

State building aid of $350,000 offered Plymouth district, Richland superintendent reveals

Opponents of transfer of Plymouth school district into Huron county got substantial support Thursday night when Richland County Superintendent Dale Kinney announced Plymouth district is in line for a $350,000 building grant.

Kinney said the district stands fourth on a priority list to receive state building funds. No action will be taken by the state board of education, he said, until the outcome of the balloting on the transfer is known.

ACTUALLY, KINNEY SAID, PLYMOUTH DISTRICT could raise $376,725. The state would contribute $352,591, or 48 per cent of the estimate cost of a new building.

This figure was set by architects at $729,316. Anticipated high school enrollment when school opens next year is 358.

Kinney made clear the electorate will be required to pass a bond issue of $376,725 to finance the new high school before state aid can be obtained.

Quality of the issuance of bonds to cover cost of remodel. The Shiloh annex was again questioned by the board of the school's legal advisers, Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland bonding attorneys. First National Bank of Mansfield is required to seek a writ of mandamus in the Richland common pleas court to compel the board to issue the bonds.

MRS. LLOYD RAY, WIFE OF THE ELEMENTARY principal here, turned in her resignation from a contract to teach at Shiloh schools.

Contracts for 13 teachers were approved as follows: Mrs. Gordon Brown, Plymouth elementary teacher, $3,800 annually; Mrs. Shirley Strickland, Shiloh fourth grade, salary schedule; Mrs. Jettie York, Mansfield rural, Shiloh second grade, $3,940 annually; Mrs. June Handshoe, Plymouth, Shiloh first grade, $3,080 annually; Richard Phillips, Mansfield, Shiloh fifth and sixth grades, $3,900 annually; Suzanne Farrar, Plymouth, who taught in the Huron Valley system last year, fifth and sixth grades at Shiloh, salary schedule; Tildon Howard, fifth and sixth grades at Shiloh, salary schedule; Harold Davenport, music instructor, Plymouth, $4,865 annually; Robert Perez, Plymouth, Spanish and Latin teacher here last year, same subjects in high school, $3,860 annually; Elizabeth Grimes, high school English, $4,000 annually; Mrs. Max Smith, Plymouth route 1, fourth grade at Shiloh, $3,000 annually;

Mrs. Moss Rutan, Plymouth, second grade at Plymouth, $3,600 annually;

WILLARD DAIRY'S BID TO FURNISH MILK in glass containers for the cafeteria was accepted.

Cafeteria meals were set at 25 cents for elementary pupils, 30 cents for high school pupils, 35 cents for adults.

Donald Barnes, Shiloh, and Quentin Beam and Thomas Meiser, Plymouth, were hired as bus drivers at a basic salary of $100 monthly. Meiser said Monday he would decline the appointment.

Tuition rates for pupils sent into the district were set at $12.71 monthly.

Bids will be sought from insurance agents for an omnibus policy to cover all requirements of the school system, the board announced. Separate bids will be sought for bus coverage.

Coach disappointed as only 32 report

In what Coach Lew Petit described yesterday as "a most disappointing turnout," Plymouth gained their 1958 drills in Mary Faye park.

Eleven letters from last season's in-and-out squad that won four, lost four and tied one reported for the first whistle.

They were Bill Strine, Dayton Reed, Dennis McGinnis, Jim Wasserman, Duane Utiss, Dick Akers, Douglas McQuate, Mike DeWitt, Tom Myers, Duane Baker and Dan Carter.

ONLY THREE ASPIRANTS from the vaulted Shiloh area, Dick Bookwalter, Steve Paterson and Jim Russell, answered the call.

But Petit and his aides, Bill Flaherty and Larry Root, were plainly impressed with Bookwalter.

Dick Fidler, letterman whose candidacy was highly regarded by the coaching staff, decline to report. He said he had plenty of bench-sitting left season.

Bill Taylor, regarded by the staff as a suitable successor to said football bores him and he was advised not to report.

Warriors to play four home games

With Board of Education approval of the "Warrior" nickname, Plymouth High school's gridlers will play this schedule:

Sept. 1—North Central conference pre-view here.

Sept. 12—Gibsonburg, here

Sept. 20—Black River, there

Sept. 26—Seville, there

Oct. 3—Lodi, here

Oct. 11—Milan, there

Oct. 17—Westfield, at Lodi

Oct. 25—Townsend-Wakeman

there

Oct. 31—Berlin Heights, here

Nov. 7—Butler, here

All save the Gibsonburg and the Butler contests will be conference games. Afternoon contests—those at Black River (contests—those at Spencer, Sullivan, Homerville and Huntington), Milan and Townsend-Wakeman—will be played at 2:30 p.m. The Westfield game will be played at 8:30 p.m. EDST.

