Trustees, Clerks to Go To Mansfield to Hear Talk on Roads Theme

Cass and Plymouth township trustees and clerks will meet Thursday in Moose hall, Mansfield, for the 32nd annual road meeting of Richland county political subdivisions.

The principal topic this year will be "The Local Official's Place in the Expanding National Highway Program," a discussion of which will be led by Perry T. Ford, a Columbus civil engineer.

Township trustees will participate in general conferences from 10 a.m. to noon, on such subjects as safety, traffic signs, narrow bridges, ditch repairs and drainage matters, health and sanitation. Several teams of efforts will be seated at as many tables.

Township clerks will meet separately at the same hours. Norman L. Wolfe, county auditor, will be chairman of the meeting.

Luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. Theodore Lutz, instructor of the common pleas of Richland county, will deliver the complimentary address. Walter Rusk, county engineer, will introduce county officials.

Keinath 'Man of Month', Say Insurance Men

Misfortune and bad luck only only spur Foster L. Keinath on to greater achievements.

At a dinner in the Columbus Athletic club Feb. 8, he was singled out as the top producer of insurance for his employer, National Life Insurance Co. of Vermont, during 1954.

Because of his achievements despite growing inability to work more than half the time - he suffers from multiple sclerosis - and the serious illness of his wife - who has been bedded with a heart condition since Nov. 2 - Mr. Keinath received yet another honor.

January is Foster L. Keinath month for National Life.

The award for 1954 was in recognition of the largest number of applications for insurance and the largest volume of insurance written during the year.

General agent for the company is Truman H. Cummings, Columbus.

The Keinaths - he is a graduate of Shiloh High school, where he was valedictorian of his class, and she a native of Gaines - live in their own home at 207 East Main street. They have two children, a son in the seventh grade and a daughter in the fourth.

Missions Talks To Methodists

Miss Bertha Starkey for 42 years a missionary in Japan, the congregation of the Methodist church Sunday at the morning service.

When the war broke out, she moved into Korea, and then when it was no longer possible to stay there, she returned to California, where she worked with the Japanese. After the war, she returned to Japan where she remained until 1952, when she forced her to return.

Miss Starkey first talked with the children's first wife of the James one children, and at the 11 a.m. service she took the theme of race relations for her talk. Miss Starkey will be in the church at 11 a.m. next Sunday.

When she returned to Japan, she found that only one-half of one per cent of the population here believes Christianity.

World Prayer Day To Be Held Feb. 25

United Church Women of Plymouth will sponsor the World Day of Prayer on Feb. 25 at the First Presbyterian church Friday, Feb. 25.

Mrs. Donald Fetters, Mrs. Royal W. Eckstein, Mrs. George Young and Mrs. T. M. Shumley comprise the committee.

A part of the offering will be used to support the migrant work in the Willard Park area.

With Help of Poor (but Honest) Printer — Jack McQuate Writes Novel History Paper

The polite young man at the door wanted to know if there were any "old Advertisers" around, and he was told he could have some if he would come and fetch them.

But it developed he wanted some old "old Advertisers" - 1860's in fact, and the editor was sorry, he couldn't comply.

"What did we want 'em for? Why, said he, to prepare a history paper on Civil War doings in Plymouth and Shiloh."

Why not do a little digging and print our own copy?

And that was what young Jack McQuate, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Earl McQuate of Railroad street, did last weekend.

Time was running out when the plans were finalized, and young McQuate went to Shiloh Saturday to see his grandfather, veteran undertaker Ivan L. McQuate. He would have seen him Friday, but it wasn't possible.

Reason: away at a funeral.

Grandpa McQuate suggested the Cockburns, and a well-placed telephone call brought his grandson in touch with the Cockburn family.

They graciously allowed the lad to look into their files, and he took notes. When he was through, they sent him elsewhere for more information.

Saturday night, he roused the editor from a post-prandial nap and said he had something for a starter, but should he go ahead? By all means.

Mrs. Harold Shaffer, Plymouth librarian, contributed from her store of knowledge Saturday night, and after Jack had attended services at First Evangelical Lutheran church Sunday with his Boy Scout troop, he and the editor went over the copy.

