

MARKSMAN ROGER MILLER beams as season's first buck is hung from garage beam by Paul Kale, top of ladder, and John J. Lafferty.

Free lessons available, says nimrod at Huron Valley Bowmen.

He did it with his bow and arrow

Roger Miller, an organizer of Huron Valley Bowmen, has a new view of the old rhyme about "Who killed Cock Robin?"

"I, said the Sparrow, with my bow and arrow," is the classic response.

But ask Huron County Game Warden Tom Hennessey who killed the first buck deer of the season and he'll tell you, "Twas Roger Miller, with his bow and arrow!"

ACCOMPANIED BY PAUL Kale and John J. Lafferty, Miller went to the muck lands west of the village Saturday and had his season's limit before the season was three hours old.

Through mark and gloom he spotted a young buck whose rack was just beginning to appear through its head. He drew his bow and planted an arrow squarely in the animal's chest.

Range: about 25 yards. Effect: the animal charged about 30 feet, collapsed in a heap, gasped its last without coup de grace.

POUL WEATHER inhibited large bags Saturday, first day of the season.

Pheasant were said to be numerous but owing to wet weather kept close to cover. Pheasant season closes Dec. 6. Limit is two cock birds a day. Limit on cottontails, said by Hennessey to be plentiful this season, is four a day. Shooting may not begin before 9 a.m. and must end at 5 p.m.

Deer season, when firearms may be used, is Dec. 10 through 15. Deer may not be so plentiful this season. Traffic kill, which had been used as a measuring stick, is no longer a good sign, since new state law permits drivers to claim carcasses struck by their cars.

AND DON'T, ADVISES Hennessey, ask Miller about likelihood of a good deer shoot.

The Advertiser has a brand new dress

This week The Advertiser has a new dress. It's called Excelsior, in nine point, or one-eighth of an inch in average height.

Produced by Mergenthaler Linotype Corp., this new type face was chosen for high readability factors. Its pleasant tone and regular weight give it a character all its own. It's built for easy reading.

IN THE PAST FOUR years, The Advertiser has replaced every piece of equipment in its composing and press room save one. Now it replaces its main stock-in-trade, the alphabet with which it brings to its ever-expanding family of readers the news, features and advertising copy each week.

"We have done these things," the publisher said this week, for two reasons: we believe in our product, and we believe it ought to be as good as we can make it. We constantly strive to make of The Advertiser the best weekly newspaper in its circulation class in the whole country."

No state building funds without BGSU survey

Unless a Bowling Green State university building needs survey, recommends construction in the size and cost proposed by the Board of Education, not a dime of state building aid will be forthcoming, the Board learned Thursday night.

In fact, the board was told, there are no state building funds available now, and no priorities established for Plymouth district to obtain funds.

Richland County Supt. Dale Kinney said otherwise on Aug. 14 last, when he told the board it stood fourth in line for $352,591. If the electorate should approve the maximum nine percent bonded indebtedness, amounting to $376,725.

There were no funds available in August, officials of the state department of education told The Advertiser this week.

WHETHER A BGSU building survey can be accomplished before the end of the year seemed problematical early this week. Mostly, it depended upon who was doing the talking. One informant of Supt. M. J. Coon said he thought it could be done this month. Another, who talked to The Advertiser, said he didn't think it could be done this year.

Main object, of course, is to get the job done promptly to enable the request to be laid before the department in December in order to include it in the next budget.

Discouraging as this report was, it hardly exceeded additional news of a discouraging character.

Summarized, this was: 1. The three-mill levy won't help much. Plymouth district next year will go into the red by $27,000, even with proceeds of three-mill levy in hand. Deficit this year, $13,000. Solution: borrow when and where possible.

2. Bills of about $6,000 cannot be paid now, will be held over until the first of the year. 3. Equipment needs in the schools are so shocking as to defy exaggeration.

THESE NEEDS INCLUDE: Few textbooks meet standard set by the county system; some classes are using out-of-date, worn textbooks with pages missing; different sections of the same grade are using different textbooks; some classes are using old and new texts with conflicting information; some rooms must share reference books, which are insufficient in number to meet the demand; there is a shortage of good dictionaries; library is poorly furnished with new and up-to-date books.

