

Flood waters wash Shelby, village, but no severe damage thank God

Ohio's worst flood since 1913, possibly the most severe in its history, struck a score of cities and villages but mercifully avoided Plymouth.

Eight households in Trux street required the fire department's pumper to dry out. Most severely flooded was the house owned by Paul Koonz and occupied by the Frederick Kennels, beside the brook in Trux street.

DOWNSTREAM, HIGH waters flooded the property of John F. Stambaugh and threatened to inundate the first floor of the Stambaugh's internationally celebrated (because it is designed on the covered bridge theme) house beside the quarry pool.

Carpets were lifted to save them from damage.

Some dwellings in Bell street and at least one in Plymouth street — that of Milton E. Mellott at the corner of Mills avenue — had water in their basements. The Fred Rosses in Bell street needed assistance to pump water away from the furnace.

Although Route 61 north of the village was awash in some places, traffic to Willard and the west was never interrupted. Nor, save for a few minutes, was traffic east of New Haven to Greenwich interrupted.

ROUTE 61 SOUTH to Shelby was blocked by high water. So was Bowman Street south of Route 178. Access to Shelby and Mansfield was interrupted at about 1 p.m. Jan. 21 and remained that way for nearly 16 hours.

A deaf woman, Mrs. Harold Davis, 72, 151 East Main street, wife of the former linotypist in The Advertiser, narrowly escaped death late Jan. 21 when her automobile was washed from Route 61 at State Street road. She extricated herself from the car, which was overturned, and swam 30 feet to a tree, to which she clung until help arrived. Her legs and arms and hands were scraped but she was otherwise unharmed save for minor shock.

Mail delivery locally was never halted, but the postal services long standing motto of "Neither rain nor snow nor sleet nor dark of night shall stay these carriers from their appointed rounds" took a bad beating.

The regular delivery between Mt. Vernon and Willard, operated by Robert Chapman, couldn't be effected for two days. A heavy receipt of incoming mail was recorded by Plymouth post office early Friday and delivery thereof effected during the day.

Plymouth's civil defense platoon was called into action at Shelby Jan. 21 and Thursday and remained on call over the weekend for possible service at Fremont and Vermilion.

Public schools did not operate Jan. 21, Thursday or Friday. They resumed Monday morning. Shiloh Junior High school pupils were dismissed early on Jan. 20.

HIGH WATER IN WILLET road, first road in Cass township, still makes pond in low spot. This prevented ready access by fire apparatus during Sexton fire Monday. Cass township trustees are in same boat (no pun intended) as Plymouth township fathers, who had to put 36 tons of crushed stone on roads merely to replace what was washed away. East Main street was genuinely awash for first time since 1913, old timers say. For more on flood story, see page 4 today.

Plymouth failed to 'care for own'

Average Plymouth contribution to the March of Dimes over a period of 15 years is 19 cents. Huron county directors of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reported this week.

Calculations over the period; $4,675.17.

Cost of caring for four Plymouth residents stricken by the disease: $6,131.90.

Amount by which Plymouth was deficient in "taking care of its own": $1,456.73.

Plymouth was transferred to the Huron county jurisdiction in 1940.

CONTRIBUTIONS LOCAL this year, solicited formally by the auxiliary of Ehret-Parrel Post, American Legion, directed by Mrs. Samuel Robertson, have not been totalled "because the drive ends this week."

"We hope we have done as well as last year," the drive managers said this week. "We have a big job to do. In our jurisdiction, we have sent 585 persons to City hospital in Cleveland as suspected polio cases. A total of 270 were positive. We contributed toward the cost of the care of each of these patients."

Final word for the week: "Get your Salk shots as soon as you can."

IN-AGAIN-OUT-AGAIN-FINEGAN

What a week! but Advertiser made it!

The Advertiser appears today by the grace of God, a loyal staff and a long-handed spoon!

It all started Monday at 7 a.m. To accommodate an advertiser who wished early proofs, the staff reported an hour early. Reduced gas pressure had failed to provide enough heat to melt lead in the line-casting machines. Result: "we can't cast a line, boss!"

Notified by Ohio Fuel Gas Co. that service wouldn't be restored until later in the day, the publisher sent his staff home to sleep, with a call to return Monday night.

SHORTLY THEREAFTER, power failure knocked out The Advertiser's engraver. Result: service for three newspapers whose engravings are prepared in The Advertiser was stopped.

