

Girl, 16, poaches on husband so wife's fists put both in jail

A 16-year-old Plymouth girl who chose a married boy friend in Erie county detention home at Sandusky awaiting action by Huron county juvenile court for her part in a sex-charged fracas on the Square July 23.

Her paramour awaits action of Huron county grand jury in the jail at Norwalk on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, filed by the girl's father.

The girl, blonde Bonnie Ramey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ramey of 213 Sandusky street, was arrested by Police Chief Robert L. Meiser about 9 p.m. July 23 on a charge of breach of probation. SHE WAS "VISITING" Quince Vanderpool, 121 1/2 East Main street, an apartment above the Lasch Barber shop, when his wife detected the two in intimate proximity. Mrs. Vanderpool, a lissome young woman much smaller than the Ramey girl, remonstrated with the girl and is said by ear-witnesses to have done so with her fists after Miss Ramey was surly to her.

Hair, cosmetics and some blood flew thereafter, the ear — and, by this time, eye — witness reported and a window was broken during the skirmish. Police broke up the melee and Chief Meiser, who said he had been watching the Ramey girl's conduct for some weeks, since she was on probation for her confessed part in a car theft and house ransack at Shiloh some months ago.

"Patrolman Baker and I had seen her getting into Vanderpool's car a number of times and we figured something was wrong," Meiser said.

The Ramey girl is a member of the class of 1959, Plymouth High school.

Local farmer hurt in reaping mishap

A Shelby route 3 farmer narrowly escaped critical injury Thursday in a freak accident at his farm home.

Henry Scherer was released from Shelby Memorial hospital after a dislocated shoulder had been adjusted.

The injury was received while he was taking a wagon of heat into the barn. A pulley broke. Scherer was standing downhill from the wagon with his tongue in his hands. He endeavored to jam the tongue into the ground to halt the wagon's slide downhill, but couldn't do so.

HIS-SON, JOHN, ABOARD a tractor, saw what was happening and tried to shut the motor off. In the excitement, he shoved the transmission into the wrong gear and when he jumped off it took off across the road and struck a telephone pole, knocking it to the ground.

The elder Scherer was carried some distance by the wagon and sustained cuts, bruises and the dislocation.

Reds to play Cubs in what could be it

Get to Plymouth Midget league stadium early tonight — they're going to settle the second half title.

Legion-Firemen Reds, making a strong bid for the banner, will tangle with Fate-Root-Heath Cubs in the game which should settle the argument.

THE REDS LEAD. THE loop's second half standings right now, and did themselves no harm in winning over the now hapless Braves, 13 to 5, on one hit last week.

It's a battle of right-handers set for tonight. Bob Hass and Tim DeWitt will be available, with Nero Howard to mop up, for the Redlegs, Gary Brumbach and John Wilcox will be available for the Cubs.

The Cubs had one big game, in which they scored 10 runs, to down the POOM Giants last week, 20 to 11. Manager Tug Mellott of the Giants demonstrated his displeasure by jerking some of his standbys early in the game.

ON BALANCE, THE CUBS should win his one tonight if Roger Van Loo's thumb is well, he can do the catching. Whether Brumbach or Wilcox goes to the mound will depend on which of them pitched Monday night. No hurler may go more than six innings in a single week.

Brumbach's effectiveness has been spotty of late, but there is nothing wrong with his bat. He leads in home run production.

As for the Reds, if Tim DeWitt can keep his fire ball going, the Legion-Firemen entry stands a good chance of coping the last half pennant.

Police have busy week with drivers, drunks

A New Havenite narrowly escaped injury at 2:30 a.m. July 23 when his car apparently missed a curve in New State road south of Norwalk and struck a utility pole.

Donald Carr told state highway patrolmen he fell asleep. Front end of his car was severely damaged. The pole was loosened and wires knocked down.

He was charged with reckless driving.

Youth escapes injury

A Celeryville youth extensively damaged his car Thursday night when he rammed into the rear of a truck at Bullhead road and Route 224.

Ronald Postema, 20, collided with the rear of a truck driven by Weigert Newmyer, 58, also of Celeryville.

Postema sustained minor facial cuts and was given a summons for failure to stop within an assured distance.

Acting mayor fines 4 transient drunks

Acting Mayor John Dick fined court costs Saturday night on charges of intoxication.

They were Oscar Monroe, Alis Howard, Clark Caselott and Theo Handshoe, all residents of Knott county, Ky.

