

The PLYMOUTH ADVERTISER

Truck Driver Lost Like Sheep, Now He Feels Sheepish

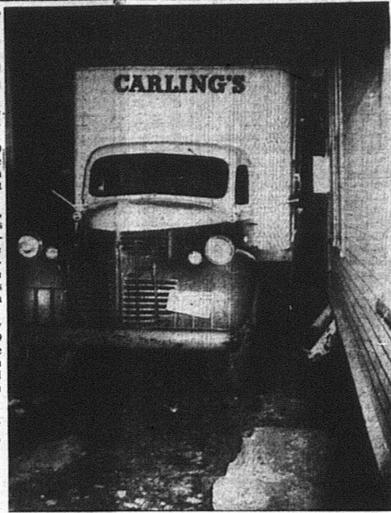

"Hey, are all your alleys this narrow?"

The thickness of his speech gave him away, and last night he appeared before Mayor Glenn West to explain it all, against a $100 deposit left Saturday night after he had driven his beer truck through the parsonage and the Methodist church.

Apparently Robert Wickeiser, Ashland, driver for the distributors of Carling's beer and ales, has sampled some of his product, because he didn't know that the short stretch of ground between the church and the residence of his pastor is not a public thoroughfare, nor a roadway of any kind.

The Rev. Thomas M. Sheeley notified Plymouth police about 9 p.m. Saturday of the mishap. The truck was all but wedged between the two buildings. Police surmised the driver was in the alley between Dix street and West Broadway and became confused.

Representatives of the owners of the vehicle came at 11:20 p.m. to remove the truck.

Here's what happened after Robert Wickeiser took the space between the parsonage and the Methodist church.

Mail Xmas Parcel Early, USPO Says

There are 85 days 'til Christmas, and the post office will be open for business only 69 of them. That's the word from Plymouth post office.

Postmaster Claude E. Sourwine said yesterday that patrons should make a special effort to prepare packages early, and particularly he drew attention to packages destined for overseas delivery.

"The recommended mailing period", Mr. Sourwine said, "is Oct. 15 to Nov. 15. Delivery by Christmas is not guaranteed for packages mailed after Nov. 15. The post office staff will be ready during business hours to assist any patron in the proper packaging, addressing and affixing of postage to his parcels."

Boxes addressed to Army or Fleet Post offices may not exceed 70 pounds in weight or 100 inches in length. Air parcels may not exceed two pounds in weight.

"The postal regulations as regards shipping of alcoholic beverages and other prohibited matter have not been changed," Mr. Sourwine said.

Forgot his Forget-me-Not

It was Forget-Me-Not day, and Bill Wetzler admits he did just that!

He forgot about it, and so publicity for the event, which Elmer-Parrott Post American Legion, sponsored, was circulated by word of mouth only.

Bill has a good excuse; his wife was in Willard Municipal hospital, suffering from arthritis. She's home now, and Bill says he won't forget again.

The response was pretty good, anyway. Al Griffith learned yesterday that his car contained $23.97, which he collected by going about the Public Square. Officials of the state-wide drive reported it a success all around. Plymouth included.

F-R-H to Unveil New Locomotive Tuesday

For the second time in its history, Plymouth Locomotive Works, division of Fate-Roo-Heath Co., will stage a sales convention for its marketing representatives at Mansfield next week, during which it will unveil a revolutionary development in mining locomotives.

The locomotive, a 40-ton MDT type, is designed to operate in mining tunnels and shafts where heretofore gasoline propelled locomotives have been unsafe because of the fire hazard. The motor in the new locomotive, which is under test by the U. S. Bureau of Mines, will eliminate the fire factor.

The sales convention, which has been planned by Miles Cristian, a director of the company, will be under the chairmanship of Roy Johnson, sales manager. Miss Madeleine Smith will be convention hostess.

Morning meetings and evening social gatherings will take place at the Mansfield Leland hotel. The convention opens Monday evening when Plymouth Locomotive Works will offer a banquet at the hotel. A floral replica of the Plymouth locomotive will highlight the occasion.

Tuesday morning there will be lectures on sales promotion at the hotel and during the afternoon a school of instruction will be conducted in the plant here.

Tuesday evening the sales representatives will be guests at a banquet offered by Detroit Diesel engine division and Allison division. General Motors Corp. Wednesday morning there will be further lectures at the hotel and Wednesday afternoon the new locomotive will be demonstrated. That evening, Caterpillar Tractor Corp. will entertain the guests at a dinner.

Thursday morning the convention will come to a close and John F. Root, treasurer, will be host at a golfing party at the Westbrook Country club, Mansfield.

Twenty-two sales representatives and 16 suppliers, together with some of their wives, are expected to be in attendance.

Mrs. Hossler Found Injured by Police

Summoned by Jean Pitzten on her way to school Tuesday morning, Plymouth police investigated calls for help in the home of Mrs. Ira Hossler, North and Sandusky streets, and found Mrs. Hossler on the cellar floor with a broken hip.

The McQuate ambulance was called and Mrs. Hossler was removed to Willard Municipal hospital, where her condition is good. She had apparently lain on the floor for some time before she was able to attract the Pitzten girl's attention.

TRAPPED BY RADAR

Wade McKow, 32, East Main street, was summoned by Mansfield police Tuesday for speeding at 40 miles an hour in a restricted zone. The new radar device was used to detect the violation.

Harold Cashman To Direct Appeal

Dr. Gaskill, 84, Dies; Practiced Dentistry Here for Half Century

After an illness of several weeks, Dr. John T. Gaskill, 84-year-old retired dentist, died in Willard Municipal hospital Saturday night. Death was attributed to uremic poisoning.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. John Herion, pastor of the Willard Methodist church, Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the McQuate Funeral home, Richland Lodge No. 201, F. & A. M., conducted Masonic services at the graveside in Greenlawn cemetery.

