

Last-ditch maneuver may have saved Plymouth schools from 'go-it-alone'

Only a last-minute, last-ditch effort by dissidents in Huron Valley school district saved a debt-ridden, resource-poor Plymouth local school district from going it alone last week.

The rug had all but been jerked out from under the Huron Valley-Plymouth transfer-across-the-county-line and consolidation scheme Wednesday when Joseph F. Dush, Willard attorney, filed with the Huron county board of education a petition carrying 440 names of electors of the Huron Valley district, praying for annexation to Willard. He was acting for a steering committee.

THE PETITION WAS LAID UNDER NEW LEGISLATION WHICH went into effect Jan. 1. It provided that if 75 per cent of those who voted in the school district in the last election petition to be annexed to an adjoining district, the petitioners having no high school, the county board must acquiesce.

When news of this petition leaked out, dissidents in Huron Valley district were roused to action.

The Huron Valley school board met at New Haven Thursday night. About 80 patrons of the district assembled on short notice.

TOLD THAT AN INFORMAL INTERPRETATION OF THE LAW held that the petition already filed could only be subject by filing another petition signed by at least 144 persons who signed the first one alleging their signatures were obtained by fraud, deceit or misrepresentation, they vociferously claimed it was so.

So, after copying the names affixed to the petitions on Friday morning, a flying squad of housewives, farmers and businessmen set about obtaining these signatures before 8 p.m. Saturday, when the county board met. They were led by Stanford Cherry, Greenfield township; Willis Eitte, Richmond township; and Walter White, New Haven township.

They frankly did not expect to obtain the required 144 names. They were openly hoping that any substantial show of displeasure would be sufficient to persuade the Huron county board to hold off on any summary action.

BY MEETING TIME SATURDAY NIGHT, 188 SIGNATURES HAD been obtained, more than sufficient to force the county board to place the issue on the ballot in November. The petition was presented by Neil Siessman, president of the Huron Valley board. And the county board tabled all action, at least until it could check validity of signatures and seek legal advice on what it should do.

"Now that we've got this far," said one Huron Valley board member who insisted upon anonymity, "we hope that the folks in Plymouth will wake up and do something promptly. The only way we can save our mutual problems is to convince the people in Huron Valley district that the approved solution of combining with Plymouth is the best one for all concerned."

HE ADDED THAT HAD INITIATIVE PETITIONS BEEN STARTED in Plymouth on Jan. 18, in all probability the petitions in Huron Valley district would not have been circulated.

"Huron Valley patrons were looking for a show of interest, and they found it in Willard, not in Plymouth."

The same source, in what was obviously an attempt to placate dissident Shiloh patrons of the Plymouth district, said:

"I am informed on the best authority that if the present Plymouth district were to be transferred to Huron county, nothing would happen to the tax base of properties in the Plymouth district unless it is started by the Richland county authorities. The Huron county auditor cannot insist that the tax evaluations of Richland county properties be brought up to date according to state law. Or, rather, it won't do him any good to insist that they be brought up to date. That's entirely a matter for the Richland county authorities."

HE WAS REFERRING TO REPORTS THAT ONE REASON WHY Shiloh patrons oppose transfer to Huron county is that tax bases would be promptly raised. Huron County Auditor Bernard F. Kean, a Republican, has kept his county's tax evaluations up to date, as required by state law, whereas, under the compunctious of the same law, Richland County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe, a Democrat candidate for reelection, says he'd like to but can't, there isn't enough money to do the job.

Husband becoming pharmacist's mate as wife bounces books at Ada college

Half a generation after she finished high school, a comely, redheaded mother of three lively boys is going back to college.

What's more, she's deep in a professional course that keeps her away from home five nights a week.

And her husband, who's never been in the Navy, says that because of all this, "I'll be a pharmacist's mate — without stripes!"

THIS IS THE STORY OF DONALD AND BETTY MOORE, who live in an attractive white frame house beside Route 98 a couple of miles south of here.

Mr. Moores has three sons, Richard, a sixth-grader, Steven, a fourth-grader, and Thomas Alan, in the first grade.

