Council orders removal of ramp at new post office

Contractors on the new post office building will be ordered to remove a ramp which altered the grade and the sidewalk in Plymouth street, village council decreed in special session Tuesday night.

On motion of Councilman Elmer E. Markley, the council voted unanimously to instruct Mayor Thurman R. Ford and Clerk Carl V. Ellis to:

1. Serve formally a copy of Section 140 of the Codified Ordinance of the village upon William Biebesheimer & Sons, Toledo, owners of the site.
2. Draw attention to three "flagrant violations of the village code, which are: removal of a sidewalk without permission, alteration of the existing grade and insertion of an inclined plane in lieu of sidewalk."

The council said the plane, which runs westerly from the proposed door to the new post-office to the street, slopes at

Opposition slate pledges more and softer water

Opposition slate of candidates for Board of Public Affairs came out this week with a five-plank platform. "You are with us," the trio said, "if you want better water facilities, softer water, extended water lines, electric heating rates and a good future for Plymouth."

Through its spokesman, Elton Robertson, appliance dealer, the slate said it would stand on these five planks.

Louis Lillo, a contractor, and Jerome Moore, for many years an employee of Fate-Root-Heath Co., are associated with Robertson on the slate.

The candidates made clear "each and every one of us stands for and endorses this platform, which we submit to the voters of Plymouth for their support at the polls."

ASKED TO AMPLIFY THE bare statement, they said:

"Anybody who has any appliance in his home at all, even a bathtub, knows our water is too hard. We think it can be made softer at small expense. "The people in West Broadway, to mention but one place, have needed more water pressure for a long time. The council had to pass an emergency ordinance to get it started and so far as we know, nothing has been done about it yet.

"We know of several persons who wished to build houses in the village and utilize electricity for heating purposes but because there isn't any special rate for such large users, they were forced out of town and into the area served by somebody else.

"The whole water system has been hodge-podge and helter-skelter. A standing policy hasn't been adopted, which is why we have two inch, four-inch, three-quarter-inch lines every which way and nothing standard."

They concluded: "We can't expect to grow in a proper manner unless we have a Hunters laughing at government, but not too hard!

How the government manages its affairs is a joke for the Martin A. (Bert) Hunters of Fenner road.

And it doesn't make much difference which government, either.

When the Hunters paid their real estate taxes this year, they erred by five cents.

To collect the nickel, Richland county tax authorities spent four cents for a stamp and "who knows how much for stationery, envelope and personnel and such" to notify the Hunters.

They paid, but they still don't think "it maase sense to do it that way — they could've added that nickel the next time."

Legion open house caps Hallowe'en Saturday night

Hallowe'en activities got off to a formal start in the Public Square last night at 7:30 when the Community club staged its annual parade and cider and doughnuts to all comers. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes.

They'll be climaxed Saturday when Ehret-Parsel Post, American Legion, stages a public dance in the Legion hall, beginning at 9 p.m. Legionnaires, their wives, and their friends are cordially invited.

Tomorrow, Plymouth's Big Red meets Westfield High school in a North Central conference game in Mary Fate park. Kickoff is at 8 p.m. A Plymouth High school graduate now a senior in Capital University, Besley, will command a special 23-man Air Force close order drill team in a pre-game exhibition. He is Jack E. McQuate, cadet first lieutenant in the AFROTC unit at Capital.

The team will be guests of the McQuates Friday night. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. at the high school by the Plymouth Band Mothers club with Mrs. Roy Carter in charge.

Big turnout of economy-bent voters may jeopardize issues

A strong turnout at Plymouth's two polling places is anticipated by voting officials Tuesday when the village electorate expresses its opinions on:

1. A $125,000 general obligation bond issue to construct a sanitary sewer system, estimated to cost $47.01 per family per year for 25 years.
2. A one mill levy for two years, to finance a new fire engine.
3. A half mill levy for two years, to finance Mary Fate park.
4. Renewal of a one mill levy to finance Greenlawn cemetery.

A $552,000 general obligation bond issue to construct a new elementary center in Shiloh and an addition to Plymouth High school.

At the same time, villagers will choose a mayor, six members of the council, three trustees of the board of public affairs, a clerk and a treasurer.