It was handed to Harold Davis, The Advertiser's linotypist, Monday morning. Proofs were shown Thursday noon. Through the efforts of a poor but honest printer in Shelby, special type was loaned for the "flag."

And the editor fouled it up. So the printer (a chap named Thomas) loaned another set, and 25 copies of an edition of The Advertiser dated Apr. 16, 1864, were run off, bound, and delivered to young McQuate Monday night.

It wasn't so easy as that. For the editor was under special instructions: "Don't give it to the teacher. Let me have it when it's ready."

Only place to buy binding tape in Plymouth is Cornells. The editor went there and got some and found - too late - that each Jack Whiteam, standing behind him reading the paper.

Cut out of the bag, the editor realized that a mechanical pencil belonging to the McQuate boy had been left behind. So through the snow down Thomas' alley he went, and up into the McQuate backyard. He rapped on the back door the McQuates and their guest, Dr. Pierre Haver, rushed to the kitchen.

They thought the editor yelled "Fire," and well he might have. For the kitchen was filled with smoke. The McQuates' younger son, Douglas, had left a popcorn machine on the stove.

Which completes the tale except for The Advertiser, issue of Apr. 16, 1864. You'll find it on page 4 of this issue.

New Cover Arrives

Attention philatelist! (That's a high-powered word for stamp collectors, which the editor's wife is, in spades.)

The Advertiser has received from Dr. Raymond N. Hatch of the college of education of Michigan State college a first day cachet and new stamp honoring the 100th anniversary of the founding of the college, the first land grant college for the encouragement of the agricultural and mechanical arts to be founded in America.

The editor is grateful to Dr. Hatch for sending it, but the editor's wife is beside herself, and if Dr. Hatch will turn up at an appointed four next time he is in town, ample culinary reward will be paid, she says.

OS to MEET

Plymouth lodge, Order of East-ern Star, will entertain in honor of past matrons and patrons Tuesday at the regular hour. All members are asked to attend.

Agnew Welsh, Father Of Mrs. Stambaugh Dies in North Carolina

Board Will Pay $150 for Well

Father of Mrs. John F. Stambaugh and Mrs. Opal Hixson of East Main street, 98-year-old Agnew Welsh died of advanced age and pleural complications at Chatham, N. C., Saturday night. He would have been 99 on Apr. 11.

Mr. Welsh customarily spent summers here with his daughter. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. from Lantz Funeral home at Ada, his home in Ohio, by the Rev. Lee Moore, pastor of the Church of Christ, of which Mr. Welsh was a member. Interment was in Woodlawn cemetery, Ada.

For 72 years Mr. Welsh was a newspaperman. He was from 1881 to 1917 editor and publisher of the Ada Record, from which he retired in 1918 to settle in Florida. To keep his hand in he applied for a post with the Daily News in Miami, and was told to report on a Saturday morning. Over the weekend, the publisher noted from his file his advanced age (he was then in his late fifties) and wrote him a letter, which he received Monday, saying he should not report. The damage had been done, however. The publisher found in Mr. Welsh a trained news-hawk and feature writer with more vigor than men half his age.

He stayed with the News 18 years, as feature writer, reporter, and organizer of its morgue, or file room. He was 82, when he retired, but he did not put away his typewriter. Until two years ago, he continued to write a weekly column for the Record at Ada. Born near Bucyrus, Mr. Welsh married Miss Cora E. Houtstuffer of Ripley township in 1880. She had been a teacher in Plymouth public schools during 1879. Her home was half a mile south of Delphi. She died at Miami in 1947 at the age of 90.

In addition to his two daughters, Fere, he is survived by two sons, Emmet and Kenneth, and a daughter, Dana E., a bank officer at Ada, and another daughter, Mrs. E. M. Singleton, of Charlotte, with whom he had been living. There are three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Polio Total Reported

The dimes came in, but not so many as last year.

Supt. M. J. Coon reports, with "thanks to everyone," collections of $734.97, some $53.16 less than what was collected last year. However, an as yet untold amount has been forwarded by donors direct to the Huron County Infantile Paralysis chapter at Norwalk.

