

Two fined in rumpus

Two Plymouth men were fined $50 and costs by Huron County Common Pleas Judge Robert J. Vetter on pleas of guilty to creating a disturbance at a New Haven restaurant.

In company with Marvin Cox, 21, Willard rural, the two men, Leroy Lisbka, 39, 33 East Main street, and Lawrence S. Hampton, 431 Plymouth street, were arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Borgia in Willard early Friday morning.

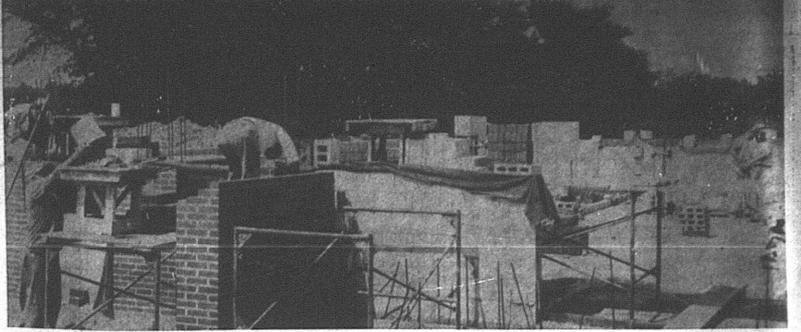

POLICE SAID THEY HAD appeared outside a restaurant in New Haven. The proprietor extinguished the lights, apparently indicating he was closed.

The trio turned away, whereupon the proprietor turned the lights on again.

This incensed the men, who proceeded to tell the proprietor their low opinions.

The warrant grew from this verbal altercation.

Cox pleaded not guilty and was released on $2,000 bond.

HOTTEST JOB IN TOWN this week was that of masons employed on new Army Reserve armory project in Sandusky street. Mercury Monday read 91 degrees. Masons said they make like in China when it gets hot — they let it get hot and sweat. At left, Earl McKenzie, Shelby, illustrates.

Williamson kin dies at Willard hospital

Grandfather of Lace Williamson, Abe C. Ferrell, 90, died Monday afternoon in Willard Municipal hospital.

He had lived for two decades on a farm six miles west of here. Born Aug. 11, 1867, he was widowed in 1935. A daughter, Fanny, Mr. Williamson's mother, died in 1956.

Five sons survive, Glenn, Washington, D. C.; Charles, in Venezuela; Ralph, Frederick, Mich.; Otis Takoma Park, Md., and Edward, Golden, Colo.

The Rev. M. P. Paetzack, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Bucyrus, conducted last rites yesterday at 2:30 p.m. from the Fink-Funeral home. Willard. Burial was in Greenlaw cemetery here.

Bowmen plan shoot at grounds Sunday

Twelve Huron Valley Bowmen attended a shoot at Wooster Sunday and won a golden arrow participation award for the local club.

Emory Hughes, Willard, shot his way to first place in the novice division. Francis Dorion got third in the bowman class.

Tomorrow's holiday shoot will be at Lost Creek.

Six archers were at Marion for an open competition Sunday.

A 28-target shoot will be staged by the Bowmen Sunday on the grounds in Plymouth East road.

Regular meeting will be staged after the shoot, instead of on Friday.

Mrs. Holmes dies suddenly at home

Stricken suddenly at her home in Route 98 a mile south of Plymouth, Mrs. Elva E. Holmes, 79, died about 1 p.m. Monday.

She was the wife of Walter Holmes, who survives. Born at Sulphur Springs Apr. 18, 1879, she lived in Plymouth route 1 for 12 years.

Two sons, Raymond, Willard, and Edwin, Plymouth, two grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Cora Lyons, Sulphur Springs, also survive.

The Rev. Thomas S. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church, will conduct a funeral service from the McQuate Funeral home today at 2 p.m.

Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery, Bucyrus.

97 girls register for camp to open in park Monday

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. Monday morning, 97 Brownie and Girl Scouts of Plymouth and Shiloh will begin a week of day camp at Mary Fate park.

Activities will be planned for each day by the girls. They will continue until 3 p.m., when the closing flag ceremony will be held.

The girls will be divided into units of about 16 girls of the same ages.

All will carry a sack lunch on Monday. The following days, the Scouts will bring with them what is needed for that day.

