Hospitalized since Oct. 30, 1958, Mrs. Jessie Hazel Lofland, 66, died in Shelby Memorial hospital at 12:07 a.m. Monday.

She was at home with her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Henry, for Christmas but failed substantially thereafter.

Born July 7, 1892, in Crawford county, Mrs. Lofland was the daughter of C. Delbert and Jennie Marsh Hamman.

A member of Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, she is survived by a son, Robert, Shelby; another daughter, Mrs. Howard Clark, Plymouth; six grandchildren and two brothers, Grover Hamman, Cleveland, and Otha Hamman, Mansfield.

Her pastor, the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Cassel, conducted a funeral service from the McQuate Funeral home, Shiloh, yesterday at 2 p.m. Pallbearers for interment in Mt. Hope cemetery were Mr. Clark and Mr. Henry, her sons-in-law; Aiden Lofland and Jack and Dean Hamman, her nephews, and Carl Clawson, brother-in-law of her daughter.

Father of Dr. Darrell B. Faust, 82-year-old Charles P. Faust died in Willard Municipal hospital Saturday after a brief illness.

Born Mar. 28, 1877, in Mansfield, he lived there all his life, for many years at 190 East Third street. He was a retired employee of Railway Express Co.

Mrs. Faust, the former Lola M. Baker, and four granddaughters are the only other survivors.

After funeral services at 2-30 p.m. Tuesday from the Wappner Funeral home in Mansfield, interment was in the family plot at Lucas.

An eight-month illness was fatal at 11:30 a.m. Saturday to Thornton A. Kissell, Shiloh route 2, 68-year-old retired truck driver for Page Hatchery.

Born in Ashland county Feb. 9, 1891, he lived at his late address nine years. He retired three years ago.

His wife, Lona; his step-mother, Mrs. Ida Mitchell, Ashland; two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Geiger, Savannah, and Mrs. Eugene Milheim, Ashland, and a brother, Karney, Newcomerstown, survive.

The Rev. Frank Ferrell conducted last rites Tuesday at 2 p.m. from Gilbert Funeral home, Ashland, with burial in Shenandoah cemetery.

Mr. Reber loses brother, Alfred, on Christmas day

Brother of Joseph Reber, Alfred A. Reber, 71, died early Christmas day at the home of his brother, Leonard R., with whom he lived, in Sharon township.

Born in Henry county Nov. 15, 1888, he lived in this area 14 years. He was a member of Most Pure Heart of Mary Roman Catholic church, whose pastor, the Rev. M. A. McFadden, conducted a funeral service in the church at 10 a.m. Dec. 30. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Another brother, Steve, Shelby, and two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Swain and Mrs. Bertha Giesege, New Bavaria, also survive.

Candidate for the title, Miss Methodist Student Nurse of 1960, is Karen Buckingham, senior in the Flower hospital school of nursing. She will compete with candidates from 51 other Methodist hospitals

Six residences share Yule prizes

Christmas decoration prizes awarded by the Community club went to six homes this year.

Chosen by a committee of Thos. Woodworth, chairman, Evan P. LaFollette, and Edward O. Ramsey, winners were the homes of Wallace Redden, Orville Gullett, H. Paul Baker, Donald Shaver, William B. Ross and Harold H. Farrar. Each received $5.

Book turnover among juveniles unaffected by TV

The idiot box may be influencing adult reading habits but it isn't changing juvenile ones, Mrs. Harold F. Shaffer, librarian, revealed this week.

Her circulation report for 1959 shows a total of 14,910 loans, of which 11,442 were in the juvenile category. Only 2-300 adult fiction and 1,268 adult non-fiction loans were recorded.

But sunny weather and Christmas activities cut into library business, her report shows.

Loans during August, when the weather was fair and families took vacations, were only 991. During December, in the height of the Yule season, they were 993.

Juvenile fiction loans: 3,225; juvenile non-fiction, 2,625; juvenile non-fiction reading loans, 5,492.

By months, in addition to August and December: January, 1,173; February, 1,280; March, 1,412; April, 1,581; May, 1,177; June, 1,300; July, 1,138; September, 1,140; October, 1,300; November, 1,427.

Library board will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Mrs. Shaffer's home.