Mrs. Kilgore left 252 descendants

Mother of Mrs. Clay Lacey and William Kilgore, Mrs. Cecilia Kilgore died Jan. 21 at her home in Willard.

She was 91 years old, and the mother of 14 children, of whom seven survive. She also leaves 91 grandchildren and 147 great-grandchildren.

Last rites were conducted Saturday afternoon at the Nazarene church, Willard, by the Rev. E.R. Speckien. Burial was in New Haven cemetery.

Nimmons, McQuate, Gilger made appraisers

Robert Gilger, J. Elden Nimmons and R. Earl McQuate have been appointed appraisers of the estate of Carl M. Lofban. Mr. Gilger is a tenant of the deceased.

tion in the dark room were spoiled.

To top it all off, telephone service became erratic. Interruption of gas service in Plymouth and, to some extent, in Willard prompted many subscribers to use long distance service in search of an explanation. Housewives who couldn't wash clothing apparently chose to talk it over with neighbors. Result: overloaded line, cross-conversation and a general snafu all around.

The Rev. Thomas S. Taylor, pastor of Plymouth-Shiloh Methodist churches, appeared about 11 a.m. to offer divine meditation.

MECHANICS AND MECHANICAL contrivances not having produced results, prayer was resorted to.

Apparently it worked. But so, claim the repair workers of Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and the Board of Public Affairs, did mechanics and mechanical contrivances!

Reed sells plot in Riggs avenue

Harold E. Kissel and others have purchased 1.43 acres in Bloominggrove township from Maurice D. Kissel and others, reports the Richland county recorder.

Worley Reed and others sold .04 acres in Plymouth to Estel M. Winck. The property is situated in Riggs avenue.

Paul E. Bricker and others bought from Mary A. Haun part of lots 1245 and 1247 in Shiloh.

Samuel B. Parrigan and others acquired from Edward Bowman and others part of lot 203 in Shiloh.

The Dean Moses (she is the former Jane Dorion of this place) have bought the house of the Forrest Ellises in Taylortown.

Two families lose homes, effects in fires

The second such fire in four days, attributed to an overheated chimney flue, thrust a family of five into the snowy cold without shelter Monday night.

The frame dwelling on Willett road east of Plymouth, owned by Harold V. Ruckman and occupied by his son-in-law and daughter, the Donald Sextons, was burned to its foundations.

The blaze was discovered by Powell Holderby, who used to live in the house. He traded the property for Ruckman's home at 81 Mulberry street.

Holderby was enroute home from Shiloh. He stopped at the Duane Arnold home to telephone the Sextons, found no one home, and then turned in the alarm.

Plymouth Fire department truck was unable to respond to the call. The civil defense unit reported, but too late to halt the complete destruction of building and contents.

The Sextons are living with relatives until an insurance claim can be adjusted and paid.

Fire which levelled the dwelling of the David Tacketts in Trux street late Thursday was at first thought to have taken human life.

First arrivals at the smouldering structure tried to rescue occupants. This killing, Fire Chief Judson A. Morrison burst the door. He entered the smoke-filled and by now flaming building but could find no one.

Hose laid from the nearest hydrant was brought into play but before its water could be effective the house was a pile of cinders.

Police and neighbors sought to notify the Tacketts, who were reported to have left town to attend a funeral.

The house's location is in rear of Plymouth Block Co.

Mr. Tackett, who works at Westinghouse, Mansfield, on a night shift, was at work. His wife and eight children were attending the wake of her grandmother at Willard.

Regulator freezes, no gas for a day

A frozen regulator west of Plymouth interrupted fuel gas service in the village, and partially in Willard, Monday morning.

Sixteen Ohio Fuel Gas Co. personnel directed by Neil McCarron, Shelby district manager, repaired the break at about 11 a.m. and checked each subscriber in the village before turning on the pressure about 3:15 p.m.

Most business houses, particularly those serving food, closed during the period of interruption.

Public school pupils were dismissed at 11 a.m. because of lack of heat.

Firemen say goodbyes

Plymouth Volunteer Firemen with their wives and families gathered Friday night in the American Legion hall for a dinner in honor of two members who are taking a leave of absence.

Samuel C. Robertson and James Swartz, Shelby Air Force depot employees, were the honored guests.