James Jacobs forfeited a bond of $15 on a charge of not observing a stop sign. Guadalupe Zapata, Celeryville, paid a total of $29.30 on two charges of operating a vehicle without license and no car registration.

CLUB TREASURERS, church officers, merchants and other customers now use Peoples National's new night depository.

Chest sets campaign Oct. 1 to 18, seeks manager, directors

Plymouth's second Community Chest drive is planned for Oct. 1 through 18.

Meeting Thursday night in Peoples National bank, the board of directors with H. James Root and J. E. Nimmons, president and vice-president of the chest, respectively, set these dates to file in with national publicity.

Letters will be sent to the various agencies by James C. Davis, secretary, requesting budget figures for Plymouth. The letters must be answered by Sept. 1 so a budget can be arranged by the board when it meets Sept. 3.

The terms of two board members, Mrs. J. A. Morrison and Franklin W. McCormick, expire this year, and they will be replaced. A new drive chairman for the 1958 drive will also be selected at the next meeting. A number of candidates are being interviewed for these positions by John T. Dick, who was chosen chairman of the board.

THE WONDERFUL ONE HORSE SHAY made an appearance on the Square Sunday. Kenneth (Tim is my regular handle) Burrer and children and their driving horse "Trigger" made several tours around town in as snappy a get-up as the village has seen in many a year. A Trigger at No. 68 Sandusky means two in the same block — Harry Trauger at No. 62 answers to the same name. But he won't take a bit!

Four teacher vacancies remain —

Board hires bandmaster

Some progress toward filling teacher vacancies in Plymouth public school system was made last week as Supt. M. J. Coon signed a music-band instructor and made tentative agreements with six other teachers.

Vacancies still remain for a girls' physical education instructor in the high school here and for a junior high mathematics instructor and two elementary teachers at Shiloh.

HAROLD R. DAVENPORT, Jr., West Haven, Conn., who won the master of arts degree from the University of Connecticut at Storrs, Conn., last June, has signed a contract to teach music and band.

A graduate of Ohio State university, Mr. Davenport is a bachelor. He is a member of the Presbyterian church.

A veteran of two years in the Air Force, he will begin his duties Aug. 20.

TENTATIVE AGREEMENTS with teachers to fill these vacancies have been made by Mr. Coon, he said Monday:

four elementary teachers at Shiloh one elementary teacher at Plymouth one high school English teacher

Persons knowing of candidates for these vacancies are requested to notify Mr. Coon, either at his office or at home.

MR. DAVENPORT

Shiloh Vamps set social, ice cream at Auburn

Annual ice cream social of Auburn Grange will be staged from 4 p.m. Aug. 9 in the Grange hall, a mile north of Route 98 at Baker road, Crawford county.

Ham, chicken and wine! sandwiches, potato salad, baked beans, pastries, soft drinks and home made ice cream — to eat there or to carry home — will be offered to the public.

Annual ice cream social of Shiloh Volunteer Fire department will be staged Saturday from 5 p.m.

Chicken and ham sandwiches, potato salad and beans, pie and cake, coffee and soft drinks will be offered to the public.

Chamber entertains 58 at first picnic

Chamber of Commerce members and their families, 58 in all gathered at Mary Fate park Thursday night for a picnic supper.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Moss Rutan, pastor of First Presbyterian church.

After the supper, family games were played under the direction of H. James Root. Highlight was a horseshoe match between Harold Ross and Franklin W. McCormick, who beat R. Earl McCuote and Hugh Washburn.

4¢ mail to begin Aug. 1

The public begins to pay for the postal worker's pay increase tomorrow, when a general advance in first class rates is enforced by the postal service.

The 25 per cent increase in first class rates — from three to four cents — will be in effect when the post office opens for business at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Air mail, which has an eight-ounce limitation as to weight, will advance one cent for the first ounce or fraction thereof, from six to seven cents.

Post and postal cards by air mail will advance from four to five cents.

JUNK MAILERS AND Publications not entitled to second class mailing privileges will begin to cost more, too.

The rate per piece in the third class category advances from two to three cents for the first two ounces, with a half-cent due on each additional ounce by weight.

Odd-shaped pieces — and the postal authority has a peculiar way of judging them — double in cost, from three to six cents.

One liberalization you can send by air to military addressees overseas a parcel weighing up to 70 pounds with a maximum measurement of 100 inches, combining length and girth.

