

$13 million Marsh Run project approved by Congress

Approval by the Congress of the $13 million Marsh Run watershed control project assures a 70-acre lake in Base Line road west of Plymouth and substantial improvements to 20,006 acres in a three-county area.

Rep. A. D. Baumhart, Jr., 13th district Congressman, notified The Advertiser Tuesday of final approval of the project, four years on the drafting boards and at least a year from completion even now.

A work plan developed by the Celeryville Conservancy district, of which John F. Stambaugh is chairman, and Frank Weirs and Ben Van Zoest members, must be approved by the Huron county common pleas court.

It will be developed with the consultation and cooperation of the Soil Conservation service's office at Norwalk, directed by W. E. (Bill) Addison.

THE PROJECT WILL COVER 9,923 acres in southwestern Huron county, 6,400 acres in northwestern Richland county and 4,803 acres in Crawford county.

It is planned to overcome flood and irrigation problems and protect land from deterioration by subsiding, windblowing and fire. The muck soil is combustible, having been arrested in the conversion to peat by the draining of covering waters millions of years ago.

Rumors not true, says postmaster of new USPO site

Rumors that a new post office isn't in the cards here were declared to be "absolutely false" by Postmaster Raymond L. Brooks Monday.

He made the statement in answer to an inquiry about renewal of the lease on the present quarters, owned by Harold V. Truckman.

"The post office department has renewed the lease on the present quarters," Brooks said, "for one year, with option to renew for one year thereafter. But the post office department retains the right to terminate the lease at the end of any calendar month. Thus we have to give only 30 days' notice to vacate. It is a routine renewal and does not mean that we won't have a new post office."

Two candidates for mayor, seven for village council, six for Board of Public Affairs and four for Board of Education seek 11 elective posts on the general election ballot.

Contests set for 11 offices here as incumbents file for BPA

Candidates for village clerk and treasurer, for Plymouth township trustee and clerk and New Haven township trustee and clerk are unopposed.

Majority candidates are incumbent Thurman R. Ford and William Fazio.

Councilman candidates are incumbents Donald E. Akers, Omar G. Burkett, John T. Dick and Elmer E. Markley, Charles Vansandale, Mrs. A. L. Paddock, Jr., and Donald H. LeVering. The six men were organized with Mayor Ford as a team ticket, apparently in opposition to the female candidacy.

Wayne Hunter, incumbent Donald P. Markley, Mrs. Jesse Wayne Hamman and Mrs. Miles S. Christian seek two posts on the school board.

Glenn Evans and Dale V. Stearns are candidates for New Haven township trustee and clerk, respectively.

Samuel H. Cashman and Joseph J. Lasch have filed for the same vacancies in Plymouth township.

Six candidates have filed for four-year term on the Huron Valley Board of Education.

Flood waters regularly affect 500 acres of vegetable land and 800 acres of general crop land in the area. A total of 3,400 acres of land has no adequate drainage and an additional 1,800 acres of muck land need irrigation.

COST OF THE PROJECT: estimated to be $1,334,836, of which $844,056 will be derived from federal appropriations, $489,980 from state, county and private funds.

Details of the plan: not complete, but an expenditure of $207,000 for land treatment measures, including installation of tile, irrigation systems and land leveling, including technical assistance, is envisaged.

Driver badly hurt as car skids, flips

A Plymouth driver was seriously injured at 11:40 p.m. Monday when his car left Route 61 at high speed, skidded 320 feet on the wrong side of the highway, then overturned and careened another 20 feet.

Robert C. Roberts is in a Mansfield hospital with multiple fracture of the jaw and severe facial lacerations.

A summons for reckless operation was issued by the state highway patrol.

Claude Sourwine succumbs at 68

Retired U.S. Postmaster here, Claude E. Sourwine, 68, died suddenly at his home, 49 Railroad street, at 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

Born in Greenwich Sept. 28, 1890, he came here 45 years ago.

He was a double amputee, having lost an arm and a leg in a railroad accident about 35 years ago.

Mr. Sourwine never married. He was appointed postmaster by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936 and served 20 years until he retired for reasons of health at the end of 1956.

A brother, C. L., is his sole survivor.

Rev. Robert F. Hall, pastor of First Evangelical Lutheran church, conducted last rites yesterday at 1:30 p.m. from the McQuate Funeral home. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery.

Incumbent Neil H. Slessman, Plymouth route 1, is opposed by Warren H. Levy, Willard route 2, a former Plymouth resident, for a two-year term.

Candidates for the four-year term are Arthur Capelle, Attica route 2; Maurice E. Thomas, Willard route 2; George C. Adams, Willard route 1; Stanford L. Cherry, Willard route 3; Willard E. Fritz, Attica route 2; James E. Pemberton, Willard route 1.