Because of the danger of rashes and insect bites, campers should not wear brief costumes.

MRS. KENNETH ECHELBERRY is director for the third day camp to be held here. Her assistant is Mrs. Harold Ruckman.

Councilors with the units will be Mrs. Wood Arnold, Mrs. Donna Porter, Mrs. J. R. Russell, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. Roy Carter, Mrs. Roscoe Hamman, Mrs. Kirby Nesbitt, Mrs. Lester Williston, Mrs. Clyde Lasch, Mrs. Milton Wales and Mrs. David Cook.

Programs which will work with the counselors include Carol Keesy, Linda Kessler, Caroline Hamman, Jane Kaylor, Susan Murphy, Sandra Nordyke, Judi Brinker, Judy Lewis, Shari Einsel, Susan Smith, Helen Ramey, Mariann Akers and Jean Hamman.

Can't beat heat July 7-8

When it's hot Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, think of R. H. Mack and his staff.

"We won't have the opportunity to whip into the cooler to beat the heat," he announces.

"Our store will be closed all day Monday and Tuesday for remodeling of the meat department. We expect to be open to our customers by 5 p.m. Wednesday — unless something unforeseen happens. Meanwhile we'll put up with the heat like everybody else!"

Council to ask for $150,000 bond issue, exact cost estimates not yet available

Steps to place a $150,000 general obligation bond issue on the November ballot were taken in a lengthy session of the village council Tuesday night.

Clerk Carl V. Ellis was authorized to certify the maximum

Webbers, Cornells sell homes here

Ranch style home of Thomas L. Webbers in Plymouth East road has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Rogers, Kaaskake, Ill.

The Rogers have not yet occupied the house. James W. Vaughn has bought the house at 112 West Broadway belonging to Archie F. Cornell. It had been under lease by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Ishmel Hales moved into 44 Dix street, the former home of Mrs. Natalie Motley, which has been bought by Mrs. Hales' grandfather, Elem E. Markley.

Mrs. Leatrice Reed has occupied the Vogel apartment at 111 West Broadway.

maturity of bonds to County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe in the first step of a detailed procedure.

What came out of the administrative arrangement was this:

The general credit of the village would be pledged for 25 years in the amount of $150,000, only $15,000 short of what is the legal limit for the village.

The county auditor is required to certify before July 17 the amount of taxation necessary to pay off these bonds in the time specified. Present signs indicate the additional taxation will be between two and three mills.

Cost of the whole project, says Roger Loveless, of Alden E. Silston Associates, Ltd., Columbus, consulting engineers for the village, was set at $667,000 — but don't get excited.

This figure includes a hypothetical sum figured heavily, for acquisition of site for the sewer plant, which would not be necessary. It also includes other factors, estimated to be as much as $40,900 worth, designed to raise the cost of the project ON PAPER so that the $95,000 request for federal funds will be granted.

The $110,000 reported last week as the intended federal contribution was cut to $95,000. It means that the major part of the cost of the project is in lateral sewers and in "housekeeping details", an implication the village has labored for nearly 25 years under "haphazard government."

Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland bonding attorneys were engaged as legal consultants to the village for this issue.

The heat of the discussion was exceeded only by the temperature of the council rooms. It developed however, that costs have progressed faster than the capability of man's mind — local man's mind, at least — to keep up with them.

LOVELESS BASED HIS CALCULATIONS on $667,000. The last figure on which the council laid a bond issue proposal was $471,000.

Solicitor Joseph F. Dash told the council it is his private opinion that $550,000 will need to be raised from taxation and special assessment.

But until Loveless comes up with revised figures of cost estimates, the council's hands are tied. Tuesday's action was merely a stopgap action. It was taken to permit the village to comply with the law without the council knowing exactly what it is about.

And Councilman Donald E. Akers served notice this situation will not be allowed to obtain for long.

The delay in submitting accurate figures, Council President John T. Dick told Akers, is occasioned by the fact that entire job. Previous adjustments were done by slide rule; that is, the construction cost index was applied against the 1948 estimates, and the result was used as a cost estimate.

Not so now. The new figures will be accurate revisions.

ADVANTAGE IN APPROVING the issue now, Solicitor Dash told the council, is that bonds are selling better, so far as municipalities are concerned, than they have sold for several years.

