

Big Red to preview at Medina with 10 veterans in offense

Plymouth to play period with Seville

King Football ascends his 10-week throne tomorrow. Plymouth's Big Red eleven goes to Medina as guest of the eastern school of the North Central conference for the annual league preview.

Coach Lew Pettit's charges will play Seville's Barbers in a single 12-minute period beginning at 8:20 p.m., EDST.

Remainder of the slate tomorrow:

Western Reserve (formerly Townshend - Wakeman) vs. Westfield at 8 p.m.

Milan vs. Black River at 8:40 p.m.

Berlin Heights vs. Lodi at 9 p.m.

The Big Red will send 10 lettermen into competition on offense. Coach Pettit has installed a flanking end with his split-T offense this season.

BILLY STRINE WILL RUN the club from quarterback. He'll be flanked by Duane (Butch) Baker at left half and Dayton Reed at right half. Fate Christian will do the fullbacking.

Up front, Phil Slone will anchor the line at center. Dave Barbour and Phil Ramey are the guards. Dick Bookwalter will get one tackle assignment. The other is a toss-up between Jim Lawrence and Jay Baker. Doug McQuate and Dan Carter will be the flank men.

On defense, Pettit and his assistants, Ron Hostler and Larry Root, intend to call on Tom Myers, a three-season veteran, as the middle lineman. Gary Fletcher, Everett Eckstein and Ben Root, after a year's absence at a private school, may see some defense duty, although Eckstein has an injured foot and Root hasn't had much practice.

Jack Webber and Dick Lewis will play line backer and safety on defense, Pettit says.

The Big Red coach reminded fans that student tickets may be bought at the school for 35 cents. Otherwise, students pay 50 cents at the gate.

MEETING HOUR MOVED UP 30 MINUTES —

Council hires Burras to survey

Arthur Burras, North Fairfield, was hired Tuesday night to survey property for the proposed municipal building.

Moved by Councilman John T. Dick and seconded by Donald E. Akers, the resolution does not state specifically what

Park board agrees to repair fence

Park board Tuesday night discussed the repairing of the fence bordering the picnic section in Mary Fate park.

It was agreed that a row of posts will be installed in lieu of repairing the low fence which exists now.

Luther R. Fetters, who has been helping Dominic J. Dorion build two merry-go-rounds for the park this summer, announced that one is completed and the second nearly finished. Both will be stored until next spring. Money for them came from the 1958 Plymouth Community Chest.

Location of the Girl Scout house is still undetermined. Once it is relocated more centrally in the park, plans will be made to use it for tool storage.

ELLIS TO GO TO AKRON

Clerk Carl V. Ellis, president of the Ohio Municipal Clerks association, will attend the annual conference of the Ohio Municipal league at Akron Wednesday.

DOG DAMAGE PAID

Damages of $80 were approved by Huron county commissioners for award to Leland Stein, New Haven township, reimbursing him for two ewes and six lambs claimed to have been killed by dogs.

Claims awarded in the county amounted to $541.

property is to be surveyed, which leaves open the possibility of the village acquiring other than the old theater site.

The surveying is merely a legal step suggested by the architect, Thurman Peabody of Norwalk, to assure that no difficulties will arise over the site.

Most of Tuesday's special meeting was devoted to the reading of the newly recoded village ordinances. Minor changes were made.

Meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. All committee and department reports shall be made in writing to be presented at regular meetings for discussion and action by the council as a body.

Special meetings may be called on 24-hour notice by the mayor and at least three council members.

During the reviewing of the mayor's court, the council agreed that 20 names should be drawn from 100 eligible names placed in the jury box. Trying to find 12 voters to serve on a jury when the occasion arises would involve too much time if only 12 were withdrawn and several proved unsatisfactory to either side involved in a jury trial. It was also agreed that the names of eligible voters should be checked every two years by the mayor and clerk to assure a complete list of 100 names still eligible for jury duty.

As far as memories of the council could stretch, it has been almost 10 years since a jury trial has been held in the mayor's court, and the names in the jury box have not been revised since then.

MAIN COGS in split-T with flanker offense talk it over with Coach Lew Pettit. Kneeling, Butch Baker. Standing, Billy Strine and Doug McQuate, all seniors.