Bank gets county deposit

Peoples National bank will be the depository of 12.5 per cent of Huron county's inactive funds, county commissioners ruled last week.

Sum of $20,000 will be deposited in the bank at its bid interest of three per cent.

Other Huron county banks sharing in the $25,000 deposits are Wakeman Banking Co., $30,000; New London Savings & Loan, $45,000; Willard United, $50,000; Monroeville Farmers & Citizens, $25,000; Bellevue Union Bank & Savings, $40,000; Huron County Banking Co., Norwalk, $20,000; Citizens Banking Co., Norwalk, $20,000.

Active funds of the county are required by law to be deposited in a county seat bank. These are divided between the two banks operating in Nor-

Three more seek offices

Arthur Leak, lifelong resident of Ripley township, circulated petitions to contest the GOP nomination for Huron county commissioner.

He will vie with incumbent Arthur Herner, James Ferris of Norwalk and A. H. Deppen of New London for the two vacancies. Herner's term expires and Harry Van Buskirk is retiring.

An employee of the Green-White Mill & Elevator Co. at Boughtonville, Leak operates a 113-acre farm. He is serving his 18th year as trustee of Ripley township.

A fifth and sixth aspirant came forward for Huron county's best elective job, the office of sheriff.

George W. Baker, a foundry molder, seeks the GOP nomination. Deputy Sheriffs John Borgia and Herbert Schaffer have already filed petitions.

Newest Democratic candidate is William Keinkek, Norwalk. Robert Lynch, who was defeated by Harry Broom last time, and Paul Simon, both Norwalkians, are the other Democratic candidates.

Baker was born and reared in Cleveland, has lived in the county seat 13 years as an employee of Norwalk Foundry Co., and as a Legionnaire has been a State Highway patrol auxiliary patrolman for seven years.

Additionally, Baker claims, he has received 650 hours of patrol classroom instruction.

Married he is the father of three daughters. Keinkek was born in Knox county but has lived in Norwalk 25 years, 20 of which as salesman for Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and five as salesman for P & R Electric.

Local man dies in chase

A 25-year-old resident of Plymouth street was killed and a companion injured Dec. 26 after a hectic, 80-mile-an-hour police chase that ended in a ditch in Section Line road near Willard Marsh Hunting area.

Hobart Ellis Thornsberry, who with his wife and small child occupied the Kruger house at Plymouth street and Mill avenue, died when his car ran several stop signs. After pursuit that sometimes reached 100 m. p. h. speed, police said, Thornsberry lost control of his vehicle and overturned.

Willard Fire department was summoned to prevent explosion or fire after the car upset.

It was learned Thornsberry and Bolsh had been drinking in a tavern at Centerton, whence they were ejected for failure to pay a $9 beer check.

Thornsberry's wife, Novonina, and his daughter, Patricia Ann, three, his father, in Dayton, and several brothers and sisters in Kentucky survive.

Record $31 tax bill announced here

Real estate taxes in Plymouth will rise by $1.90 for each $1,000 of assessment in 1960, it was announced last week.

Tax rate for the village will be $31 per $1,000 in assessment, as compared with $29.10 last year.

This rate makes Plymouth the third most expensive village to live in in Huron county. Following figures were released by Auditor Bearnard F. Keen:

New London, $37.40; Wakeman, $33; Monroeville, $30.30; Greenwich, $29; North Fairfield, $29.20.

City rates are Bellevue, $33.50; Norwalk, $31.70, and Willard, $31.

Fido must have tag to escape pound

Dog licenses are required for all dog owners by Jan. 20.

During 1959 and several previous years many dog owners were fined in the county courts for failure to obtain tags. Fines may be imposed after Jan. 20. Law requires the tag to be worn, or there is likelihood of impounding and destruction.

Dogs are registered at the county auditor's office, where a sign indicates dog tags may be obtained. In other years considerable confusion has been caused in all other offices by quests for dog tags. Huron county auditor's office will register about 3,000 dogs, the remainder is registered by the local registrars, who have been at the same locations for a number of years in every community in the county. Mail applications may also be made, in the event of bad weather or illness.

A long career of Scouting was recognized last week when H. James Root was elected chairman of the Black Fork district Scout committee.

Boy Scouting will mark its golden anniversary in February.

Black Fork district includes Shelby and Plymouth areas.

first time in recent history the council recessed to caucus.