CONTESTS FOR MAYOR, council and board of public affairs appear on the ballot.

William Fazio, who says he's for a program to attract new industry to Plymouth, seeks to turn out incumbent Thurman R. Ford as mayor.

Four incumbents — Donald E. Akers, John T. Diek, Omar G. Burkett and Elmer E. Markley — seek reelection to the council. Opponents are Donald H. Levering, Mrs. A. L. Paddock, Jr., and Charles Vanadale.

Incumbents George W. Cheesman, Luther R. Fetters and Robert L. McIntire are opposed for reelection to the board of public affairs by Louis Lillo, Jerome Moore and Elton Robertson.

Carl V. Ellis is unopposed for clerk. Mrs. James E. Reynolds is unopposed for treasurer, although election officials haven't yet cleared up an error in printing the ballots.

AS PATRONS OF PLYMOUTH school district, local electors will choose two members from four candidates — Mrs. Miles S. Christian, Mrs. Jesse W. Hamman, Wayne Hunter and Donald P. Markley, who is the only incumbent.

They will also help to choose members of the Richland county board of education. Burdell W. Blaney and Lewis W. Caswell, both unopposed.

Voters residing in New Haven township and Plymouth township may vote for one trustee and a clerk in each case. Unopposed incumbent candidates are Glen R. Evans and Joseph J. Lash in Plymouth township.

SOME VETERAN POLITICAL observers were fearful that a neconomy attitude, encouraged by the steel strike, the phasing out of Shelby Air Force depot and signs the railroads are in increasingly more difficulty, will combine with bitterness over the school bond issue to defeat all of the levies on the ballot. Total amount of fresh money asked is 7.51 mills of which 2.23 is for sewers, 1.0 is for the park, 1.0 is for a fire engine and 3.78 is for the schools.

Approval of all of the issues would raise taxes per household about $52.60 annually. An additional $31.40 annually would be required to finance the balance of expense of the sanitary sewers, making a total of $84 additional annually.

"We have too many voters who're living on pensions or retired incomes who find it hard to cope with inflation and simply can't afford another $84 a year in new taxes, regardless of what benefit they get," the observers said.

They will also help to choose members of the Richland county board of education. Burdell W. Blaney and Lewis W. Caswell, both unopposed.

Voters residing in New Haven township and Plymouth township may vote for one

Fazio opposes buying theatre, asks support of sewer, fire levies asserted.

"A complete review and study of the budget will be strongly encouraged if I am elected," the candidate said.

"The need to approve the sewer levy speaks for itself," Fazio said. "We can never hope to attract more industry to Plymouth without it."

Parking facilities of the village have been a controversial subject, the candidate acknowledged. "I am against installing parking meters, but the current parking regulations will have to be enforced if shoppers are to continue to receive free parking privileges. Too many are taking advantage of the sympathies of the police department and are deliberately defying the regulations." He did not say whether this would entail hiring of another full time policeman.

"Where possible, our problems should be resolved without further burden to the taxpayer," he concluded. "Only if no other alternative can be found should the taxpayer be called upon to shoulder additional burdens. But it behooves all who reside here to respond to the call of duty when it is sounded. Self-sacrifice for better living conditions should not be approached negatively. The sacrifices we make today can't help but reap a dividend of successful and enjoyable livelihood."

two children. A member of the American Association of University Women, she also belongs to Ehret-Parsel Post, American Legion, and to Lodi Chapter, Business & Professional Women. She attends First Presbyterian church and serves as a "grey lady" in Shelby Memorial hospital.

"A little sounder management of the village's funds seems called for," she claimed, "and nobody can cut corners like a woman. Most of the residential property in Plymouth is owned by women, most of the voters are women, and there ought to be a woman representative on the council."

Drill team to perform at game as locals meet Red Raiders

This is the week when they separate the men from the boys.

If Plymouth's Big Red eleven can maintain the level of its enthusiasm against Milan and down Westfield's in-and-out Purple Raiders, who upset Berlin Heights last week, it could very well be a successful season.

But if it can't brother, hold your hats!

