

Carl M. Lofland feted on 50th anniversary of service in banking business

Banker joined staff of old 1st National on July 15, 1908

A spare young bachelor started a new job as bookkeeper in First National bank in East Main street here on July 15, 1908.

Last week that banker, still spare but no longer a bachelor and certainly not young any more, marked his 50th anniversary of service to his community.

Carl M. Lofland, president of Peoples National Bank, received the congratulations of his associates and a token of their esteem — a handsome gold wrist watch — at a surprise dinner in Bucyrus engineered by his wife Thursday night.

Five months after he joined First National, Carl Lofland recalls, "we merged to form Peoples National."

He went along with the First National staff. Ten years later, on longevity and merit, he was promoted to assistant cashier. It came as a belated Christmas present for the directors didn't meet until after the turn of the new year, 1918.

THAT SUMMER, 40 YEARS ago near month, Mr. Lofland was named to the board of directors of Peoples National, to fill the vacancy created by the death of T. W. Kirtland.

In June, 1934, the bank made him cashier, a post he held until June, 1947, when he was appointed vice-president and cashier. John I. Beelman, president of the bank, had died and promotions in the bank left the vacancy open.

In 1955, he relinquished the duties of cashier. In January, 1956, when J. Elden Nimmons retired as president to become chairman of the board, Mr. Lofland rose to the presidency.

"WE OF PEOPLES NATIONAL bank," the directors said in a formal statement Thursday, "are rightfully proud of this long faithful service rendered by Mr. Lofland to the bank and to his community."

So is Central National bank of Cleveland, city correspondent of the local institutions which struck a special plaque in recognition of Mr. Lofland's long and distinguished service.

"He's proud of it, and if you'll stop by window No. 2 in the bank he'll show it to you, and give you the time of day on his new watch."

"I didn't think the folks would do this now," the advertiser said Saturday, prior to starting his annual vacation. "I thought they'd wait until October, the anniversary of my service with Peoples National."

IT WAS AN OPEN SECRET around the Square that his associates planned to do him honor Thursday night. The advertiser kept the confidence of the bank's staff and withheld notice of the party in last week's issue. Two or three customers of the bank all but let the cat out of the bag, however.

The J. Elden Nimmons, the Earl C. Cashmans, the James C. Davises, the Richard D. Facklers, the Robert Hamiltons and the Misses Patricia Young and Newnam Van Zee of the bank's staff attended the dinner. So did the families of some directors and a few close friends of long standing.

These included the Robert L. Mellittes, John A. Root, Fred M. Nimmons, Christian Weber, Mrs. Lura Webber and Mrs. Frances West, Mrs. Lofland's sister.

Supply pastors listed by minister

Supply pastors for the Plymouth and Shiloh Methodist churches during the vacation of the Rev. Thomas S. Taylor were announced by him Monday.

The Rev. Dr. Sidney G. Suito of Sandusky will preach Aug. 3. An Ohio Temperance league speaker will preach on Aug. 10.

The Rev. C. D. Marston of Lakeside will preach Aug. 17. C. Otis Port pre-ministerial student, will preach on Aug. 24.

THE REV. MOSS RUTAN, pastor of First Presbyterian church, will be on vacation during August.

Regular services will be conducted at 11 a.m. for the first four Sundays but will be suspended on Aug. 31.

GALA EVENING at Bucyrus restaurant Thursday marked golden anniversary of Carl M. Lofland's entry into banking business with old First National bank. Surprise party was engineered by his wife, whose hospitalization fortunately terminated in advance of party date. — photos by Joseph J. Petti

Centenarian Lemuel Hale dies, 5 days after entering hospital

Death came quietly Saturday at 6:15 a.m. in Mansfield General hospital to Plymouth's oldest citizen, Lemuel Pittenger Hale, who passed his 100th birthday Mar. 29.

He was in failing health for nearly a year, but his strength waned in recent weeks and he

Dance attended by 170 'teen-agers

Largest crowd since it was formed — 170 persons — attended the July 17 dance of 'Teen-Time Rendezvous in the American Legion building.

Richard Prater, vice-president, announced that because he will soon enter the U. S. Navy, Deryl Hampton has resigned as president.

All officers therefore advance a notch and Virginia Berrer has been appointed to the board of directors.

Lutherans schedule congregational meeting

A special congregational meeting of First Evangelical Lutheran church will convene Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

A covered dish potluck supper will begin an hour earlier. The committee will furnish meat and coffee, the Rev. Robert F. Hall reports.

