

Editor hit by 2 men Dec. 24

Three men and a boy asked the editor of The Advertiser to open his doors at about 3 p.m. Christmas eve.

The newspaper was closed for the holiday. The editor had just finished painting the legs of the stork erected in the Square by the Chamber of Commerce and his hands were soiled.

Because he allowed the men to enter, he is today minus three teeth and has numerous bruises and contusions on his head, back and neck.

THE INSTANT THE KEY tipped the tumbler in the lock, the men thrust the door open and threw the editor against the east wall of the outer office of The Advertiser.

They demanded to know the name of the person who wrote the letter signed "Disgusted" in last week's issue.

The editor refused to tell them. ONE OF THE MEN, LATER identified as Milford Sexton, swung a round house right at the editor's head. The smaller, older newspaperman evaded the blow. The punch landed firmly against the wall, lacerating the fist.

Less than five minutes later, aided and abetted by Dave Williams, Sexton had his left hand on the editor's throat, choking and was belaboring the victim with his right. The middle finger of the assailant found its way into the editor's mouth and he bit it.

ASSISTED BY MAC ECHEL- barger and Elden Burkett, employees of a men's furnishing store next door, the editor extricated himself from the assault and fled charges, returnable in the court of Mayor T. R. Ford tomorrow, of assault and battery against the two men. They have since been free under bond of $200.

BRASS TACKS---

Two weeks ago we published here, on the heels of the annexation of Shiloh school district to Plymouth district, a fervent plea for the end of bickering, of the need to stand shoulder to shoulder to solve our common school problems.

That editorial has been widely reprinted. We are proud of it. It represents our considered opinion now even as it did two and a half years ago, when we fought for the consolidation of the two districts.

There was at least one person who disagreed with that stand. He accused us of partiality in the news columns to consolidation and submitted the letter which appeared last week.

The views contained in it were his views. They were harsh, unfair, and unreasonable. So far as we know, there were few then — and there are increasingly fewer now — whose views agreed with his.

There was no indication they were the views of the newspaper, although without a disclaimer that effect, some irrational persons who didn't pay any attention to the front-page editorial two weeks ago might have so concluded. There was certainly no reason to believe they represent the views of the business community or the citizens of Plymouth, and any such conclusion is unwarranted, unfair and unreasonable.

The Advertiser is sorry that so many readers mistook its intent. It has always held its pages open to both sides of any issue. It will continue to do so. It believes that every man, woman and child over 21 has a legal and moral right to his own opinion, and to express it with out fear or favor.

For our part, anybody who has faithfully read The Advertiser knows in his heart, if he wants to be honest, that:

1. We have always stood for consolidation of the Plymouth and Shiloh schools, unwaveringly, unflinchingly, even in the face of massive opposition, such as on the night when we endorsed the stand of Dave Cook — the only ones in the room who did so.

2. We have always stood for Christian understanding and appreciation of other peoples, regardless of race, color or creed. Only six months ago, we wrote that we were sick and tired of hearing adverse references to the place of birth or previous residence of some of our fellow citizens.

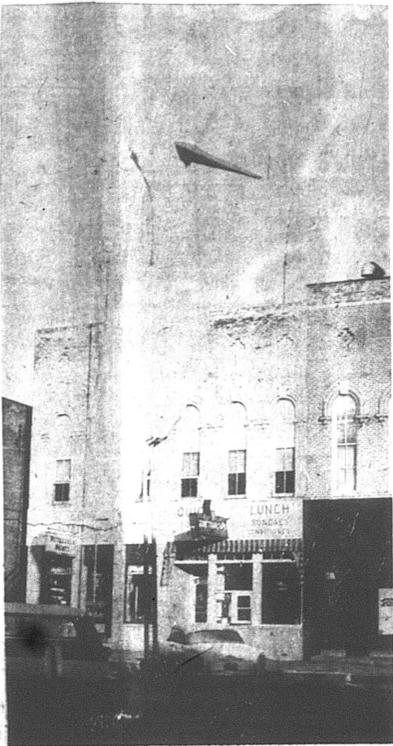

The events of Dec. 22, 23 and since do not make us happy. Had we even an inkling they would have transpired, the letter would have been reconsidered. We felt it was so ridiculous, so prejudiced, that readers would at last realize that now is the time to stop behaving like small children.

