

Chamber to debate new industry plan

A Cuyahoga Falls industrialist will come here Tuesday night to lay plans before the Chamber of Commerce, seeking financial backing in the establishment of a manufacturing enterprise here.

P. H. Lauer, president of P. H. Lauer, Inc., manufactures plastic storm doors and windows.

His plan, if subscribers of stock in sufficient number come forward, would entail locating of seven new families here and employment of 16 women already living in Plymouth.

Lauer will appear at a membership dinner meeting of the Chamber in Cornell's restaurant.

Miss Madeleine H. Smith, secretary of the chamber, announces she will attend a first-year chamber of commerce institute for organization management of Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich., one of only three women certified to attend the course this year.

Annual picnic of the Chamber is set for Mary Fete park July 16 at 5:30 p.m.

H. James Root and M. J. Coon are the entertainment committee. Mrs. Harold Ross, Mrs. F. W. McCormick and Mrs. R. Earl McQuate the tables committee.

Ohio Fuel agrees to rate proposal

Save for pinpoint negotiations, it's all over but the shouting — and the paying — and Shiloh has a new consumer gas rate contract with Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

C. V. Messenger, manager of Ohio Fuel Gas Co.'s Shelby office, says the company will accept the counterproposal made by Shiloh's village council for three years but prefers a two-year deal.

The matter was to be discussed last night. Details of the contract remain to be worked out, but basically they are these:

Minimum rate, $3 for 1,000 cu. ft. of natural gas.

Average increase on the compromise offer: $1.31 per household per month.

Scale: 30 cents a 100 cu. ft. for first 1,000, 7.25 cents a 100 for next 24,000, 6.75 cents a 100 for next 50,000, 6.5 cents a 100 for all in excess of 75,000.

Wanted: blood

It shouldn't take a fatal accident, says Barton Lydy, chairman of Willard's blood bank, to remind citizens of their obligations to the Red Cross supply of whole blood.

But the need at Willard, right now, is acute, he says.

Next visit of the Bloodmobile: Tuesday, from noon to 6 p.m., in basement of Methodist church, 108 West Maple street, Willard.

Requirement: 125 pints. Volunteer so far: only 35. Appointment needed: none.

Miss Owens quits, raising vacancies to eight teachers

Resignation of Roberta Owens, second grade teacher in Shiloh, brought the number of vacancies in the Plymouth System to eight, six of which are in the Shiloh Elementary school, Supt. M. J. Coon announced.

Following vacancies have not been filled: two second grade teachers at Shiloh, one fourth grade teacher at Shiloh, two fifth grade teachers at Shiloh, one sixth grade teacher at Shiloh, one commercial teacher in Plymouth High school, and one Spanish and Latin teacher in Plymouth High school.

Firestones married 50 years

It was on June 14, 1909, that Arlo W. Firestone took Miss Anna Darlington Buck as his bride in an Episcopal ceremony performed by her rector, the Rev. Mr. Jones, in her home at Delaware.

Sunday, without special fanfare, the Firestones will mark their golden wedding anniversary.

They'll do so in the presence of the Firestone clan, assembling from half a dozen states for a family reunion.

And, say the Firestones, "no fuss, please".

To the multitude of friends, former customers and business associates in the northern tier of Richland county townships, it's like saying "yes, you may go swimming, but don't go near the water."

MR. FIRESTONE FORMERLY retired from his post as a banker about two years ago. But he remains active as realtor.

And he seems quite as energetic as he was when he retired.

Their children, Mrs. Jeanette Fink, Allentown, Pa., and Dr. Wallace Firestone, Coral Gables, Fla., and their families, and a son by Mr. Firestone's earlier marriage, Floyd, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., will be on hand for the reunion.

Girl dies in 2-car crash

Tragedy continues to stalk James Ryan family

Tragedy struck the James J. Ryan family for the second time in 18 months Friday afternoon.

Gertrude C. (Trudy) Ryan, comely 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Katherine Ryan and the late James J. (Jim) Ryan, died en route to Willard Municipal hospital after a head-on collision in Route 61 near the Linus Phillips property.

Her father died at the age of 42 after a two-year fight against lymphosarcoma, or cancer of the lymph system, at Christmas, 1957.

Miss Ryan was driving the family sedan. Her passengers were her brother, Gregory, three, and a friend, Lois Wright, 15, 210 Plymouth street, in Willard Municipal hospital with a broken right femur and a broken left tibia.

Two prominent Plymouth women in the other machine were severely injured.

They are Mrs. Mary R. McKown, 44, 16 East Main street, co-proprietor of a tavern, driver, and Mrs. Marilyn Kleer, 30, West Broadway, wife of Mrs. McKown's partner.