Net yield of sales is higher (by which he means interest rates are lower) and the situation is likely to obtain until winter. If Plymouth is going to sell bonds," he said, "now is the time to do it."

Cub outing called, 'no enthusiasm'

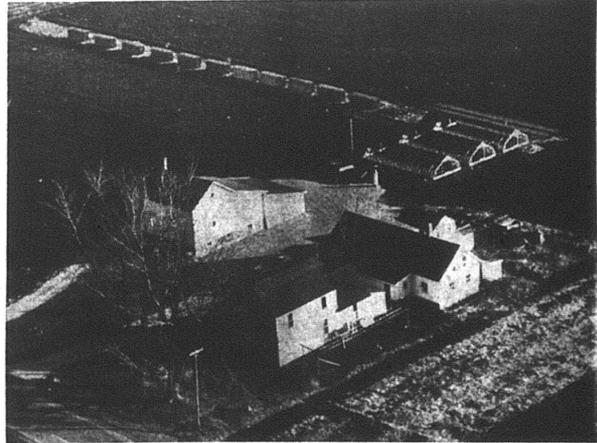

"Too much baseball at home conflicting with the Columbus Jets' schedule" is the reason why Plymouth Cub Scouts won't be going Saturday to see Satchell Paige pitch against the Ohio entry in the International league.

Cubmaster A. L. Paddock, Jr., after an informal poll of Cubs showed only a double handful were anxious to go, postponed the picnic and game.

"Perhaps, late in August, we can lay plans again," he said. "But right now it wouldn't be worth all our effort to go with only a small number of boys in the group."

Next week Plymouth business houses will stage a gala "Red Star" sales promotion that is completely different — the customer benefits in two ways. He gets lower prices for this big weekend and if he has a red star advertisement in his copy of The Advertiser, he gets a special price reduction.

PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

You live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Real Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good—to keep it getting better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things people should do, and things they should not do.

They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles—if we also guide our lives by them—then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual.

This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders.

From it comes our hatred of those "isms" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to.

Coming directly from that first principle are two others that are also part of the foundation of Americanism.

2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom

3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal.

It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expressed the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not state or imply a belief that men develop equally or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions.

That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together.

In our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, they are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals.

4. The Right to Freedom of Speech.

This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts.

5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly.

As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together.

6. The Right to Freedom of Worship.

Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal.

7. The Right to Security of Person and Property.

Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law."

8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law.

As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any group.

9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery.

This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another.

10. The Right to Petition the Government.

The right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people.

11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice.

This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used.

Other Principles hold that every man has . . .

12. The Right to a Good Education.
 13. The Right to Live where he pleases.
 14. The Right to Work where he wants to.
 15. The Right to Belong to an Organization.
 16. The Right to Own Property.
 17. The Right to Start his Own Business.
 18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.
 19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.
- There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .
20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.
 21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

There are also Limiting Principles . . .

Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles.

22. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with those of Other Individuals.

Your right to swing your arms stops where the other fellow's nose starts.

23. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Welfare of the People.

Freedom of speech does not give the individual the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre.

24. Every Individual owes Obedience to the Laws under which he Lives.

The individual has the right to talk against a law, to work and vote to change that law, but NOT to disobey that law.

Principles that are Patterns of Behavior . . .

Many of our principles of individual freedom and equality are guaranteed to us by law. But we have other beliefs, other general rules of action and conduct that have grown to the status of principles. And these too, are foundations of Americanism.

25. A Man shall be Judged by his Own Record.

A man's family background, his race or his religion, is not as important as what that man himself can do, for Americans believe a man must stand on his own feet.

26. A Man is Free to Achieve as much as he can.

We believe that where any boy may become President, where any man may achieve greatness, there is the greatest incentive for every man to do his best.

27. To Achieve anything, a Man should be Willing to Work.

Americans have always known that "you don't get something for nothing," that to get anything takes a willingness to work.

28. Achievement also Depends upon the Ability to do a Good Job.

Add to "willingness to work" the ability to produce results and the combination is the basis for most individual achievement in our country.

29. Every Man has the Right to a Fair Share of the Results of his Work and his Ability.

Because of this belief, America has not only produced more goods, but they have been more fairly and more widely shared by more people than in any other country.