WHEN KITES APPEAR, can spring be far behind. David McKown, son of Mrs. Wade L. McKown, took his kite out for trial spin Saturday.

morning in St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal church, Shelby. Their paternal grandparents, the Alex Carliers, Bridgeport, stood as godparents for the children.

THE STORK CLUB

A son, Larry Eugene, weighing 9 lbs., 4 oz., was born Jan. 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Compton in Cleveland clinic. Mrs. Compton is the former Jeanette Bettac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bettac.

A son, their second child, was born in Willard Municipal hospital at 8:30 a. m. Thursday to the Donald E. Fidler, of Plymouth.

The hospital beat

Mrs. D. G. Cunningham was released from Willard Municipal hospital after abdominal surgery Sunday and is recuperating at her home.

Helen Ieman, Plymouth route 1, entered the same hospital Jan. 17. Delmar Nesbitt, Shiloh, became a patient there on Jan. 19.

On Jan. 14 Don G. Echelbarger, Lula Tuttle, and Mrs. Marjorie Elmet were released. Mrs. Richard Fox was released Jan. 16 and is at the home of her mother in Celeryville. Mrs. Laura Mayer was released Jan. 17 on Jan. 18 Mrs. Gladys Coffey, Shiloh, was released.

Mrs. Glenn Lybarger underwent surgery Thursday morning at the Cleveland clinic. Her room number is 671.

Personally Speaking

Sandra Heuberger, Mansfield, was a weekend guest of Deborah Jacobs, daughter of the Arthur Jacobses.

Dalton McDougall spent the weekend with his family and returned to Youngstown Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Echelberry and the John Echelberry of Shelby visited with Mrs. Louise Dungan in Tiffin Sunday.

The Alex and George Carliers were Sunday dinner guests of the A. L. Paddocks, Jr., Sunday. Harold Davis, Jr., Shelby, was a Sunday caller there.

The Carl V. Ellises were in Columbus Friday for Mr. Ellis' attendance of the legislative policy committee of the Ohio Municipal league.

Mrs. Stacy C. Brown was a Sunday dinner guest of Miss Donna Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacMichael visited with his father, a patient at Mansfield General hospital where he underwent surgery, Sunday. That evening they were hosts at a surprise birthday party at their home in honor of Mrs. Lawrence Wasserman.

Mr. and Mrs. David Cooper of Shelby visited the Foster Keinaths Saturday night.

The Lowell Keiths entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schiefer of Chatfield Monday.

The William Fetteres of Mt. Vernon spent Sunday at the Luther R. Fetteres. Because their house is located on higher ground, they escaped flood damage.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lesho and children spent the weekend in Cleveland with her sister and brother-in-law, the Gene Haney.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Simmon of Shelby visited the Francis Guthries Saturday. Mr. Guthrie, recovering from surgery, will be confined to his home for another two weeks.

Light cage schedule prompts reflections on controlling rowdy

By THE OLD TIMER

The hassle that all but developed after the Plymouth-Union contest and the outburst at Folk when North Fairfield's Indians played there a few nights ago are symptomatic of conditions throughout the state.

Something has to be done to put a stop to it at once.

The state athletic organization is equipped with the power but seems loathe to use it. Not, at any rate, for the real purpose, which is to keep the game — whether basketball, football, baseball or tiddly-winks — for the schoolboys.

The same state organization has recommended that week night activities of an athletic nature be curtailed. Accordingly, in some vigorous counties, the county school leadership is encouraging schools to eliminate interscholastic contests on other than Friday and Saturday nights.

This, to the O. T.'s way of thinking, is sound business.

BY THE SAME TOKEN, IT may be sound business to schedule interscholastic athletics in the afternoons, in order to keep them for what they are intended — for the schoolboys.

And think not that it's a matter of only one or two towns, in basketball only.

The O. T. has a long list of communities where rowdiness by football fans stretches to molestation on the streets and criminal assault. Only one or two of these incidents reached such proportions as to get headlines of a sensational character. Most of the head writers played along with the sports buffs — don't play it up too much!

But when a high school girl can't proceed to or from a football game in her own town in perfect safety, then it's time to call a halt.

And when a grade school kid stands even a remote chance of being trampled or otherwise abused by attending a high school basketball game, because some hotshots can't or won't control themselves, something's got to be done.

FOR THE USE OF THE squawkers, here's the law:

Paying for a ticket entitles the patron to criticize players coach or official, or all three. It does NOT, however, give him license to incite to riot, to defame or slander, and certainly not to assault physically.

