

An editorial: Let's not lose our heads just yet!

So the Shelby depot is closing — maybe!

It's hard to tell, right now, just what the demolition of the Air Force installation at Shelby will be.

The Air Force says it plans to phase out by the end of Fiscal Year 1962. We're now in Fiscal Year 1958. That's four years. A lot can happen in that time. Another Korea, God forbid. Pressures in the Middle East. Syria, perhaps. Or Jordan.

If these occur, the Air Force will need Shelby depot, at more or less full strength.

The announcement to close Shelby and some other installations came as a final decision of Defense Secretary Wilson. Presumably the cut-down was the result of long discussion at the staff level, in the face of mounting pressures to reduce expenditures.

Whatever is the case, Mr. McElroy is running the Defense department now. He may have other ideas. At least, Congressman McGregor, among others, intends to lay some ideas before him. Like not closing down an expensive group of buildings and laying off 1,500 or more employees only to resume the function somewhere else.

Our point is that just what will transpire at Shelby isn't at all definite, because the very same folks who screamed for economy all along are now being hurt by economy measures, and they don't like it. The Defense department doesn't like to ruffle the feathers of Congressmen with long seniority, such as J. Harry McGregor, whose position is that he goes along with reasonable economy measures but wants no wasteful lay-offs here and expensive hirings elsewhere to compensate for it.

What is definite is that some fat will have to be cut from the Shelby situation. Just how much is anybody's guess. Ours is that when they're down to pure muscle, the staffing pattern will round off at 650 or 700 employees. That's what it was at the end of World War II.

The important thing is not to panic. Let's not lose our heads. Cinching up the economic belt is called for, to some extent, but it was a little too loose, anyway. Folks who had no sound reason to make high expenditures because they weren't making enough were doing so on flimsy credit.

What should be done, we think, is to get the credit structure in order. Reduce luxury expenditures — and this doesn't necessarily mean luxury items, but things which you can't pay for in a short term obligation — to a minimum.

Finally, jobs have to be found for those who won't be employed at Shelby depot any more. The Ohio Employment service offers public assistance in finding jobs. Some industries are expanding, notably Fisher Body at Mansfield.

But there are many skilled employees of the depot who would be first-rate raw material for a local industry. We suggest those without civil service status or with no intention of leaving this area for another Air Force post elsewhere should organize a work-skill roster. Survey the employable. List their skills. Put the list in the hands of such a liaison officer of Commerce as a talk-

Over four years, if we all work at it, we should be able to do something, something useful and constructive. Because the people brought here by the depot are good folks, deserve what we can do to help them and help ourselves. And those of our old friends and neighbors who went to the depot when the need was acute and stayed there are equally deserving of a united effort to find the jobs that will enable them, their families and our society to continue to flourish.

Two youths killed as car hits freight

Two local youths were killed at 9:15 a.m. Sunday when their car struck an Akron, Canton & Youngstown freight train at the Route 598 crossing west of here.

William Lacey, 16, and his nephew, Raymond Campbell, also 16, driver of the car, were killed instantly.

CLARENCE CAMPBELL, Jr., eight, brother of Raymond, was critically injured and rushed to Columbus for further treatment.

Eyewitnesses said young Campbell was speeding northward in Route 598, struck the abutment of a bridge adjoining the crossing, and then careened into the train.

The speedometer of the sedan owned by Campbell's father was found at 67 miles an hour.

Blowtorches were required to remove the bodies, they were wedged in so tightly.

VETERAN COLLISION-Viewers said this was the worst they've ever seen. The curious visited the wreckage at McPherson's Motor sales until long after dark Sunday.

Both boys had been students in Huron Valley schools until they terminated their schooling.

Lacey, whose sister is young Campbell's mother, is the son of the Clay Lacey, Plymouth route 1, Campbell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell, Sr.,

Plymouth route 1.

Young Lacey, who lived in Base Line road, is survived by his parents, seven brothers, Monro, Kenneth, Wm., Woodrow, Bucyrus, Charles, Willard, George, Columbus; Donald, D. Boughtonville; Richard, at home; James, U. S. Army in Germany; two sisters, Mrs. Clarence Campbell and Margaret, at home.

Campbell's parents, who live in Kenestrick road, three brothers, Paul, Wilford and Clarence, at home, and three sisters, LaVanga, Barbara and Stella, survive him.

His last rites were conducted yesterday in the McQuate Funeral home by the Rev. Robert F. Hall.

Lacey's funeral was Tuesday. Both were interred in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven.