Don't complain if official acts forcefully, says editor

Elected officials in a small community are underpaid, overworked and not suitably informed, says one of Ohio's top small town editors, but they think for themselves.

Lee Cavin, a Mansfield boy who went to Ohio university to study journalism and then started a weekly at Seville, is a several time prize winner, mostly for editorial writing.

"We wax enthusiastic over the attractions . . . low pay, criticism by voters, relatives and the press and vast responsibility," Cavin says about small town candidates. "Occasionally this officiousness on our part backfires when a successful candidate takes office and assumes some of the authority he was promised; readers blame us for it."

Baumhart said he "would be happy to cooperate in any way relative to this situation" but urged farmers to apply through their FHA officer in Norwalk.

About 1,150 pupils will report at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 8 for the first full day of the 1959-60 term in Plymouth schools. Buses will run approximately the same time this year.

Children are asked to be ready 15 minutes early on the first day. School closes at 3:30 p.m.

All Plymouth teachers will meet at Madison High school Friday, Sept. 4, at 10 a.m. for an all-day meeting of the association. Suzie sez

There is a man in Portland, Me., whose name is Harry Dunbar that claims he can read character by the way you crack a coconut.

If you use a drill, it means you are fond of children but hate tomatoes in clam chowder. Who likes clam chowder?

If you use a saw, it means you are the kind of person who doesn't return a borrowed pencil, book or wheelbarrow.

If you use a hammer, it means you beat your wife. If you smash the coconut open on a tile floor, it means you are the kind of person who will secretly peek into another's medicine cabinet.

Around our house, we just make faces at the monkeys and they run up the trees and throw the coconuts down at us, already broken. It's a good thing there's no Harry Dunbar around here, or I would have to open my coconuts in the dark.

Pop sings a wonderful song in his cockney accent. It starts out, "I've got a Lovely Bunch of Coconuts." He says it was a soldier's song. Usually this means it's not for me, or so he thinks. But he sang this one all through.

When Pop's in the mood he can sing pretty well. But Mom wouldn't know do if she saw it in a bread pan and can't carry a tune in a bucket.

Isn't it funny how some can and some can't? Some day I am going to tie her down and make her light up a gasper and hold it in her mouth from start to finish. I'll bet all my salary from writing this column that she can't do it.

MADAME found novelty of goods displayed on sidewalks intriguing. These shoppers were caught Friday in West Broadway.

Girl Scout hut to be moved to about gridiron in park here

Plans are underway to move the Girl Scout hut in Mary Faye park to the edge of the football field, the Park board announced Tuesday night.

The hut, in possession of the board for two years since the Girl Scouts gave it up, has been left in its original location because of lack of funds to move it. Meanwhile pranksters have all but demolished it. Windows and doors have been smashed and three gaping holes have been punched through home wall.

Board member Lowell Keith has replaced the windows and the building will be put back in order for use.

Arrangements were also made to repair cracks in the shelters and to put the merry-go-round in working order. Both projects were to be done this month by board member Luther R. Fetters, who was not present at the meeting.

Robert Lewis said the school is replacing several planks in the bleachers. Comment was made on the new lights recently installed by Fetters and Russell Moser. Fixtures which were replaced in the public square were used.

Two fireplaces which are badly in need of repair will be eventually replaced by charcoal burners.

The clerk's report showed that $137 was made this month from rentals. Of this sum, $15 was a gift from Celeryville residents and $45 came from rent for the Teen-Age Rendezvous dances.

Lewis pointed out that the $1,200 allotted to the park board by the council has not been sufficient to run the park and do needed repairs. If voters approve the half mill levy in November, $1,900 will be realized for the maintenance of the park.

Mrs. Sexton alters plea to guilty

Accused will now enter a plea of guilty, Plymouth's police chief said Tuesday.

Plea of innocent was filed in Huron county juvenile court by Mrs. Donald Sexton, 26, on a charge of neglect of her three children laid by her husband, Donald, and enforced by police at Ft. Loudon, Pa.

Mrs. Sexton and her friend, Raymond Bivens, 42, Maple Ridge road, Greenfield township, Huron county, were found by police in a hotel near McConnellsburg.

They waived extradition rights. Bivens, charged with aiding and abetting Mrs. Sexton, also filed a plea of innocent.

She was released under $3,000 property bond for later hearing and trial. Bivens was unable to raise $1,500 property bond and was remanded to jail.

So, all right!

If you don't like a candidate, say so! Say it publicly. Say it so everybody knows it. Say it on the grounds that he isn't sensible, or reasonable, or that he's inexperienced. Or that he doesn't manage his own affairs well enough to warrant your confidence in him to manage your municipal affairs.