Pvt. Baker finishes his basic training

Pvt. Donald H. Baker, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Paul Baker, 53 Mills avenue, recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Fort Riley, Kan.

While at the school, he was employed in civilian life by the Pioneer Rubber Co., Willard.

The Walter Dawsons spent Harrison, Ind., as guests of Capt. and Mrs. Howard Williams. Their daughter, Margaret, who has been vacationing with the Williams family, returned home with them.

The Frank Wyckoffs of Clarksburg, W. Va., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rich, Uppdale road.

The Harry Gleasons and Mrs. W. J. Woert of Wickliffe visited the Floyd B. Carters and the Roy Carters Sunday.

Kindergartners get new teacher

Tutor of more kindergartners than she can count, Mrs. H. H. Fackler has laid down her duties as Plymouth's kindergartenmeister.

Mrs. J. Harold Cashman will assume the duties commencing with the fall term.

AFTERNOON CLASS FOR five-year-olds, is filled, Mrs. Cashman announces. It will take up at 1 p.m. and let out at 3 p.m.

Morning class, for four-year-olds, is not yet filled. Mothers desiring to enroll their children in this class may call Mrs. Cashman at her home.

Shiloh gets tax $$, issues call for aspirin

Until Mrs. Joseph J. Cihla, clerk of Shiloh, can go back over 20 years of village records to ascertain Shiloh amounts paid to perhaps 50 different employees of the town in that period, Shiloh won't get its accounts straightened out.

Officials of the state public employees' retirement fund told Solicitor Robert Ross last week that Shiloh must furnish the data upon which the state fund can base its computations as to what Shiloh owes.

IN THE MEANTIME, under the provisions of a law approved by the last legislature, the state office insisted that the village can't touch a dime of its real estate tax money.

Not so, said Prosecutor Theodore Lutz. It's only necessary to hold back what's due. But how much is it?

Cut-off date set by the state authorities: July 1, 1938. Mrs. Cihla's task: search the records since then, set down the name and amount of pay earned by each employee of the village, whether regular or part-time, and forward the tabulation to Columbus.

So far as her records indicate, Mrs. Cihla said Monday night, Shiloh has never paid its share of the employer-employee contribution for retirement.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS: the employer pays a flat fee of $5 to join the retirement system, then contributes six per cent of his gross pay to the fund.

The employer — in this case, the village — "matches" that figure. Actually, it's a little more than six per cent, because certain administrative cost are fobbed off on the employer.

As of now, the state demands 7.31 per cent (6.2 per cent for service retirement, 1.05 per cent for survivors' benefits, .06 per cent for cost of living adjustment).

It's collectable twice annually, in July and January. Ordinarily, the state bills the municipality. Mrs. Cihla, whose father, H. B. Miller, was clerk for many years, says she has never seen a bill, would have paid it if she had.

ARGUMENT OF THE STATE authorities: failure to receive a bill is no excuse for not paying the contribution. Neither is ignorance of the law.

And, to add insult to injury, the attorney-general holds that deductions of part-time employees must be paid in, and matched by the village.

Uproset of the whole mess Shiloh won't get all its money, formally until it comes up with a report from which the state can compute what's due.

And, assuming no record of payments since July 1, 1938, can be found, the village will be liable for an assessment of roughly six per cent, estimated to be $7,500, of what it had paid in labor costs over two decades in the event employees of the period 1938-1953 wish to "buy" that retirement protection. In any event, the village is liable for a fourth of that, because payments into the fund became compulsory in 1953.

Boys do as bade in '05: put in paper

If the Josephine Gilmore who was 13 years old on May 30, 1905, will call on a young man at 78 Plymouth street, she can have a memento she left for posterity in a three-inch blown glass bottle on that date.

Young Chip Paddock, armed with flashlight and a boy's curiosity, was seeking Monday for boards to make a soap box racer beneath the uncellared portion of the house occupied by the Ralph Hunts at 17 Mills avenue.

His companion was his playmate, Nicholas L. Hunt. They found the bottle, and when they had extracted its contents, they had a card which tore down the middle during the maneuver.

Fetched up, the card reads: "Josephine Gilmore, May 30, 1905"

If found please put in my paper. I am 13 years old. My folks are Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Gilmore."