They came here nearly four years ago from Indiana, so that Don Moore could be near his employment at Wilkins Air Force station, Shelby.

THE MOORES HAD MOVED

around a good bit since they were married, and hoped this one would be the last one. The Air Force said so: "Shelby Air Force depot is a full-time, permanent post," it announced.

But now the Air Force is liquidating the 3,000-man (and woman) installation.

And the Moores are going home. Home is in Indiana, where his father owns a small-town drug store and pharmacy.

So Betty Moore is studying pharmacy at Ohio Northern university, 68 miles away in Ada. This is so she'll be able to compound prescriptions in the family pharmacy after her father-in-law retires.

She's a freshman, studying chemistry, biology, one social science, mathematics and English literature and composition.

"THE LITERATURE AND composition are the hardest for me after being out of school so long," says Betty Moore. "But I'll make out."

That they've worked out a system to do just that is apparent. Don strap-busses the boys five days a week. They dress and eat breakfast under Dad's supervision at home, then catch the school bus for Plymouth elementary school, where they eat a hot lunch under the federal school lunch program.

At 3:30 p.m., they ride the bus home again, to perform small chores assigned by Dad until he comes home at 5 p.m.

Dad does the evening cooking.

MOM COMES HOME

in the family station wagon Friday evening, supervises the laundry and mending and usually stays until 6 a.m. Monday, when she drives back to Ada in time for an early class.

"This move is for keeps," says Don Moore, a product of Purdue university who knows his job at Wilkins can't last forever. "I've got enough seniority to hang on almost as long as the depot remains open. By that time Betty will be almost through school. Then we'll go back home to Indiana and stay there."

13 make high honors in Plymouth schools

Only 13 Plymouth public school pupils achieved high honor roll grades during the third six-week period, Supt. Maynard J. Coon announced Tuesday.

Another 103 pupils made honor roll grades.

HIGH HONORS WENT TO Dorell Ream, 12th grade; D. Richard Akers, 11th grade; Patsy Pagi and Ruth Fitch, 10th grade; Shirley Hawk and Phillip Baker, ninth grade.

Also, Kenneth Springer, fourth grade; Scott Griffiths, third grade; Cathy Moore, Susan Root, Elizabeth Fackler, Montelle L. Faust and Linda Hollenbaugh, second grade.

HONOR ROLL GRADES

were won by Linda Bright, Julia Newmyer, Theodore Fox, A. Ray Emsel and Ory Lovings.

But the problems of a divided family — Mrs. Moore has a small apartment in Ada — don't impede their responding to the needs of a growing family.

MRS. MOORE HAS BEEN A den mother in the Plymouth Cub Scout pack. Don takes the boys to the pack meetings, sees to it they have transportation to Saturday swimming lessons at Tiffin YMCA, 30 miles away. He belongs to a stamp club, which meets once a month, and works at his collection assiduously.

BETTY MOORE REACQUAINTS

herself with her family, plans finances and studies chemistry, biology, math and English over the weekend.

Not the most desirable arrangement, both Moores agree, "but it's the best way we can see to work it out and we think it works out all right."

Rejuvenated Scouts mark national week beginning Sunday

Observance of National Boy Scout week commences here tomorrow, Donald P. Markley, neighborhood commissioner, announces.

Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will begin the week by attending religious services in a body. This year's service will be in First Presbyterian church at 11 a.m. Sunday, when the Rev. Moss Rutan will preach a sermon on the general theme of Scouting.

A REJUVENATED BOY Scout movement which is paying its own way in Johnny Applesed area, is a highlight of this year's observance of National Boy Scout week.

Markley's son-in-law, Ishmel Hale, has become Scoutmaster. The Scout program has more boys in it now than at any time in the past three years, Markley said.

The Cub Scout program, still short a den mother, has embarked upon swimming lessons at Tiffin YMCA.

"All Cub Scouts are welcome to join in this worthwhile activity, which is directed by licensed senior Red Cross instructors," Markley said Saturday.