Mrs. McKown has severe chest and back injuries. Mrs. Kleer was hurled into the windshield of Mrs. McKown's 1959-model sedan. Her husband told The Advertiser "she must have 75 stitches around the left side of her face."

Mrs. McKown, widowed about two years ago when her husband, Wade, was killed in Plymouth - Springmill road when his sedan left the road, was proceeding to Willard with her son, David, nine, and the Kleer children, James, 10, and Steven, five, for a swimming party.

State highway patrolmen said she was left of center when the collision occurred.

Miss Ryan, born Dec. 5, 1941, in Brooklyn, N. Y., is also survived by her sister, Dorothy, and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin H. Kruger. She would have been a senior in Plymouth High school, where she was active in home economics department affairs, and was a member of First Evangelical Lutheran church.

Her pastor, the Rev. Robert F. Hall, conducted last rites Monday at 2 p.m. from the McKown Funeral home. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven.

Annexation to Willard banned from Huron Valley ballot

Annexation of Huron Valley Local School district to Willard Exempted Village district will not be an issue on the general election ballot Nov. 3, Huron County Board of Education ruled Saturday night.

Reason: priority of a transfer issue, initiated by four petitioners living in the southwest corner of Richland township.

Petitioners, Virgil and Freda Cramer and Ralph and Florence Mann, seek transfer to Crawford county jurisdiction, New Washington Local School district.

Land area involved is 114.48 acres.

Prosecutor Bernard W. Freeman told the board that in his opinion state law does not permit more than one proposal to transfer to appear on a single ballot. Since the Cramer-Mann petition predated filing of the Huron Valley annexation petition, it will supersede it on the ballot, the board ruled.

The decision was taken with some chagrin demonstrated by a considerable gathering of Huron Valley residents favoring annexation to Willard.

They offered numerous suggestions for a solution to the impasse, but after tenacious discussion they were rejected.

Its effect locally could be far-reaching, some experts said.

"For one thing," said one of them, "the state school board will have to allow Huron Valley a bit more time to solve its problem. And this could mean, but it certainly does not follow, that proposals to resume the Huron Valley consolidation as it was before the supreme court decision can be revived."

If a bond issue to provide for high school housing can be placed on the general election ballot in Plymouth district, he went on, and carried, it would mean that by the time Huron Valley electors can legally opt for annexation to Willard or another solution, Plymouth district might have housing for Huron Valley pupils already under way.

"That's a big assumption," one Plymouth board member observed, "We're certainly going to try to get the bond issue providing for enlarged high school quarters on the ballot and approved, but beyond that I wouldn't be able to say."

Braves win again

Reds defeated Giants, 18 to 1, Monday night and the Braves walloped the Cubs, 22 to 1, Tuesday night.

Chip Paddock jammed a thumb Monday, required an X-Ray at Willard. He'll be out two games.

The Rev. J. E. McDonald conducted last rites Friday at 2 p.m. from Barkdull Funeral home, Shelby. Burial was in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Scott, 85, dies

Funeral services were conducted in Indianapolis, Ind., Thursday for the mother of B. R. Scott, Mrs. Nora Scott, 85.

She died June 1. One daughter and three other sons, all in Indianapolis, also survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott drove there to attend the last rites.

Ge e whiz, says Gee of goof in dales at Monroeville

The man who, many school patrons think, threw a monkey wrench into a calm solution for Plymouth High school building needs has a red face this week.

Prof. John E. Gee, dean of the college of education at Bowling Green State university, whose report recommended construction of a new high school between Plymouth and Shiloh, sent a letter to Monroeville school officials accepting a date to address the senior class there on June 3.

But he failed to appear. By telephone he said his date book showed the appointment for June 4.

Supt. Thomas J. Lashley exhibited the signed letter from Professor Gee accepting the June 3 date to graduates and the audience during exercises there June 3 and invited all to return the next night.

There were no takers.

Braves vault into 1-game lead

Class pitching, principally by lefthander Mike Fox, has brought the Bachrach Co.-New Haven Supply Braves to the top of Plymouth Midget league after the first full week of play.

The Braves have three wins and no losses, and they came through in the clutch to do it. Fox outpitched Tim DeWitt of the Reds to down the Legion-

Firemen entry, 5 to 0. The southpaw struck out seven while DeWitt got 11.

The Braves got four safe singles off the Red pitcher and Fox allowed only two.

The Braves had to come from behind a seven-run deficit to down POOM Giants, 9 to 7.

Howard Wynn couldn't hold the big lead, what with shabby infield support and a classic rock by Freddy Buzard, and the Braves got four in the second and four in the third to force ahead.

Don Phillips relieved Gremmer and held the Giants down in the last five frames.