The seller of the ticket reserves the right, whether or not stated explicitly, to expel the patron should his demeanor or not meet with normal standards.

A few conspicuous expellings by some school people, who've got character and this silly business will stop. But not before.

Ohio's strong national position as regards high school gridiron talent took a beating this year.

The all-American high school teams chosen by ballot of 6,266 football critics, including 1,459 daily newspaper sports writers, 891 weekly sports writers, 1,417 radio broadcasters, 702 TV telecasters, 709 high school coaches, 229 prep game officials, 345 high school newspaper writers, omitted any Ohio player from the first team of 13 athletes. End: Bob Vogel, Massillon, made second team choice. So did Tackle Robert Schultz, Columbus.

Halfback John Mumney, Painesville, got third team selection. Quarterback Walter Zing of Alliance fourth team, Guard Julian Trospier of Gallion sixth team and Guard Frank Marek, Cleveland, seventh team.

First string line has an end at 191 and the center at 190. The rest are 200, 201, 240, 220 and 200. First string fullback is Eddie Erdelatz, Jr., Annapolis, Md., St. Mary's High school star. His dad coaches the U. S. Naval academy team.

First team by town of origin: Harrisburg, Pa.; Baton Rouge, La.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Atlantic, Ia.; Racine, Wis.; Cambridge, Mass.; Greenville, Miss.; Colton, Cal.; Wichita Falls, Tex.; Des Moines, Ill.; Memphis, Tenn.; Annapolis, Md., and Oak Ridge, Tenn.

WEBER'S CAFE QUINTEZ leads the Willard City league with five straight wins and no defeats. Jerry's Cash market five has improved, now sports a 3-and-2 record.

ATTEND BIG TEN GAME

G. W. Caywood, Albert Marvin, A. L. Paddock, Jr. and A. L. Paddock, 3rd, watched Ohio down Iowa, Monday night.

Big Red resumes RCL battle at Lucas

With no chance, barring unforeseen defeats of Lexington, to lock up the 1958-59 Richland county league title until Feb. 10, when the Big Red plays a return engagement there, Plymouth's high-flying basketballers resume league action tomorrow at Lucas.

The visitors will be favored by 11 points to wrap this one up.

Saturday, the Big Red steps out of class for the second time this season to meet Madison High school at Mansfield.

ON FORM, THE LOCALS are favored by five.

Should Plymouth hurdle Lucas tomorrow, Ontario on Feb. 6 and Lexington Feb. 10, it'll be odds on to cop the first Plymouth title in 26 seasons.

The schedule hardly favors such an outcome. The Big Red hasn't played under fire since Jan. 16, when Union upset the applicant.

The Butler contest set for Jan. 23, a whole week after the Union battle, was another seven days in advance of the Lucas game.

THERE WAS A WEEK'S interval between the Bellville and Union contests.

Coach Harold Daup has his work cut out to keep shooting eyes honed and floor play sharp.

The Richland county tournament begins at Mansfield Feb.

16. Drawing for position in the tournament will be conducted in the office of County Supt. Dale B. Kinney after the close of the regular season.

It was the 10 th victory of the season for the Big Red, which has lost only two.

Suzie sez

I like "neaties". A "neatie" is a sweetie who won't say hewdy to a rody.

WE COOKED BEANS AT our house Saturday. I always thought beans were used on days when Mom's pocketbook was low.

But Pop knows how to make them so they taste like a million dollars. I watched for a while Saturday, then I had to help.

He calls this dish "cassoulet", which is a French word. And let me tell you, they are just scrumptious!

Here's how he does it—Soak three pounds of navy beans (those little white ones that go dandy in bean shooters) overnight in enough water to cover them.

Then cut up six cloves of garlic, in small pieces about the size of a bee-bee, and mix with three tablespoons of salt. Sprinkle some thyme with it. Then add a quarter of a pound of salt pork (or fat bacon) and five quarts of water.

Simmer for 75 minutes. Don't let them boil, as the beans will burst their skins.

Then broil 1½ pounds of fresh sausage. Drain the grease and use it to brown about one pound of diced pork or lamb.

Put some beans in the bean pot, then put in a layer of sausage and pork (or lamb), then more beans, then more pork (or lamb) and sausage. If you have some leftover chicken or duck or roast goose legs, stick one in the middle. This makes it better but is not really necessary.

