Acting president J. Ben Smith announced working committees for the affair Monday night.

Table setting and decorating committee includes Mrs. Harold Ross, Mrs. Orville Gullett, Mrs. Roy Hatch, Mrs. R. Earl McQuate and Mrs. Donald Willett. William R. Miller is in charge of the tables and chairs.

Don Vanderpool heads the food group, Hugh Washburn the kitchen, Paul Lake coffee; Elton Robertson music, and Thomas F. Root publicity.

Assisting in the dining room will be Smith, Charles F. Karnes, Robert Lewis, Frank Lillo, J. Harold Gashman, H. James Root, R. Earl McQuate and Jack E. McQuate.

Members working in the kitchen will be George Lesho, Orville Gullett, E. Beryl Miller, Gerald W. Caywood, William E. Root, Fred Schneider, Karl S. Lindauer, A. L. Paddock, Jr., and James C. Davis.

Chamber members voted to back the much discussed lagoon system for sewage disposal rather than the activated sludge plant type, which they had previously voted to support. At the suggestion of Mayor William Fazio, Raymond L. Brooks moved to rescind the first proposal. Chamber will meet with members of the council to discuss it further. The meeting will fall on election day, the last of a series of public meetings planned by the mayor to discuss the lagoon system with the community.

Short reports were given by Mr. Smith and Mrs. Ross of the Chamber of Commerce workshop they attended in Sandusky. Plymouth was the smallest chamber of the 25 which were represented. Mr. Smith also read a letter from a doctor, now a resident surgeon in a Brooklyn, N. Y., hospital, in reply to an advertisement which the Chamber placed in a medical journal.

Mrs. McQuate reported that 20 books are ready to be treated and painted for the small evergreens which will be placed around the Square. She made an ardent plea for Chamber members to help with the finishing. Any member is welcome to help work on them at the Schneider Lumber Co.

Teacher, priest injured in crash

Two persons were injured, one of them perhaps seriously, in a two-car collision in Route 603 at Noble road Friday morning.

The Rev. William Conces, 47, pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, en route to Mansfield, told patrolmen he skidded into a sedan operated by Mrs. William Hettinger, 36, Shelby route 1, teacher of religious education in Plymouth schools.

He said she endeavored to overtake another car. When he saw her do this, he applied his brakes and skidded on the wet pavement.

The right rear of the priest's car was demolished. He received a cut hand and a slight cut on his cheek and was treated by a Plymouth physician.

Mrs. Hettinger received a gashed lip and internal injuries when the steering wheel was collapsed into her ribs. She was removed to Shelby Memorial hospital in McQuate's ambulance.

Highway patrolmen said Mrs. Hettinger was endeavoring to overtake without assured distance.

Forty years of Girl Scouting in Plymouth will be recognized during special Founder's day celebration of Appleseed Trail Girl Scout council at Arlin Field, Mansfield, Sunday afternoon.

Founder's day commemorates the 100th birthday anniversary of Juliette Gordon Low, who founded the Girl Scout movement in Savannah, Ga., Mar. 12, 1912.

One of Mrs. Jeffrey's first recruits has written and will direct a program to be presented by Girl Scouts during the observance. She is Mrs. Joy A. Herbert, the former Mary Jo Fate, now regional director of Girl Scouting. She will narrate the pantomimed skits of the six dramatic episodes in the life of Mrs. Low.

Council rebuffs mayor on question of zoning

Force account expenditure of $5,607.57 — $2,300 for labor and the balance for materials to extend and improve an electric line between the substitution and Kaple & Kaple sawmill — was approved as an emergency by village council Tuesday night.

A contract with Claude E. Barnard Construction Co., Montpelier, was authorized. Barnard will install the extension with materials purchased by the board of public affairs at a cost of $3,307.57.

The real nub of the session was the discussion of whether zoning legislation should be considered and whether the oxidation lagoon system of sewer treatment should be adopted.

Mayor William Fazio flatly asked the council for a positive answer on the zoning question. "It's been brought up several times and every time you either don't discuss it or you table it," he charged.

Although Councilman Elmer E. Markley said he thinks it was dropped two years ago because of the high cost of preparing and publishing the ordinance, his colleague, Donald E. Akers, posed other objections.

He simply does not like zoning, thinks it's an improper and unnecessary infringement upon an owner's rights of property and he would support any legislation not prepared by a qualified engineer.

Fazio retorted the state law doesn't require retention of "expensive engineers for this work and I feel we have qualified people to do the job right here in town."

