A community service project designed to encourage young people came full circle this week.

The young people returned the tithe.
 Teen-Time Rendezvous, the youth organization which conducted dances for young people for several months before lack of patronage forced it to close its doors, has turned its assets over to Ehret-Parsons Post, American Legion, which gave the teen-agers their start by loaning the Legion hall free of charge.

Title to about two acres of land in Trux street, purchased from Charles Suttles by Teen Time Rendezvous, an unspecified deposit in Peoples National bank and a high fidelity record player combination have been given to the post in fee simple.

The post will in turn erect a new home on the land, on which volunteer labor began yesterday the grading incident to construction.

The American Legion plans to construct an all-purpose building with a large assembly room for public meetings and private receptions, a kitchen, a bar and a smaller conference room.

Other village organizations will be invited to the next meeting of the Legion Oct. 16 in the Legion hall to discuss the building project.

No disposition of the present Legion rooms has been decided upon but indications are they will be sold when the new home is built.

Legion trustees indicated Tuesday the rooms when constructed would be available to private persons for hire and to public organizations at little or no cost.

Ashbrook to visit constituents locally

Rep. John M. Ashbrook (R-Johnstown) will meet constituents of the 17th Congressional district in the Richland county courthouse Oct. 13 and in the Ashland county courthouse Oct. 19.

Persons wishing to discuss with Rep. Ashbrook may call legislative or other matters between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. or direct correspondence to him at his home in Johnstown.

Poor relief office to remain open, commissioners say

Huron county commissioners Monday instructed the welfare director to continue to operate the poor relief department until after election day, when a one-half mill levy will be voted upon.

These instructions were based on a study of past years to determine the amount of state funds that might be advanced during the last quarter of the year. The deficit spending will continue on the basis of this anticipated revenue, the commissioners said.

The director was warned, however, that poor relief funds must not be overdrawn on Dec. 31 and that it will be necessary to continue poor relief on the basis of a 50 per cent food standard and a minimum of utilities. Huron county welfare bills have been paid promptly in the past and it is hoped by the commissioners that creditors will be patient with some delayed payments during this crisis. If the half-mill levy is approved by the voters in November, funds will be available immediately to meet all outstanding accounts.

MISS KRAMER

Local girl leaves for six months visit to India

Leaving for India today as a delegate of the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program, Miss Gertrude Kramer, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kramer, on the family dairy farm in County Line road.

Miss Kramer is a former Huron County 4-H club member active in junior leadership and 4-H camping. In June, she was graduated from the Ohio State university school of nursing.

During her six-month journey Miss Kramer will live with Indian rural families, sharing their work and social life, and contributing to a better understanding of customs, life, and culture of our own country. IFYE is a project dedicated to the belief that understanding people is the foundation of world peace.

Miss Kramer was selected after making application and interview by a committee of rural leaders and Ohio State university officials as one of six 1961 Ohio delegates to the IFYE program.

Miss Kramer will attend two weeks of intensive orientation at the National 4-H Club Foundation in Washington, D.C. It is designed to help her adjust to Indian ways of living and to familiarize her with United States foreign policy. She will then fly to Bombay, India, Oct. 20, accompanied by three other IFYE delegates from other states who are assigned to India.

Hydrant flushing set for tonight

Fire department will flush all hydrants today at 6 p.m. Any variations in water pressure at that hour should be attributed to this activity, Fire Chief Judson A. Morrison announces.

Mr. Shaffer loses kin at Chatfield

Stepfather of Harold Shaffer, Clarence W. Hill, 79, Chatfield, died in his home Sept. 27.

His wife, Laura, and another stepson, Alton Shaffer, Shelby, also survive.

The Rev. Paul Netzel conducted last rites Friday at 2 p.m. at Bucyrus. Interment was in Lutz cemetery.

Woman killed at New Haven

A 69-year-old Sonbury woman was fatally injured Sunday at 11:10 a.m. at the intersection of Rts. 224 and 61 at New Haven.

She was the 14th traffic fatality in Huron county during 1961.

Mrs. Hazel C. Bailey, Sonbury route 2, died in Willard Municipal hospital Monday morning of a crushed chest, fractured ribs and internal injuries.

Her vehicle was entering the intersection from the south when a tractor-trailer driven by Edward E. Wiek, 29, Danville, Ill., careened into it broadside on the left side. Wiek was driving east on Route 224.

His rig jackknifed and forced Mrs. Bailey's machine with it off the north side of the road. As they did so, the rig struck a vehicle operated by William Chapman, 22, Plymouth route 1, who had halted at the stop light while headed west.