Dr. Gaskill practiced dentistry in Plymouth and Willard for 54 years before his retirement in 1951. He was born May 1, 1870, at Wolf Station, in Tuscarawas county, the son of Peter and Jemima Gaskill. He came to Plymouth in 1893, shortly after he had been admitted to the practice of dentistry by the state dental board at that time.

Dr. Gaskill practiced dentistry in Plymouth and Willard for 54 years before his retirement in 1951. He was born May 1, 1870, at Wolf Station, in Tuscarawas county, the son of Peter and Jemima Gaskill. He came to Plymouth in 1893, shortly after he had been admitted to the practice of dentistry by the state dental board at that time.

It was often said that he had no intention of coming to Plymouth, but that the railroad by mistake offloaded his luggage here. He liked what he saw and stayed. His first office was upstairs over The Advertiser office, and later he moved over Wyannd's grocery, what is now Shurt's grocery. When he retired, his office was in the Cornell building.

In 1904, he was elected mayor of the village, and he served in that office until 1910. In 1933 he returned to the political arena, and although he was a staunch Republican, he won on that ticket for the mayoralty and continued to head the village administration until he served on the Board of Education and as clerk of the board.

When that dentistry in 1951, he remarked that dentistry as a profession had progressed mightily in his day. He attributed this to the development of anesthesia, and to the development of prophylactic instruction in schools and in the home.

A quarter of a century ago, he was instrumental in bringing Dr. Charles E. Hansen to the village. Together with the late J. W. McIntire, he induced the young physician to establish in Plymouth. Dr. Hansen, the former Laura Wilcox, survives, as do two sons, Laurence of Willard and John Henry of Lima, and a daughter, Mrs. C. L. Van Derah, Willard. There are seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Dr. Gaskill was a figure on the Public Square for all but the latter years of his life. For a time, his dental practice in Willard exceeded that in Plymouth, but he always lived here, and moved to his home at Willard at 1912-East High street after his retirement. He was awarded the 50-year pin by his Maconic lodge in 1950.

J. Harold Cashman, merchant and president of the Board of Education, will head the United Appeal drive which starts in Plymouth Oct. 15, it was announced today.

The United Appeal is an "umbrella" arrangement by which the American Red cross, the Heart Fund, the Muscular Dystrophy Fund and the Cancer Fund obtain funds in Plymouth and other parts of Richland county.

This year, the second in which Plymouth has participated, solicitors will be striving to surpass the total of $1,147.81 collected last year, in what drive officials regarded as an excellent response.

A corps of 26 associated has been lined up by Mr. Cashman to assist him in the drive. Prospective donors will receive an American Red Cross membership card and pin in March, 1955, if they have donated to the United Appeal drive, it is announced.

The United Appeal campaign is so devised to eliminate four individual campaigns for funds by the four agencies participating (Mansfield Community Chest is a part of the drive, but it does not receive any funds from donations in Plymouth).

"I have every reason to believe that our community of Plymouth will back the UNITED APPEALS DRIVE, as they did last year. Let us also note that our contribution covers four different charities. What has now been consolidated in one drive, the American Red Cross, Heart Muscular Dystrophy and Cancer Funds, please watch for our Plymouth workers, beginning Oct. 5."

Mr. Cashman stated today. Committee heads reported to Mr. Cashman will be Thorr Woodworth, merchants, business and professional; Don O'Rourke, Rev. Thomas M. Sheeley, Methodist church organizations; the Rev. Ralph M. Felix, Presbyterian church organizations; Mrs. Lillian Votaw, Lutheran church organizations; Mrs. Roy Farnwall, St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church organizations; and Mrs. Theora Kennedy, social organizations and clubs.

House-to-house canvassers are Mesdames Edna Dick, West Broadway from 205 east side south; Kenneth Myers, West Broadway from 205 west, both sides; Robert MacMichael, west Broadway, from 205 east, north side; Robert C. Eckstein, Broadway east to Ellis residence; Robert F. Echeverry, Plymouth street addition north of Plymouth street; Thomas Webber, Plymouth street, west side; Karl McGinty, Plymouth street east side.

Also, Ralph M. Felix, Mulberry and Birchfield streets; Royal W. Eckstein, Broadway street, west side; and Light street, Broadway, Sandusky street, east side; Emerson Shields, Springmill road; Ernest Rocks, Park avenue north of Elm street; Charles Pugh, Porter, Maple and North streets; Stanley Condon, Railroad and Dix streets and Mills avenue.

Contest Starts Today

A contest for all subscribers to The Advertiser commences with this issue. An aerial photograph of a farm in the immediate Plymouth area will appear in this newspaper each week for 52 weeks.

The subscriber who can identify the farm and is the first to do so will receive two free tickets to Cinemascope at the Plymouth Drive In theatre with the compliments of the editor.

The owner of the farm, upon appropriate identification, will receive a handsome black-and-white photograph of the farm, free of charge, along with the compliments of the editor.

Commencing next week, these photographs will appear regularly until the enrollment date in 1955. Others may join by paying 75 cents, Mr. Coon says.

Parents of first grade children should send the premium with the child to the teacher. No further action is required.

Parents of children enrolled in other grades may communicate with the teacher for further details. The program insures school children from door to door - commencing when the child leaves home in the morning and continuing in force so long as he is proceeding to or from regularly scheduled school classes, or a reasonable approximation thereto - and protects him against accident, injury, or death attributable to his own negligence or willful misconduct.

Enrollment in the program now will provide protection to March, 1955, when all policies are up for renewal. This is done in order to make administration of the program simpler.

ENTERS HOSPITAL

Mrs. Kit Foraker, 246 Plymouth street, mother-in-law of Police Chief Robert L. Meiser, was admitted to Shelby Memorial hospital Tuesday for extensive tests incident to a thorough diagnosis of a persistent ailment.

Council to Consider Where Debate Issue

With only four weeks and one day remaining before election, the village council will meet Tuesday night under some urgency.

