Everett Fry, Jr., is Shiloh's new village councilman. He succeeds Russell Keith, a grocer, who resigned because he has too much other business. Keith was in his second term on the village's governing board.

Fry has previously served as councilman, having completed a term in 1959.

Keith Dawson will succeed Keith as president of the council.

A leave of absence of 210 days was accorded Fire Chief Delmar Nesbitt, who was yesterday transferred to Brookley Air Force base. Mobile, Ala., J. J. Chila, assistant chief, will serve in Nesbitt's stead.

Two-way radio service has been installed in the fire house, the fire truck and the home of Marshal Joe Harris, Nesbitt reported.

The sanitary sewer system is all but complete but bills totaling $5,300 for materials are held by Zimmerman Construction Co., Mansfield, which estimates additional work to be performed at $1,593.30. Hanagan Construction Co., Urbana, estimates $1,143.57 due to it.

A balance of $2,141 remains in the sewer fund. Village Solicitor Robert Ross, Mansfield, is holding a check in the amount of $1,924.64.

Notes of $50,000, bearing interest at 4.5 per cent, will be renewed with their holder, First National Bank of Mansfield.

Mansfield Telephone Co. has installed a public booth, Mayor Glenn Swanger reported.

Anyone for snake? Call herpetologist!

If you see a reptile on the college steps — the genuine article, not the sort that comes from tipping — call Kenneth Wagner, LAFayette 5-1709.

A self-described herpetologist, which means expert on reptiles, Wagner solicits the cooperation of Richland county residents in completing a distributional survey of reptiles in the county. It's never been done before.

And here's what you do: find a snake, turtle or lizard. Note its locus (that means place or location at time of finding), grasp the reptile with hand or tool, place it in a gunny sack and deliver it to Wagner at 63 Brickman avenue, Mansfield. Or, better yet, call him and he'll come to get it.

No box tops to tear off, no coins to enclose. Wagner will prefer live specimens, but deceased ones will serve if they are not ripe.

Record the date and time of finding in addition to the place.

Earl Gregg loses brother, Thomas

Brother of Earl Gregg, who lives with V. L. Sutton, Route 224 east of New Haven, Thomas C. Gregg, 78, 648 McPherson street, Mansfield, died in General hospital there Thursday.

He was ill a long time. Born in Bellville May 19, 1882, he lived most of his life in the county seat, having served as a foreman from 1918 until his retirement in 1950.

Four brothers, Ray and Gay, both of Mansfield; Fred, Bellville, and James, Peoria, Ill.; a nephew, David Gregg, with whom he made his home, and a niece, Mrs. William Moorman, Brookport, N. Y., also survive.

The Rev. Dr. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of First English Lutheran church, Mansfield, conducted a funeral service at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Interment was in Mansfield cemetery.

Some girls sell lily, younger ones hike to find buds of lily

Girls of Scout Troop 195 collected exactly $10 here Saturday in the annual lily parade for the benefit of crippled children in Huron county.

They were Toni Moore, Linda Echelberry, Melinda Roberts, Linda Ganzhorn, Loretta Ramey and Judy Hunter.

Girls of Troops 45 and 274, whose leaders are Mrs. William R. Miller and Mrs. Thomas Moore and Mrs. James R. Broderick and Mrs. John Gilger, respectively, went Monday on a "things peeping" and things creeping" hike.

LOOKING FOR SEPTEMBER ACTION

Registrars in focus of graduates-to-be

It's about that time of year when prospective high school graduates begin to look to where they'll leap.

Guidance Counselor Frank Garber reports a number of the Class of 1961 have received acceptances of the colleges or universities of their choice. Others are still waiting for the final word.

But some, he says, are all but dragging their feet.

"They shouldn't do this, even in state institutions," he asserts, "because even though admittance is guaranteed under the law to graduates of accredited high schools, in some cases freshmen must show they've obtained living quarters in dormitories, where there is limited space. This means that unless an application has been filed early, there may be no room in a dormitory and therefore a prospective freshman will have no prospects."