State highway patrolmen from the Norwalk headquarters said that since Chapman had halted for the traffic signal, it follows that Mrs. Bailey had the right-of-way in Route 61. Wiek was issued a summons on a charge of failure to observe a traffic signal. He posted bond of $50 for hearing Monday in Huron county court Willard.

Prosecutor Bernard W. Freeman now has the case for presentation to the Huron county grand jury, which will ascertain whether there is sufficient evidence to indict Wiek on a charge of traffic manslaughter.

Chapman's vehicle received slight damage. Mrs. Bailey's car was demolished. The rig, owned by Emory Transportation Co., Chicago, Ill., received slight damage.

Two youths were injured and their cars completely demolished in a head-on collision in Route 61 about 450 yards north of the village line Friday about 10:35 p.m. Jerry Collins, 17, Willard, driving north, and Lowell Gayheart, 19, Plymouth, driving south, were removed by ambulance to Willard Municipal hospital. Collins was the more severely injured, with facial lacerations and severe injuries to the head.

Harold (Yogi Bear) Moore, 17, Plymouth, Gayheart's passenger, was unhurt, in what police officers said was an "absolute miracle". The Gayheart sedan, struck near the rear door of the driver's side, was completely gutted and nearly split in two.

"How those two boys weren't killed is more than I'll ever figure out," one deputy sheriff said.

Although state highway patrolmen were continuing to investigate, it appeared that Gayheart was overtaking an older car in the west lane and collided with Collins' machine in doing so. A third vehicle, operated by Timothy Dorf, 19, Shelby, was struck by the Gayheart machine after the collision.

Police chief given $420 raise

Santa Claus came 83 days early to Plymouth's police chief Tuesday night.

Robert L. Meiser received on his request a 10.85 per cent pay increase of $420 to $5,000 annually. The raise was recommended by the police committee, supported by the finance committee and approved unanimously.

Cloyce V. Messenger, manager of Ohio Fuel Gas Co. at Shelby, was told the special councilmanic committee negotiated a new fuel gas contract will meet in special session with him Monday at 8 p.m.

On Tuesday, the council hopes, Alden E. Stilson, principal partner in the firm of Alden E. Stilson & Associates, Ltd., Columbus, design engineers for the sanitary sewer system, will appear in person to discuss divergencies in cost estimates of the lagoon oxidation technique of sewage treatment.

DONALD J. WILLET, representing the citizen's committee, presented a petition signed by about 170 citizens-electors calling upon the council to dismiss Stilson and engage Carl H. Gerken, Napoleon, to engineer the project.

The petition was accepted and filed.

At the council's request, Solicitor Joseph F. Dush had inquired of Stilson how much would be due if the village were to terminate its contract of May 26, 1947, with him. Stilson replied, Dush said, that he wishes the village council and mayor, with their solicitor, to meet with Water Pollution Control board engineers, soil engineers and Stilson to discuss Stilson's plans for the sewer lagoons.

"Of this the council will have none 'I don't doubt,'" said Councilman Donald E. Akers, "that Mr. Stilson has a very considerable influence with the Water Pollution Control board and I will not be a party to any conversations with that group if Stilson sits in."

STILSON ALSO SAID, Dush told the council, that a termination of the contract will involve payment of damages and for loss of profit, which Mayor William Farjo interpreted as "loss of prestige." Stilson already has been paid $11,359.58.

In his written opinion concerning the contract, Dush said "I think there's little hope now of arriving at any notion of how much Stilson would charge the village to terminate the contract."

An arbitration clause in the contract would require that procedure in event of termination, Dush said, "and arbitration is a very complicated and intricate procedure."

Stilson told the council in asking for the meeting with the Water Pollution Control board and the soil engineers that "until the Department of Health approves plans and specifications in detail, any estimate of costs is purely in the realm of conjecture."

This was apparently a response to claims by the citizen's committee that Carl H. Gerken can do the work more cheaply because he would install one less lagoon, move less earth and otherwise cut corners.

Fire Chief Judson A. Morrison was empowered to proceed with paving of the fire house parking lot and driveway at a cost not to exceed $875.

An emergency ordinance requiring $20 advance deposit to insure connection of utilities in trailers was approved without dissent.

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Roger Miller entered Shelby Memorial hospital Monday where she underwent minor surgery.

Winless wonders to meet tomorrow

For the third consecutive week fans are invited to turn out tomorrow to witness a schoolboy football engagement between two winless wonders.

Plymouth's thrice-blessed Big Red engages Mohawk's equally winless eleven in Mary Flete park at 8 p.m.

Season tickets will not be honored for this contest. It was originally scheduled to be played in the Mohawk stadium at McCutchenville, but that field was not completed in time.

Accordingly, the game is an "away" battle for the Big Red Mohawk was defeated by Fremont's St. Joseph High school last week.

