

Have dice, will travel' proves good 'ogan for ex-Shilohan on rubber chicken circuit

"Have dice — will demonstrate" is the slogan of a former Shilohan whose professional advice to conventioners has saved them thousands of dollars.

Floyd Niswonger, now a Cincinnati and a member of the burglary squad of the Queen City's police department, is an expert in detecting the machinations of the clip-joint operator who preys upon unsuspecting convention goers, tourists and other travelers.

Monday night he addressed the Mansfield-Ashland-Shelby chapter of the Foreman's club, in the Sons of Herman's hall at Mansfield.

And he held his audience spellbound as he rolled crooked dice, showed marked cards, exposed confidence games and revealed the tricks of unsavory ladies from experience derived from 23 years of police work.

He joined the force as a harness bull — a uniformed patrolman. After six years, he was assigned as plain-clothesman on the vice squad, which he served five years. In this work he studied carefully the tricks of the swindling and confidence racket and perfected his knowledge

Anti-climax to unfold in Union test

An anti-climactic finish to the regulation season will unfold at Union High school tomorrow night.

With the 1960 Richland County-league title locked up, Plymouth's Big Red tackles the Indians in the season closer. Phil the Filbert figures the Red ought to win this one by 11, eight less than the 19-point bulge Plymouth established against Union in its first meeting.

Assuming the Red wins it, the victory would mark the most successful campaign ever by a Plymouth team and a season high in wins for its coach.

In 17 contests, the Red has scored 1,274 points and held its opposition to 1,002. The averages are 74.9 and 58.9. Top figure was 95 against Butler and low was 33 in the loss to Madison.

In two other contests, with Lucas and Crestline, the Red broke 90.

Greatest number of points scored by any team against Coach Harold Daup's charges was 82, by Bellville in the second meeting. No other opponent reached 80 and only one other broke 70 — Ontario on Dec. 15.

After tomorrow's contest, Plymouth will take it easy for exactly two weeks. First tournament contest is Feb. 26 at Sandusky. Opponent will be determined in a drawing later.

For Dick Bookwalter, scoring leader with an average of slightly under 21 a game; Steve Patterson, Craig Harly Plymouth's Big Red will draw today at Sandusky for its place in the district tourney.

Supt. M. J. Coon, Principal W. H. Strine and Coach H. E. Daup will represent the school.

and Billy Strine, it will be the last interscholastic contest save for tourney play.

Daup has a strong nucleus for next season's club due to come back — Merv Cok, Ray Lynch, Jim Russell, Dayton Reed, Jerry Daron, Jesse Hartman and Ken Van Loo, all dressing with the varsity now, and a handful of comers from Coach Bill Flaherty's joyvee squad.

during service on the robbery and burglary squads.

AND THIS IS HIS BEST ADVICE:
"Don't wear distinctive costumes, hats or badges when you're out-of-town for a convention — you're an easy mark for a "sharpie", who makes you for what you are, and makes you money."

Don't let bartenders, head waiters or similar folk "set you up for a score" by telling you to be careful of pick-pockets, so you'll check at once to see you've still got your wallet. His confederate is probably watching to make the heist.

Safest place to keep your wallet: left front pocket. Hip and inside coat pockets are easy for a skilled dip. Be leery of friendly ladies in bars, hotel lobbies, restaurants and such. Some are content to have you buy them expensive drinks, while they drink tea masquerading as bourbon. But others will "slip you a mickey" — put knock-out drops in your glass and make off with your valuables.

Want to learn to shoot dice? Get a sentence to the Ohio Penitentiary. "There they have the time and the smart teachers and after a four-year stretch a man is a real expert."

He adds, "We in police work try to see to it there's no shortage of good teachers inside the penitentiary."

Boy Scouts to dine in Shelby today

Plymouth Boy Scouts will join other Scouts of Black Fork district for a career day today.