If it was a mistake to publish the letter without a disclaimer, we apologize to all concerned.

This is the Christmas season. We appeal to all men and women of good will to understand the special situation — One reader, an honest if misguided citizen, was given the opportunity to express his opinion. That opinion, thank God, is not widespread.

School board trying to join Huron county

Plymouth Board of Education apparently intends to persist in its efforts to realign the district with Huron county.

This intention became clearer Thursday night after the board heard about a dozen patrons of the local and the New Haven districts give their opinions.

Arlo W. Firestone, veteran Shiloh banker said he realizes Shiloh school district was "more or less dumped into Plymouth's lap." He feels, he said, the people should have the privilege of voting on such an important issue. He said he hopes Plymouth will treat Shiloh as Shiloh would treat Plymouth, with good will. His remarks indicated that Shiloh patrons prefer merging with Plymouth rather than with the Iriquoise district. The fact Shiloh voters did not support the bond issue for the proposed school showed, Mr. Firestone said, they disapproved of the DuBois site in Route 224.

When asked if Shiloh would consent to join with New Haven, Greenfield, and Richmond in reforming the Huron Valley district, he said he feels the location of a new school building will be the deciding factor.

VANDERPOOL FINED

Marion Vanderpool, Plymouth route 1, paid a fine of $40 and court costs of $5 at Willard Dec. 15 on a charge of reckless operation filed by the state highway patrol.

New board says same old things about old jail

A new board of visitors has inspected the same old jail here and found the same old conditions: uncleanliness.

The board, comprised of Esther G. Beck, Elizabeth Githusen, Ida Mae Franklin and Edna Dalton — two Republicans and two Democrats, found the Willard jail in need of painting and untidy, the Bell levee jail very dirty, the Monroeville jail needing prompt cleaning after use by prisoners, and the New London jail lacking suitable toilet facilities.

Huron county home, children's home and the Huron county jail were found in good condition, clean and sanitary.

Council faces sewer issue as permit falls due again

Donald E. Akers, retired postal service employee who practices law here, Elmer E. Markley formerly a councilman, and Whitney J. Briggs, once both a councilman and a mayor, take office this week as members of the village council for two-year terms.

They are the only new — and Akers is the only real new — faces in the village family.

THURMAN R. FORD, 70-year-old garage operator, assumes the role of mayor for the full two-year term. He succeeded Alfred Parkinson as mayor when Parkinson resigned. Ford had been president of the council.

James H. Rhine, who failed to file a statement of expense for his campaign, in which he was unopposed, was issued a certificate of election by the Richland county board of elections when it was shown he had no expenses. He will serve as treasurer for the next two years.

Carl V. Ellis, incumbent who was unopposed, will embark upon another two-year term as village clerk.

Robert L. Mc Intire, George W. Cheesman and Luther R. Fetters, all of whom were unopposed, will serve a second two-year term as trustees of the Board of Public Affairs.

ISSUES OF WHICH THE council will be seized early in the year are headed by the long standing sewer construction problem.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE PLYMOUTH, OHIO

Open Letter to the Citizens of Shiloh and New Haven

On behalf of the people of Plymouth, the merchants, the school board, and all concerned, we tender our sincere apologies for the letter which was published in the PLYMOUTH ADVERTISER dated December 26, 1957, and for the incidents resulting therefrom.