But the Giants apparently took heart from this near-miss and turned the tables on F-R-H Cubs, 5 to 4, with a last-ditch rally highlighted by some fancy baserunning and coaching.

Bowling of a second sacker into centerfield on a routine throw from the catcher led to the Giant victory.

Dennis Hole crashed the first homer of the year in a losing cause for the Cubs.

Eric Akers continued in his hard-luck streak. He allowed the Giants only three hits and contributed two to his own cause, but weak support led to his downfall.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER
Question of the modern age is this: which counts more, a high academic standing or a varsity letter?

One answer may be offered by Larry Huston, retiring captain of Ohio State's cage squad. He's a straight A student in Ohio State's college of pharmacy. He's got another year to go for his degree. Married, with a wife to think about, young Huston has been appointed by Joseph Ferguson, state treasurer, to the sales tax division of the treasurer's office.

"It's a distinct honor," the Democrat said, "to assist a young man of this caliber in finishing his education."

Larry's the son of the Leo Hustons, Greenwich route 2. ATTENDANCE AT PML stadium isn't what it might be, we hear.

Could be some fans are disappointed that emphasis has been placed on two essentials of baseball: hitting and keeping the head in the game.

So long as PML doesn't want to (and we think for good reason) follow the national Little League establishment, we think the right step to put adults on the coaching lines and to make frequent halts in play to explain to boys what to do with ball on next hit.

It's what their school teacher would do, isn't it?

... ADD ONE SCREAM

Can you imagine pouring turpentine on an open cut? This was the favorite way to prevent lockjaw some years ago. Naturally, we wouldn't think of doing that now. But then, we're lucky. We have tetanus toxoids and antitoxins. Thanks to medical science, lockjaw need no longer be a killer... previously, death occurred in 90% of the cases. Children, because of their affinity for cuts, sometimes pick up the tetanus germ. So, if there are young children in your family, be sure to ask your physician about preventive tetanus shots. It's always wise to seek your doctor's advice before using any medicines. And next time you have a prescription to be filled, think of us.

Somehow, we just can't get used to this kind of thing

A newspaperman sees, more often than not, the seamy side of life.

The police tank, filled with drunks. The court rooms, where appear the dregs of humanity, to answer charges of public misconduct. Yea, even the august halls of the legislature of this great state, where grown men comport themselves as callow boys, for the sake of political favor.

Too often he sees the gruesome morgue, and occasionally the stage upon which the horrible tragedy has been enacted, the players having fallen in their tracks, or the tracks of their death-dealing machines.

He is expected to harden himself to these sights. And to the grief and sorrow which trail in their wakes.

For our part, we have never succeeded in doing so.

And it is particularly harsh for us to reflect upon the terrible tragedy of Friday afternoon.

To the grieving we send our deep and sincere condolences.

Are we wasting our breath to urge upon everyone greater care in the operation of automobiles? Or are we old hat?

We pray not. But for those to whom we are, this offer: one beat-up press card, good for admittance to almost any emergency room, where one can wallow in gore.

The nicest story of all

This is a dandy week for the nicest story a reporter can write — a happy wedding anniversary.

The Arlo Firestones at Shiloh are marking their 50th. We join with their many friends and well-wishers in extending them happy returns of the day.

The P. H. Roots chalked up a 42nd anniversary Tuesday. The Francis Millers and the Francis Guthries observed their 25th anniversaries the same day.

It is a never-ceasing mystery to us that a man and a woman (particularly the 20th century species) can live together in relative peace and happiness for so long.

Come to think of it, we ourselves have one of those days coming up, on Sunday.

To the little woman whose rowing and bailing kept this straw-bottomed ship afloat more times than we care to count, for what little thanks she got at the time, because she cares little for displays of affection (except of the non-deductible variety fresh off the back of a mink), these words of appreciation where the whole world can see.

And don't sell Dag Hammarskold's outfit short! If we can make it, so can the UN.

A raise in rates

Our recent announcement that on July 1 the price of a subscription is to be advanced has occasioned some comment. Why pass cost increases on to subscribers, why not to advertisers?

A newspaper has a duty to its family of readers to be informative, factual, fair, to entertain and divert, to lead and to guide when it can. But it has an overriding duty to itself: to remain solvent. Which is the main reason why, reluctantly, we're going to increase subscription rates.

Improved procedures in the production of the newspaper have allowed us to hold the line on advertising rates, for the time being. But no amount of efficiency in the mailing room will overcome the increased cost of mailing the paper each week. And built-in raises are forthcoming.

So the penalty falls upon him who uses the service — the subscriber. To be fair to all, the news stand price is also to be advanced two cents.

Seven cents a week is not too much, we think, to pay for the product we are producing, winner of a few prizes for general excellence but still looking ahead.