Inquiries by young Paddock's mother were fruitful on the first call.

"Only Josephine Gilmore I know of," said Mrs. Harry Dick, who was born and raised here and has always lived in Plymouth, "is now Mrs. James Schreck."

Mrs. Schreck is at this summer cottage on Lake Erie, but her husband cheerfully confirmed the identity of the young Josephine whose childish prank 53 years ago delighted two inquisitive youngsters on an otherwise routine day this week.

And the boys did exactly as, young Miss Gilmore asked—they put it in the paper!

Storm sewer complaints swamp council, which proceeds warily

Rain storms which overflow into rain closets which overflow into storm basements two weeks ago developed into verbal storms before the village council Tuesday night.

Most of the session was devoted to discussions of storm sewer problems and what to do about them.

BASICALLY, THE COUNCIL said, storm sewers are over-taxed because of improvements to streets which causes water to run off faster and because more outlets are flowing into the tiles.

And to give relief at village expense to one sufferer would establish a precedent that would bring tumult upon the council's head.

So, the council told a group of businessmen who petitioned verbally for relief of the condition which results in flooded basements in East Main street, private financial participation is essential.

THE GROUP — E. B. MILLER, G. W. Caywood, and Donald Willett — did not demur at this suggestion but advanced two arguments:

1. The present condition did not obtain when the old Tourist inn was standing and Spring street was unpaved; therefore, the over-taxed condition of the storm sewer which begins in the rear of Millers' Hardware must be the fault of the village.

2. If the cause of the overflow of the sewer lies east of Porter street, additional tile will have to be laid from that point to the Huron river. In any event, more data are required before any decision can be taken.

the council said, then voted unanimously to engage Arthur Burras, North Fairfield surveyor, to study the situation and make recommendations.

MEANWHILE ASSISTANCE of Richland county commissioners will be sought to relieve surface water flow in Trux street east of the railroad.

And, finally, A. L. Chandler, 170 Nichols avenue, was invited to come before the council at its next meeting to suggest how his situation may be relieved.

Mrs. Bly loses father, Marion Charles, 85; funeral service set today at Bellville

Father of Mrs. Nina Bly, Ganges, Marion D. Charles, 85, died Monday at his home in Bellville.

He is also survived by his wife, Wanda; another daughter, Mrs. Jessie Palmer of Bellville; a step-son, Harold Hershey, Attica, and two stepdaughters, Mrs. Francis McFarland and Mrs. Ruth Schmitke, both of Mansfield. There are two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at the Church of Christ Bellville. Burial will be in Bellville cemetery.

Shelby unkind to Plymouthites

A Plymouth woman is proof positive that not every encounter with the police is one of error or by the citizen.

Mrs. Charles Pugh, 143 West Broadway, drove to Shelby Sunday. At 5:38 p.m. her Chevrolet sedan was struck by the Shelby police cruiser, driven by Patrolman Ronald Humphrey.

The patrolman was backing the cruiser in Central avenue, did not see the Pugh machine and collided with it. The rear fender was scratched and some chrome trim pulled loose.

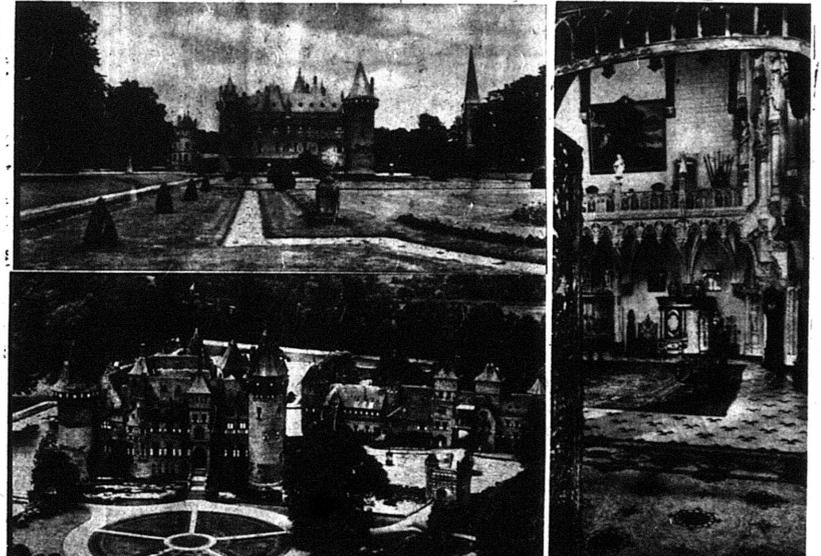

Frank Fenner, Plymouth route 1, is another local driver who has a sad tale to tell about Shelby.