We do not share or condone the opinions expressed. We seek the goodwill and cooperation of the people of Shiloh and the proposed Huron Valley school districts in effecting a sound consolidation which will result in a good school for all our children. We seek to set an adult example for our children to follow, one which will not include the writing and publishing of unsigned "poison-pen" letters. We feel it is unfortunate that one person alone has the right to do so much damage to so many, however this is a right guaranteed by the Constitution, a right which should not be abused.

It is important that everyone concerned realize that the opinion, given in the letter, and signed by "Disgusted" is not the opinion of the village of Plymouth or the Chamber of Commerce representing the merchants of our village.

Respectfully submitted

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce

Progress made in 1957 shown

School problems occupied center stage in Plymouth and vicinity during 1957 without much progress, but in other fields substantial headway was made in solving civic and community questions.

At year's end, these observations seemed valid:

1. After a false start, and an adverse Ohio Supreme court decision, Plymouth and Shiloh schools were joined without objection.

2. Efforts to transfer the new district to Huron county for an eventual consolidation with Greenfield, Richmond and New Haven districts will continue.

3. Intense feelings in Plymouth and Shiloh districts would wear off after the turn of the year.

Bright spot of the community year was the launching of a community chest, first in the village's history. Headed by Mrs. A. L. Paddock, Jr., the chest was nursed by the Chamber of Commerce until its own independent board of direction could be established. Its first time out the chest raised slightly more than eight per cent over its goal of $3,300.

SECOND ONLY TO THE community chest as a successful effort of the village and its citizens to live together in harmony was the Plymouth Midget league, which played a 36-game schedule. Four teams, sponsored by local firms or organizations — Plymouth Order of Mechanics, Bachrach Co., New Haven Supply Co., American Legion, Fire department, and Fate-Rook-Heath Co., occupied 65 boys in a summer schedule.

ONE DARK SPOT ON THE year's picture was the loss of one of two medical practitioners. After 25 years of serving Plymouth, Dr. Charles L. Hannum pulled up stakes on May 15 and moved to Strongsville, to specialize in the practice of anesthesiology.

No replacement had been found at year's end, although the Chamber of Commerce was making manifold efforts to obtain one. Quarters — newly redecorated and awaiting a shingle — await a good practitioner.

DEATH TOOK SEVERAL figures from the scene. In March, Peyton W. Thomas, 58, publisher of The Advertiser for 28 years before he retired in 1954, died of a heart attack. So did Glenn West, 56, retired mayor of the village.

Miss May Fleming, 80, for many years a country correspondent here, died late in January. She had been in failing health.

In officialdom, some changes occurred. Raymond L. Brooks was sworn as acting postmaster at $5,280 annually in January. His nomination has not yet been acted upon by the U. S. Senate.

Willie Barnett was not rehired as street commissioner. In time, a replacement — Henry Trauger — was found, to work on a contract basis.

Some details of 1957: Jan. 3: Four toughs were arrested for robbery of Plymouth High school. They confided to breaking and entering and taking of $25. Raymond E. Dewey, son of Mrs. Bessie Dewey of Shiloh, was recognized by "Who's Who in Industry and Commerce", George H. Spiger resigned as trustee of the Board of Public Affairs at Shiloh, to be replaced later by Jack Thompson. Spiger was killed in an auto-truck crash on Route 224 and New State road, Delphi, later in the year.

Jan. 10: J. Harold Cashman reelected president of Board of Education. State Water Pollution Control board reissued permit to dump raw sewage into Huron river, but insisted upon a bond issue to be submitted to the electorate in November. It was not done. The permit expires Dec. 17. Gas and electricity in Shiloh lifted, for separate reasons, and kept the village cold and dark for several hours.

Jan. 17: Mrs. Samuel Schroeder was elected to head Plymouth Girl Scout council. Found unconscious by the Donald Shavers, Miss May Fleming was taken to a hospital, where she died. Carl M. Lofland was reelected president of Peoples National bank. He began his 50th year of continuous service to the bank in July. Robert Bell, 83, died of heart disease at Shiloh.