Salary schedule offered by the finance committee and approved by unanimous vote, to be presented in emergency ordinance Tuesday at 8 p.m., follows:

Police chief up $180 to $4,580
Cemetery sexton up $150 to $3,750
Street supervisor up $150 to $3,750

Power chief up to $5,400
Asst. power chief up to $5,000
Assistant clerk up to $2,400
Semi-skilled labor up 15c to $1.65

Mayor William Fazio said the pay schedule was reconciled with those of nearby communities of the same size, notably Greenwich. "The raises may seem small to those who're getting them," he said, "but the finance committee had to make do with what it had to do with."

NO RECOMMENDATIONS were made as to the request for sick leave. "About two-thirds of the communities of our size which are members of the Ohio Municipal league don't have any provisions for sick leave," Donald E. Akers said, "and we didn't make any recommendations. Of course, some day we may have to do it."

Fire Chief Judson A. Morrison withdrew his resignation. Louis Lillo quit as fireman because of conflict of interest between that post and trustee of public affairs.

Morrison reported 20 fire calls in 1959, of which 14 were in Plymouth, three in New Haven township, three in Plymouth township. Damages by his estimate here were $27-430, $178 in New Haven and $725 in Plymouth township. The Ramsey fire in February was not the principal factor in the high damage figure, he said. "Smoke damage is far more than fire damage," he said.

SOLICITOR JOSEPH F. Dush of Willard was re-engaged at $600 annually after the council caucused to discuss his application and those of two others, Robert A. McKown and Robert Thornton.

The fact that other applications, one of which said Dush had resigned, were filed with the council was unusual and nobody was saying whether they were solicited. Under pressure of questioning by the press, Mayor Fazio admitted "there has been some dissatisfaction with Mr. Dush" but asserted he could not say whether this fact had been communicated to Dush. It was understood some councilmen wanted to dump Dush because he is alleged to have opposed purchase of the Ramsey theatre site.

So far as council hangers-on could recall, Dush never advised the council whether to buy or not to buy the property.

When the caucus was over, Dush was nominated and confirmed by unanimous vote.

A new committee — for zoning and industrial development — is among appointments by Mayor Fazio.

Big school merger hinges on action by Huron Valley

Solution of the long-standing school fuss in southern Huron county hinges upon action of Huron Valley Board of Education, which unintentionally debated consolidation with South Central before about 75 patrons of the district.

South-Central's new board voted, 5 to 0, to request the Huron county board to consolidate it with Huron Valley.

Huron Valley still has the matter under advisement. Vocal opposition to the move was expressed by a pro-Willard faction at the organizational meeting Monday night.

Neil Slessman was elected president, Willard Fritz vice-president, by the new board, which decreed it will meet formally the second Monday of each month at 8 p.m. at New Haven.

WHAT THE PRO-WILLARD group apparently wanted was a commitment that its hands won't be tied by the board if it decides to move counter to the Willard group's notions. Should the board act without reasonable notice, the group said, it couldn't protect its interests.

Assurance that the board won't jeopardize anybody's rights was given by the board. Exploratory talks intending to lead to consolidation of Huron Valley and South Central local school districts were conducted at New Haven Dec. 28 as non-county seat newspapermen levelled charges of "secret meetings."

A county seat newspaper was represented and reported the meeting at considerable interest.

Morrison elected president as school board organizes

Judson A. Morrison, for nearly 16 years a retail petroleum products distributor here, was elected president of Plymouth Board of Education Monday night.

There was no other nomination. The board caucused privately before the election.

Mrs. Miles Christian, the new member, nominated Gerald Stanley for the vice-presidency and he was elected unanimously.

Evan P. LaFollette was re-appointed clerk, at $1,800 annually. He said he would serve until the present bonding proceedings have been completed, whereupon he thinks the job should become full time.

Mrs. Kenneth Myers was continued in the post of assistant clerk at $1,000 annually, but the board made no commitment on the full-time post ON ITS BID OF THREE per cent interest for inactive funds, Peoples National bank won election, as official depository for the board. First National Bank of Mansfield (Shiloh branch) also bid.

The board will meet officially on the second Wednesday of each month in the office of the executive head.

David E. Cook swore the new member, Mrs. Christian, and the holdover, Donald P. Markley.

