All local levies are approved

Steel upsets Bliss; Mosher, Ashbrook victorious

Democrats take commissioner jobs in Richland county

All local levies carried by whopping majorities Tuesday. John (Eddie) Steel, GOP candidate for Richland county sheriff, ousted the incumbent, Randall Bliss, in a surprising upset.

Richard M. Christiansen, Mansfield city solicitor, soundly defeated incumbent Neil S. Robinson for assemblyman. The winner ran on a platform of revision of the RCN formula for computing utility rates.

John Borgia was elected sheriff of Huron county, 10,899 to 6,088, over Paul Simon.

Dr. William Henson, Shelby veterinarian and Fred J. Tonnemacher, Mansfield appliance salesman, were elected Richland county commissioners over their GOP opponents Earl C. Pollock and Paul Baumberger.

Other races went about as anticipated.

THE SEWER ISSUE, CLARIFIED somewhat in the last minutes before the balloting by an announcement of the Water Pollution Control board that it will approve a lagoon oxidation type system if the plans prove satisfactory, received strong support. Final unofficial count was 475 for, 179 against.

Renewal of the two-mill operating levy, which doesn't expire for another year, was approved, 351 to 220. Purchase of the Hubach site in Sandusky street for use as a municipal building was endorsed, 312 to 242.

The 10-mill school operating levy carried handsomely. In Plymouth the vote was 496 favoring, 158 opposing, unofficial count in the district was 897 to 369.

Only levy defeated locally was the Richland county courthouse addition, which failed of passage in the county because it lacked a 53 per cent majority. Precinct A voters disapproved of it, 181 to 116.

John M. Ashbrook, Johnston publisher, defeated incumbent Robert W. Levering of Fredericktown for the 17th district seat in Congress.

Charles A. Mosher, Oberlin publisher, trounced J. William McCray of Elgria for the 13th district seat.

Levering, however, carried Richland county, 21,485 to 20,216. Mosher won in Huron county, 10,515 to 7,119.

Martin Kruger, long ill, dies at 79; John Company succumbs at Toledo

Martin Kruger, 79, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James J. Ryan, 223 Sandusky street, Tuesday night.

He was ill a long time. Born Dec. 16, 1881, in The Netherlands, he and his wife came to this country in 1908 and lived in Brooklyn, N. Y., after their marriage. When he retired as a machinist 14 years ago, they moved to Plymouth to be near friends. Until failing health overtook them, the Krugers lived at Plymouth street and Mills avenue. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary two years ago.

He is also survived by his wife, Gertrude; a son, Master Sergt. John Henry Kruger, in the Air Force at Hickam Air Force base, Hawaii, and four grandchildren.

Services will be conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Moss Rutan, in First Presbyterian church tomorrow at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven, in the charge of McQuate Funeral home.

John Company succumbed at Toledo, where he had lived almost four years.

A widower, he is also survived by a daughter, Commander Eleanor Company, U.S. Navy Nurse corps, Jacksonville, Fla., and a sister, Mrs. Kathrine Mellick, Tiffin. There are five grandchildren.

The Rev. William Conces will conduct last rites at 9:30 to Carol Sloan, Carolyn Hammon, Anetta Dawson, Nancy Arnold, Susan Ferguson and Cynthia Snodgers.

Wayne Kessler and Hilda Elliott won the local elimination of the annual Prince of Peace declamation contest Sunday.

Young Kessler won the Shiloh division, where judges were Mrs. Miles Christian and Mrs. W. E. Root.

Miss Elliott won the Plymouth division, where judges were Mrs. John Barnhart and Mrs. Earl Huston.

Two win in oratory

Wayne Kessler and Hilda Elliott won the local elimination of the annual Prince of Peace declamation contest Sunday.

Young Kessler won the Shiloh division, where judges were Mrs. Miles Christian and Mrs. W. E. Root.

Miss Elliott won the Plymouth division, where judges were Mrs. John Barnhart and Mrs. Earl Huston.

State house parley asks for state help, not federal aid

Plymouth School district will be allowed five representatives at the State House conference on education in Columbus this month.

A committee meeting will be held Thursday in the Shiloh building at 7:30 p. m. to make final recommendations of the local district.