Skittish colt kicks Port girl in head; stitches close cut

LaVonne Port, junior in Plymouth High school, escaped death beneath the hooves of a riding horse Thursday afternoon.

The elder daughter of the Fred J. Ports, Plymouth route 1, she was behind her cousin's skittish colt. A hoof struck her in the forehead.

Removed to Willard Municipal hospital by Police Chief Robert L. Meiser on a rush call, the girl was treated for severe lacerations of the scalp and kept under observation for concussion.

Two years ago, she received a broken arm in a fall from a horse.

Wedding bells ring college bell with high grades

Being married is apparently good for the soul, the heart and the mind.

Two Plymouth students in Ohio Northern university at Ada achieved 3.8 grade point averages (4.0 is perfect) for the spring quarter, among 24 of the university who ranked that high and 117 on the honor roll.

MRS. DONALD MOORE, who formerly lived in Shelby route 3, the mother of three lively sons, got the 3.8 grade point average as a freshman in the liberal arts college. She is attending the summer session so that she can enter the pharmacy college in the fall.

Gerald Schneider, another married student, is a junior in the engineering college.

Be it said for the single student, is a junior in the engineering college.

Be it said for the single student that he got that kind of grades before he became a benedict. But it's apparent being married did his grade point average no harm.

25 frolic at party for Rawhidlers

Twenty-five attended the swim party of Rawhidlers' 4-H Saddle club Friday evening at Mary M. Blackford's home in Base Line road.

James Martin will be host to the July 25 meeting, when final plans will be laid for the August horse show on the Joe Hawkins place in New Haven.

Phillips boy has tetanus, condition said 'serious'

Ronald Phillips, son of the Donald Phillipps of Plymouth Children's hospital, Columbus route 1, is a tetanus patient in where his condition was reported Monday to be serious.

The youth is in traction and was said by hospital officials to be unable to move his arms, legs or jaws.

Pearl Cunningham, Plymouth, was a patient in Willard Municipal hospital July 11-12.

Robert Penwell, Shiloh, was admitted July 11. Lurla Hughes, Shiloh became a patient July 13. James Vaughn, Plymouth, was admitted the next day.

It's ice cream social time

Homemade ice cream will be served Saturday night by Plymouth grange at its annual ice cream social. Serving will begin at 5 p.m.

Hot sandwiches, salads, homemade cake and pie will also be included in the menu. Mrs. Clarence Rieggle is general chairman. The public is cordially invited to attend. The grange hall is located two miles from Plymouth in Route 98.

Dora Bumb died Friday night at Eden.

She had been in an automobile collision last week.

The Lash Barber shop here was closed Tuesday to allow the Laschs to attend the funeral service at Eden.

Chest board to meet

Board of directors and officers of Plymouth Community Chest will meet today at 8:30 p.m. in Peoples National bank.

Plans will be started toward the 1958 chest drive.

became the parents of a daughter July 15 in Shelby Memorial hospital.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Starkey July 8 at Mansfield General hospital. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Starkey, Willard route 1.

Their second son, Charles David, weighing 8 lbs., 13 1/2 ozs., was born July 3 at Kent to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon B. Seabolt. Mother is the former Mary Alice Weller. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Bertha Seabolt of this place. Maternal grandparents are the John Wellers, also of Plymouth.

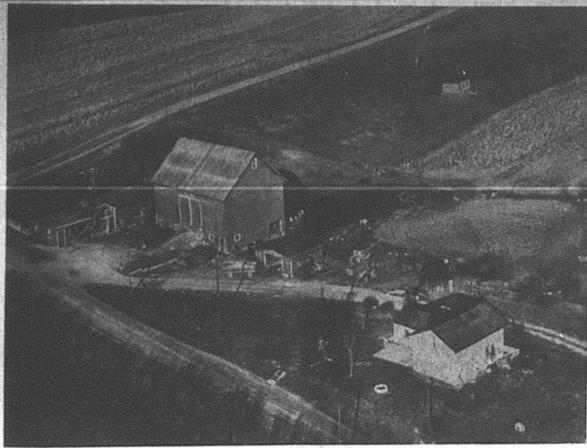

A son was born in Willard Municipal hospital July 15 to the Paul Colyers of this place. They have a daughter nearly a year old.

An ice cream social will be held Saturday by the Shenandoah Christian church on the church lawn. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Homemade ice cream made by the Wertz family will be featured in the menu along with ham, chicken, wieners, and barbecue sandwiches, potato salad, baked beans, cake, pie, and beverages. In case of rain, the affair will be inside the church.

by player of the 18-man all-star Southern Association squad who failed to break into the lineup against league-leading Atlanta July 16. Reason: he'd pitched nine innings the night before for Mobile.