Committees appointed by Morrison were Cook and Mrs. Christian, finance; Stanley and Markley, buildings and grounds; Markley and Stanley, transportation.

LEO RAPIS, VOCATIONAL agriculture instructor, resigned effective Dec. 31. A recent graduate of Ohio State university, Harvey Toal, was hired on a six-month contract to succeed him, at a salary rate of $5,200 annually.

Executive head of the schools, Maynard J. Coon, was empowered to address a letter to the council of the village of Shiloh requesting that North street west of the NYC tracks, Westmach street north of the water tower and the extension of Brennen street which lies parallel to the NYC tracks be closed to public traffic.

Coon told the board that present thoroughfares on those streets interfere with orderly management of the school. He said some vehicles invade the playground and the athletic events staged on the baseball field. Closing of Brennen street will be a safety factor, he said, because children will be deterred from crossing the tracks where they are not guarded.

Nielsen topples
700 pins in singles

First grid contests proved suspicions

First football contests of 19-60 showed this observer some facts he had suspected were true all along.

The first is that Big Ten football this season was only of the run-of-the-mill variety, certainly not up to the conference standard. And Wisconsin, although it was undisputed champion, wasn't any more than a fair-to-middling outfit.

That the Badgers were walloped so badly in the Rose Bowl showed, among other things, that a good colored boy will go abroad if he gets a chance to play, and pound for pound, the colored boys are as good as, of not better than, any white one.

Without the two sterling players of the colored race, Washington wouldn't have beaten Wisconsin so badly.

And without Ernie Davis, Syracuse wouldn't have whipped Texas, though there is some reason to believe Texas may have beaten itself, with its unsportsmanlike conduct toward Davis and the other Negroes on the Orange squad. Art Baker was the key man in the Orange attack and Texas would have had a tough time of it containing him even with even tempo.

Another fact which the O.

T. has long proclaimed was demonstrated incontrovertibly before the New Year. It is that Yankee football can beat the socks off Southern football. Witness what the Blue did to the Gray, in a series heretofore dominated — and rigged — to favor the Southern players, who have a much longer playing season, don't have to travel so far, play before a home crowd, and whose range of selection is so much larger because the South has more eligible teams and fewer playing in post-season games because the level of the competence is what it is.

What the North did to the South at Miami merely confirmed it.

FINALLY, FOOTBALL AS we know it may be an American game, whose best practitioners are Americans born and bred. But so far as we could see, some of its best exponents during the Bowl season were foreigners who never played high school bowl in this country, yet whose interest in athletics led them to the gridiron in college, where Don Nielsen won the singles with a combined total of 700 pins, actual plus handicap, and Art Heck and Jim Metz topped the doubles with a record-breaking 1,366 as the 14th annual Willard City Bowling tournament closed.

Metz bowled 677 actual pins to lead the record-setting duo.

After Nielsen came Lee Gordon, Don Moll, Neil Slessman, Gene Forster, Jack Terveen, Frank Crall, Harold Danhoff, Wally Redden, Bob Kuhn, Len Playko and Harold Smeltz, in that order.

Harold Danhoff and Gerry Van Lou took second in the doubles, followed by Don Nielsen and Paul Bond, George Ujvari and Lee Gordon, Doc Chapman and Tony Fenner, Walt Johanning and Jim Davis, Don Evans and Bob Taylor, and Carroll Keefer and Gene Stutzer.

Lee Gordon, Nielsen, Metz and Jim Gardner were leading the all-events rolling to be determined finally this week.

Dorothy Slessman won the women's singles and will be honored at the spring banquet. Janet Chapman and Jane Slessman will receive the doubles award.

The name isn't Wa(i)ls ..

it's WALLS, and he's got sure-fire success formula

Coach Grant Walls bled copiously for 27 minutes in Norwalk High school gymnasium Saturday night.

But he had no need to do so. For Walls had the infallible formula to prevent bleeding: two elongated basketball players, Bob Middaugh and Dave Culver, and a homer referee. It produced a 57 to 53 win.

Walls squawked and moaned and waved the sobbing towel until slightly more than five minutes were left in the contest. His bleats, interspersed with locker room profanity hardly the sort of thing for circulation in a family newspaper, were directed to the referee.