Then put in the oven, covering the beans with what Pop calls the "potlicker". Bake for six hours with the oven as low as you can get it.

Pop showed me on one of the menus from his collection that you pay $5 a serving for this in a nifty French restaurant in New York. Especially if you have a salad like pop makes with it.

Show them the Way... this week

A child's trust is a precious thing. Instinctively your little ones rely upon your example... so the pattern you set becomes their pattern, too.

By taking them to worship with you every week they will come to know God... to be at ease with Him... to feel the strength and warmth of His love.

And you will be building the foundation for a richer and happier life for your whole family.

Give them a Faith to live by... Worship with them this week

CAPTAIN WILSON'S HAPPY ACCIDENT

IN 1816, CAPTAIN JAMES WILSON, PROSPECTING FOR SALT BRINE NEAR CHARLESTON, W. VA., ACCIDENTALLY DRILLED THE FIRST NATURAL GAS WELL IN HISTORY. NATURAL GAS WAS THEN A CURIOSITY WHOSE GREAT VALUE WAS STILL UNKNOWN.

TODAY, CLEAN, DEPENDABLE, LOW-COST NATURAL GAS IS AN IMPORTANT ASSET TO ALL OF US WHO LIVE AND WORK HERE IN AMERICA'S ORIGINAL NATURAL GASLAND. ONE-THIRD OF ALL THE NATURAL GAS SOLD FOR HOME USE, AND ONE-FIFTH OF ALL THE COUNTRY'S INDUSTRIAL USERS ARE LOCATED IN THE SEVEN-STATE REGION WHERE THE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM SERVES.

Shiloh girl scores 4.0 at Kent State

A Shiloh girl made 4.0 — straight A's — in academic subjects during the fall quarter in the college of education of Kent State university, Dr. Clayton M. Schindler, dean of the college, reports. She is Audrey M. Keyser, Shiloh route 1, a graduate of Greenview high school. Only 37 students among 714 made straight A's.

Marshal nabs speeder

After driving recklessly through Shiloh Saturday evening Donald Crick, Willard was chased to the outskirts of Plymouth before he was overtaken by Village Marshal Clarence Harris. He will appear in mayor's court tonight.

Marshal Harris has recently moved to West Main street. His new telephone number is TW-1169-3294.

Lottie Bell Spangler of Crestline has filed a petition for divorce from Charles W. Spangler of Lake Galion, charging neglect and cruelty. She seeks restoration to her maiden name, Lottie Bell Malone. The couple was married Nov. 20, 1949 at Ganges.

B. Square club met Thursday with Mrs. Orland Dickerson. Seven members were present. Mrs. Alvin Garrett, Mrs. Maud Ruckman and Mrs. Dale Owens were guests. Program for the coming year was prepared Cheryl Owens, a pupil in Mrs. Wood Arnold's home economics class, gave a talk on fashions. The club will meet in the evening next month at the home of Mrs. Robert Forsythe.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Laser of Shelby, formerly of this place announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Alice, to Dennis Floyd Davis of Shelby. Both are graduates of Shelby High school. Miss Laser is employed by Citizens bank. Her fiancé attended Ohio State university and is employed by Friebe-Hartman, Inc., Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. Lotus Garrett of Cleveland were in Shelby during the weekend to visit the latter's mother, Mrs. Florence Mellick, 88, a patient in Bloom Rest home. Mrs. Mellick's condition remains about the same. The Garretts also visited relatives here.

Relatives enjoyed a dinner Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ruckman. The occasion marked the 10th birthday anniversary of the Ruckman's older son, Thomas. Roland McBride, Mrs. Maud Ruckman, Mrs. Robert Moser and daughter, Pam, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lofland and Mrs. Coletta Shafer.

headed for Shelby, negotiating the eight miles in two hours.

The Reed family in Route 61 was evacuated and the relief crew took over with pumping operations until 7 p.m.

Then the portable pump returned to Plymouth and a crew of three went to assist firemen drying out cellars in Trux street.

THE NEXT DAY, THURSDAY, the pumper and portable pump returned to Shelby to dry cellars of homes and stores so that heating units could be returned to service.

At 10 p.m., its mission accomplished, the crew returned home.

Informated that Plymouth's fire department pumper was inoperable, the CD pumper was assigned as stand-by fire protection here.