Also, maps and globes are old, not up-to-date, badly worn, in short supply; insufficient number of motion picture and slide projectors and none in the Shiloh annex; fifth and sixth grade science rooms have no charts nor equipment for simple experiments; models of the human body, skeletons, frogs and earthworms needed; chemistry, physics and biology equipment about one ninth complete; there is one microscope for 72 biology pupils.

Also, two of five girls enrolled in home economics do no work because of shortage of sewing machines; inadequate typewriter support in commercial department; no adding machines or calculator; music equipment in short supply; poor repair, and not housed adequately; physical education equipment and facilities poor; overcrowded, in short supply.

Despite these reports, the board voted to buy four new sewing machines, apparently figuring the need for these is more acute.

FURNISHINGS NEEDED by the schools were outlined by Kirby Nesbitt, chairman of that sub-committee. They include 10 desks in the art room, 45 desks in the study hall, 40 chair-type desks in history room, 25 chair-type desks in Latin room, folding chairs for auditorium, 20 hall lockers, in boys' dressing room, more ventilation in boys' dressing room, bricks and chimney in need of pointing; Also, skylights require repair, lamps and lights require replacement, hallways need repainting, rooms need plaster patching, all doorknobs and locks need replacement, science room requires ventilation hood, hall east of stage should be plastered.

Even the relatively new elementary school needs a door installed for direct access to the playground equipment.

Shiloh building needs 40 desks, window shades, patching of roof, folding chairs in auditorium, a master station for the PA system, a program clock, black-topping of playground, fold-away tables, a lunch room where pupils may eat, an additional elementary room, room for a library.

Some school facts you need to know

To clarify developments in the school problems, these facts are submitted.

1. State law requires that districts not having high schools be attached or annexed to districts operating high schools prior to Dec. 31, 1959, on pain of loss of some state revenues. Huron Valley district would lose $6,000.

2. Huron Valley district now sends 106 pupils on a tuition basis to Willard High school. Willard Exempted Village district draws about $32,000 in revenues (state foundation and tuition) for these pupils, or $301.88 each.

3. Willard Board of Education at its Nov. 10 meeting said it would "reexamine" the possibility of future acceptance of tuition pupils.

4. Bowling Green State university study planned for the Plymouth district "is not required to take any factors into account save the needs for housing of pupils within the district as it now stands." However, the study group would not be forbidden to hear interested citizens or to receive written statements affecting the building program, cost or location of buildings.

5. Any citizen is authorized to attend any regular or special session of any board of education. Plymouth board meets regularly on the second Thursday of each month.

Winner of "Prince of Peace" declamation contest in Methodist church Sunday afternoon was Bonnie Boyle, daughter of the Leroy Lishkas.

James Wasserman placed second. Other competitors were Douglas McQuate and Sandra Hall.

Ashland Toastmasters club judged the contest.

'Forget Not' topic set
 "Forget Not" is the topic of the Rev. Robert F. Hall's remarks set for the village's annual Thanksgiving service Thursday morning in First Evangelical Lutheran church. "The service will begin promptly at 9:30 a.m. and close promptly at 10:30 a.m.," the host minister says.

Holiday issues set by publisher

Plans of holiday publication of The Advertiser were announced this week by the publisher.

The Nov. 27 issue will be published Nov. 25. It will be delivered in the mails Nov. 26.

The Dec. 25 issue will be published Dec. 22 and mailed the next day.

The Advertiser will not be published during the week of Dec. 28.

Advertisers are requested to note these changes and to adjust preparation of copy accordingly. Correspondents should make note of the change also.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

In the spring of 1796, three parties of settlers left Fort Washington at Cincinnati with their wilderness destination being Dayton, a new town site laid out by Israel Ludlow the previous November.

One party travelled by canoe down the Ohio and up the Great Miami River to the mouth of the Mad River. The second party went along the forest trail with a two-horse wagon. And the third party, led by George Newcombe, travelled across country on foot in a two-weeks journey.

Newcombe's cabin, the first house in Dayton, was built on the south bank of the Great Miami River, half a city block from where Dayton's Main Street bridge carries a heavy stream of traffic across the river. Newcombe's Tavern today is a popular museum that is visited by thousands each year.

