Demolished sedan but no injury to occupants was result of car-train collision in Rt. 98 Monday. Railroad's engineer told reporters he heard horn of oncoming car after his locomotive was across highway. Flasher lights functioned properly, he said. Bucyrus police had warned a driver of the car earlier, one of its occupants said.

Five youths avert injury as car hits train

Five Plymouth youths narrowly escaped death at 3:50 p.m. Monday when their sedan collided with a Baltimore & Ohio freight train on the Rt. 98 crossing south of here. Only injury was a bruised eye to a passenger, Charles W. Hawkins, 21, 170 Nichols avenue. Driver of the north-bound sedan, who told patrolmen of the Mansfield post, state highway patrol, he did not see the train, was Richard H. Fidler, 19, 117 West High street, who was issued a summons to appear in mayor's court on a charge of unsafe operation. He posted $25 appearance bond.

The sedan struck the second unit of the diesel powered freight train, headed south toward Newark.

The vehicle was severely damaged.

Fidler's other passengers were Anthony M. Fenner, 21, 187 Nichols avenue; Cecil L. Mulvan, 19, Plymouth route 1, and Desmond V. Donnen-wirth, 28, 223 Sandusky street.

Her twin sister, with whom Miss Landers isn't on friendly terms, she confessed, started an advice column three months after Miss Landers began hers for the Chicago Sun-Times, parent newspaper in a string of 428 dailies over the nation. The sister, whose headquarters are in San Francisco,

Teacher's husband dies at Celeryville

For many years a vegetable farmer in Celeryville, John Shaarda, 62, died early Sunday at his home there.

Born in Vogel Center, Mich., he came to the muck land half a century ago as a young boy.

A member of Richmond Township Evangelical United Brethren church, he is survived by his wife, Veva, a teacher in Shiloh schools; two sons, John R., Bellevue, and Jack, New Haven; a daughter, Mrs. Orland Herweyer, McBain, Mich.; and a brother, Tom, Celeryville.

The Rev. Clyde Huther, his pastor, conducted a funeral service yesterday at 3 p. m. from the church. Interment was in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven.

Television, booze, 'communication' causing unhappy marriage: Landers

Television and booze are ruining American marriage, says a woman whose weekly mail call of 20,000 items shows that many folks think she ought to know.

She is Mrs. Jules Lederer, wife of a Chicago business executive, whose professional name is Ann Landers.

She spoke Monday night —

Style show slated by Mothers' club

A show of spring styles for tots and mature women will be presented at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday for Plymouth Mothers' club.

The musical background will be played by John Arndt, music instructor.

Mothers and daughters modeling will be Mrs. Powell Holdreby and Cindy; Mrs. Kenneth Eichelberry and Linda Mrs. Russell Kamann and Kimberly; and Mrs. William B. Miller and Mary Lee. Others are Marlene Strine, Cindy Ream, Janet Fazio, Lynn Fenner, Jane Vanderpool, Carol Postema, Barbara Gullett, Karen Moore and Susan Cook. Mrs. Henry Cline has arranged the showing from models in Elsie Louise shop.

Tea will be served afterwards by Mrs. Ross Loughman and Mrs. Wayne Gebert.

President of the mothers, Mrs. Franklin McCormick, has extended an invitation to the community to attend the showing for free, whereas her usual fee is $1,000 — to the Northwestern Ohio chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism society, into which A. L. Paddock, Jr., editor and publisher of The Advertiser, was initiated.

TELEVISION, MISS LANDERS said, "presumes upon one human reaction — paralysis of the eyeballs — and results in hubby coming home at six o'clock, plopping down in the easy chair, gluing his eyes on the idiot box, and saying nothing to wifey, whose ability to communicate with her husband isn't what it should be anyway."

Half of her 20,000 letters a week comes from men, Miss Landers said, who're "worried, in this order, about their mothers, their mothers-in-law, their wives and or girl friends — and sometimes it's both — and their daughters or daughters-in-law."

Her annual postage bill, since every correspondent gets an answer, runs over $25,000. Some months her telephone bill is over $5,000, since she seeks technical and professional advice from friends who are purists, psychiatrists, physicians, lawyers and such.

About one in 10 marriages, Miss Landers asserted, is genuinely a happy one. "There're a lot more marriages in trouble than you imagine," she declared, "and the happy marriage is one in which the partners 'come back for more' out of enthusiasm and excitement for marriage rather than from duty or obligation to family or

Springtime fancies may call sheriff!