Striker could have hurled the final inning of the contest, won by the Stars, 4 to 0, but Manager Dick Sister advised against it.

Jake had a 12-won and seven-loss record as of July 15, had fanned 115 in 161 innings, with an ERA of 2.74.

Next stop: San Diego, for sure Cleveland, maybe.

Striker's nine-inning stint the night before, incidentally, was a 1 to 0 heart-breaker. Manager Les Peden of the fourth-place Little Rock Travelers singled to knock in the only score in the final canto.

THESE CAME TO HAND Saturday the account of a contest played Oct. 3, 1931, in which Plymouth junior ball players lost to New Haven 12 to 11.

In the local lineup: Paul Root, Don Fox, Richard Major, Charley Payne (he belted a homer in the ninth with two on), Freddie Buzard, Bob Nimmons, Jim Jacobs, LeRoy Briggs and Ralph Scott. Ed Babcock was billed as the Blind Tom. Report says he laid aside his white cane midway through the game.

And on Sunday, Sept. 4, 1932, Dawson's Athletics were defeated by Richard Billiards, 9 to 1. One W. Dawson, today official scorer of Plymouth Midget league, captained the team, led off, played center field, and had two-for-four.

Schreck fanned 12 for Plymouth's outfit, which made only four miscues. But he gave up 10 hits.

Players wearing A's suits: Storck, 1 b; Davis, ss; Kaylor, c; Rhine, rf; Kuhn, lf; Chronister, lf; Keeler, 2b; Hatch, 3b.

The Keeler is now a teacher at Swanton. The Hatch is a professor at Michigan State. Or so we think.

But where was Dawson's field?

Reds share lead, Braves whip Cubs

Chalk up an assist for the Giants in the topping of the high-flying Cubs from their undefeated skein in the second half of Plymouth Midget league.
In what was up to then the best played contest of the season, the Giants behind Dick Chapman carried the Cubs to an 8 to 3 count after six innings July 16 before a mandatory pitching change sent Gary Courtwright to the box for the POOM entry.

HE GROOVED ONE FOR Gary Brumback and the little Cub infielder golfed it far over the center field barrier for two runs and the 10-8 victory.
Next night, however, the Giants and the rains tolled the long count over the Cubs.
With his pitching staff used up, Manager Don Grabach sent Bob Tackett, his fifth pitcher, to the hill. Tackett was wild, walked four, and with solid blows by Mike Fox, Eldon Newmyer and Gary Ross the Braves were off to seven runs in the first two frames.

Brumback relieve d the little right-hander and held the Braves in check until the fifth.

MEANWHILE, ROGER VAN Loo poled his second homer of the season and the Cubs drew even with the Braves.
But in the fifth, Brumback weakened. The Braves scored twice without a hit and that was enough.

Their nine-run total was supported by only four hits, while the Cubs backed their eight-run attack with eight hits.
Don Phillips was consistent if not brilliant and scored his first win of the season.

Losses that are not replaced

It is painful to record the departures of such long-time citizens as Lem Hale, Dent Shields, Mrs. Emma Company, Mrs. Viola Fitch, Scott Hartz and Mrs. Elva Holmes.

They were friends of ours, folks who stopped in from time to time to pass on a news item or simply to stand and chin a spell. Some among them took a special interest in this newspaper.

Dent Shields, for example, had been a subscriber for 54 consecutive years. And he carried it 52 times a year for a good many years, too, while he served faithfully and well as village mail carrier.

Lem Hale, for another example, made this newspaper's acquaintance at an early age and was a faithful reader until he died.

Mrs. Fitch, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Company and Mr. Hartz were long standing subscribers who read The Advertiser every week.

Their departure leaves a void among us that won't be easy to fill.

And, coupled with the recent removal from the local scene of some worth-while citizens — the Schroeders, the Griffithses, the Beechings, the Pasqualis, the Vogels, to mention but a few, the population of Plymouth has fallen substantially.

It is plain the replacement of those taken from us, whether by death or by more worldly circumstances, won't soon be replaced. For one thing, the birth rate isn't high. Matter of fact, the rate by which new households are created is kind of low, too.

Count the number of marriages recorded in these pages in the past six months. A double handful, that's all.

Back in 1917, the official slogan of the Chamber of Commerce and of this newspaper was "2,000 by 1920".

It is history that Plymouth never reached that figure.