30. Security is the Ability of a Man to Provide for himself.

The only true security for any individual is the opportunity, the ability, and the determination to work and plan and save for his own present and future. Self-reliance is vital to individual independence and personal freedom. No man can be "proud and free" who depends on others for his security.

31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others.

We believe that no one should starve, or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help.

32. Each Individual must Deal Fairly with others. Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence.

33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing. Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all.

34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vital.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth."

Principles of Individual Responsibility . . .

Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. If we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill this responsibility.

35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family.

He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being.

36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part.

He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit.

37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country.

He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual.

38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World.

Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act—and to encourage his country to act—so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world.

For America's Future

Most of us have faith in our country's ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life . . .

If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles:

39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and

40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . .

41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles.

There are those who would chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . .

Is it With or Against the Principles of America?

Nancy Barbour wed to Kent Knaus in Shelby rites

First bride of the summer season is Miss Nancy Jane Barbour, who was married to Kent Knaus of Plymouth route 1 in First Christian church, Shelby, Friday at 8 p.m. by the Rev. J. Edgar McDonald.

Miss Barbour, the daughter of the Russell Barbours, Shelby route 3, was given in marriage by her father. The double ring ceremony was performed in a setting of palms and beauty baskets of gladioli and carnations.

THE BRIDE WAS ATTIRED in a gown designed by Rosemarie Onofre. It was fashioned of chiffon taffeta and imported French lace, cut in semi-princess style both front and back with short sleeves. The skirt, worn over stiff petticoats, was cut in many gores.

Miss Barbour wore removable mits of tulle and small pearls, of lace edged with small pearls. From it fell a veil of imported French Illusion. She carried a nurse's Testament topped with white orchids and Stephanotis.

Her sister, Sally, was maid of honor, also attired in an original gown by the same designer. It was cut from aquamarine iridescent taffeta with a bell front skirt and a double harem back. She wore a small hairbrad crown intertwined with strands of small pearls and matching accessories.

THE BRIDEGROOM, SON of the Burr Knauses of Plymouth route 1, chose his brother-in-law, J. Harold Cashman, as his best man. A classmate at Ohio Northern university, Jerry Caskey, Nevada, and the bridegroom's nephew, Lynn Cashman, Plymouth, ushered.

Mrs. Barbour watched from the bride's pew in a mint green gown of dacron, set off with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Knaus wore a grey lace gown, with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

A RECEPTION FOR 150 guests followed in the church rooms.

Misses Joan Layman and Judy Watson, classmates of the bride in the school of nursing at Mansfield General hospital, and Mrs. Cashman, the bride's sister-in-law, served the wedding cake. The Misses Patricia Chronister and Ruth Keith, high school classmates of the bride, registered guests in the bridal book.

Mrs. Knaus wore a two-piece navy knit dress set off with white accessories for the wedding trip. She and her husband are graduates of Plymouth High school, Class of 1955. Mrs. Knaus was graduated this year as a registered nurse. Mr. Knaus, who is attending Ohio Northern university where he is an honor student, is employed by R. W. Ervin agency, Shelby.

After Sept. 1, they will live at 701 South Main street, Ada, while the bridegroom finishes his collegiate education

The park operating levy

It is no surprise to us that our park board is asking for public funds especially earmarked for park purposes.

The park has been costing us money for some time now, and the board has struggled manfully with what was, from the first, an impossible job.

You simply can't finance a park on its own earnings.

Costs of operating Mary Fate park run higher each year. This is so because labor costs generally increase from one year to the next, because replacement of play devices often is more expensive than original cost, and because as trees and shrubs grow larger they require more work.

Mary Fate park is a splendid enhancement to this village and no right-thinking citizen should deny the park board the half mill operating levy it is asking for.

But at the same time the board should take steps to insure as much income from the park as is feasible.

The practice of charging 50 cents a table for those within the pavilions is, we think, outmoded. Particularly when a whole year's reservation goes with it.

Permanently alienated

The conduct of the 13 southern senators in voting against statehood for Alaska has alienated us permanently. Whatever sympathy we had for the moral justice of the south's traditional position is dead now.

Of course, seven Republican senators voted against it, too, leaving us with the somewhat bitter conclusion that politics, rather than statesmanship, governs the Senate.