Activities will begin at noon today with a luncheon in Shelby Lutheran church. Thereafter the Scouts will visit Shelby industries and businesses in which they have shown interest.

Plymouth Scouts in the group are James Fetters, Earl and Raymond Hankamer, Girard and Gregory Cashman, Joel Van Loo, Robert Tackett, Timothy Redden, Arthur Paddock, William Miller, Delbert and Carl Hass, Nicholas Hunt, David Haver and Clyde Lasch.

Has-beens wanted!

Has-beens and never-wases willing to risk muscle strain for a good cause are asked to call Kenneth Echelberry.

He's seeking players for a makeshift basketball team to play the faculty in the Booster club cage carnival Feb. 19.

Play will begin at 6 p.m. on the Plymouth High school floor. The All-Stars will begin play at 8 p.m.

13 charter members attend Grange fete

Thirteen charter members of Shiloh Community Grange attended the silver anniversary program in the grange hall Feb. 3.

Wayne Amstutz handed silver pins to them in appropriate ceremonies after a covered dish supper.

Pins went to John Swartz, Mrs. Fred Dawson, Mrs. Paul Kranz, Fred Dawson, Mrs. George England, Donald Barnes, first master, Paul Kranz, Mrs. Elma Pittenger, Mrs. Harold Paine, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Noble, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Forsythe.

Niswonger appears before service clubs, social and church organizations, for both men and women, and is in special favor with high school principals immediately prior to graduation trips, to educate juveniles into pitfalls of being "green" in the Big City.

He visited old haunts over the weekend, having been a pupil in both Plymouth and Shiloh schools and having lived in Shelby.

80 attend CD dinner

Eighty guests dined on Swiss steak in American Legion hall Saturday night as Plymouth's civil defense unit entertained cohorts, from as far as Fostoria.

Mothers and wives of unit members prepared the meal served by the Firebells.

Leroy Coffey, Shelby's police chief, was guest speaker.

Band arranges exchange concerts

Exchange concerts by Western Reserve and Plymouth High school bands have been arranged for Feb. 22 and 24, Director Harold R. Davenport said Tuesday.

Western Reserve's band will come here first, to present a special concert during the morning session before high school pupils.

Plymouth's band will go to Wakeman to return the concert Feb. 24.

"Purpose of these exchange concerts," Davenport said, "is to give musicians a chance to play more often before audiences away from home, which should help to prepare them for the band contest at Newark Mar. 19."

SCHOOL MEN ON TRIP

Supt. Maynard J. Coon and Board of Education member, David E. Cook, will leave tomorrow to attend the annual superintendent's convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

Cheesman demurs on new water line at public expense

Directive to install a water main at public expense in West Broadway doesn't meet with his approval, Trustee George W. Cheesman of the Board of Public Affairs said Monday.

"I think we ought to charge them for it, on the basis that those who benefit should pay," he said.

He said he may resign his post if the village council forces the board to install the water line at public expense.

Whether the proposal advanced by his colleague, Luther R. Fetters, to install a loop from Park avenue through Walnut street to West Broadway is a subterfuge to circumvent the council's directive, Cheesman wasn't saying.

G. W. CHEESMAN

"That's Mr. Fetters' plan and I think it's a good one."

He contends there was no promise or commitment by the Board to extend water lines when the last rate increase was approved in 1954.

"We were broke and we needed the money, that's why we asked for the rate increase," he said.

The veteran trustee, now in his fourth term on the board, said he doesn't think "that two wrongs make a right". If it was wrong, he argues, for the village to install private water services at public expense in one section of the village, "it's just as wrong to do it in West Broadway."

Whatmans celebrate

The Charles H. Whatmans quietly observed their golden wedding anniversary yesterday.