And unless something be done about it soon, chances are it never will.

We are not, per se, plumpers for a bigger population. But it certainly would help for some additional taxpayers to share the burdens now being shouldered here.

It is not just for anyone to decry the trend without suggesting how to overcome it. And, for what they're worth, here're some ideas:

1. Improve the kind of product issuing from our schools. A better, more rounded product will find a more ready acceptance in labor markets hereabouts, will prove a more responsible, more thoughtful citizen in the long pull.

2. Improve the kind of town we live in — install a sewage treatment system, develop improved housing, and such.

3. Improve the kind of people we are — walk in the image of God, be just and fair and reasonable in our dealings with others, make strangers feel at home (which we certainly don't do much of now), give more of ourselves to community betterment.

Time was when there were three kinds of villages: those which were going ahead, those which were going backward, and those which were standing still.

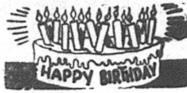

Now there are only two kinds. You can't stand still any more.

Which kind are we going to be?

For the answer to this rhetorical question, stop off in the editor's office any Friday morning with a cup of black coffee (one sugar, please) and you'll get an answer. Not necessarily the right one, or the one that'll please you, but you'll get an answer.

I KEEP READING ABOUT people who make a success of themselves from a very low start. I am glad to know this, but I would be gladder if I could just find what they did with the ladder.

POP'S GARDEN IS HAVING it's troubles. We have had so much rain that the weeds grow faster than the plants. Some bugs are eating the cabbages. The tomatoes are, pop says, like a teenager — all legs and arms. Some of the seeds pop planted are what he calls foreignaid seeds. He still believes in them but he wishes he would see more results.

TOM THE PAINTER TOLD me this one: The milkman found a note asking for 60 qts. of milk. He thought a mistake had been made, so he rang the doorbell.

The lady came and sleepily told him the note was correct. This did not satisfy him. He asked what she wanted 60 quarts of milk for.

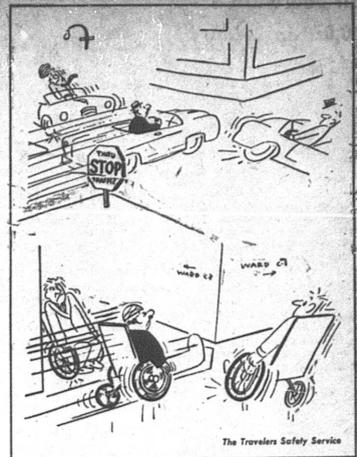

"To take a bath," she said.

"I'm going to bathe in it."

This astonished him but he started for his truck without a word until he got down the steps.

Then he turned and said, "Pasteurized?"

"No," she answered, "only up to my chin!"

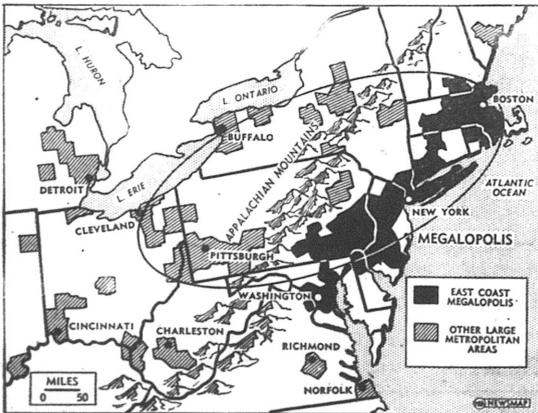

Disregarding the right-of-way increased the toll by 544,600.

Is this what's happening?

URBANIZED AMERICA—The eastern seaboard of the United States (black area on Newsmap) is the largest and most complex urban system in the world. The Greeks, as usual, had a word for it: "megalopolis"—or great city. The American megalopolis, of course, is not one great single city, but a concentration of large and small cities and counties with a metropolitan, or urban, economy. A study of megalopolis by the Twentieth Century Fund shows that similar concentrations are growing to the west of the Appalachians (shaded areas). As modern techniques enable more food to be grown on less land, and as a greater percentage of the population turns to urban activities, the cities are destined to expand. Ellipse on map suggests a vast megalopolis of the future which seems to be shaping up.

Fair board OK's $10,070 in repairs

Huron County Fair board has agreed upon the sum of $10,070 to be spent on refurbishing buildings at the fairground site in Norwalk.

The breakdown of this amount follows: $1,500 left from 1958; $6,200 from the Huron county commissioners; $3,300 from a state grant.