At 4:20 p.m. Sunday he was struck by a car which in turn had been struck by another.

Damage to the Fenner vehicle: rear bumper, tail light.

Damage to his dignity as a safe driver: considerable. He told police he had halted to wait for a traffic light to change when he was struck.

Mrs. G. A. Carlier fell into a hole in East Main street Tuesday and sprained an ankle. A doctor treated her.

BUILT IN 1070, De Haar castle was restored 1890-1910. It has 45 bedrooms, 45 baths, four drawbridges and a magnificent collection of great Dutch artists. Hals, Holbein, Rembrandt, ver Meer and van Gogh are represented. Some hang in great entrance hall, shown at right. South side of castle is in upper pic, showing private chapel (spired edifice at right). In lower photo is general panorama of front of castle.

Mrs. Whitney, son sampling art, culture of Dutch

By Air Mail from Holland House guests of Baron Egmont von Zuylen at Vleuten, The Netherlands, Mrs. Eleanor Searle Whitney and her son, Searle, are absorbing the artistic traditions of that country this summer.

Mrs. Whitney says she has been particularly impressed with the brilliant war record of the Dutch. "I've met many heroes who were in the Resistance, were captured, escaped, caught, tortured and had legs torn off. race."

Used to high-density automobile traffic, the Whitneys are struck by an equally pestiferous bicycle traffic in The Netherlands.

"There are thousands of bicycles, and two to four on each".

New London sets midget racers for Labor day fete

Feature of the New London Labor day celebration will be quarter midget racing by members of the Lorain Buckeye Quarter Midget association.

Some 30 racers, driven by boys and girls between five and fifteen, will appear. The midgets will present a two-hour show starting at 5:30 p.m.

The Lorain association, one of six in the state, is affiliated with the Lorain Youth center. A fireworks display will climax the annual New London Homecoming and Labor day celebration.

Activities commence on Saturday evening before Labor day with a baseball game under the lights at Recreation park.

SUNDAY SCHEDULE OF EVENTS starts at 2 p.m. with a baseball game between the 12-year-old players of Elyria West and New London. At 6:30 p.m. an exhibition by the New London Future Horsemen will take place.

This newly organized group of youths will drill its mounts. Sunday feature will be the horse show. This starts at 7 p.m. and is a Central Ohio point show. Fourteen classes will show. Trophies will be presented by Miss Mansfield of 1958, recent runner-up in the Miss Ohio contest. Monday program will feature a horse-pulling contest at 10 a.m. At 11 a.m. and at 1 p.m. a Little league exhibition game will be played.

At 4:30 p.m. the New London High school band will present a concert.

Midget race and the fireworks will follow the band performance. Nolan show will appear on the midway with rides and contests. Plenty of home-cooked food will be available and the picnic area is expected to be filled. The playground with new equipment secured since last year will also be open.

All proceeds from the celebration are used for the operation of the village park.

"You know a good doctor for this?"

It's a question we answer all the time. Sometimes it's someone new in the neighborhood. Sometimes it's an old friend who just doesn't happen to have a family physician. The boy sprains an ankle... the lady runs a temperature... Grandma has a bad cough. Troubled people often turn to us for help, and rightly so. We work closely with physicians, providing the medicines they prescribe and use in their offices. We know who they are, their specialties, their office hours. In an emergency we're good people to ask. And we're always happy to be of service to our friends and patrons.

Best way to slay a tiger: look him in the eye, don't give any ground

News that a grant of $350,000 in state building aid would be approved for Plymouth district just about kills, in our opinion, any chance of approval of the plan to transfer Plymouth district across the Huron line.

A blind man could see that it's false economy. Why spend $350,000 of state moneys for a job that can be done with half that? An enlarged Huron Valley district would need only slightly more than $175,000 in state building aid.

Home rule is a fine thing, and we stand four-square behind it. But there are some instances where it can be carried too far, and if the electorate should vote to defeat the transfer across the county line, we would have a handsome example of that.

One precept of home rule it that the doctrine of representative government shall apply to the lowest echelon. The patron of the school district has a right to expect that representative government shall be carried out in the board of education.

Some members of the present board have privately expressed to us the desire to "get the tiger off our backs", i. e., to obtain the opinion of the people without risking further criticism by sticking its neck out.