Susan Cook, Jane Hamman and Louise Newmyer have been accepted by Bluffton college.

Shirley Hawk has been accepted by Kent State university.

Carol Postema and Joan Dyer will matriculate at Ashland college.

Kenneth Van Loo, Jenifer Van Zoest, Mary Eburna and Marvin Cook will enter Calvin Cheryl Faust, Kay Forcollege, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Cheryl Faust, Kay Forsythe, Ray Lynch, Jesse W. Hamman, Wayne Kessler and Robin Root will enter Ohio State university.

Four girls who will enter schools of nursing are Hilda Elliot, St. Luke's hospital in Cleveland; Heather Morrison, Barbara Gullet and Lorna Lake, Mansfield General.

Dayton Reed, James Russell and Kenneth Turner will go to Capital university.

Fate Christian will enter Heidelberg college.

The hospital beat
 Ross Failor entered Mansfield General hospital Monday.

The Easter story

But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they went to the tomb, taking the spices which they had prepared.

And they found the stone rolled away from the tomb. But when they went in they did not find the body.

While they were perplexed about this, behold two men stood by them in dazzling apparel.

And as they were frightened and bowed their faces to the ground, the men said to them, "Why do you seek the living among the dead?"

"Remember how he told you, while he was still in Galilee:

"That the son of man must be crucified, and on the third day rise."

And they remembered his words.

And returning from the tomb they told all this to the eleven and to all the rest.

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

Cincinnati's victory over the Bucks in the NCAA finals probably made more unhappy roundball fans in Ohio than otherwise.

But those who believe the purpose of the sport is to develop top-notch players ought to be consoled by the realization that whichever team won, it was an Ohio team (although Cincinnati's big boy is from Knoxville, Tenn., where his father is a high school principal, and two others of the first five hail from Kentucky, albeit only across the river from the Queen city).

And considering that four Ohio quintets (the others were Xavier and Ohio university) made the NCAA eliminations and that Wittenberg university won the NCAA small college championship, the Buckeye state did right well for itself this year.

As fifth or sixth richest state in the nation, with resources that are or ought to be the equal of almost anybody else, Ohio consistently should produce football, basketball and other athletes and teams among the best in the country.

But, as Gordon Coledick has been constrained to point out so many times, when the Buckeye state produces graduates of its school system, whether public, private or parochial, who rank consistently up at the top academically, then will Ohioans have just reason to be proud as peacocks. Athletics will then become what they were intended to be: a useful adjunct to the primary mission.

Flaherty optimistic about newcomers as Big Red prepares to open Monday

It is part of the Irish legend to be gay, carefree and optimistic, even if the Irish people are seldom that way.

Irish Bill Flaherty, Plymouth High school baseball coach, gleefully greeted about 14 candidates for his 1961 club in the school stadium Monday afternoon, one week in advance of his first game. Ontario comes here Monday afternoon.

It was the first outdoor workout and the squad was allowed to punt a lot and hit a little. There is much to be done to get this outfit ready.

But Flaherty is optimistic, almost gay about long-term prospects.

"We aren't going to have any catching problems and it looks like I might have a couple of good righthanders and two southpaws who'll be around for a couple of more years," he says. "That's progress."

He refers to Steve Miller and Phil Fletcher, backstop candidates, underclassmen to boot, and to Nero Howard, Tim DeWitt, Dan Pulk and John Selek, rookie pitchers.

Elsewhere, the Big Red will have to look long and decide quickly.

Dayton Reed, Jim Hamman, Jim Russell, Ray Lynch, Dale Keesy and Jesse Hamman are available for infield duty.

Reed and Jesse Hamman will, of course, carry on from last year on the mound. Both are righthanders.

Walter Hall, Larry Akers and Eldon Newmyer may see some outfield duty.

"I'm going to try to keep the outfield beefed up more this year than in previous years," Flaherty says. "When Reed is pitching, I'll use the other seasoned boys in both the infield and outfield, and young Howard at all times, sometimes pitching, sometimes outfield, sometimes infield."