Cocher Law Petit is sticking by his players, says they're trying hard and showing some improvement, and while he won't predict a victory over the visitors, he does say "we'll be in there trying and give 'em a good ball game."

Westfield, coached by John J. Racksta, a Slippery Rock graduate, has won three and lost two in league play. Its defeat of Berlin Heights, biggest upset of the year, was less a fluke than the result of inspired play.

Mike Ferrell, in his final year for the Medina county outfit, and Bob Garner are the offensive guns for the Raiders. Lee Jay Davis is the Westfield quarterback, a junior. Ed Graber, a senior, is a stalwart at end.

That this can be the contest which could carry the Big Red to its most successful season since 1955 seemed apparent from a study of the Milan statistics and the attitude of the Big Red this week.

For if Plymouth can top Westfield, it stands a better than even chance of downing Western Reserve the following week and could cap a good season by knocking off Butler on Nov. 13.

The core of the question lies in the defense. That Plymouth has given up 162 points in league play — 204 points overall — shows it lacks speed and hasn't a defense to match its offense. Admittedly, 80 of those 204 were racked up on an off night, against Lodi. But even deducting the 80 scored by the Tigers, the remaining 124 exceed the offensive output by 35.

If Petit can devise a defense to contain Garner and Ferrell — Westfield really doesn't have much else — and find the players to make it work Plymouth could very well win this one.

But on form, Phil the Filbert said Monday, "I figure Westfield, by two touchdowns — and I hope I'm wrong."

Here're scores and standings in NCC games:

Jail never housed stranger guests than Sunday pair

Plymouth's jail was occupied over the weekend, or beginning from some time Saturday night until Monday afternoon, by two very small black and white puppies.

Apparently placed inside the jail door by a thoughtful person who wished them well cared for, they were found by Police Chief Robert Meiser, who nearly tripped over them as he entered his ball-wick.

Like other lodgers over other weekends, they were given their breakfast and eventually released to the dog pound.

Webber's Rexall store did not open on schedule at 9 a. m. Monday morning, as it has for years and years.

Proprietor Thomas Webber found it a good morning to sleep in.

He had gone to the family trailer on Lake Erie to close it for the season, and didn't wake up in time to get back to Plymouth for the usual morning opening.

Plymouth schools will be closed tomorrow to allow faculty members to attend the annual North Eastern Teachers convention in Cleveland.

Door prizes at the Chamber of Commerce pancake supper went to Mrs. A. L. Paddock, Jr., Timothy Willott, Don Leininger, Brenda Vanderpool, Mrs. Kenneth Myers, Mrs. R. M. Crispin and Daniel Carter in that order. The first two received the "big" prizes, the other five the "smaller" ones.

Three clubs elect at high school; yell leaders chosen

Latin, Varsity and Spanish clubs in Plymouth High school have elected officers for the current year.

Latin club elected Robert Bushey, son of the Robert Busheys, Shiloh, president, Anetta Dawson vice-president, Karen Huston secretary, and Wayne Kessler treasurer. Mrs. Helen Beatty, instructor, is adviser.

Varsity club, whose adviser is Ronald Hostler, chose Philip Ramey, son of the Lyle Biddingers, president, William Strine vice-president, Daniel Carter secretary and Craig Harly treasurer.

William Strine, son of Principal and Mrs. Wayne H. Strine, is president of the Spanish club, whose adviser is John Stansberry, instructor. Walter Butler is vice-president, Judith Fetters secretary-treasurer and Benjamin Root sergeant-at-arms.

Varsity basketball cheerleaders will be Judith Broderick, Florence Dorion and Carol Postema.

Reserve cheerleaders are Cheryl Faust, Jane Hamman and Karen Huston.

WSCS to serve election dinner

WSCS will again serve the annual election night supper beginning at 5 p.m. in the Methodist church Tuesday. Guests are asked to use the south entrance of the church.

Served cafeteria style, the dinner menu will include choices of chicken, ham, meatloaf, sweet potatoes, potato salad, buttered corn, glazed beets, fruits and vegetable salads, assorted pies, apple sauce, coffee and milk.