We deplore this attitude. The board went on record as favoring the transfer to Huron county, yet it is not visibly doing anything to foster that plan. Meanwhile, others who covet the Huron Valley district are engaging in a quiet sort of salesmanship that is bound to produce results unfavorable to the board's scheme.

It is time the local board got out and did something. Some electioneering — and that is not a bad word — needs to be done.

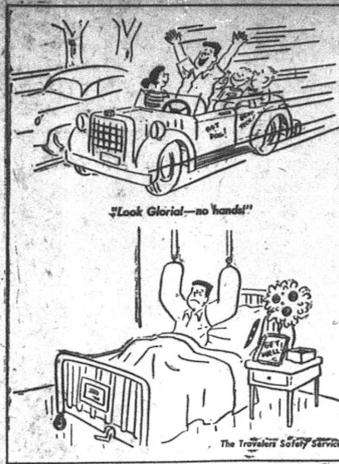

The public should be told how the board plans to operate the schools if the transfer is defeated. Already it asks for three mills of additional money and there is still no plan to increase teacher salaries so that we don't need to engage in this mid-August rat race for teachers whom others may have passed over.

There are these facts that we will stand by:

1. Transfer to Huron county will afford us an opportunity to give better education to our boys and girls for less money.

2. Transfer to Huron county will enable us to raise educational standards in vital fields faster, simpler and more effectively.

If there are those who would dispute these facts, let them come forward with argument. These columns are open to them.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir:

Socialism is a natural phenomenon which tends to follow the path of human weakness, much as electricity follows a path of least resistance.

In the situation of only one person on a "desert isle", little if any resistance or limit on self expression is required, whereas, two people on the same isle would cause a situation of some restraint on the part of each individual. Any increase of inhabitants on the isle would proportionately induce a situation of more restraint for each individual concerned.

World population has been increasing through the centuries.

The restraint required will be either self-imposed (self control) or imposed from without by a form of centralized government. The stronger the self imposed control, the less control required by a government; consequently, the less dominant is the government over the individual.

The self-imposed control may manifest itself in a strong sense of individual responsibility such as responsibility for family, community, etc. Such people usually have a strong altruistic purpose in themselves (i.e. ego-centric) find little room for any true form of civic responsibility.

Irresponsible and lazy individuals who do not assume responsibility for either family or government naturally provide a path of least resistance for a strong, extremely centralized government known as socialism (one form is communism) where ownership and control of all property (in some cases including individuals) is at the disposal of the government.

Such government inevitably become bureaucratic by virtue of human weakness of those in power. Injustice and suppressed freedom subsequently prevail.

A moderate balance of government versus individual responsibility is most desirable such as found in a representative government or democracy. A democracy is more difficult to administer (more work), but more people are benefactors in freedom and justice.

The object, therefore, is a continuous struggle against the basic weakness or fault of humanity. This struggle can only be accomplished which must extend beyond the intermediate purpose of this world to the Infinite Purpose of the "Honor and glory of God"

The handwriting is now on the wall. For many years certain writers have compared our present day civilization with that of old Rome in its years of decline. They claim we are on the same path.

We just might be, but wouldn't you know? Some enterprising souls are making a mint on it while their customers seem to enjoy it to the end of the last morsel.

JUST LATELY, A NEW restaurant has opened in New York City called The Forum of the Twelve Caesars. It's main attraction is foods which were popular with the ladies and gentlemen who lived in Rome several thousand years ago.

They must have combed history books for the old recipes. They serve a number of tasty dishes, including pink flamingo and peacock. The peacock takes three days to get ready and will cost $160 without the tip for coffee.

The most popular dish, though, isn't so Roman. In fact, it's a good old hitting party affair — ringnecked pheasant. They put a new twist on it which should work for the ordinary cook. It is baked in a covering of clay. It's the same as chicken or turkey in a casing of dough, which will hold in the juices. Only with dough you don't need a sledgehammer to open it.

FOR THOSE WHO MUST scrounge a little for their daily bread, first you need a stream with trout. After you have caught the things, you can start to cook. Take four fish about 12 inches long, clean and remove heads. Place in four cups of cold water and bring to a gentle simmer. Continue cooking for ten minutes. Remove from water, bone and skin, set fish aside in a little broth, and strain the remaining broth. Add four medium sized potatoes, thinly sliced, one large onion, two stalks of celery, two medium size carrots, all this cut up in small pieces. Add this to broth along with eight slices of lightly fried bacon. Simmer until all is tender. Then add trout, a little salt and pepper, and four cups of milk. Bring to a boil and serve.