The council has not as yet received the final report on the proposed sewage disposal plant and sewer system from Alden E. Stillson & Associates, Inc. There are some signs that it will not be easy to obtain.

The reason is that the Stillson firm has a good many projects under consideration, and some of them are going projects, rather than paper plans. Such time as it has naturally is given to going projects rather than those that are approval is yet to be decided.

Too, the council must lay plans to take the issues to the voters before election day if it enters any notions of succeeding with the bond issue.

Just what the council will decide upon is uncertain. So far, it has discussed:

1. A community dinner, after which representatives of the state health department, the consulting engineers, and a bonding firm would present 2- or 3- prepared talks and respond to open forum questions.

2. A "town meeting," probably in the high school, to discuss the issue.

3. Holding of a council meeting in the high school auditorium, with appropriate publicity, urging the voters to attend. The assurance that the sewer lines would be thoroughly discussed.

It seems clear now that the first proposal, the community dinner, will not be adopted. Councilman J. Ben Smith is unable to find a group willing to put the dinner on, although he has tried two or three. Some of the council members claim that voters of the village will not attend, because there is the attraction of a meal to lure them. Others do not agree.

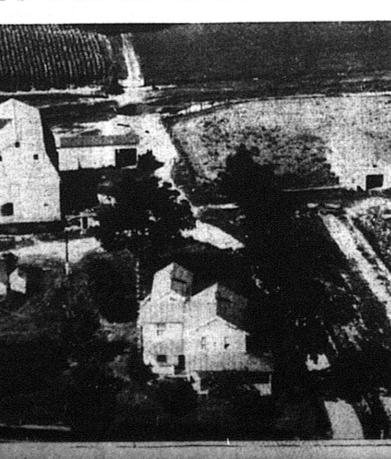

Those experienced in presenting bond issues in other communities say that the "town meeting" technique has been tried often, with varying success, none of it good. They say the meetings generally disintegrate into a pitched battle, because those who attend them come for argument rather than information.

The holding of council meeting in the high school auditorium appears to have some support. Those who support it say that many voters dislike to appear in the tiny, crowded village council chamber, particularly the women who realize they would be among men only. These persons would probably be willing to attend a meeting in the high school, proponents of the idea claim.

Whether the meeting in the high school will materialize is not certain. It is clear that the council will go to the people before election in some form, on generally the data now available with the exception of a more detailed report from the consulting engineers.

Tuesday night is when the council will probably decide.

Pilgrims Open Play Here with Blue Jays

Rated underdogs in their first home contest, Plymouth high school Pilgrims play the Belleville Blue Jays at Mary Fate park tomorrow night.

The Jays saw a nine-game winning streak extending over two seasons broken last week by Frederick gone with them in some yardage game against Maumee Valley. The long game was not so successful. Only Port connected with one back because of a penalty.

Plymouth is expected to start Ed Taylor and John Fox on the flanks, Franklin Eckstein and Dick Golden on tackles, and Mickey Hampton and Bud Berber at the guard posts. Jim Jacobs will be over the ball. Jim Hunt will probably go at quarterback, with Tom Marvin at quarterback and John Fugers at full. Port will carry the mail from tailback.

Coach Fred Martinielli's Blue Jays number 41 men, boasts a good record and were able to form a jayvee squad because of the large number of aspirants. The Pilgrims worked hard this week on those mistakes which occurred most frequently Saturday - butterfingerness in the backfield and leaks in the center of the line. Seldom used hallways, foyers or corners of large rooms can become a functional extra room for TV viewing, a home "office," sewing or hobby center by setting them apart with a distinctive wallpaper. Optical illusion designs are particularly successful in changing the pace within a room, or from one room to another. These designs that "fool the eye" have an incredible third dimension. Many, such as the seashell design in this photo, look as if they can be picked right off the wall while others have a perspective that appears to stretch miles into space. In either case, the wallpapers increase the apparent width or depth of a room, and, most importantly, mark it as a spot that's special and out-of-the-ordinary.

Football—

Hamilton will call the signals, defense and - so far, at least - a sputtering attack. They opened their season with a sound thumping of Butler, 26 to 0, and dropped the second contest, snapping their win streak, to Fredericktown, 6 to 0.

Leonard Stoner is the top Jay jay operator behind the line, but a turned ankle will keep him on the sidelines for much of the game. Tom Hamilton, does the passing from his quarterback slot in the Martini variation of a tight T and split T offense. Ron Koch-heiser, a guard, is a fair punter.

Belville will probably start Steve Schlosser and Jack Bennett at the flanks, Doyle Jordan and Truman Freeman at tackles, Don Gerhart and Bud Smith at the guards, and Cecil Flynn over the ball.

Hamilton will call the signals, Larry Kilgore run at left half, Dick Holton at right half, and Bruce Gehrsch at full.

Appreciation gifts were presented to the group's advisers, Mrs. George Stroup and Mrs. Francis Miller, at the last meeting, Sept. 22 at the home of Nancy and Sally Barbour, when a wiener roast was given.

Plans were also laid for a play to be given by the 4-H club at Shiloh during the Richland county federation meeting.

All kidding aside, we are glad the Indians won a pennant. It is good for baseball and good for baseball fans for somebody else to win now and again.

The Indians put together some new players, some old ones, a lot of good luck, and a generally weak league to win their championship, but it is nonetheless a championship because of those circumstances.

Al Lopez, the Indian manager, did a good job. Cleveland and Cleveland fans owe him a vote of thanks. Whether he can get his team up to defeat the Giants—which he was unable to do consistently in spring training—is, of course, a horse of another hue.

But win or lose, we for one would like to see Bob Feller, the Van Meter farm boy, start another World Series game. He is one of the greats of baseball. He is Mr. Cleveland. His friends and wellwishers will be disappointed if he does not get the chance.

What about it, Al?