Mrs. Ira Ross, aided by Mrs. George W. Cheesman and Mrs. Robert C. Haas, will be in charge of the kitchen for the affair. Mrs. Donald P. Markley is dining room chairman. Helping her will be Mrs. M. J. Coon and Mrs. Raymond L. Brooks.

Class of 1944 reunion staged here

Mrs. Gordon Seaholts of Kent, Albert Marvin and James C. Davis arranged the affair, which was attended by 18 members of the class and their families.

Graduating in the midst of World War II, the class will be remembered for having graduated in the NEW SCHICK shaver at Millers' Hardware — 3 speeds, fits all beards. — 3tc

Seven of them, Duane Hunter, G. Thomas Moore, Albert Marvin, W. H. Ruckman, Raymond Mills, George Shaffer and James Fetters, left school in April to enlist in the Navy. They received their boot training at Great Lakes Naval station, Ill. and were on boot leave at graduation time.

Plymouth trounces winless Milan, 36-8

Outmanned but not out-gamed, Milan's Indians fell before the Big Red of Plymouth, 36 to 8, in a North Central conference game here Friday night before a small crowd.

Plymouth was clearly the superior eleven and should have won by a bigger score. It gave away two touchdowns by fumbling.

The Big Red had its first touchdown before four minutes were gone in the first period. The winners took possession on their own 34 after Larry Fox had punted. Duane Baker tore off 35 yards around left end but with third down on the Milan 20, Billy Strine fumbled.

Milan couldn't advance, punted short to the losers' 40 and from here the Big Red went in for the TD in six plays. Baker turned left end for 27 yards on a pitchout from Strine.

possession on Milan's 43. Baker and Christian alternated in totting it in to the seven. Dayton Reed whacked off six and Christian broke into the end zone standing up.

Baker rushed for the PAT and Plymouth had it locked up.

The Big Red lineup was liberally sprinkled with subs in the fourth period when Fox punted dead on the Plymouth 24.

Baker and Reed, then Christian, were given successive calls as the winners advanced 50 yards before bogging down. A delay-of-the-game penalty cost five yards and the Big Red lost possession on downs on the Milan 24.

BUT McQUATE INTERCEPTED FOX'S PASS and the Big Red was in business again. Strine wasted little time. He thrashed the needle to Co-captain McQuate in the end zone, a 35-yard production all told.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

What to do about a football league next fall is the problem facing Plymouth High school athletic officials this week.

Some schools have taken the initiative and will meet at Milan Nov. 13 to discuss establishment of another small-school loop. They include Berlin Heights, Milan, Western Reserve, Firelands and La-Grange. Plymouth has been invited to participate.

But the question is whether to continue "going north" or to "move south". North Robinson, which will field its first interscholastic varsity eleven next season (it's played a few informal games this year) and Belleville will be on the Big Red schedule in 1960. Whether some of the Richland county schools will undertake interscholastic football in another season is the big problem at issue. Lexington, Ontario and Lucas are likely prospects to join Butler and Belleville. If they do, here's a ready-made competition.

But until they do, where'll the Big Red go? Object of the planners is to keep travelling distances down and opposition within the same enrollment size.

Whatever decision is taken, it's bound to be unpopular with some fans. Were it left to the O. T., he'd go along with the organizers of the new loop on the understanding we could put out with a year's notice.

Strine's kickoff was yielded by Reidy, who ran 10 yards to his own 49. Here Fox faded to his right and hit Aubert Metayer with a long pass. No Plymouth defender laid a hand on the Milan speedster as he dashed 51 yards for pay dirt. Gfell bucked for the PAT.

Late in the third period, Plymouth scored again. A short punt put the Big Red in possession on Milan's 43. Baker and Christian alternated in totting it in to the seven. Dayton Reed whacked off six and Christian broke into the end zone standing up.

Baker rushed for the PAT and Plymouth had it locked up.

The pass for PAT was no good.

Milan's defense was weak and its offensive blocking not effective. In Gfell it has a back who can play with the best in the league.

As for Plymouth, there was some improvement, notably on defense, and it gives rise to hope the Big Red will do better in remaining games.

THE VOICE OF THE ADVERTISER

Vote for program where you can

The platform of some newcomers to village politics appear elsewhere in The Advertiser today.