It is particularly depressing on the eve of Independence day that a United States Senator couldn't have muster-

There is no reason why, we think, a charge of $1.50 a table cannot be assessed. These out-of-towners who come back year after year do so because our park is an ideal place for their purposes. Another dollar in table cost wouldn't chase them away.

And if it did, what have we lost?

Neither should the park board, we think, allow the tables to be reserved entirely.

Those who contribute to the support of the park should have some assurance that a casual visit there will find a table under shelter available for their use.

Finally, it seems to us that any event staged in the park for which admission is charged should be required to remit something to the board.

It is a time-honored custom everywhere that he who dances must pay the fiddler.

We should have no compunctions about enforcing this notion here.

For our part, we intend to vote for the half mill levy. We shall support it with more enthusiasm if the board takes steps to see to it the park produces as much income as it feasibly can.

ed the courage to vote for statehood in spite of his promise to some southern colleague.

The moral of the story is, we suppose, this: don't raise your boy to be a senator — he might vote against virtue.

We have a strong Point 4 program abroad, a special feature of which is education. We could do worse than send some sensible teachers to the south and teach a few of the facts of life.

The town has a dozen industries and is in line for a couple more. La Choy products are manufactured there. One firm is the successor of a chap who ordered lumber from the mill, bored holes in it by hand, made ladders and loaded them on a dray to sell to Michigan farmers.

ABOUT 25 NEW HOMES GO UP IN ARCHBOLD each year. We saw three spanking new church buildings. There's a $44,000 municipal swimming pool that's certainly a dandy. The municipal park has a new log-cabin-type shelter house. Not that it seems necessary. The so-called old one is practically a palace.

The Archbold-German township school system, we learned, had about 850 pupils, adequately housed, suitably taught properly guided.

THE VILLAGE TAX DUPLICATE APproximates $6 million, more or less, and may be saddled with a sewage disposal system come November.

It, like dozens of other Ohio communities, has been told to quit soiling the water.

For what it's worth — and certainly the fine folks of Archbold need no prompting from the casual visitor — we predict they'll approve the bond issue for the sewer system.

They've never stood aside in the face of progress before. And there's no sign they'll stop now.

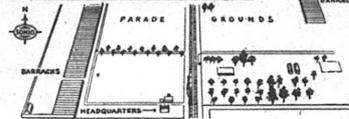

What a pleasure it must be to live and work in such a town.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

"Crossroad of History"

CAMP DENNISON

Many thousands of Ohio's young men passed through Camp Dennison, east of Cincinnati, on the way to the various battlefields of the Civil War.

Camp Dennison was established in 1861, sixteen miles out from Cincinnati on the Little Miami Railroad, and became the great rendezvous for Ohio in the war.

This stone house, built by Christian Waldschmidt in 1864, was the headquarters for General Joshua Bates, commanding officer of Camp Dennison during the Civil War. Today it is a point of historic interest, maintained by the Ohio Society Daughters of the American Revolution. This area is visited by many motorists each year who travel U.S. Route 50 by-pass north of the city of Milford. The country today looks much as it did at the time when the valley was covered by barracks, parade grounds and rail sidings for housing, training and transporting Union troops.

(This column was filed by its author while she was on vacation, which accounts in part for its brevity. Suzie promises her readers — all six of them — a more lengthy one next week.)

Most people have dictionaries. I have one that is unusual. It is a "comic" dictionary.

Some of the unusual definitions are:

a year: a period of time of 365 days, no matter how many days you take off;

a hangover: the period when you have time to be good after a good time;

liar: a man whose parents taught him to say he didn't want any ice cream after he had one portion;

bachelor: the only man who keeps no secret from his wife.

HAVE YOU EVER SEEN A goose egg? Normally it weighs about a quarter of a pound. It is oval in shape. I held a blown one. It didn't weigh at all.

I VISITED A PHOTOGRAPHER'S studio last week. It was interesting. There are so many faces with so many different looks. Some are pretty. Some are handsome. Some are just ordinary. It is hard to choose those you like best.

I think I liked the old-fashioned ones best.

I wonder why?

the woman's side of it
by aunt Hz

We think of history as something that happened "way, way back," and we read about it. It's like not seeing the woods for the trees.

Every day, someplace on the earth things happen which will take their place in the story of our civilization. And what a privilege it is for all of us to witness the addition of the 49th state to the Union. It could not have come at a better time either. Right smack next to the day we observe as Independence day.