Warriors play Lodi tomorrow

Huron Valley tackles Lodi's Tigers at Lodi tomorrow in a renewal of a long-standing rivalry between the two schools, with the Warriors favored by three touchdowns.

But the Tigers could upset the dope. Save for their outing with Seville, the Lodi eleven was within three points of an undefeated season. An inability to score the point after touchdown cost the Tigers one defeat and a tie.

THE WARRIORS ARE EXPECTED to be at all but full strength for this one, which is the Lodi homecoming. Eddie Taylor, his performance in two games inhibited by an injured collarbone, was taking light drills this week to keep in shape for tomorrow's contest. Dick Fidler has a sprained ankle.

The Red eleven is at the top of the North Central conference with three victories and a tie, if you count the Spitzer contest, Fox and two wins and a tie otherwise. Seville has two wins and a tie also. Townsend-Wakeman defeated by Spencer in an upset last week, 13 to 12, also has two victories.

IF THE LODI DEFENSE can contain Taylor, it has half the battle won. The other half — stopping Mr. Inside, Duane Utiss — may not be so easy. Taylor needs a step on the secondary. Deny him that step and he can be held to relatively short gains.

But Utiss makes his own holes. His average at Berlin Heights was 11.4 yards a carry.

Offensively, the Tigers have big Gene High, a fullback who's coming into his own, and Jim Nicholas, a rangy quarterback, whose throwing is improving week by week.

Light plane carries 4 to flaming death

Mechanical or structural defects of a light, single-engine airplane brought four local men to their deaths near Curtice early Saturday.

Enroute to Michigan to participate in a trapshooting event, the four are:

Gaylord McCullough, 35, New Haven, employee of Fater-Root-Heath Co., pilot
Leon McCullough, 65, his father, New Haven, also an F-R-H employee.

Norman J. Weirs, 27, Celerlyville, father of two children.
Henry Buurma, 58, Mr. Weirs' uncle, prominent Celerlyville farmer.

They left Willard airport in the single-engine aircraft, property of Kenneth Heister, owner of the field, shortly before 7 a.m.

A hunting dog was in the aircraft with them.

Fog gathered as the aircraft approached Toledo, police reported. They surmise that when the aircraft cleared the fog, its pilot corrected for depressed altitude too quickly. In opening the throttle and pulling back on the wheel, he zoomed the aircraft over. The strain on a wing apparently was too great, causing it to shear from the plane.

The aircraft fell on the farm of Homer Joelhin, two miles south of Curtice.

MRS. THOMAS MOORE, Fostoria road, near Toledo, said she saw the crash. The plane was at about 500 feet altitude, she reported, when the wing sheared off. She said the aircraft exploded in the air and blew up again when it struck the ground.

The body of young McCullough was in the wreckage. Mr. Buurma's body was found about 60 feet from the wreck. The bodies of the other two were found about 20 feet from the plane.

Mr. McCullough is survived by his wife, Georgia, and young daughter, Joni. The elder McCullough is survived by his wife, Mae, a sister, Mrs. Ira Palm, North Fairfield.

Mr. Weirs is survived by his wife, Marilyn; two daughters, Merry and Patricia; his parents, the Ed Weirses; four brothers, Henry, Frank, Corwin and Ed, Jr., all of Celerlyville; and two sisters, Mrs. John Van Laar, Celerlyville, and Mrs. Gerald Boerman, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mr. Buurma is survived by his wife, Lilly; two daughters, Beatrice and Frances, at home; three brothers, John, Anco and Gerry, Celerlyville; six sisters, Mrs. John Cok, Mrs. Ed Weirs, Mrs. Nicholas Moll, Celerlyville; Mrs. John DeHaan and Mrs. Ralph DeVries, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Mrs. Henry Stryuk, Los Angeles, Cal.

School hearing Oct. 31

Oct. 31 has been set for hearing by Ohio's Supreme Court of arguments relating to the legal status of the Iroquois and Huron Valley school consolidations.

Attorneys representing the litigants, Young & Young of Norwalk, as special counsel for the Huron county board of education and the two school districts are Richard County Prosecutor Theodore Lutz for that county's board of education, board of elections, Auditor Norman Wolfe and Ronald R. Howard, former clerk of the Shiloh district, will present oral arguments only. It is unlikely court attaches said Saturday, that a decision could be handed down in time for the Iroquois bond issue to appear on the ballot Nov. 5.

Three defendants have filed demurrers. Wolfe says in his answer he hasn't refused to pay anybody and seeks instruction to do the Richland county board of education, which asks to be excused from reprimand and instructed. The board of elections takes the same position.