Postal exam set

An examination for substitute clerks and carriers for the post office here, with starting salary of $2 an hour, is announced by the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners.

No specific experience is required, but all applicants must pass a written test. They must reside within the delivery area of the Plymouth post office.

Persons interested in taking this examination should obtain application card form 5000-AB from the post office. Applications, when completed, must be mailed to the executive secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, room 42-40, Main Post Office, Cleveland 13.

Applicants will be accepted until further notice.

First day . . .

Mrs. Helen Iceman, 96 Petit street, Shiloh, took her youngest child, Delmer Paul, six, to school for the first time Tuesday. She reduced her emotions to blank verse, thus:

Does anyone forget them? First days, I mean? The day they were born, the first tooth, the first step, the first word? How do you put into words the firsts of a child's life and yours? Now comes the biggest in his life: his first day in school. 'Til now you have been his most important one. Now he has found a whole new world and you've slipped to second place. I had to leave him to someone else. Someone else will take Mommy's place for the biggest part of his day. I went home to a place that had been loud to his cries and hollers; now it is strangely quiet. This is a first in my life, a first of quiet and peace. The earth moved for me today. I felt it.

1,171 report at school

A record enrollment of 1,171 pupils reported Tuesday morning as Plymouth schools began the 1959-60 year.

Three hundred 40 reported at Plymouth Elementary school, 318 at Shiloh Elementary school, 255 at Shiloh Junior High school and 258 at Plymouth High school.

Mrs. Helen Beatty, a veteran Latin teacher who taught the past four years at Madison High school in Mansfield, reported to teach that subject in the high school. Her contract, with reference to the existing salary schedule, was formally approved by the board of education Wednesday night.

Enrollment by grades was: Twelfth, 70; 11th, 105; 10th, 83; ninth, 72; eighth, 86; seventh, 97; sixth, 103; fifth, 123; fourth, 101; third, 104; second, 108; first, 119.

Shilohans' kin succumb

Last rites were conducted Sept. 2 for Ray Irelan, 73, stepfather of Mrs. Arthur Hamman and Joseph Irelan of Shiloh.

An employee of Mitflin inn, he died Aug. 31 in route to Ashland's Samaritan hospital.

His wife, Eva; a son, Charles, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Lucas; a brother, Ron, in Wood county; two step-daughters, Mrs. Alex Charles Cathers, Bucyrus, and a step-son, Marvin Cnagy, Amherst, also survive.

4-Hers gift for junior fair

Big event of the year for Huron county 4-Hers begins Tuesday when the Junior Fair opens in Norwalk.

Most of the youngsters have planned all summer for these days. They have fed and cared for livestock, built electric and woodworking projects, raised crops, cooked meals and sewed, with each experience adding a new skill to their command.

There will be prizes and trophies for some, ribbons for others, and experience and excitement for everyone. Some 4-Hers will grin when handed a blue ribbon. Others may shed a tear as their steer or lamb is sold for slaughter at the Junior Fair livestock sale Sept. 19. It's all part of the fun and activity around the Junior Fair buildings.

Over a thousand Huron county 4-H club members will be showing about 1,300 projects, largest in the history of the Junior Fair, according to Carlos Tucker, county extension agent (4-H).

Here's a day-by-day rundown on Junior Fair activities at the Fair, Tuesday through Sept. 19.

Tuesday: All exhibits will be in place by 6 p.m. Girls' 4-H club booths and school home economics projects will be judge din the evening.

Wednesday: Judging of dairy cattle, swine, sheep, poultry, farm crops and shop.

Thursday: 4-H girls and boys demonstrations, beef cattle judging.

Sept. 18: Junior Fair parade at 11:15 a.m. Presentation of special awards at 2:30 p.m.

Plymouth High school band will play in the afternoon. Sept. 19: Junior Fair sale of marketable livestock at 10:30 a.m. 4-H saddle horse and pony judging from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Echelberrys' cat has only six lives left

Mickey is a four-month-old alley cat belonging to the children of the Kenneth Echelberrys who's used up three of her nine lives.