Feb. 14—Mrs. Robert Jacobs lost her mother, Mrs. Bertha Stein, at 65. Ohio Supreme court agreed to review on appeal suit of L. Meiser against the village of Shiloh, charging it was wrong for the village to pay for street lighting from the electric light fund. He subsequently was defeated.

Feb. 21—Frederick C. Lewis quit as special patrolman as Chief of Police L. Meiser complained of long hours and no relief. Earl Hieber's barn burned, with damage assessed at $27,000. At long last, a telephone was installed in the post office. Three violators were fined $500 in Bloomingrove township under the new zoning ordinance. Salary of Shiloh's fire chief was adjusted to $7 per call. Fred Guthrie, 79, died at Shiloh.

Jim Ryan in a happier day, when his Pirates won the flag.

Jim Ryan, a solid citizen

Christmas just wasn't quite the same without Jim Ryan, who died in Willard Municipal hospital a few days before.

He suffered terribly in the last weeks of his life, but he never complained, never felt sorry for himself.

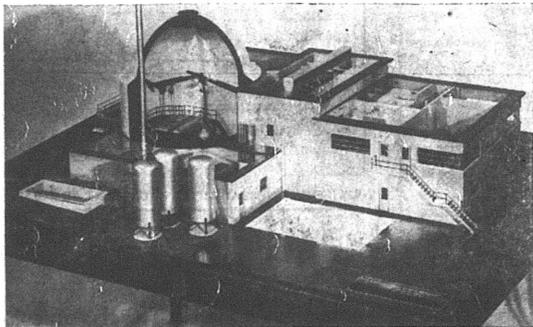

His family and his friends — and he had many — knew he was going to die. When he began to suffer so much, they prayed for quick release.

Jim was the right kind of citizen. He pitched in whenever help was asked for, with no thought of his prestige or rank or degree of service. Once he directed a group of boys to a softball championship and showed he could lead as well as follow.

He was a devout Christian, a true American, the kind we can ill afford to lose so young.

He didn't like fuss, and perhaps he would be displeased with this. But we can't help feeling sorry for a world that has lost a character as sterling as Jim Ryan's.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Views expressed in this column are always those of the writer, (s) never of the newspaper, or its editor, or the community it purports to represent.

Sir: We who live in Shiloh frankly admit our illiteracy. This fact however fails to limit our ability to defend ourselves even against organisms born, or perhaps better, "hatched" in the slime under a rock. We wonder, too, for instance, where the writer of last week's letter derived his or her schooling? Also an editor whose judgment permitted such frothing to appear in print without apology or some semblance of rewriting. The stupidity of any adult who involves innocent children in the controversy at hand extends much beyond my understanding.

It's my humble opinion, which has little value of course, that the letter in question will not ring cash registers for Plymouth merchants and they do influence the success or failure of The Plymouth Advertiser. Furthermore several who came into our store to day voiced the opinion Mr. Paddock wrote in to accord to create further discord between our neighboring villages on the matter of consolidation. Regardless of the writer's opinion on this score Shiloh dollars are welcomed by Plymouth merchants fully as much as Plymouth dollars. And the attitude displayed by you, Mr. Editor, isn't going to benefit your local advertisers with regard to Shiloh business.

We hope sincerely you have a most pleasant holiday season and that this letter will be accorded the same publicity you so generously contributed to the unsigned one.

With kindest regards,
J. R. Page

Sir: It is with deep disgust that I read in the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER of your being attacked for publishing a letter in your newspaper. Your refusal to divulge the name of the writer of the letter you printed is in the best interests of freedom of press and speech, and you are to be congratulated for your integrity and strength of conviction.