Mayor proclaims 'Fire Prevention'

Mayor Thurman R. Ford Saturday adopted the official proclamation of Gov. C. William O'Neill designating this week as Fire Prevention week in Ohio and directed all citizens of the village to regard it as applicable here.

"The proclamation of the governor," Mayor Ford said, "says that Ohio considers the sacredness and protection of human lives and property a public trust, and since all fire services of the state are dedicated to this trust, all citizens of Ohio are requested to actively support local fire departments in the promotion of educational programs and activities that will aid in prevention of fire."

"THOSE FACTS ARE NO less applicable in Plymouth. We have received the resignation of a capable fire chief, who leaves with our thanks and best wishes, and we have a new acting chief, who takes office at midnight today. "I feel it is only proper that we should amplify the governor's proclamation and all cooperate with our fire department to stamp out fires caused by carelessness and untidiness."

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO!

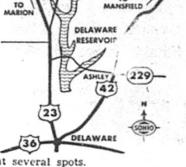

The 1300-acre Delaware Reservoir, north of Delaware on U.S. Route 23, is developing into one of Ohio's most popular recreational areas.

Among the latest developments at this big lake is a new air-strip to accommodate the planes of air-minded visitors. The area of the lake nearest to the big dam is becoming very popular for devotees of water-ski boating.

Many private boats are docked on this lake and boats for rental are available. Fishermen find many interesting stretches of water for their sport and of course there are picnic facilities at several spots.

In the fall this State reserve, with a total of 7378 acres, is a favorite hunting ground that is especially stocked with pheasants in large number.

Fire Prevention will be family business in the Roy Rogers home as well as in millions of other American homes during National Fire Prevention Week (October 6-12). The screen and TV star joins three of his children, Dusty, Dodie and Debbie in a fire prevention inspection tour of the family's California residence. Dusty, at 10 a full-fledged Junior Fire Marshal in the program sponsored as a public service by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, holds a copy of the fall issue of the Junior Fire Marshal magazine which features a home inspection report for boys and girls. His adopted little sisters, Dodie, an American Indian, and Debbie, a Korean War orphan, are both just five and eligible for the first time for school and a chance to participate in the Hartford Fire's gigantic fire prevention and safety program.

Birth of a pond at River View farm, owned by E. B. Miller. Existing pond, covered about two acres, was enlarged to six last week as Slessman's

... dozer hits last wall of earth holding back waters of old pond. Flood ensued as wall of water rushed through opening into lower area. Mud and water runs into larger pond, which is expected to fill up by spring, after winter rainfall and melted snows run off into larger basin.

THERE ISN'T MUCH INTEREST IN POLITICAL campaigns this year. Indeed, some of them are hardly political, in the sense that odds are running in non-partisan office.

These are the four Huron county and two Richland county candidates for the new office of county court judge.

There appeared in these pages last week a pretty good reason why, in the case of Huron county voters, a ballot should be cast for local candidates.

LEE HUDSON, HURON COUNTY'S RECORDER, is something of a figure filbert when it comes to local elections. He says the odds are dead against Bob McKown and Joe Dush. Reason: "too many voters in Norwalk, who should be expected to vote for Norwalk men."

On paper, he's right. But we see no reason why in practice it should be so. We think folks are sufficiently dedicated to local justice to want a local man in a local court.

It's likely the county court for the Willard district will be established in the village hall there. Doesn't it make sense to have a Willard area man hold that job? He's readily available if you're picked up by the highway patrol. No waiting for a man to drive down from Norwalk.

Too, local men have a way of knowing local problems, can adjudicate local squabbles perhaps better than one who hails from a town 19 miles away and might as well be 19 million miles away.

FOR OUR PART, WERE WE ELIGIBLE TO vote in Huron county, we'd vote for the two local candidates. Not because we think the same situation that Mr. Hudson figures will prevail with respect to Norwalk candidacies in the county should be applied in the reverse. Not because we think Dush and McKown should have the two offices, one in Willard and one in Norwalk. That'd be as unfair as the other way around.

But because in self defense we'd have to opt for local men to insure that at least one of 'em will get the Willard post. And we'll admit that a Norwalk vote: could feel the same way, except that he should have sense enough to realize that numbers work in his behalf.

Should we be pushed into a bet, that's how we'd wager: that a local man will be elected to local office.

Never underestimate the electorate, Mr. Hudson. Look what happened to George Hogwash Bender!