But that striped-shirted functionary (and there were three, among them Shelby Couch Chuck Williams, who said the stripes on his shirt go the wrong way) began to blow his whistle in Norwalk's favor at this point.

Plymouth led, 44 to 48, with slightly over six minutes left. The referee — the umpire was Tony Aiello, Western Reserve coach, whose role was passive — blew six straight offenses against the Big Red and before the Truckers had left the foul line they had forged to a one-point lead, 45 to 44.

Steve Patterson tied it up with a free throw and popped a one-handed set shot from the red line to set up a 47-45 count.

HERE THE TRUCKERS got the benefit of some more homer officiating and built a five point margin, 52 to 47, which Plymouth was never able to overcome.

The final horn found Patterson and a big Norwalkian, Culver, who had delivered the boy a terrible beating throughout the game, swapping punches in mid-floor. The teams dispersed but Patterson still had a free throw to convert, which he failed to do.

The Norwalk coach and crowd seemed amazed that such a little school as Plymouth could produce such shooting and floor play. Had Plymouth's shots had any luck at all, notably in the second period, when no less than 10 popped out, the Big Red would have won this one handily.

The Truckers have a splendid defense which works well because it has height. Its offense is good, but not sensational, and seems less effective when Middaugh, the blond giant, is playing the corner.

After the game, two class AA coaches approached the press table with volunteered comments about the poor officiating. One of them was Williams.

Bookwalter, Patterson score 23 each as Red raps Crestline

Plymouth's Big Red had an easy time of it in disposing of Crestline in an independent contest Dec. 29.

Dick Bookwalter and Steve Patterson led the winners to a 90 to 61 victory with outpunches of 23 points each.

That Patterson is beginning to score suggests Coach Harold Daup may be altering his strategy somewhat. Patterson is an uncommonly fine shot and for two seasons established a good record for scoring. This season, or at least that much of it as preceded the Crestline contest, he has been employed primarily as a playmaker and steersman, a "feeder" in basketball parlance, which of necessity has cut down on his scoring.

It may be that Daup has seen the innate weakness in the Ohio State attack, which doesn't utilize the fine shot-making abilities of such as Larry Siegfried, and switched his guards, or such of them as can shoot, to the firing line. Jim Russell made 10 points from another guard post.

It was a romp for the Red, which had seven players on the scoring sheet. Frank Miller, Crestline center, dumped four buckets and nine free throws for 17 to lead the visitors, who never had a chance.

Red seeks RCL title at Bellville

Sporting an unblemished Richland county league record of four wins and an overall 7-2 record, Plymouth's Big Red sets out for Bellville tomorrow to settle the loop championship for 1960.

The Jays also have an undefeated league record and ought to be favored on their home floor.

But on form, Phil the Filbert yesterday predicted the Big Red will win by nine points.

TOMORROW'S ENGAGEMENT is the first of six league contests during January, four of them on the road. After meeting the Blue Jays, the Big Red will tackle Union at home, Butler and Lucas on the road, Ontario at home and Lexington away.

Coach Harold Daup's squad ought to have an undefeated season but for one cold night and one severe jobbing by a homer referee.

A Norwalk, the Big Red was outscored from the field and the Truckers did poorly from the foul line. But fairer officiating would have cut down the bruising Norwalk rebounders and equalized the height advantage, to some extent. Too, incredible bad luck with field goal tries in the second period, when 10 shots dished in and out, cost the local quintet a good lead.

COACH HAROLD DAUP will start Dick Bookwalter at center, with an overall 19.5 points-per-game average. Steve Patterson, coming into his own again as a shooting guard, and Jim Russell will handle the back court jobs. Craig Harnly, whose shooting is steadily becoming the bright spot of the attack, and Marv Cok will go at forward.

Bill Taylor has dropped from the squad, it was announced.

If the Big Red can down the Jays on their home floor, there is little doubt that it can steam undefeated to the league title, based on form and past record.

But roundball is a funny game, as Coach Daup goes to great lengths to assert, and an off night can cost even a great team a black eye.

It is likely that Jerry Daron will get the call replace Taylor. Ray Lynch and Billy Strine have been filling the role of "swing man" in the Plymouth lineup.