"It's likely," said Mr. Coon, "we collected just as much as last year. And I'd like to remind everyone that it is not too late to contribute and I will be glad to receive any donations. In fact, I'll send for them if the donors will telephone me at the school (57) or at home (0665) with word that the money is ready."

Egner Estate Amounts to $71,674, Second Largest in Township

Second largest inheritance in Plymouth township in five years has been filed with Richland county probate court in the estate of the late Jennie M. Egner, who died Oct. 12, 1954.

Mrs. Egner lived in Hazel Brush road, Shelby route 3. Her son, Emmet and Kenneth, are the principal heirs of the estate, which is valued at $71,674.62.

Chief items in the estate are two parcels of real estate in Plymouth township, valued at $17,166 and $26,800, respectively. Other items include a checking account in a Shelby bank, $1,159.79; a savings account, $5,645.41; savings account in Eastern Shelby bank, $2,569.32; account with a Shelby building and loan institution, $13,137.10; and 54 shares of stock in Shelby Equity Exchange, $1,350.

Farm produce and animals were valued at $5,847.

Public appraisers were C. S. Stroup, Robert Pry and Kay Tammner.

The estate of the late William H. Champion, Shelby route 3, has been valued at $13,765, and that of Dale I. Stevens of Mansfield at $3,640. Mr. Stevens, who died Jan. 4, was the son-in-law of Mrs. Floyd Anderson, 44 Trux street.

Auxiliary Gives 48-Cup Coffee Urn

A 48-cup coffee urn has been presented to the elementary school for use in the cafeteria by the auxiliary, First-Parish Post, American Legion.

Members of the auxiliary sold vanilla to raise the funds for the urn.

Mr. Dick Hostess To Taylor Class

Mrs. Harry Dick, assisted by Mrs. Mary Conrad, was hostess to the Taylor class Tuesday evening.

Deviations were led by Miss Helen Akers, who took "The Art of Appreciation" as her theme. The roll call was answered by quotations and items of interest concerning Washington and Lincoln.

The Study of church history which occupies the group now followed. Mrs. Luther R. Fetters led the discussion and later, as the new presentation of the group, conducted a short business meeting.

Refreshments with a Valentine and Washington theme were served by the hostesses to the members of the group and two guests, Miss Katherine Gebert and Miss Jessie Martin, an aunt of Mrs. Ralph M. Felix.

The March meeting will be held at the manse with Mrs. Felix as hostess, and Mrs. Francis Hoffman assisting.

National Protest Movement Started on Fackler Farm

The 136-acre farm in Route 98 three miles south of Plymouth has its history, but right now Aiden Willett, who farms it on shares for Mrs. Henry H. Fackler, is more concerned about fat cattle prices.

It was from this farm that the late Mr. Fackler launched his national protest movement against restrictions on the planting of wheat acreage about 15 years ago. The movement reached across the entire corn and wheat belt of the United States.

Many of the ideas underlying his thinking derived from his experience in this and other farms in Plymouth and New Haven townships.

Today, Aiden Willett marks his fourth year on the property, and like most farmers in this area, he is smack up against the wheat and corn acreage restrictions.

Because the farm is on the three-year rotation scheme, Mr. Willett's quota for wheat is between 18 and 20 acres. Clover and corn comprise the other two crops.

In the past, the Willets have fed a good number of cattle, buying young cattle in the fall and feeding them through the winter for the spring market. Last fall, with the market uncertain, they reduced their buying. It was a wise move. Good fat cattle are going for 25c a hundred right now.

In addition to the cattle, Mr. Willett runs hogs. But only to clean up after the cattle," he says. As a general farmer, he has also some ducks and raises hens for brooder eggs.

"Those 'ucks are a pain in the neck," says Mr. Willett, "and I'd like to get rid of them. You can't make any money on 'em any more."

"Those chicken eggs cost me 19 cents apiece, because they are selected for breeding in Connecticut. Page's Hatchery at Shiloh hatches the eggs and we sell the eggs back to them."

Mr. Willett also farms the Fackler farm in Mills road, which hasn't much storage space, so he has to carry the corn to the larger place in Route 98.