Life No. 1: She was dropped from the family car in Plymouth street, was found later after diligent search.

Life No. 2: She was run over by Mrs. Echelberry, who didn't see the animal under the wheels of the family sedan.

Life No. 3: She secreted herself in the frame of the same sedan and rode there 78 miles to Massillon, where the Echelberrys visited her sister and brother-in-law, the R. Byron Griests. When the Echelberrys arrived and their children commenced to play with their cousins, Mickey stepped down from the axle and announced her presence with a wounded "meow."

What Mickey is apt to do next is anybody's guess.

Perhaps some of her fortitude comes from the canine species: the family dog, Brownie, nursed the cat for a time. Even denied her own family milk at the cat's expense.

Young Kevin Echelberry held Mickey for camera.

Water policy debated

Policy governing extension of water mains was broached by the Board of Public Affairs Monday night, but no decision was taken.

The board set forth informally some basic planks in its platform:

1. To push ahead with better water service in West Broadway as first priority action.

2. To aim for the establishment of improved water pressure by construction of a water loop in Walnut street.

Youth, 19, indicted

A rural Willard youth has been indicted by Huron county grand jury on charges of burglary at C. E. Davis' store in New Haven.

He is Gladden Rinker, 19.

3. To consider whether a bond issue to finance the entire project is a better way to solve the problem than by piecemeal attack involving assessment against benefitting property holders.

4. To plan for definitive action in the spring, when a bond issue — if it is eventually decided to finance the program that way — can be placed on the primary ballot at no additional expense to the village.

If piecemeal solution is decided upon, the board apparently intends to utilize some of its surplus in the water fund to pay for what it regards as the public share of the expense of extension in West Broadway. It would then assess benefitting property holders for what would be regarded as the private share of the expense.

Father-son duo to drive separately in Jug

A highly personal duel between father and son, each with a strong potential winner of the $75,000 Little Brown Jug, will feature the 14th edition of the classic for three-year-old pacers at the Delaware County fair Sept. 24.

Del Cameron, 39, is the father, with two Jug victories already in the record books. Walter, 19, is the clever chip off the old block, who distinguished himself on Hambletonian day at DuQuoin, Ill., by racing off with the initial heat of the Geers Stake, with Del only a whisker behind.

Del won the Jug with Forbes Chief in 1947 and again in 1951 with the renowned Tar Heel, who paced the first two minute mile in the Jug. He trains Newport Admiral and Newport Amiga, two strong threats in the pacing derby. Warren, who copped the Geers initial heat driving Amigo, ended up with a 1-3-4 score. Dad, up behind Admiral, sank the opposition 2-1-1.

That a new speed mark will be set in the Jug is practically a sure bet. Newport Admiral, like his stablemate, owned by Octave Blake's (he's proxy of the Grand Circuit) Newport Stock Farm, South Plainfield, N. J., won in 1:59.1 and Amigo flashed home first in 2:00.3, indicating trouble for such rivals as Meadow Al, Meadow Maid, Adios Day, Bristol Hanover, Adios Butler, who already has the first two legs of pacing's Triple Crown, Car-loader and other certain starters of uncertain attainments.

Jug equine history is full of upsets, such as the one that hit Bye Bye Byrd last year. As winner of the Geers in 1958 in a mile clocked in 1:57.4, this pacer was figured unbeatable at Delaware. Instead, Shadow Wave copped the sulky classic.

Torpid, who won the Geers in 1957, went on to capture the Jug, but one must go back to Tar Heel, driven by Del in 1951, to find a dual winner of Geers and Jug.

Dudley's Lady, owned by Gene and Don Hayes, DuQuoins, also must be considered as a Jug threat after her 2-1-2 performance at DuQuoin last week in the stake named after her dam, Dudley Hanover, who won the 1950 Jug.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

The lid comes off another schoolboy football season this week.

The value of competitive sport in developing young character has long since been firmly established. The importance of keeping it in its proper place has been emphasized time and again. It's one reason why public funds may not be spent for athletics by Ohio schools; the athletic program must be separately financed, from its own earnings.

Which is what is being done by North Central conference schools. They rely upon public support at the ticket office to finance the athletic program.