Time magazine published a very interesting article on Alaska several weeks ago, which is well worth the time to hunt up and read. It gives us a new frontier with fabulous resources to conquer. I think if I were a little younger, it would be a challenge.

OUR WHOLE NATION WAS formed by people who saw a challenge and took it up. Always at this time of the year, I become a little proud of my own forebears. Poor as church mice, they helped push the frontier west. After the Revolutionary war, they moved into the wilderness of West Virginia. From there they went to Kentucky, then to Indiana, where my great-grandparents were born. If they had prospered in any of these places, I am sure they could have stayed put. Later, they pushed on to Iowa. There my grandfather was born. He was the youngest of a family of 13. He reached young manhood at the time of the Civil war. That gave him a choice: either fight or go west, where his oldest brother had homesteaded, and fight Indians. He went west to Colorado.

It was at the time the railroads were slowly moving over the mountains toward the Pacific. My grandfather and his brother drove herds of cattle through the hills for the railroad workers. They settled down to carving homes and farms out of the prairie. At one time the Pony Express had a station on their land, and as a child I can remember an aunt showing it to me. They were so proud of it.

We have become such a great country in spite of ourselves. Some of us are so lazy. We're like sheep, simply following the crowd. Some one sets a style, and out we rush for it. In a way, it has been a marvelous thing, because it has given us a standard of living which could only come because we strive so hard to "keep up with the Joneses." Everything, no matter how silly it seems at the moment, has some good in it.

If you're looking for Heaven here on earth, you're not far to look.

The village of Archbold, in Fulton county, about 45 minutes west of Toledo, comes as near being Heaven as you'll find. Here on earth, that is.

THIS IS A COMMUNITY OF PERHAPS 2,250 hard-working, industrious souls who've enormous capital. Some of it is in the bank. Most of it is in the mind and the heart.

The veteran Orrin Taylor, co-publisher of the village's excellent newspaper, held us spellbound Friday night with the story of how initiative and hard work begot success, and how the successors plowed back their initiative and hard work and the capital gain from their success to make more success.

PML SECOND HALF STARTS MONDAY AT 5:45 P. M. —

Braves tie Reds for second

Two victories by the Bachrach Co.-New Haven Supply Braves and two losses by the Legion-Fire men Reds left second place in the first half of Plymouth Midget league a two-party affair last week.

The Giants flubbed a chance to score their second victory when Manager Tug Mellett ran out of pitchers in the seventh — and first extra — inning.

GARY COURTRIGHT ASKED for relief in the fifth because of a blister on his pitching hand. Dick Chapman gave up five score-es to the Reds to tie at 16 to 16. In the seventh, three straight walks by Veil and Lahmon preceded a solid single by Norman Howard for the winning run.

Final first-half standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Cubs	9	0	1.000
Reds	4	5	.444
Braves	4	5	.444
Giants	1	8	.111

Pitching records (more than two games):

	W	L	Pct.
Wilcox, Cubs	5	0	1.000
Brumback, Cubs	3	0	1.000

Broderick, Cubs 1 0 1.000
DeWitt, Reds 3 1 .775
T. Young, Reds 1 1 .500
Osborn, Braves 3 2 .600
Chapman, Braves 1 4 .200
Courtright, Giants 0 2 .000
Fox, Braves 1 1 .500

Home runs:
DeWitt, Reds 2
W. Phillips, Reds 1
Nero Howard, Reds 1
Brumback, Cubs 1
Van Loo, Cubs 1

SECOND HALF OPENS Monday at 5:45 p.m. in PML stadium when the Braves tackle the Cubs. Giants will meet the Reds Tuesday night. On Thursday the Cubs cross bats with the Reds.

this expert — self-styled, but expert nonetheless — can take credit that he tabbed the winner and the runner-up, that he earmarked two of the outstanding players and that he predicted a number of postponed contests.

But there was one choice he absolutely missed, and whatever the extenuating circumstances, there's hardly any excuse for it. It was that little Jackie Hoffman, not yet eight years old, would be the outstanding player of the league.

THIS YOUNGSTER, UP from the farm club, was installed in the Braves' infield by Manager Rich Fox early in the season. He uses his glove like it was grafted to his hand, and covers ground like a tent, he is rock-solid at either short or second base.