The Facklers bought the farm in 1936 from Frank and Edith Henry and improved it. Mr. Fackler rented it out for some years to first to Henry Chapman then to Floyd Hetler, finally to the Willets.

0 Unhappy Day, (for 17th Time in a Row) —

Pilgrims Lose — Again, 65-38

Plymouth's Pilgrims dropped their 17th straight Richland county league contest on the local floor Friday night to Belleville's Blue Jays, 62 to 38.

Although they made a closer fight of it, Shiloh's Lions took a 62-38 defeat at the hands of the Lexington Minutemen on the winners' floor, 62 to 52.

Only John Fox, playing his next-to-last regularly scheduled contest for the Crimson and White, was able to score with any frequency. He garnered 16 points.

For Belleville, Phil Johnson dumped in 21 and Ron Kochheiser got 14. The Jays converted on 18 of 24 tries at the charity stripe hit. Plymouth was successful only eight times in 17 tries.

Shiloh Juniors Split in Two Contests; Lose to Crestline, Drop Montgomery

The Shiloh junior high five split at home last week. Shiloh dropped a 63-52 decision to Crestline. The first quarter ended tied, but in the second quarter Crestline connected for 26 points and Shiloh was unable to close the gap.

Inability to score also played an important part as Shiloh only hit 20 per cent from the field.

Shiloh dropped Montgomery, 58-46, after leading all the way. Shiloh lead, 16-6, at the end of the first quarter and 36-18 at the half.

Dick Bookwalter caught fire with 22 points, the highest anyone has scored for Shiloh this season. Bill Banks netted 15 and Steve Patterson 10.

In the Crestline game Banks and Milford Williams both hit for 16, while Patterson connected for 12.

Parks Man Speaks

Ted Parkinson, National Park service, addressed the student body of the high school Feb. 9.

Mr. Parkinson, who is employed at Yellowstone National park spoke on India. He discussed the customs and ways of living of the Hindus. Several of the high school girls served as models to demonstrate the sari, which is the national dress of Hindu women. It is a piece of material about a yard wide and five yards long, often a plain color with a colored border, and sometimes a print. Various kinds of materials are used, depending on the economic status of the wearer. The sari is draped in such a manner to make a skirt and a blouse-like top.

Miss Fenner Leads Talk on Okinawa For Tourist Club

Miss Virginia Fenner spoke to the Tourist club at the home of Mrs. Alfred Parkinson Monday night on "Okinawa, the Island Rebuilt," by Hope A. Diffenderfer. Mrs. Diffenderfer is the wife of the director of civil information and education on the island.

War came to Okinawa, Miss Fenner said, on Easter Sunday, 1954, and left the island in a shambles. First critical needs of the population were met from surplus U. S. Army stock. When the Korean conflict broke out, appropriations were increased for rebuilding the damaged island. Roads were improved and constructed, new housing erected, and a $1 million sugar mill built.

The United States administers Okinawa under the United Nations trusteeship administration. Dinner was served by the Beth-won any class at the Methodist church on tables decorated with a floral centerpiece of Valentine colors. Each place was marked with a Valentine. The club adjourned to Mrs. Parkinson's home after dinner.

Stroups Observe Golden Wedding At Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stroup, route 3, Shelby, were honored with a surprise party by 70 members of the Hazel Grove Grange Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Stroup celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday.

The evening was spent playing cards and refreshments were served from a table decorated with gold and white centered with a two tiered cake baked by Mrs. Leo Daup.

Mr. and Mrs. Stroup were married by the Rev. C. B. Eberly in the Shelby United Brethren church and spent their honeymoon visiting in Lodi. They have resided in this area their whole life. The Stroups have one daughter, Ruth, who is a teacher in Shelby High school.

STORK ARRIVALS

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Castle, Shiloh, are the parents of a son born Feb. 5 in Willard Municipal hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Frontz, Shiloh route 2, are parents of a son born Tuesday morning at Shelby Memorial hospital.

Local MYE Feasts At Shiloh Church

Ten members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship attended a waffle and sausage supper Sunday evening as guests of the Shiloh M. Y. F.