To date the committee feels, according to its chairman, Mrs. Edwin Beeching, the school community favors more state financial aid rather than federal funds. The aid has been cut to about 36 per cent this year to local districts, from approximately 50 per cent.

The committee also believes the state college program should be expanded rather than institute community junior colleges.

How phase-out of Wilkins AF station at Shelby has affected the local economy can, in part, be noted from data furnished by public schools to claim federal funds because parents of pupils are employed by federal installations.

In 1958, there were 209 such pupils. Recent poll showed only 43, whose parents are employed at Wilkins, at Gentile AF depot, Dayton, and at General Services Administration, Cleveland. Anticipated revenue: $1,000.

Gremlins!

A typographical gremlin crept into the advertisement of Curpen's Jewelry & Gift Shop last week.

The word "Thursdays" should have read "Thursday." As his customers realize, for nearly four decades Edward B. Curpen hasn't closed all day on Thursdays save in extraordinary circumstances. These obtained last week only, when he was preparing stock for his huge reduction sale.

The shop is open Thursdays until noon, today and every Thursday.

November 11th

Seeing them like this on this day, you would want them to have your sympathy. They would appreciate it. But they wouldn't need it. You see, he left them so many things . . .

He left them a home, good principles, a good name, and an unshaken faith in God and their Church. And it has been their Church that has proven the worth of that faith in the years just passed, and that will be so welcome in the years that lie ahead.

They now have the things for which he fought. Freedom of the nation. Freedom of the vote. Freedom of the home. And Freedom of the Church.

His valiance made those things real to them in the war. His church is keeping those things alive now that he has gone. By going to Church, you help the Church to help them live the life he would have wanted for them, even though he gave up his own life for them—and for you.

You see, they don't need your sympathy. For through their Church they know the great truth—that to live in the hearts left behind—as he now lives in theirs—is not to die . . .

It is to live forever . . .

For though I am absent in the flesh, yet as I wish you to the spirit, joying and rejoicing your order, and the steadfastness of your faith . . .

'Twas law enforcer who broke the law

Post-election jottings: although Ohio law prohibits posting of service poles, principal offenders noted in an Advertiser survey were judicial and law enforcement candidates. In one section of road in Richland county, 14 service poles carried advertising of the incumbent common pleas judge or sheriff.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in many years, overtones of the national campaign affected local confidence. Only one local candidate made any show of certainty he would win. That was John M. Ashbrook, the Johnstown newspaperman. He frankly said he was sure he had his opponent, incumbent Robert W. Levering, beaten, "unless there is a landslide for Democrats in Richland county." He was certain he had Delaware, Coshocton, Ashland and Licking counties locked up.

Republican candidates in such GOP strongholds as Huron and Medina counties weren't so sure of themselves, at least not publicly.

Red cage drills see three lettermen as Daup rebuilds

Basketball drills have begun at Plymouth High school, but Coach Harold Daup will have to wait until Monday before some of his big guns turn out.

Jim Russell, a letterman, one of three returning this season, and Ken Van Loo, both of whom are certain to see heavy action with the Big Red this season, are with the football squad. So are Dan Carter, Gary Fletcher and Dayton Reed. Two monogram winners are already drilling. They are Ray Lynch, a guard, and Marv Cok, a center.

Daup lost the core of his 19-59-60 Richland county league champions by graduation. Dick Bookwalter is at Bradley university, Peoria, Ill., Craig Harnly at Otterbein college, Westerville, and Steve Patterson at Ohio university, Athens. Billy Strine is in the Navy.

The Big Red opens its 18-game slate here Nov. 29 with Buckeye Central, the consolidation of New Washington, Tiro, and Chatfield.

Twelve of the contests are home-and-home matches in the RCL with Lucas, Lexington, Ontario, Butler, Union and Bellville. Colonel Crawford comes here Dec. 17 for its first appearance and the Big Red goes to Mansfield to play St. Peter's Dec. 23. Norwalk completes its home-and-home schedule with Plymouth on the local floor Dec. 30.

Daup will have to seek first line help from some of the reserves of last season, among them Jerry Daron, who set a local scoring record in a javay game last year.

- The schedule:
- Nov. 29—Buckeye Central
 - Dec. 2—Lucas *
 - Dec. 9—at Lexington *
 - Dec. 16—Bellville *
 - Dec. 17—Colonel Crawford
 - Dec. 20—Ontario *

Did Your Candidate Lose? Remember PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

YOU live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Real Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good—to keep it getting better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things people should do, and things they should not do.