As a "freshman" school administrator from 1948 to 1951 headed the schools of North Fairfield and while there, in the interests of providing better school facilities for all the non-urban children in the area, the Fairfield Board of Education and I invited representatives of the New Haven, Ohio, and Ripley Boards of Education to meet with us and with Dr. T. C. Holy, Chief of the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research, to explore whether a new consolidated district might be formed in that area. Subsequent to that time, under the capable leadership of County Superintendent Ralph R. Brown of Norwalk and Supt. Melvin G. Waltz of the Fairfield-Greenwich consolidation, a new consolidation was effected for a larger area, and a better education was in the future for the children of southern Huron County and northern Richland County. Unfortunately, a technicality has temporarily gummed up the works, and incidents of the above sort throw a bad light on the best efforts of thinking school officials and laymen.

Obviously, the type of people who assault a newspaper editor are not the type of people who are sincerely interested in the best type of education for their children. Their very actions belie their profound belief in the institutions and traditions which democracy seeks to espouse. As usual, it will be left to the thinking citizens to solve the problems of America's schools, including the education of less thinking citizen who give only lip service to democratic principles.

Your type of editorship is too rare to be discouraged in this day and age. Again, congratulations, and keep up the good work!

Sincerely,
G. Robert Fox
Associate Professor of Education,

Sir: The Huron Valley High school teachers' list me to convey the following:

"We feel that the transfer students from New Haven and other districts have made substantial contributions to the high school program and have, in no manner lowered the social or academic standing of the school. We wish to extend a cordial welcome to the Shiloh students who will be with us next year."

WCSO topic set

"Japan Today" will be the subject of the program planned for the members of the WCSO Tuesday night.

They will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist church. Mrs. P. W. Thomas and Mrs. William Melchi are the hostesses.

The program will be given by Mrs. Fred J. Port, Mrs. R. Earl McQuate and Mrs. Norman B. McQuone.

3 per cent earnings accrued by investor in Peoples Federal

Peoples Federal Savings and Loan association made a semi-annual distribution of earnings to savings account customers for the last half of 1957 at the annual rate of three percent to be paid for the six months' period will be in excess of $500,000, and will far exceed $1,000,000 1957.

"The past 12 months have been another banner year in the long and successful history of Peoples Federal that dates back over a period of 65 years, says J. G. Routzon, vice-president.

Originally established in 1892, the institution converted to a federal charter on July 1, 1944, in order to provide insurance of savings accounts to $10,000, by an agency of the U. S. Government. Peoples Federal is Mansfield's only insured savings and loan.

During the past 13 1/2 years as a federal savings and loan, and now currently the ninth largest in Ohio, $0,471 new savings accounts have been opened, $69,600,000 has been received from customers as deposits to savings accounts, a total of 32,110 mortgage loans aggregating $72,400,000 have been granted to home owners for the purpose of buying, building and refinancing of real estate. In addition 17,344 small loans totaling $12,500,000 have been made to repair, improve and modernize existing homes.

"Dec. 31 financial statement will report total assets of $43,000,000, with a strong liquidity ratio of cash and U. S. Bond holdings approximating $13,000,000. The substantial growth of Peoples Federal is indicative of the increased popularity of the Mansfield area in placing funds in savings and loans that are insured by an agency of the U. S. Government and pay the high rate of three percent." Routzon said.

Mrs. Frank J. Hiltz.

Mrs. Major, 79, interred; died at home in Akron

Mrs. Lela A. Major, 79, was buried Monday afternoon in Greenlawn cemetery. An Akron resident for the last 25 years, she died there at her home Friday. Mrs. Major was a former resident of Galion.

Warriors lose 3rd at New Washington

Ted Fox dumped 21 points through the hoop at New Washington Friday night in a futile effort to overtake the Dutchtowners in a nonleague basketball match.

New Washington jumped to an early lead and never was headed in a 61 to 47 landslide over the Warriors.

IT WAS THE THIRD DEFEAT in a row for Huron Valley, which now is even with three wins and three losses.

Don Kaple scored 20 and Jerry Evans 17 for the Dutchtowners, who bucketed nine of 19 tries from the penalty stripe.