The group included Marilyn Fisher, C. Otis Port, William Rogers, James Dye, Grant Robinson, Carol Schneider, Jean Pitzen, Leland Pugh, and the Rev. T. M. Sheesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gira of Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Atyeo of New Haven, Mrs. Fred Atyeo and daughter, Lydia, of Norwalk, Mr. and Mrs. John Ray and daughter, Carol Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray and son, Steven Earl, and Mrs. Douglas Theaker and son, Lawrence Alan, of Plymouth attended a surprise birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. Gusta Ray at her home Saturday.

Constance Bogard Marries Mr. Holthouse at Celeryville

Before an altar decorated with white snapdragons and lighted with white tapers, Miss Constance Ann Bogard became the bride of Jordan Earl Holthouse in the Christian Reformed church at Celeryville Friday.

Miss Bogard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Bogard of Cheboygan, Mich., and Mr. Holthouse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Holthouse of Celeryville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Marvin Beelen.

The bride chose a waltz length gown of white with a velvet bodice which had a scoop neck, and long sleeves which ended in points at the wrist. The skirt was of tulle over satin with velvet leaves scattered over it. Her short veil of tulle was held with a crown of orange blossoms and tiny pearls. She carried a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, with white roses on top. White satin streamers fell from the flowers and were decorated with small pink velvet leaves.

Mrs. Louis Leis of Cheboygan was her sister's matron of honor. Mrs. Leis' gown was green with a velvet bodice and a taffeta net skirt. It was ballerina length. She carried a bouquet of yellow flowers set in a rose net. Her headress was a small band of the same net dotted with tiny flowers.

The two bridesmaids were Miss Adrea Holthouse, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Janet Van Zoest, both of Celeryville. Their gowns were similar to that of Mrs. Leis. Miss Holthouse's gown was a dusty rose and Miss Van Zoest's an American Beauty shade. Both carried bouquets of yellow set in green net. Their headbands were of green with small flowers.

Mrs. Thomas Shaarda, Jr. played the nuptial music, and Mrs. Paul Cok sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridegroom's brother, Stanton Holthouse, was the best man. Another brother, Wayne Holthouse, and Emerson Kraft, a brother of the bride, were the ushers.

The bride's mother chose a deep violet velvet dress for her daughter's wedding. Her hat was white covered with tiny sequins. With this she wore white flowers. Mrs. Holthouse was gowned in deep blue velvet with a matching hat. Her flowers were white set off with pink ribbon.

One hundred thirty guests attended the reception in the church rooms immediately after the ceremony. A buffet table was set with a three-tiered cake as the centerpiece. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cok of Willard were the master and mistress of ceremonies, and Mr. and Mrs. William Fridman also of Willard were the toastmaster and toast-mistress. They are cousins of the out-were at the punchbowl.

Mrs. Robert Danhoff and Mrs. Calkins presided at the coffee table and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Danhoff at the buffet. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bechling of Plymouth were at the punchbowl.

During the reception friends of the bride and bridegroom gave their best wishes with readings and a skit.

Mr. and Mrs. Holthouse are on a honeymoon trip in the south. They will reside in Cheboygan, where Mr. Holthouse is stationed with the Coast Guard. He is serving in the ice breaker "Mackinaw". Mrs. Holthouse is a graduate of Cheboygan High school and Mr. Holthouse graduated from New Haven High school and attended Calvin college at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Wedding guests were from Vermillion, Detroit, Mc Bain, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, and Cheboygan.

Mrs. Derringer Leads Ladies Aid

Mrs. Lena Derringer led the Ladies Aid of the First Evangelical Lutheran church in devotions when it met Feb. 8 at the home of Mrs. Stacy Brown. This was followed by a short talk by Mrs. Derringer on the Biblical character, Martha.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Brown served a Lenten dinner. The afternoon was spent working on a quilt.

Mrs. McCormick Has Nora Wyandt Class

Mrs. Franklin McCormick was hostess to the Nora Wyandt class of the First Presbyterian church Feb. 8.

Mrs. Ralph M. Felix led the devotions and the book of Exodus was completed. The roll call was answered with a Valentine verse.