CUB SCOUTS VOTED

Thursday night, when they saw pictures of the 1957 World Series, and will buy a blue and gold band in the elementary center this month in observance of Boy Scout week.

Gene Woodling, player of the year of the Cleveland Indians, and Wilbur (Jake) Striker, Sulphur Springs' contribution to the Indian pitching staff, have promised to attend. So has Dr. James Arthur Schuck, former national commissioner of Scouting.

H. G. Boyers dies; wed to Plymouthite

Husband of the former Abigail Tubbs of this place, 83-year-old Henry Guy Boyers died Jan. 27 in Sandusky Memorial hospital.

He was believed to be one of the oldest active Rotarians in America, having joined the Toledo Rotary club shortly after it was organized in May, 1912.

HE MOVED TO LAKESIDE

from Toledo in 1950, where he had been engaged with the investment firm of Foster Bros. Weber & Co.

Although semi-retired, Mr. Boyers remained partially active with the Toledo firm, which he served for 30 years.

Prior thereto, he was president of the Toledo Chandler Co.

Mrs. Boyers is the only immediate survivor.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Walter Plummer, pastor of Lakeside Methodist church, with burial in Wodlawn cemetery there.

CHAMBER DINNER SET
Chamber of Commerce annual dinner will be staged Feb. 20 in the elementary school cafeteria.

Brougner's brother dies

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon in Bowling Springs, Pa., for William Brougner, 69, only brother of Ira Brougner.

In ill health for some time, he succumbed to a heart attack at his home. He is survived by his wife, a daughter and a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Brougner spent the weekend in Bowling Springs to attend the services.

Board again asks if multiple users should pay more

Question of multiple users of water paying only one water bill was broached before the Board of Public Affairs Monday night, but action died at that point.

Meanwhile, Consultant R. L. Simpson told the Board the municipal water situation is good.

HE SAID 20 TONS OF SAND

and gravel will eventually be needed for the filters at the water plant, but so long as demand remains static, the matter is not pressing.

Luther R. Fetters suggested the Board buy a new Ellis Chalmers pump as a standby apparatus, which Simpson termed unnecessary. He said repair of the existing standby pump will be sufficient.

IT WAS A ROUTINE SESSION

which ultimately got into personalities — personalities of those who are delinquent in their water bills. Clerk Carl V. Ellis said water bill delinquencies always develop after Christmas each year.

Aside from vocal prodding, the Board will take no action.

Trauger hired for street post

Hard times are coming, the village council said in effect Tuesday night, and salary increases will be resisted until the economy rights itself.

In an unanimous acceptance of a policy stated by veteran Councilman Elmer E. Markley ("I don't think this is the time to raise salaries because we would be setting a poor precedent"), the council voted to extend to Henry M. Trauger a one-year contract as street supervisor at $3,600 annually. Trauger will get $400 annually as special patrolman.

Whether this job will last long is at the bottom of the council dispute over enforcement of two-hour parking versus another full-time patrolman.

COUNCILMEN JOHN T. DICK AND OMER G. BURKETT

announced they have studied finances and can show the council how the salary of another full-time policeman can be paid.

Councilman Donald E. Akers said he doesn't want to consider the hiring for "at least six months, and after that I'd want to go over it very carefully — we don't know what we're getting into economically."

WARRIORS LOSE AT REPUBLIC

by only one point, 58-57

Republic led all the way Tuesday night to defeat Huron Valley, 58 to 57, despite a last ditch rally by the visitors.

Ted Fox had 21 and Bill Strine 18 for Huron Valley.

Presbyterians elect new church officers

Mrs. Omer G. Burkett and Mrs. Charles Vansdale are new elders of First Presbyterian church.

New trustees are Charles H. Dick and Robert Cornell. Deryl Hampton and Deryl Hampton are new ushers.

Miss Helen Akers is secretary of the session.