ASIDE TO BROTHER SONNEBORN, EDITOR-publisher at Greenwich: Route 61 may be glorified, and it certainly isn't in good condition, but it's no cow path, chum. Route 61 is the official boundary of the corn belt, so decreed by the Congress many years ago when it set up the Department of Agriculture reporting system. Corn grown west of Route 61 is considered part of the U. S. corn crop, that grown east isn't. But we never inquired what happens when a farmer sows corn on both sides.

On the Sidelines

DR. E. E. LITKENHOUS, Toledo expert, says Coach Lew Petri's outfit rates at 52.2, higher than any club in Huron, Richland, Crawford, Seneca or Erie counties, regardless of class.

Dr. Lit's formula is to establish by integral calculus the reasonable scoring output of a given team based on its performances against given performances of other teams. So even if a team never scores 52.2 points in any game, it still rates that high. Difference between its rating and its opponent's rating is the scoring bulge one has over the other. This week's ratings will be out today.

Butler's Bulldogs paid dearly for their 21 to 0 conquest of St. Paul's Flyers at Norwalk Friday.

A sneak thief pilfered about $30 from the pockets of 11 of the Bulldog players while they were on the field.

Twelve members of Huron-Valley Bowmen hunted for deer and bear in Pigeon River State forest, Mich., over the weekend.

Three officers lose jobs in PML set-up; Buzard reelected

Fred L. Buzard was reelected president of Plymouth Midget league in a stormy session Friday night.

Donald Chapman succeeded Karl S. Lindauer as vice-president. Mrs. Thomas DeWitt is secretary, succeeding Mrs. A. H. Newmyer. J. Benjamin Smith was reelected treasurer.

James Phillips was elected players' agent, succeeding A. L. Paddock, Jr.

William Van Wagner was named chief umpire. Managers were confirmed in their present assignments.

Club representatives elected were Dale Osborn, Braves; Duane Young, Reds; Claude Wilcox, Cubs, and Marvin Court-right, Giants.

A farm system will be established for boys who don't make the regular four. Byron Ream and Vance Hoffman will head it.

Local teams lead ladies

Lofland's Insurance bowlers lead the Ladies A league standings at this point, with 13 points for as many wins. Pullman and Ketchum are tied for second, with 11. S & W Grill has 10 1/2, Brunswick has 10. Wilcox, Miller, and Bauerle bring up the rear.

Bauer's outfit and Koser's Royal Blues lead the B-loop with 16 points apiece. Vera's has 14, Hospital 10, Landefeld's 9, Randle's Beauticians 7, Fate-Root-Heath 7 and Culligan's 1.

TEN WOMEN HAVE JOINed the 500 club after bowling a record line of at least that many. They are Dorothy Moore, Donna Carpenter, Nancy Ketchum, Thelma Schlarb, Emma Vanichek, Ann Armatrout, Alice Burwell, Zoe Kaser, Marr Foster and Pauline Kimble.

Only six have made the 200 club, membership in which is limited to one-game scores of that much. They are Zoe Kaser, Alice Burwell, Pat Houghton, Nancy Ketchum, Donna Carpenter and Doty Coburn.

SOMETHING NEW THIS week, an earth satellite. And it's only the beginning of so much to come. We have so much, and yet, I honestly believe we haven't even begun to tap the possibilities of what can really be done, materially and with ourselves. The only sad note is that most of us will not live long enough to see it all.

NOT ALL THINGS ARE new, though. Just the other day I read that Julius Caesar is the one who started the one-way street system. The chariots of old Rome were apparently causing traffic jams, so he rerouted them.

Then there is another little historical tidbit which might repeat itself. With the new 1958 models ready to come out of Detroit, I wonder. Several hundred years ago, the Venetians took to out-doing one another with decorative gondolas. Things got so bad and so fancy and so many ducats were being spent on them that the Doge stepped in with an official order. It is still in effect today, out of custom. All gondolas for private use were to be painted a sedate black with only a touch of gold trimming.

THE NEXT PRETTIEST thing to an apple tree in bloom in the springtime is an apple tree in the autumn with apples.

This is the season. Fortunately, we have many friends with apple trees which have done better this season than our own. Recipes for apples are legion, and there is really nothing better than a tasty Jonathan to munch on while reading a good book.

We do know one recipe which we always bring out at this season. It's simple and wholesome. Where it came from, is a tale. I learned it in Switzerland, but that means nothing. It can belong to any country.

Pare and slice enough cooking apples to fill a baking dish, any size. Sprinkle with sugar quite generously, squeeze a few drops of lemon here and there, add a tiny, little bit of water, and top with either strawberry or raspberry jam, whichever is open at the moment. Bake. For guests, it can be served with a topping of rich whipped cream. For yourselves, it just as good without the cream.