Flaherty's big problem will be hitting. "None of these boys is any great shakes as a hitter, and especially not in the beginning of the season. But we'll have to do with what we've got and make the best of it."

Game time Monday is 4 p.m., weather permitting.

Booster club has promised $200 to repair the backstop.

Bowmen to meet at range Tuesday

Huron Valley Bowmen will have a business meeting at the clubhouse at the archery range Tuesday night. The next shoot will be here on Apr. 9.

Past! Ayersville, Portsmouth won in finals

It was "sick aunt" day Friday. School and other employees used this and equally absurd excuses to absent themselves to attend the state cage tourney. They included Harold Daup, William Flaherty, L. J. Root, Lewis Pettit and J. Ben Smith, who had a wisdom molar attended to en route.

It's time for some action!

We resolved at the beginning of the year to make a special effort in 1961 to urge our neighbors to be industrious about spring cleaning by setting a good example.

We promised we would paint what obviously needs to be painted, patch what needs to be patched, sweep up and carry away what refuse of man and nature has collected since the first frost of last autumn.

So we have bought some paint and a brush and we're going to get it at. We urge everybody to do the same.

There are some who're putting off sidewalk repair. They argue, if you tax them about it, that "sidewalks will soon be torn up when they put the sewers down anyway, so we'll do it later." We confess we assign some validity to such an argument. But not always, and not everywhere.

Many sidewalks have been in poor condition for a long time. Warmer weather brings out those folks who've hibernated during the winter, more or less, fearing fractures of hip, thigh and wrist deriving from poor traction on uneven sidewalks coated with ice. They are entitled to free and unobstructed use of sidewalks and the householder should take step to see to it his sidewalks are in suitable repair.

Arrangements have been made to fix our own sidewalk.

We'll be happy to give data as to name, address and expense of our repairman to anybody who's interested.

Let's all fix up, spruce up, clean up for 1961-

SUZIE SEZ ...

A girl and her aunt worked in the same office. The aunt gave the girl her pay check to carry home for her, as the aunt was going bowling. The girl put the check in her purse and got on the bus to ride home.

When she was on the bus, somebody picked up her purse. It was gone when she got ready to get off the bus.

She was frightened and ran to the police station.

"Somebody has stolen my aunt's pay," she shouted. "Cut out the pig Latin," said the policeman, "and tell me what's ailing you."

SUNDAY WAS A FINE DAY TO go bike riding. Some of my friends joined me for a ride into the country. Others tell me that this is a good time to observe the birds and the coming of spring. I was so busy avoiding potholes and keeping my eyes on the road I couldn't see any birds. But I heard them.

We have an alarm clock that runs on electricity. It sounds the wake-up hour all right, but I think I would prefer a pleasant bird call. Especially if it would tell the bird to go away and come back in a half an hour.

I AM GLAD WHAT POP calls roundball is over for the year. I just can't stand those arguments ("We're not arguing Mom, we're just discussing!") about what the referee did or didn't do that he should have done.

Chip thinks Pop played basketball in the dark ages. Pop thinks basketball the way Chip plays it isn't basketball but something else.

Pop would like to make it what he claims it is. Chip wants it to stay the way it is, only he wants six more inches of height.

I got sleepy last week and didn't watch the Cincinnati-Ontario State game all the way through. We had one rooting for Cincinnati and one for Ohio State.

But Mom wouldn't let the Cincinnati roofer use the telephone at nearly one o'clock in the morning to call up a friend of his to razz him about Ohio State getting best.

The Cincinnati roofer wasn't very happy about it, but I guess he knows who is boss around our place.

Being a periodic, but irregular, presentation of human interest stories that come to the staff's attention yet seem for one reason or another not suitable for treatment elsewhere in the paper.