But don't say it . . .

on grounds that he (or she) doesn't attend your church . . . or that he smokes one brand against another.

Cinderella in sulky, not pumpkin, as pacers prep for state fair

A "Cinderella" story with much more than a fair share of coming true looms at the Ohio State fair this year when Edgewood Arbiter matches strides with three of the nation's finest three-year-old pacers in the $25,000 Director of Agriculture pace Wednesday, Sept. 2, in one of the four colt classics of the annual harness racing program.

Winding up 11th and last in last year's Buckeye State pace as a two-year-old, Edgewood Arbiter has blossomed this season into one of the best young pacers in the land by winning four of five starts at New York's Vernon Downs against top-notch competition. Owned by Dr. William L. Regan of Wilmington, and trained by Herman Ross of Palestine, Edgewood Arbiter has one victory in 2:01, fastest mile by a three-year-old on any track so far this season.

Butch Harmony was the best two-year-old pacer at the state fair last year with Ohio Time and Right Time close behind. Butch Harmony has been flashing speed on Maryland and upstate New York tracks this season and Right Time was a sensation in winning the Orange County cup at Goshen, N.Y., three weeks ago. Ohio Time also is doing well for Curly Smart. These three are among the 82 eligibles for the Director of Agriculture classic.

The Regan-Ross combination topped the summary in the Director of Agriculture test last year with Edgewood

Averill. This year they are aiming for three of the $20,000 prizes. Edgewood Lind already is a double-winner among two-year-old trotters at Vernon and is eligible for the Ohio State trot on Aug. 31. Edgewood Royal has yet to be beaten in four starts and is among the favorites in the Buckeye State pace for two-year-olds Sept. 1.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

Another football season is all but upon us.

One week from today, Aug. 20, the first whistle blows the OHSAA's 1959 season. Officially, nobody's allowed to have any practices before then. But a careful study of the metropolitan press reveals that in schools where a winning grid team seems to be more important than turning out quality grads, coaches have already started skull sessions.

Not so here. In this last season for the North Central conference (Lodi, Seville and Westfield will be one next season, play in a new league involving Medina county schools) the Tigers are heavy favorites to grab top honors. But none of the schools has started to work yet.

One new head coach will appear in the ranks, at Black River, since Larry Marker has moved on. So have Bud Hala and Tom Davenport. Black River will be down this season.

On final season form, up to last November, Berlin Heights, Lodi and Westfield and Seville should be up there at the top, with Plymouth tough.

Coach Lew Pettit's problem this season is developing linemen of the calibre and speed to match a fast set of backs.

Steve Patterson, a county sprint champion, and Billy Strine, a good passer, head a group of seven seasoned performers who'll report Aug. 20.

Dayton Reed, Fate Christian, Butch Baker, Dan Carter and Jim Russell comprise the remainder of the contingent. To patch up the forward wall, one or more may get defensive duty up front.

Only eight seasoned linemen will report when Pettit blows the first whistle. They include Doug McQuate and Dave Barbour and, Mike DeWitt at center, Tom Myers, Phil Stone, Jay Baker and Phil Ramey at guard and tackle. If Bill Taylor elects to report, Pettit will dance a jig. This doughty fellow is an able workman, but simply does not like the game.

Dick Bowwiler, a long, rangy lad with some heft, was out at the beginning of last season and received an injury which discouraged further participation. If he asks for a suit, Pettit will have another strong card in his hand.

Persuasion

Almost laughable, isn't it?

How can such a tiny tug ever maneuver this 40,000 ton queen of the seas into port?

But this tug knows how to do the job. First, it nudges one side of the liner for a few minutes, gives an encouraging toot of the whistle, and then dashes around to starboard. A few more pushes there, and the liner's bow begins to swing in toward the docks. The tug works hard now, churning up the harbor with its propeller, and lets up only when the steamer finally touches the pier.

A pleasant voyage is over; and the ship is safely berthed through the persuasion of the tiny tug.

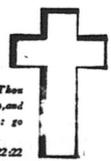

Is there any connection between this familiar harbor scene and the daily work of the churches of America?

There is . . .

For modern religion counts on persuasion to win many of its battles. True, the great bulks of intolerance, fear, hate and greed that sometimes get out of hand loom large against the methods of the church. But through persuasion and understanding, applied in the right places and at the right times, the churches of America are slowly but surely moving these obstacles into proper channels, or disposing of them altogether.

Persuasion—expressed through love, faith, charity and forbearance—is used by your church in helping to fashion a better nation, a better world for us all.

... And he said, Then shall persuade him, and shall prevail also: so forth, and so on.