The Air Force says now that no fraud was involved in the offer for sale at public auction of silver medals as lesser metal. It did find that negligence was involved, and it says the offending workers have been censured.

Col. Narce Whitaker, who assumed command of Wilkins Air Force depot four days before the sensational revelation that silver was offered—and sold—as lesser metal, has his work cut out for him. That such a thing could occur suggested that all is not right in the state of Denmark. And Colonel Whitaker himself added emphasis to that suggestion by summoning the employees of the vast depot and telling them pointblank just where they rate by comparison with half a dozen other depots around the nation.

Col. Whitaker called attention to some glaring faults, and some not so glaring. It is his job to correct them. It is our job to support him wherever and whenever he needs support.

It is not easy to do that. For one thing, he doesn't want every Tom, Dick and Harry monkeying around in his business. He's right on that point. For another, it's not the Air Force's way to ask for help. All it does is to ask the people to pay the bills. And so we are not likely to know just how we can help, specifically, that is.

But generally, we know we can help by:

- 1. Keeping the pressure on the depot at Shelby. Government agencies do better when they know the folks who pay the bills are watching.
2. Insisting upon better performance. So many of our friends and neighbors work there, we are bound to make the depot straighten up and fly right if we show all concerned how important we think it is to get our money's worth.

It did not get much publicity, but it was important all the same. And there is no time like this week — National Newspaper Week — to call attention to it.

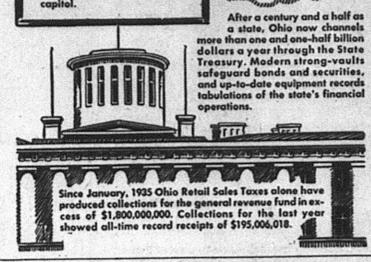

The bar association of nearby Seneca county met recently to consider a motion put forward by a number of its members to request newspapers to stop printing news of small civil suits, the amounts of claims, and the details of the litigation.

Fortunately for us all, some wiser heads prevailed. The motion was refused approval by a small margin. It was explained that the newspaper editor didn't interfere with the way lawyers run their business, so the lawyers consequently have no right to interfere with the editor's business.

Now this is a kind of half-baked answer, but it was a kind of half-baked notion anyway. The real reason why the lawyer group finally turned it down is that it began to realize that the people have a constitutional right to know the news.

The lesson of vigilance comes to us once again. What you don't take care of, you lose. It's no less true of the right to be informed.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY 20,000 persons are duped to death each year by the fallacy that you are safe driving without simply because there is less traffic. Actually, you need only a glimpse of the traffic accident picture to realize how fallacious that reasoning really is. 60% of all traffic accidents, 60% occur in the dark when only 25% of the vehicles are operating. In addition to the 20,000 lives, the night toll last year was $1,000,000,000 and $1 billion of economic loss.

REDUCED SPEED: Driving at night should always be at speeds which permit stopping within range of headlight vision. WATCH FOR SIGNALS: Never crash lights nor stop signs and don't ever move into an intersection until you have looked in both directions after the light has changed. Don't assume that a green light means they're too many to race through the red end of a light.

PROPER VEHICLE LIGHTING: Headlights should be accurate in both clean, and rear lights properly operating. Directional signal lights, both front and rear, should be on and not driver at night should assume the mere act of signaling that he will yield to the driver. He should never intersect traffic unless absolutely sure he has an opening in Chicago. DON'T DRIVE IF DROWSY: Night driving requires keenness of vision and alertness. If you feel sleepy, don't drive. Thousands of people are killed every year by drivers who fall asleep while driving. AVOID ALCOHOL: Darkness which dulls vision and alcohol which slows mental and physical reactions are a dangerous combination at night. If you must drink, for humanity's sake don't drink.

Time being any consideration of children living outside the corporation will still within the school year, numbered 37. Distribution of the population of 1,510 persons was 641 in Huron county and 869 in Richland county. How did the Plymouth population in Huron county, for example, rate as compared with the county as a whole. Huron county's population of adults over 21 amounted to 275, out of a total population of 39,353. The over 35 years of age in the county amounted to 17,612, or just over 62 per cent. In Richland county, where the total population is 91,305, there are 37,911 persons over the age of 35, which amounts to 65 per cent.

Yonmouth's figure of 33 families was 10 per cent of the total. So, which ever $299 annual income is more sedentary, older, and more heavily weighted in favor of the distaff, or so-called weaker, sex, the women.

Income-wise, the average income of Plymouth families, based on the 1950 census, was $3,294, spread within one of two families likely error as follows: $2,000 to $2,499 annual income: 33 families $2,500 to $2,999 annual income: 33 families $3,000 to $3,499 annual income: 35 families $3,500 to $3,999 annual income: 64 families $4,000 to $4,499 annual income: 29 families $4,500 to $4,999 annual income: 19 families $5,000 to $5,999 annual income: 24 families

These figures are a bit nebulous. They represent an interpolation, mathematically speaking, of 20 per cent samples of persons, making four members each. The figures shown above reflect only a portion of all of the families in the village. Yet they reflect the average incomes of 964 people, nearly 66 per cent of the population. The reason for the margin of error there was a substantial number of families not reporting income, for one reason or another.

Thus 241 families in the village had a median dollar income of $3,740 annually. Which affords a good opportunity to size up the average resident of the village in terms of a statistic: White, over 45, married, female, earning or sharing in the earning of $3,740 annually, parent of two children. By comparison with the state, Plymouth differs substantially from the average, which is white, 32 years of age, female, but only slightly married, median dollar income of $3,175. We're older, mostly women, equally married, earn more than the state average. That's Plymouth, 1950 variety, only slightly changed, statistically speaking, in 1954.