They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles—if we also guide our lives by them—then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual.

This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders.

From it comes our hatred of those "isms" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to.

Coming directly from that first principle are two others that are also part of the foundation of Americanism.

2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom
3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal.

It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expressed the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not state or imply a belief that men develop equality or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions.

That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together.

In our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, there are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals.

4. The Right to Freedom of Speech. This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts.
5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly. As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together.

6. The Right to Freedom of Worship. Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal.

7. The Right to Security of Person and Property. Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law."

8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law. As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any group.

9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery. This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another.

10. The Right to Petition the Government. The right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people.

11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice. This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used.

Other Principles hold that every man has . . .

12. The Right to a Good Education.
13. The Right to Live where he pleases.
14. The Right to Work where he wants to.
15. The Right to Belong to an Organization.
16. The Right to Own Property.
17. The Right to Start his Own Business.
18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.
19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.

There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .

20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.
21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

There are also Limiting Principles . . .

Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles.

22. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with those of Other Individuals. Your right to swing your arms stops where the other fellow's nose starts.
23. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Welfare of the People. Freedom of speech does not give the individual the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre.
24. Every Individual owes Obedience to the Laws under which he Lives. The individual has the right to talk against a law, to work and vote to change that law, but NOT to disobey that law.

Principles that are Patterns of Behavior . . .

Many of our principles of individual freedom and equality are guaranteed to us by law. But we have other beliefs, other general rules of action and conduct that have grown to the status of principles. And these too, are foundations of Americanism.

25. A Man shall be Judged by his Own Record. A man's family background, his race or his religion, is not as important as what that man himself can do, for Americans believe a man must stand on his own feet.
26. A Man is Free to Achieve as much as he can. We believe that where any boy may become President, where any man may achieve greatness, there is the greatest incentive for every man to do his best.
27. To Achieve anything, a Man should be Willing to Work. Americans have always known that "you don't get something for nothing," that to get anything takes a willingness to work.
28. Achievement also Depends upon the Ability to do a Good Job. Add to "willingness to work" the ability to produce results and the combination is the basis for most individual achievement in our country.
29. Every Man has the Right to a Fair Share of the Results of his Work and his Ability. Because of this belief, America has not only produced more goods, but they have been more fairly and more widely shared by more people than in any other country.
30. Security is the Ability of a Man to Provide for himself. The only true security for any individual is the opportunity, the ability, and the determination to work, and plan and save for his own present and future. Self-reliance is vital to individual independence and personal freedom. No man can be "proud and free" who depends on others for his security.

31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others.

We believe that no one should starve, or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help.

32. Each Individual must Deal Fairly with others.

Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence.

33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing.

Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all.

34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vital.

FREDERICK BASTIATIS has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth."

Principles of Individual Responsibility . . .

Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. If we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill this responsibility.

35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family. He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being.
36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part. He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit.
37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country. He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual.
38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World. Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act—and to encourage his country to act—so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world.

For America's Future

Most of us have faith in our country's ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life. . .

If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles:

39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and
40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . .

41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles.

There are those who would chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . .

Is it With or Against the Principles of America?

"If there were only something we could do about the children's schools!"

Something? There are lots of things we all can do about our local schools! First of all, we can attend school board meetings and discuss problems with the board members we've elected. We can go to Parent-Teacher Association meetings and work directly with the teachers we've hired. And we can form other community groups to aid in solving specific situations —new bond issues for building or repairing, for example.

In short, we can have the schools we want—if we're willing to work personally for them! The way to start is by writing—today—for a free booklet and other helpful information. Send your card or letter to Better Schools, 9 East 40th Street, New York 16, New York.

Loaded for trouble?

To the youngsters, a drive with the gang is great fun. But driving is serious business, too. Last year, nearly 40,000 people died in traffic accidents

—many of them killed by drivers whose minds weren't wholly on their job. So stay alert every minute when you drive. Keep driving fun—and safe!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself. Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection. Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council. Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

Miss Chronister becomes bride of Greenwich in church here

White and bronze chrysanthemums with fall leaves lighted by tapers provided the background for the double ring ceremony uniting Miss Patricia Chronister and Donald D. Baker in First Presbyterian church at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Moss Rutan read the vows.