Council buys Ramsey site for fire house

A new fire house will be erected on the Ramsey site at the east end of the Public Square. Almost a year to the day of the first anniversary of the village's first fire fatality, village council and Edward O. Ramsey agreed Tuesday night that title to about 55,000 square feet of land in the rear of the old theatre building and running east of the Gleason property almost to the fence line will pass to the village upon payment of $4,750. Ramsey agreed to pay the first $250 of title insurance premium. The village will pay any premium over that figure. If it costs less, Ramsey promises in the contract of sale to reimburse the village the difference.

A down payment of $100 will be made to bind the contract, which will be signed as soon as Village Solicitor Joseph F. Dash can prepare the sales contract.

Architect Thurman J. Peabody will forward data to the village's bonding attorneys, Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland, in time for preparation of emergency legislation calling for issuance of $59,000 in councilmanic bonds. These will be submitted for action Tuesday at 8 p.m.

A delegation of firemen headed by Chief Judson A. Morrison and Assistant Chief Woodrow Smith was present to express the unanimous endorsement of the site by the department.

Auxiliary of the department filed a letter, signed by each member, requesting space for storage rooms and kitchen "so that we may carry out our basic mission, the assistance of families who may be needy in the district served by our department."

Although detailed building plans will come later, it is certain the village will build a six-stall fireproof garage with option to expand upward.

This will accommodate vehicles of the 52nd Mobile Defense Group, Ohio Civil Defense corps, three of which are assigned to the platoon stationed here.

The fire department intends to acquire a new pumper during the summer, having submitted a one-mill tax levying for that purpose. Since in error the tax levy provided for operational expenses, the funds raised thereby will be so applied and money to pay for the new engine will come from the general fund.

Police nab pair stealing hubcaps on lucky break

Fortuitous circumstance early Sunday led to arrest of two juveniles on a charge of theft of automobile hubcaps.

Plymouth police extinguished lamps in their headquarters and waited in the darkness while two — one of them a recent recruit of the Army on grounds he is untrainable — made off with several hubcaps.

When apprehended, they were found to have a collection of the shiny devices.

Advertiser wins sports page prize

Coverage, writing and editing of sports news in The Advertiser during 1959 were second in its size-of-population class in Ohio, judges of the Osman C. Hooper Newspaper show said Friday.

Paul Honnig, sports editor of the Columbus Dispatch, speaking for the judges, rated The Advertiser second among newspapers published in villages of under 2,500 population. The Bluffton News was first.

It was the third straight year The Advertiser's sports coverage has won an award in the show, sponsored by the Buckeye Press association.

Signs are Plymouth's Big Red will carry the best season record into the Sandusky district tournament. And all you hear from 10 other towns is, "Who'd they ever beat?"

It is the interesting paradox of the 1959-60 season that Plymouth's entry passed into AA competition because its enrollment is four over the minimum, yet played the major part of its schedule against A clubs.

Willard started well but illness of Jimmy Langhurst and lack of balance elsewhere on Herb Hart's club apparently has caused the Crimson Flashes' collapse of late, New London is a sick sister this year. Bellevue is in and out, but defeated Shelby. Sandusky Senior has a seasoned club and plenty of experience in fast competition, but not much of a record. Vermilion is average. So is Clyde.

WHAT IT ALL BOILS down to is that if the Big Red is lucky in the draw, it's apt to survive this tournament. Because a little success goes a long way with this team. And if it can assert its strong points against one of the weaker AA teams in the first tourney match, chances are it will rise to the necessary performances in the remaining part of the district tourney.

Some of Sideline's professional colleagues were inquiring at Columbus over the weekend as to what kind of a ball club represents his town. He told 'em. And when they asked, "Who'd they beat?" Sideline replied that save for one awful night against Madison, the Big Red has played better ball against AA teams than in A competition this season.

Aside from Norwalk, none of the teams in the Sandusky district has much of a record; Norwalk defeated the Big Red on its home floor, with the help of some homer officiating, but it is the only club in the district tourney against whom Plymouth has played.

Ole, es verdad and caramba now part of local collegian's vocabulary in Mexico

Amid the ancient ruins of the Aztecs and the Toltecs, a Plymouth route 1 girl is getting her education in an ultra-modern way.