Around the Square

By Phineas Whittleseed

So he bet on the Giants. Not so much because we thought they'd win as because what would Earl McQuate have to razz us about if we didn't? Our neighbor on the Square is the squarrest guy we know, and he has done a dandy job as prey of the B of E, as committeeman of his political party, and a civic minded businessman, father, and churchgoer. We hope he was as disappointed as we were the other day when his superior (that's only because this bird got to some rank he didn't deserve) from Mansfield came in and laid about with his profanity, a chip on his shoulder, and the general attitude of a boor. Mrs. Phintool the character who has to be in; said she wouldn't mind being berated if the man would take his hat off, button up his trousers (they weren't), and remember that not everybody was raised in a barn like he apparently was. Dick, ever cross Mrs. Phin. This bird from Mansfield owes her an apology and she means to get it. Wanna bet she won't?

It took courage to act as the council did last week. They mostly get brickbats. Here's a daffodil to them all.

Street seen: lady with a red parasol, and in this weather. Another lady with two parakeets, one blue, other green, in a red cage, getting off the bus. Third lady with Pekinese whose belly barely cleared the sidewalk.

J. Dush, the village solicitor, has a quick one about an Indian child and some of Will-yum Jump's products that's a dilly. Ask about it.

It is denied, that's what it is, that J. Dick is taking up Peruvian citizenship. Couldn't. No immigration visa.

If antiquers were as serious of purpose as our friend E. S. W., they'd probably do as well. The loot we saw going east last week was just the ticket for these fiends for antiquers who keep asking Phin for advance dope on public sales.

Speaking of ads, this newspaper doesn't take a classified ad for a vacant apartment or house where kids are: not allowed. Just a matter of principle. We always refuse copy that says "No children" or "Adults only", and we try to remember to ask on copy that doesn't specify.

Phin is taking up a collection to buy a stethoscope and a pair of dark glasses so Marry Hampton can impersonate Dr. Sam. Phin is also making book on Dr. Sam's trial: Three to one the Doc is sprung.

O. Port assures us that he aimed the picture box correctly, but the shot of Jayne Ann Cappelle showing her two front teeth just didn't pan out. Sorry, J. A.

F. BeVier has been ailing, but not so he couldn't watch the Little Brown Jug on TV. That guy eats, thinks and breathes horse.

Another BeVier (Phin understands they're no direct kin) has some Dutch flower bulbs in his window, making Phin realize that it doesn't hide the checkbook he'll have to hoe the things come spring.

Another of Supt. Coon's achievements is a sharp eye at the business end of a shotgun, which he uses to pink squirrels. How about a squirrel tail, M. J.?

Walking home from the council meeting the other p.m. Phin spotted a fox in Harry Trauger's front yard. The brazen thing went over to C. Lusch's place. Then when Phin yelled at him, he scooted across the street to C. Cramer's place and thence who knows? We heard hounds baying later that night.

Criticism is what helps as all if it is offered in a spirit of honest desire to improve a person or thing. Criticism that is thrown out merely to give vent to prejudices or bias has no real place. The late Arthur Brisbane once said, "Remember this, my boy, the Lord Jesus himself would not have been crucified if he had known, as it must know, that He is perfect, yet if he were going business down the street, he would surely be criticized. Mostly by people who criticize for the sake of complaining, not for the sake of helping." It's a good thing to remember that, and we should all try not to criticize unless it is out of a genuine conviction that the criticism is for the sake of improving some person or thing.

T. Ross is helping us out now and again. Nice boy, polite and helpful, head screwed on in right direction. Make a note to watch him.

There's a guy in this town who has chewed us out once, time to time, and whom we have chewed just once. He had it coming, and he knew it, and was man enough to admit it. When we came here, he helped us over a bigger hump than he imagined, because he couldn't see that our spirit was as hard on us as his. He has gotten ahead because he pushes, and he calls 'em close, like any good ballplayer. So far as we know, he has been both up and down, and from what we could tell, he was involved as well as other. Which is why we're glad to give a boost to him on his newest venture in the movie business, if you haven't been down to see, go take a look. If you're like Phin, most of the movies are not your cup of tea, but whether it's movies or razzin' or whatever, he's got a darn nice set-up and deserves credit. Nice goin', Ed.

Sure hope the Lutherans can induce Dr. Harter to take the pastorate. The church needs a man like him, and isn't it dandy the parishioners there are seeing to it the building is restored to what it was?

Since this is wagging season, what with the World Series, for those who could like to know, here's what we've seen:

$5 with a publisher east of Akron that Burke will take Bender.

$1 with Hizzoner the Mayor that Bender will take Bence (this was made later, after testing the direction of the wind, most of the movies was involved as well as other. Which is why we're glad to give a boost to him on his newest venture in the movie business, if you haven't been down to see, go take a look. If you're like Phin, most of the movies are not your cup of tea, but whether it's movies or razzin' or whatever, he's got a darn nice set-up and deserves credit. Nice goin', Ed.

A free haircut with Bob Lewis that the Browns lose more than four games, he's just as hard on one as the other. Which is why we're glad to give a boost to him on his newest venture in the movie business, if you haven't been down to see, go take a look. If you're like Phin, most of the movies are not your cup of tea, but whether it's movies or razzin' or whatever, he's got a darn nice set-up and deserves credit. Nice goin', Ed.

A box of cigars with Joe Dush for it's still-a-secret. $5 with Nameless (you really wouldn't want to know his name) that the Pilgrims win three games this season.

Know Your Community: Census Figures Show 52.2 per cent of Adults Above 35

The salesman - whether it be the expert in Fuller brushes, the dry goods peddler, an insurance consultant, or a real-estate agent on including his neighbor to "buy" a civic improvement program - always studies his market.

Such a study of the corporate village of Plymouth reveals some interesting facts, based on the 1950 census survey.

As of the filing date of Plymouth census figures, there were 1,510 souls living in the village. Of these, 718 were males, and 792 females.

Only 29 of the total, 11 males and 14 females, were foreign born, and there were only two residents - both men - of the Caucasian race. The population of 1,510 showed a total of 1,040 - 501 men and 538 women - over the legal voting age of 21. (Of these, only 750 have registered as voters.)

