department, the engineering firm (Stilson) and a bonding company will present short prepared reports on the program and then submit to open floor questioning.

Complete details as to the sponsorship and cooperating groups will be available in a few days' time.

After lengthy discussion, the council seemed of one mind in the observation that despite the fact that the present estimate of the cost of the whole project have been received, when they are reduced to the same basis, they are more or less the same. This would tend to clear up the suspicion that Stilson had endeavored to gouge the village. What happened, the council now seems convinced, is that Stilson's specifications call for more work than the other two firms which prepared quotations knew about, or planned to perform.

The council also seemed agreed on the point that to do the work piecemeal - it had been suggested to construct two interceptor sewers running generally south and north of the village, plus a disposal plant - would in the long run cost the taxpayer more than if it were done at once.

It has been our habit to go along with Mr. Eisenhower for some time now. During the war, it was either go along with him or go to the guardhouse. After the war, when he was the executive of the NATO establishment at Paris, it was sensible to go along with him because he was doing sensible things. Since he has been in the White House, we have not had much reason to find serious fault with what he has done, and we have told our friends so, and we have continued to back him.

But as of today, we are stopping that. We are stopping it because we simply cannot go along with Mr. Eisenhower in his endorsement of the Republican candidate for Governor of Illinois - which is none of our business except that as a Republican we dislike to see the leader of our party supporting misfits and bigots - and we find that the dose of James Rhodes for Governor of Ohio is too strong for our stomach.

What Mr. Eisenhower intended, it would appear, was to say "I want you to win" when he said "Good Luck" to Mr. Rhodes during a recent visit to Washington. He meant that he thought, as leader of the party, that all good Republicans should support Rhodes. If he thinks this, he has made a mistake, we believe, and we do not hesitate to point it out.

Mr. Rhodes is a political maverick in the sense that he is outrunning his party. To the extent that he is independent of the party machine, and has his own ideas, we give him applause and wish him well. But he has used the prerogatives of his office, and a large staff of investigators on the public payroll, to investigate matters that are primarily to establish political capital for Jim Rhodes.

This is not right. Whatever Frank Lausche may have done, and we do not doubt that he has skeletons in his political closet, too, it is not so bad as that.

What would we recommend to correct the situation? That's easy:

1. Take the office of state auditor out of politics. Make it an office with a 15-year term, non-political, and attract the right kind of man to it by paying well for it. Pattern the office after that of the Comptroller-General of the United States, Mr. Lindsey Warren, who has distinguished himself so well in that office, and done the people a great service.

2. Make Jim Rhodes settle his future with his party and make the party either pull for Rhodes entirely or get another candidate.

3. Vote for Frank Lausche for governor.

But let's get this straight right now. If Frank Lausche wins the race for governor, he is likely timber for higher jobs. He might make a good Senator. We could certainly stand some improvement. But, so far as we are concerned, his political future stops right there. If and when he runs for the presidency, we will be opposed to his election.

We applaud heartily the action taken by Mayor West in cracking down on the reckless driver. There is only one way to stop irresponsible driving, speeding, and the like: crack down, sock the guilty with fines that are big, that mean something, that call for lengthy jail sentences if they cannot be paid.

It is unfortunate that drunken drivers cannot be dealt with by village magistrates. Not adequately, at any rate. A village magistrate under existing law cannot revoke a driver's license, which is the only way to deal with a case of drunken driving.

Mayor West acted wisely last week when he referred a case to the courts at Norwalk. Our county courts are overburdened as it is, particularly that in Huron county. It is regrettable that that court should have been further burdened, and until we change the law, that is how it will have to be. The legislature at Columbus should be instructed by the people to do this.

Of course, we can always hope that Mr. Weaver and Senator Mosher will see the wisdom of such a move.

to the Editor:--

Dear Mr. Editor: This morning after reading your editorial of August 26, may I say our decisions were not controversial. They were solely based on following decisions:

First--The election board recommended both types of machines for trials. However, they did not state to the Board of Commissioners there would be a rental charge of $150.00 per machine for one year. The Board of Commissioners did not approve of this expense because after it was over, we would be obliged to advertise for competitive bids to buy.

Then, the election board sent us a recommendation to buy two members in favor to buy and two opposed. The action of the election board was sent to the Secretary State, and the return was in favor to buy, stating that the Shoup and also the Automatic were both approved.