This log structure was used by Benjamin Van Cleave as Dayton's first school house and its first post office, Van Cleave serving as school teacher and postmaster. Settlers to the north of Dayton, as far as Fort Wayne, Indiana, came to the post office for their mail between 1800 and 1806.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mrs. Albright has 89th birthday

Sir: Some rather derogatory statements have been printed recently concerning the status of teachers in the Plymouth schools. In true American tradition we, the Plymouth Elementary teachers, feel that we should express our opinions on the subject.

We agree wholeheartedly with the idea that education for teachers is important. We believe this so firmly that most of us have taken or are taking college courses right now.

However we do not believe that education should be the only criteria by which a teacher is judged. We know that experience is a most important factor in producing a "good" teacher. Experience, character, an understanding and appreciation of children are all vital to a teacher if her pupils are to learn and grow. Most of these qualities are not acquired in a classroom. In fact, we sincerely doubt that one or two more years of college would have made any radical change in our teaching attitudes.

While it is true that none of the elementary teachers has a four year degree in elemen-

THE standard 30-inch cork ring life preserver shown in this picture has advanced in price from $8.60 each to $14.85 each in the last few years. It is simple to make and is no more effective today than it was years ago.

Our hospitals are another kind of "life preserver". Their costs have also increased rapidly in the last few years.

They are, however, much better "life preservers" than they were even a few years ago. They now have the most advanced scientific equipment, facilities, drugs and technical skills to help patients back to health. That accounts for only a small part of the increased costs. Advances in wages and in the cost of food, drugs and supplies account for a much larger part of the increase.

Your Blue Cross contract provides, in accordance with its terms, for payment of the cost of your hospital care. Today's Blue Cross rates are based on hospital costs of 1955. If hospitals are to continue being better and better "life preservers", Blue Cross rates must keep in step with the cost of hospital care.

Your Rising Lifeline

Almost 10 years have been added to the average life span since 1930, because of better health care, due to advances in medical sciences—in the skill and knowledge of your physician—in more and broader hospital services brought within the reach of all the people by Blue Cross.

What's important is how; here's what Mrs. Dawson's mother dies of heart ailment

The shocking situation in our schools, as set forth elsewhere today, need to be remedied.

It does little good to find fault and to affix blame. What is needed is to figure out how to patch the damage and to work hard toward a prompt repair.

The finance committee of the Board of Education — David Cook and Gerald Stanley — has been given the reports of the sub-committees on teachers salaries, on equipment and on furnishings and buildings.

The clerk has reported that even with the new three-mill levy, the district will be in the red by $29,000 come the end of 1959.

School taxes hereabouts are high and will be higher when the three mill levy is in force. They are certain to go even higher later on, unless the board can find an oil well or a gold mine on its property.

We have tried to be objective and forthright about our schools, well knowing not everybody would agree with us.

Yet we submit these facts, facts which are as incontrovertible as facts can be.

1. Graduates of the Plymouth system will be competing with graduates of hundreds of other systems inside and outside of Ohio. They should, therefore, be equipped to do so. This district should offer the same kind of basic instruction, in the same quantity and quality, as other districts, wherever they may be. Where possible, it should be superior to what is offered elsewhere.

2. Basic instruction should come first. The curriculum in English, mathematics, social and natural sciences should be strengthened FIRST. Other curricula can, and should, be strengthened thereafter. It is unwise to expend funds on non-essential (by reasonable standards, not necessarily those of the state board) curricula at the expense of, or prior to, essential curricula.

3. It is the duty of the school board to come forward promptly with a feasible plan to effect these improvements within a reasonable period of time, always emphasizing quality of instruction in basic curricula at the expense, if necessary, of non-basic curricula. Ways and means of doing so should be promptly revealed to the patrons of the district.

4. Minimum standards in non-basic curricula — in which we lump physical education, home economics, industrial arts, music, driver education and the like — should be maintained, but financial outlay to advance them above minimum standard should not precede financial outlay to advance basic curricula above minimum standard.

5. A long, hard look must be taken at the ability of the district to support financially some non-essential curricula (driver training and music, to mention only two subjects), re-

She was a former Shiloh resident. She is also survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Ellsworth Daup of Shelby, two other daughters and two sons.

Mrs. Glenn Swanger and Mrs. Robert Dawson were in charge. Members learned how to make wood fiber flowers. The first day was spent making geraniums and small roses while the second day was spent making gladiolus and daisies. During the business meeting, projects for the next two years were discussed.