Physically, 167 boys under the age of 14 in 1950, and 190 girls under 14. The 15-to-24 age group showed 103 males and 100 females. After that age, the advantage went to women.

In the 25-to-34 group, men totalled 98, and women 109. In the next age group, 35-to-44, the figures were 98 and 112, respectively. Between 45 and 54, there were 90 men and 83 women, and between 55 and 64, there were 78 men and 75 women.

But in ages over 65, the ladies won, hands down. They numbered 123, as against 84 men.

Thus, 52.2 per cent of the village's adult population was over 35 years of age in 1950, and 24 per cent was over the age of 45. Among the female population over 21, unmarried women - widows, separated persons, divorced women, and spinsters - amounted to 32 per cent of the total.

These figures, supplied by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, show that any salesman, regardless of what he is selling, unless it be bubble gum and blue jeans, would be well advised to:

- 1. Point his pitch toward "mature women" - those over 35.
2. Prepare his sales message to an important segment of the population which obviously lives on a fixed income.
3. Sell only those items which can be paid for - and used - within a relatively short time. (Bureau of the Census figures for the nation show that a woman over 50 can expect to live only 17 years, and a man over the half-century mark can expect only 12 years of life.)

Pilgrims Wallop Maumee Valley, 26 to 13, in Ragged Contest

Port Scores Twice As Running Game Begins to Click

The red blood of Plymouth's Pilgrims mixed with the blue blood of Maumee Valley County Day School at Maumee Saturday. The reds won, 26 to 13, in a ragged contest that nevertheless had its bright spots.

Set back in the first series of downs by a fumble which the Mohawks recovered and a 15-yard penalty for illegal use of the hands, the Pilgrims fought back from a seven-point deficit to all but tie Maumee Valley squad at the end of the first period. Long Gary Green, scored for the Mohawks, and they punched off tackle for the point.

Own Port, who played the entire game for Plymouth, directed his own right end for 27 yards and set up the first Pilgrim score. The Mohawks were penalized half the distance to the goal line for a personal foul after Port had carried to the seven. Little Jim Hunt ran a quarterback sneak over the goal for the first touchdown. The rush by Port for the extra point failed.

Franklin Eckstein burst through from his right tackle slot early in the second period to block a Mohawk punt on the Maumee Valley 2. Co-captain John Fox, who played splendidly all afternoon, and Port declined the penalty and on the first play Port skirted right end for the second Plymouth score. He bucked over for the point.

Before the half was over, the Mohawks had moved in a pass drive to the Plymouth 12-yard line, after John Fetters' bulge punch through guard had carried him 43 yards from his own seven to the midfield stripe. The run was called back, as both eleven were outside.

In the final period, nursing the 13-7 lead, the Pilgrims had to break but were able to capitalize on only one of them. Fetters sized up a Mohawk pass and snared the passer, who fumbled, on his own 14. Plymouth recovered on the 12, but a bit of hipper-dipper missed and Maumee Valley recovered the Pilgrim fumble for the Mohawk 24. John Fox intercepted the Mohawks' first pass and Plymouth moved to its third score. Fetters and Port bucked for successive first downs and when Fetters was hit on the Mohawk 47, his fumble squirmed over the goal line, where Mickey Hampton recovered for the score. The try for extra point failed.

A pass interference called against Tommy Marvin gave the Mohawks the ball on the Plymouth 48. Greg Atkinson, a 130-pound back who was inserted into the Mohawk lineup late in the first period, faked a pass, ran for a first down, and in two more plays used the fake pass again to scoot over from the Plymouth 23.

The ensuing Mohawk kickoff bounced off the four yard line and lay loosely in the Maumee Valley restraining line until Ray Eisel had the presence of mind to fall on it. It gave Plymouth the possession with a first down on the Mohawk 41. Port got four yards, Fetters ripped off a first down to the Mohawk 29, and Port again carried through right tackle for another first down. After an offside penalty against them, the Pilgrims sent Port off right guard for six yards, and Fetters and Port blasted into the two, from where Otem plunged for the score. Tom Marvin caught the opposition napping and slipped across with a reverse for the extra point.

Plymouth played well at times, and showed substantial weakness over the guards. The backs, largely through inexperience, fumbled excessively, but pass defense was better. Maumee Valley's biggest gains followed a quick opening pass play in which all receivers were covered, whereupon the runner ran the ball for 15, 25, and 40 yards.

Mickey Hampton was removed from the game in the final quarter with a slight shoulder injury, which is not serious.

Shiloh Lions Defeat Lexington, Go Down Before Lucas Nine

Shiloh's Lions broke even in league play last week, and went offfield from league competition to copy a 14-2 decision from Greenwich as the fall baseball season got into full swing.

On Friday afternoon, Tom Lasser went to the hill for Shiloh and although he fanned a dozen and passed none, the Lions failed to hit behind him and Lucas whipped the Lions, 5 to 1. Tommy McMillan hurled for the south county nine and fanned nine, walked none, and gave up only four hits.

The first league game of the week saw the Lions rally for three scores in the third frame, three in the next, and five in the seventh to down Lexington, 11 to 7. Lasser again pitched for Shiloh and fanned 11 while passing only one.

Fred Rader had two safe bowls for the Lions. Lasser helped his wagers with three good belts.

At Greenwich, in the non-league tilt, Shiloh put together seven scores in the fifth and five in the sixth to out distance Huron county 10 to 7. Fred Rader was the mound for the Lions, and did a creditable job. He struck out 13 and walked only three, and hit two doubles and two singles to spark his offense.

Shiloh Council Closes Two Alleys by School
Because of crowded conditions at the school playground, school authorities requested the village council to cooperate in easing the situation, and at the last meeting Sept-22 the council passed an emergency ordinance, closing the alley, called Narrow street, at the south line of the play ground, to the intersection of Narrow and North streets. Also the short street running from Mechanic street to the school building is closed. These streets are to be closed only on school days, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to be effective Oct. 1st. This action has been taken for the protection of all school children.