Stamp collectors, say Postmaster Raymond L. Brooks, may order first-day covers today. Postmaster Brooks will furnish a list of post offices from which first day covers are issued.

Questions as to rates will be answered promptly by the post office staff, Brooks said Monday.

NEXT HOME RUN HITTER in PML gets free quart of ice cream, courtesy of Stanley L. Earl, who identified the Earl homestead in Greenfield township. Official scorer's certificate should be given to Grocer R. Harold Mack.

S. L. Earl identifies homestead in unique fashion--letter to Ed.

The Advertiser's series of farm features, with a single exception, have been staff prepared, after a visit to the farm and a talk with the owner or occupant. Here's one that's different — a letter to the editor.

"Sir: The farm in the picture on the front page of The Advertiser was once my home. I knew it when I looked at the picture more closely.

"I believe it is now owned by Carl Adams, unless he sold it lately. But the house is new since my father farmed it from 1901 until 1905. The older house burned down.

"Part of the farm on the west side of the road on the back was sold off to another farmer. The farm is in Baxter road, Greenfield township, right off the Egypt road. It lies between Greenfield-New Haven Town Line road and the Egypt road.

MY FATHER ALSO FARMED another place near this farm, at Lyon road and Maple Ridge road, Greenfield township, then owned by A. C. Griffin of Willard.

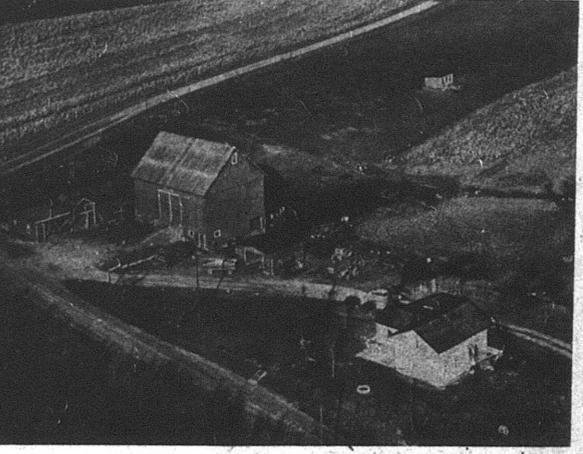

"I don't want the ice cream you so nicely offered, you can give it to some small boy.

"Mr. Adams, by the way, owns land across the road that he bought after the land was sold off the parent farm. My father lived in Greenfield township since he was but a few months old until he died. My ancestors on my mother's side came to Greenfield township in 1818!

Cordially,

P. S. I am not so sure that I know the other place on page 2. It looks a little like the Harry Wiles place although the driveways don't look just right. The Harry Wiles place is in Route 99 at Maple Ridge road, Greenfield township. But I am not sure about this place. I am living at the hotel in Willard, being single. My parents are dead. I am a furloughed machinist's helper — I used to work with two Plymouth B & O employees — Dick Hampton and Harold Sams."

STANLEY EARL isn't sure, but he thinks this could be Harry Wiles place in Maple Ridge road, Greenfield township. Any confirmers?

Polio beaten, March of Dimes to tackle arthritis, 'congenitals'

A program that will permit a scientific assault on major health problems of the nation with arthritis and birth defects as initial new targets, was announced this week by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Basil O'Connor, president of the organization that made possible the Salk polio vaccine, outlined its broad new program of future attack on disease and disability at a press conference in New York Tuesday.

While carrying on the winning fight against polio, the National Foundation, as it now will be known, will continue its history-making virus research program and investigations of disorders of the central nervous system, and will add research and patient aid in arthritis and birth defects (congenital malformations), Mr. O'Connor said.

Freedom to follow research clues wherever they lead will be combined with necessary limitations on patient aid in the beginning. THE EXPANDED PROGRAM will be financed through the traditional March of Dimes conducted each January by volunteers in 3,100 county chapters across the country.

Mr. O'Connor said: "This is our concept for the future: The development of an organized voluntary force in the fields of medical research, patient care and professional education, flexible enough to meet new health problems as they arise, with specific goal initially.

"The heart of the new program is research. Research will be expanded from where it is now, without the restriction of being confined in the future to a single disease. Professional education also will be expanded to cover training of personnel both for research and patient care in all areas of activity."

Freedom to follow research clues wherever they lead will be combined with necessary limitations on patient aid in the beginning. THE EXPANDED PROGRAM will be financed through

The limitations result from the enormity of the patient care problem: At least 11,000,000 persons have arthritis and rheumatism; 250,000 children are born with significant birth defects each year (excluding birth injuries); an estimated 150,000 persons who have had paralytic polio still will require some assistance in the years ahead.