This decision of the state, as commissioners proceeded to advertise for competitive bids. The bids were opened at 12 o'clock on July 30. Now, the reason of the decisions, rested solely on the questions. Inasmuch as Mr. Dawson had not seen either machine, the commissioners deferred until August 16 to decide the question. We commissioned, Messrs. Selby, Adams and Friday had seen the machines when Mr. Adams was one of the commissioner. So Mr. Dawson, Mr. Selby and Mr. Friday, with the Clerk of the election went to Sandusky and Norwalk to see both machines in the respective election board offices on August 9, 1954.

On August 16 at 10 a.m., the commissioners with the representatives of both companies, had a hearing. Then, the representative of the Shoup machines raised an issue on a bid of a 40-spec machine. Both companies had submitted competitive bids on a 50-spec machine which meets the approval of the respective counties using them. Due to this alternative bid, the second postponement was made to have the opinion of our legal advisor--the prosecutor.

And, also as far as politics, money changing hands, did not enter into question as far as the decision of the bid. As far as Mr. Friday is concerned, his decision was based solely on the best bid.

The people of Richland county elected John C. Friday as commissioner. May I say, I believe I have a fair education by having high school, college and also a teacher, that my judgment does not rest on sophomores.

Yours very truly,
John C. Friday

Aside to Postmaster Spourvine: we received by first class mail some more of that propaganda put by the Commies. Dunno if it was sent by the party, or by an interested citizen who wanted us to see what the Commies are up to. In either case, shouldn't this stuff be barred from the mails?

Phin would give any beautician a whole dollar if she could produce in his rapidly thinning hair a curl the likes of what the little Faust girl has. Man alive, they're some guys.

Wish Joe Dush wouldn't hide those caricatures of village officials he doodles during council meetings. We'd pay quite a price for the privilege of printing them.

After a slow start, the Huron County fair is getting some good publicity. This is a worthy enterprise, deserving of the support of all C. Ellis, the round gentleman in the little stone building, is our delegate to the board. Nice goin', Carl.

It's always hard to say goodbye to an old friend, and particularly so when he has given so unstintingly of his time and effort to the service of his community. Such is the case with Easton Watts, who always did his best whenever he was called upon. It's a suitable epitaph for a devoted public servant: he always did his best. We're proud to be able to say it now, and ashamed we didn't say it when he could hear it said. The postponement of the brotherhood turned out to serve at his last rites. Isn't it a pity that we always wait until a man is dead to show him what we think of him?

Phin notes that Belleville's Blue Jays, with a regularly assigned coach and an assistant coach plus one volunteer assistant coach, number 51 candidates. The Belleville school will field a jayvee team that will play six or seven contests. The coach says, for publication, "So far, we are very poor fundamentally. We have a long way to go before we even resemble a ball team. The spirit of the squad of the squad has been good so far and this will aid in our improvement."

In four or five years, when our enrollment increases, we should have a squad of 25 or 40 out for practice every day. It'll make for the right kind of a squad and the right kind of competition - with schools who have about the same enrollment as we do and the same number of coaches, so that the outcome will depend only on three things: the breaks, the size of the boys in the fight, and the size of the fight in the boys. The Pilgrims play Belleville here under the lights Oct. 1.

Our Chip has passed his seventh birthday. He had a dozen kids in the cake and ice cream and Bobby Wechter and Neil Dinning were won prizes, as did Junior Lasch. Gosh, it'll soon be time to get him a football suit, and then a khaki one, or maybe navy blue. Never, over his Old Man's dead body, will it be marine green.

Erine Henes, in the Wellington Enterprise gives attention to the sewer rental plan as a means of financing that village's sanitary sewers and disposal plant. He says there has been resistance to the rates proposed, which was to be expected.

The rate now under consideration and likely to be adopted is 40 per cent of the quarterly water bill. The minimum water charge is $4.20 (bearing in mind there are over so many more subscribers and the gallonage is less there for the minimum than here), so the sewer charge for three months is $1.68, or less than two cents a day.

Oberlin has had for 25 years a rate of 75c a quarter. Last week a rate of five times that was approved, as a means of paying for the sewer disposal system. The new minimum rate there will be $3.75, and rates will continue to be based on water consumption.

Tedious business, but Sta*Nu can't help you, and it's worth our study. It could - it must - happen here.