Some of her classes convene among the crumbling remains of one of the earliest civilizations in the Americas.

Marcia Elizabeth McGregor is attending Mexico City college, situated high above the Valley of Mexico and overlooking the bustling capital city.

The college has a strong American link, since it is a member of the Southern Association of U. S. Colleges.

Located in the shadow of the twin snow-capped volcanoes, Ixtaccihualt and Popocatepetl, it's only a few minutes' drive from downtown Mexico City, the second largest metropolis on the continent.

Among these colorful surroundings, Miss McGregor sits side by side with scholars from all corners of the world.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. McGregor, she is a graduate of Plymouth High school. She later attended Ohio State University, where she was enrolled as an elementary education major before going to Mexico City college to study.

Between studies students relax in various ways. On Sunday afternoons, there're bullfighting or 'jai alai' games. And the famed tourist resorts of Acapulco and Veracruz are within reach for a weekend trip.

Most MCC students live in college-approved homes with Mexican families.

The college, only one of its kind in Mexico offering United States-style degrees and courses taught in English, has mushroomed from a two-year junior college into its present size in only 20 years of operation.

According to the Institute of International Education, MCC has more American students than any other college or university outside the United States, including Paris' famous Sorbonne.

Credits are transferable to most U.S. colleges and many institutions now have a "quarter in Mexico" plan whereby a student can spend a term studying south of the border.

Although MCC is renowned for its Foreign Trade center, Spanish and Anthropology departments, its Art and Creative Writing centers have also grown in stature. Courses of study, taught by a distinguished international faculty educated in Europe, Latin America and the United States, lead to the B.A. and M.A. degrees. Average enrollment is around 850 each quarter.

THE VOICE OF THE ADVERTISER

Mother, take down that service flag, Johnny only shines shoes

A considerable fuss is being made of an Air Force manual which tells enlisted men how to wash a general's dog, shine his shoes, set his table and mix his drinks.

It's just such performances as this that reinforce our conviction we must never turn the defense of our country over to the military. It should remain where it is — firmly in civilian hands.

In garrison duty — and that's what we have nowadays — there's no excuse for military personnel to be assigned to orderly duty. The Air Force has made a considerable fuss of its own on the score of civilian personnel for kitchen police, saying airmen don't get KP jobs any more.

But apparently general officers get airmen to do demeaning tasks.

One of the basic principles of sound administration is that an executive shouldn't be burdened down with housekeeping tasks at the expense of the main assignment. In combat, it's essential that an officer be relieved of such duties as pitching his tent, cooking his meals and washing his clothing. For if he's going to do his job, and do it right, there isn't enough time in a day for him to do it and his personal house-keeping, too.

But in peacetime — or cold war, if you like — there's no reason why our well-paid officers can't hire their own servants.

Suzie sez

Sunday was Mom's birthday. Because she went away Thursday and Friday, she had to work as a grey lady in the hospital Sunday morning. Only she stayed up late Saturday night. I told her I didn't want to hear any complaints about how tired she was.

Pop went to a store in Columbus to buy Mom some perfume. She likes some stuff called Russian Leather, but I guess Pop and Mr. Khrushchev are on the outs, because he says he wouldn't buy any Russian Leather.

He asked the lady about a perfume called "Perhaps". She said a little bottle of it cost $20 and he said for that price it ought to be called "Absolutely".

UP IN MONROVILLE they are showing something in the library that isn't perhaps and it isn't absolutely. It is a baby pig that was born with three eyes and two snouts. Naturally, it is not living. It is a freak and you don't have to pay to see it, like you do at the fair or the circus.

YOU SHOULD GET CHIP to do his imitation of the bald-headed minister. It is a real riot. Mom says it's funny that whenever he takes off on somebody, it is usually somebody he likes but finds to be very funny.