The O. T. has several times sounded off on what he thinks is wrong with how the program is administered. And the time is ripe to lay it on the line again about football program.

We're certain that no action will be taken, or only token action at best.

And we're equally certain that one way to head off trouble, such as that which brewed last season in the Westfield - Townsend - Wakeman contest, in which Roughrider player Bill Klucas was injured, is to keep grandstand quarterbacks where they belong — in the grandstand.

We've attended games in each of the stadia of the participating schols save one — Milan. And each time the failure of the home team to control the fans has led to circumstances that we feel are inimical to proper schoolboy development.

For a group of hard-talking, usually hard-drinking fans to cross the field and crowd the sideline away from the stands seems to be de rigeur. They don't respect the sidelines (it's common for the head linesman to lose track of sideline markers) and they more often than not stimulate players to breach the rules.

We've seen the forbidden bottle pass back and forth. We've heard language that would shame a longshoreman. We've watched chicanery of all sorts from moving the yard markers and the down sticks to jostling of an official.

It ought to be stopped. But we'll bet our bottom dollar it isn't.

And if the renewal of the Westfield vs. Townsend-Wakeman scrap breaks out in incendiary fashion (and we're not discussing the merits of the arguments of either side herein), don't say we didn't warn 'em.

Keep the grandstand quarterbacks in the stands where they belong.

THANK YOU TO THE nice lady who sent my Pop some nice words about me. I just wish he would let me see me.

But Pop says that is what makes tight hat band, which he says is a bad disease for young girls like me. I think he is all wet, but just try and argue with him! Even Mom doesn't get anywhere!

POP SHOWED ME A PICTURE in a magazine piece about English schools. Pupils there are supposed to wear uniforms. The line under the picture said this helps parents, because one or two uniforms cost less than six or seven dresses or pairs of slacks and sweaters. This may be so. Pop said he sometimes wishes our schools would make us wear uniforms.

I can just see them: a nice gray with black stripes an inch wide and an inch apart running around them, parallel with the ground.

They might as well stamp numbers on the back, too.

I HAD MY HAIR CUT AND Pop and Mom have been giving me a ribbing. At least I think it is. I can't believe they would say those hateful things about my hair and mean them.

My hair may be as bad as they say it is, but I like it. And since it's my hair, that's all that counts.

Homecoming set at Tiro

Tiro's Homecoming, staged by its Lions club, takes place tomorrow.

Mrs. Keith Gooding, Columbus, was a weekend visitor of her parents, the Clarence O. Cramers. Having completed an six-month engagement as organist at Cambridge, she is now appearing at New Max's restaurant, Columbus. She was recently the subject of Ben Hayes' column, "Around Columbus", in the Columbus Citizen.

Mrs. E. R. Johnson and son, Gerald, Ft. Wayne, Ind., were holiday visitors of Christian Weber and his sister, Elizabeth.

NECK-DEEP IN TREATMENT

For many years, neuralgia victims had to endure such treatments as using packs of hot sand. There's a world of difference in today's remedies. Thanks to medical science, they're reliable. But don't use any medication indiscriminately. Your physician should be your guide . . . he's the only person qualified to decide when you need medication. Let him do the diagnosing and prescribing. We'll be glad to fill his prescriptions for you.

Virginia Dent becomes bride of R. D. Moffett in Shiloh rites

Miss Virginia Joyce Dent Russell Dean Moffett exchanged wedding vows Sunday in Mt. Hope Lutheran church. The Rev. Dr. C. W. Cassel read the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dent of Shiloh are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Moffett of Lucas. The chancel was decorated with beauty baskets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Earl Huston, organist, and Miss Marilyn Dent, sister of the bride furnished musical music, "Wedding Prayer" and "I Love You Truly" were sung by Miss Dent.

Mr. Dent gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor length gown of white taffeta with long sleeves and a sweetheart neckline, accented by a bow bustle and a row of self-covered buttons down the back.

Her veil was of silk illusion net over a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible with a corsage of white carnations surrounded by white pompons and lilies of the valley.