Maurice Bachrach, just back from a trip to California, produced a lump of sugar taken from DiMaggio's restaurant of Fishermen's Wharf, San Francisco. Said he didn't see Joe Di Maggio there—the Yankee Clipper was showing some Yankees how to clip, at St. Petersburg, Fla., and resuming, perhaps, old tricks with Marilyn. () Monroe.

MERCHANTS ARE SHOWING interest in a move to reduce rate of assessment for personal taxes from 70 percent to 50 per cent. Some are petitioning State Sen. Harry Schwall (R-Wauseon) for action.

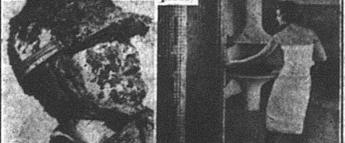

Inside story from Columbus, where Honest Mike swears the state capitol will positively NOT be moved to Cincinnati, is that no action is likely until a package deal is devised so that no revenue is lost in an overall revision of tax structure.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SIR: I want to thank you on the behalf of the freshman civics class and the faculty of Shiloh Junior High school for your cooperation in making "Junior Civics day" in Plymouth the fine success it was.

I don't believe that there can be any doubt that the students participating in this project have a greater appreciation and understanding of representative village government as it is demonstrated here in the village of Plymouth.

The power of the press is undeniably a strong influence in our United States democracy. By opening your facilities to us, you have given our students a wider insight into the workings of a newspaper.

Who knows? Perhaps as a result of this experience, one of our students will turn to a career in journalism.