IT IS PLANNED TO OFFER patient aid at first only to arthritis patients through 18 years of age and to children suffering from malformations of the central nervous system also through age 18, he said. Some 16,000 childhood arthritis sufferers can be expected to seek treatment each year and about 8,000 patients annually have birth defects of the central nervous system that are treatable. Among these conditions are: spina bifida (open spine), encephalocele (open skull) and hydrocephalus (water on the brain).

The community chest

The committee in charge of the second annual Community chest is now breaking ground for the 1958 campaign.

It has set Oct. 1 through 18 for the drive this year, in part to avail itself of national publicity for similar campaigns.

This is sensible, we think, and additionally, to set the date well in advance of Christmas affords the public an opportunity to recoup its fortunes in time to give Santa a whirl.

We have heard reports that various agencies want more money for next year. This is normal. Their representatives should be encouraged to come forward and state the case for additional funds. The committee will consider the arguments and establish priorities for chest contributions.

Last year, with a campaign that was almost entirely conducted by mail (save for retail businesses), donations were received from about one in three. That is, about a third of the letters were answered with gifts.

The figure is low, but since the goal was reached and then some, it is a little hard to make a complaint stick.

But there is this to say about it. It is unreasonable for the general public which benefits almost entirely to expect that its proper burdens shall be shouldered in the main by businesses.

Some businesses we know gave generously, and would have given more had there been some assurance the public school requirements for non-budget supported activities would not be presented to them later.

We have always contended that the chest, here at least, should meet the requirements of the non-budget supported activities of the schools so that pupils need not engage in selling competitive with businesses which contribute through taxation to the support of the schools.

The object of any community chest should be to develop broad public support of the aims of the campaign.

We think the committee is doing a good job toward achieving that end.

It needs help. A director of the campaign for this year is wanted. Two directors whose terms expire are to be replaced.

The community chest supports useful activities locally, activities without which we would be less happy, but less attractive as a place to live.

It behooves each of us to consider the needs of local activities first, and time and effort, now, when they are to support them wholeheartedly with needed, and with money later.

Give the boys a cheer tonight

You couldgo farther and spend a good bit more — notably at Municipal stadium, Cleveland — and not see so interesting a spectacle as will be unfolded in Plymouth Midget league tonight.

What may well be the deciding contest of the exciting second half will be played between the haves and the have-nots — the Cubs and the Reds.

Spectator support of PML this season has not, frankly, been all it might be, although — thank God — most of the raucous, unseemly adult conduct has been halted.

These boys deserve public recognition for their efforts. It would seem the call of Lake Erie, and fishing and wassail could wait a few days and those who weekly heed that call could turn a deaf ear to it, just for today.

For our part, we'd like to see the underdogs win, but whichever way it turns out, it'll be time well spent.

19th century? And the revival that he conducted with this slogan: "On-ward and Upp-ward?"

OUR NEIGHBOR SAYS THE SMALL town doesn't need a newspaper — the news travels fast enough. But we always answer, "You need the paper if only to get the facts."

When the collision in the highway the other night was less than an hour old, competent witnesses swear they heard "14 dead," "man's arm cut off" and "drunken driver" AT THE SCENE, or within five minutes of it.

And the young lady who was belted in the noggin by the skittish colt was reported to be lingering on the brink of death before our investigation proved otherwise.

The newsmen serves in many ways, but most especially because he is trained to inquire and to observe, and knows where and how to obtain the facts.

NOMINATION FOR THE MOST HORRIBLE gag of the month, the one by Jay Eff Dee, which goes like this.

Sir Gawain was heading back to England after jousting in some tournament or other on the continent; He passed through Flanders (where they use dogs as dray animals) and on a stormy night his horse was lamed.

He approached an inn keeper and sought help. Sorry, consoled that worthy, we're fresh out of horses. This chagrined Sir G, who showed it with a long face.

But, allowed the host, he had a dog that would do.

Better than nothing, said Sir G, and he prepared to brave the stormy night with the canine carrier.

As he stepped into the brow darkness, the inn keeper shouted: "No, Sir Gawain, I wouldn't send a knight out on a dog like this!"

Ought To Be Education

THINKER Joseph Wood Krutch, long known for his writings about American and English men of letters and their works, has injected a real challenge into current discussions of our educational problems.