At bat, he gets his share, considering his age and muscular development. Home run hitters, speedball pitchers — and sock-for-average players to the contrary, there's no doubt Jackie Hoffman is the top player of PML so far this season.

HIS ABILITIES AT EITHER short or second point up what the Old Timer was told last week by a successful Little League manager in a big city: "put your best players in right field, second base, on the mound and behind the bat. Keep 'em there, whether they hit or don't hit. And you'll win more than your share."

It strikes us as good advice, laid upon sound reasoning. Most boys are right-handed, both in the field and at the plate. Pitching in boys' baseball is usually ahead of batting, particularly where the age spread is such that older boys with more muscular control and development, can have that thing in there with moxie on it.

The reasoning is that right-handed batsmen will hit right-handed pitching to the second base side of the diamond. (And so, for that matter, will left-hand hitters; the comparison applies as well to southpaw.)

WHERE THE ADVICE turns sour is when you lack a fast ball pitcher, claim some managers. Not so. The advice is always true. If you lack a fast ball pitcher, you shouldn't expect to win. A slow ball pitcher can't consistently win in boys' baseball.

Look over the lineups of the four teams in PML and you'll see that not one of 'em follows the advice. This is nourge by the O. T. to change, nor fail to find with what's been done.

But in case any of 'em is interested, we could suggest whom to send where to follow that advice. And we'll bet a free trip for the whole team to a professional game that if our advice is followed the team's record will improve. Any takers?

Mrs. Priest's German Shepherds win

German Shepherds owned by Mrs. Golda Priest have taken ribbons in shows throughout Ohio recently.

Latest winner was Ansel Von Koblenz, which won the best male entry Sunday in the puppy competition of the Sandusky Kennel club at the Norwalk fairgrounds. He was shown by Miss Shirley Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers.

Pal Von Koblenz won best German Shepherd in show and first place in the working group. He was shown by Sonny Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold of New Haven.

Elga V. Salbia won a blue at the Alliance show as best of opposite sex entry. She thus won two championship points.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Strange word... FRESH!

Once it meant young... unspoiled... without Mamma!

But American slang has made it the tag of the impudent, the forward, the ruthlessly aggressive youth.

What does this change in a word mean? Do we distrust the young? Do we resent boys and girls today?

On the contrary, it reflects our clearer understanding of our task as parents. For we have given youth greater freedom. But we have understood that this freedom demands careful guidance, particularly in the moral and spiritual realm. We dislike the fresh child. He is the evidence of somebody's failure to provide the essential guidance.

So modern America is turning with favor and confidence to its churches. They provide the religious training that tempers youthful freshness with respect, reverence and faith.

The Samuel Sponsellers, the Levi McDougals and the Leonard Wilsons accompanied the Leonard Wilsons on the occasion of the regular meeting of Plymouth grange today, instead of tomorrow, at 8 p.m., at the grange hall.

Hospital Notes

Michael Border, son of the Nevin Borders, was released from the Willard hospital on June 18. Lois Barnett was released the day before.

Mrs. Peters, 93, dies at North Baltimore

A Plymouth native, Mrs. John N. Peters, died June 19 at North Baltimore of a lingering illness.

She was the former Ollie Ginter daughter of George and Lucy Ginter, born here Apr. 14, 1865. The family moved to North Baltimore in 1881.

She married Mr. Peters May 12, 1887. He died in 1926. There Leathes, Monroe, Mich.; Don W. Peters, North Baltimore; Arthur Peters, Lakeview; Mrs. Miller, Mettle, Madrid, Spain, and another who died in infancy.

Mrs. Peters was the last of a family of five. She was a charter member of the North Baltimore Evangelical United Brethren church.

Auditor's kin dies of lingering illness

Mother-in-law of Huron County Auditor Bernard F. Kean, Mrs. Carrie Kanzler Boehm, 90, died June 25 of a linberivn illness.

A native of Sandusky, she was a descendant of distinguished forebears. On the paternal side she was kin of General Kanzler, who conquered Garibaldi in the 19th century with the Vatican army. On the maternal side, she was descended from royal blood of India.

The Rev. Arthur Badger sang a solemn high requiem mass Saturday morning in St. Paul's church, Norwalk. Interment was in St. Marys cemetery, Sandusky.