After 30 minutes of hot debate with neither side giving in, it was agreed the present draft, which has lain fallow for two years, will be circulated among councilmen.

Solicitor Joseph F. Dush told the council by its contract with Aiden E. Stilson & Associates, Ltd., Columbus, it may discharge engineering consultants for the sewer system but when it does so full payment for what has been done must be said, that the $7,200 borrowed from the federal government by pay Stilson will immediately become due.

Further, he said, bonding attorneys for the village, Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland, will not issue an opinion as to the propriety of disbursing general obligation bond funds derived from a vote of the electorate on a lagoon as distinguished from a "plant", as stated on the ballot, until state approval for the lagoon is given.

Council agreed state approval is unlikely, given the experimental nature of oxidation lagoon treatment. "But we owe it to the people," said one councilman, "to find out if it can be used."

Plymouth Grange meets tomorrow to elect staff

Plymouth Grange will meet tomorrow night, at the Grange hall to complete its roster of officers.

Installation will be Oct. 13 in Shelby's Central Elementary school for all Richland County granges.

Juvenile grade officers were installed Saturday night by Miss Barbara Dick of Shiloh at a Shenandoah grange.

Officers of the Plymouth

To this end, Dr. Ralph Dwork, chairman of the Water Pollution Control board, will be summoned here to examine the lay of the land and asked to permit consideration of the lagoon system.

Division 3, State Highway department, Ashland, was asked to resurface Route 603 between Plymouth corporation line and Shiloh and that part of the route within the village, the latter with village participation in costs.

A traffic light for Sandusky street opposite the high school has been ordered, at a cost of $225.

No parking will be permitted on the south sides of Trux street from the Sourwine hotel to the Huron river bridge and West Broadway from the railroad tracks to the hill. These will be reserved as fire lanes.

New Haven trustees want to participate in leasing a dump from Carl Montgomery, Base Line road. He was asked to meet with the council and the trustees Oct. 12 at 8 p.m.

Engineers of the AC&Y railway, Richland county health officers and the mayor will meet at 10 a.m. today to determine how flood waters in Trux street may be relieved.

Juveniles are Katrina Little, master; E. Jane Fenner, overseer; Judy Fenner, lecturer; Barbara Litter, steward; Edward Lasser, assistant steward; Diane Willett, chaplain; Ann Fenner, treasurer; Judy Willett, secretary; and Alan Dinger, gate keeper.

Also, Janan Kessler, Ceres; Sylvia Rigler, Pomona; Sharon Glorioso, Flora; and Sandra Little, lady assistant steward.

Girl Scouts to honor Mrs. Low, founder; Mrs. Jeffrey, organizer

Forty years of Girl Scouting in Plymouth will be recognized during special Founder's day celebration of Appleseed Trail Girl Scout council at Arlin Field, Mansfield, Sunday afternoon.

The village's first Girl Scout leader, Mrs. Harold Jeffrey, now a Canton librarian, will be among five living women to be honored for their pioneer efforts in Richland county.

Mrs. Jeffrey has promised to be on hand for the event.

Born in Decatur, Ill., 67 years ago, Mrs. Jeffrey attended State Normal university at Normal, Ill., and entered the teaching profession. During World War I she worked in a munitions factory and later was associated with the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C.

She returned to Decatur in 1919 and married Harold I. Jeffrey, a sales and development engineer, in 1920. They came to Plymouth in that year and remained here until 1927.

HOW DID SHE BECOME involved with Girl Scouts? "I was asked to work with a Scout troop and accepted. As finally organized, Mrs. Earl Heath took the younger girls, and I had the older ones. The girls were a peppy group and they made things him. We had numerous bake sales, a May festival, overnight hike, cookie sale — the girls baked and delivered 85 dozen cookies, dance, appeared in the Scout program at the Richland County Fair in 1922, and last but not least, the girls started the Plymouth library as their civic project."

The Jeffrey's went to Tecumseh, Mich., in 1937 and to Canton in 1940.

In August of 1946 after the death of her husband and her mother she joined the children's department of Canton Public library. In February, 1944, she was assigned as librarian in charge of Madge Youtz branch of the Canton Public library.

Eight Plymouth Scouts, in uniform, will escort Mrs. Jeffrey to the podium to receive her award. They are Stephanie Morrison, Cheryl Stearns, Martha Carter, Suzanne Lille, Suzanne Paddock, Deborah Hoffman, Judith Burrer and Anita Taylor.