Speaking editorially in the Saturday Review, Dr. Krutch remarks that this "looks like a good year" to ask: What are schools really for?

He notes that the ready answer of the educators is "Preparation for life."

That is Dr. Krutch's point of departure, the launching pad for his challenge. Noting that the educators' phrase "has a persuasive sound," he asks:

"But what kind of life should they prepare for? Is it for life as it is or life as it might be?"

Explaining the intent of his question, he notes that the school once embodied a protest (or at least a countervailing influence) against what most of the other forces in society tended to make of that society and of man himself.

Today in contrast, he points out, the emphasis is on "adjustment," meaning "adjustment to things as they are."

DR. KRUTCH blames the present-day role of the school to that of the political leader "who watches where a mob is going, puts himself at the head of it, and cries, 'Follow me!'"

Here is the trend as he sees it. "Don't teach 'literary English,' teach 'acceptable English.' It, as a New York Commission recently proposed, school children are not interested in the classics, don't waste time trying to arouse their interest but give them something they are interested in. Teach them how to drive automobiles, how lipstick is best applied, and how (one actual course in a Midwestern 'institution of learning') to order groceries over the telephone. These are the things they will be doing; these are what their lives will be made up of; and the business of education is to 'prepare for life.'

"If they won't read, then show them some pictures."

Does not Dr. Krutch's diagnosis confront us with the very core of our educational woes?

We believe that it does, and we suspect that one sure way to meet America's crying need for educated men and women is to start training for life as it ought to be, not life as it is.

(Ed. Note: Custom in these pages is to print home-written editorial matter which applies to local conditions, and to stand behind the views which are written under the newspaper's masthead. This one, from Monday's issue of the Mansfield News-Journal, seems to us to warrant careful attention by patrons of Plymouth school district and members of the Board.

Monday we had a little bird in the office! We were trying to get him outdoors. He was persistent and wouldn't go out. That was when Chip said he must be a she! sometimes no matter what you do you can't get a she to go out, he says.

But this was not the little bird who tells things to the editor. That little bird, Pop says, doesn't have wings. What he says, though, gets around so fast you'd think it has wings.

One time a lady called Pop on the phone and without saying who she was, she demanded to know what kind of a bird was on her lawn outside her window.

The telephone doesn't have a TV hook-up and Pop didn't know what kind of a bird it was from a hole in the wall. And he didn't have time to ask her to describe it, for it was press day.

So he said, "Ma'am, it's an English twit." She said thank you and hung up.

WE WERE AT THE OX roast twice Sunday, once with Mom and once with Pop. There was a game there that was fun, but Pop says the post office will be mad if I mention the name. Anyway, it starts with a "B". Just when I thought I was going to win I had to leave.

Pop says that's how life is. He wouldn't have said it if I hadn't told him I was unhappy about it. But my brother, who thinks he's so smart because he's 16 months older than I am, said I shouldn't feel sorry because there was no guarantee I would win, anyway.

I AM GOING TO A WEDDING Saturday. I have all new clothes, too. I can't wait because I get to go to the reception.

Pop says the reception is really so the friends of the couple can get together to talk about them. I don't think so. I think the bride and her new husband go to the reception so they can get the congratulations of the friends.

Mom says she will give me $500 if I run away and get married instead of doing it in a big church wedding. I may take her up on that.

But first I've got to find me a man. Chip says I should find one who's already got $500, then I can get married as I please.

Isn't it a joy to ride down a country road these days and see wave after wave of those brilliant orange tiger lilies? Sprinkled with the frothy Queen Ann's lace, it is all prettier than any picture painted by man. Even nicer when there's a field of bronze wheat in the background.

It's days like these that make us aware of how wonderful this earth really is. Perhaps I never noticed before, but it seems that here are more and more gardeners than before. There is hardly a house now without a beautifully blooming rose bush or a pretty little border of petunias. I do know of one house that has only cabbage plants and tomatoes, and at the rate they are progressing, they won't even be good enough to throw at anyone. Thank heavens, there are years ahead to do more planting.

FLOWERS LIKE PEOPLE have interesting histories. The sweet pea is a native of Sicily. It began as a wild flower as did all the others. It really wasn't until the time of Henry VIII of England that gardeners cultivated flowers for decoration rather than for practical use.

Dahlias come from Mexico. The straw flower is an early resident of Asia Minor and the island of Crete. Peonies began in China and Japan while the geranium comes from South Africa.