It was a dull night for the Warriors all around. The visiting jayvees took it on the chin, 39 to 21.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

After a dismal razzing all season because The Old Timer's favorites couldn't match their performance of last season, O. T. is doing a little crowing right now. At the expense of Squire Ream, that is.

The squiter took five bananas of O. T.'s hard-earned fruit in a wager that the Browns would top the Giants in the standings, which they lamentably did in great style. For revenge, the O. T. bet the western conference winner would defeat the Browns.

Defeat 'em? Who'd have thought it would be that bad? After the Browns took the Giants, 6 to 3, at Cleveland in the opener, the boys around the corner hung crepe on our door.

Okay if we drape it on years, fellas?

AS THIS IS WRITTEN, THE O. T. is offered a chance to pick up coffee money on the Bowl contests. For those who'd care to compare choices, here're ours: Oklahoma to beat Duke, by a touchdown, at Miami.

Navy to whip Rice, at Dallas, by two scores.

Ohio State over Oregon, at Pasadena, but not by much.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE is making plans for a gala pre-season baseball wing-ding. Frank Lane, new general manager of the Indians, has promised the O. T. he'll come if he's in Ohio, barring which he'll send one of the starting players in the season's opener against Kansas City. Mid-grade leaguers will be guests.

a Dog's Life
DOG TOYS FOR CHRISTMAS
by Bob Bartos
Prominent Dog Authority
Your dog will be one disappointed pup if there's nothing under the Christmas tree for him. So make sure there's a toy or two and see that it's wrapped, for dogs love opening packages.

But remember, there are right and wrong toys for dogs. Rubber toys, unless they're the hard and indestructible type, should be taboo. A piece of rubber, if swallowed, may cause a serious (or fatal) intestinal blockage necessitating major surgery. All but large knuckle bones should be taboo, too. Small bones can splinter or lodge in the throat.

Leather toys are safest, they are fun to chew and can easily be made at home by you and the youngsters. Get some old inner soles or leather scraps from the shoemaker. If the leather is thin, cut out a couple of bone-shaped pieces with scissors. With an ice pick, punch holes through both pieces, a quarter of an inch apart, and in from the edge. The youngsters can lace both pieces together with a leather shoelace. No need to stick to the bone shape... you can cut circles or boots, leaving the top of the boot unlaced so that it can be filled with colored dog

A festive table set with tempting goodies provides the perfect holiday atmosphere for home entertaining. Ada girl is bride of Gerald Schneider

In the presence of their families and a few friends Miss Barbara Jean Agin and Gerald F. Schneider were married Dec. 22 at Ada. The Rev. Richard Teller performed the afternoon ceremony in the Methodist church there. Christmas flowers and candlelight provided the background. Before the ceremony, a prelude of organ music was played.

The bride chose a ballerina length dress of green. The bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline, which extended into three-quarter length sleeves. The full skirt flared out from the fitted waistline line. With it she wore a small pink-colored hat and a corsage of pink roses.

Her sister, Mrs. Charles Deringer of Ada, was her only attendant. She wore a pink sheath with a scoop neck and three-quarter length sleeves. The full skirt flared out from the fitted waistline line. With it she wore a small pink-colored hat and a corsage of pink roses.

BLUEPRINT FOR PEACE

Behind every structure, whether large or small, intricate or simple, there's a blueprint. And behind every blueprint there's a vision.

Someone has a dream. He explains it to an architect. Using the tools of his trade, the architect makes a blueprint—a plan to show workmen how to build what was first conceived in a dream.

Centuries upon centuries ago God had a vision. He made man in His image, then gave him the tools to fashion a blueprint. The Bible was the result—a blueprint for right-living for every man who breathes.

God is the Supreme Architect. Under Him today churches work to show man how to use the Bible as a blueprint for his own life. When that plan is followed, life is good. When it is ignored, confusion and disaster result.

Let the church of your choice show you and your family how to follow the blueprint for peaceful living.
