Square moves recorded

Two moves and a rumored third one electrified the Public Square this week.

Bowsher's bakery, which had occupied premises at 20 Sandusky street owned by Mrs. F. B. Lofland, closed its retail outlet and installed a sales agency in H. & M. Grill, 12 West Broadway.

Robby's electrical appliance store, moved from the Cornell building at 19 Sandusky street into the premises vacated by the bakery.

It was reported, but not confirmed, that a Willard couple intends to open a small restaurant in the building vacated by Robby's.

Ice cream social set

J. Raymond Willet is general chairman of the ice cream social of the Sunday school, First Presbyterian church, July 11 on the church lawn.

Homemade ice cream with sandwiches, salads and desserts will be served from 5 until 8 p.m.

Mrs. Sipes dies in Shelby at 102

Just 10 days after her brother William Scraffield, 93, succumbed, 102-year-old Mrs. Alice Sipes, died Sunday at the home of a son near Shelby.

She was the oldest resident of Richland county.

Mrs. Sipes was born in Little Washington and her entire life was spent in this area.

She leaves a son, Irvin, with whom she lived; a daughter, Mrs. B. V. Hollenbaugh of Shelby; seven grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren and seven great-great grand children.

Final rites were conducted yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist church in Shelby. Burial was in Ebenezer cemetery near Galion.

Boy gashes nose

Richard Lahmon, 10, son of the M. E. Melotts, 66 Plymouth street, struck his face against a table in Mary Fate park Monday morning, tore his nose and chipped two teeth.

The boy was running, slipped and fell against the table. Both noses were torn, requiring stitches by Dr. C. O. Butner in Willard Municipal hospital.

He was released after treatment.

Lacy estate sues AC and Y railroad

Administrator of the estate of William Lacy, Plymouth High school pupil who died as the result of a collision between his car and an AC&Y freight at the Route 598 crossing in 1957, seeks $50,000 damages in a suit filed in Huron county common pleas court.

The case has been postponed. It was originally slated to be heard before a jury June 24.

Bachrach Co. is the defendant in a $25,000 personal injury action filed by Woodrow Ford, Greenwich. He alleges he received permanent injury in a vehicular collision April 6, 1958, in Route 224.

THREE FOURTH OF JULY birthdays will be marked here Saturday by this trio: Steven Reynolds, nine; Sherry Vanasdale, 13, and 49-star flag, first. Harry Trauger, just 39, is also a firecracker baby born on Independence day.

Petition to ask alley reduction to 20 ft.

Adjoining property owners have signed a petition praying the village council to declare the alley between Trux street and Mills avenue a 20-foot thoroughfare. The Advertiser learned this week.

The petition will be presented to the council Tuesday night.

It is understood all adjoining property holders save two — William C. and Doris En-derby — have signed the petition.

Whether William Biebesheimer, Toledoan who has been awarded a contract to erect and lease to the postmaster-general a new building at 25 Plymouth street, will oppose the petition is not yet known.

Presumably, if the petition carries, the federal government plans to establish a post office would be crimped.

Mr. Evans, headed south, was not hurt. Her husband received cuts about the head and leg.

The trucker was summoned on a charge of failure to note the warning sign at the approach to the underpass. Had he done so, he would not have required the backing up, which put his rig into the ditch.

Two to run for mayor?

Two candidates for mayor are understood by The Advertiser to be preparing nominating petitions.

One of them, Whitney J. Briggs, 207 Springmill road, is a former mayor and currently a councilman. Married and the father of a recent high school graduate. He is shipping chief at Face-Root-Heath Co.

The other is William Fazio, 148 Sandusky street, a native of Plymouth now engaged in the life insurance business. Married and the father of four children, he is a complete novice at politics.

Whether incumbent Thurman R. Ford will file a petition remains in doubt. It is believed Briggs would not willingly compete against Ford for the office. Sidewalk experts suggest Briggs has the blessing of Mayor Ford for the incumbent as clerk. There is unlikely to be any opposition.