LUMPS FROM APIS MELLIFERA

Most people avoid bees—for obvious reasons. Rheumatism sufferers of old, however, tried to get stung. They thought bee stings were an effective treatment for rheumatism. Now most of us prefer the more reliable—and painless—remedies of today. Thanks to medical science we have many safe, fast-acting pain relievers. Other powerful drugs, too. When you're ill, take advantage of these newer medications—but only upon the advice of your physician. Then let us render complete prescription service.

Suzie sez

Pop says that ever since a Mr. Alger Hiss got tripped up by Mr. Nixon because he was a bird watcher and noticed a prothonotary warbler (Pop had to help me spell that one!) bird watching is for the birds.

I have never studied birds very much but my friend Mr. Haas is a bird watcher. He has something to do with the National Audubon society, which makes a survey of birds at Christmas each year.

Mr. Haas and two of his friends, Mr. Vance Snyder and Mr. Coon, made their count on Jan. 2. The weather wasn't very good for birds (on the next day Pop and Chip saw some men swimming in the quarry, and they said it wasn't very good for men either!) but they saw 888 birds belonging to 26 species.

Mr. Haas sent us a list of what they saw and this is it: two marsh hawks, two sparrow hawks, 35 Bobwhites, 29 mourning doves, one great horned owl, one long ear owl, one belted kingfisher, three yellow-shafted flicker, three red-headed woodpeckers, four hairy woodpeckers, 11 downy woodpeckers, 35 horned larks, 19 bluejays, one crow, 20 black-capped chickadees, 25 tufted titmouses, 11 white-breasted nuthatches, one brown creeper, 24 robins, 231 starlings, 220 house sparrows, 25 cardinals, 10 slate-colored juncos, 163 tree sparrows, one field sparrow and 12 song sparrows.

The list that Mr. Haas gave me has it spelled "titmouse" without the "s". I asked Pop why it shouldn't be "titmice" because "mice" is the plural of "mouse". I should have known better, because he started on one of those long explanations. Mom says the plural of "titmouse" is titmouses, following the rule for the plural of mongoose. She admits she doesn't know anything about grammar, but she gave Pop a skinny little book about grammar, punctuation and style of writing for Christmas and as soon as she can get it away from him I guess she will look it up.

In the meantime, if I get into hot water with the National Audubon Society or with Mr. Haas and his friends, blame it on Pop, because he told me to write "titmouses".

Sir:
 In all the years I have lived in Plymouth, I have never seen the Square as nicely decorated as it is this year. The persons responsible are to be congratulated. I, for one, appreciate their efforts.
 Sincerely,
 Belle Bachrach
 (Mrs. S. B. Bachrach)

William E. Teal, now living in a nursing home, and Richard A. Fox are Plymouthites drawn for petit jury duty in Huron county common pleas court for the current term.

Pique in lieu of preference for the independent voter?

Whether the cause of honest government received a punch in the nose over the Christmas holidays only time will tell.

But there were many patriotic Americans who were disturbed by the announcement of Governor Rockefeller that he is withdrawing his name as a likely candidate for the presidency because the party professionals are committed in advance to Vice President Nixon.

The implications are enormous. He implies that unless a Republican obtains the endorsement of the professional politicians in his party, he cannot hope to get his name before the people, who certainly ought to be better judges of his abilities than any coterie of ward heeleders.

Locally, this was substantiated not only by the efforts of the able Senator Mosher to obtain the endorsement of his party as its candidate for the 13th district Congressional post but also by the announcement that GOP leaders in the four-county area he has represented approve of the candidacies of a Lorain and a Medina re-actor for the two vacancies in the state senate.

For what it's worth, our opinion is that a closed party primary — and that's what it amounts to, although any candidate who otherwise qualifies by party membership can file for the nomination — smacks of the bossism and undemocratic behavior that are complained of by intelligent citizens, whether Americans or foreigners.

For years, Northerners have pointed with scorn at the closed party primaries in the South. If you aren't a Democrat in Louisiana, for example, you can't get anywhere. And if you are the Democratic party's nominee for public office, you've won election in the primary. The general election is a needless exercise in spending money and casting ballots.

One of the reasons why a substantial segment of the population has dared to press the crown of thorns upon the South is that it believes this sort of thing to be un-American. By depriving an important part of the population of the right to vote, the white South is violating the Constitution.