POP SAID A VERY GOOD column was written by a lady who started out with, "Don't hang your stockings in the bathroom, Frank has a weak heart." He says he doesn't know how it went on from there but that it's like the first line of the best short story he never read: "Darn," said the Duchess, as she lit her cigar.

I just wish I could start off a column with a line like that, and keep it up till the end.

But I am like Jack Benny: you have to take me on faith, sometimes I am funny and sometimes I am not.

And when I make a bad face about it, Pop says I should smile, because it improves my face value.

So that is my advice for this week. Keep smiling.

Petty Dictator
This boy walks all over his parents. Since he was a baby, he got what he wanted by showing bad temper.

When he is away from home this boy is a model of good conduct. He knows he can't treat others the way he treats his parents... not if he wants to be popular.

There is a lot of difference between being hard and rough with children and being firm. This boy doesn't respect his parents because they are too lenient. A quiet, strong atmosphere in this home would work wonders.

21 file protests to Celeryville plan

Twenty-one Huron counties — 13 families in all — have filed objections to the plan of Celeryville Conservancy district on grounds it will flood their lands along Marsh run and the Huron river and cause substantial damage.

Informal hearing on the objections was had Friday in the office of the secretary of the district, Kenneth Thornton, Willard.

Objectors are Charles and Lena Wyandt, New Haven; Henry and Bernadine Stein, William R. and Lillie Hoyle, Walter and Iva White, Leland and Marjorie Stein, Herman and Jessie Ebinger, Walter R. ### Arson charge laid against Tom Fulton

A former Plymouth resident whose garage and car burned while he lived here ran afoul of Huron county police authorities in connection with another blaze and is in the county jail because he violated parole.

He pleaded innocent Saturday. Bond was set at $5,000.

Thomas W. Fulton, 30, who formerly lived in the Echelberry house in Plymouth street and was employed as a used car salesman by Donald Ray, was pinched by Deputy Sheriff John Borgia for parole violation. He was found to have a pistol in his possession. He also faces a charge of arson.

Fulton was on parole after sentence for armed robbery.

His most recent offense involved a fire at his home in Washburn road north of Willard. On Jan. 2, when Fulton and his wife allegedly went to Cleveland to dispose of some jewelry, a fire was discovered in their house. A mattress and walls of the bedroom were badly scorched. Investigators found fuel line leading to the house had been disconnected, that most of the furnishings had been removed from the house, that fuel oil had been spilled about the rooms, and that insurance had recently been raised to $12,000.

These Church Messages Published by These Reputable Firm's

True Direction..

One thousand years ago in Europe, men began the building of the great cathedrals that are known today all over the world.

All were different—except for one thing. The builders of the cathedrals erected them so that always the morning light of the East would stream through the great panes of stained glass at the front of the church.

In front of everyone for the morning service would shine the new light of the morning. And the weary traveler who had lost his sense of direction had only to visit the church or cathedral of any town.

Always—to the left of the altar and the glorious light that flooded through the windows behind it—lay the direction of North. . . .

Today, a compass furnishes a ready reference for anyone who must know the direction of North. But as in the days of the cathedrals, churches still point out the true direction a man must follow if he is to attain the help and comfort of Him for whom the cathedrals were built.

In our modern age, when our sense of direction is often confused by the problems and doubts of the times, the church still stands ready to mark the path.

Today's churches are not always built to catch the morning sun and point the way to North. . . .

But in every church, the spire or steeple still points upward to God.

In all thy ways acknowledge His, and He will direct thy paths. Proverbs 3:6.

COOL ME, MADAM

Old women once held curative powers—or so folks believed. Their wrinkled hands laid on feverish brows were thought to cool the fever. Now, in this golden era of modern medicine, we have more reliable methods of reducing temperatures. But, remember, a temperature is only a symptom... not an illness in itself. Fevers have many causes... some minor... some serious. So, be sensible. When you or a member of your family is ill, let your doctor do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then, if medication is necessary, let us fill his prescription promptly and accurately.