Miss Frances Bloom, maid of honor, was attired in mint green. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Joyce Lake and the Misses Judy Patterson and Judy Hamman, wore shades of gold, antique gold, and yellow. All wore matching mitts and crowns of feathers and seed pearls covered by matching circular veils. They carried cascade bouquets of baby chrysanthemums in bronze and yellow.

Bridegroom chose Tom McMillan of Lucas as his best man. Ushers were James Moffett, Leonard Herring and Larry Hammett, all of Lucas.

One hundred 25 guests were present for the reception in the social rooms of the church. Mrs. Wallace Harnly was hostess. Miss Wallace Ann Harnly registered guests in the bridal book.

The bride, a graduate of Shiloh High school, and is employed as a clerk-typist by the Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co.

Mr. Moffett is a graduate of Lucas High school and is now a student at Ashland college. He is presently employed by Carl Schenk, Masonry-Construction Inc. After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the young couple will reside at 109½ College Avenue, Ashland.

Mrs. Henry named for trip to UN Oct. 5

Mrs. Thomas Henry will attend United Nations General Assembly special and meetings of specialized UN agencies in New York Oct. 5, 6 and 7 as delegate of Plymouth W.S.C.S.

Society voted Sept. 1 to send Mrs. Henry on the mission. She will leave from Lorain Oct. 4.

W.S.C.S. will stage a bake sale in Robby's at 10 a.m. Sept. 19. "All baked goods will be home baked goods," the committee says, "there will be no packaged mixes used."

Mrs. Ira Ross will conduct a study course on "Portrait of Christ as Written by St. Luke" in the parsonage. It begins Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

LOCALS

The Roy Loflands, Plymouth East road, and their son and daughter-in-law, the Chester Loflands, have returned from the west, where they spent three weeks and only just averted the earthquake in Montana. They visited the elder Mrs. Lofland's brother and sister-in-law, the E. C. Sheelys, at Coeur d'Alene, Ida., finding them in good health at the time. Upon their return, they were informed Mr. Sheely had succumbed to a heart attack in his 84th year.

Striker was called on by Manager George Metkovich in relief of Carl Thomas. He hurled four and a third innings against Sacramento and preserved Thomas' lead. He allowed one run on four hits, fanning two and passing three. His ERA: 2.96, still ninth best in the PCL.

Striker may be summoned by Cleveland for pitching help, in the final two weeks of the season. PCL play ends Sept. 19.

He'll do two weeks of Army service at Ft. Knox, Ky., Oct. 4-15.

SUNDAES, SODAS AND SHAKES

There's summer fun for all the family by creating a soda fountain right in your own home.

Ice cream sauces are the basis for delicious sundaes, sodas, shakes, banana splits and parfaits. Rich and satin smooth sauces are made with instant pudding mix, corn syrup and Pet Evaporated Milk.

Two full cups of home-made sauce cost about 30 cents, and because they need no cooking, only five minutes are required to prepare this soda fountain treat.

A variety of sauces may be made for your own old-fashioned ice cream parlor, but chocolate is sure to be a favorite with young and old.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE:
1 package chocolate instant pudding
2½ cup light or dark corn syrup
¼ cup Pet Evaporated Milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix pudding and syrup until smooth. Gradually stir in Pet Evaporated Milk and vanilla. Let stand until thickened, about 10 minutes. Makes 2 cups.

SUMMER SODAS
½ cup chocolate sauce
1½ cups softened ice cream
2½ cup Pet Evaporated Milk (1 small can)

Two 7-oz. bottles soda pop
Put sauce into a large bowl with ice cream and Pet Evaporated Milk. Beat with electric mixer at low speed or rotary hand beater until well mixed. Stir in soda pop. Pour over scoops of ice cream in 4 tall glasses.

SUPER SHAKES
2½ cup chocolate sauce
1 pint softened ice cream
1 cup Pet Evaporated Milk
½ cup water

Put sauce into a large bowl with ice cream and Pet Evaporated Milk and water. Beat with rotary hand beater just until mixed. Pour into 4 tall glasses.

Sundaes, banana splits and parfaits are just as simple. Put a generous portion of sauce over your favorite ice cream and add fruits and nuts to make these soda fountain treats. Don't forget, if there is any sauce left . . . cover and keep in the refrigerator.