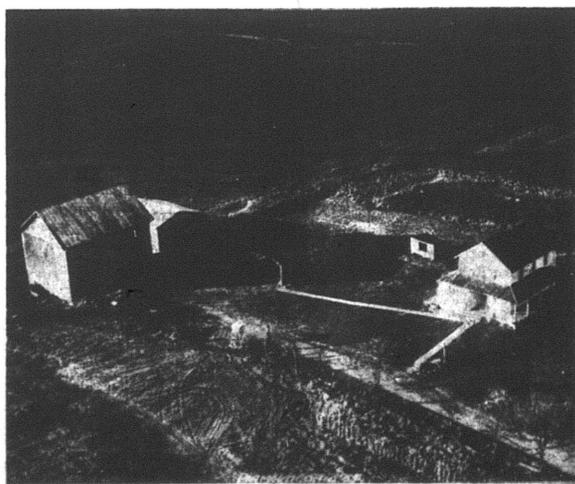

Oscar J. Gowitzka is chairman of the every-member-canvass committee.

MRS. CARL EHRET AND BARRIE FETTERS

were appointed to the Inter-Church council.

Holdover elders are Franklin W. McCormick, James D. Cunningham, Ralph Ream and Mrs. Francis Miller.

Holdover trustees are Charles Vansdale, Oliver Fairchild, Omer G. Burkett and Carl Ehret.

Lions rip Lexington, two more remain

Favored to reach the finals of the Richland county tournament, Shiloh's Lions tackle Ontario on the road tomorrow.

With two more contests left on the schedule, the Lions are presently at 14 and two.

THE FINALE AT BELLVILLE St. Valentine's day will tell the story. Big question: will Shiloh's sophomore-studded club stand up against the Bellville quintet coached by Tony Megna in what will be absolutely the last regularly scheduled interscholastic contest for a Shiloh cage edition? The odds are that it will Coach Harold Daup has a poised quintet that has shown its mettle under pressure so far.

Friday night, the Lions roared into Lexington and roared right out again with a 65 to 53 win. Craig Harnly dumped in 20 points to lead the Shiloh scoring.

Warriors upset B-H in league play here

Huron Valley's Warriors took an early lead and hung on to it through 32 minutes of bitterly contested Huron-Erie league play here Friday to upset Berlin Heights, 59 to 50.

It was a team effort that dinged the visitors, who employed a man-to-man spinning defense in the first half and a tight back-court press and forecourt zone in the last half.

BILLY STRINE HAD A HOT night for the Warriors, whose ace — Ted Fox — was carefully covered by Neil Leimbach.

Strine scored 18 points. Ray Einzel, whose floor play was an outstanding feature of the Warrior victory, got 13. Fox had 11.

The victory brought the Warrior record to six wins and seven defeats and the loop record to an even five-and-five. Berlin Heights, whose coach, C. B. (Snag) Sanders, was openly netted about the outcome, is now all even at seven and seven for the season, six-and-four in the league.

College visit planned

If the weather permits, the Rev. Robert F. Hall will accompany a group of Plymouth High school students Monday to Springfield, where they will observe the campus and classes of Wittenberg college.

Scheduled to make the trip are Mary Ellen Briggs, Marianne Hass, Dixie Fortney, James Vogel and A. Ray Einzel.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

The Huron-Erie league season draws to a close. As The O. T. views it, it was a pretty good league, and the season was an interesting one. What a pity the local entry is dropping out.

Whether this comes as a sop to those interests who want to remain tied to Richland county, for fair means or foul, or whether there are other considerations involved hasn't been announced. But it is a fact that with the approval of the executive head the Shiloh coach appeared at the Huron-Erie league meeting and withdrew the Plymouth team. He said it will play in the Richland county league hereafter.

THE FITT IS THAT competition with schools with whom the Warriors enter into — and enjoy — football relations will be omitted from the cage schedule. Milan, Berlin Heights and Townsend-Wakeman each afford gridiron opposition. When that competition was carried over to the hardwood, nothing but favorable developments could occur.

Aside from Butler, there is no other athletic rivalry with the teams in the Richland county league.