The new fence around the playground of the elementary school is a credit to the community. So that it won't always be a debit to the Board of Education, kindly slip a few spot into the hand of the clerk, Earl Cashman, or Superintendent Coon.

Mrs. J. Harry McGregor was telling us in Mansfield the other day that to her way of thinking, when He made Hen Fackler, He tossed the moud away. Just her way of saying he was something extra. Too bad there aren't more like him.

Doc Ray Hatch rode to the county seat and back with us the other ayem. Got some good ideas. Doc has, and now he's assistant dean of the College of Education at Michigan State college, he's getting somewhere. We told the Doc one thing he might work on is some way to encourage the citizenry to take an interest in public affairs, including the schools and the village council. Said he'd think about it.

We tried to convince H. V. Ruckman the other day that our police could do with a good flagpole, mounted above the street so passersby in Route 61 could see our government's place of business. Phin volunteered to donate a handsome 8 x 12 flannel flag. Hope Mr. R. will comply, and while he's about it, re-fer the sign in the window, which has recently suffered damage.

Phin is investigating a story to the effect we're due to have dial telephone service in Plymouth. It's almost too good to be true.

The 58th annual Shaeffer-Miller family reunion held at Mary Fate park Sunday saw Carl Wentz, Shelby, elected president and Miss Abigail Swinford, Olivesburg, elected secretary-treasurer. Fifty persons were in attendance.

The family is descended from Jacob Miller, who came to the area northeast of what is now Shiloh from Harrisburg, Pa., in 1842. The Shaeffer family had intermarried with the Millers in Pennsylvania and Mrs. Elizabeth Shaeffer Holz was among the settlers in this community.

Dr. Samuel Holz, a homopath, who practiced medicine in Plymouth and Shiloh for many years, was Mrs. Holz's son. In days gone by, as many as 200 attended the annual family reunion.

A basket lunch was served at 12:30 p.m. Sunday to guests who assembled from Shiloh, Shelby, Ashland, Mansfield, Olivesburg, Upper Sandusky and Donna, Tex.

One pound of fresh tomatoes will serve four persons.

Wild Boy Here Excited Public 50 Years Ago

By Richard Tullis

In the early months of the year 1905, reports began to reach Norwalk of a Wild Boy who lived in the woods near Plymouth.

The Humane Society sent investigators here and they soon discovered that a 12-year-old boy known only as Pompey Brown was living in the woods with his father and grandmother, one Calamity Jane.

The sheriff of the county finally attempted to serve habeas corpus papers on the boy's family so that he might be civilized and sent to school.

The Wild Boy and Calamity Jane barricaded themselves in a rude hovel and dared the county officials to take the boy.

It was only after the use of burning sulphur, the old time peace officers' tear gas, that the two were driven into the open.

The boy was taken to Norwalk and given his first sight of railroads, streets and turn-of-the-century civilization. Reports say that the boy was at first bewildered and confused by the strange sights, but never frightened.

Calamity Jane was nearly 80 years old at the time and was never seen wearing anything but a dress made from an old coffee sack.

It may be that many will remember the story and perhaps even the location of the rude hovel that served as home for this Wild Boy of Plymouth for his early years.

What finally happened to Wild Boy of Plymouth after receiving his first bath and haircut in 12 years, back in 1905 is unknown today.

NOW! You can afford WARM FLOOR HEATING in every room!

JUST LIKE A FURNACE... BUT WITHOUT COSTLY DIRT COLLECTING PIPES AND REGISTERS

Here's how SIEGLER pours heat over your floors throughout your home... Only Sieglers give you push-pull-double action heating. The built in powered air system, pushes heat into the rooms while it pulls the cold air out.

But ORDINARY HEATERS force you to live in 1 or 2 rooms

You pay for an ordinary heater over and over again because they continually waste heat out the chimney and on the ceiling!

Sieglers PATENTED AUTOMATIC OIL FURNACE HEATER THE HEATER WITH THE PATENTED INNER HEAT TUBES

SIEGLER is the revolutionary method of WARM FLOOR HEATING in every room!

Tropical Floor Heat QUICKLY GETS TO THE BOTTOM OF THE COLD FLOOR PROBLEM

AND LOOK— don't let BTU RATINGS confuse you!