One of the most interesting flowers is the anemone. You don't often see them here, but in Europe they are very, very popular and very special. They are thought to be the lily of the field, which is referred to in the New Testament. They just might be that, for they grow abundantly along the Mediterranean sea.

DURING THE TIME OF the Crusades, the Bishop of Pisa suggested that the returning ship fill their bottoms with the good rich soil of the Holy Land rather than with sand. This earth was very sacred and was spread over the cemetery at Pisa and can still be seen just behind the famous Leaning Tower, which only this week seems to be leaning too much. Came another spring, and the ground was covered with a lovely little red flower. Pilgrims who came to Pisa carried plants back to their own lands, and thus they spread all over the continent.

The verberna is South American origin and zinnias come from Mexico. The petunia is Brazilian flower only in 1823. There is something about a pretty flower. It says the things you can't think of. Probably some of you have seen the cartoon which shows a young man rushing into a florist shop, saying, "One dozen daisies, and these must all come out I Love Him."

"I have come," said the man, "to answer your advertisement for a man to retail canaries."

"Oh," said the proprietor of the shop, "do you want the job?"

"Well, no," said the man "but I'm curious — how did the canaries lose their tails?"

A LOCAL CHAP WITH WHOM WE' quaffed many a coffee is cursed with a jealous wife. She makes him stand inspection every evening, when he comes home after a hard day of calling on customers. The slightest hair discovered on his coat brings a frightful scene, real tantrums. But the other p.m., she really blew her stack. Finding nothing at all on hubby's coat, she burst into sobs and shouted, "Even bald women now."

Trouble with that wife, says our Chip, is she reads too much Dick Tracy.

Grid candidates set for Aug. 20th call

It's 156 days until Christmas but only 20 until the season's first football practice.

Thus Coach Lew Petit looked forward this week to his third year at the helm of Plymouth's Warriors, confident his 1958 edition will do as well as the 1957, one.

Petit has 16 experienced monogram winners to answer the first whistle Aug. 20, when players will be suited and given the first of three weeks of stiff conditioning.

PETT'S PRINCIPAL JOBS are 1) to break in a line coach, to replace the departed Bob Martin, and 2) to develop a forward wall behind which such backs as Billy Strine, Duane Utiss, Dick Fidler, Dayton Reed, Danny Carter, Denny McKown and Dick Akers can lug the mail.

If there is anything certain now, it is that some of the backfield depth will need to be drilled in duties elsewhere.

Veteran linemen returning including Jim Wasserman, a co-captain last season; Dennis McGinnis, a rangy tackle; Mike DeWitt, a hefty guard; Doug McQuate, who played considerable end last season; and Tom Myers, the defensive bearcat. Duane Baker split his varsity time both up front and in the backfield and may be a likely end candidate.

In Utiss and Akers, Petit has two seasoned backs. Utiss, until he was hurt in mid-season, could always be counted on for a couple of yards. He played in the line on defense and was a good one there. Akers, an incoming senior, showed signs toward the end of last season that he would settle down under more fire. He can toss the ball, and with some development could solve Petit's quarter backing problems.

THIS WOULD LEAVE Strine, who has perhaps more potential than any player on the squad, for the halfback slot vacated by Eddie Taylor.

With a repaired Dick Fidler at the other half, the Warriors would be amply provided offensively.

"We won't know until opening day what we're going to have in the way of candidates from the old Shiloh district," Petit said last week. "But whatever comes there are from that area can be sure of two things: we need good players, and every boy, no matter what his name, his height or weight, or where he lives, will get every chance to prove himself before the first game."

Five Bowmen win at Bellevue shoot

Five of six Huron Valley Bowmen who went to Bellevue's shoot Sunday came home with prizes. Francis Dorion was first in Expert B class, Arnell Blair, Greenwich, second in Expert A, John Hale second in Bowman class, Tom Henry fourth in Bowman class, Harvey Robinson third in Archer class.

Conrad Androsch went to an animal shoot at Fremont and won first honors in Expert B class. Bowmen will meet in the Boy Scout house in Mary Fete park tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. to lay plans for the invitational shoot Aug. 10.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

Mothers of the little darlings shouldn't become alarmed, but injuries have taken a heavy toll in Plymouth Midget league this fall.

Gene Osborn injured his heel running out a double. Injury is so serious he's been forced to turn in his suit to Manager Rich Fox of the Braves, who's lost a fine pitcher.