A 90-piece Girl Scout band will include Diane Ruckman, Diane Kruger and Ellen Smith. "Parents and friends of Girl Scouting in Plymouth are especially urged to attend this function," Mrs. Roy W. Carter, neighborhood chairman, said Monday. "They should enter the field by the north gate and sit in the north bleachers."

Being a periodic, but irregular, presentation of human interest stories that come to the staff's attention yet seem for one reason or another not suitable for treatment elsewhere in the paper.

This is Letter Writing week, says Postmaster Raymond L. Brooks.

To whip up business for the postal department, the postmaster-general annually stages a promotion to encourage folks to write. "A letter," says Mr. Summerfield, "is the most economical, longest lasting, and sincerest means of extending greetings, communicating social news and exchanging ideas."

Apparently the promotion is paying off, although the population explosion has something to do with it, too. An all-time high was recorded nationally for the year ending June 30: 63.6 billion pieces of mail, including about one billion pieces of parcel post. Receipts locally: $56,491, as compared with $38,200 in 1953.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir: We find that your paper provides a rallying point when the family discussion turns to Plymouth. For us, your paper is like a diamond in the rough, and that rough is quite a field as my present subscriptions include the New York Times, New York Herald Tribune and Christian Science Monitor.

Of the many feature writers we read, we don't miss them as much as we do Suzie. We noticed you seemed to have forgotten her on Sept. 22.

Sincerely,
Robert Whitaker

Sir: You will here find funds to renew The Advertiser.

May I say we started with The Advertiser in 1903 when we went to Illinois to preach the Gospel and it has been with us ever since. We have not always been too mindful of our renewal but The Advertiser has always been faithful in bringing the message to us and has very naturally become a part of our family.

Many thanks,

Suzie sez

Sometimes I have written that Pop can never win. He claims it is my duty to tell when he does win. And so here is the story.

About two weeks ago, he had to send a parcel to Bloomville. The mail for Bloomville closes about 4:30 and he got there late. How was he to get it there?

He got the bright idea to ask Mrs. Gus Dick to take it as far as her work and have the Bloomville people call for it there, as it isn't very far from Bloomville to her work.

So he asked Mom to speak to Mrs. Dick about it. He told her to ask Mrs. Dick if she would take the parcel over to Caroline and the Bloomville people will get it there.

About midnight, when they both came home from some meeting or other, Mom said to Pop, "Since when have you and Edna Dick taken to calling Mrs. Olds 'Caroline'?"

Pop's eyes bugged out. He said he never called Mrs. Olds Caroline in his life. Her right name is Anna but he doesn't know her that well.

Mrs. Olds is the editor of the paper at Attica. The Attica paper is printed by the Bloomville paper.

Then Pop blew his stack. He saw right away what had happened. Mom was so dumb she didn't know that Caroline is a little town right outside Attica and Mrs. Dick's work is in that town.

So Mom had to get up bright and early the next day and call Mrs. Dick and straighten it out.

And Pop was going around saying she wasn't so smart, not knowing that Caroline is a town and Mrs. Olds' name isn't Caroline.

Then Mom found out that the name of the town is pronounced "Car-line", not "Caro-line" and she got back at him with that. If he had pronounced it right, she wouldn't have balled it up, she said.

Then Mom said, "Pop off his feet. For once he couldn't say anything."

thing. Still, he won this one and it is my duty to mark one big score up for him.

IF YOU LIKE FUNNY stories, try this one for size.

A man had two horses and he couldn't tell them apart.

So he reached the mane of one of them. So long as the mane was short, he could tell them apart. But when the mane grew out, he had the same old trouble.

So he cut off the tail hairs of one of the horses. While the tail was short, he could tell them apart. But when it grew in again, he couldn't tell the two horses apart.

He asked his friend what to do.

"Get a tape measure and measure the two horses," said the friend. "That way you may find out if one is bigger."

The man did this. Then he said, "I've got it straight now, the black one is three inches shorter than the white one."

WILL DO babysitting or ironing in my home (anytime)
Mrs. Jack Holbrook, 223 Springmill road, Plymouth. 6p

Dear Citizen of Richland County:

Richland County needs William R. Henson, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, for one of its new County Commissioners.

We need a man of this calibre in the most important of County offices because: annually, the Commissioners allocate the spending of approximately two and one-half million dollars of tax monies.

Dr. Henson has conducted his own successful business for twenty-seven years. He owns and operates two profitable farms in Huron County. Therefore, he knows that you can not spend money foolishly or dribble it away in small parcels which often do not come to the public's attention. This has often been done in past performances in the County office.