The pumper responded twice to fires since Thursday — the Tackett fire in Trux street early Friday morning and the Sexton fire Monday night.

Meanwhile, the entire platoon was alerted at 4 p.m. Saturday for possible duty at Fremont, where the ice-clogged waters of the Sandusky river inundated the city. Two hours later the action order was issued and five man work crew supported by a 15-man relief team in three shifts sped to Fremont for duty.

BY 8 P.M. THE PUMPING operations to which the local platoon could contribute were regarded as "in hand" and the platoon was relieved and secured at 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

"It was a big week for our outfit," Davis said Tuesday. "Not a man shirked his duty or complained of the hardship, and let me tell you, sir, it was cold when the thermometer fell Thursday."

Then he added, "We'd still like to find a permanent home for our equipment."

The three vehicles are stored in a building adjoining the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, belonging to the railroad but leased by Fate-Root-Heath Co.

Civil defense unit puts in a hectic week

It may be hard pressed for a permanent home for its equipment, but Plymouth's 2nd platoon of the 52nd Civil Defense Mobile Support group pays no mind to house-keeping problems when others' houses are in danger.

Last week's flood prompted mobilization of the platoon at 9 a.m. Jan. 21. A portable pump was carried to Celeryville by two men of the platoon and operated until 7 p.m.

At 10 a.m. Mayor Ross Sipes of Shelby requested assistance in the face of rising waters there. The fire pumper and the tank truck were sent there at once, reports James C. Davis, commanding officer of the Plymouth unit.

EQUIPMENT AND CREW stayed on the job until 11:30 p.m. At 4:30 p.m. the rescue truck was back here to load a relief crew. Before heading south, the relief crew rushed to New Haven to evacuate two persons stranded by high water.

Elyria parley aim of local Methodists

About 75 Plymouth and Shiloh Methodists are expected to attend the convocation on evangelism Sunday at the Elyria Methodist church. They will be accompanied by their pastor, the Rev. Thomas S. Taylor.

Speaker at the 7:30 p.m. convocation will be the Rev. Dr. George A. Fallon, president of the Methodist church's council of evangelism. Pastor of the Lakewood Methodist church, he is a member of the national board of evangelism of the church. In 1954 he was a member of a team of four who conducted a preaching tour of Air Force bases in France and Germany during the Lenten season. After the tour, he attended a convocation of Moslems and Christians in Lebanon, the first such meeting held since the ninth century.

The Rev. Dr. Fallon was chosen president of the council of evangelism when it was first organized in 1955. In 1957, he was again elected president of the group.

Heart seizure fatal to Mrs. Contreras

A heart seizure while she was being treated for a diabetic condition took the life of Mrs. Dorothy Jane Contreras, 45-year-old Greenwich interior decorator and gift shop proprietor, in Willard Municipal hospital Jan. 20.

The daughter of the Edward Stauffers, she was born in Greenwich Aug. 11, 1913, and graduated from Greenwich High school.

Her husband, Enrique, co-proprietor of La Fiesta Gift shop, which they had recently remodelled, a sister, Elsie, Greenwich, and a brother, Ried, in Florida, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Joy Wilde, Norwalk, survive.

Burial in North Fairfield cemetery followed last rites Friday.

Hunk(er) comes home from sea — snafu!

A quirk of nature gave James Hunt, son of the Ralph Hunts, an extra weekend of leave from naval duty last week.

A member of the crew of the jet carrier, Intrepid, he was off on a nine-month cruise to the Mediterranean. With no warning to his family that he was coming, his arrival was announced by his young brother, Nick, who looked out the window, and calmly said, "Here comes Jim."

His ship suffered severe damage while refueling in a rough sea, and was able to limp back into the naval base at Portsmouth, Va., for repairs in drydock.

After spending the weekend at home young Hunt reported for duty Monday morning at Virginia Beach, Va.

J. C. Davis to head local Cub Scouts

Local youth averts injury in crash

A 19-year-old Plymouth youth, employee of R. R. Donnelly & Sons, Willard, escaped injury Jan. 17 when the sedan he was driving was struck by a truck driven by a Bemidji, Minn., man.

James Jacobs, 65 Mill street, had halted his car at 5:30 a.m. to make a left turn from Route 224 half a mile east of Willard. Bruce Braseth lost control of his truck and careened into the side of Jacobs' sedan.

Braseth forfeited bond of $25 posted in Willard mayor's court.