The board has decided upon the following improvements and amounts to be spent: hog barn, $1,600; office building, $1,000; new dining hall, $5,600; rabbit building $400; poultry building, $450; painting of buildings $800; grading of grounds, $200.

Shiloh land sold

Winfred Prater and others have sold 3.98 acres in Cass township to Courtney A. Hudson and others.

Lot 224 in Shiloh has been sold by Lois J. Murphy to L. E. Washburn and others.

The same buyer has acquired lot 223 in Shiloh from Bessie Ellen Dewey.

Tom Hawkins in high college post

Thomas E. Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hawkins, Plymouth route 1, has been named by the Booster club at Tri-State college, Angola, Ind., to serve as its representative on the college student council, which includes representatives of more than 40 campus organizations.

Mr. Hawkins is a student in engineering and holds one of 15 scholarships awarded annually by the board of trustees for study at Tri-State College.

ONE OLD-TIMER SAYS this picture was taken in 1915, when Plymouth observed its centennial. Any opinions to the contrary will be disputed by him at the convenience of the holder thereof. Anyway, it makes a good picture for an otherwise dull July week.

shown in 2 controlled experiments* with Aureomycin in dairy feeds

*Conducted by Dr. A. B. Christian, Billmore Farms, Billmore, N. C.

Here's proof that AUREOMYCIN Chlorotetracycline in dairy feeds pays off in more milk and bigger milk checks.

These 120-day experiments were conducted in a commercial dairy herd. During the final 75 days the cows were on pasture. Thirty cows were used in each experiment and divided into 2 paired groups of 15 cows each. All cows were selected at random from a group standardized with respect to number of previous lactations, stage of present lactation, age and breeding.

One group of cows in each experiment received no AUREOMYCIN in the ration. The other group received AUREOMYCIN Chlorotetracycline at the level of one-tenth of a milligram per pound of body weight daily. Cows receiving AUREOMYCIN in experiment 1 averaged 5.9% more milk than the controls. Cows in experiment 2 averaged 13.7% more milk than the controls.

Ask your feed manufacturer or feed dealer for dairy feeds containing the recommended amount of AUREOMYCIN. Maintain good herd health for increased milk production!

AUREOMYCIN® Chlorotetracycline, the first antibiotic approved by the government for continuous feeding to dairy cows... the same leading broad-spectrum antibiotic used successfully in poultry and swine feeds for eight years!

SOLID WILD CHERRY

MONITOR

This collection of fine furniture originates with the early Swiss-German settlers commonly called Pennsylvania Dutch, who settled in and around Bucks County.

The designer has embodied in this collection the true graciousness and charm of these friendly people.

Many of these authentic pieces were varied only slightly to adapt them to today's mode of living, while the finer details of others were embodied to give an integrated collection for every room in the home.

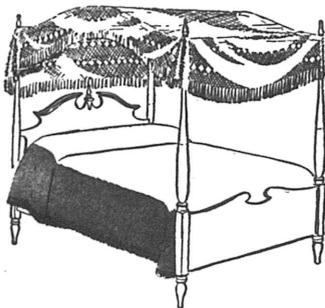

The Newtowna Dutch Cupboard — Windsor Arm Chairs — the Warrington Drop Leaf Table

Why did we chose to sell furniture by Monitor and Sprague & Carleton? Because Monitor and Sprague & Carleton have spent a lifetime designing and blending fine furniture. It is not their trend to follow, but to create.

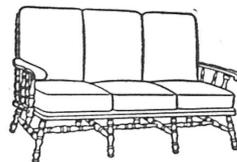

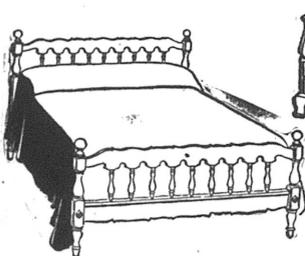

For more than a half a century they have made but one quality and one finish to blend together year after year. Piece after piece which is individual as individuality.

Piece by piece you can furnish your entire house, living room, dining room, bedrooms, along with occasional pieces.

The Road Toll

by Jerry Marcus

229,700 pedestrians paid the road toll in '57.

Copies Ford Museum Coach

Frank X. Bernier, 72, of Toledo, Ohio, is shown above with a wood carving that recently won him a blue ribbon at a hobby show. Complete in every detail, the carving is a duplicate of a Concord stage coach in the Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn, Mich. This type of coach, first built in 1828 at Concord, N. H., was fanned a half century later in the westward expansion. Bernier turned to wood carving as a hobby after his health forced him to retire from his cabinet maker trade.