James H. Rhine, incumbent treasurer, is in a similar situation.

For the sixth council post, at least one woman is understood to be "toying with the idea of running".

She declined to say if her mind is made up, and like most women, said she reserved the right to change it prior to Aug. 5, deadline date for filing the petitions.

But, she said, "most of the women in Plymouth are women and aside from our one industry women own more property than men. It's high time, it seems to me, that a woman represented the village on the council. I don't see where men have any monopoly on good government."

Carl V. Ellis is a candidate

Ray, Whitakers quit system, schools require 12 teachers

Three veteran teachers have resigned from Plymouth local school district, bringing vacancies on the faculty of 12.

Lloyd B. Ray, elementary principal here, will become elementary principal at Crestview, where he will have supervision over two schools.

Robert Whitaker, high school social studies teacher, found a plum at Montclair, N.J., a rich suburb of New York, where average family income is $5,825 annually. He taught there three and a half years. He is a graduate of Mt. Union college, Alliance.

His wife, who has taught girls' physical education for the past two years, will naturally accompany him.

Frederick C. Kreutzfeld, high school physics science instructor, will leave Ohio to teach in a private church school in Utah. An Ohio State graduate, Kreutzfeld came here from Butler, went to Ottawa Hills, dropped out of teaching for a time, and resumed the profession here.

Whitaker wrote the board, "My family and I have come to know many fine people through this relationship . . . I realize that I will take with me a deep affection for this community in the four rewarding years of teaching . . . this resignation is not offered because of a feeling of inequality between myself and Mr. Coon, board members, teaching staff or community. I have always felt fairly treated and satisfied in our relationship."

Ray said in his formal letter of resignation "I feel that the Crestline job will give me a chance to secure a better background as an elementary principal . . . I appreciate the confidence placed in me this spring in extending me a five-year contract . . ."

MR. RAY

Howard Smith, 70, dies of heart attack

Since 1920 on the accounting staff of Face-Root-Heath Co., J. Howard Smith, 70, died of a heart seizure at his home, 83 Plymouth street, Thursday night.

Born in Hartville Sept. 6, 1889, he attended Oberlin college as a young man.

A widower, he was a member of First Evangelical Lutheran church. A son, J. Benjamin Plymouth route 1, and a daughter, Madeline H., at home, two grandchildren and a brother, Roger, Hartville, survive.

Mr. Smith was a sports fan and frequently attended major league games at Cleveland. For many years he was an Indian rooter, but had lately become disenchanted.

The Rev. Paul Mumford, Lorain, former pastor here, conducted last rites Monday at 1:30 p.m. Burial beside his wife was in Greenlawn cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were his employer for 39 years, John A. Root, president of Face-Root-Heath Co.; Floyd Carter, chief of the engineering department, and Luther Fetters.

Active pallbearers were Fred Buzard, Dewey Reynolds, Stanley Shaver, John F. Root, J. Harold Cashman and Miles Christian.

Infants will be baptized Sunday in First Presbyterian church by the Rev. Moss Rueter during the regular worship service.

Holy communion service will be July 12.

Hatches visit kin

Prof. and Mrs. Raymond N. Hatch of Okemos, Mich., spent the weekend with the Walter Hatches enroute from Louisiana, where Dr. Hatch attended summer workshop.

Hey, moms! Proofs ready here today

Parents of children whose photographs were made in The Advertiser June 1 are invited to report to the same place today to inspect proofs.

Richard Blossey Blossen Photographers, Findlay, will exhibit the proofs. There is no obligation, the publisher reminds parents, to buy any or all of the photographs.

Protest cuts '60 budget by $12,000

First recorded protest to a proposed budget in village history resulted in an about-face by the village council Monday afternoon.

A formal, written protest to the budget was received from the publisher of The Advertiser, who made clear he was submitting his objections as a citizen-elector, not as a publisher or the newspaper.