True, the parallel is not precise. An inactive political party member can plunge into his party affairs at once to try to sway the balance. But nobody in his right mind would try to do so, because he's licked at the start. For 1960, anyway.

It is a settled fact that neither party can win without the independent vote. Independents tend to be unhappy with Republican rule because it is held liable for the serious deterioration of the defense stature and for the deplorable growth of anti-intellectualism fostered during the heyday of Senator McCarthy. Which is why, convinced as we are that Republican leadership for the next four years would be the wiser course, we dislike the closed door deal given to Rockefeller.

A distinguished American once enunciated the policy of open covenants openly arrived at. The GOParty would do well to consider the wisdom of that doctrine now, before it's too late. Because the right Democrat who welds his party together, could very well steal the White House in November.

On balance, with such evidence as we've seen so far, this would be a voter may well be overcome with disgust during the 10-month period before tragedy. And the independent tween now and election day and cast his ballot more from pique than preference.

What greater tragedy can man conceive of?

Here's remainder on consolidation — length. None of the newspapers of general circulation in the two districts was notified of the meeting in advance.

It was attended by executive heads and clerks and members of the new school boards. Supt. Ralph W. Brown and the four retiring members of the two boards were also present.

Gist of the proposal hammered out after three hours of talks:

—Huron Valley and South Central districts would be joined;

—Tenth, 11th and 12th grade pupils would be assigned to classes in Greenwich High school, which would be enlarged to accommodate 328 pupils.

—Ninth grade pupils would be assigned to New Haven Junior High school, together with eighth and seventh graders from the present Richmond and New Haven areas.

—Greenfield area junior high school pupils would be assigned to North Fairfield Junior High school, where the high school is expected to fold up because the state won't continue its charter.

—Enrollments in nine schools in the district would be thus: Greenwich High school, 328; New Haven Junior High and Elementary, 367; Richmond, 133; Greenfield, 115; Greenwich Township, 139; Greenwich Elementary, 298; North Fairfield, 291; Ripley, 124.

Fiscal aspects of the proposed consolidation:

Tax valuation, $17,823,314; debt valuation, $1,604,908; encumbered taxation, $477,750; balance to be encumbered, $1,150,000; pupil valuation, $10,460; estimated taxation, $19.70 per $1,000 valuation; estimated annual school revenue, $351,000.

Teacher load would be such that seven new ones would be required.

Fifty separate subjects plus music and physical education could be offered in the high school curriculum.

It is the two boards so petition, the Huron county board of education may consolidate the two districts. The merger would become effective in 30 days unless 35 per cent of the qualified voters of the two districts petition for a referendum on the question. Such a referendum must be conducted 60 days later. Its approval must be voted by a simple majority of the eligible voters.

We are a citizen of each community we serve and take an active part in its affairs. Like any other citizen, we want our neighbors to think well of us. Besides, it makes good business-sense. We can only prosper as the community prospers so we help it thrive in every way we can.

Such is our job as we see it. We are trying to do it well and to do it better all the time.

Snowballs

Remember the first time you ever rolled a snowball?

You found that there were two ways to do it. You could start your snowball down a big, steep hill. No work to that at all . . . until, suddenly, your little snowball picked up speed and rolled out of control, growing, speeding, until it smashed against a tree or plunged off a cliff out of sight.

So you tried it the other way. You rolled your snowball yourself, guiding it, keeping it under control on the level ground. And in short order, it was finished.

A fine snowball, ready to make into a fine snow-man . . .

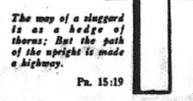

Character is like that. All of us have seen men who took the "easy way", who scorned good advice and paid little heed to the laws of God.

And the wrecks of these men who spun off the level ground of self control down the hills of delusion and lost faith are all around us.

But the world also has its share of their opposites, and in any church, on any Sunday, these men stand as firm proof that religion and character are inseparable factors in modern, purposeful living. To them, religion is not a lifeless, remote subject that is unrelated to their times. They know that the church builds character—a vital necessity in our lives.

And so—which is the best choice? The undirected way—the way of the little snowball that got out of control?

Or is it the way followed by all men of clear character and good faith—the way of God and his church . . .

The way of a sinner is as a hedge of thorns; But the path of the upright is as a highway.
Ps. 15:19