AND THERE IS THIS TO consider, it's far easier on a snowy February night to drive a bus to Berlin Heights than to Butler or Bellville or Lexington. And another fact: such as it is, the sociological, economic and other affinity for Greenwich, Milan, Wakeman, and the other towns in the league, including Monroeville (on whom we dump our sewer) is certainly as strong, and probably stronger, than whatever affinity there exists for Lexington, Lucas and Bellevue.

Marine at Santa Ana

Marine Corp. Aaron Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ranson Stephens of Plymouth, and husband of the former Miss Alice A. Lewis of West Lake, La., is serving with Marine Wing Service Group 37, a unit of the Third Marine Aircraft Wing, at the El Toro Marine Corps Air station, Santa Ana, Cal.

Fairfield township is sheep country, Richard Keefers raise lambs, girls

Turn north off Route 162 west of North Fairfield and you enter sheep country.

Fairfield township is the third ranking township in the United States in per capita sheep population.

AND IF YOU DRIVE DOWN Ridge road far enough, you'll come to the crossroads where the Richard Keefers live.

Here is a farm that's the prototype of Fairfield township farms.

Frederic Baxter spotted the Keefer farm and gets a quart of ice cream for his accuracy.

It's fairly large — 101 acres; it's farmed by its owner, father of Mrs. Keefer, whose husband farms his mother's place up the road; it has a sheep population of perhaps 55 head, with lambs dropping every day; its occupant derives the principal source of his income off the farm; and there are three children on it.

RICHARD KEEFER IS ONE of those who has to make the crucial decision: does he follow his functional position at Wilkins Air Force station or does he reject the transfer, hang on as long as he can, and trust to fate that he'll find something locally?

Meanwhile, the Keefers and their three daughters — Marcia, eight, a pupil in North Fairfield elementary school; Cindy, six, and Cheryl, four, at present occupy the farmstead and worry a little about the school situation.

North Fairfield is a part of South-Central district, which includes Greenwich, Ripley and East Greenwich. It was thrown in with Shiloh to make two districts before the merger was outlawed by the state supreme court. And the school problems of South-Central district, beset by personality clashes and debates of principle, seem no nearer solution than they were 10 years ago.

The Keefers take the moderate view. They recognize something has to be done, and that time wasted is time lost. They're willing to latch on to and support any scheme which will do three things: provide a better high school education for their children, develop community ties and cost no more than the most practicable solution which doesn't do these things.

DURING LAMBING SEASON, when her husband is off at work, the comely, dark-haired Mrs. Keefer has to make two or three trips down the slope to the barn. Reason: "a little midwifery". She has to see to the ewes. There's about 15 more ready to deliver.

Occasionally the Keefers have twin lambs. Once they had triplets, "but we lost one of them. Wouldn't it be nice to have twins every time? We'd have it made if we could!"

Sheep raised for wool are the vogue in Fairfield township. "I like lamb and once I tried mutton," Mrs. Keefer says, "but folks around here don't each much of that kind of meat — they stick to beef."

What does the farm wife do when support of her children's activities require her presence in town?

"WE HAVEN'T GOT INTO that too far just yet," says Mrs. Keefer. "Our eldest daughter is in the Brownies—North Fairfield has about 29 of these girls active in the work — and I'm on the committee, and then we're in the Parent-Teachers association. Why, when they need us, we just go. Occasionally something comes up that you can't, but mostly you can if you want to." And there, she suggests, is the nub of improving farm-town relations through better schools: "you can if you want to!"

Jack's a Cub Scout ...

Starting a lifetime of good citizenship with the firmest foundation — the Boy Scout movement.

National Boy Scout Week starts tomorrow. The boys who advance through the ranks of Boy Scouting seldom fail to become good citizens.

Epitaph of a Scout

What is a Scout? Beyond the motto and the hackneyed picture of the stripling assisting the old lady across the street, that is?

A Scout is the highest form of man before he gets to be a man. In the perfect state, a Scout is the personification of what God would be were He down here among us in man-like form.

He is trustworthy, loyal, courteous, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, clean, brave, reverent and a dozen other things.