J. re-trimming will be the topic for the Dec. 2 meeting at the home of Mrs. John Ballitch at 10 a.m. There will be a display of crafts and needlework suitable for Christmas gifts.

Dean Wolford, junior warden; William Burchett, senior deacon; Martin Burt, junior deacon; Russell Copeland, secretary; A. W. Firestone, treasurer; Leo Daup, tyler.

Lon Castle, 17, of Euclid street was hospitalized Monday after an accident, when the car he was driving struck an embankment and telephone pole in Route 61 south of Plymouth at 4:30 a.m. Sunday. State patrolmen said they arrested him for unsafe driving. He sustained a back injury.

Eighteen attended when Mrs. Gloyd Russell and Mrs. Maud Ruckman entertained the Pear Matrons club at the Mansfield hall Friday evening.

Mrs. Faye Zackman and Miss Marlene Russell were re-elected president and vice president. Other officers elected were Mrs. M. C. Guthrie, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Gloyd Russell, assistant secretary-treasurer. Plans were made for a Christmas party at the December meeting. This will take the form of a pot luck supper and gift exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Fidler and two sons of Lexington spent Sunday afternoon with Lloyd Domer.

Mrs. Hobart Garrett returned home Saturday after several weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Tom Phillips in Fresno, Cal.

Mrs. Grace Bushey has been confined to her home the past few weeks on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Domer of Lexington visited Lloyd Domer Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Dick spent Sunday with Mrs. Frances Cross at Mansfield.

Mrs. Lavina Snodgrass, who resides about a mile north of here in Shiloh-Norwalk road, is a patient in Willard Municipal hospital.

Mrs. E. J. Messenger has sold her home in Pettit street to Mr. Harris and family of Crestline, who are expected to move here next week. Mrs. Messenger is moving to Springfield.

Service to the community

A colleague of ours tells this one. On Saturdays he sells dimes (10c each). Seems the neighborhood movie is next door. The kids stop in before the show for dimes — for the vending machines in the theatre. A lot of our business is like this — service to the community. Glad to do it. Because we're conveniently located and open long hours, we're a handy place to pick up change or a bottle of aspirin. But a pharmacist's true service to his community is to be a quick, reliable source of the drugs and medications your physician prescribes. That's the real reason we're here. And we are always pleased to serve you.

tary education, some graduated from college and some have a diploma because at the time they attended college a two-year course was all that was offered.

As to salaries, it is true that Plymouth teachers receive the lowest pay in the county. This is not a new development and it does not follow that because we are the poorest paid that we are the poorest teachers. Strangely enough we do not seek positions elsewhere because we like it here!

In the state of Ohio 60 per cent of the elementary teachers in the county schools have less than four years of college. Seven per cent are temporarily certified. 92 per cent of our elementary teachers in Plymouth are permanently certified. Certification is done on the county and state levels.

The 12 elementary teachers have given a total of 132 years to teaching. We believe that experience does count. We feel that, in general, the instructional material is good. We pupils are getting a solid foundation. We hope to continue doing an "adequate" job of teaching for some time to come.

Times change, says Will Duffy, for better

Man and boy, Will Duffy has lived at the corner of Route 224 and Walnut road for nearly 55 years. And he's seen times change.

Some of the change, he allows, "couldn't help but be for the better." But as for some of the rest of it, he sadly concludes that "it seems to be for the worse."

THE DUFFYS, WHO'VE been married more than half a century, raised their family and are now overseeing a crop of grandchildren.

"How can you expect a boy or girl to turn out right," they ask, "unless their parents take an interest in what they do?" Will Duffy attended about half the games his grandson pitched last summer. John Wilcox, son of the Duffys' daughter and son-in-law, completed his tenure in Plymouth Midget league.

"Boys and girls will go wrong if you don't take an interest in them, and you can't do that unless you're around to do it," Will Duffy says. "In some cases both parents have to work, but they ought to arrange things so that one or the other of them can be with their children some of the time."

TEMPTATIONS IN THE path of today's young people are stronger than they were years ago, he asserts. "Now you take television programs. But have you noticed how even in the family programs, like Perry Como and Pat Boone, are getting so they're nothing but leg shows? I'll admit to being old-fashioned, but there is some good in old things, and modesty is one of 'em. You can't expect these young people to keep their heads on straight when temptations of that stripe are offered to them."