Byron Griest, the bride's brother-in-law, played an organ prelude which included "To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell, "To a Lily" by Hodson, "Meditation" from Thais by Massenet, and "The Gothic Suite" by Boellman. He accompanied the daughter of Mr. Greer, who sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Ich Liebe Dich," "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer." Guests were seated by Maurice Keefer and William Chronister.

THE BRIDE, DAUGHTER of Harry Chronister and the late Mrs. Chronister, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. It was styled with a fitted bodice and scooped neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins and tiny seed pearls. Long sleeves formed points over her wrists. The full floor-length skirt, also embroidered with sequins, swept into a wide chapel train. She wore a full crown of pleated tulle with pearls from which fell a fingertip cloud veil of imported illusion. She carried a white face covered Bible with green chrysanthemums and green arranged on it.

Taylor class meets

Catherine Taylor class, First Presbyterian church, will meet at the home of Mrs. Vedder Puryear Tuesday night.

She will be assisted by Mrs. David Sams and Mrs. Victor Munn. Bible study will be conducted by Miss Florence Danner. Devotions will be led by Mrs. Harry Aumend.

The class and the Nov. 15 and 22 class are packing boxes to be sent next week to a mission in South Carolina.

The hospital beat

Plymouth's oldest resident, 100-year-old Mrs. William Bittinger, is now able to sit in a wheelchair in Willard Municipal hospital, where she is being treated for a fractured hip.

Mrs. Martin Kruger was a patient in Shelby Memorial hospital for a few days last week.

Mrs. Kenneth Eichelberry, her sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Brooks and Miss Marlene Baker, the bridegroom's sister. They wore gowns of brocaded satin designed with full short skirts, fitted bodices, scooped necklines with small cap sleeves. Small flat bows were at their shoulders. Velvet bandeau held circular shoulder length veils. Mrs. Eichelberry's gown was beige. She carried an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums with ivy and leaves.

Jody Lynn Chronister, the bride's niece, was flower girl. She wore a gown in green similar to that of the bridesmaids and carried a smaller arrangement of yellow flowers.

Mr. Baker's brother, Rudyard, was best man.

A reception followed in the church rooms. Mrs. Charles H. Dick was hostess. Mrs. Rudyard Baker, Mrs. Maurice Keefer and Mrs. William Chronister assisted. Mrs. D. Mac Eichelberger was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Mitchell Oney the gift book.

Fall arrangements decorated the bride's table, which held a five-tiered cake decorated with pink roses with a miniature bride and bridegroom on top.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Byron Griest of Massillon, who sat in the family pew, wore a sapphire blue satin with matching accessories. The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Maurice Keefer, chose a black afternoon dress with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The new Mrs. Baker, wore a green silk dress with black accessories for the honeymoon trip. They will live at 13 Maple street here.

Mr. Baker is the son of Mrs. Harry Borchers of Tampa, Fla., who was unable to attend the ceremony. He is employed by Akron - Standard Mold Co., Greenwich.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER
Big Bill Edwards, head coach of Wittenberg university's grid outfit, told the O. T. in Cleveland Sunday he has Russ Pflieger, Shelby's hotshot halfback, "in the bag" for the Springfield campus next fall. Edwards scouted the Shelby-Norwalk contest, which the Truicks deserved to win.

FOR THOSE WHO CARE
to know, the Big Red has been socked 187 yards for unportsmanlike conduct or personal fouls this season. That's an average of 24 yards a game.

ONE SOURCE OF STRONG opposition to a plan to eliminate nearly 1,000 Ohio school districts in favor of a smaller number with a minimum of 10,000 pupils each is the Ohio High School Athletic association. The word is the wheels in Columbus want all spelled out - if instead of 98 county systems the state'll have about 40 and exempted village and local districts, as well as some city districts, will be eliminated, what happens to individual school competition and how will athletic programs be financed?

Another survey by a down-state newspaper shows that in 11 communities where enlarged gymnasiums appeared on the ballot, advertising funds in favor of the issues were furnished by sporting goods houses.

Good seats may be had on a first come, first served basis. First preference will be given to those who held reserved seat tickets last year, second preference to parents of players.