Chip Paddock was socked on the shin by a fast ball off the delivery of Tim DeWitt. It festered and he was forced out of three games. He received a physician's OK to return to action July 23 and celebrated with a home hit which helped the Giants to their first win of the second half.

Hiram D. Reed got a fast pitch on the temple. The protective helmet saved him from serious injury. Roger Van Loo jammed his thumb while catching and still favors the injured digit.

Dennis Hoie cut a deep gash in his foot while playing at home. He's out of action for a while.

Tommy Adams fell while running behind the high school and needed surgery to close the wound.

THESE INJURIES HAVE necessitated some roster changes. Osborn was placed on the disabled list and his place as an approved pitcher was taken by Don Phillips, who's won two straight.

The two VanderBilt boys went to California for 30 days, leaving the Braves with only 10 active players.

Dave Moore was called up from the farm league to replace Larry Buchanan on the Cub roster. Buchanan quit the team.

Manager Larry Root resigned as boss of the Reds, succeeded by Howard Compton, who promptly went on vacation. His substitute, Bud Garrett, just as promptly led the Reds to two quick wins.

HALF A DOZEN OLD TIMERS came forward last week with further identification of Dawson's field, which was a few miles out Route 61 on the Harry Dawson farm. The O. T. learns Mr. Dawson financed uniforms and balls, but not bats, which were brought by the players, out of collections in the hat.

Who killed Cock Robin? I said the highway developer, with my good roads. I, said the automobile builder, with my good cars. I, said the radio engineer, with my fine communication.

Something went out of small town living when the village baseball ring went out of business. Oh, there are a few nowadays, but hardly anybody, knows — or cares — but the ballplayers.

GRACE FREEMAN, HOME ECONOMIST, SAYS:
 There are so many things to see and do this time of year that meals sometimes get sidetracked. To fix tasty meals quickly, try Eckrich meat products. Eckrich Frankfurts and smoked sausages can be fixed almost instantly, and luncheon meats are ready to serve. Here are some suggestions you will want to try:

AN OLD FASHIONED «BREAK-FAST» treat in a hurry—is that what you need? Then how about pancakes and Eckrich Smokees? Make pancakes from your favorite mix and serve with Eckrich Smokees fixed this way: Place Smokees on rack in broiler 3 inches from flame or burner, and broil for 2 to 3 minutes. Turn and broil 2 minutes longer. Serve with hot applesauce or maple syrup, and listen for the compliments!

IS HOUSECLEANING cutting down your lunch-getting time? Fry four slices of Eckrich Leona Bologna in a little margarine or bacon fat over medium heat until bologna puffs and forms a cup. In the cups, serve scrambled eggs made this way: Combine 6 slightly beaten eggs, 1 tbsp. green pepper, 1 tbsp. pimiento, ½ cup milk, 1 tsp. salt and a dash of pepper. Cook in 2 tbsp. bacon fat until set, stirring frequently.

HOBBIES taking every extra minute these days? Try this to give you more time for fun: Fold slices of Eckrich Honey Style Loaf into horns and fasten with toothpicks. Add pimiento or parsley to cottage cheese and fill horns. Serve with a crisp green salad, buttered carrots, brown-and-serve rolls and chocolate ice cream sundaes for a quick, easy to fix dinner that every member of the family will like!

WANT A REALLY GOOD APPE-TIZER for your next party? Then try this: Mash a package of cream cheese, then blend in 1 tbsp. finely chopped onion and a little paprika. Form into very small balls. Roll in finely shredded Eckrich Chop-T-Beef until ball is well coated. Put in a covered dish and place in the refrigerator until time for serving. Makes approximately 15 appetizers . . . and just watch them disappear!

LUNCHEON MEATS SMOKED SAUSAGES FRANKFURTS

Now you and your family can enjoy the full flavor of tasty Eckrich meats . . . the same honest-to-goodness eating that has won the approval of people everywhere in Michigan and Indiana.

Frankfurts are tender and juicy . . . luncheon meats in many flavor combinations . . . and sausages that have that real "old fashioned" aroma of hickory smoked meat!

You'll love the taste of all Eckrich meat products . . . but for a real taste-teaser, try Eckrich Smokees this week. They're ideal any time of day or night . . . and so quick to fix. Eckrich Smokees, with real old time smoky flavor. Try them today! Look for the big "E" at your favorite food store.