The more I think about this recipe, the more I think that most any edible fish would work just as well. Someday we might try it, if someone will bring home, some fish. Stomachs must be fed, and I am great believer in feeding the mind, too. It has a tendency to keep one young in thought and make life much more interesting. So, we will delve into politics again.

The last time I took a fling at it, I was soundly clobbered. I'll take my chances again. I suspect some may remember Joseph P. McCarthy, who had terrific television rating for quite some time, as junior senator from Wisconsin. He is no longer with us, although his shadow still has a glimmer. In the August issue of Esquire a very fine article has been written by Richard Rovere about his last days.

It is well thought out, very well written, and should be of the utmost interest to those who liked and disliked Joe.

Suzie sez

I hear a lot of people called up the mayor and the clerk when the water got so high last week.

The rain was so heavy it would have clogged any pipe ever built.

Pop says he never saw it so high.

They will probably call a meeting to confer about it. A conference is where people talk about what they should do — they are doing.

If the water is high one time, it is God's doing. If it is high in the same place more than once, it is man's undoing — and his fault.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO yesterday a boy called "Yes, We Have No Bananas" was the No. 1 hit of the whole country.

I made Pop sing it for me. If it didn't sound any better than he sang it, I can't see why it was so popular.

A BOY AWAY AT SCHOOL spent his money faster than he got it from home. He kept looking for ways to get more money from his folks.

Finally, he decided to send a tricky letter to his Dad. This is what he wrote:

"Dear Dad—Gue$$ what I need most of all? That's right. Please send it along soon. Best wishes and lots of love. Your hopeful son, George."

The father wrote back: "Now that was quite a tricky letter you wrote. I've seen Nothing exactly like it since I went to college. None of us here would have written the age of six and 12 who is a resident of Ohio in another letter soon. Now I must close, Dad."

HENRY WARD BEECHER, says Pop, was a preacher. He lived from 1813 to 1887 and was the brother of Harriet Beecher Stowe, who wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Anyway, here is what the preacher said about rain. Clip this out and hand it to anybody who complains about the wet weather.

A good summer storm is a rain of riches. If gold and silver rattled down from the clouds they could hardly enrich the land so much as soft, long rains. Every drop is silver: going to the mint. The roots are machinery, and catching the willow drops, they array them, refining them, roll them, stamp them and turn them out coined berries, apples, grapes and grapes.

When the heavens send clouds and they bank up the horizon, be sure they have hidden gold in them. All the mountains of California are not so rich as are the soft mines of heaven, that send down treasure upon man without taking him, and pour riches upon his field without spade or pickaxe — without his search or notice.

We'll let it rain, then! No matter if the journey is delayed, the picnic spoiled, the shirt discolored. Blessed be rain — and rain in summer. And blessed be He who warreth the earth and enricheth it for man and beast.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

In 1791, there were practically no native Ohioans except the Indians who were born in the Ohio Country.

That was the year that a tall young Virginian entered the United States Army at Fort Washington in the village of Cincinnati and became an aide-de-camp to General Anthony Wayne in his campaign against the Indians along the western frontier.

This young army officer, named William Henry Harrison, was born at Berkeley, Virginia, in 1773, and studied at Hampden-Sydney College, Berkeley or Harrison's Landing on the James River, General Harrison's birthplace, was used as a hospital with General George B. McClellan's headquarters tents in its front Warning up for the annual Belmont Swirling Contest at the Ohio State Fair, this pretty Ohio miss shows off her swirling technique.

The glint of sunlight on rapidly whirling batons and a steady parade of flashy satin uniforms will provide a colorful background for the ninth annual Belmont Swirling Contest at the Ohio State Fair.

The contest will be held Aug. 22-24 with entries closing at midnight of Aug. 1. The Fair is Aug. 22-29 at the Fairgrounds in Columbus.

D. Robert Jones, fair manager, said that any boy or girl between the ages of six and 18 who is a resident of Ohio may enter the contest. Entries, he added, must be made by the deadline which can be obtained from all high school music directors, county, associate and home economic agents. Additional blanks may be obtained by writing to Jones in care of the Fairgrounds, Columbus 3, Ohio.

Individual competition will be in senior, intermediate and junior classes. There will also be team competition.

Five trophies and an award will be presented to competition winners and consolation awards to runners-up in three classes. Jones said admission tickets will be forwarded to all contestants at the time they are notified to appear. The contests will be held adjacent to the Little Theater at the southeast corner of the Fairgrounds. Dressing rooms will be provided.