Suzie sez

It isn't easy to come up with a column when the weather is nice.

Especially when the competition is so tough. A little boy who is only six months old, named Davey Mosher, I think, wrote a big two-page deal for the Oberlin paper, but Pop says his grandfather helped him.

I asked Pop for help and he said, "You're almost 11, you can do it on your own." So I don't get any more help than what he usually gives me. Punctuation and spelling.

I read the papers hard before I went fishing Sunday. I see where the governor of Louisiana is in the crazy house. Pop says that's no surprise to him — craziness runs in the governor's family. Pop says a long time ago there was another governor of Louisiana named Long who was so crazy they shot him.

I heard a man say the other day that Louisiana isn't the only state with a crazy governor. He said Ohio has one too, because he wants to raise taxes.

Pop said he didn't agree. DID YOU HEAR ABOUT the boy who was asked, "How many four-cent stamps can you buy for a dollar?"

He said, "Twenty," and when the teacher showed him the right answer was 25, because 100 divided by 4 is 25, he said, "I can't help it, I buy all my four-cent stamps from a machine, which takes nickels."

HERE IS MY PUZZLE FOR the week. A man went hunting. He walked one mile straight south from his camp, then one mile straight east, then one mile straight north, arriving back at his camp. Here he shot a bear. Now what color was the bear?

The answer, says Chip, is white. He must have been at the North Pole.

Here's remainder of Firestone story

ion. Altogether the Firestones count five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

THEY'LL START OFF their 50th wedding day the same way they did the first one — with a religious service.

Back in 1909, they were attended by the late George Gilger of Shiloh and Miss Mildred Van Deman.

Among the 100 guests who witnessed the ceremony at the home of the Henry E. Bucks were the William Youngs and Dr. and Mrs. McGay, all of Shiloh, and Miss Mary Patterson, who taught in Shiloh as a colleague of Miss Buck.

After 50 years, Arlo Firestone is sure of at least one fact: a school building is a good place to find a wife.

CD (organized everywhere but here) sets Willard show

Plans for the first Huron county civil defense field day are rolling into high gear.

CD units from Norwalk, Wakeman, Greenwich, North-Fairfield, New London, Bellevue and Willard are represented in the "Spectacular" planning committee.

Chairman, Mrs. Al D'Etorre, Willard, has appointed Frank Crall, Willard, in charge of field and time arrangements; Arthur Heck, Willard, to supervise and control air activity; Milton Husted, Willard, to make arrangements for electricity for the day; and Mrs. Robert Taylor, Willard, secretary for the group.

B. M. Biddinger will handle ticket sales for the show, June 28, at the Willard airport. As director of security for Willard CD, he will supervise traffic control. Miss Kathy Reed of North Fairfield is director of a talent show to be held about 2:30 p.m. that day. Residents of Plymouth interested in the talent show can call John Yacob, Willard CD director, for details.

Most area CD units will have their own concession stands with H. E. VanFossen, Wakeman, responsible for meat and bun supplies to be sold to each concession on the grounds.

Dave Morgan, Willard, has charge of all printing of tickets and handbills. The latter will be distributed by airplanes over all of Huron county by Morgan, Heck and Crall.

Special sanitation facilities will be arranged for the day-long "Spectacular" by Charles Waterbeck, Willard.

A COUNTY-WIDE POSTER contest will be included in the activities of the day with prize trophies and ribbons. Miss Jo-anne Franks and Mrs. Dalton Perkins, Norwalk, are completing arrangements for that.

Latest entries in the giant air show and field day include an atomic energy display from the plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn. In all previous showings, admission has been charged. But this time authority has been granted the group to allow spectators to view it without charge.

Seventy-five members of the Ohio National Guard will come into Willard the day before the show. They will camp at the airport overnight and will take part in the program with parade formation.

The Moose Majorettes of Sandusky, 75 in number, will perform in the Sunday afternoon show.

Plymouth residents will be represented by the local state CD mobilization unit which is expected to display its equip-

Grandma had no trouble with "Milk Rebels"

Her Family Cow was a Jersey

Down on the farm the children really liked to drink milk. But then, it wasn't just ordinary milk. Grandma kept a Jersey cow, because Jerseys gave the best-tasting milk ever! Folks didn't know then what we know now—that the extra-good flavor meant that Jersey milk was chuck-full of nutrition.

Today extra good All-Jersey is the easy way to get children to drink enough milk. Produced by 100% Jersey herds and processed in a modern plant . . . it has that farm-fresh flavor children like so well. In addition, science has proved that Jersey milk has more food value than other milks . . . and is a rich source of vitamins, too. All-Jersey Milk supplies extra nutrition, extra energy . . . at no extra cost.