Miss Jenkins weds Richard Goldsmith at Shelby

A double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Darwin Haynes united Miss Marjorie Edel Jenkins and Richard E. Goldsmith in marriage July 13 in Shelby's First Presbyterian church.

Huge white bows marked the family pews and the altar was lighted by candles and set off with white gladioli.

Mrs. Marjorie Johnson accompanied Miss Carolyn Johnson in a plume of nuptial music.

THE BRIDE WAS GIVEN IN marriage by her uncle, Richard Printz. Her gown was fashioned of embroidered tulle with a fitted bodice, ending in a Sabrina neckline with short cap sleeves. The bouffant skirt fell to the floor in billows of small scalloped ruffles

Miss Postema awarded scholarship at Ashland

Patricia L. Postema, daughter of the Edward Postemas, has been awarded a scholarship by Ashland college for the ensuing school year, George M. Guiley, dean of students, announces.

A graduate of New Haven High school, she will major in elementary education. She will be a sophomore in September. Last year she was active in the Y.W.C.A., Pi Kappa Pi, Women's Athletic association and Pi Mu Gamma and the Pep club.

and trailed into a train in the back. A fingertip veil was held in place by a small white headband. She carried a white orchid with streamers on a white Bible.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Shirley Clark, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Genevieve Gowris were of chautauy face in the ballerina length with scooped necklines, tucked midriffs, and had cap sleeves. Mrs. Clark was in blue and Mrs. Downs in yellow. Both wore matching headbands with small circular veils and mits. They carried colonial shaped bouquets of pink roses.

SUSAN HEWITT, THE bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid. Her gown was of green taffeta, designed with a scooped

COURT NOTES —

Two Plymouth rural youths have been charged with grand larceny and are held in Huron county jail for action by the grand jury.

Edward J. Miller, 21, and his brother, Robert K., 19, were arrested by Huron county sheriff. Together with three juveniles, they confessed, sheriff's deputies said, to more than a score of burglaries in a six-county area.

Mrs. Martha Gary Beckley, New Haven, has filed suit for divorce from her husband, William, in Huron county common pleas court.

neckline ending in short cap sleeves. The floor length skirt was covered with an overskirt of net. Another niece of the bride, Cathy Hewitt, was the flower girl. Her dress was similar to Susan's, in lavender. She carried a basket of rose petals. Susan's flowers were a small bouquet of rosebuds.

Stephen Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark, was the ring bearer.

Mitchell Owney of Greenwich was Mr. Goldsmith's best man. Ushers were Howard Clark and Bernard Garrett.

THE BRIDE'S MOTHER wore an afternoon dress of white dotted Swiss in a yellow and pink design. She wore a small pink hat and a corsage of pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother chose a hit linen sheath with a short sleeve coat trimmed in avocado, set off with white accessories. Her flowers were also pink rosebuds.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church rooms, decorated in blue, green, yellow and lavender. A five-tiered cake centered the bride's table. Mrs. Herbert Hewitt assisted the guests at the table. The young couple spent their honeymoon at Niagara Falls. For her going away costume, Mrs. Goldsmith changed to a pink dotted Swiss and pink accessories.

The Goldsmiths are now at home at 36½ Mulberry street, Mansfield. Mr. Goldsmith is employed by American Machine and Foundry Co. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Goldsmith of 242 Trux street.

Mrs. Goldsmith, the daughter of Mrs. Freda Hewitt of Shelby and Henry Jenkins of Springfield, was graduated from Shelby High school and is a student nurse at Mansfield General hospital.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

"Crossroad of History"

The pioneers who established the first permanent settlement in the Ohio Country at Marietta almost missed their destination due to a flood on the Ohio River and a heavy fog that covered the valley on the morning of April 7, 1789.

Fortunately soldiers stationed at the frontier Fort Harmar at the junction of the Muskingum and the Ohio Rivers, saw the boats being carried past and rowed out to guide them to land. The party under the leadership of General Rufus Putnam was made up of Revolutionary War veterans who were headed for the location assigned to the Ohio Company which was organized at the Bunch of Grapes Tavern in Boston in 1786.

Today Marietta is visited by many motorists each year who view the monuments of the past in the Campus Martius museum which contains the house that General Putnam built in that early day. The monument shown above lists the names of the pioneers who made this first settlement in Ohio.

The Campus Martius museum is maintained by the Ohio Historical Society and the exhibits depict the influence of the Ohio River on the early growth of this State from the days of the Northwest Territory down to the present.