Whether the Plymouth outfit is becoming less bad or its opposition less good is the moot question of the hour. After a severe thumping by Margaretta, the Big Red has done less poorly against Berlin Heights and Black River, neither of which is a powerhouse this season.

Inability to get the offense going, particularly in the first half (although save for the Black River contest the offense has not gone well at any time), is what has cost Coach Bill Ramsey's first Plymouth unit so dearly.

UNDER OTHER CIRCUMSTANCES, a poor offense might not militate against a team whose defense is not bad. But the Plymouth defense has been almost as bad as the offense, if not worse. Much of the problem apparently stems from the failure of the defense to anticipate what sort of play the offense will launch next.

This is a knack that can be learned, but many coaches doubt that it can be taught.

That corner

Now that the intersection at New Haven has produced another fatality, the state highway department ought to do what frequent users of that intersection have been saying for a long time — take steps to prevent such disasters.

The failure of the tractor-trailer outfit to halt at the red light was, apparently, less a case of ignoring the light than of inability to stop. This is because the traction in Route 224, particularly at the west approach, is poor. The rig jackknifed, indicating the driver did apply the brakes. Perhaps he applied them too late, in which case driver error is wholly the cause of the fatality. But there is just a chance he did not apply them too late, that lack of traction in the roadway caused him to skid through the light.

We make no brief for the rig's driver. But others have complained for a long time that Route 224 is excessively slippery when only slightly wet from dew or rain.

Just what the state highway department ought to do is a matter for its determination. But it ought to take prompt action. There have been too many collisions and near collisions at that corner to warrant continuation of the status quo.

A tithe

Communications media, including this one, have rapped the younger generation for what they allege to be misconduct, lack of respect, poor or no manners, disregard of property, carelessness on the highways and a host of other crimes and misdemeanors.

In most cases, the media have been right.

When young people behave in a manner which brings credit to themselves, their families and their associations, communications media tend to regard this conduct as usual, not newsworthy or worth notice. With this we agree, for the most part: a child is expected to behave, even as a citizen is expected to observe the law. When he does not, whether willfully or otherwise, the public should and does take notice.

The news that Teen-Time Rendezvous is returning its tithe to the American Legion post is, nonetheless, heartwarming and reassuring. We are glad to note that some young people have their heads screwed on in the right direction. That they are our young people, born and raised here, for the most part, is even more gladdening.

So hats off this week to those youngsters who remembered that the Legion post had given them a leg up a couple of years ago and returned the tithe so handsomely by donating land, money and equipment to a community project of the sponsor.

Enrollment light in all classes of adult studies

An adult education class in shorthand has been organized in Plymouth High school, but enrollment in other courses is so far insufficient to justify organization of those classes. Supt. Maynard J. Coon said Tuesday.

The shorthand classes meet Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m. Seven students have enrolled. New members have until Monday to enroll. Tuition is less than the $30 originally indicated. Three more enrollments will reduce tuition to $18 each.

The class will meet for a total of 60 hours and carry one-half unit of high school credit. Classes in Spanish, drafting, typing and mathematics require additional enrollment to warrant their undertaking. Three more students are needed in Spanish and drafting, Coon said.

Thin Pink (not Big Red) loses to Pirates after putrid performance in first half

They let Jimmy Hamman, junior quarterback, out of the doghouse in time to ignite the Thin Pink here Friday night and a small Homecoming crowd was delighted to see the squad live up to its name of Big Red for a few minutes.

But try as he did, Hamman couldn't do it all and Plymouth lost to Black River, 18 to 0. It was the third straight defeat for the home eleven, which has also tied one.

During the first half, the Plymouth team was simply awful. It gained only 20 yards by any means and was completely dominated by the visitors, who showed a strong passing attack.

BLACK RIVER SCORED first, with 1:31 of the first period remaining, when Dick Van Meter swept left end for 11 yards. The Pirates went 40 yards in five plays for this score, a screen pass from Jack Grissinger to Dave McMillan, good for 12 yards starting the push.

Van Meter's try for conversion by slanting through guard was not good.

Plymouth recovered a Black River fumble at the start of the second quarter but couldn't move off a dime and Gary Utiss was forced to punt. This he did for 27 yards, to the Pirate 38, but Van Meter got to the Red 47 on the runback.

In 11 plays the Pirates were in paydirt again, the last one a 10-yard heave from Grissinger to Van Meter which slipped in and out of Roger McQuown's grasp.

Exactly four minutes later, the Pirates scored a third touchdown. They took Utiss' short punt of 18 yards on the Red 48 and moved in for the TD in six plays, the big one a 33-yard screen pass from Grissinger to McMillan stopped on the Plymouth four. Channel bucked for the TD. HERE HAMMAN ENTERED the game. He was a titan or defense and ran his ball club smartly.