And when youngsters do stray off the straight and narrow, Mr. Duffy believes, they aren't punished hard enough.

"When my children were young, I punished them hard when they did something wrong so they'd remember not to do it again. The courts," he says, "are too lenient with these so-called first offenders. These kids get off easy and figure they can get away with lawlessness and the first thing you know you've got a real criminal on your hands."

"Now, my idea is punish them hard the first time they're in hot water. They wouldn't be before the court if they hadn't done something wrong and they certainly know better. If they don't know better, then they need treatment in an institution."

OLD-FASHIONED? Perhaps, claims Will Duffy, but sound methods that produced sound citizens in bygone days.

Times have changed for the better in so many ways that it's painful to reflect upon what they once were, he believes.

"Now in 1931 I sold hogs for $2.75 a hundred in Cleveland and netted only $2.35 because I had to pay 40 cents a hundred to have 'em hauled up there. Today, the farmer gets more for his stock, but still that middle man gets too much."

Finally, the citizen ought to turn to God more often, the Duffys said.

"My wife and I and our children always went to Sunday school and church and so far as I can see it didn't hurt 'em any at all. Matter of fact, in some cases, particularly, I think it helped."

I think the new type face installed in this paper is much easier to read.

The editor says he chose it for "optical cripples". He says most of his readers are older people who need eyeglasses and the new type is easier

I read in the paper that there are five million more women in our country than there are men. So the editor had better make up his mind that the stuff that goes in this paper should be aimed at women.

TWO MEN IN OUR NEIGHBORHOOD had to do some chores Saturday. It is time to put on the storm windows. So they got started but they were interrupted.

By the time I got there, because I heard some glass breaking, one of them said, "Well, I guess we'd better start to storm up the put windows."

Did you hear about the man who went to the East Indies to hunt and trap wild animals? He caught a lot of them and started home in a boat with a pet mynah bird. When he got to New York he went into a hotel with the bird on his shoulder and bought a drink for himself and one for the bird.

A policeman came and arrested him for contributing to the delinquency of a mynah. (Ed. Note: Now, JayEdee, that'll hold you. And it took a little girl to do it!)

"Our guests tell us our street is much brighter—more cheerful—since it's been paved with concrete!"

Concrete reflects up to 4 times as much light as a dark surface. You'll notice the difference! Street lighting is much more effective... headlights, too. You feel safer at night—walking or driving.

Concrete is the safety pavement day or night, in any kind of weather. Its grainy surface gives dependable skid resistance, even when it's raining. No roughness, no potholes to watch for—you're always in control of your car. A concrete street is a sound investment... it makes your house worth more. Your concrete street will have a life expectancy of 50 years and more. It saves tax money on upkeep costs. Yet initial cost is moderate.

These are the reasons more and more families are getting together with their neighbors... and requesting concrete streets.

gardless of their desirability or the interest of pupils and parents in maintaining them.

6. The district should plan to advance on its own power so far as doing so is feasible and practicable. To look to non-local sources for assistance should be done with proper regard for the theory that nobody gets anything for nothing. State tax moneys, for example, are paid by everybody. One gets from the state in direct proportion, in the long run, to what he pays in. Rule of thumb: get along with as little state aid as possible.

We are confident that strict observance of these principles, which are facts, plain and simple, will go far toward solution of the shocking school situation.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank all friends, relatives, neighbors and organizations for cards and gifts received while I was hospitalized. I appreciated them very much.

45 ex-choristers gather for reunion
Forty-five former Presbyterian choristers and their families gathered here Sunday for the first choir reunion, described as a "great success". Twenty-four original members were among them.
Mrs. Luther R. Fetters, who directed the choir for 25 years, arranged the affair.
Former members who attended from afar were Mrs. Gordon Seabolt, Kent; Agnes Carson Harbaugh, Akron; William Harris, Mansfield; Joy Bethel, Shelby; the Robert Spences, Clyde; Mrs. Willard Paden, Willard; the Byron Kieffers, Galion; and Ruth Nimmons Twaddle, Norwalk.
A luncheon in the church basement preceded the program. After a period of reminiscence, an old-fashioned choir rehearsal was staged.