That he is these, and more, and that most people accept these claims as fact is indicated from time to time when a Scout, because he is weak, or tempted, or in the wrong company, defects from his oath and ceases to be a Scout of the spirit. The failure is more conspicuous than the observance. Black headlines denote the failure.

There are a good many Scouts who never wore the uniform, never took the Scout oath, never attended a troop or patrol meeting, never won a merit badge.

But there are, thank God, a good many who do, or have done. Scouting succeeds because, and only when, those who believe in its principles help the movement to realize its goals.

Man, even junior man, lives imperfectly. He was born so. The Scouting movement is one way that man can overcome these imperfections of body and spirit.

Being against Scouting is like being against sin. Nobody is, or at least nobody ever admits it.

But being neutral isn't enough. In the atomic age, when man's imperfections militate against him more and more, it is essential that tomorrow's man, the young man of today, receive the best guidance.

Next time you've rocks to throw at Scouts, ask yourself this: What have I done to help them out? Money is the least of their worries, although it is certainly welcome.

What Scouting needs is the sympathetic understanding of every citizen. It needs the bodies and spirits and the time of men who've got sense enough to realize their imperfections and determination enough to strive to overcome them.

Give a leg up to your local Scout organization. Do it now, today, tomorrow, and always.

Jaycees selling rural mailbox

Extension of the sale of Jaycee postal signals was announced today by Shelby Jaycees.
The postal signal is a device which attaches to a rural-type mail box.
If the postman leaves mail, the signal automatically comes up. The owner of the mail box thus knows when he has mail.
The announcement was made by Robert Wetzel president of the Shelby Junior Chamber of Commerce.
Wetzel said "The extensive projects the Jaycees undertake at Christmas took too much of the members' time. The number of unfilled verbal and telephone requests we have indicate many people still want a Jaycee postal signal. For this reason, the sale of signals will be continued until Feb. 23."

DO YOU KNOW?

The "Wartime" Federal Excise Tax is still being levied against your telephone service. It is not a tax on the telephone company, but a tax which must be paid by YOU. Each month we must add ten percent to your statement, collect, (without remuneration for the added expense) and remit to the Government.

Telephone service is not a luxury; it is a necessary and essential service and the tax on it is discriminatory — you are not required to pay tax on your electric, water, or gas bill.

We suggest that you write your representatives in Congress and ask this unfair tax on you be removed.

MAJESTY

Beyond the timber line rises sheer rock, towering above the clouds themselves. Looking at this great giant of nature we marvel at God's creations . . . and are aware of the comparative insignificance of man.

Yet, man is far from insignificant, save in physical size. For God, after all, made man in His image. And He gave man a brain, and a soul, with a sense of right and wrong. He gave him character and responsibility.

It is man who can progress to heights far greater than this mountain. But he needs help to do it—God's help, through the help of the Church.

You weren't meant to stand alone in this world. Remember that . . . and go to Church this Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the progress of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself. (4) For the sake of his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

On moving vans

The endless passage of moving vans through this our town disturbs us. Apparently not many others are disturbed as we are, or to the same degree.

We are of the opinion this community can ill afford to lose as residents and contributors to the community welfare these families who are leaving us.

Over the past 10 years, many of these families have carried a responsible load of community obligations.

Consider the Schroeders and Griffithses and Beechings, who pitched in to revivify the Girl Scouts.

Think of the Huzoviches and the Beechings and what they did for the Boy Scouts.

There are other families whose contributions were less conspicuous but nonetheless valued. In their churches and their social and fraternal and patriotic organizations they made their names known, their weight felt and their muscles and minds available.

It is a terrible loss to Plymouth that folks like these should have to leave.

Every effort should be made to see to it that their places are taken by others, newcomers, equally as desirable.

The questions that immediately come to mind are "who?" and "how?"

We're just a little tired of answering these questions, and we'll leave it like this:

If anybody wants to know, let him drop around to the editor's office for a cigar and a cup of coffee one of these fine days and get an earful.