In the spring, suggests Huron County Sheriff John Borziga, effect of the vernal equinox tends to encourage the carefree.

He issued warnings this week that:

1. Dumpers of waste, garbage and litter on highways of the county will be vigorously prosecuted, under Sec. 3767.20 of the Ohio Revised Code, which permits a fine up to $50.

2. Juveniles who tamper with rural mailboxes, whether for plain maliciousness or to "let off steam", will be tracked down and prosecuted. He said the department has found juveniles old enough to drive — between 16 and 19 — are the principal culprits.

Blood in short supply

A quota of 125 pints has again been set for the American Red Cross Bloodmobile visit to Grace Methodist church, Willard from 1 to 7 p.m. Thursday.

A door-to-door canvass of the Huron county side of Plymouth has been made by members of the Dale Carnegie Alumni association. Solicitors who have worked with Mrs. Ralph Rogers, Plymouth chairman for the visit, are J. Harris Postema, Albert Marvin, Mrs. Harold Ross, Mrs. Doris Dawson and James Schlosser.

Thirty-five donors have been recruited, which is a few more than Plymouth's share.

An acute shortage of blood available to patients of Willard Municipal hospital has resulted from the public failure to respond to the volunteer blood program. Should the existing blood supply be used with none in reserve, there is the possibility that a persons needing blood would have to pay the commercial rate of about $20.00 a pint. The Bloodmobile visits are staffed with volunteers except for the few workers who travel with the equipment.

Even though the recruiting of donors is above the quota, rejections for various reasons may occur. Persons who have not been solicited may go to the church any time between 1 and 7 p.m. Thursday.

been planned. They will be accompanied at the piano by Jerry Bishop, member of the Plymouth High school faculty.

Plymouth chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will prepare and serve the meal. The kitchen committee headed by Mrs. Joseph Kennedy and Mrs. G. Thomas Moore includes Mrs. J. B. Kennedy, Mrs. R. C. McBeth, Mrs. M. H. Rose, Mrs. Betty Trego, Mrs. Glenn Dick, Mrs. B. R. Scott, Mrs. Lawrence Caplinger, Mrs. Arlene Schreck, Orva Dawson and Mr. Moore.

Mrs. Robert Kennedy and Mrs. Wanda Young are in charge of the dining room. Their committee is Mrs. Edd Vanderpool, Mrs. Thomas Henry, Mrs. Mary Trego, Mrs. Lincoln Sprowles, Mrs. William Ellis, Mrs. Raymond Bevier, Mrs. Oliver Fairchild, and the Misses Linda Bright and Patricia Grabach.

Mrs. William Day and Mrs. Alfred Parkinson are in charge of the coffee and Mrs. Forrest B. Stewart is the dessert chairman.

Golden Agers plan meeting Mar. 23

Plymouth Golden Agers will meet Mar. 23 for a box social in First Presbyterian church at 6 p.m.

At Thursday's supper meeting of the club, January and February birthdays were honored. Seated at the table which held a white and gold cake made by Mrs. Thott Woodworth were Mrs. Mabel McFadden, Mrs. Harry Dick, Mrs. George Ellis, Mrs. J. Eldon Nimmons, Mrs. Gusta Ray, Christian Weber, Mrs. G. L. Knight, A. O. Hahler, Vedder Pyuryear and Miss Margaret Cole.

Mrs. Melvia Gaylord, Route 98, was taken to Willard Municipal hospital Sunday night by McQuate's ambulance.

Army needs best to beat Benny

Interest of West Point athletic officials in Dave Culver, big Trucker basketball star, is the more significant after the Kaydets' defeat at the hands of Coach Ben Carnevale's Navy quintet Saturday.

Despite a height advantage, guaranteed by federal regulations which allow appointment of boys towering six feet six at West Point but only six-four at Annapolis, Army couldn't contain the Middies in the last half.

This is a tribute to the coaching of Carnevale, which comes as no surprise to the O. T., who's known Ben for nearly 30 years. He's a native of Karitan, N. J., where his dad is a contractor. He was graduated from Somerville, N. J., High school, where he played center on a sectional champion team, and state runner-up, in a day when the center-jump was in vogue and players over six feet were a rarity.

Ben — his right handie is Bernard — went to New York university, at a time when the Violets were big stuff in basketball nationally. Howard (Jake) Cann, ex-Olympic coach, was boss of the Violets then. He made the varsity as a soph, played regularly as a junior and senior. In his final year, he the only non-Jewish player on the team, and suffered somewhat for it.