While fresh peaches are still available, try peach gingerale frost. Mash two cups of sliced peaches very fine, add 1/2 cup of light corn syrup, and mix lightly with one pint of vanilla ice cream. This mixture makes eight servings. Put it in eight tall glasses, fill with gingerale, and you have an excellent drink.

Local Girl Repeats Vows in New Washington

Miss Kiess Weds Mr. Grove

Attired in a white ballerina-length gown of faille with a tulle skirt trimmed with satin ribbon, Miss Carol May Kiess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Kiess of the Shelby route 3, became the bride of Robert Grove, Jr., in the St. John's Lutheran church, New Washington, Sept. 24.

The seven o'clock double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Lewis Nicol before an altar decorated with white gladioli and a seven-branch candelabra. Mrs. Doris Gooding, organist, played before the ceremony and Lanny Gooding, soloist, sang "Because" and the Lord's Prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a white Bible festooned with white roses. Her length gown featured a matching tulle veil trimmed with satin ribbon, and she wore white mitts of faille. The bridegroom's pearls highlighted her costume.

Miss Miriam Kiess was her sister's only attendant. She wore a yellow net gown with jacket and mitts, and carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow carnations.

Mr. Grove, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grove of Attica, was attended by his cousin, Roger Grove, as best man. Ushers were Leon Hord, Willard, Andrew Tooker, Tiro, and Russell Pine, New Washington.

Mrs. Kiess wore a royal blue changeable taffeta creation with white accessories and a pink rose corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Grove was attired in blue printed jersey with brown and white accessories, and she wore a corsage of yellow roses.

A reception in the church basement followed the ceremony, after which the couple departed for a wedding trip to Denver, Colo. The bride wore a brown and white checked suit with navy blue and white accessories for the trip.

Mrs. Grove, who is employed at Willard Locker market, was graduated from Plymouth High school in 1954. Her husband is a graduate of Tiro High school. They will live in High street, from where Mr. Grove will commute to his employment on the Ohio Turnpike.

Bindweed Low, High Mayflower Editor Is Nancy Barbour But Hard to Dig Out

Even the most lowly things on earth can be upright. This is true of the Upright Bindweed which is frequently and correctly also known as the Low Bindweed. Just as a cougar is a mountain lion, a falcon a duckhawk and a punkie a no-see-um, so is the Upright Bindweed a Low Bindweed. Both of course bear the scientific name Convolvulus spithameae. They both, since they are the same thing, resemble the common bindweeds, but do not twine around neighboring plants as do most bindweeds. Instead they rest against or lean against neighboring plants. In spite of the name Low Bindweed this plant can grow to a height of 20 inches, so here we have a plant that is low but 20 inches high, is called a bindweed but does not bind and is both low and upright. If that confusion does not make you cuss, just remember that most bindweeds make farmers and gardeners cuss because of the difficulty experienced in keeping them in control.

Some of the worst bindweeds have underground parts which are easily broken into pieces during plowing or cultivation. Instead of leading to destruction this merely leads to multiplication since each fragment may grow into a new plant that disturbs the farmer even more.

In spite of this villainous record the white, funnel-shaped flowers are nearly 2 inches long and have a most innocent appearance. They flower from June through August.

There are some 200 species of bindweeds in the world. This species ranges from Nova Scotia to Florida and west to Manitoba and Kentucky. It is not such a bad weed as its close relatives, the small bindweed C. arvensis or the great bindweed C. sepium. In some agricultural areas these species offer serious competition to valuable farm crops. While all of these bindweeds resemble morning glories superficially, they are not considered to be morning glories by the botanists.

Grasshoppers, bees, butterflies, wasps and beetles are known to assist in the pollination of this species. Some kinds of bindweed are able to effect this process without the assistance of insects at all.

The fleshy underground portions of many bindweeds may be most extensive. Some may reach as much as 15 feet underground making it practically impossible for one to dig them out. Chemical weed killers may be the most effective controls. Some use heavy paper or straw mulches to kill the plants by cutting them off from light.

An often-washed small cotton rug needn't go as limp as a rag. Rinse it in a weak plastic starch solution to restore the stiffening finish. That gives the rug body and makes it more soil resistant.

Millers' Feature 'Do-It-Yourself'

The nation's independent retail hardware men will stage the biggest exclusively Do-It-Yourself promotion in history with Millers' Hardware & Appliance Co. joining in the seven-day event that starts Saturday.

Billed as IRHA Do-It-Yourself week, the national campaign will feature a spectacular merchandising program and a huge advertising display that includes a special section in The Saturday Evening Post.

The initials IRHA stand for Independent Retail Hardwaremen of America of which Millers' is one of the 23,000 in the nation. All are easily identified by the special

IRHA symbol which signifies that these hardwaremen are members of the National Retail Hardware Association and sellers of quality merchandise.

IRHA Do-It-Yourself Week opens Oct. 2 and continues through Oct. 9 in virtually every community in the country. It is tailored especially for the millions of "fix-it fans" whose hobby shops and home improvement programs have turned the constantly growing Do-It-Yourself trend into a four billion dollar industry.

Pilgrimettes Win Over New Haven At Softball, 22-16

The score was more like a basketball game, but the Plymouth High girls defeated the New Haven team at softball Tuesday afternoon, 22 to 16.

Sally Barbour was just about the whole show of the Pilgrimettes. She had a perfect day at the bat with five for five, and gave up only 11 hits.

Janet Norris, Nida Stroup, and Shelby Reed each had four base knocks for Plymouth.

The Pilgrimettes belted four home runs and eight doubles, and took advantage of 23 errors.

Joanne Smith started for New Haven, but a big first inning forced Mickey Clark to the mound. One frame was about enough for her and Joanne came back to the hill.