Mrs. Julia Fagg will be the next hostess to the group on Mar. 8.

Kindergartners Mark St. Valentine's Day

Hearts and flowers, and "Be My Valentine" have filled the air at the Fackler kindergartens the past few days. Friday the children exchanged valentines with special valentine cupcakes from Janet Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewis. Another treat was from Linda Washburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Washburn, who brought little heart shaped boxes of candies.

Thursday Leslie Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Henry, treated her afternoon class to Valentine cookies, and Monday morning's class had a party with juice, cookies, and valentine favors from John Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ben Smith. The afternoon class enjoyed heart shaped cookies with red icing from Karen Leving and Barbara Daup of Shiloh.

Mrs. Coe's Brother Dies After Stroke in Fresno

Brother of Mrs. Florenc Coe of Plymouth, Leon V. Thompson died of a heart attack at Fresno, Cal., Feb. 5.

He had formerly lived in Willard, where he was born. A sister, Mrs. Hester Myers, still lives there.

Mr. Thompson was stricken with a severe heart attack in the summer of 1954 and was hospitalized in Fresno for a considerable period of time. A second attack three weeks ago led to his death.

The Thompsons had lived in Fresno the past seven years. Between 1916 and 1948 they lived in Akron.

In addition to his sisters, his wife, two sons, Paul of Akron and Harold of Fresno, and a brother, Charles Thompson, Ashland, survive.

Last rites and interment were in Fresno.

In addition to Mr. Bucknam, there are six other children. Services and burial were in Iowa.

Harold Sams' Uncle Passes On at 81

Funeral services were held Friday for Austin Forgrave, a brother of the late Mrs. Maude Sams, at Thornville. He was 81 at his death, attributed to natural causes.

His three nieces, Mrs. Richard Hampton, Mrs. Mary Conrad, and Mrs. Oscar J. Gowitzka, and a nephew, Harold Sams, attended the services in Thornville.

Mrs. Beistline, 58, Dies At Home Near Shelby

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. M. L. Seybold at Shelby Monday at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Wilda Beistline, 58, a native of Ganges who died Friday at her home five miles east of Shelby.

Surviving are her husband, Clifford; her mother, Mrs. Arminia Lybarger, Shelby; two brothers, Glenn Lybarger, Shelby, and Maurice Lybarger, Mansfield, and a sister, Mrs. Orpha Mohr, Shelby.

Mrs. Beistline had been ill a year. She was a member of the Ganges Evangelical and Reformed church.

36 Cushions Made By Library Board

Thirty-six cushions were made by the Library board at its meeting Thursday. The cushions, which are made from oil cloth, will be used by young children who attend the weekly story hour during the summer.

The group met at Cornell's for lunch. Afterwards it went to the library, where Mrs. Belle Bachrach presided over a short business meeting. The afternoon was spent sewing.

Den 3 met at Mrs. McQuown's Feb. 2. The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag led by Billy Miller. The following officers were elected: Richard Moore, denner; Gail Aumend, assistant denner; Larry Dick, Keeper of the Buckskin.

Mrs. McQuown read a story about Abraham Lincoln and after a treat was served the meeting was closed by singing "Yankee Doodle".

K. B. Larry Dick Den 3 met at Mrs. McQuown's house Feb. 9 and opened with the pledge led by Richard Moore. The den made Valentines for their mothers, had a treat furnished by Mrs. Markey. Closed with the Living Circle.

K. B. Larry Dick Den 4 met at Mrs. Hankammer's. We practiced the grand howl. We made button spinners.

K. B. Earl Hankammer Den 4 opened their meeting with the pledge and the Cub Scout song. Paul told a story. We talked about what to send to the window display. After that we practised the grand howl.

Fackler Farm
It's a good farm, which lends itself well to a three crop rotation. "But it's hard as all get out to keep that ground covered if they won't let you plant a fair share of wheat. That's what most people don't understand. Your crop rotation scheme is all fouled up if you don't have the right to sow enough wheat to keep the scheme going."
Why not switch to clover and sell hay. "Oh, there's a good market for hay right now, but I haven't ever baled hay much, and I'm not going to start right now. I'm too old for that."