A distinguished reserve officer of the Navy during World War II, Ben was engaged as coach of the Middle case squad in 1946. He's never had a losing season, but his squad was at nine-and-nine Saturday before downing the greatest team Army has ever had.

Army will need all the Dave Culvers it can get to beat Navy consistently — the Middies hold a 21 to 17 advantage in the long series — so long as Ben Carnevale runs the club at Annapolis.

King's Horses

"Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall,
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall;
All the king's horses, and all the king's men
Couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again."

Poor old Humpty Dumpty! Of course, he exists only in a nursery rhyme.

But don't be too sure...

Look back over the hundreds of people you've met and liked. People who always appeared to be in perfect command of themselves.

And suddenly, in the lives of some, something snapped. Without any apparent reason, they went to pieces.

Yes—the dizzy pace of modern living is creating a lot of "Humpty Dumpties" that appear to be lost souls. Maybe you've tried to help these friends out of the depths of their despair—but with little success.

These "humpty dumpties" don't belong at the foot of a wall.

They belong in church, which represents the Great Healer of all wounds and all despairs.

One word of good advice. Try the church!

Nothing heals, nothing mends as completely as a belief in the love of God. Nothing can bring back the sense of "belonging" as vividly as a friendly congregation with whom weekly worship is possible. Nothing gives a man a renewed grip on himself as well as a renewed conviction in the true immortality of the soul.

Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise.

Miss Landers —

Cal, writes under "Abigail Van Buren."

Who reads the 20,000 letters? Why, said Miss Landers, as though astonished at the temerity of such a question, "I do — every one of them — but I don't write an answer to each one, I merely jot down the theme of the reply and my secretaries write the replies."

Social agencies of every description to aid those in distress, whether emotional, marital, financial or physical, are recorded in Miss Landers' files and she refers correspondents to them frequently.

One of the most important is Alcoholics Anonymous. "You might think from the number of times I mention it that I am a reformed boozer. Nothing of the sort," Miss Landers declared, "although it's true I prefer lemonade and have done so since I was a young girl. But the battle of the bottle, whether alcoholism or just plain heavy drinking for the taste and comradeship, is the biggest battle in America today."

DON'T let PLYMOUTH slip through your fingers!

31% of village revenue in 1960 was paid directly by retail business

The 56 going retail establishments in Plymouth paid — in full — 31 cents of every dollar of revenue reported by the village clerk during 1960.

Add to it the share of that revenue paid by industry — approximately 21 per cent — and it's plain that unless the retail establishment AND industry can prosper, we shall be unable to pay for the administrative, protection and utility services we enjoy every day.

Frankly, the citizen owes the retailer nothing. Certainly nothing he doesn't earn.

Retailers do earn their way. They do more than open their doors and smile once in a while.

They stand behind their merchandise.

They bring to the consumer a fair selection of items and seek to steer him toward those goods which advance and enhance his standard of living, which make life easier and happier. They utilize methods and techniques which are moral, honest and responsible. These methods are applied in the open, for all to see.

For this, they ask no more than that they be given a fair and reasonable opportunity to demonstrate these facts to the consumers whose welfare they are paying for, at a rate and in a volume disproportionate to what to what they receive in return.

Retail business certainly doesn't get 31 per cent of the police or fire protection of the village. Nor does it get 31 per cent of the street repair, to mention but three of the more expensive services.

A dynamic society such as ours is built upon goings and comings. A restless people will go hither and yon to see, to hear, to do. And when it is seeing, hearing and doing, it will spend money.

Retail businesses know this. Their proprietors and managers often do it themselves. But they have a right to expect they be allowed a fair opportunity to serve.

MAKE THEM SERVE! DEMAND SERVICE! TELL THEM WHEN YOU DON'T GET SERVICE, whether as to the quality, quantity, color, size, price or the terms. They'll thank you for telling them. BUT GIVE THEM THAT OPPORTUNITY!

Bible school Miss Buckingham weds Sunburyite to convene June 5-16

Annual Vacation Bible school will convene June 5 through 16. Committee in charge of organizing the classes includes the Rev. Irving M. Farnsworth and Mrs. Daniel Henry, Plymouth Methodist church; the Rev. Moss Rutan and Mrs. Franklin W. McCormick, First Presbyterian church. Material for class use has been chosen and ordered. More teachers and helpers are needed. Any person who wishes to work during the two-week period may call one of the committee.