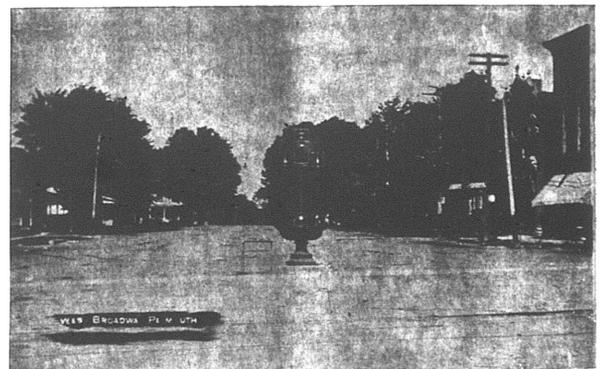

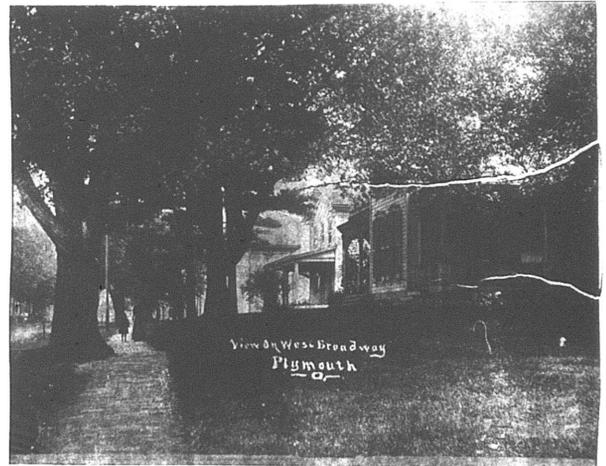

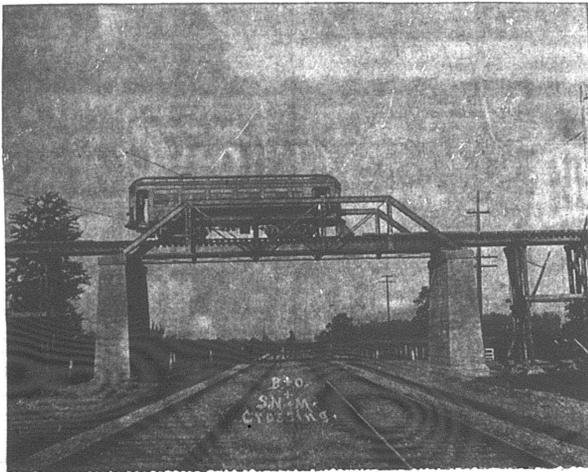

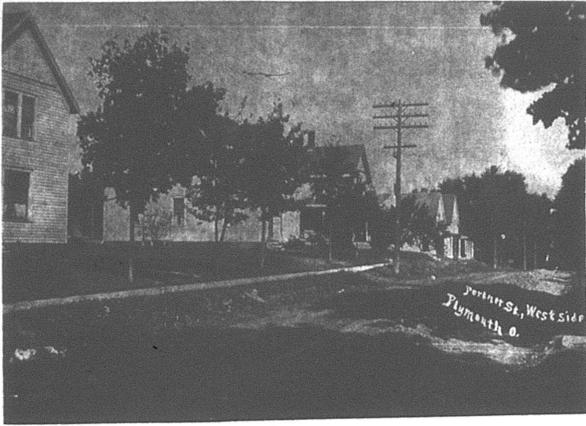

Thank you again for your help in this project. I hope Junior Civics day becomes an annual project.

Cordially, Jack E. McQuate

Hospital recovers shortage without resort to courts

Shortage in operating funds discovered during a special of Shelby Memorial hospital, year-end audit, have been recovered, hospital officials said last week.

"No present personnel or officials connected with the hospital were involved," the trustees said. They did not disclose whether any employees have been discharged.

Employees dealing with funds are bonded, the trustees pointed out, and the hospital never was in danger of incurring fiscal losses. Recovery of the shortages was effected without resort to official action, the trustees said.

Court revision self

Monetary jurisdiction of Mansfield Municipal court would be raised from $3,000 to $5,000 and territorial jurisdiction to four sections of Butler township to raise its population to over 100,000 by two bills introduced in the Ohio House by Rep. Richard M. Christiansen (D-Mansfield).

Both bills have the endorsement of Judge Glenn W. Marriott, Mansfield Municipal court, and Judge William R. Morris, Shelby Municipal court.

Raising of monetary jurisdiction would throw many cases into Municipal court that would otherwise be placed on the docket of the common pleas court, which is already too crowded.

By gerrymandering the district, Christiansen and the legislature would force another judge to be appointed and a court clerk to be elected.

Washington Report

BY MR. JOHN ASHBROOK
17th District

I very strongly support the current efforts by over one-fourth of the membership of the House to curtail a practice known as "back-door spending."

This practice, devoid of constitutional basis but a commonplace practice in the history of turning legislative functions over to the executive, authorizes government agencies to borrow from the Treasury instead of making specific appropriations for their use.

In his last budget message to the Congress, President Eisenhower reiterated his full opposition to this practice of financing Federal programs outside the appropriations process. He had lived with it for eight years and found that these Treasury raids and amounts previously obligated by Congress—made it difficult to have financial responsibility. There is strong sentiment on the Hill which will press for these needed reforms and it is hoped that President Kennedy will add his support.

An interesting sidelight is the fact that the newly-packed Rules Committee which had been changed because it had "bottled up" legislation and because the liberals cried that "the House must be able to work its will" blocked this reform. House Res. 115, even though 140 members, well over one-fourth, had signed a petition in its support. This was the very first vote, in fact, of the modern design, liberal 15-member committee.

The worst feature is that it is a cover-up for spending. This feature of legislative chicanery is at the root of conflicting claims we often hear as to whether there has been a budget cut or an increase in the spending. Many congressmen hide behind this device and actually vote to increase spending but are able to point to "cuts" in the budget. These "obligations" through the "back-door" approach are spending, regardless of what you call them.

In effect, we get "charge account" government in many areas where Congress should be working its will. Many of the bills of the "back-door" type originate in the Senate, where this technicality can circumvent the constitutional provision that appropriations must originate in the House. Bu practice is attacked. They allege that it is necessary that they can "plan" housing, urban renewal, etc. for ahead, but if we scrutinize it carefully we might cut it back or even stop programs. The planners want to answer to no one, not even the elected representatives of the people, and this device has been their strong right arm.