Their expression was solicited by the editor because he felt it his duty to get issues, rather than personalities, before the voter.

Generally speaking, we find the platforms admirable in most respects.

We agree with Mr. Fazio that acquisition of the firehouse site is not in the best interest of the village, as the plan stands now.

We agree that more vigorous effort by the council and the mayor in cutting expenses is necessary.

We agree that the sewer and fire engine issues ought to be passed.

Here is a program that every conscientious citizen can support.

We agree with Mrs. Paddock that every community is entitled to the best government it can get, and that citizens ought to elect candidates who by education, business experience and common sense are best qualified for public office. Character, she claims, is important.

Hers is a character and a candidacy that, in all honesty, we feel can be supported wholeheartedly by every voter.

For one reason or another, the candidates for school board haven't come forward with a platform. Since Mr. Markley as president of the school board presumably backs the board's plan for building, his views are known. It is our understanding Mrs. Christian is for the plan, and since we've long felt that a capable woman should be elected to serve on the board, we will cast a vote for her.

We disagreed with Mr. Markley when he voted to submit the state aid question to the electorate last spring.

We felt this was a breach of the rule of representative government. He said he wasn't for state aid, but would leave it up to the voters. This isn't the kind of government we cotton to. Much of the difficulty today stems from that ill-fated move.

We don't think Mr. Hunter would do this and so we urge his election.

It is unfortunate the council and the board of public affairs are at loggerheads on the question of water extension. We regretted that the council felt the need to move over the board's head.

This was wrong, we think. Another effort to compose their differences should have been made.

But the rival slate has presented a sound program that ought to be considered. We can find no fault with it.

And so far as we are informed, that program meets with the approval of the members of the council who seek reelection. It follows, therefore, that the program ought to be adopted, in part because it will tend to heal the wounds.

Unfortunately, the only way to adopt a program is to support its proponents. This should be done.

There are three state issues on the ballot. One relates to the amending of the constitution so that municipalities may increase the sale of water. It ought to be approved. Another relates to the administration of justice in the courts of appeal. It also ought to be approved. The third concerns the metropolitan federation, by which contiguous communities in heavily populated areas may federate into a common government and taxing authority. Time may come when it will be important here. It is now important in other areas of Ohio. An affirmative vote is recommended.

Can you imagine pouring turpentine on an open cut? This was the favorite way to prevent lockjaw some years ago. Naturally, we wouldn't think of doing this now. But then, we're lucky. We have tetanus toxoids and antitoxins. Thanks to medical science, lockjaw need no longer be a killer... previously, death occurred in 90% of the cases. Children, because of their affinity for cuts, sometimes pick up the tetanus germ. So, if there are young children in your family, be sure to ask your physician about preventive tetanus shots. It's always wise to seek your doctor's advice before using any medicines. And next time you have a prescription to be filled, think of us.

Huron Valley District To Vote 4 Issues

Voters of the Huron Valley Local School District will have the opportunity to vote for the bond issue of 1 mill at the November 3 election for the addition to the Greenfield School, a territory transfer of approximately 115 acres to Crawford County, an operating levy renewal of 8.5 mills plus an additional 2.5 (making a total 11 mills operating) and 5 board members.

The bond issue of 1 mill for addition to the Greenfield School will raise 125,500 dollars, part of which is to be spent for rehabilitation of existing buildings.

The addition to Greenfield will consist of two classrooms and a multi-purpose room to serve as auditorium cafeteria, kitchen, and gymnasium for children. The addition will also include furniture and equipment.

The present plant consisting of 4 classrooms is not a complete elementary unit. The bond issue will make it so, thereby providing individual rooms for separate grades. Currently, one room houses 1 and part of grade 2; one room for the remainder of grade 2 and all of grade 3; one room for all of grade 4 and part of grade 5; and one room for the remainder of grade 5 and all of grade 6.

Concerning the operating levy, the cost of operating the schools has increased over the past 5 years, the 8.5 mills, therefore, would not be sufficient to maintain an adequate instructional and operating program.

The Parent-Teachers Organizations of the Richmond, Greenfield, and New Haven Schools strongly endorse the financial levies, and recommend a vote favorable to their passage.