A 1957 graduate of Plymouth High school became the bride of Russell Andrew Fichtelman, son of the A. Nelson Fichtelmanns, Sunbury route 1, Feb. 19 at 2:30 p.m. in New-Haven Methodist church.

Miss Karen Elaine Buckingham, the daughter of the Melvin J. Buckingham, Willard route 2, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a sequin-trimmed gown of hand-clipped rose point lace, fashioned with Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves and Empire bodice.

A chapel train fell from the four bustle effect in back. A crown of orange blossoms supported a fingertip veil. She carried an arrangement of stock and a white orchid on a Bible.

Her classmate, Miss Lora Smith, Toledo, was maid of honor. Miss Judy Jackson, Toledo, another classmate in the school of nursing of Flower hospital, and Miss Janet Chapman, Plymouth route 1, a cousin, were bridesmaids. Cynthia Buckingham, New Haven, the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid.

Martin Fichtelman, Sunbury, was his brother's best man.

Clair Buckingham, New Haven, and Harry Chandler, Westerville, ushered. Dennis Westman, New Haven, the bride's cousin, was junior usher.

Mrs. Frank V. Smith, organist, and Eugene McEnder, vocalist, presented the nuptial music for the ceremony performed by the Rev. William S. Hamilton, pastor of the church.

A reception in the church rooms followed the ceremony. Mrs. Clair and Mrs. Loyd Buckingham, the bride's sisters-in-law, were hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Mary Lou Yeager, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Martin Fichtelman, his sister-in-law. Mrs. Howard Siegesmund, the bride's cousin, registered guests.

Mrs. Fichtelman was graduated from Flower hospital school of nursing, where she was a nominee as Methodist nurse of the year, and was employed by Willard Municipal hospital prior to her marriage. Mr. Fichtelman, a graduate of Westerville High school, is engaged in dairy farming.

When Pop was a boy, the favorite American dish was apple pie and ice cream, together, called apple pie a la mode.

Now it is pizza. And Chinese food comes second, according to what I read in a paper.

Pizza is Italian. I used to live in Italy, in fact I was born there, and I can tell you that the average Italian would laugh at you if you told him you like pizza better than anything. He would think you have a hole in your head.

Pizza is the dish of the very poor. Its ingredients cost very little in Italy (Pop says that is because the government helps pay the cost of the flour) and generally there is no meat in the sauce. Meat costs a lot there, mostly because they can't afford to feed cows, hogs and sheep, because they don't have feed grains.

Pop and Mom are old pizza eaters from away back. They have eaten pizza in a lot of places, including Naples, where it was invented. And they both say the best pizza they ever ate was in West Bound Brook, N. J., at a place called Tony's.

One reason I think that pizza has become the most popular food in America is that it appeals to young people like me, and there are more young people than ever. Also, a lot of propaganda and publicity about being too fat has taught old people like Pop and Mom (there now, child, let's not be nasty! Ed. Note.) not to eat so much and especially not so much of fattening things like pizza.

I don't know much about Chinese food except I like chow mein and chop suey, which Pop says isn't Chinese, either of them. But I suspect the Chinese foods are popular because of the same reason: they appeal to young people.

Kean on prowl for personal taxes

Personal forms were mailed by Huron County Auditor Bernard F. Kean early this week.

These forms were purposely mailed about two weeks later than usual.

Auditor Kean believes the filing period is too long. When there was a six-week filing period, returns were made fairly constant throughout.

With a 10 week filing period, forms are laid aside and overlooked entirely. After the first flurry of early response, filing drops off, does not accelerate until the end of March and does not gain full momentum until the final 10 days, when 50 per cent of the returns are made.

With the limited space available, many of the regular phases of operation of the auditor's office must be laid aside to give full priority to personal tax filing, with the consequent loss of many man-hours of time.

Personal tax returns may be filed between Feb. 15 and Apr. 30 and the required advance payment may be made at any subsequent time, up to May 10. This method eliminates any advantage to last minute filing and is time saving to taxpayers, Kean says.

Last year's taxable personal property was in excess of $26 1/2 million in Huron county.

Mrs. Smith talks

Mrs. J. Benjamin Smith gave the associate conductors' lecture Tuesday night during the regular meeting of Plymouth chapter, OES.

Refreshments were served later by Mrs. George Ellis and Mrs. Hugh Washburn.

The chapter has been invited to attend the inspection of the McCutchenville chapter Tuesday night. Mrs. Alice Rydeder, deputy grand matron, will be the inspecting officer.

The one-year pins were given to Martin Miller, Robert Fairchild, David Williamson, and Terry Piers.