He lives in Shelby, Ohio, which has the same drainage and road problems as the City of Mansfield and the Villages of Plymouth, Butler, Bellville, Lucas, Ontario and Shiloh. These cities and villages pay a large share of the county's tax and must have consideration in the administration of County funds.

In his daily work he travels about thirty thousand miles a year on county roads. He knows every road, stream bridge, and public hazard in the entire county.

Dr. Henson educated himself in both high school and Ohio State University. This was necessary because the early death of his father left his mother with the support of six small children. He was a soldier in World War II.

Dr. Henson is married and has nine children and nine grandchildren. He is not biased on religion or race - he was brought up to believe that all persons are created equal. Also, in the tradition which normally evolves in a large family, he believes that we must share equally in all problems and equities.

Dr. Henson has paid real estate taxes in Richland County for a quarter of a century. These, dear Citizen, are just a few of the reasons Dr. Henson is qualified for County Commissioner. We as a committee are asking you to cast your vote for him on November 8, 1960.

Loaded for trouble?

To the youngsters, a drive with the gang is great fun. But driving is serious business, too. Last year, nearly 40,000 people died in traffic accidents —many of them killed by drivers whose minds weren't wholly on their job. So stay alert every minute when you drive. Keep driving fun—and safe!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself. Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection. Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council. Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

Reed passes Red to first win of year

Dayton Reed struck thrice through the air at Spencer Saturday as Plymouth downed Black River, 22 to 0, in a North Central conference battle.

It was clear after the first play that Plymouth would have little trouble with the winless Pirates, who used the sidesaddle T formation.

Reed tossed to Jim Russell for four and to Ken Van Loo for 20 and sneaked for a one-yard effort himself to rack up the Big Red's touchdowns. Reed tossed to Dan Carter and to Van Loo for the extra points.

Plymouth won this one because it had more seasoning, more speed and left and more aerial attack than Black River. Its outside running game was effective, particularly when Carter took the pitchout along the left side. But its inside running gained very little.

Plymouth won the toss and Russell fielded the kickoff on his 31. The Big Red employed the fake shift, condemned when Frank Leahy introduced it at Notre Dame a dozen years ago, to obtain a five yard penalty. Then Reed pitched out to Carter along the left side and the lithe senior carried 43 yards before he was pushed out of bounds on the Pirate 21.

Here a 15-yard penalty set Black River back on its heels, giving the Big Red first down on the enemy nine. Reed sneaked for three, Russell lost a yard, Reed rolled out for three more and then passed to Russell for the score. He found Carter easily for the PAT.

Bob Young got his first shot at varsity play on the next kickoff. His short kick was downed on the Black River 43. The Pirates mounted a sustained drive to the Big Red eight before running out of downs. Dick Pfeiffer, who proved to be the main offensive threat of the home eleven, crunched through the Red line four yards at a clip and twice for nine.

Plymouth took possession on the Red eight and moved smartly for a touchdown in the early moments of the second period. Carter ripped over tackle for nine and got a first down on the next try. Reed hit Russell for 21 yards, to the Pirate 46, and then threaded the needle to Van Loo, who was knocked down on the Pirate one. The play carried 45 yards.

The doughty quarterback stomped in for the score on the next play and then found Van Loo with a pass for the PAT. Seven plays later the Big Red rolled to its final score.

Young again kicked off short. Three plays thereafter, from his 46, Jeff Keep sought to pass. Carter intercepted and was felled on the Plymouth 46. Reed threw to Russell for 34, to the Black River 20, and then to Van Loo for the TD.

A pitchout to Roger McQuown went astray and the PAT try was not good.

Reed ran 56 yards for another score but it was called back because Ken Kieffer was detected in a holding offense.

The last half was all Black River. The Pirates penetrated to the Plymouth 14, the three and the 11 in three separate thrusts but couldn't find the steam to score.

Plymouth put the ball into play only 15 times in the entire last half. Black River had 32 plays and was storming the gates when the final whistle blew.

Summary:

Score by periods:
Plymouth 8 14 0 0—22

FRIDAY! THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevrolets of all.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

NOMAD 9-PASSENGER STATION WAGON. You have a choice of six Chevrolet wagons, each with a case-sized cargo opening nearly 5 feet across.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-thrifty elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10½ inches lower.

BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN, like all '61 Chevrolets, brings you Body by Fisher newness—more front seat leg room.

INTRODUCING THE '61 CHEVY BISCAYNE 6

the lowest priced full-sized Chevy with big-car comfort at small-car prices!