Jury hears issues in $5,000 suit filed by New Havenite

Issues in a $5,000 damage suit filed by a New Haven township woman, alleging physical injury in an attack by two Willard rural residents, were heard by a Huron county common pleas court jury Friday.

Complaint is Mrs. Atlas Léster, who alleges she was set upon in her driveway on Nov. 23, 1957, by Vana M. Williamson and Jean Mann, was kicked, beaten with a stick, a broom and their fists. She said she was treated by her physician for injuries received and now seeks financial redress.

Richard D. Irvin, 18, Route 61, was fined $200 and costs by Willard Mayor Kenneth Thornton on an assault and battery charge. On a charge of disturbing the peace, he paid another $50 and costs.

Arrest was by Willard police.

RESPECT YOUR DOG'S PRIVACY

By Bob Bartos
Prominent Dog Authority

Dogs have their ups and downs just like humans, and when the downs hit they like to get off by themselves. That's one reason why it's so important for every dog from the minute he steps into your home as a puppy, to have a bed of his own. If he's to live indoors, it belongs in an out-of-the-way, draftless corner. If he lives outdoors, he should be provided with a well-protected and well-insulated house.

It will be in either of these pre-selected spots that the puppy will spend long hours of sleeping . . . for puppies, like babies, need lots and lots of, undisturbed sleep.

It will be to his bed or house that the young dog will retire after a scolding.

The middle-aged fellow will use his retreat when he's feeling blue—and dogs do get blue at times. He'll also spend time there when he's not feeling up to par.

The old fellow, like the puppy, will probably spend most of his hours here sleeping—happily dreaming about the rabbits he used to chase or the big meals he used to eat before he got overweight.

Humans must learn to respect their pet's privacy. When he's in bed, treat him as you would a person who's hung a "Do Not Disturb" sign on his door.

$910,000 bid low for Shelby hospital, approval expected

A bid of $910,000 by Friebe, Hartman, Shelby contractors, was the lowest received for new Shelby Memorial hospital.

The local contractors' bid was $22,995 below the lowest. The bid also carried a completion date of Mar. 5, 1960.

Low bidder for the mechanical work was C. P. Wright Co., Cleveland, $405,000 Richland Electric, $118,499 bid for electrical work.

Total low bids are $1,433,499. A sum of $1,230,270 has been contributed and pledged to the fund to increase the size of the hospital from 55 beds to 82 and add working facilities and equipment.

A Hill-Burton grant of $614,000 has been approved for the work by the U. S. Public Health Service. The Hill-Burton Act provides $1 of federal money to every $2 raised locally.

It is expected that bids will be accepted this week.

Richland county is $19,717.60 richer this week by the payment of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad's property tax for the second half of 1957. The railroad has paid a total of $39,400 in taxes in the county for the year.

The complete tax bill for the B. & O. was $5 million over its net income. A total of $29 million was paid out.

219 years of Feichtner brothers married 151 of them

Charles Feichtner is the junior member of an imposing family of three sons who total 219 years in age and 151 years of marriage.

With his now invalid wife, Charles Feichtner lives on a 130-acre farm at the south edge of the second township in Ohio that's five miles square.

THE FEICHTNER FARM, their home for 11 years now, lies in Town Line road northwest of New Haven. Since it's in the north side of the road, it lies in Greenfield township.

Save for Mrs. Feichtner's frail health, God has been good to the Feichtners this year.

"We had a good oats crop, a good wheat harvest and our corn looks very good," says Charley Feichtner. "Now the potatoes, because of all this rain, are not going to be so good—they're rotting before they're ready to dig. And that clover field, those four acres, I've sold by another clap for hay, because there won't be any seed. He's going to cut and make the hay himself and pay me."

AFTER 71 YEARS, CHARLEY Feichtner says he ought to know something about farming in Huron county. But there's one factor that frankly "buffaloes" him—it's how a farmer makes out on only 50 acres.

"There're some that do, but I don't yet see how, because in my opinion it's not possible," says the veteran farmer.

And he has some pretty solid research to go on. His elder brother, John, now rising 75, farms in Greenfield township almost around the corner from Charles. His nephews farm right across the road. The Feichtners swap information, equipment and ideas. They ought to know what they're talking about.

The record of 219 years in age and 151 years of marriage comes about this way:

John 75; Albert, now retired, for many years a resident of Plymouth, just turned 73; Charles, 71.