IT WAS REALLY A THRILL Sunday to know that another voice has been added to the church choir. Even though we couldn't see her, we knew she was there. What parent doesn't dote on his or her own? Sometimes we do so too much, and top with either strawberry or raspberry jam, whichever is open at the moment. Bake. For guests, it can be served with a topping of rich whipped cream. For yourselves, it just as good without the cream.

THEN, when they begin to play, soon comes kindergarten. And so it goes. Growing up is so deadly serious to them. They do try so hard. One surprised mother in Oberlin not long ago overheard her daughter saying her prayers, like so, "Our Father who art in heaven, Hollywood be thy name". Then there was the little girl going to have her hair done by a hairdresser for the first time who insisted she was going to the beauty "saloon".

WHEN THEY HIT THE age where they go around collecting their own bets on the World Series, you have had it. Our young man is doing better than his own father at betting. Quarters, too, which his friend in the postoffice paid up. That will teach him. The friend in the postoffice I mean.

Utiss leads Red to 24-0 win

Duane Utiss led Huron Valley's Warriors to a 24-0 thumping of Berlin Heights' Tigers there Saturday afternoon in a convincing display of personal power.

Utiss scored three touchdowns, on runs of 52, 53 and two yards, played a crackjack defensive game and otherwise performed capably for the Warriors in their third victory of the season.

IT WAS NOT, HOWEVER, a convincing victory for the winners and Coach Lew Peit was reported to be somewhat displeased with his team after the game.

At half time, the Red held a six-point margin and couldn't punch it over from the Tiger four, where the Warriors twice fumbled.

Mid-way in the third period, the Red began to roll. From deep in its own territory, the Warrior eleven ground out two first downs. Then, on a smooth hand-off from Ray Einsel, Utiss broke over left tackle, knocked down three tacklers and ran 65 yards to pay dirt.

FROM THIS POINT, THE outcome was never in doubt. Prior thereto, however, the Tigers had put up a good fight.

Co-Capt. Bill Werner returned the opening kickoff 26 yards to the Tiger 45. Fred Reer tore off a first down to the Huron Valley 42. Then Cise Hoffman, rookie quarterback, essayed an aerial intended for Reer that never found its mark. Ray Einsel gathered it in on the Red 25 and was downed.

Ed Taylor, whose injured collarbone was again hurt, ripped off tackle for five. Utiss got three and on third down hit tackle for the touchdown. The play carried 52 yards.

A Warrior was detected in a clipping offense during the play, but since Utiss was over the goal line when it occurred, no penalty was assessed at the spot. Instead, the Warriors kicked off from the 25.

EINSEL'S PASS TO FOX IN the end zone was dropped. The Warriors tried four times to convert after touchdown, three times by dropkick, and failed on each attempt. A high wind doubtless affected Fox's two tries.

Late in the third period, when the Red had kicked off after its second score, the Tigers began to move. Led by Bob Perkins and Fred Reer, Berlin Heights rolled up four first downs, one of them on a penalty, and rapped at the Warriors' door.

But the Tigers failed to reckon with a stout goal-line defense and gave up possession on the Red five.

It was here that Einsel called on all his horses. Taylor tore off three. Utiss bounced through tackle for 25 to the Red 33. Taylor carried to the 45, Utiss hit for five more and Jimmy Strine banged through for the first down, on the Tiger 45.

TAYLOR AND UTISS AL-tempered in plunging to the 31. Then the rangy junior belted through guard for 23 yards and a first down on the eight. Taylor got nine on a pitchout, whereupon Utiss settled the issue with a bull-like rush into the end zone.

Ted Fox kicked off for the Warriors and nailed his man on the Tiger 24. The Tigers ripped off two first downs before bogging down and a wind-blown punt bounced out on the Tiger 45.

Utiss and Taylor collaborated in pushing to the nine before the Warriors incurred a 15-yard holding penalty. Here Einsel tossed to Fox deep in the end zone for a last fourth score.

THE WORK BENCHES OF GOD

Christians are not turned out on assembly lines.

The skill and patience of many a human soul, the blueprint of Christ's own example, and the unseen but mighty craftsmanship of the Creator Himself—these over the decades bring forth a noble Christian life.

There must be understanding, guidance, faith. There must be a Christian home with sincere, loving parents. There must be prayer, the Bible, worship, thought, study. And at length practice and persistence must win many a victory over self before the world begins to recognize the hand of God in the life of a man.

Nearly in the church you will choose, there are busy hands at the work benches of God.

And room for more—your child's and your own!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) Which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