He said he thought the budget calling for expenditures of 210 per cent of prospective income tended to extend what he said was "Plymouth's already bad reputation in Columbus and in both county seats as a village which is always looking for a handout".

His specific objections on the including of $12,000 in the firehouse buildings category were referred to Eli Harris, deputy state auditor for this district, who told the council it should be cut from the budget.

This was done. The budget will go forward to the county budget commission, with expenditures of $42,632, as against anticipated receipts of $26,387.31. The difference is thus 161 per cent, a decrease of 49 per cent.

The $12,000 had been included on the hope that action of the state legislature would permit municipalities to bond themselves up to 1.5 per cent of the tax duplicate, as compared with one per cent now.

Sooner or Later...

Only a minute ago you had this great idea.

"I'll just try it once," you said, "Let's see what the old buggy will do over this stretch of road."

And just about the time the speedometer quivered on past seventy, you heard the siren. Then—the old story all over again. The patrolman. The argument. The ticket. And finally, the fine.

"Too bad, buddy," said the Law, "Sooner or later we get you guys."

Sooner or later said the Law . . .

A man's life can come to this point, too—the point where his misdeeds catch up. For sooner or later we all pay for our transgressions against God's law.

Your intentions may be good, but good intentions alone are not enough—that is what your Church is for: to help transform these intentions into reality. For your Church knows the meaning of God's law. And it knows that within the wise bounds of God's law is a happy and fruitful life for you.

The Church is ready to help you achieve that life—if you will give it the chance.

So when should you seek the guidance of your Church? Later . . . ? No!

The time to go to Church is now!

Reds down Braves for first half banner

American Legion Firemen Reds came from behind with two runs in the final frame Thursday night to edge the Bachrach Co.-New Haven Supply Braves and capture first half honors in PMI.

Final score was 2 to 1. Ervin Howard, a nine-year-old shortstop, whacked a single to deep short, scoring his elder brother Nero with the winning run.

It was a scoreless duel until the top half of the sixth. The Braves scored once off Nero Howard. But it was not to last.

Harold Neely singled to open the sixth for the Braves. Jack Hoffman made it safely on a fielder's choice as Neely went out, pitcher to second base.

When Gremmer fanned, it seemed Howard was out of it. But Neil VanderBilt came through with a clean hit and so did Mike Fox, the crafty Brave southpaw who allowed the Reds only four blows. This scored Hoffman.

Tim DeWitt popped to the pitcher to open the Red's sixth. But Bill Phillips was on by error and Nero Howard, the terror of New Haven, bounded out to short, advancing Nero a base, little Ery Howard came through with a clean bingie to short, scoring Nero with the winning run.

The Reds thus wound up the first half season with only one defeat — at the hands of the Braves earlier.

The winners proved another adage in boys' baseball: luck counts as much as skill.

And the Reds certainly had their share of luck, starting with the rigged schedule.

They never were under any pressure in their pitching staff.

Howard and Tim DeWitt always had a few innings left on their weekly limit so that the fast ball could blow the opposition down.

Earlier in the week, the Giants jumped on Gary Ross for three runs in the first frame before he could get a man out and went on to a 5 to 2 win over the second place outfit.

This locked it up for the Reds.

Hapless Cubs dropped another one to the Reds June 24, 17 to 6.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

The denouement of the Patterson-Johansson charade is in the classic American tradition.

For several reasons, too. First, the underdog rose up from what seemed destined oblivion to smite Goliath on the forehead with the outrageous sling of fortune and render him senseless on the campains. Americans from the beginning of time, or certainly since the man got up in the middle of the night to ride that horse, have been enraptured by the Frank Merrifield-Jack Armstrong kind of thing. And Ingó's victory was certainly that.

Second, the chroniclers of sport who repaired to the effete establishment in New York state to record how Ingó was preparing his assault on the diadem were completely taken in.

Ingó, they said, might very well be of the stuff that champions are made, but why does he not exhibit his famous right hand?

Now, said the Scandinavian pugilist's seconds, he need not; he does not wish to muss up his sparring partners. Besides, Ingó is evidently satisfied that his right hand is efficacious.