A return match is planned.

Wanna Pup or a Kit?

The Dominick Dorions have nine youngsters they want to give away. Not their own, mind you, but six handsome, male collie pups, recently weaned, and three part-Persian kittens, sex as yet undetermined, but also weaned.

Mr. Dorion says anyone who'll give the pups or the kits a good home can have one, or more. All he needs to do is show himself, pick out his cat or dog, and treat it right.

The Dorions live in the white house just north of the Drive In theatre in Route 61 south of the village.

LAUNDRY TIPS

Here are some ways to get the most out of your automatic washer and dryer. The list is compiled by experts in the home economics department of Whirlpool Corporation. Read it carefully for handy reference, scotch tape it to your laundry wall.

1. Fill washer with water and add soap or detergent before putting in clothes.
 2. For general washing use a good soap or detergent — never both together.
 3. For hard water areas, a detergent usually gets best results.
 4. For washing woollens in hard water, use a good soap but add water softener first.
 5. Bleaching: Use a chlorine bleach for white cottons, hydrogen peroxide for white silks, rayons and wool, one of the new prepared bleaches for nylon.
 6. Rinsing: Unnecessary but if desired add bluing flakes to wash water before soap or detergent.
- Drying
1. Put quick-drying rayons and lightweight cottons in first dryer load to get a fast start on ironing.
 2. Bath towels, rugs and other heavy articles take longer to dry; they should make up last load.
 3. Dry starched clothes separately.
 4. To avoid sprinkling, remove clothes from dryer ironing-dry.
 5. Mix large and small pieces for better, faster drying.
 6. Plastics, rubberized articles and clothes marked "Dry Clean" should not be put into dryer.
 7. For better drying, clean lint screen after each use.

stein, 183 Sandusky street, was chosen vice-president. Joanne Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Briggs, route 98, was elected treasurer and James Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunt, 17 Mills avenue, is the new secretary.

Get Your Gas Furnace Ready for Winter Now!

Call your heating contractor or dealer early... ask him to check these 12 points so your gas furnace will be ready for the winter ahead.

1. Examine flue pipe to see that it is adequately supported and free of holes and rust spots.
2. Examine the chimney to see if it is free of soot and rubble.
3. Inspect the interior of the furnace to:
 - (a) make sure the burner head is clean
 - (b) make sure the frepport or combustion chamber is free of cracks or open joints.
4. Check the water level on boilers.
5. Inspect filters in forced air systems. Clogged filters are the greatest single source of high gas bills and inefficient heat. Remove all filters from hot air registers. Steel wool or chamois cloth filters should never be used in registers... they prevent free circulation of air and waste a large amount of heat by blocking its flow, thus causing basement and furnace to overheat.
6. Oil all fan and pump motors, control motors, and other moving parts that require oil. Correct lubrication, according to manufacturer's specifications, is important.
7. Inspect the burner and draft controls to make sure they are adjusted for economical operation.
8. Make sure that the safety pilot is adjusted properly and tested. It is one of the most essential controls in safe operation.
9. Check all furnace controls, including automatic gas valve, etc. to make sure they function properly.
10. Inspect thermostat to make sure it is not influenced by warm air registers, lamps, etc.
11. Check for leaks that can rust the furnace, and clean off accumulated rust and scale where furnace is equipped with a humidifier.
12. For further gas economy, why not consider insulation, weatherstripping, storm sash and doors, and other conservation practices.

Seventh Card an Ace!
Dr. Myron Reed, well-known Mansfield surgeon who numbers many Plymouthites among his patients, is quite an operator, but his reputation as such was embellished by the fact that after six children, he had no son.

Erase that. Mrs. Reed presented the doctor with a six pound, four ounce boy Thursday at Mansfield General hospital. Name? Myron Reed, 2nd, naturally. Spoiled? In time, in time. Why not, with six older sisters? You can strike out "Riley" and substitute "Reed" in that popular saying "The Life of etc."

Don't leave all of your furniture shampooing and repair chores for fall housecleaning time. Any bright day is a good day to wash a chair, but it adds too much to actual physical energy output when combined with general housecleaning.

If the steps on your step ladder are worn smooth or slippery, try glueing or tacking some rubber stair tread material to them. Sprinkling pears with lemon, orange, grapefruit, or pineapple juice will keep them from turning brown.

Wheat Protest Group To Aid Aged Farmer

Associated Farmers of Richland County met Tuesday night in the Grange hall at Ganges to plan protection for farmers who are threatened with legal action for failure to comply with wheat marketing regulations.

Clarence Bly, Ganges, is acting chairman of the group. The organization is a successor to the old Wheat Marketing Protest organization, and is planning to raise funds for the defense of 81-year-old Joe Blatter, Montgomery county, Pennsylvania, who is being sued by the federal government for failure to comply with wheat marketing requirements.

Mr. Blatter operates a chicken farm. He raises wheat on his farm to feed his birds. The Department of Agriculture reduced his acreage allotment from 16 to 14 and wishes to charge him a penalty for that which he raises over acres, even though he uses it on the farm.

Cut flowers will keep longer if leaves below the water are removed. Decaying vegetable matter poisons the water.

A Statement from the President of Sohio about BORON GASOLINE

Exaggerated claims as to gasoline quality are creating confusion in the public mind and making meaningless many of the current statements about motor fuels.

We believe Boron Supreme Gasoline is an unusual discovery, and one with considerable significance for every motorist. This statement is backed by years of research and hundreds of thousands of miles of road testing.

If the experience of many thousand drivers is any criterion, the typical car owner will be able to sense early in his use that Boron Gasoline is something new and quite unique. But we would far rather have him tell us than vice versa!

It has long been a tradition at Sohio that no claims be made for any product that are not more than matched by its performance; Boron Gasoline will be no exception. We believe both the public interest and our own will be served best by such a policy!