Plymouth took the second half kickoff and rolled to the Red 32 before Phil Fletcher was compelled to punt. Fletcher recovered the fumble on the first Black River play and the Red was off. Plymouth had the score in 13 plays, all of them on the ground save for one 12-yard toss from Hamman to Earl Hess on third down from the 25.

Fletcher went in from the three. Hamman's pass to Hess for the PAT was good.

Indeed, the Big Red dominated the second half completely. It limited Black River to a net yardage of 32 on the ground and 33 in the air. The Pirates never advanced beyond the Plymouth 46-yard line.

Two Plymouth scoring thrusts petered out in the fourth period. Hamman's third down pass from the Pirate 27, which came after a 13-yard penalty set the Red back from the 12, was intercepted by Van Meter.

After Stuart punted out from the Pirate 22, Plymouth stormed back again. The tucms exchanged pass interceptions and from the Black River 41; Plymouth picked up 15 yards by penalty. But Hamman's fourth-down pass for Hess went astray and the tied was dead.

It seemed plain the experiment with green hands in the backfield wasn't a success. But those green hands would probably have done better with smarter blocking. Plymouth backs in the first half made every yard the hard way — alone and unaided. And there were times in the second half when the backs had to go it alone.

more than 30 games behind is ridiculous.

The club's conduct in the dismissal of Jimmy Dykes reaffirms our original contention that it's a bush outfit. A gentleman, widely respected throughout the game, a sound tactician and strategist, an experienced manager, Dykes was constrained to remark that the Indians are riddled with clubhouse lawyers. Mercifully, for them, he didn't speak their names. It is history that he shows that management tried to bring them under control. That he failed miserably wouldn't back him up. It also shows that the management is bush.

The new manager will be expected to bring about a miracle. That's the way it is in baseball. What Cleveland PLEASE SEE PAGE 7

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMES

The contention here all along has been that Cleveland is a bush town, baseball-wise. The conduct of its center-fielder has nauseated a good many fans of the fair-weather variety, even as the machinations of its former general manager alienated stalwart supporters. The failure to halt either one is a sad reflection upon the management and ownership. Lanes damage was done when he held office, but its effect was felt after he left. For a Cleveland team to finish

Sacred Heart fraters begin Catholic catechetical instruction here

FRATER BURNS

FRATER JAKUBCO

FRATER OLE XO

Three missionaries of the Sacred Heart, students at Sacred Heart seminary, Shelby, will teach Christian doctrine to children of St. Joseph's parish here.

Frater Thomas Burns, M. S. C., Chicago, Ill., will prepare the first and second grade pupils for their first Holy Communion later this year.

Pupils of the third, fourth and fifth grades will be instructed by Frater Bernard Jakubco, M.S.C., Lansford, Pa. Frater Robert E. Olexo, M.S. C., Parma, will instruct pupils in grades six through eight.

The classes, which began Sept. 20, convene Wednesday afternoons in Plymouth Elementary school.

The three missionary teachers are students of sacred theology. They began their studies for the priesthood at Sacred Heart mission seminary, Geneva, Ill., in 1951. After studying there five years, they entered Sacred Heart novitiate, Youngstown, for a year of spiritual training. In 1957 they began their philosophical studies at the Shelby seminary. After three years of philosophy they began the study of sacred theology.

All three young men will be ordained in 1963.

needs is for those clowns running the ball club to step down and let somebody who knows how to run a ball club get in there. Then a fan could hold out some reasonable hope that a miracle can be wrought.

And the first thing on theocket has to be getting rid of Piersall. Even if they have to let him go for a pair of old socks. He isn't worth much more.

Sound baseball men such as Jim Schlemmer, veteran Akron sports editor, agree that, next to Lane, Piersall was what led the fans to do sour on the Indians and the Indians to go sour on themselves. Anybody responsible for letting Piersall do this, or keeping him on, cannot escape the condemnation.

Coon cites taxes for operating uses

"Each of our five school board members owns property in the district and pays real estate taxes on it," Supt. Maynard J. Coon said Tuesday in a prepared statement, "and are aware of how high taxes are."

Then he submitted a comparison of tax rates for operating purposes for all districts in Richland county.

They follow:

District	Current	Asking
Clear Fork	19.8 mills
Lexington	18.8
Madison	17.0	5 mills
Plymouth	17.4	5
Springfield	10.4	3
Union	19.0	3
Mansfield	18.3	5
Shelby	20.2

Total school tax is 17.4 mills for operating purposes, and 7.7 for debt retirement, a total of 25.3 mills.

(Ed. Note: Clear Fork is the Bellville-Butler consolidation. Springfield district is Ontario village.)