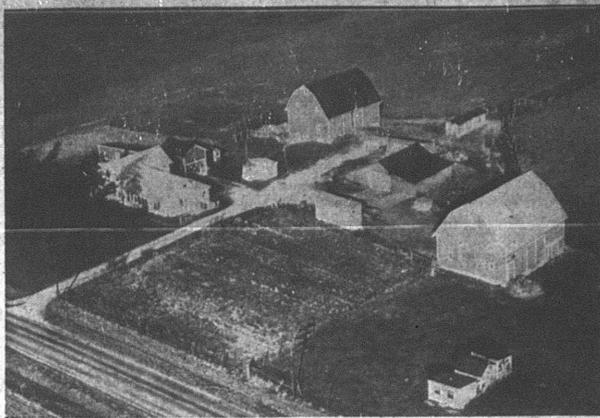

John and Albert, married the same day, marked their golden wedding anniversaries two years ago. Charley waited until 1911.

THE CREW-CUT GEORGE Gobel would say, "they don't hardly make that kind no more."

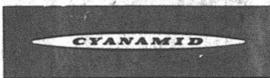

To which the Feichtners' many friends and neighbors can only nod agreement.

Linda Wilson becomes bride of Darrell Pfirsch at New Haven

Miss Linda Wilson became the bride of Darrell Pfirsch in an afternoon ceremony Aug. 10 in the New Haven Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, New Haven, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pfirsch, London road.

Mrs. Coy Hillis, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Chapman at the church organ, sang two songs, "I Believe" and "The Lord's Prayer."

TO THE STRAINS OF THE traditional wedding march played by Mrs. Chapman, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Bouquets of pink and white gladioli and carnations were on either side of the chancel, which was lighted by candelabra. The Rev. Lyman Smith of Greenwich read the vows.

The bride wore a gown of white lace over taffeta. The full skirt fell in graceful folds to the floor. The fitted bodice was designed with a short V neckline and long lace sleeves ended in points at her wrists. Her only jewelry was a short string of pearls. A full veil of illusion lace was attached to a small white crown. She carried an arrangement of a white orchid with white streamers on a white Bible.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Ruth Pfirsch, was her only attendant. She wore a floor length gown of pink chiffon over taffeta. The full skirt fell over a hoop.

Small cap sleeves extended from a low scalloped neckline. Miss Pfirsch wore a small white hat covered with sequins, short white gloves, and carried a round bouquet of pink carnations.

Both gowns were made by the bride and her maid of honor.

LEON WILSON, THE BRIDE'S brother, was Mr. Pfirsch's best man. Ushers were Donald Wilson, a brother of the bride, and Russell Edginton of Bucyrus, the bridegroom's nephew.

Mrs. Wilson wore a short sleeved silver grey afternoon dress fashioned with a straight skirt. She wore a small rose colored hat and a corsage of pink carnations pinned to the shoulder of her dress. The bridegroom's mother chose a tailored navy blue dress with white accessories. She also wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A RECEPTION WAS HELD in the church rooms immediately after the ceremony. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the table appointments and bouquets.

Miss Martha Wilson presided at the guest book. Soon after the young couple cut the first piece of cake, Mrs. Robert Dale took over. Others who assisted were Mrs. Hillis, Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. Gaylord McCullough, Mrs. Edward Overacker, Mrs. Foster Smith, Mrs. Lee Buckingham, and Mrs. Lewis Lybarger.

The Pfirsches are at home in New Haven where he is farming. He attended Plymouth High school and served two years in the Army, part of the time in Korea. Mr. Pfirsch is a graduate of New Haven High school with the class of 1957.

New Member Joins Fair Board

Mrs. Phyllis McClure of Loudonville, Ohio, is the newest member of the State Board of Agriculture. She is in charge of music, arts and crafts at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus August 27-30.

Fair board sets new gate policy: family price $2.50

A new policy regarding membership tickets in the Huron County Agricultural society, operating board of the annual fair, has been announced.

One membership ticket will entitle the buyer to full admission to the five days of the fair and will also include his wife and all children under 12 years of age.

Thus a ticket which sells for $2.50 could mean that his total admission expenditure is less than half of the normal cost.

It also gives him voting privileges in electing officers, who actually run the fair.

Membership tickets can be bought at the fair office, located at the Fairgrounds in Norwalk, or from Carl V. Ellis, village clerk.

The fair opens Tuesday, Sept. 9, and continues through Saturday, Sept. 13.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Turson Aug. 5 in Willard Municipal hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crisp became the parents of a daughter Aug. 6. A son was born to the Charles Tackett, New Haven, Aug. 10.