We'll guarantee it won't be pleasant. But, then, neither will it be dull.

The White Elephant season is fast approaching. This seems to be the time of the year that someone at a club meeting, says, "Let's have a White Elephant sale!" So they do. It can be fun, and sometimes you can come home with some real gems. But have you ever been stuck with a monstrosity of your own? Something you simply could not get rid of?

IT TOOK LIVING IN THREE countries, the District of Columbia, and finally Ohio before we unloaded one. It was given to us as a wedding gift. The normal thing would have been to treasure it and treat it with loving care. But we hated it. Why, I'll never be able to tell. It really wasn't too bad, and was even useful at times.

It was a big round Lazy Susan on which could be arranged tempting tidbits to eat. It was made of nice-looking wood, highly polished, with some nice bits of carving on it. For years we were stuck with it because we never had a box big enough nor could we find one to buy so it could be wrapped up again and given to another bride.

OUR CHANCE CAME when we gave something to a bazzar. It didn't need to be wrapped for that. So we gaily carried it up the street, and it is no longer ours. I've often wondered where it is now. I hope it has found a happy home.

A wooden tray is nothing compared to what a real white elephant will be. Like all quaint sayings we have in our language, there is always a real story behind one.

The origin of the phrase goes back to the good old days in Siam. Back when there was one boss, the king. He was special and so were any albino elephants. The latter were rare, and when one was born, it automatically became the king's property and could not be done away with unless he said so.

Kings being what they were in those days, they knew all the tricks in the book. When a member of his court displeased him he really fixed things up. The punishment was swift and inex-

HOW TIMES'VE CHANGED DEPT: On July 1, 1925, the Massachusetts Registrar of Motor Vehicles said, "A speed limit of 35 miles an hour would never work in Massachusetts. In fact, it is my opinion that it will never work anywhere. There are many automobiles which, while perfectly safe as a normal, sane rate of speed, become a positive menace at 35 miles an hour."

And today we have the spectacle of a public official of the city of Cleveland casting his hat into the ring in quest of the nomination to carry his party's banner to the governorship of Ohio on that same platform. Mr. Porter says we're making a mistake to design our new roads for speeds of 90 miles an hour.

Won't do any good to invite Mr. Porter to get lost. The Democrats of Ohio will see to that.

AND SPEAKING OF DEMOCRATS, what a pity it is that the one man most qualified by character, experience and ability to be governor probably will be an also rart Clingen Jackson, political editor of the Youngtown Vindicator, is one of 10 running for the gubernatorial nomination. He's up against the likes of Mayor Celebrezze of Cleveland, Mayor Sensenbrenner of Columbus, Mike DeSalle of Columbus and a lady character, to mention but four.

This is no preliminary pitch for dethronement of Mimeo-graph Bill O'Neill, whose chief claim to fame, so far as we are immediately concerned in this shop, is the enormous way the prodigious quantity of paper he has caused to be passed through countless mimeo-graph machines with paeans of praise of what Our Bill has done.

Quite the contrary. It is, however, a plaintive plea for an honest race between two party leaders, each of them capable in his own right, so that voters can choose among issues rather than whatever else it is that voters choose from.

A GOOD MANY OF OUR MATURED female acquaintances will take an increased measure of hope from the successful launching of the Explorer (and hooray for Colonel Nickerson, down there in limbo in Panama) when we tell them that if, as Mr. Von Braun insists, it is another step en route to the moon, life will be happier in outer space.

Take Mars, for example. A young woman who is 21 in Ohio will be only 11 1/4 years old on Mars.

And hubby's two-week vacation with pay will stretch to four on that planet.

Reason: Mars doesn't move so fast as Earth. While a year goes by on our planet, only slightly more than half a year has elapsed on Mars.

Now if they'd only show us the same thing applies to waitlines, and in the same direction, we'll jump right to the box office to get a ticket on the first Martian express.

DAGMAR, THE GAL WHO'S GOT 6-0, said on the airwaves Sunday night she's going to star in a remake of an old classic, "Little Women," with Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell. How?