County league admission prices have been agreed upon: $1 for adults, 40 cents for pupils. Season ticket price is $10 for 10 home games, with no increase in price for reserved seats.

Supt. M. J. Coon's office is handling the sale in advance of the first game. He'll take your money until Nov. 26. On Nov. 28 the tickets go on sale to the general public.

Western Reserve's victory Saturday brought the Roughriders their best season in history - 14-2-1. But they got only a 14 rating from the Toledo expert. Littenhous, who rates Plymouth a 24.

Red loses fourth at Wakeman, 28-8

Athletic relations at Western Reserve High school, with the exception of Butler the only one approaching a traditional rivalry with another school, took on a sour note there Saturday.

Plymouth's Big Red departed from the up-county hamlet with the tiducle of the Roughrider fans ringing in its ears and a well-deserved 28 to 8 defeat. Perhaps the feeling will dissipate by next season.

Western Reserve was clearly the superior team and with Larry Nosack leading the Plymouth line to shreds would have won under any circumstances. In sloppy footing, and with a referee who guaranteed his welcome in Wakeman for many moons to come, the home eleven had it locked up after the second period started.

Two Plymouth players were ejected for unportsmanlike conduct and the Plymouth principal felt constrained to speak to his charges during a time out in the second quarter. Jim Russell was ejected early for kneeling a tackler. Noah Sammons was sent to the bench late in the game, with no explanation. Russell admitted his offense but young Sammons honestly said he knew no reason why he should be thrown out.

WESTERN RESERVE ruled to a touchdown in the first series of downs. After the kickoff return was stopped on the 29 Western went through the air for 21 yards and on the ground for 45 in eight plays to get the TD. Martin swept end on a reverse for the last 17 yards. Nosack plunged for the PAT.

Martin wasn't even on the squad for the preview.
Plymouth struck back promptly. It took a bit longer, but Dayton Reed steered the Big Red to a tie by going to the air. In 10 plays he covered 73 yards, 85 of it in the air. Russell scored on an 18-yard pass play. Van Loo snared the pass for the PAT.

Russell was ejected early in the second quarter, just after the Roughriders had recovered Dan Carter's fumble on the Plymouth 35. Thrown a yard loss, Nicholas sent Martin on the reverse play for 45 yards and the score. But Western was detected in a clipping offense and set back to the 38. After a shot off guard produced three yards, Sherwood threw to Martin for the touchdown. Martin left Reed standing flatfooted.

With a 14 to 8 lead, Western never again allowed Plymouth to move convincingly. The vaunted Big Red air arm gained a net of 16 yards for the remainder of the game.
A poor punt by Phil Fletcher rolled out on the Red 45. Western was in the end zone, again in nine plays, aided heavily by 22 yards of personal foul penalty against Plymouth, Patrick rolled out for the score and Western led, 20 to 8.

With four minutes left in the final period, Nosack capped his schoolboy career with a brilliant thrust from seven yards out. Patrick converted for the PAT's.

Jim Fetters was taken from the field in an ambulance in the late minutes of the game. A small crowd followed the team from Plymouth. Sidney Stettler of Bluffton, a former teacher here who is now an instructor in Midville schools, was backing the Big Red from the sideline.

AND THE DOCTOR TELLS me that cheerful people throw off diseases better than glum ones. I guess this is a case of the surly bird catching the germ.

I LIKE THE STORY about the poor fellow who had acne and wasn't getting along with girls very well. He decided to study the matter, and so he went to a book store and bought a book. It was titled "How to Hug" and he figured this was a dandy one to get started with, at least.

He got it home and began to read. If he found he had bought volume nine of an encyclopedia.

WE FIGHT A LOT AND sometimes he is in pain in the neck. But my brother needs good wishes this weekend when he goes to Cleveland to see if the doctors there can help him. Get in there and fight, Chip. I will keep my fingers crossed.

I SEE WHERE THEY ARE still looking for the abominable snowman, the thing that is supposed to be there but nobody has ever caught one. If they are looking for the abominable show man, let them come to our house, where we have one with a full 40 inches of abdomen. (Ed. Note: Not true. It's only 38 1/2.)

POP FINALLY WON A turkey. Only says the meat will have cost him almost a dollar a pound.
I like turkey but do I like it that much?