To which the chroniclers, to a man, retorted with the journalistic equivalent of "Horsefeathers" and transmitted accounts to the effect that Ingó must be a faker.

It became clear after only a few seconds Friday night that Ingó is cast in the traditional heroic American mold.

When he struck the champion on the forehead with that commanding right hand, Ingó proved again that we like our champions cut that way.

Let the astute reconsider. No man, not even one managed by Cus d'Amato, would willingly take the punishment dealt out to Patterson in the third heat by the Swedish boxer. It couldn't have been a put-up job.

Seven times he went down, for respite that were less brief than they ought to have been, and six times he got up.

Even the segregationists of the Deep South would not have wished for Referee Ruby Goldstein to tolerate further slaughter.

For Floyd was clearly outclassed, out-punched and out-herded.

And the accession to the throne by Ingó once again proved what that celebrated American entrepreneur said.

"There's a sucker born every minute."

To which handsome Ingó adds, for the benefit of the sports writers, "And one to take him in!"

SPITTING ON A STONE?

Ever try spitting on a stone to ease pain? Sounds foolish, nowadays. But a long time ago folks actually used this "remedy." We're lucky to be living in this age of modern medicine. Medical science has given us many wonderful pain relievers and other reliable, effective drugs. However, it's still not wise to use any medication indiscriminately. When you don't feel up to par, ask your physician's advice first. Then, if he prescribes medication, come to us. We'll fill his prescription promptly and carefully.

Suzie sez

Saturday is the Fourth of July. We might get to go swimming.

Pop said the Fourth of July today isn't like what it was when he was a boy.

He said they used to shoot firecrackers and torpedoes, to put sky rockets that were nailed to telephone poles and lit.

When he was young, Pop says, the newspapers and the radio (they didn't have TV then) used to urge everybody to be careful over the Fourth because firecrackers were dangerous. On July 5th the papers all said that a lot of boys and girls had been hurt by firecrackers.

Today things are different. Already the radio and TV are saying that hundreds of people will be killed in cars on the highways.

Pop says it was better in the old days. Folks got hurt, some of them badly, with firecrackers, but not so many as with cars.

Mom says this proves that people don't change much — they make fools of themselves over something or other all the time.

ONCE A FOURTH OF JULY in this town meant a big celebration and hundreds of people came with horses and buggies to hear speeches and have a big picnic.

Since it falls on Saturday this year, probably everybody will be at the lake or on vacation.

But we will be home. Pop says the firemen and the policeman and the newspapermen are the only ones who must stick around on holidays.

THE EDITOR AT SEVILLE has written a book. It's about a giant who used to live there. He was once in a circus. In the Seville cemetery is a statue of his wife, just as big in stone as she was when she was alive.

You can buy it from the editor $2. I don't write any plugs in this column, usually, but for Mr. Cavin, who is a friend of mine, especially when our football team goes there and he lets us come to his house to warm up and get fed, I will make an exception. His address is Lee Cavin, The Seville Chronicle, Seville, O. Include your two dollars.

WE GOOFED . . .

So much of the underline of the front page photograph last week as read "Robertson," "Robby" himself says it's not unusual for folks to be confused — "people have mixed it up all my life, but so long as they don't call me 'late for meals' it's all right."

PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

YOU live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Real Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good — to keep it getting better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things people should do, and things they should not do.

They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles — if we also guide our lives by them — then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual.

This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders.

From it comes our hatred of those "tarns" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to.

Coming directly from that first principle are two others that are also part of the foundation of Americanism.

2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom

3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal. It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expresses the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not say or imply a belief that men develop equally or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions.

That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together.

In our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, there are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals.

4. The Right to Freedom of Speech.

This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts.

5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly.

As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together.

6. The Right to Freedom of Worship.

Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal.

7. The Right to Security of Person and Property.

Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th, and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law."

8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law.

As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any group.

9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery.

This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another.