There is BTU INPUT... there is BTU OUTPUT... but what keeps your family warm is BTU USEFUL... the working BTU'S that heat your home! In BTU USEFUL... Sieglers OUTRATES 'EM ALL! A 50,000 BTU Sieglers gives more USABLE HEAT than much higher rated ordinary heaters. A 75,000 BTU Sieglers furnace-volume heater can only be compared to a central heating plant.

Miss Cheesman Is Married Here

Summer Blossoms Decorate Altar In Church Rites

Before an altar decorated with two seven-branch candelabra, white carnations, and two wicker baskets of white gladioli, Miss Marilyn Edith Cheesman became the bride of Dale W. McPherson in the Methodist church Saturday evening.

Miss Cheesman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cheesman, 252 West Broadway, and Mr. McPherson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. McPherson, 21 Christie avenue, Norwalk.

The Rev. Thomas M. Sheesley pastor of the church, presided the ceremony, which was preceded by a musical interlude. Mrs. Willard Ross, an aunt of the bride, played the organ and Robert Ross, a cousin of the bride, soloist, sang "Oh Promise Me", "Because", "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Cheesman gave his daughter in marriage. She was attired in Chantilly lace over bridal satin, featuring a full skirt extending into a train. The long sleeves ended in points over the wrists, and a satin panel marked the center of the entire train. There was a matching head piece of lace and tulle, adorned with a finger tip illusion veil. She wore a string of white pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

ed with a finger tip illusion veil. She wore a string of white pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Cheesman carried a white orchid and ivy on a white prayer book. She was attended as maid of honor by Miss Katherine Donenburgh, 239 Sandusky street, who wore a bronze crystal ball-length gown with matching stole, mitts and headpiece, and carried a Colonial bouquet of chrysanthemums in fall colors, with streamers. Miss Wanda Curran, a bridesmaid, wore a similar gown in turquoise.

Miss Cheryl Fried, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length pink dress of net over taffeta with matching headpiece and carried a basket of pink flowers. George Cheesman, stepbrother of the bride, was ring bearer. Master Cheesman was dressed in a navy blue suit.

Robert Gump, Norwalk, was bestman and Keith McPherson, Shelby and Carl McPherson Plymouth, were ushers. They are brothers of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother was attired in an amethyst-colored dress and wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. McPherson wore dusty rose. Her flowers were also white carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church rooms. A four tiered wedding cake decorated with blue bells and surrounded with flowers featured the master table. Behind the serving table a miniature bridal party was set in a church window. Mrs. Herschel Fried and Mrs. Haldon Cheesman assisted at the table. Miss Darlene Cheesman, a niece of the bride, presided over the guest book with Mrs. C. M. McPherson. Miss Patricia Kattell of Mansfield presided at the punch bowl.

For the wedding trip, the bride changed to a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories, and carried a white orchid from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will live temporarily with the bride's parents until a new home in the Willo-Root addition is completed. Mrs. McPherson is employed by Lumbermens Mutual Insurance Co., Mansfield, and her husband by McPherson Motor Sales, Plymouth.

The bride is a graduate of Plymouth High school, in the class of 1952, and Mr. McPherson of Norwalk High school in the class of 1945.

Out-of-town guests were from Mansfield, Norwalk, Shelby, Willard, Bellefontine.

Five Generations Gather at Residence Of Mrs. Slessman's Sister at Attica

Mother of Mrs. Lola Slessman, Mrs. Eva Hamilton at 94 is the oldest resident of the village of Attica. Recently she saw members of five generations of her family in the home of another daughter, Mrs. William Fisher, in South Main street, that village.

It was such an event that photographs were taken. Included were Mrs. Hamilton, her daughter, Mrs. Fisher; Mrs. Fisher's daughter, Mrs. Earl Shurlow, of Vassar, Mich.; Mrs. Shurlow's daughter, Mrs. Charles Hart, of Saginaw, Mich.; and Mrs. Hart's daughter, two-year-old Deborah Hart.

Of interest was the fact that the line descended through the distal side of the family, Mrs. Hamilton, who was born at West Lodi March 23, 1960, has seven children living. Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Slessman, Mrs. Enid Lembright of Los Angeles Cal., and Mrs. Gladys Link, Attica, daughters, and Ray- of Miami, Fla., and Don and Forrest, both of Attica, sons. One son, Glenn, and an infant daughter are deceased.