10. The Right to Petition the Government.

The right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people.

11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice.

This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used.

12. The Right to Freedom of Worship.

Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal.

13. The Right to Live where he pleases.

14. The Right to Work where he wants to.

15. The Right to Belong to an Organization.

16. The Right to Own Property.

17. The Right to Start his Own Business.

18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.

19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.

There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .

20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.

21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

Other Principles hold that every man has . . .

22. The Right to a Good Education.

23. The Right to Work where he pleases.

24. The Right to Belong to an Organization.

25. The Right to Own Property.

26. The Right to Start his Own Business.

27. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.

28. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.

There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .

29. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.

30. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

There are also Limiting Principles . . .

Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles.

31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others.

We believe that no one should starve, or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help.

32. Each Individual must Deal Fairly with others.

Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence.

33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing.

Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all.

34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vital.

President EISENHOWER has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth."

Principles of Individual Responsibility . . .

Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. If we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill this responsibility.

35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family.

He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being.

36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part.

He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit.

37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country.

He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual.

38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World.

Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act — and to encourage his country to act — so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world.

For America's Future

Most of us have faith in our country's ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life . . .

If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles:

39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and

40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . .

41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles.

There are those who chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . .

Is it With or Against the Principles of America?

Taylor reassigned to local church at Lakeside parley

Two New Haven sailors have completed recruit training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

They are Robert W. Patterson, son of the Robert Chapman, and Kenneth L. Fink, son of the Jacob W. Finks.

Reynolds named to council post

Richard Reynolds, who works for Shelby Spring Hinge in Shelby, was elected by the Shiloh village council to fill the unexpired term of Glenn Strog June 24.

The term expires Dec. 31.

Salary increases proposed for the council and clerk and the trustees of the Board of Public Affairs will be formally voted Wednesday night.

But it is pretty much agreed these increases will be approved.

Councilmen, $5 a meeting instead of $3.50.

Trustees, $5 a meeting instead of $3.50.

Clerk, $400 annually, instead of $200 now.

Mayor Robert Moser announced he thinks the sewage disposal plant will be in operation later this month.

Plymouth notes —

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Huzovich and daughter, Sandra, of Mobile, Ala., are here visiting their daughter, Mrs. Larry D. Schreck. They also have been guests of Mrs. James O. Schreck at Mittawaga on Lake Erie.

Mrs. Leona Kaufman and daughters of Mansfield were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Forquer.

Crowd protests plan to zone town

An indignant crowd of 500 New Londoners turned out June 22 to protest a proposed zoning law for that community of 2,500.

Village council appointed a planning commission some months ago. Disbursements of $1,000 so far have produced a draft ordinance. Registered letters were sent to each property holder, notifying them of the village's intention to proceed with the ordinance.

Cries of "Community" were flung at the ordinance.

A committee of reactionary citizens advertised for support in the village's weekly newspaper.

A daily newspaper said the crowd was unruly. The New London Record said it was orderly save for one exception.

Two gobs home on leave

The Rev. Thomas Sheldon Taylor, incumbent Methodist minister in the Plymouth-Shiloh charge, was returned to his assignment for another year by the Northeastern Ohio Conference of Methodist churches at Lakeside last week.

The Rev. Dr. A. George Whiteman, formerly at First Methodist church, Palmyra, is the new superintendent of the Norwalk district. He replaces the Rev. George Beebe, assigned to Lakeside as coordinator of a $1.5 million fund drive to enlarge the church center.

The Rev. Charles D. MacLagan was sent to Grace Methodist church, Youngstown, apparently replacing the Rev. Leonard E. Smith, former pastor here. But no announcement of the Rev. Mr. Smith's assignment was made.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our son and brother, Larry Wilson; who left us July 3rd, 1958. There's an open gate at the end of the road.

Through which each must go alone,

And there in a light we cannot see.

Our Father claims His own;

Beyond the gate our loved ones

Find happiness and rest;

And there's so much comfort in the thought

That a Loving God knows best.
